PROGRESS IS BEING MADE

The Electric Railroad Project Now Looks Like a Winner.

A meeting of the Commercial club executive committee in charge of the electric railroad project was held at the office of Edward Whitson Monday night. Those present were Alex. Miller, A. B. Weed, Edward Whitson, O. A. Fechter, W. L. Steinweg, George Donald, W. W. Robertson and Messrs. McNaught, Splawn and Cull.

Reports were made by Splawn and Cull, who have been at work on the right of way between here and Sunnyside. Good progress is being made, though the work is slower than expected. On the lower end of the line the greater part of the right of way has been secured, or negotiations are pending. Mr. Splawn stated that a meeting would be held at Parker Bottom Tuesday night, at which he expected to secure about eight miles of right of way.

The men and this work have spent much time conferring with the farmers down the valley on the subject of the location of the road. By changing the route in some places as asked for by people over whose land it runs the greater part of the difficulties have been overcome. As a general thing persons who are asked for rights of way are disposed to be reasonable. Some have donated the land. Others have asked pay for the actual value of the land used. A few are damaged by the line cutting through their places, or running close to their houses. Most of these ask only a fair compensation. A few have asked exorbitant sums for strips of land that could be taken without damaging them materially, but these are few and far between. As a general thing, the people are anxious for the road, and not a few men have come forward and voluntarily promised contributions of cash toward securing the rights of way. It is yet too early to estimate the cost of the right of way between Yakima and Sunnyside. Many land owners are not residents, and these can be dealt with only through the mails. But little has been done in the Moxee toward securing the right of way, but by the end of the week the bulk of the work below there will have been completed.

The original plan was to use the county road wherever possible. Considerable opposition to this plan was manifested, and the process of securing title is long and tedious, so that it was abandoned. The line will run, wherever practicable, alongside the county road.

The soliciting committee reported about $13,000 pledged to build the bridge and purchase right of way.

Mr. McNaught made a definite proposition to the committee to undertake building up a road from the bridge at Springville, up the Naches about 18 miles, and also up the Cowlitz, carrying on this part of the work with the Sunnyside line. He asked for rights of way. The committee accepted his proposition, and members were appointed as sub-committees to confer with residents of the Ahtanum and Naches.

The plan of locating the road and securing rights of way in the Ahtanum and Naches will be slightly different from that followed in the lower valley. There the surveyors were sent out and conferences with the land owners were held later. In the other valleys the inhabitants will be asked to decide for themselves approximately where they want the road to run, and then to assist the committees here in securing right of way.

The name selected by Mr. McNaught for the system of roads he proposes to build out of this place is Yakima Valley Central railroads.

Mr. McNaught stated to the committee Monday night that his plans now embrace the development of 4000 horse power at or near the Horseshoe Bend on the Naches, and the construction of approximately 99 miles of railroad. The cost of the electric plant and equipments delivered here will be upwards of $700,000.

To Protect the Fish.

T. R. Fisher says that fishing in the streams above here is getting poorer each year, and it seems probable that in a few years there will be no fish to speak of in the rivers. Tens of thousands of them are destroyed every year when the irrigation ditches are closed. Mr. Fisher thinks that wire screens should be put over the intakes of all canals to keep the fish from leaving the rivers.

No Damage Done.

The wind storm of last Monday afternoon was unpropitious in its strength. Only minor accidents have been reported, however, but some who were out of the city during the storm had unpleasant experiences with flying dirt and dust. The telephone and telegraph people report no interruptions by fallen wires, but some wires were down for a short time.

OUR OLD FRIEND, COL. LEWIS

Shows Up in Yakima With All His Old Time Grace and Beauty.

Col. James Hamilton Lewis, once the leader and idol of the Washington state democracy, came to town Tuesday night. The colonel brought with him all the old time graces and his pristine beauty. His whiskers scintillated as of yore in the morning light, and his waving hair, though a trifle thinner than it was, still matches his whiskers. It may be truly said that the years effect them but little. They are just as sensational as they were in the territorial days, and just as effulgently eloquent as when they first dazzled the eyes and delighted the ears of senators and congressmen at Washington. It was cruelly telegraphed to the coast some weeks ago that they had been damaged in a riot at Chicago. This tale, we are all glad to know, was not founded on fact. It was the foot, and not the whiskers, of Col. Lewis, upon which a truck team in the Windy City trampled remorselessly and ruthlessly. The foot is not in good shape yet, but it is the only thing that is the matter with the genial, the happy and the care-free colonel.

