Dear Click:

Thought I'd better drop you a line so that you'll know just how active your Monterey Peninsula "agent" is. I contacted the Poor Scholar Book Store and the library in Monterey. They both displayed interest, and promised to order copies.

On July 15th we bought an established real estate agency in Carmel, and I am now in the Carmel office, in charge, as a matter of fact, with three salesmen and an office girl. So I immediately went to work in your behalf and one of the leading bookstores, The Book Worm has promised to order copies, too. This shop I can watch very carefully because they're right next door to our office.

The book sounds interesting and I am looking forward to reading it. So ~~does~~ the story of your life as evidenced in the brief three page letter you sent me. Next you should write an autobiography.

Business here is more than satisfactory, and I keep wondering why I didn't leave the theatre business years ago. We moved into a new house on August 1st. 25 happy years of G.I. payments. So I guess we're going to stay in Carmel for quite a spell.

Note that you will have some promotional material available. Send it along and I will distribute it where it will do the most good.

Kindest regards to you and Lorraine,

Sincerely,

Lawrence
