

N.Y. & V. RAILROAD BRANCHING OUT

Real Estate Agent Buys Right-of-Way Through City
for Geo. Donald—Successful Manipulations of Mr. Barnes Creates Excitement.

Considerable excitement was manifested in Yakima real estate circles the latter part of last week when it was learned that a string of lots on the south side of G street, from Front street on the west to the Cascade mill property on the east side of town, had suddenly been purchased by James Barnes, presumably for the use of some railroad corporation. The property purchased runs through a thickly settled residence section of the city and was picked up by Mr. Barnes, the right-of-way agent, in pretty quick time, all the deals having been consummated, it is said, within two days and the job was handled so skillfully by the agent that no undue excitement was caused among the property owners.

The news was allowed to leak out the next day, however, that the purchase was made for the North Yakima & Valley road, of which George Donald, the well known banker of this city, is president and general manager. The right-of-way thus secured is to be the route of that company's new line that is to tap the Moxee valley, a line that Mr. Donald has had in contemplation for the past three years.

From the eastern limits of the city near the Cascade mill the new line, it is said, will cross the Yakima river and thence follow a route just below the line of the Selah-Moxee canal to a point near the artesian wells, thence westerly towards the Union Gap.

The building of such a line this season in time to handle the Moxee crops, as appears to be the intention, will prove a great move for the development of that splendid section, which is much in need of rail communication with this city.

While the new road, like the Naches line, will doubtless be built as a steam road it is more than probable that these two, as well as any future lines that may be added to the Donald system, will eventually be operated either by gasoline or electric power.

There is also much likelihood that this same company will build a third line up the Ahtanum at no distant day. However, on this point Mr. Donald is absolutely non-committal at the present time.

ROOSEVELT TALKS MUCH OF HIMSELF

French Correspondents at Naples Give Their Impressions of Former President.

Paris, April 6.—The French press is displaying a great deal of interest in and curiosity regarding ex-President Roosevelt. "When the Caesar of modern democracy goes hunting Europe, Asia, Africa and America climb to their windows and watch the caravan of publicity pass," is the way one paper describes Roosevelt's journey to Africa.

The majority of the correspondents sent to Naples to chronicle their impressions of Roosevelt say the former president is absorbed in himself. They describe his cabin as filled with books and littered with lithographs of himself and family. They say the only object not relating to Roosevelt himself is a photograph of Emperor William, bearing the imperial signature in green ink.

Talks of Himself.

Mr. Roosevelt talked freely of himself and his works, and to a limited extent on other subjects, and the correspondents say he manifested a disposition to "preach." In a conversation he touched upon his ancestry, his experience as a ranchman in the far west and other personal matters.

Turning to politics, he said he had been elected president as the representative of honesty against the power of gold. He paid his respects to the oil and steel kings, saying they tried to break his back; "but," he said, "my back is still intact." Continuing, Mr. Roosevelt referred to his pride in the American army and navy, and is reported to have said, "By preparing for war I was able to calm the impetuosity of young America against Japan."

President is Greater Than Monarch

Mr. Roosevelt is also quoted as saying the presidency of the United States is a greater office and the president is more powerful than any monarch in Europe. He pointed out, the French correspondents aver, "that he possessed the power of veto; that he appointed the entire diplomatic corps and high governmental functionaries; that he is the maker of treaties with only the consent of those he chooses as the national regulators."

He said that for two years while he was president he spent his time fighting trusts; that he rejoiced that he had left behind in America a country in which the only king will be the state. "The machinery of the state will now roll on without me," he is quoted as saying, "but with the impetus I have given, Mr. Taft, my good successor, will build the Panama canal, continue to increase the army and navy and check the trusts if they again become too ob-

Impatient to Continue Journey.

Mr. Roosevelt paid a high tribute to journalism. He said he could have accomplished nothing when he entered politics without the help of the newspapers. One of the correspondents concludes his story of Roosevelt's visit to Naples with these words:

"Mr. Roosevelt is impatient to reach the hunting grounds. He says not a word of the city of Naples or its art treasures. He understands nothing of those gateways to civilization, of those eternal constellations in the sky of history. Emperor William displayed a nobler breeding when he asked to be left alone before a marble bust affirming the eternity of beauty. Roosevelt has no time to lose. He is off to hunt with wild beasts. If the wild beasts are not warned, it is because they do not read the newspapers."