Col. Lewis had just returned from New York, Chicago and Washington. The colonel, since he quit being the frontispiece of the state democracy, has gone into business. He is president of a beet sugar company, and though we and all his old friends blush to say it, he has been trying to incorporate his company with some more companies, by means of a merger, and make a grasping monopoly of it. When he was an innocent democratic politician he wouldn't have done anything of that kind; but now the lust for money in large gobs is in his veins and he hesitates at nothing. He would as lief organize a trust as be polite to a lady—if there was anything in it. Unfortunately for the colonel, but happily for us who consume his sugar, he was unable to organize this particular trust. He tried hard enough, but failed ingloriously.

Col. Lewis still takes a deep interest in politics, though business cares and the failure of the people who endorse his whiskers to endorse his peculiar political doctrines have interfered to prevent him from participating as actively as he desired.

"I do not believe," he said to the REPUBLIC while here, "that Mr. Roosevelt will be re-nominated without a struggle, and he may fail. The feeling in the east among many people who are opposed to the trusts is that the president is merely making a grand stand play against the trusts. On the other hand, they who believe the trust is a good thing, and who believe the legitimate outgrowth of the business interests of the country. Then he is not paying enough deference to the machine politicians. He makes appointments without regard to their wishes. The machine will be against him. I believe the Hanna people will be against him, and that Hanna himself wants the nomination. If he cannot get it his friends will throw their strength for Root, in the belief that it will be good politics to select a New York man to defeat the president, who is from that state."

"I don't know very much about politics at home, for I have been absent so long. I have been able to follow the senatorial fight. I see that it is the old struggle between Wilson and Ankeny, with a make-believe effort in behalf of Mr. Preston. Why don't the people of eastern and central Washington select a good man, and demand his election? I am a King county citizen, but I believe the senator to be elected this year should come from east of the mountains, and I think one senator should always come from there."

The two parts of the state, divided by the mountains, have diverse interests and industries, and a man from west of the mountains cannot capably represent you people on this side. The great questions you have to deal with, such as mining, agriculture, grazing, irrigation and so on, are questions with which our people concern themselves but little, and you need your own representative in the senate. Of course, being a democrat, I am for Senator Turner's re-election, and I shall urge this as one argument in his favor this fall, but on general principles I shall always maintain that it is unjust to the people of the whole state to elect both senators from the same side of the mountains.

"My judgment is that the next senator will be ex Judge M. J. Gordon of Spokane."

"Am I out of politics? So far as desiring anything for myself is concerned, I am. I cannot afford to be in politics. I must make money, and that is what I am devoting my time and energies to now. Then, of course, the signs are not propitious for me, nor for any democrat just now. These are not as good democratic times as they might be. I do not want a nomination for any office."

"The report that I am going to make my home in the east is untrue. I love the state of Washington, and I shall not leave it."

Col. Lewis visited Yakima to confer with Whitson & Parker regarding some matters involved in an irrigation suit at Ellensburg. He went on to Seattle Wednesday afternoon.

Delivery of Mail.

The department has given notice that hereafter mail carriers on star routes in this and some other states shall deliver mail along the route for persons living thereon or near, into receptacles to be provided for the purpose. Persons who desire their mail so delivered must provide the receptacles and notify their postmasters in writing of that desire. No particular design of box or other receptacle is required, but it must not be locked and it must be so placed that the carrier can deliver mail without leaving the road or his vehicle. The carrier is not required to collect mail along the route, but there is no objection to his doing so.

RAISE $30,000 FOR SCHOOLS

Taxpayers Recommend a Bond Issue for two Houses and an Addition.

When 19 taxpayers and the members of the board of directors, with the clerk and superintendent of schools, had gathered at the Central school on Wednesday evening in response to a call for a meeting to express sentiment on bonding the city for funds to increase the school room space, President Barge outlined the position in which the school directors find themselves and the difficulties confronting them. Director Nicholas then explained the long explanation of the directors had been made, a resolution was handed to Clerk Peck for submission to the meeting. The resolution provided for an expression of sentiment to the effect that a bond issue is necessary and that bonds of 20 years' duration and bearing interest at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent per annum be issued in the sum of $28,000, to be used as follows: $6000 in the purchase of a site and erection of a four-room grade school house of brick in the Nob Hill section; $5000 for a two-room addition of brick to the Columbia school, and $17,000 for an eight-room brick grade school house to be built on the city's property on north Naches avenue.

