OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

THE effusions of the new editor of the Republic on the great question of trusts make quite interesting reading; not because they are the result of deep study or advance any ideas on the subject worth remembering, but for the bright little gems of satire they contain, and for which bright sayings our brilliant friend "up the alley" is said to have become famous. But, alas! our valued friend's sparkling wit is too often made to do duty in the place of reason. While, with the aid of ridicule, another powerful weapon of the Colonel's, it makes highly interesting reading for the unthinking, for the mind that is influenced only by facts, the bright little things that emanate from the editor's busy brain, are like "sweetness wasted on the desert air." There is another shortcoming in the make-up of our "valued friend in the next block" which we mention only in a spirit of kindness, and that is the air of finality with which he stamps his printed opinions. It seems to us that the Colonel is well qualified to become a typical imperialist, for the reason that he seems to hold so utterly in contempt the views of people who are not so constituted that they can see things as he does. In his diatribe the Colonel points out that the editor of this paper knows nothing about trusts. Admitted, for the sake of argument; but we must also admit that we have been unable to learn anything from him, for he has imparted nothing in the way of facts that did not already belong to the common stock of knowledge. The purpose which actuated the Colonel in rushing headlong to the defense of the odious trusts, puzzles us and we can account for his seemingly erratic course only on the ground that he conceives it to be his duty. It seems probable that in the course of human events, the political organization in which our "valued friend up the alley" is now a shining light, will soon be called upon to explain to an outraged public its responsibility for these hideous creations of republican legislation. Foreseeing all this, with his keen vision, the local moulder of public opinion in the party of Hanna and Alger has determined to take time by the forelock and get into training at once for his difficult task. He will probably soon declare that a trust is a real blessing. He has won no converts as yet, however, to his new gospel.

WE ARE in receipt of a circular letter and illustrated pamphlet from a man named Creasinger, a wealthy real estate dealer and loan broker, of Los Angeles, Cal. The pamphlet is made up of a mass of cheap rot, written not so much for the purpose of advertising that locality as to personally glorify the alleged millionaire, Mr. Creasinger. The illustrations in the book consist entirely of portraits of the wonderful Mr. Creasinger or of property of which he is the owner. In the circular letter we are again informed that the subject of this sketch is indeed a very great man, who takes pride in his wonderful achievements. In a polite way Mr. Creasinger conveys the idea that he would appreciate any puff that we would be pleased to give him and to be sure and send him a marked copy, etc. In reply to Mr. Creasinger all we have to say is that he has applied to the wrong paper for a puff. It is not our style to glorify a man who has nothing to recommend him but money, coupled with an inordinate gall and a craving for notoriety. Mr. Creasinger, who boasts of being a "self made man," is only a cheap and nasty production of latter-day commercialism. It is dollars to doughnuts that he has filched his great wealth from the pockets of the poor. He doubtless finds many people who are willing to minister to his vanity, but we will not do it. We devote so much space to him merely for the purpose of showing how money will sometimes make a fool of a man.

ALGER'S canned beef is sweet and pure and the secretary of war himself has been most cruelly maligned. As for General Miles, he is a liar and a mischief-maker. This is the gist of the report of the so-called board of inquiry which was evidently appointed for no other purpose than to whitewash and cover up the rottenness of the war department and to bring General Miles into disrepute before the country, and destroy any chance that he might have had of a presidential nomination at the hands of his party. The president of the United States has lowered himself very perceptibly in public estimation by being a party to this contemptible business—for he has signed the report and given it the weight of his approval. Had the great mass of evidence that was laid before this commission to the effect that a great deal of this spoiled meat that was fed to our brave soldiers was unfit even for dog feed, been produced before any ordinary court of justice in a criminal proceeding, somebody would have gone to the penitentiary. The findings of this board are so grossly unfair that even many of the cuckoo organs of the administration are unable to defend or condone it. Intelligent public opinion in this country is practically unanimous in the belief that a cruel wrong was perpetrated upon our soldiers during the late war, and thousands of men are determined to resent it. They have fixed the responsibility upon the incompetent and corrupt head of the war department and they will be satisfied with nothing less than his expulsion from public life. Since the president has chosen to commend and endorse every act of his subordinate, he has placed himself practically in the same category. Mr. McKinley can have no just complaint if the people decide in the next campaign to hold him responsible for the crimes of Algerism.

