OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

THE editor of THE EPIGRAM regards this as a most propitious occasion for announcing the future policy of this paper. During the last two years the political conditions in this state have been peculiar. The Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896, purged that party of its ultra-conservative element, and put it back on the same broad plain upon which the illustrious Jefferson first organized it, with a few additional principles necessary to our more advanced age. In our humble judgment the principles promulgated at that great convention are far better calculated to advance the happiness and welfare of the human family, than are those of any other political organization known to the people. Owing to the prominence of the Populist Party in state affairs during the late and the preceeding campaign, the regular Democracy in this state has permitted itself to be, to a great extent, eclipsed by the Populist organization. If there is one lesson made plain by the late election it is that the Populist party organization in this state is slowly but surely dying. That party has served its purpose as an agitator and educator and is passing away to give place to the rejuvenated democracy. This is the party, as we have always believed, that is destined to grapple with and overcome the party of gold and organized greed. Soon we believe the best elements of the three wings of the old fusion party in this state, will come together as the Democratic party, on the basis of the Chicago platform, and march to victory in 1900 under that splendid banner. THE EPIGRAM will henceforth use its best efforts to bring about the desired result. Fusion is dead. All hail the Democracy.

WE HAVE met the enemy and we are theirs. The republican landslide on Tuesday seems to have been general and very complete. The throats of all the local generals of the party of greed and avarice are fairly parched from sending forth hosannas for the great victory they have won over the party of the people and THE EPIGRAM, the exponent, as it is, of those cherished principles, which have gone down in disaster and defeat, would be the last to deny them the full glory of their victory. It is nevertheless a fact that their local victory was not won by a direct endorsement of their principles and candidates, by a majority of the people with a full vote cast. On the contrary, owing to the existence of serious dissatisfactions within the body of the Fusion party of this county, a large percentage of the vote of that party was not cast at all. Reports have come to this office of heavy Fusion losses, in nearly all of the country precincts, the cause in nearly every case, being ascribed to disaffection brought about by quarrels and misunderstandings that have for the past two years grown up in the populist party of this county. The mischief however did not end here, but was largely augmented, through the work of certain dissappointed grafters who failing to use the organization for the furtherance of their own personal ends, plotted and planned, and not without success, for its defeat. Had the stay-at-home fusion vote been cast, as it should have been, when a lot of honest and capable public officials were asking for an endorsement, the county ticket would have been elected in its entirety. However we do not blame the republicans for this condition of affairs, and have no objection to their crowing over their good luck. THE EPIGRAM gracefully bows to the will of—well we should say, the minority.

THE TYPOGRAPHICAL Freak, otherwise known as the Agriculturist, a so called newspaper published in a place called Goldendale, exhausted its limited and dirty vocabulary last week in an effort to vent its unreasonable rage at this paper for assuming to discuss the official record of a candidate in whose support, so we have been credibly informed, the Freak has been zealously laboring for the sake of a consideration. The Freak solemnly asserts that the editor of this paper is a liar and an anarchist—one of the kill off the rich kind, and an outlaw in journalism. As we do not wish to advertise the Freak any more than necessary, we will dismiss it with the passing remark that even an anarchistic sheet is preferable in the public estimation to the driveling and useless rag that emanates from the mind of a creature who stands accused by his late political associates with having deliberately sold out to the opposition.

JUDGING from past experience, we are inclined to believe that it would be apt to prove unfortunate eventually for the Democratic party, if it develops that that organization has wrested control of the national house of representatives in the late election, from the Republican party. It is true that if such be the case, they might be in a position to prevent the goldites from passing pernicious and evil monetary legislation, in that view, the country would be benefited by Democratic control; but it would create a divided responsibility in the government which Democrats should now be anxious to avoid. The monetary issue, will certainly be fought out again between the two great parties in 1900, and the issue should be presented to the people clear cut. Let the party led by Hanna control the House, by all means, during the next two years, and make their proposed changes in the currency laws. Then see if a sick and disgusted nation is not ready for a change of medicine when the great year of 1900 has arrived.

