A Branch Library in Your Own Community Offers You These Advantages:

1. You have an ever changing collection of books close at hand to browse through and from which to choose.
2. You have the services of your local librarian. She knows her community and is backed up by a group of library specialists in giving service to you.
3. You have the privilege of requesting any book or books on any subject and that request will be filled.
4. You have a local library board which recommends the local librarian and the hours of opening.
