OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

THE Ellensburg Capital last week gave the people of that town a sensible "heart to heart talk" on the question of "what's the matter with Ellensburg?" The Capital in its diagnosis of the situation in our sister city, says: "The trouble is with our people. They are not united for the good of the town as they should be. There is no longer a trace of the sentiment that ruled supreme here just before and after the fire, when it was anything and everything for Ellensburg. The course we are pursuing will never win. No town can progress without public spirit; we are short on that commodity. No town can have prosperity where the pull down principle is dominant; we have too much of it. We are not strong in ourselves by being united, and as a result our town suffers." After thus tersely stating the facts the editor recommends the only remedy—which is unity of action. That is the one thing and the only thing that will build up a town. And while we are discussing this question, it is just as well to call attention to the fact that we need more of that spirit here in Yakima. We all keep busy chasing after the dollars that our present opportunities afford and are inclined to think but little of the welfare of the community as a whole, or of what the future might have in store. THE DEMOCRAT has heretofore tried to make it plain to the people of North Yakima that the material advancement of their town require the establishment of certain lines of manufacturing here; especially such lines that require as raw material certain products of the surrounding country. A cannery we must have, or ultimately our orchards will cease to be profitable. A sugar beet factory is desirable and necessary and can probably be procured within a year, if the necessary inducements are offered to secure it. People here who are violently against the proposition of raising a subsidy for such an enterprise, should ask themselves the question, what right have I to expect strangers to come in and double the value of my property without making any effort on my part. As regards Ellensburg we believe with the Capital that if the people there will pull together in public matters they can make it a live town for they have many natural advantages to aid them. At any rate Yakima people hope that they will do so, as a healthy rivalry would do their own town good.

THE glorious Fourth of July the one hundred and twenty-third since the great Declaration was signed, has come and gone, but it is doubtful if it has been observed through out this country with the same degree of enthusiasm that has marked preceding ones and the reason for this is obviously not hard to find. For the first time in all our history we are confronted with different conditions than we have ever known before, for we find ourselves engaged in a foreign war of conquest. Expansionists may deny or ridicule the position taken by the anti-expansionists in their opposition to the new line of policy that the government has inaugurated in the Philippines, but nevertheless they cannot reconcile such a policy with the immortal declarations contained in the independence proclamation. The pitifully weak contention that we often hear, that "we have outgrown the Declaration of Independence" is after all a fitting argument in support of the administration's Asiatic policy—if it can be said to have a policy, which many expansion journals, including the esteemed Seattle P-I claim it has not. Up to the time of this Philippine imbroglio, the Declaration of Independence was conceded to be by all classes of Americans the corner stone of our national edifice and all men gloried that it was so. What then is to become of us as a nation if this same corner stone is to be removed as something having become obsolete or of no account? Will not the fall of the whole structure follow in time as a natural sequence? If it comes to a test on this vital question, as to which class are the truer Americans; will not the advantage lie with those who take as their platform the immortal Declaration of 1776, rather than with those who act on the mistaken and exploded theory that "might makes right?" A nation cannot commit a wrong and escape the consequences, any more than can an individual.

THE following excerpt is made from the great speech of Hon. W. J. Bryan delivered at Barnesville, Ga., on July 4th. "The expansion argument is the argument of George III. Shall we say on this day of celebration that we have lived 100 years under a wrong principle? No. Some say take the Bible in one hand and the gun in the other. Thank God, I am not in favor of this way of christianizing. We shall not depart from a republican form of government. We are not ready to accept the doctrine of conquest and force. It is not the desire of the republicans to do good, but it is the desire to gain more money that lies behind their colonial policy. "Whether I am nominated or not in 1900 is immaterial to me. Whether I shall ever again be a candidate for any office, depends on circumstances. I don't want to be a candidate for president unless those who think as I do, believe that I can do more for the principles of the party, already adopted, than anyone else. I would rather help somebody else win than be the cause of the party's defeat. If the democratic party wants somebody to lead a retreat, they must find some one accustomed to walking backward. The democratic party will not weaken on the money question, and the question of imperialism will bring more votes out of the republican party in the coming campaign than in any of the campaigns since the last canvass of Abraham Lincoln."

