OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

ALL England just now is in mourning. Salisbury and his government have been worsted and humiliated in diplomacy by the smooth and wily Russian. John Bull has been outgeneralled by the bear, and Englishmen are angry and sullen with rage at the weak-kneed Salisbury. Even the most uncompromising Tories now rail at the unfortunate premier and taunt him with cowardice. So strong, indeed, is public opinion becoming that it looks very much as though the ministry must either reverse its course or fall. All this has been brought about by the determination of Russia, backed by Germany and France, to close the markets of China to England, and indeed to all the world save themselves. Poor old China, like a ripe pear, is ready to drop, and the allies declare that England shall have none of the fruit. England is without a friend in Europe, and her protest against the closed door in China is useless, unless she backs up her argument by force, to do which she must prepare to fight three great powers, which is appalling, even to an Englishman. No wonder the eyes of the English people are lifted toward us. She cannot hope to succeed either in diplomacy or war in dealing with such ugly customers, unless America is with her. It is possible that before the issues of the present war are settled, our government will be called upon to decide what attitude this country is to assume. If we espouse the cause of England and the open door as our interests plainly direct, it is probable that the matter will end in diplomacy, as the continental powers are not likely to defy an alliance between John Bull and Johnathan. In case our government should favor the pretensions of Russia, England would doubtless give up in disgust rather than risk defeat against such odds, and the world would be the loser. But we believe that the United States will support England, morally at least; to do less would be treason to right and justice, and to our own interest in the trade of China. In view of what has lately happened, Americans would not sit idly by in the event of war and see England destroyed by such an unnatural and ungodly alliance.

MANILA has fallen. Great is Dewey and lucky as well, for had he deferred his attack on the Spanish lines another day his hands would have been tied by the notification from his government that peace had been proclaimed. His victory won with but an insignificant loss, is none the less glorious, and Merritt's occupancy of the city will give the Americans a great advantage in the settlement of the future of the islands. It was curious, says the dispatches, in looking over the bay during the progress of the fight to see the ships of neutral nations line up according to their sympathy with the contestants. The warships of England and Japan kept close to the American squadron, while those of Germany and France lay near the Spanish fortifications. This war ends with Dewey the most prominent man in it. He has shown himself to be one of the greatest naval generals that the world has ever seen. Since his great naval battle he has acted the part of a diplomat and statesman under the most trying circumstances. Dewey is a modest, unassuming Yankee, but he is inherently great, and his fame is assured for all time to come.

THE managers of the Democratic end of the proposed fusion arrangement should bear in mind that the omission of the word Democratic from the head of the ticket this year is liable to have a controlling effect on the fate of nominees. The Democrats were forced to yield this point two years ago against their best judgment, and only consented to do so to gain support for a Democratic candidate for the presidency. No such reason exists this year, and Democrats who love their party will bitterly resent any attempt to disorganize it or cast dishonor upon it.

THE war with Spain has proved that the American of today is as good a soldier and as hard a fighter as any of his ancestors. But the war has also proved that our system of equipping an army is hopelessly defective. Now that the war is over, our government ought to go to work and reorganize the whole equipment system, from the ground up. The first move in the way of reform is to fire Alger out of the great office he fills so poorly. Such a step seems necessary before any other reform is possible.

THE alleged "Fusion organ" of this county, evidently acting under the inspiration of a certain little clique of Populist slatemakers who contral its utterances, is making a persistent and dirty fight against two members of the Board of County Commissioners. While we have neither the space nor the disposition in this article to either defend or criticise the official acts of the Commissioners, it is but fair to those gentlemen and the public, to know that the "organ's" attack was made to create a prejudice against Messrs. Stephenson and Carpenter, that would insure their defeat in convention, and insure the nomination of a couple of men picked out by the slate makers.