THE landslide of Tuesday removes from the public service in this county, a set of men generally conceded to be on the whole, the most economical and satisfactory set of officials that Yakima county has ever had in the court house. As these men were all defeated by small pluralities, the result could easily have been made different, had a few sulky or indolent silverites, who deluded themselves with the fool idea that we were bound to win anyway, taken the trouble to have went to the polls. The stay-at-home silver vote, had it been cast, would have easily overcome the slum and floating vote, which seems to have been cast solidly in the interest of the g. o. p. ticket.

YAKIMA county, once the mecca of the cattlemen, but for the past ten years almost shorn of all kind of cattle, bids fair to again be the active scene of the "cow puncher." An effort is being made by a number of prominent and wealthy citizens to stock the range with herds gathered up in different parts of the northwest. The large amount of alfalfa grown in this county is a great inducement to stockmen to a business which was once the source of great wealth. Winter feeding has now been reduced to a minimum, and the great abundance of hay raised and the low price at which it is sold makes a hard winter but little feared. There is still good range left in this county that will soon be covered with wealth producing bovine.

Last Rally a Howling Success.

The campaign closed in this city Monday night by an enthusiastic fusion meeting at the opera house at which A. L. Slemmons and T. M. Vance were the orators of the evening. A large and representative audience of voters was present and listened to the eloquent speakers with rapt attention. Mr. Slemmons the first speaker in an able manner thoroughly covered the local and legislative field, while the witty and learned Vance addressed himself mainly to national issues. The republican party was an object of pity, when these distinguished gentlemen got through belaboring it. The audience was entertained between acts by a trio of good vocalists secured for the occasion. The meeting was a success in every way and every one felt well repaid for having come out.

G. Mac L. Richards, proprietor of the Fairview Creamery, has made arrangements to hold a Farmers' Institute at the court house in this city on Saturday, November 19 at 10 a. m. Prof. W. J. A Cardinal's Stories.

"I'm afraid I can't tell you," answered Cardinal Wiseman on some one asking the names of several choice plants on the table. "I am often as much puzzled by botanical nomenclature as the old lady who said she couldn't remember all the old Latin names. The only two she had been able to retain were aurora borealis and delirium tremens."

The cardinal thoroughly enjoyed humorous stories and often told them at his table. "I have seen Father Faber," writes the author of "Social Hours With Celebrities," "at the cardinal's table, laugh till the tears rolled down his face."

A story which the cardinal enjoyed much was that of an Irishman, who, while taking a barge up the Shannon, was asked what goods he had on board, and answered, "Timber and fruit."

"What kind of timber and what sort of fruit?"

"Well, an if ye must know, the timber is just birch brooms, and the fruit, well, it's potatoes."

An Irishman averred that the habit of Irish landlords of living outside of Ireland was the great grievance Ireland had to complain of.

"Oh, yes," answered an Englishman, "that's the old stalking horse. I don't believe in your absentees."

"Not believe in 'em! Come to Dublin with me, and I'll show ye 'em by the hundred. Why, the country just swarms with 'em."

Why Elephants Fear Mice.

It seems incredible that so small and harmless an animal as a mouse is able to frighten an elephant almost out of his senses. One little mouse in the hay on which they are feeding will stampede an entire herd. In their native land there are little animals, known as chachanas, which feed on a small, sour berry of which elephants are very fond. They live in settlements, something after the manner of prairie dogs, under the berry bushes.

When feeding, the elephants trample the berry bushes, and the chachanas, in their haste to get up the tubes of the elephants' trunks, their long, sharp claws catch in the flesh, and they cannot be ejected. The more violently the monster blows through its coiled trunk the more firmly the hooked claws of the little animal become imbedded in the flesh. Inflammation and death are the result. In captivity the elephants think they are in danger of the deadly chachanas when they see a mouse.—New York Sun.

Chamberlain and the "Puritan Maid."

A Baltimore woman, in The Sun of that city, tells this story of Joseph Chamberlain when he was in Washington in 1887:

"He was a big, burly man, caring so little for his appearance that at one of the most fashionable dinners of the season his cravat got turned to almost under his ear and his shirt stud became unfastened, and he sat calmly oblivious to either incident. His brains and charm in conversation won him friends wherever he went. One day he called on a lady who happened to be giving a girls' luncheon. She went out at once to see him, and laughingly said if he did not mind being the only man present she would be delighted if he would come in the dining room and take the vacant place of one of her young friends who had not come.