THE Oregonian, and administration papers generally on this coast are shrieking themselves hoarse over the alleged treason of Edward Atkinson in mailing to soldiers in the Philippines literature, calculated to influence the volunteers to demand their release from further service, on the ground that the war with Spain is long since over. Atkinson has replied that he has sent nothing outside of public documents, consisting mainly of congressional speeches, and that he notified public officials in advance of his purpose in sending them. While we question the discretion and good sense of Atkinson, under the circumstances, we regard the charge of treason made against him by the cuckoo organs as being pretty far fetched; in fact, the charge is entirely baseless. The Constitution, in explicit terms, defines what constitutes treason, and Atkinson comes far from being covered by it. If the administration for a moment seriously believed him guilty of treason or even sedition, it would undoubtedly make an example of him, in spite of the powerful aid rendered by him to the Hanna managers in the last campaign. There exists, however, no necessity for missionary work of the character attempted by Atkinson. There is incontestable evidence already furnished by the volunteers themselves that the great majority of them are opposed, for numerous reasons, to the government's policy of absorbing the islands. They are on the ground and have long since recognized the madness and injustice of the administration's scheme of conquest. They are anxious to quit the business of "nigger" killing and come home and the majority of the American people want them to do so, before an inhospitable climate kills them off.

THE attempt of the Republic to drag politics into the school question, is very liable to result injuriously to the cause it seeks to promote. Politics up to this time has cut no figure in the question and ought not to. Some of the leading populists favor the new school house and a considerable number of republicans are opposed to it and vice-versa. The sensible way out of this whole controversy, as advocated by THE DEMOCRAT, is to repair the Columbia building and build a four room frame structure in the north end to accommodate the primary grades. Five thousand dollars at the most will do these things and the voters will cheerfully grant it. The chances are that they will not sanction a larger expenditure.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, MAY 5, 1899.

Mr. McKinley doesn't like portions of the report of the Military Court of inquiry, and it is said that the court, which adjourned a week ago, will be reconvened to revise the objectionable parts of the report before it is approved by Mr. McKinley and made public. It seems that in their criticisms of certain officers, the members of the court, doubtless unintentionally, trod upon Mr. McKinley's toes.

Some of Boss Hanna's tricks in the speakership muddle are leaking out. One of them was his hint that the speaker ought to be a western man. It was thought strange at the time that he should have dropped that hint. But when it is known that several days afterward he had a private conference, in New York, with Representative Sherman, its strangeness disappears. It was a bluff to bring Sherman to his knees, and obtain pledges from him. Whether it succeeded is not certain, but there are reasons for believing that it did, and that Sherman, who was first known as Czar Reed's candidate, will be taken up by Hanna, the administration, and the trusts, and elected speaker. Friends of Hopkins, of Ills., and Henderson, of Iowa, both of whom had been led to expect administration support, are getting very suspicious. They will not talk for publication now, but if the Hanna-McKinley support is given to Sherman they will probably do some talking that will not be enjoyed either by Boss Hanna or Mr. McKinley, and they may not confine their animosity to talk. The republican majority in the next house will not be large and a few vigorous kickers can make lots of trouble for those in charge of the administration programme.

Senator Pettigrew, who has been traveling extensively since congress adjourned, is now in Washington. He said of his observation of the political situation: "Bryan will be nominated by acclamation. His nomination cannot be prevented. I spent several weeks traveling through the south and talked with people in the small towns. In every state, and especially in Louisiana and Texas, I found the sentiment for Bryan overwhelming. Members of the Board of Trade of New Orleans were not favorable to him, but out in the country districts Bryan's name was mentioned with the highest praise. In South Dakota and the Northwest there is the same feeling. I believe, too, that half of the delegation from New York will be for Bryan. You know they elect delegates by congressional districts in New York, and that will insure the expression of the sentiment of the people." The senator expressed the opinion that the populist would hold the first national convention next year, and would nominate Bryan. Speaking of the letter of the Gov. of South Dakota, asking for the discharge of the volunteers from that state, and of the Philippine policy, Senator Pettigrew said: "In his letter to President McKinley, Gov. Lee correctly represented the sentiment of the people of our state. I consider the life of one of the brave boys from South Dakota as worth more than all the Filipinos living. There is no justification for killing those people anyway. The possession of those islands is worth but little from any point of view; we can't make much out of a race whose labor is paid at the rate of 4 cents a day. Our entire policy regarding them is wrong, and though men who oppose it are denounced as traitors, I believe the time will soon come when they will be looked upon as the true patriots."