Questions were asked and comments made by Alexander Miller, A. E. Knerr, F. C. Hall, W. B. Dudley, G. S. Hough, G. T. Aumiller and T. A. Davis. The first proposed amendment to the resolution was submitted by Mr. Davis, who wanted another thousand dollars raised to be applied to the Nob Hill house and its furnishings. The amendment was defeated.

Mr. Dudley then commented on the raise of salaries made on Monday evening by the school board. Mr. Knerr stated that in the Nob Hill section of the district there were but about 50 children of school age, a number too small in his estimation to warrant the proposed outlay. Then talk came up about the unsatisfactory condition of the Columbia school building and the probability that very soon the center of population of the section would require a house on the lower bench of Nob Hill. Mr. Aumiller moved to apply the $5000 item on the account of the Nob Hill house and leave the Columbia house as it is, but his suggestion was not concurred in.

Alexander Miller then proposed an amendment fixing $30,000 as the amount to be raised, the additional $2000 to be applied on the eight-room house proposed for Naches avenue, and providing for the payment of the bonds as optional after ten years. This was adopted. Mr. Peck then explained the amendment as amended was unanimously adopted.

Result of a Parker Quarrel.

Sheriff Tucker and Deputy Sheriff Leach went to Parker on Wednesday and arrested two lads Harry and Guy Williams, and brought them to this city, charged with assaulting J. T. Buzzard. The lads are only 17 and 15 years old, respectively. It is said that the charge and arrest are the outgrowth of a neighbors' quarrel over cattle. The trial of the case is on before Justice Taggard at the REPUBLIC goes to press.

CORNERSTONE IN POSITION

Interesting Ceremonies at the Presbyterian Church—Historical Sketch.

When the new Presbyterian church, the corner stone of which was laid last Friday afternoon, is finished it will represent in its structure the three distinct eras in the development of the organization to its present stage. The smaller wing of the old structure is the first building in which the congregation worshipped. The new portion bespeaks the present and the larger part of the old church the intermediate period.

One of the most interesting features of the ceremonies was the feminine address made by Hugh K. Sinclair, one of the members of the church and one of its elders from the beginning. Mr. Sinclair is one of three of the original members of the church who were present at last Friday's ceremonies, the other two being Mrs. Sinclair and Ezra Leaming. The others of the original eleven have become scattered, some of them having passed from earth. The following facts are taken from Mr. Sinclair's address:

The first sermon preached in North Yakima was delivered on the 8th day of March, 1885, by Rev. John R. Thompson, then synodical missionary. He died in the Philippines while serving as chaplain to the First Washington regiment. The church was organized on March 15, 1885, and on the 29th of the same month the little church was built at a cost of $400. It was in the bustling days following the removal from Yakima City and things were done quickly, even the organization and erection of churches. The larger part of the church was built in 1887 at a cost of $1300. The undertaking of the present time is costing $12,000. From the original membership of 11 the church has grown to 200.

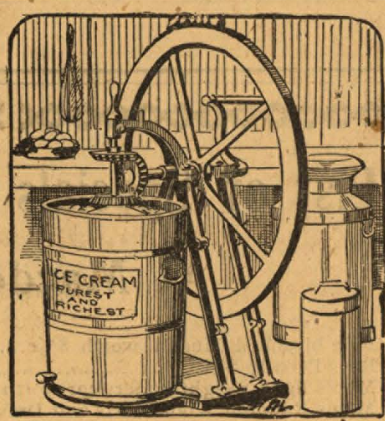

Between 150 and 200 people gathered about the stone at Third and B streets on Friday afternoon. The principal address was made by Rev. J. M. Thompson, whose theme was the necessity of having a corner stone of the spiritual structure as well as for the temporal one. It had been expected that John P. Hartman of Seattle would make an address but he was unable to be here.

Rev. Dr. F. L. Hayden placed the stone in position and introduced the receptacle containing the list of membership and other evidence of the condition of the church and society in the year 1902. He made a very short explanatory address of the articles placed in the box. Rev. J. J. Tickner of the Baptist church pronounced the benediction and after singing "Coronation" the company dispersed.

Fake Tracy Story.