"He was not afraid to face a lot of 'American beauties,' so he accepted gayly, and the vacant place happened to be next that of Miss Endicott, daughter of Secretary of War William C. Endicott of Massachusetts, a dovelike, slender girl, one of the greatest belles of the day. The outcome of this was the marriage of the English statesman and the 'Puritan maid,' as she was often called, his neighbor at an entertainment to which he had only been bidden by that 'fate which shapes our ends, rough hew them as we will.'"

Timidity and Greatness.

M. Dugas, a Frenchman, has written an extremely interesting book on "Timidity." He finds that the vast majority of people are timid in their youth. A considerable minority remain timid all their lives. Timidity leads to meditation and analysis. It enters into the temperament of the philosopher and man of science. Per contra, a thoroughly stupid man is seldom timid.

Virgil, Horace, Benjamin Constant, Michelet and Amiel were all notably timid men. M. Dugas notes that in the intellectual man you are apt to find great speculative hardihood combined with a practical timidity. Carlyle's is the typical case. The mere thought of having to order a coat or buy a pair of gloves caused him the most acute discomfort.

In its extreme type timidity approaches the malady of the will which the medical dictionaries call agoraphobia—the dread of the crowd, of the gaze of other people. All public speakers have known this feeling—even, it is said, the brazen M. Rochefort. Cicero, used as he was to the rostrum, was prevented by "blue funk" from delivering his "Milonian" speech. M. Sarcey, who has lectured every week for 20 years, says he has never been able to conquer his timidity. Paillet, a famous Parisian advocate, was so nervous that he used to say he half hoped some accident would happen to him in the street on his way to the court, so that he might be prevented from appearing. Veteran actors, when they are worth their salt, seldom get over their "stage fright."

Heating Capacity of Wood.

A writer in Die Staats Zeitung corrects a very common supposition in regard to the heating capacity of wood, the most notable fact in the case being that such a practical and easily demonstrable error should so long have prevailed—namely, that the heating capacity of hard wood is greater than that of soft wood. The fact, as ascertained by repeated determinations, is that the greatest heating power is possessed by one of the softest varieties of such material—viz, the linden. Taking its heating capacity for the unit, the second best heater is also a soft wood—fir, with .99 heating power; next follow the elm and the pine, with .98; willow, chestnut and larch, with .97; maple and spruce fir, with .96; black poplar, with .95; alder and white birch, with .94 only. Then come the hard oak, with .92; the locust and the white beech, with .91, and the red beech, with .90. These examples leave no doubt of the general fact that hard wood heats the least.

London Book Thieves.

Suckling, the book seller, gave me quite a little chat on book thieves the other day. "Book thieves," said he, "are most plentiful. They are also most audacious in disposing of their stolen wares. One of them did me rather neatly not long ago. I was sitting in my shop, thinking no harm, when a rather clerical looking man came in and offered me an abridged edition of Littré's Dictionary at £1. Of course I bought it. Judge my surprise when I found out about two hours afterward that the clerical looking gentleman had stolen that copy of Littré's Dictionary from the stall in front of my own shop! I may add that I had the satisfaction of recovering some volumes and juggling that respectable clerical looking gentleman, who, as I afterward found, had been doing many of my confreres in the same artistically nonchalant manner."

John Milton's Portrait.

John Milton's harmonically and ingeniously soul did lodge in a beautiful and well proportioned body. He was a spare man. He had auburn (auburn) hair. His complexion exceeding faire—he was so faire that they called him "the lady of Christ's College." Oval face. His eye adarke gray. He had a delicate tuneable voice, and had good skill. His father instructed him. He had an organ in his howse; he played on that most Of a very cheerful humour.—He would be cheerful even in his gowtefits, and sing. He was very healthy and free from all diseases: seldom tooke any physique, (only sometimes he tooke manna;) only toward his latter end he was visited with the gowte, spring and fall. He had a very good memorie, but I beleve that his excellent method of thinking and disposing did much to helpe his memorie. He pronounced the letter R (littera canina) very hard—a certaine sine of a satyricall witt. Temperate man, rarely drank between meales. Extreme pleasant in his conversation, and at dinner, supper, etc., but satyricall.—Aubrey's "Brief Lives."

