OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

THE recent meeting of the democratic national committee at Chicago is alleged to have taken the ground that further fusion in national politics would be unwise, not only from a party point of view, but for the better reason that such a course was calculated to handicap the success of the great principles for which the democratic party now stands. It was forcefully asserted that the nomination of Watson, which was forced by southern populists, created no end of embarrassment throughout the campaign of 1896, and resulted in so much confusion and misunderstanding as to bring about the defeat of the common leader in some of the doubtful states. Whether such was the case or not, the committee, under the circumstances, was doubtless quite right in taking such a stand. The success of the "new" democracy under the leadership of the matchless Bryan is the only hope that the common people of this country have to secure relief from the multitude of evils that threaten them with the continued ascendancy of the republican party. Millionaires and plutocrats generally, who fatten on existing conditions, are now to be found almost entirely within the republican camp. They know that they must stand together or fall singly. The masses, who seek relief and reform, can only hope to secure it by likewise standing together. Unless they do so, the gold standard and the trust system will eventually crush them individually and reduce them to a condition bordering on peonage. The demands made by certain alleged reformers that the democracy should disband in order to make way for a new party is nothing but hair-brained madness. Such a course is not possible. Democrats, after having purged their historic organization of its ultraconservative and vicious elements, will not surrender it. They invite their former allies to enter their purified temple and take seats and to have the same standing in the party as the "old liners." The "howling dervishes" can remain on the outside and act in conjunction with the enemy, as many of them have done in the past.

THE valiant Colonel, who guides the destinies of the McHanna organ in this county, evidently entertains a better opinion of our democracy than he does of his own, inasmuch as he asserts that we have always been guiltless of the charge of bolting. 'Tis true enough, as the Colonel says, we never did bolt, although the temptation to do so was great during the last canvass of the "Stuffed Prophet," owing to his plutocratic tendencies and mugwump admirers. As for his successor in leadership, while we do not think him consecrated, as the Colonel intimates, we do regard him as a truly great man, who represents, by his convictions, the hopes and aspirations of the best quality of American citizenship. Bryan, besides being the possessor of a great head, has also a good heart, which beats in sympathy with all mankind. His followers trust him implicitly, and will follow where he leads, knowing that he will not betray them into the hands of plutocracy, as did his inglorious predecessor. It may be, as our republican friends are fond of asserting, that Bryan will never be president, as his is not the first case in history, wherein a brilliant and creative mind has been rejected for a mediocre one. The American people are often moved by prejudice and childish whims, and there is really no telling what they may do. Should the gifted Nebraskan never succeed in reaching the White House, his fame will nevertheless be secure, for in statecraft he will rank in history with the greatest minds of the century.

MORGAN, the venerable democrat, of Alabama, who has so long represented his state in the national senate, has apparently been so indiscreet as to enter into a combine with eastern democrats for the overthrow of Bryan in the next convention. The old man seems to have deluded himself with the idea that he could command the party in his state to aid in the scheme, but he reckoned without his host. Great as the popularity of Morgan may be in Alabama, Bryan's is much greater. An angry roar of disapproval has arisen from every part of the state at Morgan's attitude, and it seems certain that if he persists in his designs that the political storm which is sure to ensue will drive the aged senator into private life. The old man ought to have known the danger of monkeying with the Bryan buzz saw.

THE effort of any newspaper to build up a town is practically nullified unless it is backed up by the business men. A stranger turns from the news columns of a paper to the advertising pages and if he fails to find there the business cards of the merchants and professional firms, he comes to the conclusion that the town is a dead head town and no good. No town ever grew without the active aid of the newspaper. Nor can papers grow and build up their localities without the active assistance of the town. Business men should realize this and remember in giving support to the newspapers they are not only building up their own business, but are helping to support that which is steadily working for the benefit of the whole community.—Chehalis Advocate.