Democrats are hoping that Alger's announcement of his candidacy for the senate will have the administration endorsement. The legislature which will elect Senator McMillan's successor will not be elected until the fall of 1900, and if Alger becomes the administration candidate for the senate, it will largely increase democratic chances for carrying Michigan for the national ticket. Senator Mc Millan says he did tell Alger a year ago that he would not be a candidate for re-election, but that he is not prepared to say as much now, owing to changed circumstances. The "changed circumstances" are believed to have been brought about by McMillan's failure to secure a big diplomatic plum, which Alger made him believe was in his reach for the express purpose of getting him to declare that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the senate.

The designation by Senator Jones' previous to his departure for Europe, where he goes for his health, of Mr. J. C. Johnson, National Committee man from Kansas, to take charge of the affairs of the Democratic National Committee during the absence of Senator Jones, its chairman, and Mr. Walsh, its secretary, means that there will be no change in the policy of the committee, as Mr. Johnson has been one of Senator Jones' right hand men ever since he became chairman of the committee. It means also that there is to be no change in the chairmanship of the committee until after the candidate for President is nominated next year.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at Louis O. Janek's store. Only 50 cents and $1, every bottle guaranteed.

The North Yakima Furniture company appears to be establishing a trade that is a credit to the town. It has already made a reputation for handling good goods and is doing a fine business.

The Capture of Captain Jack.

TOPPENISH, Wash., May 5th.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—I noticed an article in the Yakima Republic of March 31st, 1899, headed thus—"Noted Indian Scouts," giving a certain Major Drannan the credit for the capture of the famous Captain Jack, of the Lava Beds. The story is not as true as it ought to be. There is always some one who wishes to be distinguished as being at the head of some great and thrilling event, and is desirous of having the glory of "being that One" who has achieved it.

It is a well known fact of history that the war with Captain Jack and his few followers did happen. The United States sent forces to capture the said Captain Jack and put a stop to his murderous ravages, but they failed to make the capture, consequently a peace commission was sent to Captain Jack under a flag of truce and a conference was had with the renegades. While having this conference it is known that Captain Jack and his aides then and there killed and wounded the commissioners. The war was then continued and on one cold morning the soldiers were surprised and nearly all killed by the Modocs. Major Drannan was in hiding under his saddle blankets, while the Warm Springs scouts commanded by a French half-breed, Donald McKay, was up and fighting like heroes without a bite to eat until late in the afternoon. The scouts saved the U. S. infantry from being annihilated by the Modocs and saved this much lauded Major Drannan's scalp from being taken. Three days after this event had happened the Warm Springs Indian scouts were on the trail of the retreating Captain Jack and his squaw and found them in a cave several miles away from the Lava Beds. The names of these hero scouts are Jim Ninishut, John Jack and Warm Spring Johnnie. These men were the principal actors in the capture of Captain Jack. The man whom the Republic eulogizes as the scout that captured Captain Jack was not in it. Neither was there such a man known to be among the aforesaid Indian scouts at the time of Captain Jack's capture.

The facts as stated can be proven by witnesses who now stand ready to back it, most of whom were direct participants in this noted Modoc war. It was the Indian scouts before named that captured Captain Jack and put an end to that war.

Geo. J. Bosdet this week filed a petition in bankruptcy, with Commissioner Taggard.

It is rumored that a compromise is liable to be effected between the city and the bondsmen of Ex-Treasurer Pressey.

E. W. R. Taylor has resumed the management of the Prosser Mill, the lease of W. H. Brownlow having expired.

The two year old child of J. A. Ptak who lives on the west edge of town died on Sunday and was buried Tuesday.

Landlord Griffith of the hotel Yakima has made a noticeable improvement in his hostelry by removing the front stairway.

Dr. Dulin this week purchased two lots on east Yakima Avenue on which he contemplates erecting a handsome residence.