THE action of the Missouri Democratic convention last week was squarely in line with that of Texas on the question of territorial expansion, and is notice to the Clevelands, the Bailies and others of that ilk, that their favorite hobby of Chinese exclusion and dry rot, is antagonistic to the historic policy of the Democratic party, and contrary to the best intests of the country. It is a mighty good thing for our own Lewis that he got under cover in time and voted for the annexation of Hawaii, instead of being led astray by the sophistry of Bailey.

EVERYTHING indicates that the business men of Yakima will this year have the largest fall trade that they have known for years. With a large hop crop in sight, and fairly remunerative prices; with the largest fruit and hay crops ever known in the valley and fair prices, the average farmer feels that he will not only be able to liquidate his debts this fall, but have the necessary means to provide his family, not only with necessities, but luxuries. Yakima is all right, thank you.

THE alleged editor of the alleged "Fusion organ" persists in attacking Captain Scudder in the columns of his readerless sheet. The people of this community are growing exceedingly weary of this airing of a personal grievance, especially when the party attacked is doing his full duty towards his country. Some allowance must, of course, be made in the case of a man with a disappointed ambition.

EPIGRAM subscribers who are in arrears are cordially invited to call in and square up. A newspaper can't be run on jawbone,

MANILA SURRENDERS

It Was an Easy Victory for the American Forces.

The Capture Cost Only Five Lives and Only About Fifty Wounded—The Official Dispatch.

Dewey's official announcement of the bombardment and surrender of Manila was received at Washington on the 17th and is as follows:

"Manila, August 13.—To the Secretary of the navy: Manila surrendered to the American land and naval forces after a combined attack. A division of the squadron shelled the forts and intrenchment at Malate, on the south side of the city, driving back the enemy, our army advancing from that side at the same time.

"The city surrendered at about five o'clock, the American flag being hoisted by Lieut. Brumby. About 7000 prisoners were taken. The squadron had no casualties and none of the vessels were injured.

"On August 7, Merritt and I formally demanded the surrender of the city, which the Spanish governor-general refused. DEWEY."

Prosser Paragraphs.

Mr. Taylor, Dr. Dulin, Mr. Lape and their families have returned from a trip to the mountains.

From present indications Mr. Chisholm's new residence will be a worthy addition to west side.

Joe Ponti, whose house was destroyed by fire recently, is erecting a very pretty cottage on the burned site.

Prosser farmers have shipped a carload of watermelons a day the past week, and as yet the supply is far from being exhausted.

Theo. Wright commenced today to plaster the new church.

Messrs. George W. Anderson and John Forsyth expect to go hunting for a cooler clime.

It is said that Miss Exie Rich is the happiest young lady in town, and of course her new bike is the cause of it. DODO.

A Big Wheat Ranch.

Kelso Bros., the big wheat growers of the lower Horseheaven country, have a ranch comprising in all over 6000 acres, about 3000 acres of which is this year cropped to wheat. Their acreage was shortened by 2000 being summer fallowed. Harvesting on this mammoth farm is now going on at full speed, there being two headers, a steam thrasher and combined harvester at work constantly with thirty-five men employed. Their best yield so far this season is 18½ bushels per acre. They expect their total yield will be about 35,000 bushels. Last Saturday they sold 10,000 bushels at 52½ cents, delivered at Kiona.

A Cure For Twenty Cents.

Any remedy sold at $1 a bottle which claims to cure rheumatism is simply an imposition, for when all expenses are deducted it leaves not more than 20 cents to represent the medicine. Dr. Drummond's Lightning remedy which is performing such wonderful cures that is being prescribed by the medical faculty everywhere, is compounded at expense from rare drugs and cannot be sold for less than $5. Drummond Medicine Co., New York, Agents wanted.

WASHINGTON STATE FAIR.

As the time for opening the Fair approaches, interest almost amounting to excitement, has taken possession of the people of North Yakima on the subject of the State Fair. Hotel and restaurant keepers are preparing for the biggest rush of people that ever gathered at North Yakima. The large sums paid for concessions indicate the universal opinion that the Fair this year will bring together a large number of people.