A paragraph in a Seattle paper about Tracy has been a source of amusement to North Yakima people. A correspondent at Palmer has the following:

One mile from this place lives J. H. Stroud, a rancher, who in 1886 and 1887 was a deputy sheriff under ex-Sheriff A. J. Shaw, of North Yakima. Stroud was met this morning by ex-Sheriff James Woolery and J. A. Bunce. To Woolery the former deputy said he knew Harry Tracy when the criminal lived at North Yakima in the latter part of 1886 and the early part of 1887. Stroud declares that Tracy was then known as Henry Stacy, and that there are now dozens of people at North Yakima that remember him very well. Tracy or Stacy, the name he then went under, was a mysterious individual who lived well and worked little. He figured in many town brawls in which he was usually bested. The last seen of Stacy was in the spring of 1887 when he became involved in a scrape with a married woman. The husband threatened to kill Stacy on sight and he left North Yakima. Since then, as far as Stroud knows, the convict has not been back. Stroud says that Stacy was a coward; that he had no courage whatever; that anyone with coolness could handle him with ease. Stroud declares that it is absolutely false to say that the desperado is brave. On the contrary he asserts that Tracy would never fight on equal grounds. He says the outlaw would take undue advantage and fire only from ambush as has been true in every battle he has fought since he struck King County soil ten days ago today. Stroud is inclined to the belief that Tracy still has friends in North Yakima and that he is making that way. The closest and best way over the mountains is over Stampede Pass which Stroud says Tracy will attempt.

Mr. Shaw says that he knew Stroud but that he was never one of his deputies though he often applied for work at the Sheriff's office. Shaw also knew Stacy just as a dozen others did, but no one can be found who believes that he is Tracy. Stacy was a thorn and while not of a high order of citizenship was never considered to be a thug.

The authorities here feel that Stroud was looking for a little cheap notoriety. They are confident Tracy was never in this vicinity and has no friends hereabouts to whose care he is planning to commit himself.

Redistricting Postponed.

Before adjourning last Friday the county commissioners took up the matter of the proposed redistricting of the county. When it was found that the census returns had not been tabulated so as to be immediately available for the purpose, the commissioners decided to lay the subject over to the first week in August when they meet as a board of equalization. The assessor was instructed to have the census figures in shape for the work at that time.

FRUITS AT THE STATE FAIR

Conditions for Exhibits as Laid Down by the Commissioners.

Secretary Gunn of the state fair commission desires to call special attention to conditions regarding the fruit exhibits. A note in the published premium list gives the following conditions.

In all fruit exhibits, whether in plats or in collections, five specimens shall constitute a plate or exhibit in apple, peach and quince, while ten specimens shall constitute a plate of plums, crab-apples and nuts; one bunch of grapes shall be considered a plate. Fruits entered in plate exhibits will be staged separately from collections, and in no case can plate exhibits be considered as part of a collection. Each exhibitor, to the best of his ability, shall name every variety staged by him. No blemished fruits shall be considered by the Judges. Scab, scale, rot and worm holes shall be regarded as blemishes. Plates for staging fruits will be furnished by the commission.

There is more catarh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's catarh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. So Did His Mother in Law.

The following jocosse josh on the medical fraternity is receiving a good deal of attention in the papers nowadays. A certain citizen set out four shade trees for the doctor. Later the doctor was called to give medical assistance to the citizen's mother in law who soon after died. The doctor presented his bill and the citizen paid it. After paying the bill the citizen happened to remember that the doctor owed him for the shade trees and presented his bill, explaining that he forgot to do so when he settled. The doctor looked at the bill and remarked: "But those shade trees died." "So did my mother in law," was the prompt reply. The doctor asked him for the receipt of the bill and checked for their discussion.

PLANS FOR CITY'S INCREASE

W. L. & P. Co. Doubling Its Capacity to Keep Ahead of North Yakima.

For over a month work has been quietly going on in contemplation of the improvement of the plant of the Water, Light & Power company on C street over the west line of the city. Workmen have been enlarging the flume leading to the plant so as to make it possible to double the capacity, thus providing ultimately a total of 1000 horse power.

An addition is to be built on the northerly end of the present structure in which will be installed new pumps and a new 500 horse power three-phase electric generator. Provision is also made for the accommodation of an additional boiler. It is also determined to put in three new Victor horizontal turbine wheels to give the added power rendered necessary for the enlargement of the current produced.

These improvements have been decided upon because of the growth of the city and the probable need of more electricity in the future as the city develops. Edward Whitson of the company states that the policy is to build at the present time for the present and also to look toward the future and provide at this time what is sure to be needed. While the business has been growing steadily with the city and there is no special reason for the enlargement at the present, it takes no far-sighted man to see that in a very short time the present plant will be wholly inadequate.

National Guard Camp.

