SCHOOLS READY FOR OPENING

Assignment of Teachers Has Been Made Only for Part of the Corps.

The public schools of the city are to open on Monday morning and those in charge of the preparations for the event are busy. Supt. Jolley says that some delay has been occasioned in cleaning up the rooms because of the impossibility of getting an adequate force of men for janitor work, the hop yards taking the help away from the city.

Supt. Jolley says that the new rooms in the old Baptist church are nearly finished for the first, second and third grades which have heretofore been in the high school building. The other buildings have been put in order as far as possible and the present week will see all the work done.

The assignment of teachers has not been finished owing to tardiness in receiving word from certain ones of the corps but the superintendent says that he will be able to make the list of assignments complete before the very last of the week. So far as completed, the list is as follows:

High School—Principal, Mrs. Ella S. Stair; assistants, L. M. Scroggs and Miss May.

Central school—Principal, A. C. Schwartz, eighth grade; Miss Bullen, seventh grade; Miss Gilman, sixth grade; Miss Patterson, fifth grade; Miss Curie Young, fourth grade; Miss Jungst, third grade; Miss Lum, second grade; Miss Larson, first grade.

Columbia school—Principal, Miss Mead, seventh grade; Miss Pierce, sixth grade; Miss Sherwood, fourth grade; Miss Ballinger, second grade; Miss Mary Young, first grade.

In high school building—Miss Shannon and Miss Hale, seventh and eighth grades; Miss McKinney, sixth grade; Mrs. Needham, second grade; Miss Moore, first grade.

After megal Liquor Sellers.

United States Deputy Marshal Ira S. Davison left on Monday evening for Spokane with four prisoners held by Commissioner Howlett on a charge of furnishing liquor to Indians. Since Mr. Davison's arrival here last week Tuesday evening he has made eight arrests on the charge of furnishing liquor to Indians, seven of the prisoners being held for the action of the grand jury, and one let go under bond. Two of the prisoners are old offenders and have been sentenced by the county authorities. Mr. Davison states that the county and city authorities have rendered him great assistance in his attempts to break up the traffic around Yakima. It is not known whether he will be returned, because of the fact that he has become pretty well known to the liquor sellers and it may be thought best to send a stranger here to carry on the work.

Chairman Horsley's Statement

Chairman Horsley of the board of county commissioners, speaking of the efforts of that body in the direction of keeping down illegal traffic in liquor in the vicinity of Zillah, Mabton, and Tappanish, made this statement: "At our last session we appointed a justice and a constable for Tappanish and a constable for Mabton. Had we known that there were no officers in the area we would have done so before. The board desires to render any assistance it can to the people down there. As regard the sale of liquor illegally from the two places, I am told that by far the greater quantity goes out from right here at Yakima, and the men were well recommended to us for licenses."

Called for October 2nd.

October 2nd has been settled upon as the day for the meeting in this city of the commercial bodies of the state for the purpose of discussing the matter of the federal irrigation plans. President Englehart of the Commercial club has received word that both Seattle and Tacoma will send representatives and Elensburg and other places have been asked to do so. The discussion is expected to be in the nature of a general plan of the work and this state started in a manner which will be satisfactory to the people of the state and also furnish suggestions to the government authorities.

Survey is Made.

O. H. Hanson, division engineer of the Northern Pacific with headquarters at Spokane, was in the city Wednesday and Thursday and completed the survey and staking of the spur which will connect the Cascade Lumber company's plant with the main line of the railroad. Mr. Hanson said that he did not know when the actual construction of the H street spur would be commenced, but he did not suppose that there would be any delay, now that the surveyor's lines had been drawn.

Dr. Hayden Returns.

Rev. Dr. F. L. Hayden of the Presbyterian church, who was granted a two weeks leave of absence by the session, returned Wednesday with his family. The vacation was quietly spent in camp on the east side of Lake Washington and the pastor returns greatly benefitted. The regular services will be observed in the Presbyterian church on Sunday.

Call on the Western Sanitary Construction Co. for estimates on steam and hot water heating. Office next to post-office. 15

I have on hand and for sale At Tappanish 150 head of broke work, pack and saddle horses. B. E. Parton.

NEW BANK OPENS ITS DOORS

An Essentially Yakima Institution Auspiciously Commences its Career.

Doors of the new Yakima Valley bank were thrown open to the public Monday morning. Interest had been centered in the commencement of the career of this, the newest of the fiscal institutions of the city, because it was distinctively the product of the valley, backed by the money of the valley and offered by stable business men of the valley. When the public was admitted the callers saw a financial concern which was Yakima all the way through, represented in its officers, in its subscribers to stock and in its field of business.

