OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

WITHIN the past few weeks the DEMOCRAT has received unmistakable evidence from nearly every precinct in Yakima county heartily endorsing the pronounced policy of this paper with regard to the better protection in the future of the Rainer forest reserve and of the entire watershed of the Yakima valley. Not only have many farmers called to personally assure us of their support in this matter, but we have received a number of commendatory letters from people who are not within easy reach of the county seat, but who nevertheless feel a deep interest in the question at issue. The general tenor of these communications is to the effect that in the judgment of the writers, sheep grazing particularly, is extremely harmful to the maintenance of the watershed and that the general government has no moral right to continue the pernicious policy of licensing a few favored stockmen to destroy the common heritage of the people. It is worthy of note in this connection that a good deal of this commendation comes from people who are not and never have been in political accord with the DEMOCRAT, thus demonstrating the falsity of the assertions made by interested parties that this question of sheep grazing in the reserve is a purely political one.

The DEMOCRAT, naturally, enough feels well satisfied at these expressions of public approval of its course. However, it was with no thought of earning public applause that the paper has pursued such a course. It is because from the first we have believed it to be right and just and in consonance with sound public policy. We have not been actuated by any feeling of personal hostility towards the sheep owners, but rather because of the conviction that the continued welfare of that industry seriously threatens the agricultural development of this great section as well as the material interests of every man, woman and child in it who derives a livelihood either directly or indirectly from the products of the soil.

In so far as the press of this county is concerned, strange to relate, the DEMOCRAT has carried on this fight for a great principle unaided and alone. We dislike to refer to it—but since it is a matter of common knowledge there can be no harm done—that our local contemporaries in this city have all been too cowardly on this issue to speak up in behalf of the rights of the people. With their boasted great circulation they have never published a line in their columns, unless it was contributed, in defense of the farmers' interests. On the other hand, they have ever been ready to back up this paper in the work that it has been doing to protect ninety-five per cent of the population of this county from the spoliation of their natural rights.

The state land commissioner has no right and no business to withdraw any portion of the capitol land grant from sale or assume the privilege to lease any part of it for grazing purposes, besides it is contrary to sound public policy to do so. The state should sell these lands to actual settlers at a reasonable price and as they are called for. By doing otherwise it is simply retarding the growth and development of the commonwealth. The capitol lands which are located largely in central and eastern Washington are the only lands owned by the state that can be sold for less than 10 per acre. Owing to the tide of immigration now on from the east these lands or a large part of them can now find a ready market at good prices. Why the state should want to play the part of the greedy speculator is beyond comprehension.

By leasing the land a few cents per acre may be realized as annual rental but what is that compared to the advantages of having the land settled on, improved and a large body of new taxpayers created? Last week a body of 10,000 acres of what is considered good wheat land in Douglas county, was leased to a syndicate of stockmen for ten cents an acre. These deals are being made by Land Commissioner Calvert with the assent of Gov. McBride. The trouble is that state officials who have always lived on the west side are proverbially ignorant of the conditions on this side of the mountains and what is more they never seem to take the trouble to inform themselves.

The Agriculturist, an alleged newspaper, published at Goldendale, rails at the Yakima Commercial club for its opposition to the practice of grazing in the Rainer reserve. That paper asserts that Klickitat county is as vitally interested in the matter as is Yakima county and says that the club's action was taken at the whim of a few uninformed malcontents.

Since the Klickitat paper has raised this point of selfish community interests we don't mind pursuing the matter a little farther. According to Supervisor Nichols' report 100,000 sheep owned in Klickitat county grazed in the reserve last year and just as many as will be permitted may be expected in the next season. Aside from the damage that these sheep are alleged to be doing on the watershed itself, it is an admitted fact that they work a great deal of injury to the range and to the property of farmers in their annual pilgrimage to an fro. Klickitat county people anyway, have no irrigation interests and therefore care nothing about the preservation of the watershed, which with the majority of people in this county is of vital importance.

