OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

CERTAIN republican papers in the contemptible effort to make party capital continue to assert that the "yellow" journals, meaning thereby the Hearst papers, are morally responsible for the murder of the late president. Now this paper is no defender of yellowism. It has seemed to us that the N. Y. Journal and the San Francisco Examiner have frequently carried their criticism of the late administration entirely too far. There is reason in all things and ridicule carried to an unreasonable extent usually reacts and is more damaging to those who employ it than to the persons at whom it is aimed. Newspaper ridicule, however, when properly directed, frequently has a good effect and brings men to book when all other means have failed. There is no good ground for the charge that the yellow papers had anything to do with influencing Czolgosz to commit his terrible crime or have aided in any way the propaganda of anarchy. Indeed, if anarchy and opposition generally to a representative form of government has grown to dangerous proportions in this country it is due to other causes than the existence of yellow journalism. J. Pierpont Morgan and other trust makers are without doubt doing vastly more to bring our present form of government into contempt with certain classes than all the printing presses within the United States, whether they print yellow journals or not. Ask any man who is clamoring either for radical changes in our government or for its abolition entirely, to state his principal grievance and see if he don't point to the trusts and the aristocracy of wealth? The socialist will reply that the representative system is too weak to deal with the problem, therefore the necessity of a strong central government that will be able to control the trusts, because of the fact that it would own them. The anarchist would contend that government of any kind is merely a device of the rich, by which means they fleece the poor, and that as a matter of fact government is not a necessity at all. Both of these are extreme views, though diametrically opposed to each other. No considerable body of men are apt to subscribe to a new political creed without believing that prevailing conditions justify them in doing so. That is why the trusts are breeding discontent in this country, just as a cesspool can be depended upon to breed fever. And who, pray, is responsible for the trusts if not the republican party? The paternal policy of that party enacted into class legislation is what has produced the trust octopus and it is idle for any republican paper to attempt to deny it. Then why do they presume to shift the responsibility for present conditions upon the yellow papers and hope to escape it themselves? They cannot in reason expect to do this, for the truth is mighty and will prevail. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

THE republican party of this state, or rather its leaders, comprise a most unhappy family. The itch for office or political preferment of some kind or other, is so strong among them that they apparently all lay awake nights scheming how best to promote their own interests and at the same time "queer" some rival who is in their way. Messrs. Wilson and Ankeny, the two principal leaders, maintain, or at any rate have secured the undivided support of certain newspapers in the state, the principal object in view on both sides appearing to be to make the other fellow's candidacy for the senate look ridiculous and absurd. The partisans of the former are constantly intimating that the Walla Walla man has no valid claim to the place and would never be seriously considered were it not for his vast pile of money, a lavish use of which he makes to attain his ends. They further charge that Ankeny, or rather his following in the last legislature, sold out to the railroads in order to form an alliance that would tend to materially improve the prospects of their chief. The Wilson organs, notably the Tacoma Ledger, have recently made the charge that Ankeny had formed an alliance with Gov. Rogers and presents a plausible reading story to confirm it. There is nothing substantial, however, in the way of facts given to prove it, and the home organ of Ankeny denounces it as simply a yellow journal lie. The Ankeny papers while denying in general the charges against their candidate, assert that the people have now twice repudiated Wilson and that he ought now to consider himself a back number and probably would were it not for his intense egotism. They maintain that he is a man without a legitimate calling and that he is simply a politician who has never shown ability as a statesman, although his opportunities have been great. They assert too, that his policy is rule or ruin and that he relentlessly pursues every member of the party who refuses to bow the knee, a condition of things that clearly invites disaster. Thus the campaign of calumny and abuse goes merrily on. We don't know, of course, how much truth there really is in what the factions are saying each about the other, but it is likely that there is a good deal; so much in fact that a majority of the people are apt to conclude that neither candidate is a fit person to represent them properly in that august assembly, the senate of the United States.

THIS business of abducting American missionaries and holding them for ransom may develop into quite an industry now since the experiment in Miss Stone's case has proved so profitable. A good many foreign peoples do not take kindly to our missionary zeal in their behalf anyway and it is possible that the Bulgarians had this in mind when they named an amount for the return of Miss Stone equal to a king's ransom.

THE management of this paper is always pleased to receive information that can be treated as news for our local and personal columns. In case our friends do not personally see a representative of the DEMOCRAT, send the item by mail. When you or your friends arrive or depart or do anything out of the ordinary and you fail to see it mentioned, don't get mad and swear that you will stop your paper. Just remember that a newspaper man has to find out the most of what he knows by asking questions and that he may not have time to ask everybody. Therefore, don't be bashful about giving us news items, for items are what we are constantly hankering after. There is another thing to remember too, and that is if you really don't want your own name in print it is not well to be too emphatic about saying so, as it is a pretty well established rule among newspapers that it is usually a safe proposition to publish the full bill of particulars about the man who says he don't want his name in the paper.