Some delay had been occasioned because of tardiness in receiving fixtures ordered weeks ago, but at the hour appointed for commencing business President Cannon was on hand to welcome the visitors and those who desired to be among the first who transacted business with the new concern. The architect who planned the changes in the well known room in the Ward block, so long familiar as a clothing saleroom, had done his work in a manner to attract the eye, and make the apartment convenient to the man of business.

While the new quarters are pleasing and elegant, there is nothing tawdry or especially showy. An air of business and business only is conveyed by the appointments. On first entrance one saw President Cannon's open office where he is to receive those who make special applications to him instead of to the cashier. To the right and occupying the space next to window is the private office of the president where consultations requiring more closed quarters are held. Following the zigzag course of the screen separating the cashier's apartment from the public reception room, the visitor first finds the teller's window, then the cashier's and finally the third and last, that of the bookkeeper.

At intervals along the sides of the room next to First street are desks for the use of the public and racks for checks and other commercial paper. To the rear and erected in the back center of the room is the vault, two feet thick of solid brick, with air interstices, and closed by an iron door. Within that vault is the safe, which is not one of common plate construction but the best that modern ingenuity, facing the inventive genius of the safe cracker, can produce. It is a small but cast metal, a combination of the best steel and manganese, an alloy which does not lose its hardness even when subjected to high degrees of heat. The ingenuity of the safe maker and the mechanical design so that the door of the safe when closed fits so closely that it is impossible to inject the finest particles of an explosive, and in the human hair placed between the door and its casing, would be cut in. This is patented both in the composition of its materials and in the device for locking. It is controlled by three time locks and two outside controllers. It cannot be blown up, and the hardness of its metal defies drilling unless the driller is working unimpeded for many hours. It is the Hibbard-Rodman-Ely patent manganese mob and burglar proof safe.

The feature of the fixtures which might be overlooked by the casual visitor is a little area. This is the space reserved for such as will have safe deposit boxes in the vault just beyond. This feature of the new bank is one which promises to be one of the most attractive to its patrons, because of the privacy it affords while a box holder is inspecting the contents of his box.

The new bank started off auspiciously and many of the prominent business men of the city and valley called to greet the officials. The officers of the bank began with the full capital stock of $75,000 paid in cash and there is every prospect for a most successful career of the bank. This is apparent in the sterling qualities of the officers, who are: President, Miles Cannon; first vice president, Arthur W. Coffin; second vice president, John S. Baker of the Fidelity Bank of Tacoma, cashier, H. Stanley Coffin. The board of directors consists of the above named officers and these men, chosen by the subscribers: Daniel G. Goodman, J. E. Shannon and Walter J. Reed. The assistant cashier is E. E. Streitz, a young man of experience in banking institutions in the East. The second assistant cashier is F. C. Hall. The stenographer is Miss Clara Waugh, for some months in the local office of the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Company.

President Cannon stated that those named are the only employees of the new institution who have been thus far decided upon. As the business of the bank grows a larger force will be necessary, but for the present no further appointments are to be made.

Coffin Bros. have for sale 100 thoroughbred Cotswold bucks. These are among the largest, choicest and best bred bucks in the state of Washington; also a few grade and thoroughbred Southdown bucks. 25-1m.

Beeks' Divorce Suit.

Summons and complaint in an action for divorce have been filed in the superior court, in which the plaintiff is Wesley W. Beeks and the defendant Eliza A. Beeks, both of whom were before the public some time ago as a result of the encounter between Beeks and "Dude" Minner. The allegations of the plaintiff refer to the defendant having made life burdensome for years, of having accused him of misdeeds and of applying insulting epithets. No reference is made to a recent occurrence. The Beeks were married in 1889 at Goldendale, have no children and have accumulated $3000 worth of property since marriage, which the plaintiff asks to be equitably divided.

YAKIMA WATER EXCELLENT

Few Cities Have so Good a Supply—Very High Grade.

Recently the people of North Yakima have had a question raised as to the purity of the city's water supply. Much talk has followed the publication of false statements and the management of the company which supplies the city with water sought to put at rest all doubt and sent two samples of the water to Charles H. Fassett of Spokane for analysis. One of the samples was taken from the reservoir and the other from a hydrant in the business section of the town. Mr. Fassett, of whose skill as a chemist there can be no question, is a member of the American Chemical society and of the American Institute of Mining Engineers. His report is as follows:

Spokane, Wash., September 10, 1902. Yakima Water, Light & Power Co. North Yakima, Wash. Gentlemen: I have made analysis of the two samples of water sent by you with results as follows:

Parts per million.	No. 1.	No. 2.
Mineral Solids.....	67.	64.
Organic Solids.....	19.	21.
Total Solids.....	86.	85.
Free Ammonia.....	0.006	0.005
Albumenoid Ammonia.....	Trace	Trace
Chlorine.....	0.80	0.82
Nitrates.....	Trace	Trace
Nitrites.....	None	None
Temporary Hardness.....	None	None
Permanent Hardness.....	32.5	31.3

Sample No. 1 was examined for deleterious minerals and metals but none were found. I find a little lime and magnesia and traces of iron. This water is very high grade. Few cities are supplied with so good water.

