OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

EVERYTHING indicates that the question of trusts and the best method of curbing or destroying them will play a very important part in the next national campaign. The rapid manner in which the great manufacturing concerns of the country are being consolidated into gigantic syndicates, ostensibly for the purpose of more economical management, but in reality to limit production and control prices, has at last had the effect of frightening the people into casting about for some means of escape from this threatened system of industrial slavery. With such huge combinations existing in the manufacturing business alone, the situation is bad enough, but when the transportation lines of the country become centralized in management, as now seems probable with many of them, conditions will become well nigh intolerable in this country, especially for the producing classes. It may be true, as has frequently been asserted in defense of the trusts, that many of them have been organized for speculative purposes only; but that remains to be seen. This certainly is not the case with the iron and steel trust, the tin plate trust, the barbed wire trust, the baking powder trust and numerous others that might be mentioned, as these monsters control production in their lines and have in every case materially advanced prices. Some of the southern states have recently enacted some drastic legislation to curb the trusts, but it is doubtful if state laws will reach the evil. As we said before, the trust evil will be prominent in national politics. The democracy will unquestionably espouse the cause of the people and declare war on these unnatural monsters, which are the offshoots of republican class legislation. The republican platform itself is liable to contain an anti-trust plank—for buncombe only, for nobody familiar with republican politics of the present day would expect that party to smash the trusts.

PRESIDENT McKinley is being sharply criticised for his recent order, the effect of which will be to turn out over 4,000 petty officials and clerks heretofore protected by civil service rules, and put in their places as many working politicians of his own party. It is not only the mugwump press that is kicking at this violation of the civil service plank in the St. Louis platform, but many old line republican papers as well. Mr. McKinley, since his term of office began, has been between the devil and the deep sea in this matter. On one side stood the civil service cranks, who aided materially in his election, largely on the strength of the specific pledge made in his letter of acceptance that "no backward step should be taken in the enforcement of the civil service," and on the other side were the spoilsmen of his party, under the leadership of Hanna, Platt and Quay, who clamored incessantly for the executive ruling lately made. In the opinion of most of the mugwump journals, the president has shown a lamentable lack of backbone in thus ruthlessly tearing down the work which they have spent years of brain labor and countless barrels of printers ink in building up, and which act was done, too, against the president's own better judgment and for no other purpose than to satisfy the hungry demands of the worst element of his party. The mugwumps are very wrathful at the president's action, and some of them are not backward about asserting that it will prove to be another nail in Pious William's political coffin in the great year of 1900.

SIX states will hold elections during the present year, and in each a governor is to be elected. The states which are to vote are Iowa, Ohio, Massachusetts, Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi. The democrats feel confident of being able to carry four of the six, namely: Ohio, Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi; and consider that they have a good fighting chance in Massachusetts, where there exists very general dissatisfaction with the imperialistic policy of the administration. In Iowa, which is generally regarded as a hidebound republican state, the best that the democrats can hope to do is to materially reduce the g. o. p. majority, which there is a splendid prospect of doing. In Mr. McKinley's own bailiwick of Ohio the prospects were never better for a democratic victory. There is a big row on there among the numerous republican bosses and the people are growing restless under the brutal sway of Mark Hanna. In Kentucky and Maryland, both of which states were lost to Bryan in 1896 by trifling majorities, the democrats are sanguine of winning, the colonial policy of the administration having already driven most of the gold democrats back to their old allegiance. In Mississippi, of course, the republicans do not have a ghost of a chance. A list of democratic victories this year will show which way the wind is blowing and give the party renewed courage to wage the greater battle in 1900.

IT is a self-evident fact that the two congressmen from this state have erred in disregarding the time-honored custom of holding competitive examinations previous to the appointment of cadets to West Point and Annapolis. The merit system, which has been in vogue for many years all over the United States, has given entire satisfaction, as it insures the children of the poor as good a chance for a free education as the pampered sons of the rich. Messrs.

Jones and Cushman, whatever may have been their motive for ignoring this wise custom, will profit nothing in a political sense for having insisted on their rights to appoint the cadets. The fact that the sons of two prominent politicians were selected corroborates the supposition that they looked at the matter from a political point of view.

A READER of THE DEMOCRAT informed us recently that he took a good deal of delight in reading this paper, for the reason that it is an agitator and a constant kicker. Our critic admitted, however, that the people we have kicked stood in need of it. As for this paper being an agitator, perhaps it is, and we have no objection to it being classed as such. Agitation means life, while stagnation means death, and we don't want to die, at least not now—not until after Col. Bryan has been elected to the presidency.