YAKIMA STAMPS SELLING.

Publicity Committee Receiving Orders for Blocks of 100 to 500.

Orders are already being received by the publicity committee of the Commercial club for Yakima stamps in blocks of 100 to 500, and most of them contain indorsements on the backs of the cards sent out with a request to make purchases early. The quick response that has answered the first call indicates that the entire supply of 300,000 will be sold by the time they are ready for delivery.

NOT HARRIMAN'S ROAD

From J. P. O'Brien, general manager of the Harriman lines in the northwest, comes the first official denial of the connection of the Harriman interests with the mysterious North Coast road, says the Spokane Chronicle.

"I wish it were a Harriman property, but it is not," states Mr. O'Brien. "It would hardly be good policy to build a line to Puget Sound across the Cascade mountains when we have already a splendid water grade line down the Columbia river to Portland and are now building a line to Puget Sound from Portland."

OWNERS OF AUTOS WANT NEW SPEED ORDINANCE

Declare Present Limit of Eight Miles an Hour on Yakima Avenue Works Hardships on Drivers of High Power Machines.

Owners of automobiles in this city will make an effort to secure a city ordinance so amended as to increase the speed limit from eight to 12 or 15 miles per hour.

The question came up at the meeting of the city council last Monday night but was laid over to the next meeting, at which time it will be definitely considered. It is expected, however, that the proposed amendment to the old ordinance will be vigorously fought and probably defeated.

It is the contention of owners of high power machines that it is practically impossible for them to keep within the speed limit when under headway and that it is simply a question of going over eight miles an hour or not at all.

In the event of the city council refusing to meddle with the proposed amendment, it probably means that the owners of high power machines will be compelled to keep off Yakima avenue entirely. Those opposed to amending the present ordinance take the position that it would be jeopardizing life and limb in the city and therefore too risky.

Committee Gets Busy.

The county A. Y. P. committee has been showing renewed signs of life this week, as the result, perhaps, of the enthusiastic meeting held at Toppenish April 1. Dr. A. H. Henry and his local committee of solicitors have been at work in securing subscriptions and report good success in the city.

Assistant Secretary Peek says that the different committees below the gap have responded most liberally in aid of the fund, more so than the people up this way.

At the Toppenish meeting the following sub-committees were appointed: Mineral Exhibit—W. B. Dudley, F. X. Nagler and John Sawbridge. Coal Exhibit—George Weikel, Fred Parker and L. D. S. Patton. Visitors' Register—Charles F. Bailey of Granger.

EPILEPTIC IS DROWNED.

George Hay, While Fishing, Takes Fit and Falls into Ahtanum.

While fishing on the banks of the Ahtanum creek last Tuesday morning, George Hay, the 19-year-old son of Mrs. George Blood, was seized with an epileptic fit, fell into the stream and was drowned. The body was discovered by his sister, Miss Violet Hay, who went in search of her brother after he had been gone for several hours.

The deceased leaves two sisters, Miss Violet Hay and Mrs. Anna L. Jordan, and two brothers, Abe and Will Hay, and other relatives to mourn his loss. The funeral services were held from the family home Wednesday afternoon.

POTATOES REACH HIGH WATER MARK

Selling at $33 Per Ton With Indications Pointing to $40—Local Warehouses Crowded to Capacity With Thousands of Tons.

It has been a good many years since the potato market reached as high a point as exists today. Some enthusiastic spud buyers believe the market will go to $40 within two weeks. As high as $33 was paid here a few days ago, and now it is hard to buy even at that price.

The situation is rather remarkable. The demand seems to be on the increase caused by recent heavy orders from points in Alaska. The shortage of the California crop also has a strong bearing on the market.

Several local speculators are buying all the potatoes they can get their hands on, and as a result the warehouses on the west side are packed to the doors with tons of the Yakima product.

Those in the county who have potatoes to sell should come to Yakima at once and make arrangements to dispose of them during the present high prices. A Seattle paper of recent date had the following to say on the potato situation:

Potato prices continued to soar today. Quotations have a wide range, with some dealers selling fancy Yakima potatoes at $33, and others asking as high as $38. Prices on fancy White river potatoes went to the top point of the season today, when some sold at $35 per ton. Others are selling as low as $30 per ton.