Respectfully submitted,
C. M. FASSETT, Analyst.

Washington Agricultural College.

The Washington Agricultural college and School of Science is an institution of which the state is justly proud. The annual catalogue, just distributed, contains many facts for the contemplation of the public, and especially that part of the population which during the past year has come into Washington. The following statements witness the scope of the institution: The total enrollment for the year closing last summer is 724. Exclusive of summer school the enrollment is 609. This does not include students in music and art who took no other work in the college. Eight states are represented, and 31 counties of this state are represented. The number of graduates is the largest in the history of the college. Degrees were conferred as follows: Master of Arts, 1; Master of Science, 1; Bachelor of Arts, 11; Bachelor of Science, 14; Graduate in Pharmacy, 11; Doctors of Veterinary Science, 2. The number of faculty members and instructors is 44, besides 6 tutors, thus making the whole number of the teaching force 50. There are ten departments of instruction, four supplemental courses, and seven schools and short courses. Entrance examinations for the year 1902-3 begin September 24th, at 9 o'clock. The regular college work begins September 25th. Persons desiring information or a catalogue will write to the Registrar, Pullman, Washington.

Work of a Sneak Thief.

A sneak thief entered the Varker house about 2 o'clock Sunday morning and made off with a watch. The man, who was in his stocking feet, entered the room occupied by Robert Standsfield, employed in the freight house of the Northern Pacific, and was making for Standsfield's trousers when the occupant of the room was awakened. Standsfield chased the man out of the building but was unable to catch him. In Standsfield's room was a suit of clothes belonging to a boarder, named Thompson, which had been left there by the thief.

S. M. Percival of Tacoma was in town yesterday.

County Commissioners Met.

The county commissioners met on Saturday and canvassed the returns of the special election in Sunnyside on the question of incorporation as a town of the fourth class and the choice of officials. Certification was made of the vote favorable to incorporation. The board also adopted the recommendation of Superintendent of Schools Dickey for the consolidation of school districts 44 and 38 to make a high school district for Sunnyside. It is the expectation to have a large building erected and the school in running order in a short time. The commissioners appointed Herbert A. Austin justice of the peace and Robert Root constable of Toppenish precinct and R. E. Rankin justice of the peace of Mabton precinct. A new school district to be known as No. 62 was established between the Moxee and White Bluffs districts.

Prosper to Have Sidewalks.

Prosper has determined that it will build itself wood sidewalks and is going to do considerable work on the streets. Attorney Snyder of this city, who is corporation counsel of Prosper, has received a plan of the town, with instructions from the council to draw ordinances, resolutions and specifications for carrying out the work on parts of the following named streets and avenues: Sherman, Sheridan, Bennett and Third avenues, and Main, Market, Sixth and Seventh streets. This means the whole of the principal section of the town and the work is to be done as soon as the formalities can be carried out. It is understood that a quality of work desired which costs $35 per hundred feet of walk.

Central New York Hops.

Reports of the number of boxes of hops picked in this vicinity compared with last year are now coming in and show a decrease. In a while a grower will find a few boxes more than half as many as last year. Many less than a quarter, is the statement of the Waterville, N. Y. Times. It has been a disappointing year as far as yield is concerned. The crop has not run over the estimates as has been the usual case. We have heard of no sales of the late crops and there are several lots of Humphry's still unsold.

Indians Disorderly.

Proprietors of hop yards state that the spirit of disorder seems to be greater among the Indians employed in hop-picking this year than ever. In the Moxee yards at night it is a frequent occurrence for the foremen to quell the disturbance with a whip. On Monday night one Indian stole another Indian's horse and made off with it and has not been heard of since. Liquor is generally supposed to be the cause of the disorder.

Memorial Service.

On last Sunday morning there was an unusually large gathering at the Naches Presbyterian church. A memorial service was held for the two daughters of Mr. Dan Sinclair, who died recently. Rev. Mr. Thompson read the following sketch:

On the eleventh day of August, 1902, at about three o'clock in the morning, Jean Grey Sinclair, in her 16th year, passed quietly away from earth, at Oakland, California.

On the eighteenth day of August, one week later, at about five o'clock in the morning, Jessie M. Carmichael Sinclair, in her 10th year, "fell asleep" in North Yakima, Washington. Jean and Jessie were sisters and the only living children of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sinclair of North Yakima.

The elder daughter had undergone, in San Francisco, where her parents had taken her, what was supposed to be a successful operation—the removal of a diseased eye. But after a few days, in the midst of seeming health and gaiety of spirits, she was taken with hemorrhage of the brain, which baffled all skill.