From a selfish and material point of view the Yakima sheepmen can advance an argument to gain admittance to the reserve that will not apply to the Klickitat sheepmen. The stock from the latter county come over here in great bands every year leaving a path of desolation in their wake but without leaving any substantial benefits behind that might compensate in part for the ruin that is wrought.

COL. ROBERTSON exhibits a slight degree of malice in discussing the coming Jeffersonian love feast at Spokane. In penning that bit of railery the colonel's mind probably reverted back to the halcyon days when he was himself a disciple of the illustrious Jefferson and a shining light in the ranks of the state democracy. But in an evil hour he fell from grace and is therefore denied admission to the sanctuary. Poor deluded man! He seems to be really unhappy with his new associates.

SOONER or later and more probably sooner than later, General Miles will be forced out of the army. "Teddy" has it in for him, as has every bureaucrat of the war department, just as the bureaucrats of the navy department had it in for Schley. Miles, therefore, must go. In his retirement, however, he will carry with him the sympathy of the people. He is beyond doubt the greatest soldier in America today and that fact is what seems to grind "Teddy" Roosevelt.

THE Chambers of Commerce of Portland and San Francisco have petitioned congress not to re-enact the Geary Chinese exclusion law. Of course, the very rich men of those cities want the "pig tails" to come in, but it is a wonder that they had the nerve to say so. It is to be noted in this connection that the republican majority in congress has thus far shown no disposition to extend the provisions of the Geary act which expires by limitation in about six weeks.

THE democrats of Spokane are making arrangements to suitably commemorate on April 13th the 150th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson the father of modern democracy and author of the Declaration of Independence. The occasion will be a notable one and will be attended by many of the leading democrats of this and neighboring states. The Spokane meeting will be "a feast of reason and a flow of soul."

THE first act of Hopkins, the new U. S. marshal, was to lop off the official head of Deputy Abraham Lincoln Dilley, a well known statesman and Wilson worker of this town. Hopkins gives as a reason for the decapitation that no deputy is needed within the precincts of this peaceful burg. That explanation, however, will hardly go down. The real reason is, rather, that "Link", unfortunately, placed his money on the wrong horse.

POLICE JUDGE NICHOLS of this village, goes on the theory that municipal laws are made to be enforced. In handing out justice his honor knows neither friend nor foe. Hoboes who hug the delusion that the world owes them a living without working for it, are graciously undeceived and given an opportunity to ponder over the ways of the world at the rock pile. Bully for Judge Nichols.

ROOSEVELT took great pleasure in calling down Miles for an assumed impropriety. If the president wishes to be fair and impartial why does he not also call down Funston an inferior officer for the same reason. Funston without doubt is a brave fighter but he talks too much with his mouth for a man in his position. Roosevelt instead of rebuking him, promotes him.

COL. HENRY WATSON the brilliant editor of the Louisville Courier Journal, is nothing if not original. In response to a toast at a dinner given by the Virginia Democratic association in Washington recently, the great Kentuckian referred to President "Teddy" as the "Bronco Buster" and to Gen. Freddy Funston as a "Whipper Snapper in shoulder straps."

ACCORDING to the N. Y. World President Roosevelt has engaged a professional wrestler and boxer to visit the White House twice a day in order to give him the opportunity to work off his surplus accumulation of fat. One would think that his constant swinging of the official ax would be sufficiently "strenuous" exercise to keep "Teddy" in good health.

COL. SAM PERKINS the newspaper Napoleon of the "city of destiny," is putting up a strong fight through his News for Cole for mayor. He is also doing equally as well for Campbell through his Ledger. The thrifty colonel is thus enabled to catch all the politicians either going or coming.

ELLENSBURG like Rip Van Winkle has awakened from her long sleep. The town has built a new theater and now the enterprising "burgers" threaten to build a new ditch. Good for Ellensburg. The old lady is perhaps a little slow, but she will get there just the same.

JUDGE RUDKIN since his return from the east, don't talk like a man who intended to resign. Lawyer Mires had better pigeonhole that petition.

