THE COUNTY ELECTION.

Republican Ticket Elected with Two Exceptions--Splawn Defeats Englehart for Senator while Grant Defeats Dilley for Sheriff.

The election last Tuesday passed off very quietly in this city and county, there being no unusual disturbance of any kind during the day. A good deal of interest was manifested during the evening after the returns commenced coming in, the different places about town where a record of the county vote was being kept, being crowded with hilarious men seeking the latest news.

For the first part of the evening general interest centered in the race for sheriff, but it was soon seen from the heavy republican vote that R. A. Grant was receiving that he was unquestionably was elected. Meanwhile it was seen that Splawn and Englehart the rival candidates for the senatorship, were running a neck and neck race and general interest was soon transferred to that contest, and also to that for school superintendent, as Messrs. Plumb and Dickey were also running a close race. The interest was maintained all night, many of the more anxious ones never going to bed, at all.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

For the two genial gentlemen on the republican county ticket who went down to defeat at Tuesday's election, the DEMOCRAT feels a considerable amount of sympathy. They made a gallant fight and bore the brunt of the battle and lost. Yet, both accepted the result philosophically and in good part.

The candidates for senator and sheriff, unfortunately for them, were placed upon the defensive from the start by an alert opposition that was looking for an opening. They were subjected to a most galling fire both from within and without, that would have tried the nerve of any man.

This paper, whether it receives credit or discredit for the part that it played, is, nevertheless responsible to some extent for the result. Our readers will remember that it was the DEMOCRAT that first revealed to them the inner workings of that select body of local statesmen, known as the Yakima ring. And when many of the voters discovered that there really was a ring, as they had suspected, they fell about of it, naturally enough, and labored to destroy it.

The campaign just closed is probably in many respects the most unique in the history of Yakima county. In spite of all the seeming apathy, there was a great interest taken by the public and the vote polled shows a healthy increase in most of the precincts.

As we started out to say, the DEMOCRAT has some sympathy for the boys who fell outside the breastworks. They take their defeat in a good natured way as becomes good fighters, but it is nevertheless very grinding under the circumstances. Besides, our republican friends are not accustomed to such rough treatment in Yakima county. Treatment that democrats have had, for lo, these many years as their almost regular portion.

THE Spoken Chronicle advocates that the next legislature should take the State Fair away from North Yakima and give it to Spokane, because it thinks more people would see it and the receipts be larger at the latter place. Probably true, but Spokane and all other aspiring points might as well become resigned to the fact that the State Fair is settled at Yakima for all time. Large sums of money have been expended for suitable grounds, improvements, etc. Some of that money was squandered by the first commission. During the last few years its affairs have been administered wisely, and the funds have been judiciously handled.

In the distribution of the various state institutions, Yakima was very ambitious. She wanted to draw the state capitol, or the agricultural college, or something else of importance. The rivalry of Ellensburg deprived her of the first honor. The corruption fund of Pullman influenced the commission in its location of the latter. The state fair was the sop thrown to Yakima. All the king's horses could not pull it away from there now.

No good politician will advocate its removal. Such a motion in the legislature would not be even seriously considered.—The Ranch, (Seattle.)

Right you are, neighbor. And don't you think for a minute that we are afraid of losing it. Not so long, at any rate, as Jack Splawn and Doc Hare sit in the state legislature.

THE election returns indicate, especially in most of the northern and western states, that the high tide on which the republican party has been riding to victory in late years, has as yet scarcely begun to ebb. In most of the states that party seems to have won, though in many places by largely reduced majorities.

The next national house of representatives will be republican by from 20 to 25 plurality, which is about one-half of what it is in the present house.

In this state the three republican congressmen appear to be elected by about 12000 plurality, which is a slight increase over two years ago. The newly elected legislature of this state will also contain a majority of republicans in both branches, which insures the retirement of that splendid statesman, Hon. George Turner, from the senate of the United States.