IT seems like a peculiar travesty on justice that after doing the splendid work that he did for the honor and glory of his country that Admiral Schley should like a man charged with crime, be compelled to undergo a searching and exhaustive trial in order to defend his good name and record from infamy. As foreign papers broadly hint, there must be a rotten condition of affairs in our navy department when a trial under such conditions is made necessary. If Schley comes out of this investigation with a clean skin, as he doubtless will, there ought to be a general shaking up of dry bones in the department. Secretary Long, himself, ought not to be allowed to escape his full measure of responsibility. In fact if Schley's record is cleared of the odious charges made against it the people will be satisfied with nothing less than the official head of the man from Massachusetts.

SEVERAL causes are operating that will have a tendency to materially increase immigration to this valley from the eastern states during the next few months. The principal thing that will help us to secure a desirable class of new settlers is the splendid showing that the Yakima farmers are able to make, not only for this season, but for several years back. This showing together with the fact that agriculturalists generally have had a very poor year in many of the older states is going to bring people hither by the hundreds to share in our prosperity. Get ready for the rush.

NO better evidence can be offered to show the wonderful increase of population in this county than the condition of things that exist in the public schools. Not only has it been necessary in many cases to enlarge the capacity of school houses to accommodate the increased number of pupils, but a number of new districts have had to be created.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Died, October 12, Blanche Martin, aged three years and two months.

Charlie Shaw, a lad of 14, fell from a bicycle Monday and sustained a severe fracture of the wrist.

The case against the pickpocket, who was arrested for robbing John McAllister, was dismissed Monday on motion of the prosecuting attorney.

Justice Taggard on Monday tied the nuptial knot for Frank S. Cooper and Miss Pearl A. Philips and on Tuesday for Ernest Filters and Miss Alpha Jones.

W. H. Hatfield returned Wednesday from CleElum, where he has been engaged in constructing a large stone business building for P. Y. Heckman, of this city.

H. H. Allen is converting the second floor of his brick block into living rooms and the different lodges that have for years occupied that hall now have to look elsewhere for quarters.

Theater goers were much disappointed when Stuart Robson and his company failed to appear Saturday evening. The company was delayed at Missoula, Montana, by a wreck, and were forced to omit this town in order to keep their engagements on the Sound.

D. E. Lesh left Tuesday night on his annual pilgrimage to Washington and New York in the interest of the Moxee company. On his way he intended stopping to visit his aged mother, who resides in Hardin county, Iowa. Mr. Lesh will return about Nov. 15th.

Perhaps the neatest and most up-to-date photograph gallery in North Yakima is that owned and conducted by E. E. James. Mr. James is an artist in every sense of the word as all his work plainly indicates. His exhibit at the state fair was superior to anything on the grounds. If wanting photo work try James.—Sunnyside Sun.

The Indians have been having a hi yu time at Toppenish since the close of the Fair. Last Sunday in the neighborhood of 2000 are said to have gathered there and held an old time festival. Horse racing as usual was the principal amusement of the day. Several bootleggers were caught peddling fire water by Deputy Marshal Dille and his men, and were taken into custody.

A horse driven by Bert Murchie became frightened in front of the Clogg building Tuesday and successfully performed a very difficult feat. He leaped over the runninggears of a wagon that stood in the street, and with but little damage to the buggy behind him. The driver was thrown out, but beyond a few scratches received no injury. The horse was caught on Front street by Officer Wilhite.

Rev. H. P. James, of Colfax, delivered a very powerful sermon at the Congregational church Sunday last and it is said that the congregation was so favorably impressed that a call to occupy its vacant pulpit will be proffered. Rev. F. P. Jackson, who recently resigned the pastorate of this church on account of ill health, expects to leave next week with his family for western Montana, where he will engage in the stock business.

The spud market is decidedly off this week and local quotations reached as low as $14. The cause of the slump is said to be due to the fact that just now at digging time the eastern market is pretty well supplied. Even the buyers admit, however, that prices are likely to soar upward again due to the marked shortage of the crop throughout the country. In anticipation of a rise a good many growers are making preparations to carry over a portion of the crop.

The streets of this town are now comparatively quiet in the evenings, the fakers and showmen who stayed on after the Fair, having all departed. The moving picture men reaped quite a harvest of shekels Saturday and Sunday nights when they offered President McKinley's funeral as an attraction. "The man who catches the cannon ball red hot from the gun" and the merry-go-round have been the only attractions this week.