Told on Kentucky Legislators.

A member of the late legislature from southern Kentucky was invited one evening to participate in a Welsh rabbit lunch at the Capitol hotel. Diking himself out, he awaited the hour. With that prince of good fellows, Tutt Burman, he walked into the dining room, where coffee and rabbits were served standing. After partaking of one or two and a cup of coffee, he remarked to Tutt: "This is no rabbit. It's nothing but fried cheese and light bread." It is useless to say that member never attended any more lunches.

On another occasion the assembly balls or germans, which were given every Tuesday night, attracted the attention of a mountain member, and he asked, "Whar are all them people goin that are goin up stairs?" Some one remarked up to the german. "The— you say. Do they let the Dutch dance here?"—Owenton (Ky.) News.

Ordinance No. 274.

An Ordinance establishing a local improvement district for the construction of a sidewalk in the City of North Yakima and providing for the construction of such sidewalk, and for the assessment of the cost thereof on the property benefited by such improvement, and for the collection of such assessment.

Whereas, The City Council has heretofore by resolution, duly passed, declared its intention to improve a certain street in the City of North Yakima, in said resolution particularly described, by the construction of a sidewalk thereon, which resolution was duly published as by law required; and whereas, the owners of property affected by said proposed improvement have not filed any protest against the same, as provided by law, and said resolution and the time for filing such has expired; and whereas, the City Council, by resolution duly passed, voted to proceed with said work and improvement, now, therefore:

The City Council of the City of North Yakima do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That for the purpose of making said improvement and assessing the cost thereof on the property benefited, a local improvement district to be known as "Local Improvement District No. 5" is hereby created and established, including within the limits thereof the following described lots and parcels of land, to-wit: Lot No. 8 in block No. 131, and lots No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 in block No. 130, all in Huson's Addition to the City of North Yakima, according to the plat thereof on file in the office of the County auditor of Yakima County, Washington.

Sec. 2. That the south side of Yakima avenue and the west side of Seventh street in said city in front of said lots and lands, between the northwest corner of said lot 8 in said block No. 131 and a point 8 feet east of the northeast corner of said lot 8 and between the northeast corner of said lot 7 and a point 8 feet south of the southeast corner of said lot No. 1 in said block No. 130, be improved by the construction of a sidewalk thereon, and that said sidewalk be constructed in the following manner, to-wit: That said sidewalk shall be eight feet wide, and laid with boards or plank, two inches thick, eight inches wide and eight feet long, surfaced on one side and resting on three stringers, four inches by six inches, said sidewalk shall be laid on the grade marked out and established in front of said lots and lands as the same appears from the grade stakes; all material used shall be good common fir lumber.

Sec. 3. That the cost and expense of said sidewalk shall be taxed and assessed upon all the property in the local improvement district established by section one of this Ordinance, which cost shall be assessed in proportion to the number of feet of such lands and lots fronting on said sidewalk and included in said improvement district and in proportion to the benefits derived by the construction of said sidewalk; provided that the expense of constructing said sidewalk in the space formed by the junction of two or more streets or where one street terminates in another and of street crossings shall be paid by the City of North Yakima.

Sec. 4. That the Committee on Streets and Ditches of the City Council of the City of North Yakima are hereby constituted a Board of Assessors for the purpose of assessing the costs and expense of the construction of said sidewalk on the several lots and parcels of land included in the improvement district hereinbefore established.

