Mr. Lew Garbutt,
Yakima Chamber of Commerce,
Yakima, Wash.

June 10, 1955

Dear Lew:

Enclosed is one of the mimeographed "listings" of the Yakima Tribe's publication which I assisted in getting out for their observance of the Treaty Centennial.

It occurred to me that a little of the information may be considered of notation on the Chamber Bulletin, ~~xx~~ since the booklet is in reality a very comprehensive handbook of the Yakima Reservation, how it operates etc. This should be of more than ordinary interest to chamber members.

It's for sale at Yakima bookstores or as noted by direct application to the Yakima Agency.

I've been so rushed getting away on vacation (two weeks starting tomorrow) I didn't have time to bring one of these up to show you. Some of the Yakima committee are visiting various chambers of commerce to see if they'll help in distribution in some manner. I suggested that I believed you people could not do that, but it might be that you'd make note of the publication in the bulletin which goes to many members. So if you do, I think it would be well to drop a bulletin or so to the Yakima Tribe, Eagle Seelatsee, chairman, Alex Saluskin, secretary, Yakima Agency.

Sincerely