Deputy Sheriff Sindall finally succeeded Monday in getting Gov. Rogers to make a formal request on Gov. Hunt, of Idaho, for the extradition of the man Bunce who is under arrest at Lewiston. Bunce is wanted here for flimflamming Ole Sandberg, an avenue saloon keeper, out of $250 during Fair week. Mr. Sindall left Olymnia Tuesday night armed with the necessary papers. There is sure to be a good deal of expense connected with the case, although the cost of extradition must be borne by the state.

The Brune company which played "Theodora" at Larson's theatre Tuesday evening drew only a fair sized audience. Mrs. Minnie Tittle Brune, the leading lady, who so artistically presents the especially difficult part of Theodora, the empress, was well received. The balance of the company are scarcely above mediocrity. Mrs. Brune who was formerly Minnie Tittle, was brought up in Seattle and has been on the stage only a few years. Many people think that she will yet develop into a star of the first magnitude. The probabilities are that she will be seen here again this season in Cleopatra.

Death of Mrs. Lynch.

Mrs. Maggie Lynch, wife of Andy Lynch of the school section, died quite suddenly Tuesday night from a severe attack of what is believed to have been typhoid fever.

The deceased was a daughter of A. Chandler and a sister of Fred Chandler, of the local postoffice. She was 30 years of age and leaves beside a husband five little children, the youngest being about two years old, to mourn her loss. The funeral which was held Thursday was largely attended, interment being made in Tahoma cemetery.

Mell Chandler, a brother of the deceased, who has been down with the same ailment that carried off Mrs. Lynch, is now reported to be better and it is believed that he will recover.

Hayes Divorce Case Dismissed.

The Hayes divorce case which was tried Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the superior court has been the chief topic of interest about the court house this week.

The case was tried a year ago last June when it was dismissed by Judge Davidson. Mrs. Hayes again applied for a divorce and division of the property, charging cruel and inhuman treatment. Mr. Hayes denied the charges and filed counter charges of the same nature with the additional one of adultery. The case was hotly contested, Snively & Thompson appearing for the plaintiff and Snyder & Preble for the defendant.

A cloud of witnesses were examined on both sides and a mass of evidence adduced, some of which was of a decidedly racy character. Each of the principals told the story of their domestic troubles to the court in detail, that of the wife being particularly sad and revolting. The defense laid a good deal of stress on the charge of adultery. The evidence offered to substantiate the charge, however, was purely circumstantial and evidently was not considered conclusive by the court. The petition of both parties for divorce was denied by Judge Rudkin Thursday.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A H. Marquardt, the tailor, Monday evening was painfully burned about the face and hands, by the explosion of some gasoline, which was placed near a lamp with which he was cleaning a garment. O. H. Sluth, an employee, burned his hands severely in trying to extinguish the flames.

Walter Heffner, Albert Johnson and F. H. Hall were bound over to appear before the United States court at Walla Walla, by Commissioner Howlett, Monday, charged with selling liquor to Indians. The men had a quantity of snakebite antidote in their possession when arrested by Marshal Dille.

The officers of the American Fraternal Club had intended to organize the initial club here Thursday night, but concluded to give away on that date on account of the benefit ball announced for that evening at the armory. The date for organization has now been positively set for Thursday evening, October 24th, at which time all applicants for membership are urged to be in attendance.

School Board Notes.

At the regular meeting of the school board Monday evening, a letter was read from State Superintendent Bryan, commending the action of the board in the Enyart case. Mrs. Enyart had contracted to teach in the public schools here and then accepted a position in the Seattle schools without tendering her resignation, in violation of the 1901 school law. The board had notified Supt. Bryan to revoke her certificate in accordance with the statute, but the lady came over from Seattle and plead with the board to accept her tardy resignation, which was finally done.

The board at the request of Mrs. Stair and Mr. Armstrong sanctioned the organization of the High school cadet corps.

His Skull Fractured.

Ernest Bowen, who lives on Nob Hill, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured, while working on a hay baler Wednesday morning.

The young man was turning a crank on the machine, and in some way lost control of it, the handle striking him in the head and fracturing his skull. Dr. Wells, who is attending him has some hopes of his recovery.

Through the columns of the press of other cities in which the musical farce "A Wise Woman" has been seen, it would seem that this latest work of Wilfred Clarke's is the greatest success that its brilliant author has ever had. Miss Marie Lamour and Frederic Murphy, who are being featured in the play, have risen to the occasion and made a hit quite as pronounced as the clever comedy.

Tot Causes Night Alarm.

"One night my brother's baby was taken with croup," writes Mrs. J. C. Snider, of Crittenden, Ky., "it seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from Croup and Whooping Cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve." ### COUNTY SCHOOL MATTERS.

A Large Increase in the Number of Pupils.