"Who is going to be senator," is a question that is now beginning to worry the leaders of the faithful, hereabouts.

If Frank B. Cole don't beat Campbell for mayor of Tacoma he will at least give him a race for his money.

Sixty-two homestead filings were made at the U. S. land office here between March 1st and 27th. This record makes March the banner month for filings since the office was established.

Andy Lynch having recovered from the smallpox, was able to be in town this week from his home on the school section. His injured knee is still in splinters but is gradually healing.

Geo. Sewall, an all around tough, was arraigned before Justice Taggard Thursday on the charge of petty larceny. He was given a fine of $25 and costs in default of which he was committed to the Hotel Tucker.

Jewell & Shriner have dissolved partnership in the conduct of the "Farmers" restaurant on Front street, the former retiring. Mr. Jewell is now opening up a cigar store and billiard hall next door in the Switzer block.

The Easter services at St. Michaels church tomorrow will doubtless attract a large audience. Prof. Wilson has prepared a very choice musical program for the occasion. The morning service begins at 11 o'clock and the evening at 7.30.

Hon. J. O. B. Scobey, receiver of the Olympia land office, is in the city this week. It is understood that Mr. Scobey contemplates the establishment of a fruit cannery in North Yakima and will submit a proposition to the Commercial club.

Frank Clemmer had the misfortune to lose his driving horse Wednesday. The animal managed to get loose in the barn and going to the feed bin ate so freely that he foundered himself. The grieving owner is now looking for another family driver.

The millinery stores of this city are now bowers of beauty particularly in the line of feminine headgear. The spring openings which occurred at Rinehart's and Mrs. Cary's Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week were well attended.

The local branch of the A. F. C. has decided to give another entertainment Thursday eve, April 3rd, at which time a large delegation is expected from Ellensburg. A committee consisting of 16 members has been appointed to take charge of the arrangements.

The burning out of a chimney at the residence of Joseph Stephenson on Fourth street, was the cause of the fire alarm being turned in Thursday evening. Another false alarm was turned in a short time afterward from box 61 located near the Catholic church.

The members of the Order of Washington will give a necktie social in the Woodmen's hall on Monday evening, April 7th. A literary and musical program will be rendered and refreshments served. Admission free. Nominal charge will be made for refreshments.

Attorney Snively was apprised of the fact last week that the supreme court had ordered a re-trial in Kittitas of the case of Michael Boyer a thirteen year old boy, versus the N. P. Coal Co. The boy was seriously injured while working in the Roslyn mines and through his mother sued the company for damages.

The people living in the neighborhood of White Bluffs have petitioned the department for a postoffice. In case the prayer is granted it is presumed that the mail will be carried from Pasco in a steam launch. There are about 25 families to be served the most of whom have heretofore received their mail from North Yakima.

Will Saylor, a well known Yakima boy, but for the past two years a resident of Seattle, met with a painful street car accident in Seattle Sunday night that may yet prove fatal. The young man's many friends in this city trust that he will survive. After leaving school here he was employed as a clerk in the New York store. He had lately been clerking in the Bon Marche store in Seattle.

Lieut. Liggett of Co. C. has been notified from the Adj. general's office at Olympia that he had successfully passed the examination for a captain's commission and that the same would be forthcoming in a few days. The sergeants who were candidates for lieutenant commissions seem to have all failed. At the examination held by Lieut. Liggett for appointment as corporals the following privates passed: Walter Rowe, Herbert Shaw, D. J. Calkins and F. T. McCoy.

Cure For Consumption.

