OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

IT is to be hoped that the proceedings in today's conventions will be marked by harmony and a desire on the part of all the delegates to do the work committed to them with the least possible amount of friction. The interests of individuals should not be allowed to stand in the way of success at the polls. The reform party and the principles it represents are greater than any man or set of men in it, and its banner should not be allowed to trail in the dust, in order to elevate any man. The three conventions today will unquestionably endorse the principles for which the great Bryan so ably contended in the last campaign; that is a matter of course. They will also endorse, unqualifiedly, the present state and county governments, which are by far the most efficient and economical that has yet been in power in this commonwealth. This much this much the three platforms will surely declare for; but they ought to go much farther than this. The people of Eastern Washington are ground down with the excessive freight and passenger rates now in vogue in this state, and are crying out for relief, and what is more, they are determined to have it. In the nature of things, the regulation of the railroad traffic is the leading issue before the people of this community, and if the Fusion party would win, it must meet the issue squarely and bravely. It must not only make a platform declaring emphatically for the regulation of railroad rates, but it must nominate a man for the legislature who will carry out its will. If they do not do this, it is difficult to see how they expect to elect anybody.

THE conventions that meet today should take strong ground in their several platforms in favor of legislation materially reducing railroad rates and fares. This is the strongest argument that the Fusion party can go before the people on. The people of this county are determined to have relief from the great corporation that is oppressing them and eating up their substance. There is today in Yakima county hundreds of tons of fine fruit rotting on the ground, simply because the prohibitive rates charged by the Northern Pacific denies it its legitimate market. Not satisfied with the outrageous rates already existing, this tyrannical corporation, on the first of July, increased the scheduled rate on all eastern shipments about twenty per cent., which our consumers are compelled to pay. This burden has become intolerable—the people must have relief, or else all the wheels of progress will stop in this community. Not only should the conventions take a decided stand on this leading issue, but they must, if they would hope to succeed, nominate a candidate for the legislature who will carry out, both by influence and vote, the expressed will of the party.

THE EPIGRAM is always clear-cut in expressing its views of public men and measures and it is never afraid to speak out fearlessly in behalf of the people as befits an independent journal, that is not allied to any clique or corporation; but it will not take up the fight of any particular candidate for nomination at today's conventions, as it has been requested to do; nor will it cast a slur on any. So far as we know none but honorable men are aspiring for place. At any rate, this paper cannot be used to either boom or belittle any man who submits his candidacy before the conventions. Neither can any honorable man go before a convention asking for its endorsement without being willing to abide by the result, unless the conditions are such that gross fraud is practiced, which is not at all probable in today's conventions.

ONE of the most important things to be decided by the three conventions which meet next week in Ellensburg is what name is to be given the ticket. Very many Democrats throughout the state are in favor of a hyphenated name, as for instance, the Peoples-Democratic Ticket. In our judgment it would be wise and politic for the Populist convention to concede this much. To do less would be to invite defeat; for the Democrats in the larger cities of the state demand it—they believe their party entitled to this much consideration; if it be denied them it will, to say the least, severely test their loyalty to the ticket, and at least make them inactive during the campaign. The tree that bends gracefully to the wind rarely breaks. If the Peoples party meets the Democrats half way, nothing can prevent a harmonious and successful union at Ellensburg.

FUSION is sometimes a delicate question to handle, but it ought not to be at today's meeting. The people have had a trial of it for two years in this county, and it has been a most unqualified success. The executive offices of the county have never before in all its history, been so ably and economically administered, as during the present administration—and it is the fruit of fusion. And what is true of the county applies also to the state government. The organization which has produced such results, the middle-of-the-roader would destroy, to bring about nothing but chaos.

THE Seattle Post-Intelligencer has now thrown off all disguise and been forced into the open to fight Senator Wilson for re-election, whereas it formerly fought him in a secret and underhanded manner. The attempt of the federal brigade at Port Townsend to pack the Jefferson county primaries with the friends of Wilson was to much for the P. I., however, and it boiled over and damned the whole proceedings. What a lovely time the brethren will have when the Wilsonites and the anti's meet in this city next Saturday, looking each for the others' scalps.

YAKIMA people hope that before another campaign comes along North Yakima will be so situated that it can with self-respect and decency ask all the political or other conventions of the state to meet here instead of always elsewhere. Yakima is a point of great interest to all the people of Washington, and is in the most central situation. Had we the facilities we would have captured both state conventions this year.