DILLEY, the republican candidate for sheriff in Yakima county and "Doc" Hare, candidate for the legislature were in the city one day this week. In speaking of the republican prospects over there this fall, they were of the opinion that they were doubtful. Before leaving however "Doc" put in a bid for the floating vote that is expected by the republicans of this county to come over from Walla Walla. He thought they could be voted here in the forenoon and rushed to Kennewick in the afternoon. There are no flies on "Doc's" forehead, if he is a republican.—Pasco News-Recorder.

THE two democrats whom the Yakima Republic so maliciously assailed and consistently misrepresented are elected. Who will assert now that our contemporary is without influence?

J. PIERPONT MORGAN and his bosom friend, Mark Hanna, are said to be busily engaged just now in organizing a soft coal trust in order to control the winter fuel market. Look out for an advance in coal.

THE result of Tuesday's election shows that there is a sufficient degree of independence within the republican party of this county to give some of our local politicians something to think about in the future. It has been clearly demonstrated that the voters won't swallow everything and everybody that bears the party label.

The local candidate for congress made a strong plea for votes by sending out through the mails hundreds of personal letters in which the recipient was asked to vote for him. This is a rather unique and unusual method of making a canvass, but perhaps the new system has its advantages. At any rate it has the merit of cheapness; so cheap, in fact, that it had the reverse effect on a goodly number of those who received such letters and determined them not to do it.

THE Spokane-Spokesman-Review came out flatfooted a few days before election in favor of the republican congressional ticket. At the same time that paper in a rather round-about way advocated the election of the democratic legislative ticket. So, at last, the Review's position is defined; it's a mugwump.

In view of the fact that the newly elected national house of representatives seemingly will have a majority of democrats therein, the assumption of that paper that Jones, Cushman and Humphrey ought to be elected because they would stand in with the "push" and thus be able to do more for the state, proves to be a very violent and mistaken one. The editor of the Review ought now to admit that he is just as liable to err as any of the rest of us.

THE most disastrous effect of the great battle of the ballots on Tuesday last to the people of this state will be the defeat of Senator George Turner, from the senate of the United States.

As we have before frequently taken occasion to say, Senator Turner is, in our judgment, much the ablest man that the state of Washington has as yet contributed to public life. We say this, too, without desiring to draw any invidious or distasteful comparison with any other man.

On March 4 next, Senator Turner will retire from the senate to make way for a republican successor. If he lives, however, there is but little probability that his retirement will be permanent. Sooner or later it will dawn upon the minds of the people of this state, who have just refused this great man a renewal of his commission, that they have made a serious mistake. When they have fully learned this they will hasten to rectify the error and the time for such an awakening is not far distant, either.

The people of the state will now be compelled to witness an unseemly scramble among a lot of politicians for the seat of this defeated leader. It will undoubtedly be a sickening spectacle to look upon. The trail of the dollar will be over it all.

THE election is now over and there is nothing left to do but accept the result as gracefully as possible. This is a country in which the majority rules and in which the minority must assent.

THE democratic party of this county put in the field a splendid ticket and also put forth a platform of principles that ought to have commanded the support certainly of all members of the party. With a strong platform and a strong ticket in the field, the party went into the fight on the aggressive, and had a vigorous and well organized campaign being waged, doubtless a much more satisfactory showing would have been made, for the party was united and harmonious, while the opposition, though admittedly in the majority, was torn asunder with feuds and internal dissension.

However, we have succeeded in "mixing it" to some extent with the republicans this year in Yakima county, which represents a clear gain, as two years ago the republican ticket in this county was elected in its entirety.

The election of A. J. Splawn as senator and R. A. Grant as sheriff against an overwhelming majority is a high compliment to the worth and standing of those gentlemen in the community. The DEMOCRAT believes that the public will have no cause to regret their election.

ONE of the few good things resulting from the late election is the defeat of Geo. U. Piper, of Seattle, for the state senate. Piper was beaten by 74 votes by ex-judge W. H. Moore, a sterling democrat. Piper is the corrupt political boss of Seattle under the Humes regime.