Sec. 5. That immediately upon the completion and acceptance of such sidewalk, when constructed, by the City Council or its authority, it shall be the duty of said Committee on Streets and Ditches to subscribe and take an oath for the faithful performance of their duties as such assessors and proceed to assess the cost and expense of constructing said sidewalk upon all the property in the local improvement district herein established, in proportion to the number of feet of such lands and lots fronting on said sidewalk and included in said local improvement district and in proportion to the benefits derived by the construction of said sidewalk; provided, that the expense of constructing such sidewalk in the space formed by the junction of two or more streets, or where one street terminates in another and of street crossings shall not be included in the cost assessed against the property included in said improvement district.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of said Committee on Streets and Ditches to prepare an assessment roll which shall contain a description of each lot or parcel of land included in said local improvement district, together with the name of the owner, if known, if not, to be so stated, and the amount of the assessment against such lot or parcel set opposite the description, and in making such assessment the decision of a majority of said committee shall be deemed the decision of the committee.

Sec. 7. On the completion of said assessment roll said committee shall forthwith file the same with the City Clerk and thereupon said City Clerk shall cause the same to be published for two weeks in the newspaper doing the city advertising, together with a notice that said assessment roll is on file in his office subject to the inspection of all persons interested, and at the first regular meeting of the City Council after such last publication to be held on a day and hour to be named in said notice, any person feeling aggrieved by reason of such assessment may appear before the City Council and be heard with a view to the amendment of the same. The Council at the time and place designated in said notice, may amend and revise said list if necessary to render the same fair and equitable, and may raise any assessment without further notice than herein provided, and may adjourn from time to time until the work of amendment and revision is completed.

Sec. 8. The City Clerk shall note on said assessment roll, opposite each description, any change or amendment made by the City Council in such assessment, and shall thereupon deliver to the City Treasurer a certified copy of said assessment roll, as revised or amended by the City Council.

Sec. 9. Upon the receipt of such copy it shall be the duty of the City Treasurer forthwith to publish notice in the newspaper doing the city advertising, for two consecutive weeks, that a certified copy of said assessment roll is in his custody, and that unless said assessments are paid to said City Treasurer within thirty days from the first publication of said notice, the same will be delinquent and be collected according to law.

Sec. 10. It shall be the duty of the City Treasurer to report at the first meeting of the City Council to be held after such assessments become delinquent, to the City Council, what portion of said assessments have been paid, by whom paid, what portion is delinquent, together with a description of the lots and lands upon which said assessments are delinquent included in said local improvement district, together with the names of the owners, if known, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the City Attorney, under the direction of the City Council to enforce by proper proceedings the lien of said assessments upon the lots and lands in said local improvement district against which the assessments have not been paid.

Sec. 11. When assessments are collected by the City Treasurer the same shall constitute a special fund to be known as "Local Improvement District No. 4 Fund" and the same shall be applied in payment of the cost of the improvement herein provided for and to no other purpose and on presentation of any warrant or warrants drawn against said fund the treasurer shall take up said warrant or warrants drawn against the same out of any money in said fund, in the order of the back thereof the date and amount of any payment made if not paid in full.

Sec. 12. As soon as said sidewalk is constructed and accepted by the city it shall be the duty of the Mayor and City Clerk to draw a warrant or warrants in favor of the contractor, payable out of the special fund created by section 11 of this ordinance, for all that portion of the cost of said improvement assessed against the lots and lands in said local improvement district, which said warrants shall bear interest at the legal rate from and after the time when assessments herein provided for, become delinquent, and the City of North Yakima shall be in no manner liable for the payment of said warrants if it uses due diligence in collecting the assessments properly applicable to the payment of the same, and at the time of issuing the foregoing warrants the Mayor and Clerk shall also issue a warrant payable out of the Current Expense Fund for that portion of the cost of said improvement chargeable to the City under the provisions of this Ordinance.

Sec. 13. All assessments levied under the provisions of this Ordinance shall bear interest from and after the same become delinquent at the same rate as general municipal taxes.

The first snow of the season fell on Monday—about a month earlier than usual. An unfeeling citizen remarks that the early frost was occasioned by the heated condition of the atmosphere caused by political excitement, while the "old settler" says that it "never was known" in the county before.

F. H. Colby left Wednesday night, to resume his old position as first warden at the Steilacoom asylum. Mr. Colby during his late canvass in this county for Before leaving Mr. Colby showed his faith in the future of Yakima by purchasing twenty acres of additional land adjoining his splendid ranch at Euclid, which will be his future home.