NOW that an entirely new school board has been elected, it is to be hoped that the first important matter that will engage the attention of the new officials after qualifying will be the condition of the Columbia school building. The people of this district demand that it be made absolutely safe and will cheerfully pay the cost. Nor is there much time to lose between the present and the beginning of the new school year.

DELINQUENT subscribers will confer a favor by calling around and paying up occasionally. While the amounts of such delinquency seem small to the individual, they amount to a good deal to us in the aggregate. A newspaper must meet its obligations promptly or go to the wall, and there is mighty little in it, anyway, as our brethren of the quill will all readily testify.

THE Republic says that Hon. Edward Whitson is engaged in writing a book and consequently is not looking for anything in politics. This announcement has caused some comment locally, the general opinion being that Colonel Robertson has not yet gotten well acquainted with Colonel Whitson.

"THE Cornered Expansionists" is the title of an article appearing elsewhere, which we clipped from that rabid republican organ, the San Francisco Call. It is pretty good reading and we commend it to our brethren who have recently become enamored of the beauties of imperialism.

DON'T forget that North Yakima will have the biggest and best celebration on the Fourth ever seen in Central Washington.

Sugar Beets At The Fair.

Many farmers and gardeners of Yakima county are preparing to compete for the magnificent premiums offered by Hon. Levi Ankeny for the best results from sugar beet growing. The Fair Commission has been in correspondence with the Agricultural College officials in regard to the method of obtaining proper analyses and find that the beets will have to be analyzed at Pullman. Prof. W. J. Spillman, to whom the matter was referred, says that the beets will have to show three points in testing. The yield per acre, per cent of sugar in the juice and the purity of the juice will all be taken into consideration. To raise good beets the grower must have them thinned to four or six inches apart, keep down the weeds and properly irrigate the plants. It is not always the large beets that show most saccharine value, nor those having most water that contain the purest juice. As this $50 prize is offered to induce parties to experiment in beet growing it is advisable that every person trying for one of the premiums secure all information possible and make the experiment a success. The number of beets grown upon a given area will determine the yield per acre, so that every grower should have a good stand. If the beets are to thin in one place they may be transplanted successfully from the thicker places this insuring a uniform stand over the entire plot. The commission will give more explicit directions about harvesting when the specimens are wanted for exhibit.

Wenas Wafers.

Miss Lola Carpenter was visiting Mrs. Moore this week.

Mr. Taylor went over to Ellensburg after his son Henry, who has been attending the Normal school.

Misses Lavina and Christia Sherman, Master Westley Sherman and Miss Addie Brooks from the Ahtanum are visiting friends on the Wenas.

Miss Carrie Young, of North Yakima is visiting on the Wenas.

Messers M. M. Burge, T. D. Quinn and Fred J. Kandle are gathering up their cattle and taking them up into the mountains as the feed is getting poor here.

Peter Wyman, Joe Chamberlain and J. J. Miller has each bought a mower and intend to make the grass fly next week.

Some of our boys went into the mountains on Wednesday and in reconnoitering around run on to some bear tracks. Two of the boldest started on the trail with the avowed intention of lassoing bruin and bringing him into camp. On sighting the bear, however, their courage failed them and they returned with the information that they had lost the trail.

Result of School Election.

The annual school election which took place at the Central school house on Saturday last resulted as follows:

For the 3 year term A. E. Larson received 185, B. F. Barge 171.

For the 2 year term D. M. Shanks received 188, A. E. Larson 151, B. F. Barge 10.

For the 1 year term H. M. Bartlett received 194, L. O. Janeck 150.

The vote on clerk stood, Miss Osborne 174, J. C. MacCrimmon 102, J. R. Coe 81, Miss Nichols 7. It will thus be seen that the candidates elected were A. E. Larson for 3 years, D. M. Shanks for 2 years and H. M. Bartlett for 1 year, while Miss Osborne was elected clerk.

Trusts.

The New York Sun in an editorial in last sunday's edition says that Mr. Bryan is right for once and quotes him as saying that "the Republican party is impotent to destroy trusts."

It goes on to say that "the Republican party and the Democratic party and every other party is impotent against trusts," and then goes on to talk about the denunciation of trusts by politicians and platforms as mere political declamation.

Of course every one knows that all the denunciation of and vituperation against trusts that the Republican party will indulge in will be mere political declamation for the purpose of deceiving innocent voters. It is well known that the trusts will control the next Republican convention and dictate its platform, and that the Republican candidates will be pledged to betray the voters and defend the trusts that the trusts will support the Republican candidates and contribute an enormous corruption fund to buy the election. Under these circumstances any person not a natural born idiot will readily understand the anti-trust tirades of Republican spellbinders will be insincere and only declamation for the purpose of holding in line a class of voters for whose intelligence and independence they have little respect.