THE COUNTY ELECTION.

as the boxes were, of course locked, there is no way knowing until the official count is made just how these precincts voted. At any rate the vote cast at White Bluffs, Red Rock and Mt. Adams are so small that if it were cast unanimously on the offices of senator and school superintendent, it would hardly change the result.

RED ROCK precinct cast 17 votes, of which Splawn received 14 and Englehart 3. This makes the former's plurality 44 with White Bluffs and Mt. Adams to hear from. Those precincts are expected to further increase Splawn's plurality.

A. J. Splawn and R. A. Grant in their hour of victory, have the great satisfaction of knowing that they each made a clean and manly campaign. They did not go about abusing or vilifying their opponents, but sought to win upon their merits as well as upon the merits of the party platform upon which they stood.

THE skinning that John L. Wilson got in Spokane, his home county, Tuesday ought to remove him as a senatorial possibility, but it won't. The Wilson cheek is as hard as adamant and would not be phased in the least by such a vicious slap from the little man's own neighbors.

BIRD S. COLER, democratic candidate for governor of New York, carried the city of Greater New York by the unprecedented majority of 122,074. Still Coler was beaten in the state by Odell by a plurality of 12,887.

Although defeated, the democratic party of New York has evidently pulled itself together again and is now in a position, for the first time in years to make a winning fight! Coler carried Oyster Bay, Teddy's home precinct, by an emphatic majority.

Raid on the Timber Lands.

THE recent craze for timber lands in the Pacific northwest is likely to result in a general investigation of the methods of timber land entry with a possible refusal to receive further entries and the cancellation of many that have already been made. The secretary of the interior suspended entries in Oregon a few days ago, after receiving reports from experts which led him to believe that thousands of acres of timber land were being gobbled up through fraud and that it would be only a short time before the timber areas were found in the hands of a comparatively few persons.

A good deal of evidence has been forth coming to show that there is a regular raid on the timber lands in the interest of the great lumber syndicates. Hundreds of people have taken up claims with the idea of transferring them to big timber men immediately upon acquiring title, and in some localities droves of entry-men have been brought in who are agents of the syndicates and take up land actually although not openly as such. Secretary Hitchcock has taken prompt action over the head of Commissioner Hermann and proposes, if possible, to put a stop to the frauds.

The law of 1878, under which timber lands are taken up, requires personal inspection by the would be entrymen and a declaration that he takes the land in good faith, not for speculation, and that he has made no agreement or contract for transfer of the land or timber to others. It is this fraud of taking timber land for the express purpose of selling to some lumber corporation that has become most common and a thorough investigation by the interior department will probably result in some interesting if not highly startling disclosures.—Spokesman-Review.

"Herman the Magician" Nov. 18

THE Hermans seem to have been born adepts in the "magic art." For almost a century the name has been famous the world over, and the mantle has descended from ancestor to descendant through at least four generations. For four decades the name has been one "to conjure with" in this country, which has seen three out of the four famous members of the Herman family.

Leon Herman, as the present bearer of the title of "Herman the Great" is surnamed a fiery young Gaul, and is very proud of his name and his ancestry. His English is decidedly broken, though hard study has improved it within the past year. "Magic was born with us," he says (minus the linguistic impediments). The first famous one of the family was my grandfather, Samuel Herman. He had his early training in magic and prestidigitation with the great Bosco, the famous magician of a century ago. Samuel Herman had seven sons. He selected the eldest one as his successor, and took him along on his tours, teaching him the art and bringing him up in it from a small lad. The boy was Carl Herman, who was seen in America when he was an old man in 1861—66.

Sheriff-Elect Grant Returns His Thanks.

NORTH YAKIMA, Nov. 6, 1902.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT: I take this method of thanking all my kind friends who contributed so loyally to my success at the polls at the recent election. I wish further to say that in assuming the duties of the office of sheriff that I will do everything in my power to justify the confidence which my friends have shown in me. Yours Respectfully,
R. A. GRANT.

FRED PENNINGTON DEAD.

Well Known Minnesota Capitalist Suddenly Succumbs in This City After a Brief Illness.