County School Superintendent Dickey has granted the petition of residents of East Selah for the formation of a school district. The new district will be known as No. 57.

In order to provide room for the increasing number of pupils an addition has been added to the Selah school house. An additional room has also been added in what is known as the Liberty district, situated in the Sunnyside. Prosser this year employs four teachers instead of three, while Sunnyside has three instead of two employed last term. The Nob Hill school also employs three this term.

The board of county commissioners will pass today on the appeal of certain parties against the decision of the superintendent granting the petition for a new district in the north Moxee. There are said to be about 100 pupils in the proposed new district the most of whom are the children of new settlers.

School has now commenced in nearly all the districts of this county.

The Young Man's Chances.

The million dollar salary voted to Mr. Schwab by the steel trust caused numerous republican editors to write enthusiastic articles on the opportunities offered to young men by the great corporations. The subject has been taken up by debating societies and the school boys are investigating the matter for themselves. That Mr. Schwab's rise to fame and fortune has been rapid there is no doubt, neither is there any doubt that his present position is attractive to many, but the very fact that his case has attracted so much attention is conclusive proof that it is extraordinary. He has won the capital prize in the industrial lottery, but where a system of monopoly offers such an opportunity to one man it closes the door of opportunity to thousands of others equally able and deserving.

When all the great industries are controlled by trusts, there will be a few big salaried officials and the remainder of the employees will be condemned to perpetual clerkships with no possibility of independence in the business world.

If the present tendency toward consolidation becomes permanent it is only a question of time when the principal positions in the corporations will go to relatives and favorites, and descend from generation to generation. Competition puts a premium on brains; monopoly puts a premium on blood.

Young men, and old men for that matter, will find that industrial independence will give a sufficient opportunity to a large number of people while the trusts will give an unusual opportunity to a small number of people.—Bryan's Commoner.

Pretty High For Ducks.

Messrs. Benson, Jackson, Aldrich and Gandy have had to stand for a good deal of "joshing" from their friends this week on account of their disastrous experience in hunting ducks.

The four nimrods named, started out joyfully for the reservation during the wee sma hours of the early Sabbath morning, intent on reaching the best shooting ground in advance of certain other nimrods who had announced their intention of going also. The party jogged along merrily on their way, killing time by each man regaling the others in turn of wonderful accounts of his prowess as a hunter.

Nothing happened to mar the pleasure of the journey until the discovery was made that the team had wandered off the road and that they were lost in a wilderness of sage brush. An effort was now made to steer back to the road, but they had not gone far until matters were made worse by the front ax of the hired vehicle suddenly breaking. The boys saw that they were now up against the real thing and therefore contented themselves by dancing around to keep warm until the kindly daylight appeared in the far east which gave them their bearings.

One of their number was then dispatched to a farmhouse some distance across the river where he managed to borrow a lumber wagon in which to finish the journey. The ill starred party returned home on the train that night bringing with them, the boys say, five ducks, which after a careful inventory was made were found to have cost just $8.33 1/3 each.

About Trade-Marks.

When Jenny Lind was receiving her remarkable American ovation, fifty years ago, it was mentioned at a table where she was entertained that an enterprising fish merchant had already registered a trade-mark for Jenny Lind herrings. A young girl at the table promptly said: "That is a selfish idea."

Every trade-mark is a selfish idea. Certainly there was never before such a trade-mark impetus as now exists. Owners of every kind of movable property, whether animal, vegetable or mineral, are using and registering trade-marks. To supply the demand for information about patenting trade-marks, C. A. Snow & Co., of Washington, D. C., have published for free distribution a small book of information about trade-marks, explaining what may be patented (registered) as a trade mark, with pictorial illustrations of many trade-marks procured for their clients, and decisions in trade-mark cases.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10, 1901.

On Sunday evening last Senator Thos. C. Platt, of New York, arrived in Washington. He dined at the White House and spent the evening in earnest consultation with the president. On Monday your correspondent called upon him at the Arlington hotel and secured an interview. Senator Platt said that perfect harmony existed between himself and President Roosevelt in regard to New York politics, and that the president was heartily in favor of the election of Mr. Low and would lend his influence, in so far as was proper, to that end. When asked his opinion as to the extent to which tariff revision would be gone into at the next session he protested that he was too much occupied with the New York campaign to have an opinion on the subject. When his attention was called to the statement of Representative Sereno E. Payne, of New York and chairman of the house committee on Ways and Means, Senator Platt remarked very naively "that tariff revision would mean a great deal of work for Mr. Payne."