Should be eyes of strength and perfect vision—eyes of beauty are always so. Beauty's eyes are not. THE BEAUTY.

Hail! Now she speaks.
The roses ope their ruddy hearts to list
The breezes cease to coax the lily bells
To sound their voiceless chime.
The nightingale is mute.

And when she smiles
'Tis like the break of day
O'er Persian valleys faint with odorsweet
Or like entrancing melody
Conjured by master hand from strings
Aglow with heavenly fire.

And when she laughs—
Ah, then, the rippling music of her mirth
Awakens sleeping joy, deep toned and full
Of love as bells enriched with gold
On Moscow's towers swung!

OLD MESA LIFE.

The Pueblo Woman Was Always the Head of the Household.

When the men went down to the fields, the pueblo was really in control of its rightful owners, the women. In these old communities the woman was the important partner in the household. She was the owner of the house and all it contained. She built it and furnished it with its utensils of daily use. The children traced descent through the mother and took her clan name. The man's position, other than mere provider, was that of an honored guest, and if he presumed disagreeably on his position more likely than not he was sent back to his own home. Far from being the general slave and pack animal that is her sister of the plains tribes, the Pueblo woman's duties were purely domestic, and if she ever worked in the field it was for the common good, to save the scanty harvest in time of need.

The grinding of the many colored corn for bread, the weaving and the making of pottery were her principal occupations, and are to this day. The Pueblo Indians are par excellence the potters of the southwest, and it will be confessed that they come fairly by the title, as an examination of some of the old time ware will prove, although in this case, as in some others, the evolution has not been for the better.

In the small house cell or in the white sunlight the potter sat, and with scarcely any tools at all, fashioned such specimens of the potter's art as to challenge admiration from us with all our appliances. The use of the potter's wheel was unknown, and the "throwing" of a shape by this means out of the question; but with a hollow bit of basket-ware or a piece of broken pot for a support all the forms from a simple food bowl up to the largest and most elaborate water jars were built up by coil on coil of clay, smoothed or modeled in pattern as the vessel grew, and when one examines some of the ancient pieces, notably those excavated by Dr. Fewkes of the Smithsonian institution, one can but marvel.

Then came the decorating, and in every case, from the simplest to the most elaborate and intricate symbolic design, one must confess that the Indian uses the truest inceptive and fundamental art principles. There never is any waste of energy in "effect." The design always means a concrete thing, which appeals to the understanding of the Indians for whose use the utensils are. Through these same pottery forms and their decoration runs one of the strongest chains binding the old to the new. Near me are two tinajas, or water jars. One is many generations, perhaps centuries, old, the other perhaps five years, and yet in shape and general decoration they are much alike, and if the newer one was properly "toned" they would pass as of the same period.—Fernand Lungren in Century.

Ostriches, which are supposed to flourish only in very warm climates, have been raised successfully in southern Russia, the feathers being of good quality and the birds healthy.

Flag Ship Olympia.

The effort to raise $10,000, for the purchase of a silver service to be presented to the United States Cruiser Olympia is meeting with merited encouragement. This is distinct from the Olympia Carnival and is to be a presentation from the entire state to the gallant ship which in the gray of the May morning entered Manila harbor leading the Asiatic squadron which so completely demolished the fleet of the great Montajo.

Miss Ada L. Hanford of Seattle is the promoter of the enterprise and in it she is heartily seconded by the best business men of that city. The Olympia is the only ship in the Navy which has not been the recipient of the patriotic people of the state to which it is accredited, and when we behold the magnificent part played by the Olympia in the greatest naval battle in modern times and the superb bravery and conduct of her commander and crew, it is especially becoming that we should as soon as possible present them with some slight token of our deep appreciation. The banks of the city will receive donations and it is earnestly hoped by the promoters that all will respond promptly and liberally.

The County Election.