Capt. F. T. Liggett of company C has received orders for his command in connection with the trip for state service at American Lake. The order provides for the departure of the local company from North Yakima at some time early Sunday morning, when a train bearing company H of Spokane, I of Watsburg and L of Colfax will reach here. The boys will march from Tacoma, passing one night in a shelter tent camp. The state camp this year is to be named for the late J. J. Weisenberger, major of the 1st battalion of the Washington volunteers, and later colonel commanding the national guard regiment, a statue of whom surmounts the memorial fountain here. The government inspection officer will be Maj. W. R. Abercrombie of the 30th U. S. infantry and upon his report much depends on the attitude of the government toward the national guard. Another feature of camp this year will be the attendance of the 8th field battery of regulars from Vancouver barracks, Capt. W. L. Kenly commanding, which will march overland from Vancouver.

SOME SALARIES ARE RAISED

Superintendent Jolley and Principals Stair and Plumb Favored by the Board.

Much of the work of settling the staff of teachers in the city schools was accomplished at Monday evening's meeting of the school directors and the general situation of the present financial condition was talked over in the light of possibilities for increased school room. All the members of the board were present.

One of the first things decided upon was the selection from among a number of applicants of three additional teachers for the public schools. It was agreed that perhaps it will be found that five more will be needed, but only three were chosen. The three are Charlotte Pendergast of Ellensburg, Ella L. Howland of Iowa and Maud Patterson who taught the Cowiche school last year and comes highly recommended.

The question of advances in salary occasioned discussion and the board was not a unit on all matters. Superintendent A. R. Jolley was retained for the coming year and $100 added to his salary, in view of the fact that he is putting in his vacation here and superintending alterations and repairs to the buildings as well as performing other work. Mrs. Ella S. Stair, the principal of the high school was retained and given an increase of $10 per month, making her salary $100 per month. Director Nichols opposed the raise in salary and in so doing explained his position as follows:

First, for the reason that the receipts of this school district, as shown by statements rendered and a careful examination of all sources of revenue, will not permit any general accruing of salaries as seems to be contemplated.

Second, that the raising of the wages of one teacher $25 a month in two successive years is unjust and inequitable to other teachers equally deserving.

Third, I believe that $90 per month, the present rate of wages for this position, will secure an equally competent and capable teacher for the duties of this principalship, and one just as, if not more, acceptable to the taxpayers of the district.

On motion of Director Cannon Mrs. Stair was declared chosen and her salary fixed at $100 per month. Mr. Nichols then demanded that his reasons be declared in the minutes.

Principal Plumb of the Central school received an advance of $10 per month and is to receive $90 a month. When the application of Miss Eva C. May for an increase in salary came up there was considerable discussion caused by the statement that Miss May had given the board no intimation whether she would return next year or not. Director Cannon put all speculation at rest by saying that he was authorized to say that she would return. Miss May was retained, but at her old salary, which is $65 a month. Nothing was done to select a man to take the place of Prof. C. H. Armstrong. A number of applications had been received and discussed and the matter left open.

In all cases Director Nichols made protest against increases on the ground that he did not know where the money was coming from and he objected to fixing salaries unless it was known.

The board referred the matter of the selection of school janitors to Superintendent Jolley.

There have been received a number of applications for the positions. Clerk Peck was instructed to examine into the condition of insurance on the school buildings and contents and report.

Clerk Peck submitted his report on the school system for the year. It showed that in the district were 1558 children of school age, of which number 1254 were actually enrolled, with an average daily attendance of 813.2. The number of actual days attendance was 129,174.5 in the public schools and 18,922 in the parochial school, a total of 148,096.5 for the entire district. The number of pupils who attended school for a period of less than three months was 24. The number of pupils in private schools was 193. The total seating capacity of the schools is 1200. The estimated value of the school property is $73,870. There are 1115 volumes in the district library.

FARED VERY WELL, INDEED

Washington Delegation Secured Large Appropriations for the State.

Washington July 3.—Senator Forter, of Washington, in summarizing the work of the recent session of congress, said: "The senate work with unusual energy during the session of congress just ended. Business like attention was given to practically all matters demanding consideration and a large amount of legislation, some of which is of far-reaching importance to our country, was advanced and enacted in a comparatively short time."