Jessie—"Little Jessie," as we who knew her well, lovingly called her—left at home, learned the sad news of her sister's death and after a few days required medical aid. Within twenty-four hours after the parents' return, bringing the body of the elder daughter, the spirit of this dear child—beloved little Jessie—had gone to meet the sister and her Savior, and the bodies were placed side by side in the house of mourning.

It was a sad message which announced to the many kindred and friends the death of Jean. Yet during a fortnight previous there had been fear mingled with hope as to the result of the operation. But when the large concourse of friends gathered at the residence at the appointed hour and some of them learned for the first time of the double grief, it proved indeed almost an overwhelming calamity, and all hearts bowing before God, prayed that grace and strength might be given to the stricken parents.

No chastening for the present seemeth joyous, but grievous; nevertheless it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby. Jean Sinclair was developing a strong solid character. She was a pronounced Christian girl, having united with the Naches Presbyterian church on the 30th of July, 1899. The divine life within colored and was visibly dominating all departments of her being. She was looking forward to a seminary or collegiate education and to the possible life of a Christian missionary.

She was of a cheerful, quiet disposition, genial, modest, gentle and unselfish. Possibly of the three characteristics of her young life that which stood forth most prominently was modesty—which bordered on diffidence, and was one of her chief charms.

Thoughtfulness of others, of whatever age or condition, with whom she might be brought in contact. This innate politeness to friend and stranger became a distinguishing mark. Unselfishness was a third marked trait in the nature of this dear girl; a characteristic inherited yet genuinely her own, and insured her many friends. Withal she was a child of faith and prayer. She knew the secret path to the Shepherd's tent and when the death angel called her she was found kneeling before it. In consequence of this prayerful spirit Jean was brave to stand the great ordeal and the final test. She knew her Savior's voice and went at His bidding.

Jessie Sinclair was received into the church on January 12th, 1901. She had wanted to sit at the Lord's table much earlier. Her was an intense, loving, outspoken disposition. She was a merry, happy, bustling little child, an apt scholar with a strong love for books which she eagerly devoured. She gave promise of considerable mental and executive ability. Jessie also had much of the missionary spirit. Underneath her seeming light, gay nature there was the warmth of the child which often and openly said to the parents, with her arms about them, "I love you." She read and loved her Bible.

During the absence of the elder sister, Jessie wrote several letters, cheerful and light hearted, but with an added message such as this:

"Dear Sir, I pray for you and mamma every night. I hope that Dr. V. gives you good encouragement. God keep mamma and you safe. Your loving Jessie."

Her end was peaceful. Her face as that of an angel. Her smile beautiful as if her lips had been kissed by the heavenly attendant, and so Jessie passed from our sight.

"The Lord gave, the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord." Safely, safely gathered in, Far from sorrow, far from sin, No more childish griefs or fears, No more sadness, no more tears, For the lives so young and fair, Now have passed all earthly care.

I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy and this time one dose cured me." Sold by all druggists.

It also enables us to buy closer than others, and the large volume of business handled by us enables us to handle each line on a smaller margin of profit than those whose trade is not so far reaching; therefore we feel justified in saying, and think we can say without truthful contradiction, that we give more value for the money than can be had elsewhere. It is not our aim to sell cheap goods, but to have each article of quality consistent with the duty to be performed and get the price as low as possible and leave us a reasonable margin for doing business.

BROTHER PREBLE is the meekest lamb that ever went to the sacrifice.

THE unlucky 13th was probably as good a date for the democratic convention as any other.

THE democrats contributed everything in their power to the election of A. L. Dilley when they nominated R. A. Grant for sheriff.

THE man who next to Gov. McBride has done the most effective work in the campaign for the railroad commission plank is Ex-Gov. John H. McGraw.

IT is said that Henry Allen ran for treasurer because he didn't have anything else to do. That was a poor excuse when there were so many hops to pick.

THE hop picking season this year is much shorter than usual. Nearly all of the big yards will be harvested by the end of the month. The crop will be short.

THE Herald thinks that North Yakima is not the Columbia valley. Our contemporary probably also thinks that poetic license is something to be granted by the city council.

THE people know where the republican legislative candidates stand on the subject of county division. Now they want to know how the democratic nominees feel on the subject.

THE Hon. H. J. Snively had little to do with the work of the democratic convention. Mr. Snively is a back number. Control of the party has passed from his hands into those of John David Medill. The law firm of Snyder & Preble helps some, but the real boss is John David.

THERE'S one good thing about Jack Splawn. He never gets discouraged. He's no quitter. If he doesn't land in the legislature this time he will try again. Jack is a true democrat, and running for office has no terrors for him.

SPEAKER David B. Henderson last Tuesday withdrew from the race for congress in his district. He gave as a reason that his views on the trust question were not in accord with those of many of the Iowa republicans.