Any attempt to cure consumption is always interesting to the public, and all ideas on the subject contributed by scientific men are duly appreciated. The communication of Dr. Herald of Newark to the board of health of that city takes up the subject from a new standpoint, and deserves consideration not only from a scientific but also from a humanitarian point of view. Some what contrary to the theories of most experimenters, the learned gentleman believes that the tubercle bacillus is not the sole agency in producing death, but that the latter is due for the most part to a number of associated microbes, which in their turn produce the fever, exhaustion and emaciation so commonly seen in advanced cases of the disease. His methods of immunization on that basis will appeal to scientific observers generally, and it is to be hoped that the Newark authorities will afford him proper opportunities for continuing his observations. So far as he has gone there is certainly good scientific reason for his convictions, inasmuch as similar results have been obtained with the antitoxin of diphtheria used on the same principle.—New York Herald.

Major Appel, the United States army chief surgeon at Fort Bayard, New Mexico, is represented as claiming without reservation that consumption in every stage can be cured there, and General MacArthur is quoted as fully indorsing the claim, after a thorough investigation of the soldiers' sanitarium established by the government at the fort. Fort Bayard is in the elevated region of southwestern New Mexico, where the air is dry and pure. That part of the territory has for some time been resorted to by consumptive patients, and with good results in many cases.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Have Troubles of Their Own.

The republicans of this state have plenty of troubles of their own. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, the leading republican organ of the state, refused to support the republican candidate for mayor of that city. The Walla Walla Union is busily engaged in roasting Gov. McBride, charging that he is trying to use his office to build up a political machine. The Spokane Spokesman-Review is roasting the Post-Intelligencer for not supporting Humes and belaboring the Union for not supporting the governor. The Wilson men are cussing the Ankeny crowd, the Ankeny push are damming the Wilson faction and Preston's followers and McBride's supporters are assailing the other factions impartially. There never was half the bad feeling and not one-fourth of the bad language at the famous three-ringed circus at Ellensburg as is now in evidence in the republican happy family.

The factional fight in the state has extended to the national capital and Senator Foster and Congressman Jones and Cushman have been devoting more time and energy to fighting at the pie counter than to representing the interests of their constituents.

In the coming campaign there is certain to be a clash between the forces of Wilson, Ankeny and Preston, the leading republican candidates for United States senator. The democrats are united on one candidate, who in point of ability and fitness for the office far outclasses either one of the republican aspirants, that candidate is George Turner and if the people of the state consult their own interests, they will reelect him.—Colfax Commoner.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at W. E. Ayres' drug store.

INGERSOLL ON "WOMAN'S LOVE."

Two Versions of the Eloquent Agnostic's Sentiment Offered.

(Kansas City Star.)

In response to "C. E. C.'s" request for a certain tribute by Col. R. G. Ingersoll to "Woman", Mrs. W. B. Keach of 706 East Fifth street sends the Star the following:

"It takes a hundred men to make an encampment, but one woman can make a home. I not only admire woman as the most beautiful object ever created, but I reverence her as the redeeming glory of humanity, the sanctuary of all the virtues, the pledge of all perfect qualities of heart and head. It is not just or right to lay the sins of men at the feet of woman. It is because women are so much better than men that their faults are considered greater. A man's desire is the foundation of his love, but a woman's desire is born of her love.

"The one thing in this world that is constant, the one peak that rises above all clouds, the one window in which the light forever burns, the one star that darkness cannot quench, is woman's love. It rises to the greatest heights, it sinks to the lowest depths, it forgives the most cruel injuries. It is perennial of life, and grows in every climate.
Neither coldness nor neglect, harshness nor cruelty can extinguish it. A woman's love is the perfume of the heart. This is the real love that subdues the earth; the love that has wrought all miracles of art; that gives us music all the way from the cradle song to the grand closing symphony that bears the soul away on wings of fire. A love that is greater than power, sweeter than life, and stronger than death."

Mr. Ed. M. Smith, 2920 Forest avenue, sends the following, which seems to be a transcript of Colonel Ingersoll's musical prose into rhythmic blank verse:

WOMAN'S LOVE.

The only thing that's constant in the world
The only peak that stands above all clouds,
The only window where the light e'er burns,
The only star that darkness cannot dim,
Is woman's love.

It rises to the greatest of all heights,
It sinks to the lowest of all depths, Forgets, forgives the most and deepest wrongs.
Perennial in its life, it finds a home In every clime.