The local election on Tuesday was perhaps the quietest affair of the kind ever known in Yakima. During the whole day there was scarcely a thing occurred to mar the general good feeling existing. There was little or no drunkenness, and no brawling on the streets, in fact nothing out of the ordinary happened except when little knots of misguided fusionist and confident republicans of sporting proclivities would meet and banter each other for wagers on the result. Some of the local republican candidates had their workers out in force who spent the day in hustling out doubtful voters. The Fusion forces were also hustling, but judging from result they did not hustle enough. No disturbances of any kind happened to mar the beautiful harmony of the day. In this city 574 votes were cast out of a total registration of 657, which is considered a rather unusually large vote. In the country precincts or at least in a number of them there was a very marked falling off from the vote of two years ago. The fact that but little over 1800 votes were cast in Yakima county compared with 2300 in 1896, and that the republican vote in no case except in that of W. L. Jones, is greater than it was two years ago, is ample and satisfactory evidence that the landslide was not caused by any marked accession to the gold party, but by the apathy of a considerable number of Fusionists who did not take the trouble to go to the polls. Many of these foolishly thought that the fusion majority in the county and state was so large and emphatic that there was no necessity for them to vote personally. Committeemen from nearly every precinct, have reported to the campaign committee the number of votes thus lost to the party, which if cast would have saved every man on the county ticket, with the possible exception of Mr. Colby. However what is gone cannot be undone, and while the boys on the Fusion ticket naturally feel sore at the unexpected and undeserved rebuke, yet they accept the result gracefully, and bow to the will of the people as expressed at the polls. During their terms of office they have all made records for economy and efficiency, that their supporters can refer to with pride.

Like a Great Railway

With its branches running in every direction, are the arteries and veins, which convey the blood to every part of the system. When the liver and kidneys refuse to act the blood is prevented from circulation by poisonous acids, and then comes Rheumatism. Dr. Drummmond's Lightning Remedy drives these poisons from the blood, and Dr. Drummmond's Lightning Liniment restores the stiff joints, drawn cords and hardened muscles. If your druggist has not got these remedies, send to the Drummmond Medicine Company, New York, and the full month's treatment of two large bottles will be sent to your express address.

The General Result.

The election held throughout the United States on Tuesday last resulted for the most part in a landslide for the republican party, although at this writing it seems probable that that party has lost control of the National House of Representatives, the democrats having made heavy gains in a number of the eastern middle and southern states, although having suffered the loss of several members in western states, such as Washington, California, South Dakota, Wyoming and Nebraska. The southern states without exception remain steadfast to the democratic party, Texas giving that party 200,000 over the Populist republican fusion. New York elects Roosevelt governor by about 40,000 plurality over Vanwyck. Illinois seems to have went republican by a small plurality, while Indiana seems to be yet in doubt. Ohio, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have all gone republican, the latter by a much reduced majority. In Montana the Democrats seem to have won against all opposition. In Idaho Fusion wins and gains a United States senator. In our own state of Washington the republicans seem to have captured the two congressmen the two supreme judges, lower house of the legislature and pretty much everything else in sight.

He Got the Pin.

A good many people still believe in the little superstition about seeing a pin and picking it up. It makes some of them decidedly uncomfortable when they pass a pin by, and even if experience has taught them that there is nothing to be gained by stooping up the pointed bit of wire they still dive for one whenever they see it.

An aged man was toddling across Payne avenue at its junction with Wilson some time ago when between the street car rails at the very center of the curve he noticed a pin. It was a bright pin, and it caught his rather enfeebled gaze at once. Being a superstitious old gentleman, he determined to secure that pin. With considerable effort he managed to bend over, when, just as his trembling fingers closed upon it, with a whoop and a roar a cable car came swinging around the curve at the usual terrifying rate. The old man went one way, his cane and glasses and hat went the other. They rushed to him and picked him up. He was badly bruised, and the ambulance was called. As they were lifting him into it somebody noticed something shining between his clinched fingers.

It was the pin.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Where Wool Is Grown.

The most significant movement in textile industry is the rapid building of cotton mills in the south. It pays to manufacture the cotton where it is grown, and Orange Judd Farmer asks, "How long before the west and southwest will wake up to the fact that it pays to manufacture woollens where the wool is grown?" At present more than half (56 per cent) of the wool produced in the United States is hauled across the continent to New England mills.