Committees are being appointed in the different valleys of Yakima county to look after the county exhibit. Zillah precinct has taken the initiative in this line and proposes to put forth an exhibit that will show the wonderful resources of that section as they never have been before. Fruitvale has already arranged to make an exhibit and Ahtanum, Kiona, and Prosser will all make strong exhibits.

The prizes offered by different firms are coming in rapidly, and the buildings at the grounds already resemble a large general store, filled with pretty nearly everything.

The outlook for good racing is extremely gratifying. Six horses arrived Friday from Spokane. They will nearly all enter in the 2.24 class. There are now about thirty horses on the grounds in regular training.

A large number of people from a distance will camp during the week. They thus give themselves the pleasure of an outing and reap the benefit of the lectures on various topics.

President Baxter is in receipt of a letter from Billy Ayres, of Portland, who has the pool selling privilege. He is probably the best posted racehorse man in the northwest, and is interesting himself in seeing that that horses come here. In his letter he says that the prospect for the races at North Yakima exceeds by far his greatest expectations. All of the horses in the Portland circuit will be here and many others, and he feels that the meet will be the most exciting and successful yet had on the circuit. Mr. Ayres is anxious to have the special rates extended to Portland and believes that a large number of people from that city would attend the Fair. He is advertising it in that vicinity with most gratifying results.

Every day the Commission receives letters from different counties in the state, stating the intention of parties to make exhibits. Thus, a few days ago, Mr. H. Benthien, a grower of fine fruits and vegetables at Payallup, engaged a space sixteen feet square in which he proposes to exhibit vegetables, fruits, grain and grasses grown by him.

Mrs. John B. Catron, of Walla Walla, who has charge of the Floral Department, writes to the Commission that she expects to leave for North Yakima early in September to look after her work at the Fair. There is no department receiving more painstaking attention than is being bestowed upon this department. It is expected that on some afternoon of the Fair a lecture will be delivered for the ladies on the care of flowers by one of the professors of the Agricultural college.

The Commission desires to state to the fruit growers of Yakima county that specimens for the fruit jars are not now coming in very rapidly, and they hope the growers will bear this in mind and remedy the defect. The fruit should not be too ripe, as it cannot be preserved when over ripe. Let everybody who has the interest of the county at heart bring in their fine specimens. They will get credit for the same on the jars; but in addition they will be allowed to exhibit the fruit in their individual exhibits, if they wish to do so. This will be taken after the State Fair to the Spokane Fruit Fair, the Omaha Exposition and elsewhere for exhibition, and will be a great advertisement, not only for the county, but for the individual who furnishes the fruit.

The state board of control will be here during the Fair, as the September meeting has been called to meet at North Yakima on September 26. Gov. Rogers will also be here, as will Senators Turner and Wilson, Congressman Jones and Mayor Thomas Humes, of Seattle. Congressman James Hamilton Lewis had intended being here, but as he is now engaged in the military service of the United States, he will be presented from attending.

JAIL FOR STUDENTS.

QUEER PHASE OF LIFE AT HEIDELBERG UNIVERSITY.

Some of the Names Which Adorn the Prison Register and the "Crimes" For Which Their Owners Were Incarcerated. The Rules of the Place.

In England the student's body is committed to prison only by the civil authority. In Oxford, it is true, the vice chancellor deals with undergraduate naughtiness, principally in the form of debt and insubordination, for which he may impose a momentary penalty, but he does not deprive the defaulter of liberty. There is, or was, a legend that a certain apartment under the old Clarendon building was really the university "quod," but for its authenticity it is impossible to vouch.

Cambridge has its spinning house for female offenders—not lady students, but ladies who might prove a delusion and a snare to the mere male undergrad. There, if we except the irksome penalty of "gating" (confinement to college or lodgings after a stated hour), our academic efforts at incarceration may be said to end.