But the trusts themselves well know that if the articles they control are to be put upon the free list fereign competition will assert itself and their despotism in domestic trade will fall to the grond, the money kings and bond hond holdholders well know that with silver restored to its rightful place in our coinage that the general level of prices will advance and that individual enterprise will have a chance to prosper again and that the trusts will be unable to crush out individuals and firms under such circumstances. The editor of the Sun well knows that Mr. Bryan was right, and he further knows that the Democratic party can destroy the trusts and that the success of the Democratic party next year will mean the doom of not only the industrial combinations but parent trust of trusts, the money power in America.—National Watchman.

Those of Our Competitors.

A Plain Statement of Facts Which will Throw Some Light on a More or Less Celebrated Case.

It is a well known fact that we have handled the LUDWIG PIANOS in North Yakima for several years past, and that we have been remarkably successful with them. We have sold 20 Ludwigs in Yakima county where one piano of any other make has been sold. The reason we have been able to do this is that the LUDWIG has given absolute satisfaction wherever we have placed it, and owners of LUDWIGS have invariably helped us to sell others to their friends.

One of our competitors, envious of our success, has attempted to discredit us, and has tried to show the people that we were charging too much for LUDWIGS. To do this, they bought a second-hand Ludwig, had it repolished and sold it to a customer at a little more than half price, alleging that it was a new piano.

We have traced the history of that piano, and now have documentary evidence at our store, which we will be pleased to show to anybody, which proves beyond a shadow of doubt that this identical piano, now owned by George Wilson, of Wide Hollow, and sold to him as a new instrument by our competitors, was first sold by Wiley B. Allen & Co., of Portland, to one H. G. Reed, of that place; that he paid $147 on it, and being unable to pay the balance due, returned it to them; that they then sold it to E. S. Johnson, of Los Angeles, for $185 cash, as a second hand instrument; that Johnson afterward sold it and shipped it to Tacoma, where it was repolished and, and from where it was shipped here to be sold on the representation that it had never before been used.

Our competitors made no money on this deal. Indeed, we happen to know that they lost money, in order to give us that unkind cut.

We give the history of this transaction in full, in order that the public may be made acquainted with the desperate efforts that are being made by unscrupulous dealers in pianos in this town to tear down the reputation for square dealing which our several years of successful business here have established for us.

THE WILEY B. ALLEN CO.

We are at the old stand, representing the Wiley B. Allen Co. and especially NEW LUDWIG Pianos. We have other makes of Pianos, and Organs, also, which we sell on the installment plan. We also carry a full line of String and small Musical Instruments. Give us a call.

State Press Opinion.

Every democrat in the country should be a patron to his home paper; not a borrower, but a cash paying subscriber. It is a most deplorable fact, but it is a fact for all that, that republican papers as a rule, are better patronized than democratic or populist papers. The democrat that does not patronize his home paper ought to be ashamed of himself. —Seattle Review.

If the rank and file of the republican party is satisfied with the domination of Hanna's ring, nobody has a real kick coming. The Ohio convention adopted a platform denouncing the children of Hanna's machine—trusts—and Hanna was in complete control of the convention, too. No wonder the knights of the gold brick and the three shells thrive in this prolific country.—Whatcom Blade.

Census Superintendent Merriam admits that "political considerations will necessarily play some part." Well, yes. The work is to be done in a presidential year. The president desires another term. So do many congressmen. An army of 45,000 men is to be selected for the work, most of whom will be only a few months employed, but a very considerable number will have snaps for years. The superintendent scarcely needed to say that political considerations will play a very prominent part.—Tacoma News.

That there is gold to be found at Cape Nome is undoubted, but prospectors going there should go with a full knowledge of the climate and country, and with preparations to properly take care of themselves. It is not in the interior as the Klondike is, but is on the coast of the open Bering sea. The winds that sweep over the hills in winter are said to be terrific. There is little or no growth of timber. It is possible to construct huts to properly live in during the winter, but prospectors who go in to that inhospitable locality should be properly acquainted with conditions, and then govern themselves accordingly.—Seattle Times.

The Seattle P.-I. is greatly distressed over a recent editorial in the News on the growth of expansion. This the P.-I. terms a lugubrious wail." The trouble with the P.-I. is that its own politics is so seriously doubted that it endeavors to divert attention by assailing the politics of other newspapers. In fact the P.-I. has become known as the morning Distrust, and since Jim Hoge left it that paper's influence has steadily waned, and every one knows it. The News has not wavered in its democracy. It has never found it necessary to ask aid from the national committee of its party. It has never threatened in case such aid was not forthcoming to desert its party and go over to the enemy. Can the Seattle Post Mortem say as much?—Tacoma News.

