April 30, 1957

Dear Sir:

As an entrant for a Sidney Hillman Foundation Prize Award for 1956, you will be interested in knowing that on April 30, the winners of the $500 awards were announced as follows:

Walter Gellhorn for his book, Individual Freedom and Governmental Restraints;

Robert H. Spiegel, for a series of articles on segregation in Des Moines, appearing in the Des Moines Tribune;

Robert Penn Warren, for his article in Life, "Divided South Searches Its Soul;"

John Fischer, editor of Harper's Magazine, for an editorial "The Harm Good People Do."

The award winners were chosen by a panel of three judges, including Evans Clark, a member of the editorial board of The New York Times; Eric Sevareid, Washington correspondent of the Columbia Broadcasting System; and William L. Shirer, author and lecturer.

I regret that your submission could not be among the winners, but may I take this opportunity to thank you for your participation.

Sincerely yours,

Howard D. Samuel
Executive Director
