SURVEYS TO BE MADE.

Yakima Development Company to Begin
Work at Once—Messrs. Nares,
Judson and Lippincott here.

L. A. Nares and C. S. Judson of the recently organized Yakima Development company were in the city this week. With the former gentleman from Los Angeles, California, came Engineer J. B. Lippincott, the noted engineer and general irrigation expert. Mr. Lippincott is superintendent of engineers of the hydrographic department and works under the direction of F. H. Newell, who, as is well known in this valley, is in charge of all government work under the operations of the new irrigation law. Engineer Worthington of Spokane, who made some preliminary surveys for a high line canal last spring, was also here and the first of the week accompanied Mr. Lippincott for a tour of inspection of the lakes at the head of the Yakima. On their return they proceeded to Spokane where Mr. Lippincott expected to meet his chief, Mr. Newell.

Mr. Nares left here Thursday for Spokane and points in Idaho after which he will attend the National Irrigation congress, which convenes at Ogden, Utah, Sept. 15, he having been selected as a delegate from this county by the board of county commissioners in session this week.

Before leaving Mr. Nares informed the Democrat that probably during the coming week three corps of surveyors would be put to work in running the preliminary lines for the proposed high line canals. The company, he said, wished it to be fully understood that they are not attempting at this time to build ditches but are merely starting to work to secure information as to whether the building of such canals are feasible propositions. The company was willing, he said, to spend $30,000 to $40,000 to find out. The company, he thought, was extremely fortunate to secure the services of Engineer Lippincott.

Both Mr. Nares and Mr. Lippincott will return here soon. The offices of the Development company in the Wilson building are now open, Asst. Secretary Larkin being in charge.

Youthful Horse Thieves.

Sheriff Grant has in his keeping at the county jail three boys accused of horse stealing, who though young in years, appear to be old in crime. They gave their names to the officers as Fred Crowe, Frank Albin and Zeno Hedrick and their ages at 15, 14 and 13 respectively. The boys came here from Everett about two weeks ago, where Sheriff Grant has learned they have a bad record.

The boys last Saturday visited the ranch of Ed. Goodwin on Parker Bottom. While saddling up two of Mr. Goodwin's horses they were frightened away by the appearance of the owner. The youngsters then started to run, one of them as he did so, taking two shots at Goodwin as he started for them. The bullets fortunately going wide of the mark.

The youthful desperadoes then came to this city and one night last week stole three horses which they found hitched on the streets, the animals taken being the property of Attorney Chas. E. Forsythe, Albert Hawkins and young Clark of the Natches. The boys started north on the stolen horses but on the second day were overhauled by Sheriff Grant and Deputy Edwards who arrested them 30 miles up the Wenas.

The boys were given a preliminary hearing before Justice Taggard Friday morning and were bound over to the Superior court.

County School Items.

The city schools open Monday, Sept. 21. In the lower end of the county Supt. Dickey says, will they open next Monday. In this part of the county owing to hop and fruit picking the country schools generally will not begin until the first Monday in October.

Supt. Dickey has received a petition for the formation of a new district at Alfalfa.

The number of districts now organized in this county now number 71.

Supt. Dickey has received certificates from the state superintendent for 42 aspirants who took the recent examinations as follows: Mrs. C. M. Greening, Mrs. Etha Woodcock, Wm. H. Walker, Ida Towne, C. M. Shrader, Lavina Sherman, Lottie Shelly, Frank Stokes, Grace L. Parrish, Gertrude Owen, J. D. Marsh, David Monroe, Carrie Morgan, E. G. Kinzie, Minnie Jewell, Lois E. Hall, Alma Flourney, Caroline Eastman, Maymie Dry, Dora Bradford, Minnie Anderson, Adeline Alexander, Merle Adamson, Rose Adamson, Elizabeth Carey, L. M. Cox, Lulu Maud Craig, Mrs. G. B. Duncan, Mary E. Erwin, E. H. Evans, Eva Green, D. W. Hunsinger, Elizabeth Jenkins, Lulu Johnston, Mrs. Edna H. Miller, Marion Marble, Myrtle E. Peck, Jessie M. Parrott, Mabel G. Roberts, Mamie E. Roberts, Genevieve P. Searl, Etta Severance, Edith Zediker.