"HOW much will a vote on this bill be worth?" is the question said to have been asked, by Senator Mark Hanna after visiting the English house of commons last week and listening to a spirited debate on an important measure. Apropos of this incident the Oregonian well says: "It is to be hoped for the sake of decency that the story is not true, yet it will not surprise any body, however, if it shall turn out that he did ask the question. That is the kind of a man he is, a gross political fixer and boss, whose presence in the senate is one of the facts which have of late so discredited and cheapened that body." A London paper speaking of Hanna terms him "the American King maker," which many people on this side will regard as a peculiarly appropriate designation for the Ohio "boss." It is no cause for wonder that the English nobility regard us with such ill disguised contempt, when ill-bred and vulgar politicians like Hanna and Croker go over to "Lunnon town" and assume to speak for us as a nation.

THE unfortunate squabble that has been carried on in the state press of late concerning the management or mis-management of the Medical Lake asylum is calculated to give the average citizen of this commonwealth "a pain," to say the least. The wordy war through the newspapers, between the Spokane gentlemen who has lately resigned from the board of control and the local "warwick" of the state administration, has been a most unprofitable one, being simply crimination and recrimination. The net result of this gabfest has been to make political capital for the republicans and to smirch the good names of two young women of this city, who have their own way to make in the world. It is indeed a sad spectacle.

THE untimely death of Vincent A. Ryan of the Tacoma News, removes one of the ablest and most polished editorial writers of the coast press. In fact as a brilliant paragrapher he had but few equals in the entire country. His style was clear cut and epigrammatic and while a master of invective, he seldom employed it except for the public good. A good man has gone. "Peace to his ashes."

ORATOR GRAVES in his brilliant peroration in this city on the Fourth, said that the "patriots who signed the Declaration of Independence, were a grand jury that indicted a king." Very well put; but how would the gentleman classify Auginaldo and the Philippine congress?

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 30th, 1899.

One of the first acts of Mr. McKinley after his return to Washington was to order the persecution of Admiral Schley, by the Sampson clique in the navy department, stopped. He did not do so because of any love he had for Schley, but because of statements publicly made by Maryland republicans that they intended to hold the administration responsible for the navy department's treatment of Schley. That frightened Mr. McKinley, who is by no means as confident of his re-election as some other republicans profess to be. And, in addition to ordering a let up on Schley, Mr. McKinley sent for ex Postmaster General Gary and asked him to help keep Maryland in line. Unless Marylanders who ought to know are off in their judgment, nothing will prevent Maryland returning to its old place in the democratic column.

With his anxiety to remain in the cabinet, notwithstanding his deal with Gov. Pingree, who everybody knows is not an admirer either of Mr. McKinley or of his administration, Secretary Alger is getting foxey. In order to jolly Mr. McKinley, he publicly said that his deal with Pingree was solely for the purpose of obtaining the senatorship and was not binding on either for any other purpose; that he was a McKinley man from start to finish and was prepared to prove it at any time that it might become necessary, by breaking with Pingree, if he should show any disposition to antagonize Mr. McKinley in Michigan. How much of this Mr. McKinley swallows nobody knows, but it is certain that Alger has undertaken a difficult role. It is known that Senators McMillan and Burrows are hard fighters and that they will demand that Alger be put out of the cabinet, and their demand will be backed by many republicans whom Mr. McKinley will not care to offend. Besides, it is believed that Pingree is only using Alger to try to get even with Senator McMillan, and considered by no means certain that he would allow Alger to go to the senate even if he succeeded in controlling the Michigan legislature.

Nothing could more surely prove the deception practiced by the administration concerning the situation in the Philippines than the orders issued this week to all the regular recruiting officers to enlist as many volunteers as may present themselves for service in the Philippines, and the official announcement that Gen. Otis is to have an army of 40,000 men by the end of the rainy season. In order to keep the appointment of all the officers in the hands of the administration, no organizations are to be enlisted. The men are to enlist as individuals and the regiments to be formed will be U. S. Volunteers. Although the announcement was made at the same time that all the officers for these regiments would be chosen from the volunteers who have seen service in the Philippines, it is a safe bet that they will not be. Ex-Congressman Campbell, of Ill., who is now in Washington, tells his friends that he has been promised the colonelcy of one regiment, and he hasn't seen any service in the Philippines; and there will be others.