Some wholesale houses are sending out optimistic reports of the situation, while others are sending out pessimistic. The salesmen of the house which has the biggest stock of any on the street are all predicting a $40 buying price within ten days. Houses whose stocks are not so extensive report that the top point has been reached and that the market will slump shortly. They point to the big receipts of the past few days as indicating large stocks.

LEGEND PROVES FALSE.

"Tree of Destiny" Fails to Fall When Earl of Howth Dies.

London, April 7.—When the news of the death of the Earl of Howth, last of his race, reached the pretty resort beside Dublin Bay from which the family took the title, great curiosity was shown as to whether the "Tree of Destiny" would fall.

The tradition ran that when the last of the St. Lawrence, who for seven centuries had held in unbroken line a place in the peerage of Ireland, died, the tree would fall. The last of the St. Lawrence has now gone, but the tree still stands.

The late earl must have been a believer in the tradition as some years ago, seeing the decaying condition of the tree, he had the trunk bound by iron bands and supported by several stout planks.

MAYOR AND MILLER AMUSE SPECTATORS

Councilman from the Fourth Ward Waves His Arms Frantically in the Air and Makes Strenuous Denials of Alleged Rumors.

At a meeting of the city council last Monday night Mayor Armbruster and Councilman John J. Miller engaged in a colloquy of such a heated nature that for some time it appeared as though Chief of Police Tom Storey would necessarily be called in to referee a hand to face mill.

When the meeting was called to order Mayor Armbruster, who was suffering from a very severe cold, announced that he would not stay long. Immediately Councilman Miller took the floor, stating that the mayor and certain members of the council had circulated reports about him which were erroneous, and that he desired to defend himself publicly. The specific charge was that Miller had placed himself on record last winter at a certain star chamber session of the council, of suggesting that the question of a restricted district be left to the discretion of the mayor. Councilman Miller declared that he made no such suggestion and looking squarely into the face of his honor, said:

"I want to ask the mayor if he made any such statement."

Mayor Says He Said It.

The mayor stretched himself obliquely in his chair and with half closed eyes, replied:

"Mr. Miller, when the matter of a restricted district was referred to, if my memory serves me correctly, you made a motion to leave it to the mayor. Your motion was not taken up and Councilman Shaw said 'yes, leave it to him,' or words to that effect."

"I made no such motion," retorted Councilman Miller.

"You made such a motion but there was no second," responded the mayor. Miller's face flushed, and shaking his finger at the mayor from the far length of the table, began:

"Do you remember that when that suggestion was made that I was opposed to it? When I objected did you not get angry and say, 'That makes me mad to think that you have not enough confidence to leave it to me.'"

"Well, I'll leave it to the members of the council as to what you said," rejoined the mayor.

"I think you said it," broke in Councilman Smith.

"I am under the impression you said it," added Councilman Mull.

"I know you said it," put in Councilman Schorn.

"I was pretty busy thinking about that time and really don't remember just what was said, except what I said myself," spoke up Councilman Shaw.

"I deny that I made any such statement," vehemently declared Miller.

"I don't care what you deny," said Schorn, rising in his seat and facing Miller in almost a threatening attitude. "You did say it and there is no use denying it."

"I did not," said Miller, getting a bead on Schorn's eye.

"I remember of Mr. Miller making a protest against leaving the matter in the mayor's hands," said Councilman Wight.

Shaw Admits It.

"Miller did make a protest," said Shaw. "I remember of Miller saying that a restricted district was against the state and city laws, and that we might as well leave it to the mayor as to where murder should be committed."

as to leave it to him where other laws should be violated. I suggested that the council leave it to the mayor."

"I am not shirking any responsibility," declared Miller, "but I want to say right here that had I said such a thing, had I made such a motion, subsequent developments have proven to my mind conclusively that the restricted district was a promotion scheme. If I had even done so I have the evidence that would have changed my attitude. And I want to say right now that you can't run any restricted district in this city. I propose to stop you and you can't help yourself."

