Dear Mr. Relander:

We want you to know that we greatly appreciate the co-operation you extended to the Public Relations Department during our "Courageous Ministers" Assembly.

Your newspaper articles were very well written and without a doubt inspired many of your readers to greater Christian thoughts and activity.

We also appreciate the value of such publicity because it causes the people to think more of their great Creator, Jehovah God, and the necessity of applying the Christian principles he has outlined as a guide for our daily lives in the Bible. Personally, I want to say it has been a genuine pleasure working with you.

As this convention closes, our thoughts are already on the future when we can again have the pleasure of working with you and renewing our acquaintance.

Sincerely yours,

William Couch