THE three ringed business is a thing of the past. The big show has been consolidated and is now a 1 under one tent and one management. The silver republican and populist features have been cut out. They were behind the times. Vestal Snyder is now a democrat and H. J. Jory is a socialist.

THE analysis of two samples of water taken from the mains in this city, and the word of the leading analytical chemist on the Pacific coast to the effect that few cities have better water than the samples tested, ought to settle the question raised about the purity of the North Yakima water supply. We trust that the Seattle Times will now have the fairness to print the truth about this matter.

YAKIMA farmers should take an interest in the fair. There are few of them who can not, if they choose, bring in an exhibit of some kind. If they would do this, they would do much for the advertisement of the valley. Visitors who come to the fair and find no Yakima exhibits to speak of are apt to go away thinking that the stories about the development of the agricultural industry here are to be taken with a grain of salt.

THE democratic state convention nominated George F. Cotterill, C. R. Holcomb and S. E. Barron for congressmen. After Barron's nomination he made a speech which made the convention tired, and he was pulled off the ticket, and Frank B. Cole was nominated. J. B. Reavis was named for supreme judge. The platform declares for a railroad commission, to be appointed by the governor, and afterwards to be chosen in such a manner as the legislature shall direct. W. A. Cox of this city was made state committeeman for Yakima county.

THE Herald said some weeks ago that in this campaign it would be independent. It felt that it had a call to be the people's friend and protector, and so it was going to pick out a ticket after the assembled wisdom of the two parties had taken a whirl at the proposition, and use its valuable influence for the election of that ticket. We note that the Herald says this week that the democratic ticket is good enough for it. We had no idea our esteemed contemporary would say anything else. It's always a very pretty play for a newspaper to get out and declare itself in advance of the conventions, but it takes a good supply of nerve to bolt a ticket. The Herald has been a democratic organ from time immemorial, and unless it is prepared to lose a large part of its subscription list it can't very well be anything else.

GREAT losses have been caused on the other side of the mountains in the last ten days by forest fires.

NEW YORK this week swung into line for the president, and his nomination in 1904 is now practically assured.

THE REPUBLIC's recommendation of Ira P. Englehart for senator some weeks ago has been handsomely endorsed by the Washingtonian.

McBRIDE, Preston and Cushman are the new leaders of the republican party in this state, says the Spokesman-Review. It wasn't necessary to mention either of the last two gentlemen in this connection.

THE renomination of Jones and Cushman was due primarily to the overwhelming popularity of the former among the delegates to the convention. It is doubtful if any man has ever had the firm hold upon the respect and esteem of the people of this state which Wesley L. Jones now has.

THE main question before the people of Washington in this campaign is not whether Jones, Cushman, Humphrey and Hadley shall be elected. It is whether Turner shall go back to the United States senate—Turner who bought his way into the senate six years ago and who has never in that time failed to misrepresent the people of his state on any important national question. The fight will be for the legislature.

DR. DULIN, the democratic nominee for coroner, has been unjustly accused by some people of lacking the sense of humor. As a matter of fact, he is a regular Bill Nye. He said in his speech accepting the nomination Saturday that if the democrats would furnish him the corpse in November he would guarantee to sit upon it with neatness and dispatch. The doc would crack jokes if he were officiating as the corpse himself, which, by the way, is an excellent reason for his nomination.

WHATEVER may be said for or against a railroad commission, it ought to be clearly clear to the ordinary mind that the people should be allowed to devise such machinery as they desire for the regulation of rates and the assessment and collection of taxes on railroad property. The fact that the corporation attorneys and the railroad lobby are so strenuously opposed to a commission is certainly no argument against permitting the people to exercise their right to protect themselves.

THE adoption of an appointive commission plank in the republican platform was the most notable victory ever won in a state convention of Washington by any man. Gov. McBride is to be congratulated upon his triumph. He went up against tremendous odds, and won only with a just cause. He overthrew the combined forces of the railroads and the old line politicians who have dominated the republican party for years. It should be a source of satisfaction to republicans of this county that the solid vote of the delegation they sent to Tacoma was every time cast for the governor, and that the stand which this delegation took decided the issue.

THE democratic platform of this county condemns Congressman Jones for not voting for Senator Turner's bill to prohibit sheep from grazing in the Raintier forest reserve. Condemnation is a matter of form and habit with a democratic convention, and in this case it has no other excuse. Senator Turner's bill above referred to has not reached a vote in the senate, nor has it been sent to the house, so that Mr. Jones could not have voted for it if he had desired. The bill was introduced by Senator Turner just before the close of the session, and that it was introduced merely for campaign purposes is shown by the fact that he sent his secretary down here months before to secure information on the grazing question, and might have offered his bill in time to secure a vote on it if he had desired. The senator is no more anxious in this matter to look out for the interests of Yakima farmers than he was in the matter of the oleomargarine bill.

