

[Crews, Margaret

Dear Mr Relander:

This letter from Mr Lipton,
is quite revealing(?).

I wish you had time to come
up, some evening soon,

or if you and Mrs Relander

could come for dinner on Sun.

abt 1:00 - you could look over the Mss, and suggest

what might be required to make it - fit for "decent people"

to read, Ha! I think it's grand!

so do others.

over /

I am recovering from a severe cold, and not so skookum yet as to feel equal to a trip to Yak. and besides you do not have time to fool away with outside matters - Let me know if you ~~are~~ coming for Sunday dinner.

Am always home in the evening. I am puzzled on a memorial page, because the list for all three Louis C. Tietze Weeks is long. Mrs Painter has designed a beautiful scroll - Hastily Yours before breakfast M. E. C.

[Enclosure. Crews 1947]

bx

THE CAXTON PRINTERS, LTD.

CALDWELL, IDAHO

November 15, 1947

Margaret Crews
Tieton, Washington

Dear Mrs. Crews:

We have your letter of November 11th regarding your HISTORICAL REMINISCENCES OF THE TIETON PROJECT.

It would be impossible for us to give you any figure as to producing an edition of one or two thousand copies of this work, without having the complete manuscript before us, Mrs. Crews. We would also have to have all of the illustrating material -- whatever pictures you planned on including in the finished book, and it would be of assistance to our production department in making up the estimate, if you would accompany the manuscript with a book which represents about what you have in mind in the way of paper, type, page size, binding, etc.

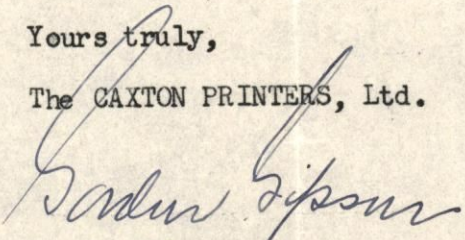

As we have advised in previous correspondence, it might take us considerable time to get a private printing of your book from the press -- perhaps six months or a little longer.

If, despite the delay to be anticipated, you still wish us to prepare an estimate, please send us the manuscript and the other material we have requested, and we will be happy to quote you without delay.

With very best regards, we remain

Yours truly,

The CAXTON PRINTERS, Ltd.

Gordon Gipson, Treasurer

GG:ey