In Germany, however, the academic dungeon is a very stern fact. The Heidelberg "carcer" is famous. Every reader of Mark Twain will recall his entertaining description of the place and how he contrived to visit it, even unwittingly enlisting as his guide a "Herr Professor." His pretext was to see a young friend who had "got" 24 hours and had conveniently arranged the day to suit Mark—for the German student convict goes to prison on the first suitable day after conviction and sentence. If Thursday is not convenient, he tells the officer sent to hale him to jail that he will come on Friday or Saturday or Sunday, as the case may be. The officer never doubts his word, and it is never broken.

The prison is up three flights of stairs, and is approached by a "zugang" as richly decorated with the art work of convicts as the cell itself. The apartment is not roomy, but bigger than an ordinary prison cell. It has an iron grated window, a small stove, two wooden chairs, two old oak tables and a narrow wooden bedstead.

The furniture is profusely ornamented with carving, the work of languishing captives, who have placed on record their names, armorial bearings, their crimes and the dates of their imprisonment, together with quaint warnings and denunciations. Walls and ceilings are covered with portraits and legends executed in colored chalk and in soot, the prison candle forming a handy pencil. Some of the inscriptions are pathetic. One runs, "E. Glinicke, four days for being too eager a spectator of a row." If four days were meted out to a mere spectator, what, one wonders, had been the sentence of the participants? It must have been a moving spectacle.

Another record (also quoted by Mr. Clemens) has the savor of a great name to it. Of course it is the son that is meant, not the father. The legend is, "F. Graf Bismarck, 27-29. II. '74." This Mark Twain interprets as a record of two days' duration vile for Count Bismarck in 1874. Had 1874 been leap year one might have been inclined to interpret the numeral "II" as February. But the "29" makes this difficult. So perhaps the humorist is right.

A third specimen is too tragic for comment. It simply says, "R. Diergandt—for love—four days." Ungenerous successors to that sad chamber have dealt harshly with their forerunners' reputations by ingenious substitution of heinous crimes, so that certain prisoners go down to posterity as having been punished for theft and murder.

The prisoner must supply his own bedding and is subject to various charges. On entering he pays, about tenpence, and on leaving a similar sum. Every day in prison costs sixpence; fire and light sixpence extra. The jailer supplies coffee for a trifle. Meals may be ordered from outside. Every prisoner leaves his carte de visite, which is fixed with a multitude of others on the door of the cell. This queer album is glazed to protect the photographs.

Academic criminal procedure in Heidelberg is curious. If the city police apprehend a student, the captive shows his matriculation card. He is then asked for his address and set free, but will hear more of the matter, for the civil authority reports him to the university. The Oxford regulation, by the way, is in certain cases almost identical. In Heidelberg the university court try and pass sentence, the civil power taking no further concern with the offense. The trial is very often conducted in the prisoner's absence, and he, poor wight, may have forgotten all about his peccadillo until the university constable appears to conduct him to prison. But thither, seeing he may choose his day, he always repairs cheerfully.—London Sketch.

S. court at Spokane in October. Bail being fixed at $1000 and not being furnished, he was committed to the tender care of Sheriff Shaw.

Henry Jungst, aged 60 years, died in this city, Sunday, August 14, and was buried on Sunday afternoon from the family residence on South Natchez avenue. Mr. Jungst had been employed for a number of years as a baker at the Yakima Bakery, and was respected by all his acquaintance. A wife, four sons and three daughters survive him.

Frank T. Liggett has announced himself as a candidate for county clerk, subject to the decision of the Democratic county convention. Mr. Liggett is regarded by his friends as a competent and efficient man for the place. He has always been a devoted follower of his party, and has never held a salaried public position. It is generally believed that if elected, he would make a capable and satisfactory official.

O. M. Lattimer, chairman of the citizens' committee, has notified all newspapers that the Northern Pacific Railway has agreed to sell excursion tickets at one and one-fifth fare for round trip from all points within the state of Washington along their line and branches, to the Ellensburg convention which will be held on September 6.