Not coldness, cruelty, neglect nor wrong Can alter, weaken or extinguish it A woman's love is perfume to the heart;
Her love has wrought all miracles of art,
And beauty's dream.

It gives us music all along the way, From cradle to the last grand symphony That bears the soul away on wings of fire;
This love is greater, sweeter than all power, Outlasting death.

Rose Coghan, Coming April 1st.

Miss Rose Coghan will be seen here in Jules Murry's elaborate production of Herman Merivale's strong drama "Forget Me Not." The play is constructed as a problem play and Rose Coghan dominates it from first to last. It is forceful in its representation of social injustice to erring women, brisk in movement, ingenious in story, poignant in contrasts of character and of the best written society dramas in our language.
Miss Coghan was the original representative in this country of Stephanie, Countess De Mohriav, and pre-eminently the best. The character is that of a hard, cold, unscrupulous woman, who has led a brilliant but misguided life and who is presented as endeavoring to obtain social recognition through the influence of a charming female relative over whom she possesses a compulsory and blackmailing advantage. The ethical position Stephanie assumes is that she would not be able to prosper in her profligate life if it were not for the existence of such men as Sir Horace Welby, who has reformed and is opposing Stephanie in her endeavors to obtain a social footing in a circle, which includes a pure young girl whom he most dearly loves. Stephanie is victorious over Sir Horace at first, but is ultimately reduced to a pitiable state of terror and humiliation by the sight of one of her former dupes, a Corsican, who has sworn a vendetta. It is in this scene that Miss Coghan's great art is manifest. Her final stealthy exit from the stage, her shuddering horror and simultaneous of a hunted desperate woman makes her an interesting and formidable picture. Her great beauty, queenly bearing and the admirable management of scenes in which she brings feminine rallies and coquetry to bear on Sir Horace and others of his class, allied to her sweet powerful voice make spectators aware they are witnessing the performance of America's greatest actress in this style of part.

A Horrible Outbreak.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19, 1902.

The announcement on Monday that the committee on rules of the house of representatives had determined to report favorably upon Representative Crumpacker's resolution providing for the appointment by the speaker of a select committee to investigate the question of suffrage in its relation to congressional representation in the southern states, caused great indignation among the democratic representatives in congress who see foreshadowed by this initiative another force bill and all the attendant resuscitation of the animosities which once existed between north and south. Representative Richardson, democratic leader of the house, told me Thursday that the democrats would use every legitimate effort to prevent this undesired end. He said, "I regard the whole movement as an attempt at the violation of the rights of the south. It is pernicious and fraught with danger.
Any investigation of this nature if undertaken at all, should be undertaken on purely non-partisan grounds and there is every reason to believe that the action of the proposed committee would be partisan in the extreme. That the republican leaders should contemplate such a move at this time is a revelation, even to me, of the weakness they feel in approaching the coming elections but they will defeat their own objects for such methods will not receive the support of their own party. There is no question but that it will prove a booming and will result in material democratic gains."

Senator Bailey of Texas, whom I saw in regard to the proposed move, expressed himself as follows: "It is a matter of grave regret to me that the leaders of a great party in their desire to serve partisan ends should permit themselves to take action which is calculated to disturb the growing feeling of peace and good will between the north and the south and which all patriotic Americans have striven to promote. Of course there is no question but that this action is aimed at certain southern states. That it is admitted even by the promoters of the movement and the result must be the renewal of that sectional strife in politics which we have all tried long and successfully to obliterate. The southern people have abandoned force and every objectionable method of preserving their homes and saving themselves from inevitable disaster and have relied on purely constitutional means and I am loath to believe that the better element of the republican party in the north will approve of this political move. It is ill-advised and narrow in conception and naturally every democrat will resist it to the utmost."