THE editor of THE EPIGRAM rises to remark that no change has been made, nor do we contemplate that any will be made, in the management of this paper, as was intimated in a local sheet this week. THE EPIGRAM is now without doubt the best newspaper property in the county, and there are of course others who wouldn't mind owning it now.

THE alleged editor of a Second street paper ought to give the weary public a rest about the captain of Company E. A personal quarrel ought to be settled in a personal way. Wait till the doughty captain comes marching home again.

IT is a matter of regret that such a good populist (?) as Paul Mohr could not be present at today's conventions and tell the boys what to do.

Who the Delegates Are.

Bad Burglar Ragged.

Sheriff Gray, of Pasco, was initiated into the mysteries of Elkdome Thursday night. He returned home the same night accompanied by Sheriff Shaw, who will bring back with him the man Reagan, in whose possession was found the gold watch and chain stolen from Phil Ditter about ten days ago. Reagan was arrested by Sheriff Gray on Monday as a suspicious character. His cache was located in the sagebrush near Pasco and from it three gold watches were taken, one of which had the name of Phil Ditter engraved on the case. The officials think also that this is the man beyond question who burglarized the rooms of Miss Merwin in the Cadwell block two weeks ago, as several gold rings were found in this man's possession. The friends of Mr. Ditter are congratulating him on the restoration of his valuable timepiece.

More Dunkards Arrive.

A party of Dunkards, who expect to make their future home in the Sunnyside, arrived Sunday night and are quartered at The Bartholet. They express themselves as delighted with the Yakima country and its beautiful climate. They have spent most of the week in selecting lands under the Sunnyside canal. Another detachment of the colony stopped off to visit relatives in the Palouse country, but will be here next week. The party already here are all from Lanark, Ill. The party is made up of J. R. Wolf and family, A. M. Hamilton, J. L. Dresbach, Wm. Ullow and daughter, C. Rowland, J. E. Laird, L. Andrew and Burch Bros.

Another Creamery Burned.

The Wenas creamery, which was owned by E. E. James of this city, burned to the ground about 8 o'clock Sunday morning. Ernest Fear, who has had charge of the creamery for Mr. James, had fired up, done the morning churning, and went to breakfast, when the alarm was given that the building was on fire, which is presumed to have started from sparks from the smokestack. The insurance on building and contents amounts to $1350. It is understood that Mr. James will rebuild at once.

Henry Timm, a son of the landlord of the Hotel Bartholet, arrived home from the Klondike on Monday night. He reports that thousands of poor devils are stranded in that country and that unless they receive aid in getting out great suffering will result. The gold is only for the lucky few.

This has been a busy week among local politicians of fusion proclivities. Combination after combination has been formed, most of which will vanish into thin air before the three ring circus adjourns. It's too bad that there is not pie enough to go around, but there is not.

A. F. Switzer was the successful bidder for the construction of the new depot, the contract being awarded to him last Friday. It is understood that the building will be under way in a few days. Mr. Switzer is to be congratulated, and Yakima feels proud of the fact that a local bidder was able to get the work against so much competition.

The Jossey-Marvin company, which played at Mason's on Wednesday evening, while no doubt a good company, appeared to poor advantage in such a wretchedly contrived play as "Signal of Liberty." If the recent war with Spain and the events preceding it were not so indelibly impressed on the minds of the people, the play might go unchallenged. But every school boy in America knows that Blanco and not De Concha was governor general of Cuba at the time of the Maine disaster, and a number of other things which the author of this so-called drama evidently did not know.

Like a Great Railway

With its branches running in every direction, are the arteries and veins, which convey the blood to every part of the system. When the liver and kidneys refuse to act the blood is prevented from circulation by poisonous acids, and then comes Rheumatism. Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy drives these poisons from the blood, and Dr. Drummond's Lightning Liniment restores the stiff joints, drawn cords and hardened muscles. If your druggist has not got these remedies, send to the Drummond Medicine Company, New York, and the full month's treatment of two large bottles will be sent to your express address.

BROWN & SNELLING.

STATE FAIR NOTES

Dr. T. B. Gunn, secretary of the Washington State Fair Association, was in the city this week on business connected with the Fair. He has visited all the important cities on the Sound and feels greatly encouraged over the prospects of a big fair this fall. While here Secretary Gunn made arrangements with the Columbia Implement company to make a creamery exhibit; the Portland Cordage company to exhibit their decorticating machine for manufacturing hemp, and the Mitchell, Lewis & Staver company who will make a display of farm machinery. Encouraging reports are coming in from all sources and the success of the Washington State Fair is assured.—North Pacific Rural Spirit, Portland, Ore.