Scientific Discoveries.

The latest discoveries which are attracting attention in the civilized world is the process of making gold by a Philadelphia chemist, and the process of artificially developing living organism by an Indiana physician. He mixed common salt and ammonia, with water removing all air pressure. When crystallization took place portions assumed a globular form and in this animal life appeared. Should this experiment be verified and prove a scientific truth then the accepted doctrines of biology will receive a shock and will have to be remodelled. Should the fact be proven that gold can be manufactured by chemical process, then the monetary standard of the world must change.

At any rate if these two discoveries have been made, they well upset all present anchorage in the economic and scientific world.

Worked Bogus Check Game.

C. G. Pulsifer, as he called himself, the Seattle capitalist who was announced by some of the local papers last week as here to open a variety theater, has turned up missing and leaves, it is said, a number of business men to mourn his untimely departure.

Pulsifer had oodles of money on deposit in a Seattle bank, that is, he led certain people in this city to think so, and when he announced that unfortunately he was a little short of cash and asked some of his new acquaintances to help him out he found parties ready to accommodate him. Pulsifer represented that he had a partner in Seattle by the name of Snyder and drew a check for $25 payable to "myself" and signed "Pulsifer & Snyder." The check was drawn on the Scandinavian-American bank at Seattle and was turned over to Edward Fournier, a local bill poster, who it is said, advanced the "variety" man the money on the paper. The check came back from Seattle this week dishonored coupled with the information that the bank knew nothing of such parties as Pulsifer & Snyder. Mr. Fournier then swore out a warrant for the arrest of Pulsifer in Justice Taggard's court, but as the "variety" man had flown there seems to be little probability of his apprehension.

Collided with the Train.

An unfortunate accident occurred Thursday afternoon as passenger train No. 4 was coming in from the west.

A. Howard, said to be employed by Mrs. Kate Lynch, 14 miles up the Ahtanum, was driving down Front street with a party of hop pickers on his hay rack homeward bound. Howard turned into B street and attempted to cross the track ahead of the train, with the result that the horses were caught by the engine, killing one horse instantly and injuring the other one so badly as to render it useless. The driver and the party of hop pickers seeing the danger quickly slid off the wagon to a place of safety.

The driver when questioned by a Democrat reporter who was soon on the scene, said the engineer never rang the bell or blew the whistle and that as he turned the corner to the track he was unable to see the train coming in his rear, owing to the fact that a high bill board occupies a space at the corner before the crossing is reached which shuts off a free view of the track. The driver's version was corroborated by some of the hop pickers.

Ice Plant and Cold Storage.

J. L. Hughes who, as announced in the Democrat last week, has concluded to establish an ice making plant and cold storage warehouse in this city, returned this week to Illinois. While east he expects to have a Chicago architect draw the plans for the proposed buildings and as soon as the plans are completed Mr. Hughes will return here and will ask for bids for the construction work.

Mr. Hughes has purchased two lots just south of the flour mill from S. J. Lowe. The lots have a frontage of 100 feet on the railroad track and 180 feet in depth. Mr. Hughes plan is to build the ice making plant 40x85 feet and the storage warehouse 60x85 feet. While east Mr. Hughes will order the necessary machinery for the plant. A number of wealthy men of Atwood, Ill., are interested with him in the enterprise.

Bound Over to Superior Court.

Harry Hall, a young sheep man who has something of a record in this locality, was arrested Monday on complaint of H. N. Croson, a well known rancher of the Ahtanum.

Mr. Croson several weeks ago lost a valuable riding mare from his premises. After some time spent in a futile effort to find the animal the mare was finally located at the sheepcamp of young Hall in the mountains. As a result the arrest was made.

Hall was given a preliminary examination before Justice Taggard Tuesday and set up the plea that he had purchased the mare from an Indian. He was bound over to the Superior court for trial.

Academy at Kennewick.

Wednesday of last week the Northern Pacific Irrigation company sold the Columbus hotel building at Kennewick to Mr. and Mrs. M. Olsen of Spokane.