"I want to ask you a question," interrupted the mayor. "Did you not say 'How would you like it in the sixth ward close to the railroad tracks?'"

Promotion Scheme.

"I said it made no difference where it was located."

"One thing, you make charges of a speculative scheme—"

"I did not say 'speculative,' I said promotion scheme, and that is what it was."

"In this regard I want to say that none of you came to me after that meeting. None of you said anything."

"I did not know what was going on till building No. 1 was up. How could I come to you when I did not know what was going on? You didn't inform me that you were in touch with what was going on."

"I don't know," put in Shaw, "but if you fellows want to fight I think we had better go out in the alley and fight it out. If we don't, we had better go ahead with the meeting."

A resolution was introduced by Councilman L. O. Meigs, and unanimously adopted, forbidding the establishment of a restricted district in any part of the city. The mayor started to put the motion when Meigs asked for roll call.

"I think that is only a move to put members of the council on record," said the mayor. "The clerk will call the roll."

Schorn, Shaw, Wright, Smith, Miller, Mull and Meigs answered in the affirmative when their names were called, and the matter of a restricted district was settled for good.

The mayor then excused himself and went home, Councilman Meigs being elected to preside.

ELBOW JOINT REMOVED

Mrs. Bessie Austin, a resident of the Wenas valley, met with a painful accident Thursday afternoon while driving a fractious horse near her home. The animal became frightened and ran. Mrs. Austin jumped from the buggy and struck her right elbow on a rock in the road. She was picked up and carried to her home and a physician summoned. Examination showed that the elbow had been literally smashed to pieces. The surgeon spent several hours picking the pieces of bones from the flesh. It was finally necessary to remove the joint. The physician stated today that an artificial joint might be made for Mrs. Austin. If this can be done she will not altogether lose the use of her left arm.

The accident was an unusual one. A fracture of the elbow is often sustained by persons experiencing hard falls, but the bones are seldom found so badly crushed as were those in the arm of Mrs. Austin.

The injured woman is well known in the valley.

CENTRAL HEATING PLANT FOR CITY

P. A. Williams of Chicago Is Here Interesting Local Capital in Project.

If a sufficient amount of local support can be secured, which now appears probable, North Yakima will have a central heating plant within another year. This heating plant will furnish heat to the entire business section on both sides of the track and to a large portion of the residence section. P. A. Williams of Chicago, representing the Baker Central Heating System of Oskaloosa, Iowa, is in the city, and already has interested many of the North Yakima business men.

System is Investigated.

What makes the success of the plan look more than probable at the present time, is the fact that Mr. Williams was here about a year ago and enlisted the interest of a number of the local men at that time. Since then these men have been looking into the operations of the system in other places, and have been very favorably impressed with the information they have received. They are now taking hold of the matter in the light of this added information and are better prepared to take some definite action.

Mr. Williams says that the system is in successful operation in about 30 cities in each of the states of Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, and in a number of the other states in the middle west and east. Some of the larger cities that are equipped with the system are Terre Haute, Ind., Oak Park and Evanston, Chicago, Whitehall, Ill., Oskaloosa, Ia., and Billings, Mont.

Success at Billings.

The plant at Billings is the latest that has been installed and it has proved successful far beyond the expectations of the promoters. The temperature there last winter for 14 days in succession was from 10 degrees to 29 degrees below zero, and the plant furnished satisfaction at all times, both day and night.

The plan here would be to have local capitalists organize a company and install the plant, so that it would be purely a local institution. The location of the plant would not necessarily have to be in the central part of the district. The business section of North Yakima would be supplied by two lines of pipes run down the alleys on either side of Yakima avenue. The heat is furnished by hot water, and it is found that it is more economical than under the present plan of separate plants for each building. The cost is based on the number of square feet of radiating surface used.

Reduce Insurance Rates.

A feature that appeals strongly to the property owners in the business district is that with a central heating plant the insurance rates are reduced materially. This is the case because such a plant does away with all the separate furnaces and stoves, defective flues, careless janitors and all the other frequent causes of fire.

Mr. Williams says that wherever the plant has been installed the people who are served give testimony that they would give up any or all other modern conveniences rather than do without the central heating plant. In addition to pleasing the patrons the plants are found to be profitable to the stockholders.