As may be imagined from the foregoing, Senator Platt was not in a very communicative frame of mind, but he seldom is. He has the reputation of being one of the most taciturn of politicians even when undergoing the most adroit questioning. The senator expressed surprise at the impression that had gotten abroad that Collector George R. Whitehead, of Porto Rico, was to succeed Appraiser Wakeman and a shade of professional jealousy passed over his face when he was told that Secretary Gage had recommended Mr. Wakeman for the place. "Secretary Gage is not a New York republican but the president is," he said, "and the president knows what New York republicans are entitled to recognition. I am sure Secretary Gage has never recommended Mr. Whitehead's selection to me."

The statement of Representative Payne above referred to is in part as follows: "Any law which goes from the house to the senate is open to the fullest amendment and discussion of every item in the tariff schedules. That this would result in great uneasiness in business affairs, a loss of confidence and secondly a large temporary loss at least to the people of the country cannot be disputed. The tariff question should not be opened unless for the most imperative reasons and only when the benefits would outweigh the temporary embarrassments and loss resulting from it. We are running along prosperously now with the present tariff law."

The truth of the matter is that Mr. Payne is afraid to open the question. The people of the country and particularly of the northwest are demanding a reduction of the tariff rates. This demand is not confined to the democrats but is heard on all sides. The action of Representative Babcock in introducing his reduction bill last year was an evidence of the growing spirit. When seen a few evenings ago at the Raleigh, Mr. Babcock informed your correspondent that he was going to push his bill this session because the people demanded it. His constituents want it. Mr. Babcock is very much in the same position as was W. R. Merriam, now director of the census, when he was running for governor of Minnesota. Mr. Merriam was talking tariff reform and the chairman of the republican national committee called him to task for it. "The people want it" was Mr. Merriam's reply, "and unless I talk tariff reform I won't be elected." He continued to talk it and he was elected.

How many representatives will come to Washington on the first of December with the knowledge that their future political life is dependent on their voting for a revision of the tariff it is impossible to predict, but there is a reason to believe that there will be enough to insure its being undertaken. But even if tariff revision is attempted it will never be accomplished along lines that will satisfy the people. By its tariff legislation the republican party has built up the trusts and now the trusts control the party. The tariff revision the people demand is a reduction of those schedules that favor the trusts and that is precisely what the trusts will not permit. The party managers appreciate this fact and will use every endeavor to divert public attention from the real issues but they "can't fool all the people all the time" and the democratic leaders whom one meets in Washington all express themselves as confident that the time is not far off when the republican ship will shiver itself on the trust rock.

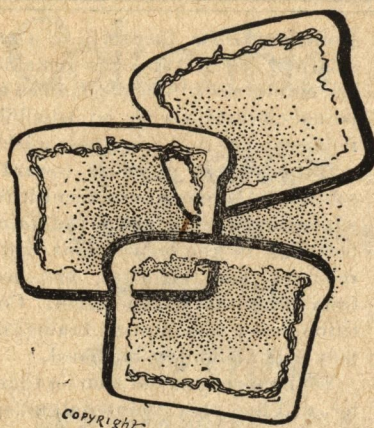

The withdrawal of Colonel Wylie Jones, state chairman of the democratic party in South Carolina, from what promised to be a bitter senatorial contest, in favor of General Wade Hampton is regarded here as a most graceful courtesy to an old man who has always been steadfast in his adherence to his party, even to the extent of refusing to accept office from the McKinley administration and at a time when his financial affairs would have rendered the office most acceptable. But it is regarded as even better politics. A contest between Jones and McLaurin would have had a most injurious effect on the party in South Carolina particularly at a time when both Roosevelt and Hanna are using every expedient to build up a brand new "white man's republican party" in that state. If general Hampton, who is 83 years old, can be persuaded to accept and Senator Tillman acquiesces, as it is believed he will, Colonel Wylie's course will be regarded as a coup worthy of reward. Senator Hanna's appointment of John H. Capers member of the National Republican committee, vice Hon. E. A. Webster, deceased, is another evidence that the republican machine has determined to turn traitor to its colored friends in every instance where the old friends have ceased to be of use, which is certainly entirely characteristic of the party.

Once while Daniel Webster was speaking in the United States senate the senate clock began to strike, but instead of striking twice at 2 p. m. it continued without cessation more than forty times. All eyes were turned to the clock, and Mr. Webster remained silent until it had struck about twenty, when he thus appealed to the chair: "Mr. President, the clock is out of order! I have the floor."

STATE PRESS OPINION

Uncle Sam is rather late in sending that seventeen thousand dollars for the Washington volunteers. It will be all right if the boys who are entitled to it can only get it.—Tacoma News.

Our republican friends claim that the war is over in the Philippine Islands but yet last week a company of our soldiers was annihilated by the Filipinos, over 40 out of 75 being killed. Now will some republican explain how much trade will compensate for those 40 lives.—Colfax Commoner.