New dwelling houses are looming up in nearly every part of this city. It now looks as though the present pressing need of more houses would in part at least be supplied this season.

Read the new ads in this issue of the Yakima Hardware Co. and the Schott Shoe Co. They are both old and reliable firms and make announcements in this paper that will pay you to read.

Marshal Grant captured a job lot of "Weary Willies" the first of the week and put them to work on the street. Among the rest was Oscar Spencer, the Indian who was acquitted of murder last fall.

The new Dunkard colony in the vicinity of Sunnyside have recently shipped in 40 head of thorough bred Jersey cows, which they recently purchased in Oregon. Another large shipment is expected soon.

P. Y. Heckman, the gentleman who recently purchased the two lots from T. J. Lynch on South First Street, will soon begin the erection of a store building to be built of stone and one story high. The dimensions of the structure will be 25x80 feet.

Attorneys Krutz and Bogle in behalf of their client, S. J. Sowe this week arranged a compromise with the N. P. R. R. in settlement of the long pending suit for the possession of the valuable 40-acre tract adjoining town. Mr. Lowe will receive 7½ acres including all the improvements, and the company takes the balance.

Joel Shomaker of this city has written a very fine article entitled "In the Yakima Valley" for the May issue of "The Traveler," a high class monthly publication of San Francisco. The article is well written and beautifully illustrated and reflects credit on the author as well as the great valley it describes.

Judge Lince on Sunday tied the nuptial knot securely that bound together for life, Loren L. Hayes and Miss Maud Crawford, of the Natchez. While it was the Judge's first effort in this line, he is said to have succeeded admirably and to have went through the trying ordeal without changing color or cracking a smile.

The republican county committee met in this city on Saturday afternoon. Twelve members were present, while the balance were represented by proxies. Colonel Howlett and George Vance both asked for the endorsement of the committee for state census enumerator. The former gentleman received it by a practically unanimous vote. G. S. Hough was elected secretary, in place of C. A. Anderson, resigned. W. P. Guthrie was elected a committeeman from the Third Ward of this city.

The Crestomathian literary society of the high school will give an entertainment at the opera house this (Saturday) evening. The program will be a varied and interesting one, consisting of pantomime, physical culture exercises, music, vocal and instrumental and a roaring farce of two scenes. The admission fee will be 25 cents. No reserved seats. A matinee will be given this afternoon for the benefit of the children.

This office is indebted to Mr. E. F. Benson for the loan of some valuable reports made by him of the beet sugar industry of California. These reports contain some very valuable information concerning sugar beets. We will from time to time publish the information contained therein for the benefit of the people of this county, who one and all are desirous that the sugar beet industry should be established in this valley.

A fire alarm was turned in about one o'clock on Wednesday and the department followed by a large number of people immediately responded. The fire was discovered to be on West Walnut street and was caused by the burning of a lot of manure that had been scattered over the road a few days previously. On account of a stiff breeze blowing at the time from a southwesterly direction general fear was expressed that the fire might soon spread into the business section, but the fire laddies exterminated it within a few minutes.

Axel Gustavson, the well known stockman, expects to soon make what will doubtless be the most remarkable shipment of live stock ever made to the Klondike. It will consist of 50 head of the largest oxen that have ever been seen here, the largest yoke of which is said to weigh 5700 pounds. These oxen were gathered up on the Sound last year and winter fed here. They are now in splendid condition. In addition Mr. Gustavson will ship 200 very large fine sheep which he selected from different bands here.

Some prominent gentlemen of this city are cautiously at work with the object in view of building an opera house for Yakima, during the present season. These gentlemen figure that as a business proposition six or seven thousand dollars invested in a play house here can be made to yield a fair return on the money invested. They now have under consideration several sites for the building and it is expected that a selection will soon be made. The contemplated building will be a combination of wood and iron with a large seating capacity and a well appointed stage.

Unusual interest is manifested in the school election to take place to day, which will decide whether school district no 7 will or will not authorize an additional bonded or warranted indebtedness to cover the expense of the proposed new building in the north end. Several interested taxpayers recently employed Contractor A. S. Paul to make a thorough inspection of the Columbia building and his report in effect is, that that structure is not in a wholly safe condition. He states that the building is top heavy and that the rafters are too light to support the immense weight of the roof. He estimates that the building can be put in a safe condition for an amount not to exceed $1000. On account of the interest awakened in the matter by the local press the vote at to days election promises to be a very large one. The consensus of opinion is, that the proposition for the new building will be lost.