Fred Pennington, who, though never a permanent resident of Yakima, had a large circle of friends, as well as extensive business interests, here, died at the residence of George Weikel, on Natchez avenue, this city, at 6:15 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Mr. Pennington had been confined to his bed for only about ten days, having been attacked with fever some two weeks ago. A short time before his death he was attacked with a severe hemorrhage, which is believed to have been the immediate cause of death.

The deceased came here in August, accompanied by Mrs. Pennington, and was engaged in superintending the work of establishing the new Cascade lumber mill, of which he was one of the principle projectors. G. S. Rankin states that Mr. Pennington visited the company's logging camp in the foot hills of the Cascades, some few weeks ago, and while there, doubtless, exposed himself by wading into the river, with the employees, to assist them to remove some obstructions that impeded the passage of logs. Mr. Rankin now feels confident that it was this exposure that brought about the fatal illness of Mr. Pennington.

Mr. Pennington was a man of splendid ability and tremendous energy, who was accustomed to making a success of whatever he undertook. He first came to North Yakima in 1889, accompanied by his brother-in-law, W. P. Sawyer. They formed a partnership and bought out the hardware business of A. B. Weed, which they conducted for a number of years, under the firm name of Sawyer & Pennington, the predecessors of the present Yakima Hardware company, in which organization Mr. Pennington, at the time of his death, still held a large interest. About a year ago he became associated with G. S. Rankin, H. P. Svenson and others in the establishment of the new Cascade saw mill here.

The announcement of Mr. Pennington's sudden demise cast a gloom over his many friends in this city, many of whom were not aware of the fact that he was fatally ill. At the funeral services held Thursday afternoon, previous to the shipment of the body to Stillwater, Minn., for burial, there was a large attendance. The local lodge of Elks had charge of the arrangements and a large representation from that order was present. Mrs. Pennington accompanied by her stepson, Mark, of this city accompanied the remains to Minnesota. The deceased was 56 years of age and besides a widow leaves five children, three sons and two daughters. Mark Pennington, one of the sons, has resided here for the past two years and is employed as bookkeeper for the Yakima Hardware Company.

"Bell of New York"

THE musical comedy event of the current season is announced at Larson's theatre for Nov. 13th., when "The Bell of New York" will play an engagement at this popular playhouse. This excellent play is a most seasonable offering. The company to appear here is on its sixth triumphal tour of America, and it has toured England and Australia. In many respects it is the best organization ever sent from the New York

FLOVE REDLEGE,
As the Salvation Army Lassie.

Casino; inasmuch as it is made up of a combination of the best, from both the London and New York companies. Miss Flove Redlege is this season the demure and enticingly pretty Violet Gray, more popularly known as the "Salvation Army Lassie." Mr. Ned Nye, a most unctuous London comedian, will be seen this season as Ichabod Bronson. Mr. James Darling, a famous actor and stage manager, remains in his great role as Kenneth Mugg. Mr. Harry A. Truax, a popular Pacific Slope baritone will appear as Harry Bronson. Miss Marie della Rosa, a pretty young Italian girl of noble birth, is the Fifi Friot. Mr. Max Bloom as the polite lunatic is an exceptionally clever eccentric character comedian. Miss Charlotte Uart will be seen as the statuesque and beautiful Cora Angelique. Miss Toby Craig will appear as the clever little Mamie Clancy. An engagement of particular interest in connection with the company is that of Mr. Joe Natus so long with the Hoyt & McKee forces, to play the great comedy role of Blinky Bill.

Deaths.

The venerable, Louis, Hiatt, aged 76 years, died Monday at his home in this city, 214 N. First street. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon. The deceased leaves a widow and several children, among whom are Jessie Hiatt and Mrs. Wm. Shearer. Mr. Hiatt removed here with his family from Oregon about 15 years ago.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.