Sees Great Advancement.

Mr. Williams was particularly impressed with the rapid advancement that has been made by North Yakima since he was here a year ago. He spoke in the highest terms of the splendidly paved streets, and of the many evidences of progress. More than all else he spoke of the satisfied, contented look on the faces of the people of North Yakima.

SAVES $10,000 A YEAR

The present garbage system that has been inaugurated is working satisfactorily and Dr. Nywening, city health officer, estimates that the present plan will be a saving of $10,000 in the city's finances. The ordinance establishing a rate for collecting garbage has proved satisfactory to property owners and the city scavenger is having no difficulty in making his collections. Citizens of North Yakima have given the board of health hearty co-operation in the effort to keep the city clean and make it more sanitary by complying with the new garbage regulations. People are purchasing metal receptacles with covers for garbage in compliance with the ordinance and there has been no difficulty encountered from any source since the new order of things started.

Hearty Response to Request.

"I am more than pleased the way the people have responded to the request to clean up," said Dr. Nywening this morning, "and I do not hesitate to say that North Yakima will be the cleanest and prettiest city in the state this year. I had no doubt but that the people would co-operate with the board of health in this movement but the ready response is more than I really anticipated."

The general cleaning up of the city that started a week ago is showing its effects. All of the alleys have been cleaned up by the board of health and the property owners joined in the movement by getting rid of rubbish in the yards, raking and beautifying the lawns. Along with the cleaning up process buckets of paint have been used, fences patched up and everything done that would add neatness to the general appearance of property.

Drs. Goodenow & Chase, eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses. Removed from the Mullins building to 304-305 Miller building. Office phone 4286; residence phone 2266.

RADICAL CHANGES IN MARRIAGE LAW

Hereafter persons wishing to marry must file with the county auditor affidavits of a licensed physician showing that they are free from disease, and also affidavits showing that they are not habitual criminals. These are the requirements under the new law which goes into effect 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature. County Auditor Crocker today received the full text of the law, which makes radical changes in the regulations of marriages and the issuance of licenses. The full text of the law follows:

Text of the Law.

No woman under the age of 45 years, or man of any age, except he marry a woman over the age of 45 years, either of whom is a common drunkard, habitual criminal, epileptic, imbecile, feeble minded person, idiot or insane person or person who has theretofore been afflicted with hereditary insanity, or is afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis in its advanced stages, or any contagious venereal disease, shall hereafter intermarry, or marry any other person within this state.

No clergyman or other person authorized by law to solemnize marriages within this state shall hereafter perform a marriage ceremony uniting such persons in matrimony, unless the female party to such marriage is over the age of 45 years.

The county auditor before a marriage license is issued, shall require each applicant therefor to file in his office upon blanks to be provided by the county for that purpose, an affidavit of at least one duly licensed physician other than the persons seeking the license, showing that the contracting parties are not within the inhibition above named; provided that in addition, the affidavit as to the male contracting party shall show that such male is not afflicted with any contagious venereal disease.

The county auditor shall also require the affidavit of some disinterested credible person showing that said persons are not habitual criminals; the female is over the age of 18 years and the male is over the age of 21 years, unless the consent in writing is obtained of the father, mother or other guardian of the person for whom the license is required in cases where the female is under the age of 18 years and the male under the age of 21 years; provided, that no consent shall be given, nor license issued, unless such female is over the age of 15 years. Said affidavit may be subscribed and sworn to before any person authorized to administer oaths.

Anyone knowingly swearing falsely to the statements contained in the affidavits mentioned in this act shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and punished as provided by the laws of the state of Washington.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for a period of not more than three years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

NEW SECTION SOLD ON YAKIMA'S RECORD

Edendale, on the Columbia, Is Established Because Yakima Has Been a Success.

On the reputation of North Yakima $150,000 worth of fruit land at Edendale, on the Columbia river, was sold within 90 days. This is the statement made by T. Waldo Murphy of Spokane, the owner and promoter of the project. Mr. Murphy has been in North Yakima for a few days on legal business, and tells of the remarkable success in the establishment of this new place. He gives North Yakima and Wenatchee credit for it.

People Flocked to Buy.