State Fair Notes.

The State Fair Commission is arranging for a grand reunion of the heroes of Manila, during the fair week. Our boys will have returned from the Philippines before September 25th, when the state fair opens at North Yakima, and all the people will be desirous of meeting the volunteers and shaking hands with those who fought with Dewey. The commission has the matter under way and will make every effort to effect the reunion.

The State Fair Commission is making extra efforts to obtain several grand exhibits of farm products at the fair, to be held September, 25th to 30th. Large cash premiums are to be given for the largest and best display from any farm or orchard in the state. Several special prizes will be offered the winners of these fine premiums, and the successful contestants will therefore be amply rewarded for all their time and labor expended in producing such exhibits.

The farmers of Yakima county in particular should be interested in this matter, and begin now to plant the best of everything, in order that they may capture some of those valuable prizes. There is no section of the state better adapted to diversified crops than the Yakima valley. It would be an indication of slothfulness if the farmers of this valley permitted such handsome prizes as the fair people have in store to be carried away by others.

Now is the time to prepare the soil, plant the seed and get every thing in readiness for growing the winning farm products. A small tract may be set apart as an experimental plot, where corn, beans, potatoes, grains and grasses, sugar beets, and other farm crops may be grown to perfection. The plot could be fertilized with commercial productions, if the soil was not just as desired. The fair people have some nice prizes offered by dealers in fertilizers, for farm exhibits, and possibly Yakima farmers might get these premiums by using the fertilizers.

The prizes offered for the best collection of farm and orchard crops are fine inducements for combining the productions of different farms and fruit growing districts. Two or more men or firms might combine in preparing for these prizes. For instance the Sunnyside district could supply its products to other valleys and the aggregation would be a world beater. Whatever is done the farmers and fruit growers of Yakima valley should be on hand at the fair with the best and largest exhibits and walk away with the bluest ribbons and the heaviest purses.

An Advertising Justice.

Clayton, Mich., is the mecca of runaway couples from every part of the state. Thomas Fall is the justice of the peace and bids for the matrimony business in this fashion:

P. S. I always reserve the right to kiss the bride. Liberal terms. Time given if desired. Wood taken in part payment.—Baltimore Herald.

A Striking Contrast.

"The Pay Train" which was presented to a small audience at the opera house on Tuesday evening was, to use the vernacular of the street, "a rotten performance." The plot is weak and senseless and the aggregation of "barn stormers" that attempted to act the difficult parts of the piece made a sorry mess of it and the slim crowd left with a feeling of disgust.

"The Devil's Auction," however, that played to a full house on the following evening gave the people their money's worth and every body went away in good humor. The latter company while made up largely of frail femininity who did many difficult dance acts to perfection, contained besides some splendid talent that presented the leading roles in a highly pleasing manner. The parts of Andoche and Tobe were particularly good as presented by Grinnell and Loretta. The weakness of the play, however, was in the difficult parts of Count Fortuna and Carlos which should be played by strong-voiced men. A number of new specialties were introduced that caught the audience. This company carries a splendid assortment of scenery and their costumes are rich and showy. Altogether it is the best show of its kind that has occupied the boards here for many a day.

Church Notes.

The grounds selected by the Seventh Day Adventists as a location for their campmeeting, is on the Capitol Edition to the west side of North Yakima. The date is May 25th to June 4th. The meeting will be under the direction of the conference president assisted by several ministers. A 70 foot tent will be used for the preaching services. There will be special meetings for children and young people.

Services at the Christian church on Sunday conducted by the pastor Rev. Ira W. Kimmel. Morning sermon subject "Past and Future." Christian Endeavor at 6:45, at night beginning at 8 o'clock, there will be a service of sacred music. Hymns will be distributed on slips of paper and the entire congregation can join in the singing. This is a new service to which all are invited. A short address on the "Mission of Music," will be delivered by the pastor. Come and bring your friends.