McKINLEY'S re-nomination is probable, says the Oregonian, mainly through the fact that the Southern states, where there is virtually no republican party, will furnish one-third of the delegates to the national convention. The office holders will control the delegates from those states absolutely and McKinley will of course get them. The president will have his own state solid, and deals with Platt and Quay will give him New York and Pennsylvania. Against such an unholy combination, there will be little chance for a successful protest. But if McKinley is renominated, this is the way in which it will be brought about. "Pious" William might do well to remember the fate of Ben Harrison in 1892. The "nigger" delegates nominated that gentleman, but couldn't elect him.

YAKIMA should make suitable preparation to welcome home her soldier boys, who in all probability will return some time during the month of September. It is not necessary to believe in what many regard as an unjust and wrongful policy toward a weak and struggling people, to honor the brave boys who have risked life and limb in responding to their country's call. During months of danger and privation they have looked forward with pleasure to their home-coming. Let us give them a royal welcome.

THE Foster "push" in this state is said to be determined to land the Hon. Jesse Fry, of Whatcom, in the gubernatorial chair next year, in return for support received in the senatorial fight last winter. In view of this fact, the public will be interested in knowing what the Hon. John Stay-at-Home Wilson and the Hon. Levi S. Ankeny are going to do about it. Will those old fighters lie down and permit the Foster machine to pass over them? Well, hardly.

THERE are so many great men within the body of the republican party of Yakima county, that the question of who is to be "recognized" still remains the leading one. If the McHanna colonial scheme pans out, however, there may be a chance for some of the boys in the Philippines.

"YAKIMA" JONES managed to sidetrack the congressional boom of Attorney Austin Mires, of Ellensburg, pretty smoothly, by giving that gentleman a "plum" in the census supervisorship. Yet there are people hereabouts who still insist that "Yakima" is not a politician.

A RECRUITING officer of the government is in town looking for soldiers. "Expansionists" should not embarrass him by all applying at once.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Aug 4, 1899.

Will there be a change in the Philippine policy of the administration? That question has been asked quite frequently since Senator Burrows made the flat-footed declaration that McKinley's re-election was largely dependent upon the successful ending of the Philippine war before the Presidential campaign. There is no doubt that the administration fully realizes the correctness of the statement made by Mr. Burrows, but so much was not intended to be made public, so early in the game, and, while nothing has been openly said on the subject, there has been much private abuse of Burrows in administration circles for having let such a troublesome cat out of the political bag. Although Secretary Root has yet done nothing openly to confirm the talk about his being instructed to win General Miles over to the administration side, by allowing him to have the direction at the Washington end of future military movements in the Philippines, there are many who think there is a foundation for the talk. The plain truth of the situation is, that unless a satisfactory peace—satisfactory to the people at large, not to the office-holding brigade, who will express satisfaction at anything done by the administration—is brought about before the Presidential campaign, Mr. McKinley will not have a ghost of a show for re-election; and those most familiar with the situation do not believe that a continuation of the military methods of General Otis will do it. The people will overthrow any administration that stands for a perpetual war in the Philippines, or anywhere else.

The deficit for the first month of the new fiscal year was close to $9,000,000. Officials speak of this as a satisfactory showing, but it remains to be seen what the people will think of a showing, which if maintained during the remainder of the fiscal year will mean a deficit for the year of more than $100,000,000. That certainly will not be satisfactory.

The very mild nature of the statement made by Mr. Alger just before he left Washington, and which he was pleased to call a vindication of the charges against his administration of the War Department, indicates that he was persuaded not to attack the administration publicly, but whether he will be of the same mind after talking with Pingree, who is nothing if not a straight-from-the-shoulder fighter of everything that gets in front of his plans, remains to be seen. Members of the administration are hugging the belief that Alger will not give away the secrets he knows.