Mr. Murphy and his associates purchased the tract on the Columbia river, 45 miles north of Spokane. They laid it out in five-acre tracts and supplied it with a fine irrigating system. They then told of the wonderful success that had been attained by fruit raising at North Yakima and Wenatchee, and cited individual instances of what had been done. They said the same results could be obtained at Edendale. On the strength of these representations people flocked to the new section. The opportunity to get in on something as good as North Yakima was one which people who knew of this section could not afford to miss, and the result was the speedy sale of all the land.

Mr. Murphy is one of the most enthusiastic boosters for North Yakima. He says it is the greatest apple district in the northwest, and says that the people of this section and of the valley themselves do not fully appreciate what they have here. He says that the time will come, and that within the lives of those who are well past middle age, when North Yakima will have a population of 100,000. He says that with intensive ranching the results here will be beyond the expectations of the most sanguine.

Mr. Murphy says he is the owner of the largest individual apple orchard in the world. He has 8,000 acres set out to standard winter apples, Jonathans, Winesaps and Yellow Newtown Pippins. Two hundred acres of that orchard will be in bearing this year.

Mr. Murphy says that the sale of the Edendale property was accomplished almost entirely through newspaper advertising. He found that this was the best and most satisfactory method of reaching the largest number of people. The land at Edendale was purchased for $8.60 an acre and it is now worth $300 an acre, and as the orchards are being developed of course the values are increasing.

BUYS FOR $1300 SELLS FOR $10,000

Five years ago Will Wyman came to North Yakima from Wisconsin and bought five acres on Nob Hill for $1300. Today he sold the property for $10,000. He has made a good living off the place during the time he has lived on it. He has spent very little on improvements, making the gain of $8,700 practically all profit. This is a fair sample of Yakima valley speculation. The purchaser is Mrs. Jennie R. Pike of Eau Claire, Wis. She paid nearly all cash. Mrs. Pike is the wife of a minister and prominent writer of Eau Claire. They visited North Yakima last summer and were so taken with the country that Mrs. Pike returned this spring, resolved to buy a home. The deal was made through Nelson & Palmer.

To Make Home Here.

Mr. Pike will arrive in two weeks and the easterners will prepare to remain in North Yakima for the remainder of their days. The Wyman place is on the crest of Nob Hill. It commands a beautiful view in all directions and is an ideal spot on which to build. The new Nob Hill water system will supply the place with city water. It is about two miles from the business portion of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Pike plan to improve the place and make it an ideal country home. As stated above, Mr. Pike is a writer of some note. He purposes to rest for a time after arriving here and will then resume his duties. Nob Hill is blessed with many ministers who have retired to lead the life of a fruit grower. Mr. Pike will not feel like a stranger in a strange land. He will probably be selling real estate before the year is out.

HUSBAND ABANDONED WIFE IS THE CHARGE

Alleging that her husband wilfully abandoned her over a year ago Anna Fisher Willmon has brought an action for divorce from John Willmon. The complaint was filed today in the superior court by Wendt & Taylor, the attorneys for the plaintiff.

The plaintiff alleges that she and the defendant were married on January 1, 1906. There has been no issue of that marriage, and there is no community property of any kind. It is alleged that on March 11, 1907, the defendant abandoned the plaintiff, and has ever since without cause or provocation on the part of the plaintiff, continued such abandonment. The plaintiff says that she has always been a faithful and obedient wife.

The plaintiff asks that the bonds of matrimony be dissolved, and that she be given her maiden name, Anna Fisher. She also asks for her costs and disbursements, and for such other relief as is proper.

MARCH WAS DRY MONTH

Yakima valley farmers are not in the habit of praying for rain but sometimes they wish Jupiter Pluvius would loosen up a bit and send forth some of the showers that the west side people are blessed with. This is one of the times. The month just ended was almost entirely without rain. The record kept by Observer Albert Bender shows that the aggregate precipitation for the month of March was only 15 one-hundredths of an inch in the Yakima valley. Undoubtedly the month was one of the driest spring months ever experienced in this section.

The month was warm throughout. Very little wind blew. The maximum temperature was 73. Crops are not suffering for want of water but the roads have grown exceedingly dusty. Irrigation has not been begun except in a few places. The heavy snows of the past winter caused the ground to be in excellent condition and water was not needed except to keep the dust down.