The new owners, says the Kennewick Courier, purchased the building for the purpose of conducting an academy which they contemplate starting at Kennewick as soon as the house can be remodeled and put in the necessary shape. Kennewick is to be congratulated on having secured such an institution. Mr. and Mrs. Olsen are well known educators and come to Kennewick well recommended.

Portable School Houses.

The local school board has purchased five portable school houses from the American Portable House Co. of Seattle, all of which are 26x32 feet in dimension. No. 1 is located on Central school site, No. 2 and 3 on block 85, Natches ave., No. 4 and 5 on Columbia school site. The cost of these portable houses is about $500 each. The seating capacity of each is 45. Even with these additional rooms and that of the new houses under construction the district, according to Clerk Nichols, will still be short one room.

The New Clothing Store.

J. H. Weigel & Co., the new clothing firm from The Dalles, Or., located in the corner room of the Wilson block, are receiving goods daily and have an attractive and very up-to-date appearing store. Mr. Weigel, the head of the firm is a most affable and pleasant gentleman to meet and will be a welcome addition to Yakima business and social circles. Mr. Weigel has leased a residence on Third street and expects his family soon.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

The members of the Washington State Press Association, who were present at the annual meeting held at Victoria, B. C., last week, will doubtless always remember with feelings of pleasure their memorable visit to the beautiful city on Straits.

The good people of Victoria, especially the city officials and the members of the Tourist association, certainly earned the thanks of every newspaper man present for the hearty welcome and many courtesies extended during the three days meeting of the association. In this connection thanks are also due the editorial staffs of the Colonist and the Times, the two daily publications of that city, who did much to make the stay of the visiting editors pleasant.

Victoria is a most interesting as well as a very beautiful city and well deserves its reputation for being what it is, the paradise of the tourist. The city itself is a marvel of cleanliness, as compared with many of our American towns, and everywhere one sees order and system. True, it is very much of an English town as compared with other cities of the Dominion, but that fact doubtless makes of it a more desirable place of residence for the average American.

Victoria is a city of beautiful homes, many of which are of palatial proportions surrounded by grounds that would bring joy to the heart of a landscape artist. Nearly everything one sees, in fact, in Victoria and its environs is most agreeable to the eye and is standing evidence of the culture and refinement of the people of the British Columbia capital.

Any observing citizen of this country, we think, would profit by a visit to Victoria. His first impressions of the place would doubtless be that the city and its people are slow. Observations and reflection, however, are apt to convince the thinking mind that it is better in the long run to be slow than in too much of a hurry, a condition that fits the average American business man of today. Our English friend over the border perhaps will not accomplish so much in a day for he has been trained to do his work methodically as well as to begin it and quit it on time. When he goes to his home he leaves his business troubles behind him and enters on the social side of life with zest and enjoyment. He may not accumulate a fortune so rapidly as would the American business man but the chances are that he gets more pleasure out of living, besides keeping himself in health and with nerves practically unimpaired when the time arrives at which to retire from active business life.

The writer hereof, after a brief visit to Victoria is convinced of the fact that after all we Americans can learn a great deal, if we are disposed to, from our British cousins across the border.

A CONVENTION of colored men at Boston this week called Booker T. Washington down pretty hard and openly repudiated him as their leader. In fact, they went farther and announced their intention of refusing to support any candidate for president who regarded Washington as the spokesman of the negro race, which is nothing less than public notice served upon Mr. Roosevelt that he must turn down Washington and seek other counsel, else quarrel with the rank and file of the negro voters of the north.

The feeling against Booker Washington among the northern negroes has been very bitter for some time owing to the policy pursued by the would-be leader who advises the southern men of his race to accept the conditions laid down by the white men and endeavor to raise themselves by other means than the ballot. He has even been charged with having made a defense for the new constitutions set up in a number of southern states, which practically disfranchise the ignorant negro voter.