"The Washington state delegation has much to be proud of, when we consider the total net results of the first session of the 57th congress. Two items, aggregating over $2,000,000, head the list of appropriations, the grand total, not including indirect appropriations and salaries, reaching nearly $3,000,000. The items referred to are in the aggregate given below:

Aids to commerce $1,012,225
For our Naval stations 1,110,500
Postoffice buildings and sites 250,000
Total $2,472,725
Included in the aids to commerce is $34,200 for lighthouses on Puget Sound, as follows:
At Blaine $25,000
At Battery Point 6,000
At Brown's Point (additional) 3,000

Total $34,200
"The bulk of the appropriations for aids to commerce was carried in the river and harbor bills, in providing for continuous contracts, such as the items of $117,000 for the Everett harbor and $155,775 for the Gray's harbor jetty work. The river and harbor improvement items for which appropriations were made by acts of congress during the last session are as follows:
Olympia harbor $28,000
Tacoma harbor 175,000
Gray's Harbor, inner harbor 50 00
Whatcom harbor 25,000
Seattle harbor 160,000
Dolumbia river at the Cascades 30,000
At the Dalles and Celilo (conditionally) 100,000
At Vancouver 2,000
Upper Columbia & Snake rivers 40,000
Cowlitz river 9,500
Puget Sound tributaries, including $15,000 for mouth Nook-sack river 35,000
Swinomish Slough 30,000
Okanogan & Pend Oreille rivers 22,000
Gray's Harbor jetty work 156 775
Everett harbor 117,000
Total $978,025

State Bar Addresses.

The annual meeting of the State Bar association will be held in Ellensburg on August 5th, 6th and 7th. The program is as follows:
The president's address, Austin Mires, Ellensburg.
"Conflicting Decisions of Federal and State Courts—Our National Constitution the Harmonizer," Judge C. H. Hanford, Seattle.
"State Pioneer Judges and Lawyers I Have Known on the Coast," N. T. Caton, Davenport.
"Stability of Legal Principles—A Thing of the Past," Will G. Graves, Spokane.
"Railway and Transportation Commissions," Arthur Remington, Tacoma.
"The Course of Legislation in Washington," Edward Whitson, North Yakima.
Poem, Edward Pruyn, Ellensburg.

Improvements at Fair Grounds.

The state fair commissioners have plans which they expect will make the grounds better and more acceptable to the public. Workmen are already engaged in making alterations and putting things in order. An innovation is changing the bar from the south end of the lower floor of the grand stand to the north end where the betting rings is. The space now occupied as a barroom will be fitted up as a dining room where good meals at popular rates can be obtained. Considerable attention is being paid to making the grounds more attractive. With all the work accomplished, including repairs to all the buildings, the enclosure will be better than ever.

Yuma or Yakima.

James Stewart has just returned from a trip to the "Colorado desert," which is named as one of the places which irrigation will make glad. Already the waters of the Yuma river are making fertile a million and a half acres of land heretofore condemned as useless to mankind. The section lies in Mexico and California and drains into the Gulf of California. The temperature was 126 degrees in the shade a few days ago. Mr. Stewart says he may return to Yuma, but is not certain. However, he finds that the Yakima valley is good enough for him unless something better is demonstrated to him.

Emery Wheel Burst.

Shortly before noon on Tuesday J. W. Clarkson, who works in the shop of Mart Schicht, went to an emery wheel to sharpen some tools. The stone revolves at a high rate of speed and as Clarkson touched a tool to it, it burst from centrifugal force into three pieces. One portion struck Clarkson in the chest breaking the collar bone in two places. It then glanced against the jaw, tearing the flesh and laying the bone bare. The wounds were painful but not dangerous.

Cutting the Weeds.

On Monday street department employees commenced the work of cutting the weeds and grass which border on the irrigation ditches. It is not yet known whether the work will be extended all over the city or not. Councilman Liggett of the committee on streets and ditches, who has charge of the matter, says that the entire city should be covered in this way but he does not believe that the expenditure would be warranted.

COL. JOHN DAVID MEDILL is going to knock off work and spend the entire heated term in slothful idleness. When Col. John David was plain Jack he worked twelve months in the year, and never thought of taking a vacation. The reports from the men who are trying to secure the right of way for the Sunnyside road are to the effect that as a rule the people with whom they deal are reasonable in their demands. Occasionally, however, property owners are found who put exorbitant values on their lands, and say that as a railroad company is to pay they will not make concessions of any kind. This is not right. Every foot of land secured along this line is to be paid for not by a railroad company but out of a fund raised by subscription among the citizens of North Yakima and the farmers down the valley. It is no easy task to raise this money, and it is not at all likely that the committee will be able to raise more than is needed to satisfy just demands. Many farmers take into consideration the benefits of the road to them, and have gladly given the right of way. We think their example is one that should be followed by others. In some cases, of course, it is not fair to ask for a free right of way. Some tracts of land are unavoidably damaged to a considerable extent. The owners justly claim compensation for damages, and no objection will be made to paying what is reasonable. We think the people along the line should show their appreciation of the efforts made to place the line where the least possible damage will be done and where the road will be convenient for the greatest number. Mr. McNaught has not arbitrarily demanded that the road run in any particular place, but has, so far as possible, endeavored to locate it where the people wanted it. This has added something to the length of the road and considerable to the expense of building it.