Just let your subscription go. It's only a small sum, the editor don't need it, get as mad as you can and tell him to stop the paper—you never read it anyhow. Go home and borrow your neighbor's. When the reporter calls always be busy. Make him feel as if he were intruding. When the advertising man comes tell him you don't need to advertise, everybody knows you; that business is slack and you must economize. Never drop in to see the editor unless you want a complimentary notice or a lengthy obituary for a beloved relative.

Never recommend the paper to anybody. When you speak of it, say "Yes, we have a little sheet, but it don't amount to much." Keep it up for a year or two and you will have a dead newspaper, a dead set of merchants and a dead town. —Exchange.

For the last third of a century the people of the United States have been paying off the war debt created in the early sixties—they have paid fabulous sums, more than three, aye even five times the amount of the original debt, but they are not done yet. Even now after paying almost countless thousands of dollars it yet requires more of the products of labor to pay the remaining part of the debt than it would to have paid it all, at the time it was contracted—and all this has been brought about by special and purchased legislation, said legislation being purchased inspired by the invisible empire—the destroyers of freedom in all countries in the world. The tax-robbed people have it in their power to dethrone this monster, at one election—but they will never dethrone him by voting for the goldized republican party dictators and public plunderers.—Seattle review.

The strength of the imperial policy lies in the fact that the president is its sponsor. In the eyes of very many people the government is simply the administration; the president is virtually the administration, for he dominates everything. So long as he pursues an imperialistic policy, therefore, and especially so long as he is favored by forcible resistance in the islands, the many who think that good citizenship consists in "standing by the government" in whatever it may do whether they approve of it or not, may be classed as practically imperialists. The extent of this feeling is shown by the recent action of Charles Francis Adams of Massachusetts, Senator Perkins of California and Charles J. Bonaparte of Maryland. They have disapproved the Philippine policy, but they fall in because "the government" insists upon it. Mr. Henderson, who is to be the speaker, is in the same attitude, though his political ambition is his controlling motive. The imperial keynote was sounded in the Ohio platform, which says in effect: "Leave it all in the hands of the president."—Tacoma News.

FARMERS.....

When you buy a Mower, Binder or Rake, you want only the best, because the best is always the cheapest.

THE Buckeye Mowers AND Reapers

Stand unrivaled for simplicity of construction and lightness of draft and they are honestly made, which gives them durability. Read the following Pointers concerning the advantages of the

Buckeye Mower:

POINTER 1*—H. K. Tillitt, manager of the Arkansas Valley Feed and Cattle Company, Lamar, Colo., says: "I am using six of your Buckeye Mowers. I use the Buckeye because it is the only mower that will cut the first and second bottom grass of the Arkansas valley, the toughest grass that grows. I have tried all the makes of mowers, but have fallen back on the Buckeye for good, because it is the only machine that fills the bill."

POINTER 2*—J. W. Schmitz, superintendent of the Miller & Lux Cattle Ranches, of Firebaugh, California, says: "Our twelve Buckeye Mowers are in almost constant use eight months in the year, cutting the several crops of alfalfa. We have tried all the leading makes of mowers but pronounce the Buckeye superior to all others in ease of draft, strength and cutting qualities. It also costs less for repairs than any mower we ever had on our ranches."

POINTER 3*—The proprietor of the largest hay ranches in the world is the Kern County Land Company, Bakersfield, California. For 1896 this company bought two Buckeye Mowers and an equal number of several other makes, including Deering and McCormick. The company took this method of settling the question of comparative merit for itself and in its own way. For 1897 the company bought twenty more Buckeyes and no other machines. For 1898 the company bought sixty-three additional Buckeyes, making eighty five in all, and the superintendent issued this general order for the guidance of all the company's ranches: "Hereafter we will use the Buckeye and not a mower of any other kind on our ranches."

The Buckeye Binder's Record

For 1898 was never surpassed—never. There was only one trouble—the factory was unable to supply the demand. Our '99 machine will be the most perfect of its kind ever placed on the market. Its new features are a Steel Deck and an Improved Knotter.

CIRCUS DAY MONDAY.

Ringling Bros.' Big Show Awaited with Eager Anticipation.

Circus day is almost here. Anticipation is about to give way to realization.