THE Oregonian is considerably worked up because the republican state platform ignores the subject of Cuban reciprocity. In fairness there is not much ground for the Oregonian's complaint; but there is some. In our opinion the platform, which indorses the president's foreign and domestic policy, and pledges the congressional delegation to the support thereof, binds the congressmen from this state to assist President Roosevelt hereafter to establish his Cuban policy. In the last session they voted against the Payne bill, which, though it was not satisfactory to the president, was urged by him. The excuses for the failure of the convention to adopt a more specific declaration on this point are several. Another, and an absorbing question was before the convention. In the settlement of the railroad commission question, not only were important national questions lost sight of, but candidates for congress were made and unmade. By the time the committee on resolutions had the platform drafted, Cushman's nomination had been fixed, as a result of his combination with the governor's forces. A specific indorsement of Cuban reciprocity was then taken from the draft of the platform, not because the committee favored it, but because Cushman considered it a slap at him. Cushman's remonstrance was to the point. There was no sense in making a platform to embarrass a candidate whose nomination was certain. The committee therefore contented itself with a declaration for the future guidance of congressmen, from this state.

THE REPUBLIC this week addressed to Hon. A. J. Splawn, Hon. J. F. Hedger and Hon. H. M. Gilbert, democratic nominees for the legislature, the following request for information:

"The REPUBLIC would be pleased to have from you, at your earliest convenience, for publication, an expression of your views on the subject of the proposed division of Yakima county. If you should be elected would you vote for a bill to divide the county if the opportunity presented itself? Would you vote against the bill?"

When replies are received from these gentlemen they will be printed.

The Republican Platform.

We, the Republican party of the state of Washington, in convention assembled, adopt the following platform:

In common with the good people of all the earth, we mourn the untimely death of our great leader and president, William McKinley. His character, his achievements and his fame belong to no party, to no state and to no country. They are the common heritage of all humanity, and will ever rest as a sacred benediction upon the civilized world. His work failed not at his death, for his mantle fell upon the shoulders of one who is wise, fearless and able to follow in the pathway of national policy laid down by him.

We congratulate the people upon the unexampled prosperity of this nation. History has proven the wisdom and soundness of the principles contained in the St. Louis and Philadelphia platform, and we hereby reaffirm the same.

We indorse the wise, able and patriotic administration of state affairs by Gov. McBride.

We are unqualifiedly in favor of the retention of the Philippine Islands, and encourage the development of our present growing trade with the Orient.

We favor the admission of those territories now seeking admission into the Union when they shall have become as populous as was the state of Washington when admitted.

We indorse the foreign and domestic policies of President Roosevelt, and pledge our congressional delegation to the hearty support thereof.

We especially commend the attitude of the president toward trusts.

We are heartily in favor of the policy of President Roosevelt in regard to the reclamation of arid lands; and our delegation in congress is instructed to use its efforts in securing the establishment of reservoirs in this state.

We indorse the course of Senator Addison G. Foster and Congressmen Wesley L. Jones and Francis W. Cushman.

We favor a law providing for the proper safeguarding of all machinery, places and appliances, in mills, factories or other work-shops of this state, where the character of such dangerous machinery, places or appliances will so permit, with adequate penalties for the violation of such laws. And such other and additional legislation as may be necessary to carry out and enforce the principles here involved.

We also favor an eight-hour labor law on state and federal work, except in cases of emergency.

We favor practical legislation for the improvement of public roads of the state, and the advancement of the good roads movement.

We are in favor of the passage by the next legislature of an anti-pass bill in compliance with the provisions of our state constitution. We pledge an economical administration of state and county affairs.

We are in favor of the passage of a bill by the next legislature establishing a railroad commission to consist of three members to be appointed by the governor, no more than two to be taken from the dominant political party, said commission to be clothed with power to regulate freight and passenger rates, to determine the value of railroad property for purposes of assessment and taxation, to prevent unjust discriminations, and to inquire into and remedy such abuses as may be found to exist.

DEMOCRATS NAME A TICKET

Only a few Nominations were Contested in the Convention.

The democratic county convention developed nothing very sensational last Saturday, but one or two ripples were seen on the surface when some well known member of the party declined a nomination or an election to the state delegation. It was a harmonious convention and the few contests put up were not of a character to produce much excitement.

Promptly after the train had arrived from the east and the belated delegates from down the river were in their places, W. A. Cox called the convention to order. Some one proposed Col. John David Medill for temporary chairman and he was elected without any contest. Then James R. Coe, also of the third ward, was made temporary secretary.

