Mrs. Florence Palmer,
1881 S.W. 11th Ave.,
Portland, Ore.

Dear Mrs. Palmer:

Enclosed, a clipping, of somewhat dubious value to promotional activities in connection with your approaching book fair, because of my small importance. But I am passing it on to you.

And yesterday's mail brought me a note from the publisher, as follows:

Drummers and Dreamers, reviewed in Digest Universal, India International Magazine, Bombay, India, Sept., 1957. This excellent review occupies almost two full pages. From it we quote:

"...a very interesting and well-connected story...a long and laborious task...a valuable contribution to the American Indian life...In Caxton's long list of interesting books, 'Drummers and Dreamers' is a masterpiece all scholars will love to read with pleasure."

Hope your plans are progressing favorably.

Sincerely