The coming Monday, June 19th, will witness the arrival of Ringling Brothers' long-expected big show. The fame of this wonderful institution has preceded it, and circus day will be a record-making event in the annals of amusement in this city. No one can afford to miss the show, for no one has ever seen anything to compare with it. It is not only the biggest show in the world, but it is also unquestionably the best exponent of high-class arenic entertainment ever organized. The management is not content to have one great feature—every act in the show is a great feature. First will be the magnificent free street parade and open-air spectacle. Nothing to compare with this wonderful display has ever been seen in America. The procession leaves the show grounds promptly at ten o'clock, and the route is over the principal downtown streets. The parade is divided into thirty sections, each of which is complete in itself, and yet so beautifully blended as to form a continuous two-mile line of ever-changing color and brilliancy. Embraced in the thirty sections are representations of the most famous military organizations of the world, all brilliantly uniformed according to their nationality and regiment and wearing accoutrements secured from the governments of several countries; a reproduction of the racing glories of the ancient Circus Maximus and the modern Derby Day meet; an Indo-British flying-column, with more than a score of huge war elephants drawing great cannons; Bedouins, on their tireless camels crossing the desert; a complete children's parade, with tiny cages and beautifully carved miniature tableau cars, and many other divisional features, including five hundred handsomely-caparisoned, high-bred horses, over a hundred floats, dens and open cages of rare wild beasts, and ten bands of music, the whole forming the most brilliant artistic display ever seen upon the streets of any city in the world. The doors will be opened one hour before the performance, to afford visitors an opportunity to examine the magnificent zoological display. The exhibition opens with the gorgeous historical spectacle, "The Last Days of the Century," and closes with a revival of the thrilling contests of the Roman hippodrome. The intervening performance engages the talents of three hundred star performers, who present an exhibition that for novelty, brilliancy and sensational interest has never been duplicated. There will be only one performance, at 2 p. m. Reserved numbered seats and admission can be secured show day at Janeck's drug store at exactly the same price as on the exhibition grounds.

Mrs. Frank Kremer desires pupils to learn the art of making all kinds of tissue paper flowers, for decorating lambrequins, pianos and mantles. For samples of her work call at her rooms over the Yakima Bakery. Her charges are only 50 cents per lesson, lasting all the afternoon.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 9, 1899.

When the influences which were brought to bear in his favor were considered, the ease with which Henderson, of Iowa, knocked out all the other candidates for speaker and made his own election certain had nothing wonderful about it. It was a simple case of cause and effect. The principal factor in his speedy success was the tip given out by the administration in his favor. That tip was a little bit puzzling at first, because it had been understood that the administration was rather inclined to favor Sherman when Reed's retirement first became known. There were several reasons for the transfer of the favor of the administration from Sherman to Henderson. Mr. McKinley was jealous of the influence that Tom Reed would have with Sherman, wished to jolly the west by aiding it to capture the speakership, and was most anxious, of all to put a man in the speaker's chair who could not become a candidate for president—Henderson's birthplace was Scotland. The great personal popularity of Henderson made it easier to engineer the stampede to him than it would have been to any other man who was named as a candidate. While no man in congress is a stronger partisan than "Dave" Henderson, no man in congress has fewer personal enemies than he. What his policy as speaker will be is yet to be ascertained. As a member of Reed's committee on rules he always helped to carry out the Reed programme.

The most interesting bit of political gossip of the week is that in addition to practicing law in New York, Mr. Reed intends to retain his seat in the house and to take an important part in all discussions that will give him a chance to pay off an old score or to push himself to the head of his party. Although this is only a rumor, with the probabilities strongly against it, there is alarm in administration circles on account of it. There is no doubt that Mr. Reed could make a lot of trouble for the administration should he set up as a free lance on the floor of the house, as he is known to be opposed to the policy of the administration on a number of important questions. Mr. McKinley would much sooner have Reed in the speaker's chair, where his party responsibility would act as a restraint, than to have him on the floor armed with a club and looking out for heads to crack, with no responsibility to anything except his constituents. This gossip is likely to continue until Mr. Reed resigns as a member of the house, which nobody seems to know when he will do, if at all.

Boss Hanna is trying to enact the role of the boy who has to be begged to play. He says he doesn't wish to remain at the head of the republican National Committee, during next year's campaign, because his health, for which he has been ordered to Europe, isn't what it was, and because there is so much work attached to the position that it allows him no opportunity to indulge in recreation and diversions. He gave the whole snap away by adding that the position might be forced upon him again, in which case he would take it, but he wanted it known that he would do so against his wishes. Tommyrot every word of it. Hanna would be thrown into a series of fits if he thought any other man would be put at the head of the republican committee. Owing to his numerous trust connections, he is making a grandstand play, intended to convince jays that he doesn't wish to manage the campaign.

Ex-Congressman La Follet, of Ohio, is sanguine that the democrats have more than a fighting chance to carry that state this year. He said: "The democrats of Ohio have solid grounds for believing that they can elect the Gov. this year. The revolt among the republicans who dislike Senator Hanna and his methods, and who are dissatisfied with the nomination of Judge Nash, will split the republican party asunder. In fact, the breach between the factions is too wide to be healed, and all talk of harmony is for effect. The Ohio democracy is going into this campaign united, confident and enthusiastic, while the opposition, conscious of the division in its ranks, is timid and dubious of the result."