Committees were then appointed as follows, and adjournment was taken until 2 p. m.: On platform—E. B. Preble, J. M. Baxter, M. V. Cochran, W. T. Jones and W. H. Brownlow; on credentials—W. A. Cox, Dr. C. T. Dulin, J. C. Liggett, Cliff Cleman and John Rodman, on order of business—A. F. Snelling, Richard Strobach, E. W. R. Taylor, J. F. Hedger and William Hitchcock.

On reconvening it was suggested that Harry Garrett be made sergeant at arms, and the first ripple came when he shouted, "I refuse to accept." No one was appointed in his place. The report of the committee on order of business was in favor of making the temporary officers of the convention permanent and adding an additional secretary. The report was adopted and W. A. Cox was called to assist Mr. Coe. The platform was then read by Mr. Preble.

The platform adopted by the Yakima county democratic convention demands the election of senators by vote of the people; adoption of the initiative and referendum schemes; destruction of trusts by putting commodities controlled by them on the free list; government ownership of natural monopolies; regulation of railroad rates by a commission.

It condemns "the course of the former representative in the legislature from this county, and present republican candidate for state senator for voting against a reduction of railroad rates in pursuance of a bargain between him and the railroad lobbyists;" condemns illegal fencing of public lands; opposes leasing of forest reserves for sheep grazing and favors exclusion of sheep from the reserves; favors a law to prevent irrigation companies from discriminating against any person; commends Senator Turner, and deprecates the fact that Congressman Jones did not favor the senator's bill to exclude sheep from the reserve. It deprecates the death of Gov. Rogers.

The committee on credentials reported that 118 were entitled to sit in the convention. Then nominations were called for.

Dr. Dulin made a short speech nominating A. J. Splawn of the Cowichee for state senator. There was seconds from all parts of the house. H. J. Suively, from his seat near the chairman's desk moved the suspension of rules and the nomination of Mr. Splawn by acclamation. The motion was carried with a whoop and Mr. Splawn was called for. He spoke to the convention, saying that he was glad he stood so well with the community, and if elected he would represent the common people and that the platform was broad enough for any man to stand upon.

Felicitations were being extended to Mr. Splawn by those near him at the rear of the chamber when Vestal Snyder arose and nominated Dr. J. F. Hedger of Kiona. J. A. Orchard of Zillah named H. M. Gilbert of Nob Hill. Both were chosen candidates for the house of representatives.

One more nomination was made which attracted the interest of the spectators. Delegate Preble named Ronald A. Grant for sheriff. J. J. Miller of Wenatchee named I. B. Taylor of the Wenatchee. Balloting showed that Grant had made all the running.

Auditor was next on the list of items to come before the convention. When H. J. Suively nominated George Anderson of Sunnyside for the office, the Sunnyside man explained that he would not "take the office if elected." Richard Strobach named A. F. Snelling and A. J. Pitner seconded the nomination. Mr. Snelling received the nomination and accepted.

The remainder of the nominations were as follows: Treasurer, H. H. Allen; clerk, Walter J. Purdin; assessor, J. A. Orchard; prosecuting attorney, E. B. Preble; school superintendent, F. H. Plumb; coronor, Dr. C. T. Dulin; surveyor, M. S. Liggett; county commissioner, first district, Van D. Ritter of Wenatchee, second district, W. B. Matthews, Prosser.

The only contest came on the nominations for commissioner. From the first district J. F. Kaufman of Naches received 25 votes, Van D. Ritter of the Wenatchee 60, John J. Backer of Selah 25 and J. L. Miller of the Wenatchee 7 votes. Ritter was declared nominated. For commissioner from the third district J. E. Timmerman of Kenewick received 40 votes and W. B. Matthews of Prosser 80.

Members of the county central committee were then chosen as follows: Ahtanum, E. B. Marks; Bedrock, Samuel E. White; Cowichee, Paul Luwe; Fairview, John Sandmeyer; Fruitvale, Frank Garrett; Kennewick, Frank Emigh; North Yakima, first ward, T. G. Redfield; North Yakima, second ward, W. A. Cox; North Yakima, third ward, J. C. Liggett; Parker, John Goodwin; Prosser, H. W. Cresson; Rattlesnake, M. V. Cochran; Selah, H. J. Taylor; Kiona, John Palmer; Mabton, Frank Horton; Moxee, John Rodman; Naches, J. R. Kaufman; Nite, Scott Stevens; Nob Hill, George Stephenson; Sunnyside, William Hitchcock; Tappico, Isidore Mondor; Toppenish, James L. Banks; Wenatchee, David Longmire; Yakima City, Charles Campbell; Zillah, W. F. Brown.

S. H. Mason and G. H. Moulton were named for justices of the peace for this city and the precinct delegations were empowered to name the candidates for the precinct officers.