All of this has been gall and wormwood to the northern negroes who, of course, are much more jealous of their rights than are the negroes of the south. They are now worked up to such a pitch that if President Roosevelt does not turn down Booker Washington there will likely be things a doing. In this connection it is well to note the fact that the negro vote is larger in a number of northern states than the republican majority of such states, a fact that might lead to serious consequences for Candidate Roosevelt in 1904. It may be therefore that Booker Washington has had his feet under the Roosevelt dining table for the last time.

The Washingtonian is now engaged in booming Hon. Edward Whitson of this city for a federal judgeship. How pleasant it is when the brethren dwell to gather in peace and unity.

BRITISH COLUMBIA may be behind the state of Washington in a number of respects but she certainly is not in the important matter of public roads. In the thinly as well as the thickly settled sections of the province the people enjoy good roads for the reason that the government builds them or sees to it that they are built and in the proper manner to.

The British people, like the ancient Romans, recognize the necessity and value of good roads and understand how to make them. Here in Washington we evidently have a great deal to learn in the science of road building, it and is high time that we were making a study of it. It requires time, money and practical knowledge to build good roads, but they are worth all they cost and a good deal more. Good roads add value to every acre of land they parallel, save the farmer time, money and horse-flesh, promote sociability among the people and advertise a community better than any other means that can be employed.

EDITOR MONTGOMERY of the Sumner Herald has purchased the Puyallup Independent and has merged the two papers which under a new name will be published at Puyallup. For years the Sumner Herald on account of its brilliant editorial page has occupied a place in front rank of journalism in this state and we note its passing with regret. However, as Bro. Montgomery is to guide the destinies of the new publication we will watch with interest for its initial number.

It would probably be a mighty good thing for every body except the publishers of daily papers if the so-called christian people would combine and drive the bloody Turk out of Europe. The Turk has no place in the twentieth century and ought to be squelched. He is 400 years behind the times, a relic of barbarism and a public nuisance that ought to be abated. The Slav race is probably not much better, but that is because of long association with the Turks.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON is unquestionably a dead game sport but after spending over a million dollars and with a record of almost uninterrupted defeats behind him nobody can blame him for dropping out of the cup race. It is quite possible though that the wealthy Irish baronet has advertised Lipton's celebrated tea to a sufficient extent to offset his heavy expenditures in the effort to lift the cup.

THE Washingtonian, regarded locally as the political mouthpiece of Congressman Jones, strenuously denies the allegation that its patron saint is about to take up his residence in Spokane. This is comforting information and coming from such a source must necessarily be regarded as official. 'Tis well, 'tis well indeed, for no one in Yakima would care to lose Mr. Jones, and least of all the Washingtonian.

At last the two minute market has been realized in trotting after many years of continuous effort. That record was made last week by Lou Dillon, a California bred mare on a Massachusetts track. It has now been demonstrated that the Golden State produces the fleetest horses as well as some of the most fast people on earth.

WHEN the democratic party adopts a platform that meets with the approbation of the men who control the republican party it will be when loyal democrats forget principle.—Aberdeen Herald.

THE sugar trust devil fish has reached out one of its tentacles and gathered in nine beet sugar factories in the state of Michigan. Sugar may now be expected to advance a few points on the market.

Shots From the Commoner.

In the meantime General Miles is making more friends by reason of the snubs he has received.

Matthew Stanley Quay is writing an autobiography. It will be interesting because of what it does not contain.

The letter dismissing General Miles was very brief, but the letter to Governor Darbin was long enough to make up for it.

Those eminent Ohio republicans who are prepared to deal Tom Johnson a body blow would do well to first prepare ambulance facilities for themselves.

It seems that Mr. Cannon's remarks about a "rubber currency" were merely in the nature of a premature explosion. Mr. Cannon has since been properly loaded.

If the republican papers that are extolling Mr. Cleveland to day will look back over their files of 1892-1896 they will find adjectives that make The Commoner's criticism seem mild by comparison.

Senator Aldrich says the new currency bill will not be reported until "all interests have been consulted." But the people should not be so foolish as to imagine that they are included among the "interests."

There is nothing surprising about the fact that as soon as Governor La Follette began demanding fair play for the people he was denounced as a "pop" by the republican leaders so vastly interested in preventing the people from securing fair play.

Washington Letter.