High land under cultivation will be very productive this season. The snow has remained low in the foothills and there have been some rains in the Cowlitz and in other valleys where the altitude is high.

COMES FROM CHICAGO.

Visitor Here for Health so Impressed He Will Probably Locate.

George Bridge of Chicago is visiting in North Yakima, the guest of F. H. Bayne. Bridge has been on the board of trade in Chicago, but for a time he has been in poor health, and acting on suggestions in letters written him by Mr. Bayne he has come out here with the hope of receiving benefit. Although he has been here only a few days he feels much improved, and he has become so favorably impressed with the valley that it is very probable that he will remain here permanently. He is now looking around and endeavoring to make a selection from the many opportunities that are offered for investment. Mr. Bridge believes that there is a great future in store for the Yakima valley.

SUING THE PAPER FOR LIBEL.

Guardian of Bertha Ludgate Brings Action Against Republic.

Bertha Ludgate, a minor, by her guardian ad litem, Mary E. Ludgate, has sued the Republic Publishing company for damages in the sum of $2500. The Republic printed a local item some time ago to the effect that Bertha and one Ed Hyser were arrested for occupying the same room in the Imperial rooming house, and further said that the young lady would probably be sent to the reform school.

This she conceives to be false, scandalous, malicious and libelous, and she wants the sum mentioned to soothe her wounded feelings.

William M. Thompson is attorney for the young lady and it is understood that he has brought a similar action for her against the Herald.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give $100 for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

DIVORCE SEEKERS' MECCA.

Reno Promises to Become Popular with Dissatisfied Couples.

Reno, Nev., April 7.—Reno promises to become the mecca for society men and women seeking release from galling marital bonds. For several months past there has been a steady influx of mismatched husbands and wives and every day is adding one or more new arrivals to the colony. Among those already here are a number of persons prominent in society in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and other eastern cities.

Sioux Falls, S. D., recently was deprived of the divorce industry by the people of the state, who voted that they had suffered enough from unpleasant notoriety. For a few days restless members of fashionable society were in a quandary, but their legal advisers notified them that Nevada's laws were the easiest ever framed. Promptly Reno became the mecca of those having soul-mates, affinities or chronic cases of "incompatibility of temperament."

Among those who have recently joined the divorce colony are several women well known in New York society. Mrs. Maturin L. Delafield, Jr., formerly the beautiful Lettice Lee Sands, will probably carry off the palm for the first decree obtained by a member of the New York smart set. She has now been a resident of Nevada for more than six months and in the early part of this month she filed her suit for absolute divorce.

LAND COMPANY INCORPORATES.

Yakima Men, who Made Big Purchase, Associate as Yakima Heights Co.

The Yakima men who recently purchased the section of land of the Yakima-Roslyn Orchard Lands company, about ten miles west of the city for $64,000, have incorporated under the name of the Yakima Heights company, and will immediately cut the land up into 5 and 10 acre plats and put it on the market. A deed was filed today transferring the land to the new corporation. The officers are: President, Dr. A. H. Henry; secretary, John H. Weigel; treasurer, L. O. Janek; trustees, H. Cahalan, L. O. Janek, Arthur Henry and John H. Weigel. Two hundred acres of the land are being cleared and plowed. It all lies under the Tieton canal and all but 26 acres of the entire tract will be irrigated, according to reports from the reclamation service.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

Brief Record of Local Happenings for the Week in North Yakima and Vicinity.

B. L. Bull writes the Democrat that he has changed his headquarters from Ocean Park to Pasadena.

Yakima City for the first time in nearly 20 years is a "dry" town. The three saloons there quit doing business last Monday, two through inability to secure license renewals. The license of the third one, which did not expire until July next, was revoked by the council on account of alleged violation of law.

Fred Brooker, who was up from Portland on account of the death of his father, the late Leroy Brooker, returned to his home in that city Saturday.

Mrs. L. V. McWhorter, of Fairview, who has been seriously ill, is now reported on the road to recovery.

An examination for mail clerks and carriers will be conducted at the post-office in this city April 28. Full particulars can be obtained of Herman Leeper at the money order window. Mr. Leeper is secretary of the board of civil service examiners.