Uncle George Remnant died suddenly at the Medical Lake asylum early Wednesday morning, as the result of diabetes, with which he had suffered for years. His remains were brought home Wednesday for burial, and the funeral was at the M. E. church at 9:30 a. m. Friday under the auspices of the local lodge of Masons, of which order Mr. Remnant had long been a faithful member.

Stephen H. Bashor, who has created so much favorable comment here by his lectures recently delivered at the Methodist and Christian churches, has consented to deliver a lecture Sunday night at Mason's opera house on the subject of "Spiritualism of the Bible, or the Endless Nature of the Soul." Mr. Bashor is an eloquent and talented orator and will doubtless have a large audience.

The wedding of John M. Curry and Miss Celestine LaBissoniere, daughter of George LaBissoniere, took place Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Catholic church, only the family and a few immediate friends being present. A reception was held after the ceremony at the residence of the bride's parents west of town, where everybody spent a pleasant evening and the happiness of the young couple was pledged at the festive board.

The Bittner Theater company played to fair sized audiences at Mason's opera house the first three nights of this week. On Monday night they presented The Parisian Princess, Tuesday night The Friends and Wednesday night Master and Man. The plays on the whole were well presented and well received. E. B. Kelly and wife (formerly of Yakima) who are members of this aggregation, and while not the stars, had leading parts and were enthusiastically received. An attractive part of the show was the moving pictures on canvass, largely of war scenes, which caught the audience. The company left for Ellensburg Wednesday night.

Michael and Henry Schreiner, the two sons of Stephen Schreiner, who with their families have for the past month been visiting relatives here, left on the overland Tuesday night for their homes in Minnesota.

Attorney Snyder returned from Soda Springs early in the week, ostensibly to look after his political fences; but the real reason is said to be the arrival at the Springs of a good looking man who displaced the disciple of Blackstone as the beau ideal of that famous summer resort.

GENERAL NEWS.

After a conference between American and Cuban leaders on the 15th inst., it was decided to disband the Cuban army and the men paid off by the United States. This will involve the expenditure of $15,000,000, but it is most important to the prosperity of the islands, as nobody would dare to cultivate his lands, while the insurgent bands are in the field, raiding and burning.

The San Francisco Post says that the $3,000,000 estate of the late Adolph Sutor is insolvent, and that unless the creditors agree to withdraw their claims for the time being, the estate will be hopelessly swamped.

D. C. Corbin, of Spokane, late president of the Spokane & Northern road, has been sued for $25,000 by Miss Jessie Laib, of Spokane on action for breach of promise.

THE SOUTHERN CROSS.

Changing Position In the Heavens of This Celebrated Constellation.

If Job were to rise from the dead and look upon the heavens, says Professor T. J. J. See in The Atlantic, he would see the constellations related to one another as of old, but he would find that the pole had shifted its position among the stars, and if an immortal could witness the grand phenomenon which the precession of the equinoxes produces in about 12,900 years he would find the heavens so altered that the former aspect could be recognized only by an understanding of the changes which had intervened.

As Humboldt justly remarks, the beautiful and celebrated constellation of the Southern Cross, never seen by the present inhabitants of Europe and visible in the United States only on our southern coast, formerly shone on the shores of the Baltic, and can again be seen in that latitude in about 18,000 years. The cross will then be visible on the shores of Hudson bay, but at present it is going rapidly southward, and in a few thousand years will be invisible even at the extreme point of Florida.

In like manner the brilliant star Canopus in the constellation Argo, situated some 37 degrees south of Sirius, is now visible in the southern portion of the United States. In about 12,000 years it will cease to rise even in Central America. From the same cause, if Ptolemy were to again look upon the heavens at Alexandria, he would be unable to recognize Alpha and Beta Centauri, which he easily saw and catalogued in the time of Hadrian. At present these magnificent stars are just visible at the pyramids, near Cairo, and in a few more thousand years they can be seen by dwellers on the Nile only in upper Egypt.