Then came the selection of delegates to the state convention and the situation developed many declarations of the honor of going to Tacoma on the 16th. Those chosen were: I. N. McCort, Thomas Lund, W. A. Cox, A. J. Splawn, Horatio Crosso, J. D. Morissey, H. J. Suively, Vestal Snyder, A. E. Howard, J. D. Medill, A. G. McNeil, G. W. Anderson, T. D. Quinn and John McPhee. Those who declined were: David Longmire, A. J. Shaw, Joseph Baxter, E. B. Marks, E. B. Preble, E. B. Green, Sterling P. Vivian, A. E. Larson, H. D. Winchester, Richard Strobach, H. H. Allen and John Mechtel.

The convention adjourned and the democrats went out to talk the matter over, and some of the nominees received hearty congratulations and extravagant prophecies.

FAIR WEEK DRAWING NEAR

County Exhibit Assured from Kittitas—Band Tournament Entries.

Odd Fellows' day at the fair this year will be one of the most interesting of them all. The occasion for setting apart one day for this fraternal organization is on account of the dedication of the new I. O. O. F. building in this city. The event will be one of the most important ever held in this place. The program is announced elsewhere in this issue.

In the band contest to be pulled off there are already four entries, namely, Prosser, Ellensburg, Roslyn and Kent. Yakima will not enter the contest, but will see that the visiting bands are properly cared for. It is likely some other bands will come in to contest for the $200 prize money offered. Ritzville, Sprague, Walla Walla and Wenatchee have been written to by Frank Lanterman, secretary of the Yakima band, and asked to take part in the contest.

William T. Gutman, circulation agent of the P.-I., was here on Tuesday and made arrangements to give away a $150 studebaker buggy from the booth occupied by that paper on the grounds. The plan is to give every subscriber to the weekly P.-I. a number entitling him to a chance on the buggy. The men who have charge of the drawing are Edward Whitson, O. A. Fichter and George Donald.

S. W. Maxey, fruit inspector of Kittitas county, was here on Tuesday to see the secretary of the fair board relative to making an exhibit from that county. He secured the necessary space for a county display and returned home to begin work on it. He stated that the Kittitas people requested him to come down this year and show the Yakima people that they, too, can raise fruit and other farm products. He will accordingly have on display apples, peaches, hay, vegetables and many other products of the farm.

Saturday's Tax Sales.

There was no unusual feature connected with the sale of land on which there were arrears of taxes by the county treasurer last Saturday. Over 450 parcels were placed before the public because of $11.48 of back taxes. The bidding was quite spirited, especially on such parcels as are located in North Yakima. By action of the county commissioners, the lots in the so-called disputed tract were withdrawn and time given to the owners to pay up on or before October 11, and if payment is not made the property is to be posted. The same was true of Eschel-man's addition and Yakima City property.

The actual amount of cash taken in at the sale was $4,058.61.

Prizes for Yakima Stock.

Among the prizes won at the Everett fair were the following awards to the Springville farm, A. J. Solawn, owner: Best Hereford bull, first; best Hereford cow, first; best Polled Angus bull, first; best Polled Angus cow, first; best heifer calf, one year old, first.

Dr. E. P. Heliker, physician and surgeon, Clogg Bldg. Calls in city or country promptly answered. 13

ODD FELLOWS' EXERCISES

Arrangements for the Special Dedication Day in Fair Week.

Dr. Philip Frank, chairman of the committee of arrangements for the special Odd Fellows' day during fair week announces the program for the day so far as local Odd Fellowship is concerned, the arrangements for the gathering at the fair grounds being entirely in the hands of the fair commissioners. Said Dr. Frank:

"We have completed one of the finest Odd Fellows' buildings in the state at North Yakima. Arrangements have been completed for a grand meeting on October 2, during the week of the state fair, when the temple will be dedicated. It is a brick structure, two stories in height and will be used for mercantile purposes and a fraternal hall. The lower rooms have been leased for a department store, the term of the lease being ten years. A special excursion will be run over the Northern Pacific from Tacoma and Seattle at a low rate. The trains will arrive here shortly after noon and the afternoon will be spent by the excursionists at the fair grounds."

Regarding the special dedicatory exercises at the building, it may be said that the ritualistic service of the order will prevail, Grand Master G. C. Taylor of Orting in charge, assisted by Deputy Grand Master R. M. Taylor of Spokane and Grand Warden Le F. A. Shaw of Walla Walla and other officers of the grand lodge.

The orator will be Hon. Wallace Mount, chief justice of the supreme court of the state. A varied program of music is being prepared and a grand ball is to be given at the armory.

Among those of North Yakima who will be prominent at the exercises are the "fathers of the movement" for the temple, J. P. McCafferty, Dr. P. Frank and Nicholas Hartung.

Fred Pennington, president of the Cascade Lumber Co. of North Yakima left yesterday with a crew to clean out the Teanaway river preparatory to running their logs down to Yakima. A. B. Morrison went down to North Yakima last Thursday to look after an orchard he owns near that place.—CleElum Echo.