In the absence of more important news the suppression of a Cuban daily paper in Havana and the arrest of its staff, by order of Gen. Ludlow, military commandant of that city, has been much discussed. At the war Department it is said that General Ludlow acted without any orders from Washington and that no further explanation of his action has been received than was contained in the press dispatches. On general principles the average American believes in a free press and free speech and for that reason nearly everyone who speaks of the matter condemns the suppression of the paper by General Ludlow. General Garcia who is still in Washington talked freely of the matter, as he sees it. He said: "The suppression of the Havana 'Reconcentrado' was, in my judgement, a serious mistake. It was the Spanish custom, you know, to arrest editors and suppress their papers for daring to criticize Spanish methods, and it would seem from General Ludlow's action that he is pursuing the Spanish policy which has so justly and so rightly been denounced by the United States. Again, this act on the part of the military authorities will be construed by many Cubans to mean that the civil authorities are mere figureheads and will no doubt produce bad feeling. There can be no independence or personal liberty without free speech or a free press. What would the people of the United States say if the authorities should suppress a newspaper for abusing justly, or unjustly, the administration? I imagine there would be a great outburst of popular resentment against any such proceedings. The people of the United States would not tolerate it. Of course, I do not know all the facts, but I do know that to be consistent, General Ludlow will have to suppress other papers that have the temper to criticize the officials appointed by General Brooke; also that he has established what is likely to be a troublesome precedent."

The Seattle Exposition.

The Seattle Exposition, which will take place in Seattle, Oct. 2-15, inclusive, promises to be the grandest event ever held in the Northwest. The citizens of Seattle are behind the enterprise and it is aimed to make it an affair in which the whole state will have a personal interest. Seattle's well-known push and energy and hospitality is a safeguard that whatever is undertaken by that city will not be half done; the Exposition will more than live up to Seattle's precedent for doing everything well, long since established by that city. The state's resources will be displayed in the many exhibits from every section and in the way of special music, features, floral displays and decorations, the Exposition will be a thing of beauty as well as an affair of vast commercial importance. The mining, farming, manufacturing, fruit growing, in fact every industry of the state, will be carefully portrayed in the various exhibits.

It is intended that Seattle shall have hereafter an exposition each year; this one is but the starter. The Exposition building proper will contain a floor space of 25,000 square feet, the space of the galleries and the space under a separate roof for the poultry and pet exhibits not being included in these figures. It was at first intended that the date of the Exposition should be September 18-30 inclusive, but in deference to the State Fair at North Yakima, the date of which is fixed by statute, the Seattle date was changed to October 2-15. Inquiries regarding special fares on railroads for exhibits and passengers can be directed to the honorary vice-presidents in this county, or to Manager Frank R. Armstrong, of the Seattle Exposition, 45 Colman block, Seattle.

Demorest Contest.

An enthusiastic class of boys and girls are working earnestly to prepare for the medal contests to be held in Mason's opera house the 22d and 23d, and in consideration of the fact that its members should be encouraged in their efforts in oratory by a large and appreciative audience, the people of Yakima are cordially invited to fill the house and enjoy a pleasant evening with them. The Yakima orchestra will furnish music for both programmes which will be published next week.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D., "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Louis O. Janeck's drug store. Regular size 50cts and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

Fine Groceries for fine people.

Four reasons why many of our first families go out of their way to trade with Pearson:

Do you know that many of our customers are the wealthiest and most particular in this town? They are the people who have tried other stores but were never fully satisfied until they came here.

WHY?

FIRST—Because we sell "guaranteed groceries." No auction goods; no seconds.

SECOND—Because we give your money back the minute you want it.

THIRD—Because our groceries are fresh and clean and pure. Nothing allowed to become shelf-worn.

FOURTH—Because our price are lower than any other grocer who sells good groceries.

If you are not fully pleased with your present grocer, give us a trial order. You can go back to him—if you choose.

State Press Opinion.

Alger's embalmed beef and a few of Pingree "spuds" would make a first class "Mulligan" to serve at the banquet given in honor of the late secretary of war by his Michigan admirers.—Ellensburg Localizer.

The Seattle Times claims that New England will be lost to the republicans owing to its new imperialistic policy, but that they will gain the west, which favors it. We believe the Times is about half right—the first half.—Vancouver Register.

Old Potato Patch Pingree is making a blooming fool of himself in his eagerness to give expression to his adulation for Embalmed Beef Alger. He is a shining mark for the fool killer and the people of Michigan should pray for the coming of their deliverer.—Walla Walla Argus.