The Corkscrew or Worm Fence System of Public Roads.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT: The new road system now being adopted by the Hon. Board of Commissioners of Yakima county is a wonderful discovery. It is to be known as the "Cork Screw" or "Worm Fence" system. The basic principle on which this system is founded and which appears to them influenced the honorable board to adopt it, is very simple and easily understood. Any old farmer knows from experience that the more worm a rail fence has the stronger it is, and the less liable it is to be blown or knocked down. Now can any one see any reason whatever why these principles would not apply with equal force to the public roads of Yakima county? You see it braces itself and the more twist or worm you give it the stronger it will be. In this country where we have some heavy winds, this is certainly an important consideration.

There are a great many other equally unanswerable reasons why this wonderful rail fence or cork screw system should be immediately adopted and put in operation on all the thorough-fares of Yakima county.

In the first place you see from the above reasons, that they will be much stronger and less liable to be broken up and blown away. Then again as this cork screw system is being gradually extended the public will have the great privilege and unspeakable pleasure of traveling a considerable part of the distance on clean new roads. Generally new things are much better than old ones, and of course there is no reason why new roads should not be better than old ones. Then again it would be a very great benefit to the sheriff of Yakima county. Of course the general public is very much interested in any scheme that will put more money in the sheriff's pocket. You see the money for the additional mileage would be paid by the people of the whole county and they would scarcely feel it, and it would do the sheriff a world of good. He says if he can ever get a criminal started on a stretch of ten or fifteen miles of cork screw road he is a goner sure, for the sheriff can take any other road in the county and head him off in less than an hour. He also thinks it almost certain that the criminal would be so bewildered that he would return to the place he started from in less than an hour, and of course he would have a deputy there ready to pounce right on to him and land him in the calaboose.

The honorable board in adopting the cork screw system on the main thorough-fares of the county are, of course, looking solely to the public welfare. They fully realize that they were elected by the people of the whole county and that they should do nothing that would be against the public interest, and they have taken an oath to that effect, and they will certainly not betray that trust in the interest of any little ring or clique, and those sixty or seventy residents of Parker Bottom will be taught a lesson that they will remember for a long time. They are a lot of old fogies a hundred years behind the times. They have not brains enough to appreciate this wonderful cork screw system.

The honorable board has been trying for the last two or three years to get a section of this cork screw system in operation and selected the road from North Yakima to Zillah, to make the experiment on because it is now almost direct, and is traveled perhaps more than any other road in the county. Now by getting the cork screw system started on this main thorough-fare, more people will travel over it in a given time than any where else, and there can be no question as to the result. They will most certainly all be enthusiastic in its favor for they would be worse than idiots to be otherwise. The honorable board has already spent a considerable sum of the peoples money to get this wonderful cork screw system started.

Those old clod hoppers down there in Parker Bottom have caused the honorable board to take a case to the supreme court of the state and pay all the expenses too out of the public funds of Yakima county. But what is a few paltry hundred dollars when principal and the great cork screw system are hanging in the balance. They have the system fairly started now and it is to be hoped that they will be enabled before their term of office expires to cork screw this main thorough-fare all the way from Zillah to North Yakima. And then they will feel that they have done their whole duty and have glory enough. Those old fogies down there in Parker Bottom are influenced by purely selfish motives. They say they prefer the old direct system because they have to haul every pound of their products over that road to get to the railroad, and every time they travel the road they will have to travel considerable farther and that will take more time, and time they say is money, and a few of them claim that they don't have any more money now than they need for their wives and little ones. Now any person can see at a glance that this is pure selfishness, while the honorable board is influenced solely by the highest motive for the good of the people of the entire county. The cork screw system has been tried to a limited extent on short county roads and has always been found to work well where only two or three individuals are concerned. So you see there is no reason and can be none why it is not just what is needed on the main thorough-fares of the county.

I had rather be chairman of that honorable board and receive the blessings of all who may have the unspeakable privilege of traveling over this wonderful system and be known through the coming ages as the first pure, genuine undefiled cork screw board. Than to be president or king of any country on earth.

Yours against old fogysm and in favor of good roads and progress generally.

P. J. FLINT.

The City Election.