THE desire was expressed by a number of republicans last week that the county convention should be called earlier than was at first planned, on account of the fact that so many people want to go to Seattle the last week in August. Something to that effect was printed in the REPUBLIC last week, while Chairman Cameron was out of town and could not be reached for an expression of his opinion. On his return Mr. Cameron, after talking the matter over, and considering all phases of the question, decided that it would be better to hold to the original intention, or if any change were made, to fix the convention for the Saturday immediately preceding the state convention. There are several good reasons for this decision. One is that many interested persons had made their plans according to the first announcement. Another is that while a large number are expecting to be in Seattle the last week in the month, perhaps as many have made plans to be away from home during the earlier part of the summer. It was also felt that Congressman Jones ought to be consulted if a change was made, as he probably would have arranged to be home several days ago if he had expected an early convention. For the convenience of all Yakima county republicans there does not seem to be any dates between now and the meeting of the state convention that is entirely suitable for holding primaries and convention.

REGISTER HINMAN WAS HERE

New Land Office Official Will Not Take Charge Under a Month.

H. V. Hinman, the newly appointed register of the land office, was in town on Wednesday and incidentally called on Register Reed. To a REPUBLIC reporter Mr. Hinman said:

"This is the first time I have been in North Yakima since my appointment. I came down on a matter of private business, but called in here to catch an idea of the business of the office. I cannot tell when I will assume charge. The blanks for bonds and other documents have just come to me and in a few days my bonds will be on the way to Washington. How long it will be before they are accepted I cannot tell, but I hardly expect to take up the work under a month."

Mr. Reed showed his successor many things about the system in vogue in the office and incidentally stated some facts which show the marvellous development of the surrounding country by the taking up of homestead lands. Mr. Reed took office in July, 1898, in which only four homesteads were filed for the entire district, while for the first 15 days of the present month over 90 homestead filings were recorded. In August, '98, the filings were 5 and in September, 2, making a total for a quarter of a year then of but 11, not one-eighth of the number just filed in half a month.

Mr. Hinman expressed some surprise at the figures and then bravely grappled with statistics regarding Yakima county alone. Some of the facts indicated to Mr. Hinman will be of interest to new comers and will remind older readers of the REPUBLIC that land in the county is being rapidly taken up, and that there also remain vast areas still in waiting. Nearly 98,000 acres of land in this county was taken up during the fiscal year ending the 30th of last June. Outside of the 1,285,000 acres in the Indian reservation and in forest reserves, there remains unappropriated 561,646 acres, of which 181,166 is surveyed and 380,480 unsurveyed lands.

Mr. Hinman was much interested in looking over the books and expressed surprise at the numbers and figures rapidly presented to him. He said that while his call was but a casual one, he was glad that he called and got a start toward knowing more about the office.

Portland Business Men to Come.

H. S. Rowe of Portland spent several days in the city this week. Mr. Rowe is one of the leading citizens of the Oregon metropolis, and has just finished a term as mayor. He has some interests in North Yakima, though they are not so great as they were a few years ago. With A. B. Weed of this city Mr. Rowe established the Yakima Hardware company, and they conducted the business successfully for several seasons.

Mr. Rowe was greatly impressed on this visit with the development of North Yakima since his last visit here, and he thinks that Portland people should be better acquainted with the Yakima country, and alive to the business opportunities here for them. Before leaving he told Mr. Weed and Mr. Donald that whenever they gave the word he would bring a party of his Portland business friends over for a few days. The matter will be taken up with the Commercial club, and arrangements will be made to entertain the visitors some time in September.

Things That Do Happen

E. W. Dooly has bought the Northern Pacific hotel at Ellensburg.

Mrs. Edward Whitson and daughters have gone to the seaside for the summer.

The first peaches of the season were brought to town Friday by W. L. Wright of Fruitvale.

Among the North Yakima people who went up the Neches for fish on Sunday were Sam McCaw and John Sawbridge.

Marriage licenses were issued early this week to Edwin M. Smithers and Della D. Heckman, William Meister and Hilda Laubach.