"Making a virtue of necessity", said a Senator, "is what I call the announcement of Thurston, of Nebraska, that he would retire from the Senate at the end of his term. Knowing that neither he nor any other republican has any show to be elected to the Senate by the Nebraska Legislature, Thurston concluded to save some of the big wad of corporation money he has by not entering the field as a candidate. His talk about being tired of holding office was merely a little grandstand play."

The adage, "Make hay while the sun shines," appears to have been changed by the inventors of the country into "Make money while the mercury rises." The weekly receipts of the Patent Office are now averaging $5,000 more than they did in the summer of last year, and this week's issue of patents, trade-marks and labels was the largest since April 1890, the total being 633.

Secretary Long made public a signed statement, dealing with a rumor that he has made a statement to the cabinet deploring the killing of Filipinos without provocation and the looting of private houses in pacified communities, knowledge of which he claimed to have acquired from letters from sailors, that was as extraordinary for what it didn't say as was his open invitation to Schley, a day or two before, to ask for a packed court of inquiry, in an authorized interview. Although he knows that he is credited with lack of sympathy with the Philippine policy of the administration, he did not say a word in the statement, written for a paper he knew to be friendly to him, personally as well as politically. He didn't even deny that he had protested, at a Cabinet meeting, against the Philippine policy, but merely said that he had never received any letters from sailors, either about looting or about firing on peaceable natives in the Philippines. If he couldn't say more, he would better not have said anything. The country is already surfeited with statements that do not tell all the truth and denials that do not deny.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever, that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong, I can't say to much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free at Louis O. Ralph VanBuskirk's Insurance.

When Ralph Van Buskirk left Yakima as a soldier he carried a policy for $1,000 in the Mutual Life of New York, and had for a year past. In his application he signed an agreement not to enter the military service, nor to go to a tropical clime without a permit. He failed to secure this permit before going and after he was killed and the claim was presented payment was refused on the ground of violation of contract.

Frank McCandless, the state agent of the company, took up the matter and wrote a long letter to the main office in New York, with the result that the matter was reopened, and P. A. Getz went to Yakima last Monday, when all the papers were signed preliminary to the issuing of a check to the young man's mother, in whose favor the policy was taken out.

By the terms of the policy the beneficiary had no rightful claim against the company, as there had clearly been a violation of contract, and the action of the company can only be construed as a magnanimous act, prompted solely by charity and patriotism, which is pretty good for a soulless corporation.—Ellensburg Capital.

State Fair Notes.

A committee of the State Fair Commission has returned from a trip through eastern Washington, in the interest of the fair. They report that all the farmers, stockmen, poultry and wool growers interviewed are interested in the fair, and will make several fine exhibits. The Agricultural College faculty will attend and assist materially in analyzing sugar beets, judging in the several departments and holding some meetings at North Yakima, during fair week. Those engaged in the dairying industry promised good exhibits, and were pleased that the commission had arranged for a meeting of dairymen while the fair was in progress. The fruit growers will attend in goodly numbers and some choice displays of the products of the tree and vine will be seen at the horticultural hall. The managers of the Spokane Industrial Exposition received the fair commissioners very cordially and assured them their hearty co-operation, which means that Spokane will be nicely represented at the State fair and the commission will prepare a fine exhibit for Spokane.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruption and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin and rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at Louis O. Janek's drug store.

State Press Opinion.

Rough Riding Roosevelt has been telling some more fairy tales. Its a presidential job that he has his eyes on now. Mr. Roosevelt seems to be the man of all men who went to war expressly to get office when the war was over, and he is getting it.—Seattle Republican.

Congressman Cushman rejoices that Alger is not to leave the cabinet at present. He places a laurel wreath on the Algerian brow, and intimates that the embalmed beef was rather inviting than otherwise. Cushman is likely to be one of the characters of congress.—Tacoma News.