The annual election of North Yakima will occur Tuesday Dec. 2. The registration books will close 20 days previous, which will be Nov. 13th.

The officers to be chosen are a mayor, treasurer, attorney, clerk, health officer and four councilmen. The councilmen whose terms expire are W. J. Reed, A. L. Atkins, A. J. Shaw and E. O. Keck. The holdover members of the council are Harry Moran, E. J. Wyman and J. C. Liggett, representing the first, second and third wards respectively.

Passed Forged Checks.

A man giving his name as Fred B. Lewis, was arrested by the city officers Tuesday night, on the suspicion of having passed bogus checks on the bartenders of two front street saloons.

The checks were each for the amount of $18.50 and signed by the "Lombard-Horsley" company. Henry Lombard was aroused from his slumbers by one of the officers who wished to know if the checks were genuine. Receiving a decided reply in the negative, the guardian of the law promptly locked the offender up. Lewis was bound over by justice Taggard Friday.

The Lost Ballots.

Some excitement was created in town among the politicians Tuesday morning when word was received from Sunnyside by phone that the official ballots sent to that place by Auditor Kelso had not reached there. A good deal of telephoning was done before the missing package of ballots was found. The box was finally located under the counter of the express office at Mabton with the written address missing. The package was sent to Sunnyside post haste, the messenger arriving there about 11:30 after which the voting began in that precinct.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Leander L. Landingham and Miss Mable Anna Pierce secured a license to wed on Wednesday. The ceremony was performed that evening by Rev. F. L. Hayden, at the home of the brides parents at 132 N. First street.

H. B. Spencer, of the W. U. telegraph office, received some election news Wednesday from his former home, Minneapolis, which gave him cause to rejoice. It was to the effect that his brother-in-law, J. C. Haynes, a prominent democrat of that city, had been elected mayor of Minneapolis the day preceding, by a majority of over 6,000.

The Sunnyside Sun states that Coffin Bros., of this city, have purchased the store building and furniture business of E. A. Philpot, of that place. The purchasing firm is preparing to build an additional store room, 20x70 feet in size, which will be utilized for their mercantile business. This will make four branch stores to be operated by Coffin Bros. in this county.

Friday evening of last week was hallowe'en and if that fact escaped the attention of the average adult, it was remembered by the average boy on mischief bent. A number of people in this city on awakening the next morning, found themselves in possession of divers pieces of personal property belonging to neighbors, that had been mysteriously transferred during the night.

At the morning services at the Episcopal Church last Sunday Rev. H. M. Bartlett tendered his resignation as rector, to take effect as soon as his successor should be elected. There is much regret expressed among members of the church as the result of the popular rector's announcement and it is understood that a determined effort will be made to induce him to change his mind and withdraw his resignation.

Union Fruit Growers Meet.

A meeting of the Yakima Fruit Growers' Union was held Saturday afternoon in this city, at which a number of matters which have perplexed the management recently were discussed.

Sales agent Perry stated to the meeting the difficulty he had met with in the way of procuring certain varieties of choice apples with which to fill orders. He complained that some of the members had disposed of their choice stock to outsiders, on account of realizing, as they thought, better prices than could be obtained through delivery to him.

Edward Remy urged on the growers present the necessity of co-operating and backing up the efforts of Inspector Beck in the matter of eradicating the pests during the coming months.

Another meeting of the union will be held at the city hall at 2 p. m., Saturday, November 15, at which time Manager Perry will make his report for the season. All members are requested to be present.

The English Are Unmilitary.
Partly from historical and partly from racial causes the English are essentially unmilitary. They regard the control of soldiers. They distrust military ideals. No government that ever existed in this country was more unpopular than that of Oliver Cromwell and his major generals. Its unpopularity left an indelible mark on English institutions. For many years it made it impossible to have a standing army. Even when the course of events made it necessary to concede that much to the military necessities of the time it still remained a maxim for centuries with all politicians that as little power as possible must be granted to the soldiers; that their business was to fight our wars, and, this being done, that there was little or no place for them in the body politic.

