Dear Editor:

We are enclosing for your attention a copy of the 1845-1945 Washington Centennial Commemorative booklet.

This outstanding publication, the first of its kind to be put out by the State of Washington, will have a wide circulation and is being sent to civic organizations, public officials, libraries and schools throughout the United States as well as within our own State.

You will note that the booklet is a cooperative effort sponsored by a number of state organizations and published by the Department of Conservation and Development.

The unusually attractive appearance and authoritative content of the booklet reflects credit, we believe, on all who had a part in its production.

Very truly yours,

Richard A. Tracy