If the Fourth of July means anything it means the deliverance of the American people from the colonial rule of England. It is now proposed to begin the colony business ourselves. What was right for the early Americans is wrong for the Philippine islanders.—Vancouver Register.

It is to be hoped, for the sake of decency, that Senator Mark Hanna did not, upon his visit to the house of commons, make the inquiry attributed to him: "How much will a vote on this bill be worth?" It will not surprise anybody, however, if it shall turn out that he did ask the question. That's the kind of a man he is, a gross political "fixer" and "boss," whose presence in the senate is one of the facts which have of late so discredited and cheapened that body.—Oregonian.

Senator Gorman is being boomed for the presidential nomination on the democratic ticket. His boom was to have been launched at the Belmont-Crocker dinner at New York, but the spicy correspondence between Perry Belmont and Mr. Bryan caused those democrats, for revenue only, to hesitate about putting forth a candidate at that time. It is unfortunate for Mr. Gorman's candidacy that all his backers are republicans, or members of the republican aid society that elected McKinley.—Aberdeen Herald.

The story of Alger's probable retirement has been told so often, only to be denied, that its rehearsal at this time does not arouse hope in the public mind. The people have assumed an attitude of dogged endurance upon the subject. Two points have been made plain. One is that the president cannot get rid of Alger unless the latter wants to go; the other is that Alger does not want to go. Hence the rumor of his retirement, hatched by the feverish breath of vain longings, obtains scant credence.—Oregonian.

Great changes are promised in the methods controlling the House of Representatives says the Washington Times. For some years the body has been the personal property and pudding of the Speaker. Under Mr. Henderson it is to be run just as closely, but entirely in the interests of the Administration. Instead of the Committee on Rules, of which Mr. Reed was the "whole altogether" there is to be a White House organization, which shall also be a "steering committee," and "Speaker" Henderson will not be in it. Anybody who says that a valuable deal was not made when Mr. McKinley met Thomas Brackett Reed on Jekyll and Hyde Island "is a chameleon and doth feed on air,"—Seattle Review.

The apologists for the administration pretended to believe that because we are into this war, if even wrongfully, there is no honorable course only to continue it to the bitter end. It was a mistake to begin the war, but it would be a mistake to discontinue it, having begun it. By the same reasoning it would be a mistake to steal a horse, to kill one's grandmother, but having done so it would be a mistake to quit stealing or murdering. It was a mistake to elect Wm. McKinley, but it would be a mistake not to re-elect him.—Vancouver Register.

By some oversight of the American press censor the following question asked Gen. Otis by a Filipino commissioner has been allowed transmission to the United States: "Why should a nation with your constitution seek to make a colony of a distant people who have been so long fighting against Spain to secure the same rights your constitution gives?" That was a knotty question for the doughty general, and no answer is reported. Perhaps the gallant commander's reply was lost in the tumultuous expressions of indignation by his patriotic staff officers.—Seattle Herald.

The Localizer is in receipt of a lengthy poem entitled "Love Awaits You," signed "Beatrice." Beatrice, dear, let us breathe a few things in your little ear. Know, dear child, that in the scale of comparative values established by the wisdom of the world, making preserves ranks high above making poetry, even so good poetry as yours. (May the recording angel here drop a tear). The bounding iambs and the mellifluous dactyl are good enough in their way, but they are not filling. Beatrice, they are not filling. Love awaits You," Beatrice—love with great tender eyes and a bristly mustache, but believe us, fair one—that love will curl its heart strings more closely around a jar of raspberry jam or a loaf of bread than it will around a poem on the grand passion.—Ellensburg Localizer.

Some time ago Gov. Rogers determined to announce his candidacy for renomination for the position which he now holds, through the goldbug Sunday morning papers of the state—and especially favored The Post-Intelligencer of this city with his reasons for so doing. Of course that was a right which every man has, though it probably seems somewhat peculiar to ordinary mortals that a politician, seeking future preferment, should make known his desires through the organs of his political enemies. But in view of the fact it certainly was exceedingly unkind for the Post-Intelligencer to so completely riddle the Governor and other members of the Board of Audit and Control of the state, for the removal of Dr. Lockhart. The lesson, however, may not be without its proper uses.—Seattle Times.