We do not think it necessary to defend this attitude of mind. Like most popular feelings, it is largely unjust, but also, like many popular feelings, it is based to some extent on a true conception. Politically, using the word in its largest sense, the domination of the military idea in a state is calamitous. It tends, we believe, to destroy individuality and is a serious menace to individual liberty.—English Monthly Review.

The Third Handle.
The best account of the origin of the loving cup comes from the late Lord Lyons, British ambassador at Paris. Henry IV of France while hunting became separated from his companions and, feeling thirsty, called at a wayside inn for a cup of wine. The serving maid on handing it to him as he sat on horseback neglected to present the handle. Some wine was spilled, and his majesty's white gauntlets were soiled. While riding home he bethought him that a two handled cup would prevent a recurrence of this, so his majesty had a two handled cup made at the royal potteries and sent it to the inn. On his next visit he called again for wine, when, to his astonishment, the maid, having received instructions from her mistress to be very careful of the king's cup, presented it to him by holding it herself by each of its handles. At once the happy idea struck the king of a cup with three handles, which was promptly acted upon, as his majesty quaintly said, "Surely, out of three handles I shall be able to get one!" Hence the loving cup.

"Many years ago," writes a New Hampshire clergyman in the Boston Journal, "it was the custom to store liquors in church cellars in Boston; not all of them, but many of them. As late as 1850, and probably later, the cellar of the stone church on Bowdoin square was used by the Trull distillery near by (Pitts street, if I am right) for the ripening in hogsheads of New England rum. Some one found a hymn-book in a pew and copied in there the following verse:

"There are spirits above and spirits below,
The spirits of love and the spirits of woe.
The spirits above are the spirits of love;
The spirits below are the spirits of woe.
I have myself frequently watched
The men putting hogsheads of rum into the cellars or taking them out."

Four Perfect Women.
The prophet Mohammed is reported to have said that "among men there had been many perfect, but not more than four of the other sex have attained perfection—to wit, Aslah, Mary, Khadijah and Fatima." Aslah was the wife of the pharaoh of the Exodus. She forsook the faith of her fathers, on account of which her husband subjected her to many cruelties. The Virgin Mary was the second perfect woman, Mohammed stating that "she had been exalted above all the women of the world." Khadijah was the first wife of the prophet, "a princess among women." Fatima, according to Mohammed, was the fourth perfect woman, she being his beloved daughter.

The Bill Would Grow.
"I've brought you a little brother," said the doctor.
"No," said the impossible child; "the stork brought my little brother."
"Well, I'm the stork," said the doctor.
"But where is your bill?" said the impossible child.

It is claimed by those who should know that an impossible child is probably never wittier than upon the occasion of somebody being born into the family.—Detroit Journal.

Old Church Lotteries.
A citizen of Wilkesburg, Pa., owns an old lottery ticket which reads as follows: "No. 257. Presbyterian church lottery. Authorized by law. This ticket will entitle the possessor to such prize as shall be drawn to its number, if demanded within 12 months after the drawing, subject to 20 per cent deduction. M. Wilkins, president of the board of managers, Pittsburg, June 3, 1807."

The Mistress (entering the kitchen)—Jane, didn't I hear a dish break a minute ago?
The Maid.—I hope you did, mem. It made noise enough. If you hadn't heard it, I should have thought you were getting deaf, and that, you know, would be awful.—Boston Transcript.

Unpleasant to Have Around.
"Are you still engaged to Mr. Briggs?"
"No, I broke it off last week. I was afraid to marry him. He knows too much. I gave him some ribbon to match. He found it in the first store he went to, and he bought it for 2 cents below the regular price."

Best Liniment on Earth.
I. M. McNary, Greenville, Texas, writes, Nov. 24, 1900: "I had rheumatism last winter, was down in bed six weeks; tried everything, but got no relief, till a friend gave me a part of a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I used it, and got two more bottles. It cured me and I haven't felt any rheumatism since. I can recommend Snow Liniment to be the best liniment on earth for rheumatism." For rheumatic, sciatic, or neuralgic pains, rub in Ballard's Snow Liniment, you will not suffer long, but will be gratified with a speedy and effective cure. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Fred L. Janek.