A handsome and life like marble bust of Hon. Wm. J. Bryan, made by order of a number of Washington democrats to be presented to Mrs. Bryan on her birthday, is on exhibition in Washington.

The difference between enthusiasm and cold cash is being exemplified by the slow growth of the fund for the purchase of a Washington house for Admiral Dewey. Subscriptions come in slower and slower and the total is still less than $7,000.

No official news from the Philippines has been given out this week, although it is known that long dispatches have been received both from Gen. Otis and from Mr. Schurman, president of the Philippine Commission. It is also known that these dispatches did not agree in conclusions reached. Replies were sent to both, and Secretary Hay made public an official denial of the report that the civil commissioners were to be ordered home.

The Cornered Expansionists.

No more conclusive arguments against the permanent acquisition of Asiatic islands, either as colonial dependencies or as American territory, is required than the ridiculous methods and pretensions of cornered expansionists. No man living, possessed of brains, erudition and a competent knowledge of the history of his country, can make a sound and an honest argument in support of that policy in either of its phases. The constitutional discussion, sustained alike by jurists and by statesmen who comprehended the institutions of our country, was so one-sided that practically there was no attempt to vindicate the revolutionary scheme that originated in the lust for money or for military glory. The very utmost that could be said on that side was that our fundamental principles had been "outgrown," that the Declaration of Independence was not a proclamation of eternal truth but a tissue of fallacies, and that the republic was no longer held by the apron-strings of its founders, who were thus brought within the same category as Senator Hoar and other eminent Americans and characterized as "old women."

There has not been, and there could not be, a debate on this subject worthy of the name. It must be noted also that the war with Spain was not commenced without a distinct repudiation of any desire for conquest, and that, whatever inconsistencies and revival of obsolete doctrines the treaty of Paris may have involved, the government of the United States, in its official documents and in its official acts, has kept rigidly within the lines of temporary military necessity, and to-day stands wholly uncommitted to the permanent retention of the Philippines, pledged to secure the independence of Cuba, and restrained by the form and by the substance of the Federal constitution.

The announcements of the blatant expansionists, which they have sought to fasten upon the president and his cabinet, in order to project the country into positions from which it could not recede, may have produced false impressions, but, nevertheless, tested with the exactness that applies to national declarations and to national conduct, remain their own peculiar stock in trade. The people still retain their control over their representative institutions, securely resting upon their own sovereignty, and the people have not so far, directly or indirectly, ratified or approved the attempted absorption of our republican system by the imperialism of the world, or especially by the imperialism of Great Britain. They were and they are quite capable of glorying in the discipline, the prowess and the record of their army and their navy, without being driven into political situations in which their liberty would be submerged, their blood contaminated and their free industries handed over to cheap labor, under the control of unscrupulous monopolists.

There have been many honest and intelligent expansionists who, through the glamour of victory and false appeals to counterfeited patriotism, were seduced into an attitude that, upon reflection, they cannot maintain. The number of this class, who have never lost their respect for the independent consideration of public questions nor for the fundamental law upon which their own rights depend and their own civilization is molded, is rapidly diminishing. But the vociferous expansionists, who have no conscience and no country, except in their own greed and selfishness, still push their fight against constitutional Americanism, and, as if by preconcert or prearrangement, having no facts and no genuine principles to which they can appeal and having been defeated on every proposition they have endeavored to formulate, have now given us a foretaste of imperialism by the adoption of a policy of intimidation. In this continental home of autonomous States, welded into an indissoluble Union and possessed by the most intelligent population of the world, they labor under the delusion that they can introduce the precedents of the Middle Ages and bully citizenship into silent acquiescence in their reactionary designs.

This class of expansionists fairly represents the wicked elements of our national life. It includes political bosses soaked with degraded trickery, speculative cormorants who feed upon human weakness and upon unsuspecting integrity, hard-headed and harder-hearted monopolists who have no preception of the august development of intelligence and of individualized manhood that shines through the pages of American history and who accept labor as a coining machine invented by Providence for their exclusive benefit, the sneering pessimists who are destitute of nationality in life and who have no hope not barricaded by the tomb, and every other parasitical growth that disfigures the clean and sound mass of progressive Americanism. As Louis XI, shaken with the tremors of superstition, prostrated by mortal disease and bloated with pestilential arrogance, still thought himself the owner of France, so these false quantities in a free country pipe their depreciation of Washington and Jefferson and imagine that they are the government and its constituents.

As a spectacle they are a failure. As an influence they are contemptible.—San Francisco Call. (Rep.)

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts., guaranteed, at Louis O. Janeck's drug store.