Local News

The local newspaper fraternity will in all probability be well represented at the meeting of the State Press Association which meets in Seattle on the 11th, to welcome the National Editorial Association.

W. B. Dudley is this week having the old wooden building that has stood so long on the Fish property on the Avenue to the rear of the postoffice building where it will remain temporarily until a suitable location is found for it.

Louis Smith an 11 year old boy while shooting fire crackers on the avenue the evening of the Fourth, received the effects of the explosion of a whole bunch, full in the face which caused the tittle lad much pain. His injuries are not of a serious nature, however.

Since Yakima's post office has become second class and the volume of business to be transacted is constantly on the increase, new quarters will probably be necessary. The department is now calling for bids for a five year contract to provide quarters and all furniture.

Auditor Kelso issued a marriage license on the 3rd, to Clyde C. Lee and Miss Jessie E. Bott and on the 5th to Henry T. Perry and Miss Jessie Eglin also to Ralph G. Edwards and Miss Cordelia Weiss. The latter couple were united by Judge Taggard in the holy bonds of matrimony the same evening.

While a party of young men, who live in the neighborhood of old town were returning home the night of the Fourth, they got into an altercation with a party of drunken Siwashas, as to which were entitled to the right of way. An old time melee resulted in which there was no fatalities. Arthur Cook, however, received a severe cut in the hand from a belligerent native.

Two new artesian wells have been secured in the Moxee during the past ten days. One by W. T. Clark at a depth of over 800 feet, the other by Joseph Fieser at a depth of about 700 feet. These two last make 19 flowing wells in that district and one in Wide Hollow, which latter at a depth of nearly 1,200 feet is now flowing sufficient water for 50 acres.

A young man named Moers a student of the State University, bought a saddle horse at the old town on Wednesday and rode him up to this city. When he came to mount and depart, the horse unexpectedly developed wonderful bucking qualities. Although thrown to the ground and considerably bruised, the young man pluckily held on to the animal and prevented his escape. He is now "dead sore" on cayuses, however.

A greaser or halfbreed, known here as Gibbs who has been working on the Heckman building, concluded to ride a break beam up to Ellensburg Saturday night. He only succeeded in reaching Selah where he was found next morning by the section men, apparently more dead than alive. He was brought back to this city and conveyed to the hospital as a county patient. Dr. Frank believes now that he may recover. Gibbs although a hobo in appearance is a man of considerable education. He is a linguist of no mean ability, being able to converse in six different languages.

The Prosser baseball nine will arrive tomorrow (Sunday) morning to try conclusions with the local club.

Tony Richardson of Wilson Creek, Douglass county, arrived on Friday. While here concluded a deal with Powell Bros. for the sale of 2500 range horses.

The Wenas people celebrated the fourth with a picnic at the Burgess grove, quite a large number of people being in attendance. A. L. Slemmons of this city delivered the oration, while Mrs. Slemmons favored the gathering with some patriotic vocal selections.

Another "blooded" horse race was trotted at the fair grounds on the 4th. The entries were "Jack Lowe," Tombstone and G. A. Bailey's mare "Fay". Three heats were trotted, Jack Lowe winning the first and third and Tombstone the second. The time made is reported at 2:40½, 2:40 and 2:39½. The "jackpot" purse amounted to $42.

The executive committee of the Fourth of July celebration, have not as yet settled all outstanding bills, but they have the funds on hand to do so and hope to get their accounts balanced today. The economical and business like management of the affair has been the means of producing a small surplus, which by the way is almost an unheard of thing in a Fourth of July celebration.

Considerable disappointment is felt by local wheelmen, over the refusal of the council at its last meeting to lay an annual tax of $1 on bicycles. They say that Yakima's streets get into a deplorable condition for bicycle travel, through the dry season, when the same might to a great extent be avoided by sprinkling. Yakima is a great bicycle town they say and should keep abreast of other towns in the state in all that make bicycle travel pleasant.