Were the investigation to be carried on impartially in the northern as well as in the southern states and by a non-partisan committee, were the legislative frauds of Pennsylvania, Ohio and other northern states to be as thoroughly investigated as the suffrage question in the south, the democrats would not object to the proposition, but they realize that this is not the case and they can only regard it as an attempt to limit the voice of the southern states in the affairs of the nation. As such it will be vigorously resisted.

On Monday the republicans added one more to the long list of class measures they will be asked to account for to the people at the polls, when they voted in the senate for the passage of the ship subsidy bill. The measure was passed with but six dissenting republican votes and even the amendment offered by Senator Pettus of Alabama, which placed a limitation on the amount which might be expended under the provisions of the bill, was rejected, so that if it becomes a law there is no telling what the cost will be to the government. Every resource of logic and rhetoric which could be summoned to the defense of the rights of the people was used against this pernicious measure by its democratic opponents in the brilliant debate which preceded its passage but to no avail. There is considerable gossip attached to its passage and it is said that a direct trade was made between those senators from the west whose constituents are opposed to the measure and the senators from the east, votes for the anti-oleomargarine bill being promised in exchange for votes for the subsidy bill.

Faank Sakai, who for years was the popular and efficient chef at the Hotel Bartholet and M. Shinahara who is the proprietor of the Oriental restaurant, have leased the Taft building formerly occupied by Kleis & Sinema the grocer, and will open today what will be known as the M. & F. Cafe. The building has been thoroughly overhauled and now presents a most attractive appearance.

J. J. McDonold this week received back a bicycle that was stolen from him nearly two years ago. The man who returned it stated that he had perloined the wheel but that he had since reformed, and that as his conscience troubled him he concluded to restore it to its owner and beg to be forgiven. The bicycle had not been used and was returned in apparently good condition. Having been forgiven for his offense the reformed man went on his way rejoicing.

A Friend at Court.

Lewis Nixon the new head of Tammany, is a cousin of James Hamilton Lewis, and this, it is thought, will give our state a great lift when the Democrats come into power nationally. The new Tammany chief and Col. Lewis have long been friends. When Croker brought Nixon out as the New York candidate for the vice presidential nomination at Kansas City, the colonel pledged himself to cast such votes for him as he was able to control. Lewis' friends thereafter did valiant work for Nixon, and when Lewis withdrew from the vice presidential contest, the Washington delegation would have gone to a man, for Nixon, it is said, had not his name likewise been withdrawn by Croker.
Those circumstances will be no disad-vantage to Washington, if in the whirl, the Democratic party comes uppermost.

Stetson's Great "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company.

Manager Fournier has made arrangements to present the original Stetson production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" on Saturday, March 29, at Larson's theater. The wonderful popularity of Harriet Beecher Stowe's masterpiece all over the United States for the past forty years has led to its production by all kinds of managers with all kinds of actors, good, bad and indifferent. There is magic in the name of "Uncle Tom" and its capacity to draw the public to see it. This, as pretty much all theater patrons are aware, has been fully taken advantage of by a horde of irresponsible and production by them, at once "wild and woolly" has been the too often result. When produced with a proper dramatic cast, coupled with proper scenic and mechanical equipment, no such story of American life, prior to the great crisis in our national affairs, has ever been penned. For twenty years, the Stetson production has been the leading one, steadily advancing each season with the wonderful advancement in stage craft. The rolling stock, parade features, scenic investment and choruses have been steadily added to, while the musical and dramatic roles have been placed in the hands of artists of reputation. Special scenery by Seavey is carried for every scene depicted. A corps of colored singers, cake-walkers, dancers and field hands from the cotton belt lend realism to the plantation scenes.

School Land Sold.

At the court house last Saturday Auditor Kelso sold at public auction school section 16 under the Kennewick ditch. The successful bidder was the firm of Fullerton and Johnson of Oakesdale who paid $18 per acre for one quarter section and $16.50 per acre for the balance. Local bidders were O. A. Fechter and G. L. Allen. People who know the land think that the price paid is reasonable notwithstanding the fact $20 per acre must be added to secure a water right.
