Dear Sir:

I have from time to time noted the magazine, "News From Home", and its excellence of historical presentation has so impressed me that I am writing to determine if it is possible to secure this magazine on a regular basis.

While my profession is that of a newspaper city editor, and it is possible the book would be of occasional publicity purposes in that connection, its real use I am confident would be to make available through the museum of which I am a board member some of the material for classes of students and history teachers.

If there is any way to obtain a scattering few back copies, that would also be appreciated.

I am appreciative of the much research and good editing that has gone and is going into the publication.

I recently edited, at the request of the Yakima Nation in connection with its centennial of the Yakima Treaty, a 30,000 word "pamphlet" which I shall be most happy to send when I have a name by which I can be sure it reaches the proper party.

Most Sincerely