The N. P. R. R. officials have refused to place a clock in the depot tower at their own expense. They base their refusal on the ground that the company had already laid out large sums of money for improvements at this place and the clock while desirable was not necessary from their point of view. Through Agent Graham, however, the company offers, after making extensive inquiry into the cost, to contribute about one-half of the cost. The amount to be raised by the citizens according to this arrangement is $362. The proposed clock would have four illuminated dials and in striking could be heard for a distance of two miles.

The board of county commissioners were in session this week, adjourning on Thursday. A large grist of bills were allowed. The reports of the viewers on a number of new county roads were examined and the petitions all granted except that of W. H. H. Cory et al which was refused. The salaries of the deputies in the court house was raised by unanimous vote to $60 per month. The Republic was awarded the contract for county printing on the basis of 75cts per square for first publication and 50 cts for subsequent insertions and $45 for printing the auditor's annual report. The commissioners will meet again the first Monday in August as a board of equalization.

A sad accident the result of a runaway, occurred on Yakima avenue at noon on Friday. As Mrs. Gould and Mrs. McKinney of Yakima City, seated in a "democrat" wagon, were starting homeward after finishing their shopping they noticed that a singletree had become detached from the vehicle which seemed to immediately scare the horses and started them to run. They tore down the street at breakneck speed, with the result that they collided with a lumber wagon throwing the ladies out. Mrs. Gould received a terrible fall as her head struck the hard pavement, while Mrs. McKinney fared better, receiving nothing more than a bad shaking up. The unfortunate Mrs. Gould was carried to the hotel Yakima sample room and medical aid promptly summoned. The physician in charge stated that no bones were broken, but that it was impossible to state how serious would be the result of the injury to her head.

A petition was read from eighty odd wheelmen of the city that the ordinance be passed in its present shape.

Religious, Like His Father.

One day last week Prince Rockefeller started in business, at the age of 23, and backed by the $200,000,000 capital of the king. It is said the young prince has inherited the sagacity, energy and foresight which have brought such enormous possessions to his father, and, moreover that, like his father, he is naturally "religious!" Of course, being so much like his pious father in all respects, he will follow the old systems practiced by the old man, and therefore the robbery of the people and the crushing out of existence of those who may in a modest and honest way attempt to do business in his line will continue.

Thousands of dollars will be given toward colleges and churches, just as in the past, and the money squeezed from the people upon every occasion to recoup the pious and general fraud. It is so refreshing and reassuring to the people to learn that young Rockefeller is religious—just like his father!—Ex.

Letter to the Filipinos.

My dear Misguided Human Brothers:—Just lay down your fuses, bows and arrows and let me talk a little advice and some information.

Now, to begin with, you fellows would do just as well to climb into a sausage grinder as to tackle Uncle Samuel. Uncle Samuel is a figurative expression for seventy millions of people. I do not want to see mince meat made of you. We have to many varieties of meat now. You may think you are receiving pretty hard treatment, but Great Scot! what would it be if Uncle Samuel should take a notion to send you a cargo of canned beef. You ought to be thankful you have escaped that.

Now let me tell you what to do: Stop fighting. It is only a matter of time when you'll get licked anyway! Surrender under one condition only—that you shall not be fed on canned beef.

You fellows don't know what a good thing you are missing by not wanting to become citizens of this grand country of ours. There isn't anything like it under the sun. You ought to send a delegation over here to see us—this land of the free—land of churches and 40,000 licensed saloons; bibles, forts and guns; houses of prostitution; millionaires and paupers; theologians and thieves, libertines and liars; Christians and chain gains; politicians and poverty; schools and scallawags; trusts and tramps; money and misery; homes and hunger; virtue and vice.