Rev. Louis S. Bowerman and Mr. W. T. Elwell, both of Seattle, spoke and sang themselves into the hearts of our people at the Christian church last Tuesday night, when a rousing rally of Endeavors was held in the interests of the coming big convention in Seattle, June 22nd to 25th. Mr. Bowerman is pastor of the Seattle First Baptist church, and Mr. Elwell is a favorite basso of the Queen City. The chorus of 600 voices and the great speakers from abroad, together with the reduced rates will be the means of sending a good delegation from North Yakima.

Shiftlessness and Unfaithfulness Wreck Two Homes.

Hiram F. Rock, a well known character who has resided with his family for several years on a small tract on the school section, departed for parts unknown on Monday night's train and thereby hangs a tail.

Rock was generally credited by his neighbors and all who knew him, as being a good citizen until a couple of years ago, at which time he became fanatical on the question of religion and began to neglect his work and business. When reproached for his shiftlessness he would generally reply that he was engaged in serving the Lord and that the Lord would certainly provide. The Lord, however, as the old saying goes, "helps him who helps himself" and as Rock got too indolent to work, the Lord would do nothing for him and things went from bad to worse on the little ranch in spite of the efforts of his faithful wife to keep the traditional wolf from the door.

Things were running along in this unsatisfactory manner, when the monotony of the family life of the Rocks was broken a few months ago by a visit from a cousin of Mrs. Rock—a married woman, whose home was in Portland. This cousin, it seems is buxom and "fair to look upon" and Rock, following the scriptural example of Boaz, proceeded to fall in love with her. His wife's frail cousin, it seems, reciprocated his affection and a secret liason was soon established. The woman finally returned home this spring, but Rock, unable to restrain his mad infatuation wrote regularly to her, letters so warm that the wonder is that they did not burn holes in the mail bags. Unfortunately for the lovers, however, one of Rock's love epistles fell into the hands of the trusting husband and the air became blue from his livid rage. He forced his wife to "confess everything" and then wrote to Mrs. Rock the full particulars. This disclosure immediately brought on a casus-belli in the Rock household. Husband and wife finally agreed to disagree. Lawyers were called in and what was left of community property was soon divided and Rock moved into town, while his wife and two children remained on the ranch.

Boarding house life soon got unbearable for Rock, however, so he sold his team and silently slipped away as before stated. Some people think that he has gone to meet his fair charmer at some place agreed upon and that henceforth they will jog along through life together.

Soldiers Not Imperialists.

Fred Miller arrived in this city Tuesday afternoon from Olympia, where he was in attendance upon the supreme court. He reports having had a long interview with two members of the 13th Minnesota Regiment who were returning from the scene of conflict in the Philippines. They left there March 26th, and fighting was very vigorous at that time. About 50,000 Filipinos are under arms and the casualties are much greater than formerly on account of the enemy being trained in the use of arms.

Nearly all of the volunteer soldiers are anxious to return to the United States and are very bitter against the government for keeping them there to shoot "niggers" after the signing of the peace treaty with Spain. The rainy season will be in full blast about the 20th of the present month and after this time to keep the soldiers from dying they will all have to be taken back to Manila, besides the roads will be so muddy that it will be impossible to transport the supplies to the firing line. When asked if the volunteer soldiers were in favor of retaining the Philippines they said most decidedly not and that the only way any money could be made would be for corporations to take hold of the different industries and employ cheap native labor. They further expressed the opinion that America could not conquer them without extermination, and to accomplish this will require the sending of a great many more troops to the islands. Also that the action of the Peace Commissioners in awarding Spain $20,000,000 for something she did not own, was the subject of a great deal of unfavorable comment.

A History of Yakima and Kittitas Counties.

W. H. Lever and Capt. J. G. Milligan are here calling on the leading citizens of the town and surrounding country, to see if they would be justified in publishing a history of these two counties. They have been in the business for many years and have published thirty different works of this character. The history will be well written by a citizen of our county, read to the people before it is printed, will be handsomely illustrated, beautifully bound and in every way a book that our citizens will be interested in.

J. A. Adams, the proprietor of the New York store, was the victim of burglars on Saturday night. The thieves effected an entrance by the rear and carried off a lot of miscellaneous articles. Three suits of clothes and a silk waist were found in the alley back of the store next morning, where they were evidently dropped by the retreating thieves. No money was obtained as the cash register was empty. There is as yet no clue to the daring perpetrators of the theft.