The local lodge of Elks at a recent meeting voted to accept the bid of Contractor Hibarger for the erection of the new temple and clubhouse, the bid being for $46,000. The new temple will be erected on the three lots of the lodge which join the court house grounds on the south, and when completed will be an ornament to the city. To begin building operations the lodge has about $10,000 in its treasury, in addition to which building bonds to the amount of $40,000 are being sold among the 400 members. It is hoped to have the building started by May 1.

The Masonic Temple association held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting at the court house Monday evening. It is understood that the association instructed its building committee to defer building operations on the new temple until late in the summer. It is expected that the foundations will be laid this season and perhaps a portion of the superstructure. The new temple will stand at the northwest corner of East Yakima avenue and Fourth street. It will cover a ground space of 50x140 feet and will be six stories in height.

Messrs Huff and DeKay have purchased the local coal business of the Rose Land Co. That corporation will hereafter confine its activities in the full trade to the mining of coal. The company's mine is located three miles above Roslyn.

The Washington Grill opened up again on Wednesday under new management.

Dr. P. Frank returned home Sunday from Seattle, where he attended a meeting of the state board of health, of which he is a member.

The management of the Commercial club has made a request of the funeral directors of the city that they no longer follow the old time habit of heading funeral processions up Yakima avenue on the way to Tahoma cemetery. The arguments used were that the processions often block traffic on the main thoroughfare, especially in crossing the railroad tracks and that furthermore a too frequent sight of the hearse is not considered good for the nerves of the average person. The funeral directors seeing the point, readily agreed and will hereafter use Walnut street for funeral purposes. The incident has caused a good deal of comment, pro and con, locally.

Horatio Crosno recently sold the 40 acre Traynor farm on the Ahtanum bench to Spokane men, the consideration being $5,000. The farm is a desirable one with several acres of bearing orchard.

The Civic Federation at a recent meeting held at the court house declared its unalterable opposition to the establishment of a new restricted district in this city. One member, who was rash enough to advocate such a movement was, it is said, severely sat upon by the meeting.

The funeral of Leroy C. Brooker, who died April 2, was held from the family residence on East Yakima avenue Saturday morning and was attended by many old friends of the family. Mr. Brooker was a native of New York and 72 years of age. Mr. Brooker and family came to Yakima county from Denver, Colo., in 1884. He is survived by his aged wife and one son, Fred Brooker, now a resident of Portland. Two sisters reside in the east. J. C. Brooker, the well known city clerk, was a cousin to Leroy Brooker, and made his home with him for many years.

The Ellensburg Capital reports serious damage done in many Kittitas orchards during the past winter by reason of field mice girdling young trees. It is presumed that the damage was inflicted during the extreme cold weather in January when the mice and other pests had to rustle hard for a living.

A. A. Nichol, representing a Yakima syndicate, has purchased a controlling block of the stock of the Ellensburg Horse and Cattle Range association, a corporation of stockmen on the west side of the river. A large body of land is included in the assets. The price is said to be $20,000.—Ellensburg Localizer.

Dr. Elmer E. Heg, formerly of this city, but for several years past a resident of Seattle, was appointed last Saturday as state health commissioner under the provisions of the new law, with a salary of $3600 per annum. It will be his duty to travel over the state and inspect sanitary conditions. As commissioner Dr. Heg will have a very wide scope of authority.

Mrs. Kellogg, who has been visiting at the home of William Smith for the past few months, had a stroke of paralysis Sunday evening, which left her in a helpless condition. On Wednesday she was removed to the Tappanish hospital where she will be cared for.

Would not equal the prices we are going to unload our stock to the public during the next fifteen days. We are going to close out and quit merchandising entirely and invest our money in Tieton lands. We believe that every dollar invested at this time will return us at least four dollars within the next year. This is not idle talk. We mean business, and as we have been unable to sell the stock as an entirety we have decided to cut the prices to less than half of what you would have to pay at other stores for like merchandise, and let it go fast. We carry fine China, beautiful Vases, elegant Dinner Sets, Toilet Sets, Lamps, Tumblers, Graniteware, Tinware, great variety of Kitchen Utensils, Sillerware, French Bristle Brushes, Dolls, Jewelry, Etc.