A land where you can get a good bible for 15 cents or a bad drink of whiskey for 5 cents; where we have a man in congress with three wives, and a lot in the penitentiary for having two wives, where some men make sausage out of their wives and some want to eat them raw; where we make bologna sausage out of dogs, canned beef out of horses and sick cows, corpses out of the people who eat it; where we put a man in jail for not having the means of support and on the rock pile for asking for a job of work; where we license bawdy houses and fine men for telling the truth on the streets; where we have a congress of 400 men to make laws; a Supreme court of 9 men to set them aside; where good whiskey makes bad men and bad men make good whiskey; where newspapers are paid for suppressing the truth and made rich for teaching a lie; where professors draw their convictions from the same place they do their salaries; where preachers are paid $25,000 a year to dodge the devil and tickle the ears of the wealthy; where business consists of getting hold of property in any way that wont land you in the penitentiary; where trusts "hold up" and poverty holds you down; where where men vote for what they do not want for fear they won't get what they do want by voting for it; where "niggers" can vote and women can't; where the girl who goes wrong is made an outcast and her male partner flourishes as a gentleman; where women wear false hair and men "dock" their horses tails; where the political wire puller has displaced the patriotic statement; where men vote for a thing one day and "cuss" it 364 days; where we have prayers on the floor of our national capital and whiskey in the cellar; where we spend $5,000 to bury a statesman who is rich and $10 to put away a working-man who is poor; where to be virtuous is to be lonesome and to be honest is to be called a crank; where we sit on the safty-valve of energy and pull wide open the throttle of conscience: where gold is substance—the one thing sought for, and God is a waste basket for our better resolutions; where we pay $15,000 for a dog and 15 cents a dozen to a poor woman for making shirts; where we teach the "untutored Indian" eternal life from the bible and kill him off with bad whiskey; where we put a man in jail for stealing a loaf of bread, and in congress for stealing a railroad; where the checkbook talks, sin walks in broad daylight, justice is asleep, crime runs amuck, corruption permeates our whole social and political fabric, and the devil laughs from every street corner.

Come to us, Fillies; we've got the grandest aggregation of good things and bad things, hot things and cold things, soft things and hard things, all sizes, varieties and colors ever exhibited under one tent.

We've got more guns, more bibles and more whiskey than any two shows on earth. If you don't come we'll fetch you. "Read ye not the changeless truth the free can conquer but to save."

"We want to save you first, then we'll salt you down. Then we will give you a bible and you can get consolation out of it without extra charges. "If the salt loses its savor wherewith shall it be salted?" "Who the Lord loveth He chasteneth." "Thro' much suffering ye are made perfect." That's what our guns are for.

Of course when you fellows jine us you will half to stop eating each other. You will be our meat then. Our people wont stand it to see a lot of good meat wasted that way. You can eat each other's substance that makes the flesh. You can eat dog bologna or canned horse meat. It will expand our meat trade. Now this letter ought to fetch you. Give Aguinaldo the marble heart. He's sold you out twice and would likely do it again. Besides we have bought you and have offered you all the inducements of civilization. Come to our arms.

P. S. Forgot to say that when you "jine" us your women would have to change their mode of dress. In other words they should have a more elaborate wardrobe and wear something more than a summer smile and a pair of earrings. Nudity is not permitted with us except in the theaters and first-class ball rooms, and then not with male men.—W. S. Morgan.

GREAT DAY IN YAKIMA.

Independence Day Appropriately Observed by the People of Yakima County.

The glorious Fourth of July dawned cool and cloudy in Yakima and the fear was generally expressed that the day would be an unpleasant one, but during the forenoon the sky cleared, the wind subsided and the day became an ideal one for the occasion.

The street procession which was a very creditable one, took place at 10:30 and consumed about 20 minutes in passing a given point. The start was made from the hotel Yakima corner with Fred Parker grand marshal and his aide R.K. Nichols at its head. Next came the Yakima Cornet band, the tastefully decorated liberty car with 45 sweet little girls representing the different states, the mayor and other city officials followed in a carriage, after whom came the G. A. R. veterans followed by the U. R. of K. P. Next in order was the beautiful float of the Red Cross society which attracted much attention. It was occupied by two ladies in the character of nurses and a gentleman who assumed the role of a sick soldier. Then came a handsome float representing the local lodge of Modern Woodmen followed by members of that order armed with axes. The Washington car came next carrying a number of pretty little girls. It was a complete success artistically. The float of Claude Briggs the music dealer followed and was a handsome affair, it containing a piano at which Miss Minnie Sherwood officiated with skill and grace during the parade.