The brilliant and only Robertson is at it again. He says the republicans are going to hold the jobs from this day henceforth. If the Colonel of the Yakima Republic be correct in his statement what a glorious and promising future must loom up before this clever grafter. You must understand our late democratic brother is now a full fledged Hanna republican. We'll bet our best pair of socks, that Robertson already sees visions of ham gravy and pumpkin pie every day.—Chehalis Advocate.

The Mazama mountain climbing club in its recent ascent of an unnamed mountain near Lake Chelan, raised the American and English flags together which was either a piece of foolishness on the part of some of our young friends or the spirit of snobbery truckling to a nation which an hundred years of unsatisfied revenge makes it the deadly enemy of the United States. Anglomania was not to be suspected in those whose souls had felt the spirit of liberty ever present in the eternal hills.—Olympia Journal.

Down in Kansas the girls have formed a society the members of which are pledged to marry no one except a Kansas volunteer. They are prepared to kidnap the first blue-coat that sets foot on Kansas soil. It is no wonder that the Kansas volunteers have decided to re-enlist and remain in the Philippines. The question with the boys is, whether it is better to be made into soup for the dusky cannibal of the antipodes or to face the charge of the broomstick brigade, from the grasshopper state.—Chehalis Advocate.

It begins to look as if Admiral Dewey quit his job glad to get away from taking part in the crime now being perpetrated under the Southern Cross against a liberty-loving people. If our hopes are not disappointed in this regard, his home-coming and the breaking of his silence—yes, his silence even—will mark the downfall of this first attempt of the United States to leave the safe path of democracy and launch out on the troubled sea of imperialism. Aggression is natural in a monarchy; in a republic it is a crime and suicide.—Seattle Herald.

Mr. L. Lockwood, of Pennsylvania, president of the American Anti-Trust League, which although a non-partisan organization, purposes to take an important part in the presidential campaign, is a strong Bryan democrat, and he says of the sentiment of Pennsylvania democrats: "I am in touch with the true democrats of Pennsylvania, and it is safe to say that ninety-five per cent of them are loyal to Bryan, and the principles of the Chicago platform. The real democracy of the state and of all the other states must be on the alert, for if the tricksters get one vote more than one-third of all the members of the national convention, they will accomplish their end, which is the defeat of Bryan. The monopolistic and trust interests will bend all their energies to defeat his nomination because they recognize that no human power can prevent his victory at the polls, if he be again declared the nominee of the democratic party."—Aberdeen Herald.

Our estate in the Philippines seems to have descended to us subject to a mortgage in favor of the Sultan, of Sulu, or of Jolo, as he is indifferently called. By a treaty with Spain, concluded in 1878, that potentate was granted a monopoly of the pearl fisheries and the trade of the Sulu archipelago, and was given control of the local administration of the islands. He also became entitled to an annual subsidy from Spain, in return for which he agreed to fly the flag of his suzerian and cooperate with the latter in maintaining order and suppressing piracy. It is proposed by the Federal administration to continue relations with the Sultan on the basis of his treaty with Spain, and ten thousand Mexican dollars have been sent him on account of his overdue annuity. Since the Sultan is a despot, and the Mohammedan law prevailing in his dominion permits of slavery, it will be extremely interesting to note the means whereby the administration will endeavor to square the system of government in the Sulu archipelago with the provisions of the Federal constitution.—Everett Independent.

Spain's Greatest Need.

Mr. R. P. Olivia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest blood and nerve remedy, all pains soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of body. The county commissioners met on Monday to hold a session as a board of equalization. An unusually large number of protests were made by people dissatisfied with their assessment. In many cases the board lowered the assessment, although in some cases they raised the amount on parties who clamored for less. One unlucky citizen, who is an old timer, presumably through a slip of the tongue, admitted that he had $11,000 in a Victoria, B. C. bank on which he had not been assessed; whereupon the board as a matter of course promptly added the amount to his assessment. This is what breaks the old timer's heart.