Frank L. Wheeler has leased his Fruitvale ranch to A. J. Pitner for the season. He is advertising his tools and stock for sale at auction tomorrow.

J. M. Hayden, general agent for the Aetna Life Insurance company for Central Washington, is making headquarters in Yakima for the summer, and will probably be here permanently.

George L. Allen has sold lots 2, 3 and 4 in block 128, which form the north-west corner of Seventh and B streets, to John Garrecht for a consideration of $750. The lots are to be immediately improved by Mr. Garrecht who will erect two houses for himself and another for Mart Schichtl.

It is rumored that the Washington Irrigation company will again raise the price of land, and probably to $50 per acre this time. This is only the result of the price which improved and home-stead lands are selling for in this vicinity. Every indication points to the fact that there will be the greatest immigration into the Sunnyside country this fall ever known.—Prosper Bulletin.

J. A. Cook of the Boston store monkeyed with the business end of an advertisement in the REPUBLIC last week with unexpected results. He thought of course a page ad would bring quite a good many people to the store, and he had extra clerks at work, but he was not prepared for the crowd that came, and could not wait on everybody. Mr. Cook is a firm believer in advertising, but he said when he got through work Saturday night that he didn't know but it was possible to have too much of a good thing.

J. B. George of Sunnyside was in the city last Monday.

Mark W. Pennington returned on Saturday from a six week's visit to Stillwater, Minn.

James Hayden, George S. Gandy, Guy Grafton and W. H. Patterson went up the Neches for fish on Wednesday.

T. M. Elliott of Brewster was in town over Sunday, having come across the divide on horseback to transact business.

Royal and Fred Shaw made a fishing trip up the Neches on Sunday and brought back a few dozen of the speckled.

C. T. Irby, who has played center field for the Hoppickers this season, goes this week to Centralia where he has been offered a position.

The county convention of the Christian Endeavorers will be held at the Ahtanum church October 17th and 18th. Complete program will be printed later.

W. H. James is here from Sacramento, and is spending the week with his friends. Mr. James is still connected with the Sacramento Bee, but he says he often longs to get back to Yakima.

Pitcher Jewett went up the Wenas on Sunday and threw a few curves. He is credited with striking out 22 of the Old-town batsmen and winning the game by a score of 14 to 4, an unusual score where all but five men were stopped at the plate.

A. B. Weed this week purchased of P. J. Flint two lots on the east side of Second street between C and D. The price paid was $1750. Mr. Weed says he is preparing to build a handsome residence on the property in the near future, and hopes to get around to it this fall.

Right-of-way contracts have been signed whereby the Yakima-Sunnyside Electric Railroad secures right of way through the Granger 80 joining Sunnyside on the west and through the town-site to the Sunnyside lateral. The road runs parallel and north of Mayhew street—about 60 feet north of the alley.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lannin moved into their handsome cottage in Sunnyside the first of the week.—Sunnyside Sun.

At the annual meeting of the Christian Co-operative Telephone association held last week at Sunnyside, Messrs. Le May, Wm. Norman, S. J. Harrison, R. D. Young and J. B. George were elected trustees for the ensuing year. H. M. Gilbert of North Yakima was present and represented that a sufficient patronage could be secured to pay for an extension of the line to Toppenish and North Yakima. The association voted to extend the line as fast as possible to the above named points.

Lost—An elk's tooth charm. Will pay $5 reward. VESTAL SNYDER.

Progressive Building Sale.

JUST one year ago we began building our present new quarters. It has been the most satisfactory move of our entire business career, but as we are the PROGRESSIVE firm of the city, and ONWARD is our motto, we are not satisfied with what we have accomplished thus far in improving and beautifying our city, but wish to go on. We have decided to put up a new block between our own and the Clogg building. The contract has been let, and our part will cost $6,260 in round numbers to complete same; which amount we intend to raise in increased business during the next thirty days; and in order to positively secure this amount, during that time; we have made big reductions in the different departments. Read on. It will interest and pay you to read over carefully.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of the scribe. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in the summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by all druggists.

The North Yakima people, to save time and to designate that place from Yakima City, might write their town Nyakima. Hereafter our readers will know what Nyakima means should they see it in print.—Goldendale Sentinel.

Secretary Nichols of the Washington Wool Growers' Association on Monday received from the general land office the official permits to graze sheep on 'he Mt. Rainier and Washington reserves. The documents show that about 172,000 sheep are on the former and 25,000 on the latter reserve.