President Baxter visited Walla Walla last week on fair business and was very successful. He reports that Walla Walla will send a large delegation of visitors to the Fair. While there he called on Mrs. Catron, Superintendent of the Floral Department, and learned that she expects to have at least a carload of plants and flowers sent here from different places.

Secretary Gunn is in receipt of a letter from the manager of the Spokane Fruit Fair, inquiring about the Yakima exhibit at that fair, and desires the co-operation of those interested in advertising Yakima county from different sections of the county to prepare an exhibit for the fair. The capital prize for the best county exhibit of fruits, grain and vegetables is $350, and other prizes in proportion.

Dr. Gunn is in Portland again this week to complete the arrangements for excursions from all over the state, as well as to secure definite information as to what special rates will be given on exhibits.

The special premiums given by out of town people have nearly all been forwarded to the Commission, and early in September those given by local merchants will be collected.

The Northern Pacific Coal company has forwarded some very fine specimens of coal from the Roslyn mines. These blocks have already been placed in position—the first exhibit in the buildings for the Washington State Fair of 1898.

See the open dens of wild animals in the street pageant with Lemmen Brothers' that will be here September 14th.

Fast Horses at the Fair Grounds.

THE EPIGRAM reporter made a trip to the Fair grounds one day this week to take a look at the string of fast horses that are being trained for the races.

M. H. Williams, the well known local trainer, has three fleet-footed Yakima horses in training, namely: Yakimont, Altonette and Viewmont, as well as Ben-hur, the pacing colt of Ellensburg, all of which have been mentioned heretofore in THE EPIGRAM.

Trainer W. E. Taylor is working five horses, four of which are exceedingly fast trotters. They are Stacodo, 2:24; a promising 3 year old pacer; the famous trotter, Alta Wilkes, besides Guyana and Guyatlas, two finely bred 2 year olds, which are showing up well. These three latter horses are the property of Dr. Powell Reeves.

Trainer Richard Morris has under his charge a string of running stock consisting of Navy Blue, the famous long distance running horse from California; a bay gelding, sired by old Gled Dudley, the property of the Tafts of this city; Twister, another of the Dudley colts, owned by Wm. Splawn, and McGinty, a half-mile 4 year old, the property of A. D. Eglin. In addition to these there are two other runners in training by J. L. Morrissey. These are Southworth and Queen Bess—the first a mile and the latter a half-mile runner, both of whom are owned by J. F. O'Neil of this city.

President Baxter, who returned recently from Walla Walla, reports that a carload of fast horses will arrive from that city this week, which is an indication of the interest which the horsemen of the Northwest are taking in the Fair.

A Good Prune Story.

A good story is going the rounds this week at the expense of a certain agricultural editor who has an eye for beauty. The aforesaid editor feeling lonely on Tuesday journeyed over to one of the warehouses across the track to hold sweet converse with one of the fair and lovely young women who are engaged in packing fruit at that place. While the distinguished pencil pusher was presumably engaged in picturing out the beauties of a double existence to his fair charmer, another young lady in a spirit of mischief threw a soft prune, striking the luckless editor in the head. The scene that subsequently took place, so we are informed, beggars description, and we draw the curtain, lest its publication might be regarded as unseemly.

Ed Kelso on Thursday received a dispatch from his brother, Ex Commissioner W. A. Kelso, of Kiona, announcing the death of his wife Wednesday evening. The deceased had but recently returned home from a Portland hospital, where she had been under medical attendance for some time. Mr. Kelso, accompanied by Rev. Stephens, went down on Thursday to attend the funeral, which took place Friday.

How it Acts.

There is no waiting weeks and months for relief while taking Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedies for Rheumatism. Some cases of years' standing have been entirely cured with one treatment. Relief and benefit are felt from the first, and if the treatment is persisted in, the stiff joints and drawn cords are restored. If your druggist has not got these remedies do not take anything else. Describe your case and send $5 to the Drummond Medicine Co., New York, and the full month's treatment of two large bottles will be sent to you.

For Sale.

Three choice unbroken teams. Inquire of J. M. Baxter, at the State Fair grounds. 45