Marshal Grant, who has been "laying" for some time for County Commissioner Eglin for fast driving in the streets, caught that gentleman as he sailed into town on Wednesday behind his fast roadster. Considering that it was "his first offense," Justice Taggard let him off with a fine of $5.

A young man named Hale, while driving a spirited animal on Front street Sunday, lost control of the animal which became frightened at a passing train. The driver was thrown out, his head striking a telephone pole with great force. He was rendered somewhat "hazy" for a time. The rig was pretty well smashed up.

W. H. Hare on Saturday last sold about 40 head of standard bred mares and colts at the O. K. Stables. Sales were made by auction, the average price being about $41 per head, which is regarded as very cheap for that class of stock. Mr. Hare left for Spokane on Thursday night with a car load of his roadsters which he expects to sell at private sale.

The Yakima gold mining Co. has been incorporated in this city with Alex Miller, C. G. Hoyt, W. L. Jones, Henry Lombard, J. B. Current and A. B. Wyck-off as the incorporators. The first five gentlemen have been elected as a board of trustees. The new company have secured a group of seven valuable claims in the Summit district and will soon send a party of men up under the direction of Mr. Current to begin development work.

Milton Kirtley, of Kittitas county an old pioneer who crossed the plains in 54 was a caller at this office on Tuesday. Mr. Kirtley, his parents and three other families made up the party. An Indian guide piloted them up the Yakima valley and over the Cascades through the Natchez Pass, it requiring three days to get their wagons down the steep declivity on the western slope. Mr. Kirtley served in the Indian war of 55 and is well stocked with interesting reminiscences of that eventful period.

Quite a number of the "ungodly" hied themselves to the fairgrounds on Sunday morning to view a mile trotting race between Fred Brooker's "Tombstone" and Jack Lowe, now owned by J. A. Mabry. The race resulted in the former horse being scooped by the latter, which carried with it a transfer of some "coin of the realm". The boys have since been busy "joshing" the owner of "Tombstone" who is reported to have previously refused to accept Jack Lowe as a gift the reason being that he was to slow. These gentlemen are understood to be making up a purse for a crack race on the Fourth.

We've done a Wonderful Business with SHIRT WAISTS

This Spring. Haven't had any warm weather, either. But our stock is new and fresh and the greatest care has been exercised in selecting the Styles and Colors. Just what the ladies who keep posted on style are looking for.

The prices? Well our long years of experience has taught us what to buy and what not to buy—what are good values and what are not. Consequently we don't need to sell them at so-called "Special Sales" in order to give you as good or better values than others, to say nothing of giving you Style and right Material. We haven't space here to tell you all about them, but we would like to have you call at our store, where, after seeing our Shirt Waists, you will better appreciate the values we are offering you.

The Sweet Girl Graduates.

The fifth annual commencement of the North Yakima High school, followed by the graduating exercises of the eighth grade pupils took place at Mason's opera house last Monday evening and proved an occasion both pleasant and edifying.

The High school graduates were Myrtle Elizabeth Peck, Nellie G. Rogers and Ruby Inez Vertner.

All seats were filled and standing room occupied and the array of beautiful women in rich dresses and dreamy hats, together with the profusion of flowers that adorned the stage and rested in the laps of the audience constituted a scene bordering on the enchanting.

The program opened with an invocation by Rev. Condit followed by an instrumental solo by Miss Bunnell; then came the literary efforts of the respective graduates interspersed by a delicious solo by Mrs. Willis and one of rare artistic beauty by Mrs. Slemmons.

Miss Vertner read an essay entitled "If" treating of national destiny or evolution. Miss Peck delivered a theme on "The Ethics of Geometry" and Miss Rogers read a poem called "Natchez." All acquitted themselves creditably and each received a generous floral tribute at the hands of the enthusiastic audience. Unfortunately the execrable acoustic conditions of the hall rendered much of what the young ladies read inaudible. The presentation of diplomas was made by City Superintendent St. John accompanied by appropriate remarks. Rev. Mr. Bartlett delivered a brief but eloquent address to the class following which, Mrs. Horsley sang a charming solo.

The final part of the program consisted of a "Longfellow Reception," which was exceedingly amusing. Presentation of diplomas to the eighth grade by County Superintendent Plumb and a benediction by Rev. Mr. Bartlett closed the exercises.

Of Interest to Inventors.

C. A. Snow & Co., one of the oldest and most successful firms of patent lawyers, whose offices are opposite the United States Patent Office in Washington, D. W. J. Bryan's New Book.

The Hon. W. J. Bryan's new book "Republic or Empire" is now out and ought to be in the hands of every anti-imperialist in the United States. The book is published by the Independence Company of Chicago and is a handsome work of nearly 700 pages and a gem typographically.