Worm Vermifuge.
Whites Cream Vermifuge, not only kills worms, but removes the mucus and slime, in which they build their nests; it brings, and quickly, a healthy condition of the body, where worms cannot exist. 25c at Fred L. Janek.

Throne That Was Never Called For.
On the eve of the Franco-German war when the Emperor Louis Napoleon entered upon the conflict which ended so disastrously to himself and his countrymen, a couple of strangers appeared at a German town. They brought with them a large packing case, which on their arrival was carried to a hotel. Here the unknown visitors remained some time and eventually disappeared without paying their bill, which amounted to a considerable sum.

The landlord, whose curiosity had often been aroused with reference to the possible contents of the case, at last determined to open it and on doing so found a handsomely designed and richly upholstered state chair. This was adorned with the French imperial arms, eagle and Louis Napoleon's monogram, and beneath it was a musical box which played when the cushion was sat upon. It is supposed that the throne—for such it is believed to have been—in the event of success attending the French army was to have been used by the emperor at Berlin after the capture of the German metropolis. Fate, however, spoiled the imperial plans, hence the sudden and precipitate flight of the custodians of the chair. The widow of the hotel keeper a few years later sent it to England, where it eventually found a purchaser.—Stray Stories.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Large Batch of Routine and Other Business Disposed of.

Mayor Fechter and Councilmen Reed, Moran, Aikins and Keck were present when the city council was called to order Monday evening, in bi-monthly session, and councilman Liggett appeared shortly after.

The county commissioners and M. S. Scudder were before the council to proffer a proposition to lower the Broad Gauge ditch, at a probable cost of $700. Mr. Horsley, for the commissioners, stated that the county would do its share toward paying the expense of draining the section under the ditch and clearing out the willow and debris. On motion of Reed the city agreed to pay one third of the expense of clearing out the Broad Gauge ditch, the county to stand one-third and the ditch company the other third, all under the supervision of the city and county engineer.

A petition from property owners on Fourth street for the grading of six blocks on Fourth street south of Yakima avenue, was granted on motion of Reed. On Keck's motion, the city attorney was instructed to draw an ordinance for the grading of north Fourth street in conjunction with that of south Fourth street.

Bills for current expenses and various other items for the month of October were ordered paid. The marshals salary was cut to $42.50 for the month of October, on recommendation of the mayor, as it was said that the marshal had been off duty some time on political business.

The mayor reported that engineer McCullough, of Lewiston, Idaho, who had been here investigating the drainage for the west side of the city, had reported that the natural drains were over-flooded from irrigation of the higher lands, and recommended that the sewer system be extended at the same time that drainage pipes are laid. An ordinance amending the plumbing ordinance, providing for pay of inspector was laid over until next meeting. Reports of the marshal and city justice, showing receipts of $338.50 for the month of October, along with that of city sexton; referred to appropriate committees.

Bids for grading Kittitas and Wenas avenues were read from W. L. Dimmick for $1 per lineal foot. On motion of Atkins the clerk was instructed to read advertise for bids. H. J. Snively addressed the council in behalf of property holders on the Schanno ditch, south of the avenue, on the west side, asking that the said waterway be straightened as it had been north of the avenue, to conform with the streets.

On recommendation of the mayor, the police force was reduced to four men and the ditch tender, laid off until spring. Bland, Richmond and Hunter were the officers laid off. The marshal was instructed to advertise for sale several saddles taken as security for fines. The council then adjourned.

Jones Closes Campaign.

The rally of the republicans, at Larson's theater, Monday night, was well attended, although the house was far from full. Chairman Frank, of the county central committee, presided, and Congressman Jones delivered a lengthy address.

Mr. Jones' speech was intended mainly to line up the party vote, and the gentleman, seemingly, with that object in view, delivered an eloquent address.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly tailing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