The Woodmen of the World came next and had, to represent their order, a huge log loaded on a wagon followed by members of the order. The Columbia market was represented by a unique float which contained a humorously inclined Billee goat to represent the butcher's trade. The Red men's lodge was represented by four members in regalia. A. Johnson the front street saloon man's float came next and made all the bystanders teeth water with its suggestions of foaming beer. A long line of bicyclists at the head of whom rode Mrs. Frank and A. J. Willis on beautifully decorated wheels came next. H. L. Tucker's livery business was next in line and the Yakima fire department followed. Citizens in carriages brought up the rear of what all who observed it, considered the best Fourth of July parade ever seen in North Yakima.

After the parade was over, the exercises of the day began, Mayor Fechter, being master of ceremonies. Rev. H. M. Bartlett opened with an invocation, after which a patriotic selection was rendered by the band. Ex-mayor Redman then read the immortal Declaration of Independence, during the progress of which he was given the closest attention. The orator of the day, ex-Judge Carrol B. Graves of Ellensburg was then introduced and began what his audience unanimously agreed was a remarkably eloquent and patriotic address. The speaker after reviewing the conditions that existed in 1776 and warmly praising the patriotism, valor and self-denial of the colonists, followed the political history of the country down to the present time. He reviewed at length the conditions that brought forth the Spanish war, the primary cause of which grew out of the American love of liberty and their violent hatred of oppression. The eloquent speaker, in discussing the present

Philippine problem, exhibited the diplomacy and fine tact for which he has long been noted. While he glorified the valor and patriotism of our soldiers and sailors and prophesied a great future for American trade and shipping in the Pacific he studiously avoided the rock of political annexation. While this course may have disappointed some of the ultra expansionists in the vast audience, who expected some red hot arguments in favor of their pet policy, it is safe to say however, that the people generally were highly pleased.

The oration being concluded at noon, the crowd quickly dispersed for dinner only to appear in greater numbers at 1:30 to view the sports. The audience in point of fact was so large as to greatly embarrass the managers of the races, by incessantly crowding the course. The result of the several races is given below.

One hundred yd. foot race Henry Miller first, Irvy Bounds second. Bicycle, Joe Steiner first, E. Evans second. Boys foot race, Hugh Saunders first, J. Lindsey second. Girls 50 yd. race, Florence Redfield first Bessie second. Fat man's race, M. W. Fockler first.

Boys 50 yd. race S. Parker first, J. Wilder second. Shetland pony race, Harry Snively first, Harry Tucker second. Boy's bicycle. Vernie Bounds first, Alfred Nevins second. Sack race Chas. Wimer first, Fred Blair second. High jump, Graham Ker first, pole vault, S. C. Holliday.

The tug of war was won by team No. 1. After the races the crowd adjourned to the ball grounds, where a spirited game was played between the city and Ahtanum nines. The game was considered a good one and was won by the Yakima's by a score of 13 to 3. The prize money was $25.

In the evening the fire works display which was a very beautiful and extensive one, took place at the foot of Yakima avenue and was witnessed by a large crowd of admiring spectators. Committeemen Robertson and Whitson are entitled to much praise for their able management of the exhibition. The celebration wound up with a grand ball at the opera house in the evening, given by the order of Red Men. This was a very pleasant affair and was a financial success, about 150 tickets being sold. On the whole the celebration was a pronounced success and nearly every one was satisfied.

Back From Klondyke.

W. S. Mills of the Moxee returned home last week from Dawson City via Skagway, where he went to market a number of horses and a quantity of hay and feed.

Arriving in Skagway the end of February, he made a safe and uneventful trip into the Klondyke metropolis where he disposed of his property to good advantage.

While there he met several members of the Yakima colony, all of whom he reported to be in good health. Some of the boys he says are doing well, while others are not so lucky. Messers A. C. Coburn and Wayne Field are working a claim on Dominion Creek, Dick Mc Daniels is running a pack train, while Geo. Ker, Emil Shanno and J. L. Banks are prospecting. When coming out he met Judge Erwin at White Horse Rapids going in. The judge he states, lost considerable property by reason of one of his scows being wrecked on June 21st. Mr. Mills is well pleased with the result of his trip and will start in again soon.