It is written in part and edited by Hon. W. J. Bryan with supplementary chapters from Senators Hoar, Vest, Allen, White, Gorman, Bacon, Mason, Daniel, Chilton, McLaurin, Tilman, Money, Turner, Teller, Butler, Clay also from such eminent men as Edmunds, Schurz, Jordan, Johnson and others.

The work is beautifully illustrated and is sold only by subscription. THE DEMOCRAT office has been authorized to receive subscriptions. The price of the work is from $1.50 to $3.00 according to binding. Call and examine the prospectus.

Pressey Goes Free.

The case of the city of North Yakima versus Henry Pressey ex-city treasurer, was called in the superior court Wednesday morning. The regular panel was exhausted at 11 a. m. with only a part of the jury secured. A special venire was issued by Judge Davidson and by two o'clock a jury had been secured.

A number of witnesses were examined for the prosecution, most of whom were city officials. At five o'clock the prosecution rested and adjournment being taken until seven o'clock, after which time 12 witnesses who testified for the defense were speedily examined, most of these witnesses testified that they believed Mr. Pressey insane, or at least in a condition for several years bordering on insanity. Testimony for the defense being all in at 10 o'clock, counsel began their arguments.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney F. H. Rudkin made a brief but brilliant address to the jury in which he ridiculed the alleged insanity of the prisoner as a mere dodge of the defense which was conducted by Messrs Graves & Englehart. Some sharp passages occurred between the attorneys which amused the the crowd present. Judge Graves made a very skillful and touching plea which evidently had great weight with the jury. After the pleas were made the court delivered a lengthy charge to the jury together with three prepared forms of verdict as follows: "Guilty," "not guilty" and "guilty but insane." The jury retired and at 3 a. m. brought in a sealed verdict, which when opened at the opening of court on Thursday morning read as follows: "We, the jury in the case of the state of Washington versus Henry Pressey find the defendant not guilty on account of insanity."

The jury in the case were Joseph Lannin, (foreman) L. D. Morris, T. A. Davis, F. M. Williams, D. R. McDonald, E. J. Nokes, G. W. Watson, Wm. Stevens, W. W. Burgess, P. T. Contine, G. W. Wilgus and H. D. Jory.

Council Meeting.

Council met Friday evening as per adjournment, with Mayor Fechter in the chair and Messrs. Keck, Hough, Poole, Dudley and Wilgus at the long table. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Petition for an eight-foot sidewalk on east side of Front street from B to C street was presented and referred.

A resolution was passed calling for bids for the constructing of a sidewalk on the south side of C street.

A resolution was passed confirming assessment of sidewalk improvement in districts no's. 6 and 8.

A resolution passed requiring mayor to appoint a committee of three to pass upon all supplies purchased by or for the city, and Hough, Poole and Sinclair were appointed as such committee.

The usual grist of monthly bills were read by the clerk, approved by the council and ordered paid.

Reports for May received from city marshal, police, justice and sexton and approved.

On motion of Hough it was ordered that $75 be expended in grading west side of Natches Avenue between Yakima Avenue and D street for Fourth of July exercises.

The mayor stated he had received a communication from the N. P. R. R. officials stating they would open Yakima Avenue across their right-of-way, if the city would agree to permanent closing of Chestnut and A streets, and on advice of city attorney a resolution passed binding city to said proposition. Adjourned.

Additional Personals.

Will Be a Great Day in Yakima.

The executive committee having in charge Yakima's Fourth of July celebration, held an enthusiastic meeting at the City hall on Monday evening and made good progress in the matter of arranging the details for the big day.

The committee on grounds reported in favor of holding the celebration, or at least the main portion of it, on Natches avenue between Yakima avenue and B street. The chairman stated that this was the most suitable location that could be found within the city limits. The report included the building of a speakers' and a band stand and also the information that the city officials were already surfacing the avenue in order to have the track in good condition for the races by the Fourth.

The committee on obtaining a speaker, reported that they had secured Ex-Judge Carroll B. Graves, of Ellensburg, to deliver the oration. The committee on fireworks reported that after considerable correspondence with different fireworks companies that they had obtained the best prices from the California fireworks Co. of San Francisco and that a fine assortment could be obtained for $132 plus the freight. The committee were authorized to purchase that amount.

The committee on races and sports reported that a fine program was being arranged by them for the occasion.

The committee on novelties, reported that they were in correspondence with a professional aeronaut and expected to be able to announce at the next meeting that satisfactory arrangements had been made for a balloon ascension.

The committee on transportation reported that a one-half fare had been secured for all points within 100 miles.

The executive committee then unanimously voted that no money should be paid by the treasurer, except on the order of the president. The committee then adjourned to meet at the club rooms next Tuesday evening.