The allegation that speculators were allowed to "hog" the output of the jute mill is unworthy of the Tacoma Ledger. As a matter of fact almost every farmer who made application for sacks was accommodated. Less than a dozen failed to be supplied. As near as possible the applications were filled in the order they were filed. The jute mill turned out about a million and a quarter sacks, and naturally this would not supply the entire demand in the wheat belt. It is easy enough for scheming politicians to make allegations, but to prove them is another matter.—Walla Walla Union (Rep.)

State Senator Preston, of Seattle, is willing to harmonize the republican factions in King county by becoming King county's candidate for the United States senate. There are probably others around Seattle who would also be willing to play the peacemaker in the same way, but Preston was won the first deal. But Preston and his supporters, or any one else who undertakes the job of harmonizing, will find that the Wilson faction of the republican party, headed by the P. I. and the federal brigade can be harmonized only on John L. Wilson for United States senator and chief dispenser of official favors. They will find that they must either surrender unconditionally to the Wilson clique, or fight, and fight hard. Lieutenant Governor McBride is credited with being the dry nurse of the Preston boom.—Mt. Vernon Argus.

An event of exceptional interest is the future engagement at the Larson opera house of "A Wise Woman", a musical comedy farce in 3 acts. It is said that the instantaneous hit the piece made has led to the cancellation of many one-night stands in which it was booked so as to enable the manager to accept contracts offered in the larger cities. The engagement in this city will be kept as Manager Fournier has an iron-clad contract to that effect.

BED-TIME.

Going to bed to tumble and toss and dream; to pursue in vain the phantom sleep through long, weary hours, and rise to a new day unrefreshed. Consulting doctor after doctor and taking medicine constantly, yet without relief from the ceaseless pain. For such a sufferer life has nothing left. She has no part in its pleasures and is unfit to bear its burdens. That is the case of many a woman, who is tormented by the aches and pains resulting from female weakness, and other diseases of the delicate organs of woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was made to cure just such cases and it does what it was made for. It heals ulceration and inflammation, dries debilitating drains, cures female weakness, strengthens the body, soothes the nerves and enriches the blood. It gives lasting strength for the day and sound sleep for the night.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" neither does it contain opium, cocaine, or any other narcotic. It is a purely vegetable remedy, suited to the constitution of the most fragile woman.

Do not accept anything else in place of "Favorite Prescription," if the cures by Dr. Pierce's medicine have given you confidence to try "Favorite Prescription."

"I Suffered Continually."

"For three years I suffered continually," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 828 East College Street, Jacksonville, Ills. "I sought relief among the medical profession and found none, until induced to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninety-five pounds. It built me up until now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing-down pains and such distress every month. But now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

"As Luck Would Have It."

"I was troubled with falling of the womb for nearly a year, and doctored with our family physician," writes Mrs. W. B. Harter, of Buffalo, Wyoming. "Took several different kinds of medicine, some of which made me feel a little better at times, but did not cure me. I kept getting worse, and some days it was all I could do to walk across the room. I had to lie down sometimes nearly all day. As luck would have it one of Dr. Pierce's little pamphlets came to me with our mail, so I sent right away for a bottle of his 'Favorite Prescription,' and commenced taking it. I wrote a letter to Dr. Pierce, telling him of my illness, and he advised me to take also his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Followed his directions and found relief even before the first bottle was gone. Six bottles cured me so that I could walk anywhere, and could ride forty miles in one day in a lumber wagon and come back the next day, and do my work."

Biliousness is banished by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. They are small in size, easy to take, do not gripe and never fail of the desired result.

Held Up.

The Centralia Examiner, one of the brightest country papers in the state, makes the following comment on the sad experience of Col. Robertson with foot pads:

Say, Rob,
You were held up,
Weren't you?
Isn't that reversing
The order of things?
But, why, did you not leave
Those seven dollars
At home?
Seven Subs!
Prepaid!
Wouldn't that hobo take it out
In advertising?
Instead of making it
A cash transaction?
Say, Rob,
You upset the sweet traditions
Of journalism
When you handed out
Those seven dollars.
Did Republican prosperity
Require
Such self-denying proof?
Or cannot Yakima
Stand on its own
Bottom?
Couldn't you slip the dollars
Down your trouser leg?
Or swear you'd left your purse
On the piano?
Anything rather than have paraded
To a censorious public
Such wealth
And resources.
You must have seen
Convincing argument
In that gun.
Couldn't you run a bluff
Or run away?
When you found yourself
Up against
The real thing?
Provide yourself with firewood, Rob,
Or spuds,
And when the next hobo
Holds you up
Hand it over
And tell him that it is as good
As cash.
That you have to take it
As such
And if you, why not he?