Killed Near Heppner.

The Oregonian of the 13th contained a dispatch from Heppner, Ore., giving the particulars of the shooting of Frank Cigoihenech, a Spaniard who claimed Yakima as his home. Cigoihenech had been a sheep owner on a small scale while living here, and was to be found generally in the company of the Agor brothers and other Frenchmen of this locality. Cigoihenech was a hot-headed fellow and while tending camp in the mountains about Heppner, quarreled with a herder named Puyear, who gloried in the American victory at Santiago. This aroused the anger of Cigoihenech, who began to abuse the American, and the dispute becoming more bitter, Cigoihenech finally grabbed an ax and started for Puyear and chased him about trees, swearing to kill him. Becoming alarmed, Puyear drew his revolver and shot the Spaniard twice, killing him instantly. Puyear immediately gave himself up. The coroner, on searching the dead man, found a certificate of deposit on a Yakima bank for $500.

The Spaniard's friends in this city were not surprised to hear of his dying with his boots on, for they knew his vicious temper; nevertheless, they regret his death, for little Frank possessed a big heart, and was always ready with a helping hand.

THE BEAUTY.

Hail! Now she speaks.
The roses ope their ruddy hearts to list.
The breezes cease to coax the lily bells
To sound their voiceless chime.
The nightingale is mute.

And when she smiles
'Tis like the break of day
O'er Persian valleys faint with odors sweet
Or like entrancing melody
Conjured by master hand from strings
Aglow with heavenly fire.

And when she laughs—
Ah, then, the rippling music of her mirth
Awakens sleeping joy, deep toned and full
Of love as bells enriched with gold
On Moscow's towers swung!

OLD MESA LIFE.

The Pueblo Woman Was Always the Head of the Household.

When the men went down to the fields, the pueblo was really in control of its rightful owners, the women. In these old communities the woman was the important partner in the household. She was the owner of the house and all it contained. She built it and furnished it with its utensils of daily use. The children traced descent through the mother and took her clan name. The man's position, other than mere provider, was that of an honored guest, and if he presumed disagreeably on his position more likely than not he was sent back to his own home. Far from being the general slave and pack animal that is her sister of the plains tribes, the Pueblo woman's duties were purely domestic, and if she ever worked in the field it was for the common good, to save the scanty harvest in time of need.

The grinding of the many colored corn for bread, the weaving and the making of pottery were her principal occupations, and are to this day. The Pueblo Indians are par excellence the potters of the southwest, and it will be confessed that they come fairly by the title, as an examination of some of the old time ware will prove, although in this case, as in some others, the evolution has not been for the better.

In the small house cell or in the white sunlight the potter sat, and, with scarcely any tools at all, fashioned such specimens of the potter's art as to challenge admiration from us with all our appliances. The use of the potter's wheel was unknown, and the "throwing" of a shape by this means out of the question; but with a hollow bit of basket-ware or a piece of broken pot for a support all the forms from a simple food bowl up to the largest and most elaborate water jars were built up by coil on coil of clay, smoothed or modeled in pattern as the vessel grew, and when one examines some of the ancient pieces, notably those excavated by Dr. Fewkes of the Smithsonian institution, one can but marvel.

Then came the decorating, and in every case, from the simplest to the most elaborate and intricate symbolic design, one must confess that the Indian uses the truest inceptive and fundamental art principles. There never is any waste of energy in "effect." The design always means a concrete thing, which appeals to the understanding of the Indians for whose use the utensils are. Through these same pottery forms and their decoration runs one of the strongest chains binding the old to the new. Near me are two tinajas, or water jars. One is many generations, perhaps centuries, old, the other perhaps five years, and yet in shape and general decoration they are much alike, and if the newer one was properly "toned" they would pass as of the same period.—Fernand Langren in Century.

The Latest Locals

J. A. Mabry and family are home from their outing in the mountains.

John Reed and Claude Briggs returned from Cle-Elum and Roslyn Thursday night.

