Dr. Francis Haines,
Oregon College of Education,
Monmouth, Oregon.

Dear Francis:

I know you're swamped at this stage of the game. I am also virtually snowed under, but not too much that I cannot write to tell you I obtained your The Nez Perces today. Looks like the Press did a good job. I'm confident the writing is better, and will take time off within a week to read it.

Am developing a following here even in a region where the Nez Perce have to be a little better than ordinary to gain one.

I'll get you to properly inscribe my book at one of our meetings, but if you have the chance, drop me a slip (2) in fact for the following:

Miss S.I. Anthon

H. Dean Guie

(it could be noted who are keen followers of the history of the American Red Man)

Both have acquired The Nez Perce. I'm providing a supplemental mailing list for the upcoming Shield's Book Store at Pasco and Richland who do a top job in pushing a good book.

With the best of luck on this one, and the hope that your already pretentious list will be increased, and with regards to Mrs.

Haines