A delicious morsel in the musical farce "A Wise Woman," is the introduction of a quaintly melodious southern "crooning" song and lullaby, done by Miss Marie Lamour. The music of this number is said to be extremely catchy and easy to remember, and so popular does it immediately become that it is whistled and hummed by all the small boys, and by many of the big ones wherever the play is produced.

Increase in Electoral Votes.

It will take 15 more votes to elect the next president than were required at the last election of McKinley. Under the re-apportionment act, which goes into operation on March 4, 1903, the membership of the house of representatives and the electoral college is increased to the extent of 29. There were 447 members in the electoral college which chose President McKinley. There will be 476 in the body which will choose his successor in 1904, and this number will be further increased if any of the territories should be admitted to statehood in the interval. The states of the north Atlantic seaboard gain nine votes in the electoral college by this new allotment (three of which go to New York.) The sixteen ex-slave states gain 19 and the middle west and far west also gain 10.—Exchange.

Back Pay for Soldier Boys.

The news that Gov. Rogers had received $17237 back pay for the First Washington volunteers, is received with a good deal of satisfaction by the boys of company E. The back pay is for the time spent at Camp Rogers as national guards before being mustered into the regular service.

Company E. was in camp ten days and are allowed $1.50 per day for privates, and $2.00 per day for the officers, which means the unexpected, but none the less welcome sum of $15 for the men and $20 for the commissioned officers.

The report that was at first circulated, that the back pay would be given to those volunteers who were rejected, was an error.

Work of Ancient Miners.

Nome prospectors are said to have found unmistakable evidences of systematic mining operations in that district centuries ago. The work, they say, was that of either ancient Indian tribes or the Russians of long ago. Jacob Anderson says he found a coffer-dam on John Sullivan's claim No. 3 Gold Run, Blue-stone, built of stone and now buried under the ground.

The stones were in such position that evidences of the work of human hands were plainly visible. The dam was about four or five feet below the surface. As additional proof that an old dam had been found, he says that bedrock yielded no gold whatever within its confines, while outside its limits gold was found.

Anderson also states that there is a similar dam on No. 8 Gold Run, and another is said to have been found on No. 14, as well as the remnants of what was once probably a bedrock drain. The ancient dam described by Anderson rests on bedrock, and he is firmly of the opinion that ages ago placer mining was followed in Northwestern Alaska. He is inclined to the belief that the time was not so very remote, as the sediment in the streams quickly fills up cuts and workings.

The theory is also advanced that these ancient "workings" account for the "spots" on Gold Run and perhaps other creeks.—Exchange.

High School Cadets.

The organization of the High school cadet company was perfected this week. The regulation grey cadet suits to the number of thirty-nine have been ordered and are expected to arrive about November 1st. The boys expect to procure arms from the government. Prof. Armstrong will be drill master.

The Commoner.

(Mr. Bryan's Paper.)

The Commoner has attained, within six months from date of the first issue, a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic, and social problems. To the columns of the Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his review of political events as they arise from time to time cannot fail to interest those who study public questions. The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and the DEMOCRAT together for one year for $1.75. The regular subscription price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $2.00.

A Heart to Heart Talk With Delinquent Subscribers.

Subscribers who are in arrears to the DEMOCRAT are cordially invited to call on us or forward the amount due on subscription at their earliest convenience.

Our friends all have money this season, or at any rate ought to have. They should therefore not continue to overlook us, especially in cases where we have been carrying subscribers for a period of two or three years.

It's an old saying that it takes money to make the mare go. It is equally true that it takes money to make a newspaper go, especially in these piping times when the cost of labor and all material is very high. The publisher too, it must be remembered, must promptly meet all bills either weekly or monthly and if he does not it will be only a question of a comparatively short time when he will be out of the publishing business.

We dislike of course to make an appeal of this kind to our readers and our only excuse for doing so is the fact that we are too busily engaged in making the best newspaper in the county to have the opportunity of seeing all of our numerous subscribers, scattered as they are, in person.

The subscription price of this paper has been kept at the low rate of one dollar per year, while nearly all other country papers in the state have been advanced to a dollar and a half and two dollars per year. It is unquestionably true too that the great majority of them do not begin to give as good service to their patrons as does this paper.

A statement will be sent out from this office within the next few days to all subscribers who are in arrears one year or more and it is to be hoped that all will respond as quickly as convenient. Even if the amount in individual cases is small it amounts to a good deal in the aggregate to us and its receipt will aid in making the paper better and stronger.

Respectfully J. D. MEDILL,
Publisher.

Opium. Its Origin, Uses and Abuses.

Opium is the dried juice of a plant called poppy (papaver somniferum), extensively cultivated in the far east, India in particular. An incision is made in the unripe capsules, the juice is left to dry over night, and then removed with a blunt knife.