An enthusiastic meeting of business men interested in the new opera house project, was held at the clubrooms on Saturday night. Mr. Larson stated in reply that he would go ahead with his plans, but that he could not give assurance of the completion of the theatre building before early in the spring. This statement was regarded as satisfactory by the meeting.

AN IMPARTIAL SUMMARY.

English Newspaper at Hongkong Tells the Truth About McKinley's War.

There can be no possible room for doubt that the Americans will ultimately gain the day in the Philippines, but the present attitude of the Filipinos leads one to believe that it will only be gained by a war of extermination. And the question naturally arises as to whether the establishment of American rule throughout the islands is worth such an expensive war and also whether the ends to be gained would justify the means.

The United States, we are told, are now busily bringing the blessings of a free and republican government to the Filipinos. At least that is supposed to be the reason for subduing the Philippines. But the Filipinos apparently do not want to be liberated any more than they have been, and are quite ready and willing to look after themselves and to dispense with the aid of the United States except as a protecting power.

If all that the Americans aim at, is the establishment of an independent government under the protection of the United States, it does not appear to us that it is worth while to waste such a large amount of money and such hundreds of lives in fighting the people whom they apparently are so anxious to befriend.

It would be far cheaper, and we believe, far more satisfactory, to a very large proportion of the people of the United States, were honorable terms arranged with the Filipinos, and this war, which can certainly bring no glory to the American nation, brought to a satisfactory close.

As we have frequently pointed out, the whole blame for the present situation in the Philippines is attributable to the total lack of policy displayed by the Americans from the first. They did not know their own minds and allowed the Filipinos to see this plainly. What wonder then that the Filipinos should mistrust them now?

First Aguinaldo was to be treated as the trusted ally of the Americans, and he was so treated.

Then arrived the American troops, and the Filipinos were ignored.

Next the Filipinos were not offered any opportunity of expressing their views on the future of their country prior to the ratification of the peace treaty with Spain, and of all that followed we are only too well aware.

The Americans have all along made the mistake of looking upon the Filipinos as savages and treating them as such, and now it is too late to mend matters.

At the commencement of the Spanish-American war the Americans had the trust and respect of the Filipinos, and a very small modicum of consideration and diplomacy would have enabled them to have retained those friendly feelings and to have been today in peaceful occupation of the country.

It must not be thought that we are antagonistic to the American cause; such is not the case; but we must say, and say plainly, that we are sorry to see that instead of the Filipinos being introduced to the benefits of peace and a just and civilized form of government, they are now likely to be cursed by a war of extermination, and all on account of the bungling and mismanagement of certain officials of the United States.

Had matters been left in the hands of Admiral Dewey we do not for a moment believe that things would have guided him aright. But when matters are dealt with by consuls and diplomats who are far from the scene of action and have no knowledge of the country or people to be dealt with, then disaster is only too frequently the result, as affairs in the Philippines have shown. —Hongkong Telegraph.

To Parents.

There is no more injurious practice than that of holding toys close to a baby's face to attract his attention. More cases of cross eyes are caused in this way than from all other causes combined. The strain necessary to focus the eye for so close an object injures the muscles and throws them out of harmony. The more a child can be out of doors, looking at distant objects, the better for his eyes. He should be encouraged to hold his books and playthings at least 15 inches away. If he cannot see so well at that distance do not punish him, but have his eyes carefully examined. He needs glasses, and the sooner they are worn the better it will be for him. If your child shows the slightest tendency to cross his eyes, do not put the matter off a moment. Glasses will cure him at first, but if you wait too long nothing but an operation will do him any good. Glasses ground to fit the eye. Consultation and examination free.

State Fair Notes.

The farmers in Yakima county are doing considerable sparring among themselves over the fine buggy offered by the Studebaker Bros. Co., for the best exhibit of farm products grown upon one farm. They seemed determined to prevent this premium going to any other part of the state but as yet are not able to decide who will get the prize. Several fine exhibits will be made and the Yakima men will be there to win.

A cash prize of $50 is offered for the cow giving the most butter fat in a 48 hour milking contest. This is the same as last year's prize which was won by D. M. Shanks. It is open to all breeds and grades and there will be many entries this year. Washington is fast becoming a big dairy state.