Robert Evans, G. H. Shearer and W. S. Evans, of Ellensburg, were in the city Friday.

W. H. Busey, of Memphis, Mo., arrived on the belated overland Friday morning and is a guest of the Yakima.

O'Neal Bros.' sawmill, lately removed from the head of the Wenas and set up near the flour mill, started up Thursday morning.

E. M. Magee, of Buffalo, Minn. and R. A. Grant, of Fairbault, in the same state, arrived Friday morning and are guests of the Bartholet.

Secretary Gunn, of the State Fair commission returned from the Sound on Thursday night. He reports that the Sound country is manifesting a great interest in the coming State Fair.

John Byzell, of Mill Bank, South Dakota, arrived Friday morning to look at the beautiful Yakima valley with the view of finding a comfortable home. He says life is too short to spend it in a cold and desolate country like South Dakota.

J. E. Friend and Charles Weimer, of Co. E, First Washington Volunteers, arrived on Thursday night from Presidio, having been discharged on account of ill health. They left all the Yakima boys well, and very much regret that they had to come home.

Fawcett Bros., the well known implement dealers, received a fresh carload of new buggies and wagon on Friday. This popular firm have sold over 100 road vehicles this season—had such a run, in fact, that they were literally sold out; but are again in a position to supply the demand. See their ad in another column.

Wm. L. Beeks, better known about town as "Curly," an old soldier, while in the act of rushing the growler Thursday night for the painted denizens of the tenderloin district, was knocked down in the alley back of Schorn's paint shop and robbed of $74.50, which he had but lately received from the government as pension money. His two assailants have not yet been apprehended.

Tampico Tattles.

News items are scarce this week.

Hop picking has commenced. John Knox and A. D. Eglin started picking earlier on the 18th. About September 5 late hops will be ready to pick and then the floating population of Tampico will change from the easy, good natured, do-nothing campers we have had with us all summer, to the bustling, eager-to-make-a-dollar hop picker. O, we are a lively town, if we are perched on the ragged edge of nowhere.

"Camp Comfort," on the South Fork, occupied for the past month by Prof. Palmer and party, will break camp next Tuesday.

A grand rainstorm last night with plenty of thunder and lightning, was a pleasant surprise.

E. A. Shannafelt's wagon now goes on three wheels. The fourth one had the misfortune to get burned up yesterday; also a pile of lumber. The barn and crop of hay narrowly escaped going the same way.

Republican Committee Meeting.

The Central Committee of the g. o. p. met at the court house, pursuant to call, last Saturday afternoon, there being nearly a full attendance. Chairman Hare, the well known blooded horseman of the reservation presided and Attorney Guthrie acted as official scribe. After some humorous remarks from the chairman, and general felicitation on the outlook for party success (from a Republican standpoint) the meeting finally got down to business.

It was agreed that the basis of representation should be one delegate at large from each precinct and one delegate for every fifteen votes cast for H. L. Tucker, Republican candidate for sheriff in 1896, and one delegate for every major fraction thereof, which will make a convention of about 100 delegates. The county convention was set for September 10 and the primaries for September 5, between the hours of 2 and 9 o'clock, according to the pleasure of each precinct committeeman.

After finishing business in hand, the committee indulged in a short love feast, and several old warhorses of past campaigns, shook hands over the bloody chasm, and vowed eternal loyalty to each other and the ticket—which we believe is the usual thing to do just before a convention.

It Never Fails.

There are many ways of relieving the terrible suffering caused by Rheumatism. Any one of a dozen poisons will do it, but after their effect has passed the stomach is weakened and the sufferer less able to bear the pain. This is never the result when Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedies for Rheumatism are used. These remedies build up the system while destroying the disease. If your druggist has not got these remedies, the full month's treatment of two large bottles will be sent to your address on receipt of $5. Drummond Medicine Co., 84 Nassau street, New York.