In China, India, Turkey and other parts of the east, and to a small extent in the west, opium is used as a narcotic drug. The great source whence China has always derived its opium has been India, where since 1793 the drug has been a government monopoly, the cultivators in Behar, Benares and Malwa being paid a fixed rate for their crops for exportation to China. The trade which was conducted in clippers was contraband; the Chinese government having in 1796 prohibited the importation of opium, and issued various subsequent proclamations on the subject. Nevertheless by the connivance of the Chinese local officers the importation about trebled in the twenty years between 1816 and 1836, in the two latter years being 20,500 chests valued at more than two million dollars. In March 1839 the Chinese authorities without warning given enforced the law, forbade all foreigners to quit Canton, and ordered them to deliver up the opium in their possession. War with Britain resulted which ended in the defeat of the Chinese, who were obliged to pay an indemnity for the opium. They have since been compelled to admit it, and the Indian revenue desirable from its growth has risen to about forty five million dollars annually.

A form of Chinese pipe adapted to the smoking of opium is extensively used by the opium fiend. The noxious effects, if taken in excess, characterized at first by exhilaration followed by congestion of the brain, coma and death. The inhalation of the smoke of opium from a pipe is becoming an increasing curse in America. A piece the size of a pea is burned in a pipe, the opium is decomposed and the smoke inhaled. The practice is baneful and degrading and strenuous efforts are being made in both christian and non-christian countries to have it abolished. Large quantities of opium are smuggled into this country, especially through San Francisco where the price fluctuates from $15.00 to $50.00 per pound.

The evil effects of this deadly drug are truly and vividly exemplified in Blaney's "King of the Opium Ring," which will be produced with all its spectacular and scenic effects at Larson's theater on Tuesday night, October 22nd.

The ball given at the armory Thursday night for the benefit of Miss Grace Bunnell, was a success in every way. Over a hundred couple were present and tripped the light fantastic until about 2 a. m. ### Misleading.

A side street fotografer is trying to deceive the public by advertising that he received the first premium at the State Fair on portraits, landscapes and photographs of all kind.

The superintendent of the art department of the State Fair, states that there was no premium offered for photographic portraits and therefore none was awarded this year. There was, however, a premium offered for photographic views. There was one entry under this head and a first premium was awarded for outside views, not portraits.

Insulted.

Lord Cardwell was in the habit of using the church prayers at family prayers. One day his valet came to him and said, "I must leave your lordship's service at once."

"Why, what have you to complain of?"

"Nothing personally, but your lordship will repeat every morning, 'We have done those things which we ought not to have done and have left undone those things which we ought to have done.' Now, I freely admit that I have often done things I ought not, but that I have left undone things that I ought to have done I utterly deny, and I will not stay here to hear it said."

How He Talked.

Rubinstein, after a concert tour in Spain, was asked: "Do you understand Spanish?"

"No," he said.

"Then you had to converse with the Spaniards in French, I suppose?"

"Not every Spaniard speaks French."

"Then how in the world did you talk to them?"

"With the piano," said Rubinstein, with a smile.

The Population of Babylon.

Various attempts have been made, by comparing its area with that of modern cities, to estimate the population of Babylon. But on the lowest calculation it would be found, supposing it to have borne any considerable resemblance to one of our cities, to have had a population of 5,000,000, a supposition to which all but insuperable obstacles are opposed. The map of Asiatic Turkey shows that the extent of country around Babylon available for agricultural purposes must have been quite inadequate to supply the necessary demands for anything like such an immense population.

Perhaps, on the whole, we may estimate the population at from 1,000,000 to 1,200,000. This supposition derives support from the fact that Selenia, with a population of 600,000 souls, is stated by Strabo and Pliny to have been about half the size of Babylon in the days of her greatest glory.

Suppressing Cruelty.

Many a man who would be ashamed to strike a brute beast with a bludgeon has no shame in making a bludgeon of his tongue to strike human beings in the tender places of their being—their social sensibilities and their self-esteem. Cruelty in its gross and outward forms we have in good measure suppressed, but the refined cruelty of the bitter word, the unloving censure, the abusive harangue, is not yet extinct. Let us be as careful of men's inner skin as of their outer.—Exchange.

The Gallant Cabman.

Nothing perhaps produces quite so much wit from a cabman as a sense of being underpaid, which in most cases means that he has been justly paid. A lady who had been guilty of this kind of justice experienced the usual sense of discomfort when her driver straightened the palm into which she had just dropped her shilling and looked at her speechlessly. She was weakly about to add another sixpence when the cabby's sense of humor prevailed. He transferred the shilling to his pocket and smiled sweetly down at his embarrassed fare. "Course, missy," he remarked, "there was the pleasure o' drivin' you!"—London Chronicle.