The people of North Yakima will be pleased to learn that W. L. Conolly has been appointed superintendent of the pavilion at the fair grounds. He will get the building up in fine shape and make everything attractive. The pavilion will be well crowded this year and every industry in the state will be represented.

H. H. Collier, superintendent of the poultry department of the state fair, writes that he will have 500 chickens from Tacoma, and that other places will be well represented. The commission has promises of exhibits from Seattle, Spokane and several coops from the Oregon fair. The Portland fanciers will have numerous exhibits of different breeds.

The State Fair people have a new sprinkling cart, which just arrived this week, and work will be pushed vigorously on the race course.

The new Military Band has been engaged to furnish music for the fair. This is considered one of the best bands in the state and the fair commission is very fortunate in closing the contract with them. The band consists of 27 pieces, every musician being an artist.

John Sparks of the famous Alamo Stock Farm, Reno, Nevada, writes the secretary of the State Fair that he will probably bring a carload of fine stock, for exhibition at the Oregon and Washington fairs. He first goes to California, then to Oregon, then North Yakima and from here to Kansas City, having his stock on the road for two months.

Arrangements are about completed for a series of balloon ascensions and daring parachute leaps from mid air, during the week at the fair grounds. The noted Belmont sisters are among the applicants for this attraction. It has not been decided which company will be engaged but the people no doubt will be treated to something marvelous by those aeronauts.

Those desiring premium lists should apply to Dr. T. B. Gunn, the secretary. The book is a large volume, has been wholly revised and contains all the rules and regulations governing exhibits and dealers who may wish to sell goods or have special features on the grounds. The premium and special purses aggregate $15,000, making the fair something worthy of consideration by the farmers, gardeners, ranchers and others.

Since the dates for the Seattle Exposition have been changed to Oct. 2 to 14 the interest in the State Fair has increased wonderfully on the sound. Letters come to the secretary almost daily, asking for rates for shipping exhibits, wanting space for various exhibits and general details. The Seattle people will run excursions here and come by the trainload. They will of course expect several people from here in return.

Democratic Unity.

Much vigor and a far greater unity lie behind the democrats than could have been foreseen a few months ago. Bryan has been able to harmonize the Altgeld and Harrison factions, the expansionists have not made their influence perceptible, and silver has come to the front again with time-honored and characteristic persistency and doggedness. There may in the end be some disorganization, some internal dissension but it will not be considerable and it will not greatly lessen the solidarity or the fighting power of the party.

In the face of such a situation the republicans will make a serious mistake to presume with too great confidence upon the record of the party in power or the public loyalty to the administration. The uncertainty of policy in the Philippines, the apparent lack of executive action in the enforcement of existing laws for the regulation of trusts, and the maladministration of the war department afford the democrats palpable and effective grounds for attack. They will make votes that they did not have in 1896, as they always make unexpected votes when they are in the role of criticism and opposition.

Comparatively little time remains for the framing of issues in dispute of those raised by the democrats. The Philippine incubus lies heavily upon the administration. Another year might easily pass and convention time roll around again with the affairs of the islands unsettled and the troops still at war. The number of men losing employment through the formation of trusts may assume a size out of proportion to the number of men whose wages are increased by the cheapening of the process of manufacture and brokerage. Speculation may take a serious turn, through the influence of the monetary stringency in Europe, which appears to be growing greater constantly. And should these eventualities arise, it will be necessary for the republican party to be ready to face its opponents with a clear, safe and indisputable declaration of policy.

If the gold standard is to be retained, as it must be, there must be no mincing and no equivocation either in platform or in public utterances. If the trusts are to be regulated, the elected heads of the party must make it patent to the people that whatever is written in the law shall be executed. If the war department is to be renovated, it must be renovated throughout. If the Philippines are to be retained as subject into autonomous provinces, such a purpose must be made intelligible both at home and in the islands.

The party cannot oppose the democrats with an uncertain and undecided program. Or, if by the fate of circumstance, they succeed in doing so in 1900, they will lose disastrously in 1904. — Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

City Council Meeting.

Council met Wednesday evening in adjourned session, with mayor Fechter presiding and Councilmen Poole, Keck, Hough, Schindeler and Sinclair present. The clerk read the minutes of the preceding meeting, which after some minor corrections were approved. A petition was read for the grading of Ahtanum avenue and for the formation of an assessment district. On motion the same was granted. A like petition was also presented for the grading of west Yakima avenue, which was also granted.

A petition from the St Louis Brewing & Malting Co. for a saloon license in the Kingsbury building was read, the same on motion being granted. The petition of E. W. Dooley for a saloon license was likewise granted.

The petition of J. H. Timm for a liquor license was read. Hough moved that the same be granted, which motion the mayor ruled out of order. Hough appealed from the decision of the chair, which appeal was carried. On motion of Hough the license was granted notwithstanding the protest of the owners of 13 lots in the same and opposite blocks.

Reports of the various city officials for the month of July were read and referred to the different committees.

The police committee reported in favor of putting a new floor in the jail. Carried.

A large grist of bills including salaries of city officials for July, was read and allowed.

The matter of laying a 12 foot sidewalk along the west side of First street was laid over until the next meeting, a protest from a majority of property owners affected being on file.

An ordinance was passed for forming an assessment district for building a sidewalk on sixth street.

An ordinance was also passed for the improvement of Natches avenue.

An ordinance introduced by Hough, repealing that section of ordinance No. 275, governing the sale of liquors on Yakima avenue, was read but failed on final passage by a vote of three to two.

Bids were opened for the construction of a sidewalk along block 8 on Front street and the bid of G. H. Moulton of $124 being the lowest, the contract was accordingly awarded to him. On motion the council adjourned.

New Suits Filed.

New suits filed in the superior court this week were:

State vs. O. Richardson—an appeal of defendant from Justice Taylor's court at Sunnyside, the defendant having been fined $25 for the alleged theft of a set of harness from S. Goodsel.

Separate garnishment suits have been filed against Geo. L. Kelly by J. B. Current to secure payment of a promissory note and by A. N. Short against the same defendant to secure payment of an open account.

A mortgage foreclosure suit was filed on Thursday by Whitson & Parker, attorneys for the Ontario Land Co. vs. Fred R. Reed.

Dick McDaniel Home.

Dick McDaniel returned home Tuesday night after a two years sojourn in the Klondyke. He returns after his long absence in good health and spirits, although he admits that his long stay in the far north was not as productive of good results as he had hoped. He states that he left the Yakima boys all in good health and working industriously, buoyed up with the hope of yet "striking it rich." The Milroy boys he says, have gone to Cape Nome hoping for better luck in the new fields. Mr. McDaniel says that he will not return north before spring, if then.

More Recruits Wanted.

Lieutenant Fisk, an officer of the Montana regiment, arrived here Tuesday night, under orders to open a recruiting office and enlist unmarried men for two years service in the Philippine campaign. The young man opened an office next day over the postoffice and secured the services of Dr. Dulin as examiner. Several patriotic young men made application for enlistment on Wednesday and Thursday, but owing to the fact that enlistment papers and definite instructions had not arrived, the officer was unable to accept them. Lieutenant Fisk has been back in this country since May, having been detailed at Manila, with three guards to convey four unfortunate soldiers, who had lost their minds, to the soldiers insane hospital at Washington, D. C. It was the hardest and most disagreeable duty he ever performed, he said.

A Returned Soldier.

P. Lynch Garrett, well known in this city, having resided here during the years of 93 and 94, passed through this city Wednesday night enroute to his old home in New York city to take a position in a leading bank. Mr. Garrett was recently mustered out of the military service, having been a sergeant in one of the Portland companies of the Oregon regiment. In conversation with THE DEMOCRAT reporter at the depot, he stated that the Philippine Islands is a grand country, but that it would cost the government many lives and a vast amount of treasure to subdue the people, who are poor fighters but good runners. Mr. Garrett was detailed for a time as a body guard of General Otis.