(From our special correspondent.)

The scandal affecting the administration of Indian affairs and involving both the department of the interior and that of justice, is growing daily and already the revelations have caused the gravest concern to the administration which appreciates that the discovery of corruption in two important departments of the government, following so closely on the heels of the postoffice scandals cannot but have a serious effect on the fortunes of the republican party at the polls. With a view to offsetting the damaging effect of recent revelations Secretary Hitchcock has announced that he will immediately appoint a commissioner to investigate all of his employees involved in the irregularities and also the members of the Dawes Commission, and the acting attorney general has stated that a special commissioner will be promptly sent to the Indian Territory to investigate the alleged connection of several officials of the department of justice with concerns organized for the purpose of making profit at the expense of the Indians.

Some conception of the gravity of the situation and the opportunities for fraud existing, where the very representatives of the government appointed to protect the Indians are officers and directors of concerns organized to take advantage of his ignorance, may be gathered from the fact that the Indian lands now being allotted in several states are estimated as worth upwards of $150,000,000, aggregating over 20,000,000 acres, some of it the finest farm land in the United States and much of it excellently situated with regard to markets and railway facilities. Several members of the Dawes Commission, United States attorneys and Indian agents are charged with being interested in these companies, most of which have been organized within the past nine months, and all of which give promise of paying unusually large dividends, in their prospectuses.

An official announcement of the resignation of Secretary of War Root has come over from Oyster Bay together with the information that Judge Taft, Governor General of the Philippines will be Mr. Root's successor and that Vice Governor Luke E. Wright of Tennessee, will be Judge Taft's successor as head of the Philippine Commission. The retirement of Secretary Root will prove a source of regret to many besides the president for all who have come in contact with the retiring secretary have appreciated that, regardless of their attitude towards the policy of the administration, Mr. Root has performed his duties with exceptional ability and earnestness. His accomplishment of the general staff policy in the army and the general restoration of peace in the Philippines, together with his successful administration of affairs of Cuba will remain as a monument to an exceptionally successful and able administration of an important department at times, the most trying.

Now that the postoffice investigation is nearing an end prominent republican officials are hastening to Oyster Bay to exert their influence on the president to prevent full publication of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow's report. Just what answer the president is making to these appeals cannot be learned in Washington, but it is known that before leaving for Oyster Bay Mr. Roosevelt pledged his word that the entire report would be made public when the investigation was completed and that no guilty person should be shielded. It is known that the report places in a most unenviable light many politicians, because of the statute of limitations or because of the cleverness with which they covered up their tracks, have not yet been prosecuted and it is supposed to be friends of these who are pleading with the president to suppress the facts. It is believed, however, that the president will remember the experience of Postmaster General Payne in trying to suppress M. Bristow's reply to the Tulloch charges and will profit by that unfortunate blunder. That the public will never be satisfied until the full report has been published and that it will regard any attempt at suppression by the administration as a prima facie evidence of guilt is evident from the expressions of the few editors who have already learned of the attempt to secure that end.

Spokane Interstate Fair.

Among the big premiums offered this year by the Spokane Interstate Fair, October 5 to 13, are the prizes given for the best general exhibits of green fruit. These prizes are differently arranged this year than ever before, and the new arrangement will mean that more persons can secure good prizes. Heretofore upland districts and river districts have competed with each other. Now separate prizes are offered in each class. For the river districts the first prize is $150 in gold, the second prize is $90 and the third prize is a handsome wagon donated by the Moline-Blaine company. For the upland districts the prizes are $150, $90 and $60. The river districts will embrace all the territory in the Columbia, Snake, Yakima, Clearwater, Wenatchee, Chelan and Okanogan river valleys and their branches. The rest of the territory will be considered upland districts.

HOSPITABLE VICTORIA.

Capital Town of British Columbia Treats
Washington Newspaper Men Most Royally.

The Washington State Press association held its annual meeting last week, Aug. 25, 26 and 27 at the city of Victoria, B. C. It was a memorable meeting which will probably never be forgotten by the editors present or their ladies who accompanied them. The newspaper men seemed to greatly enjoy their visit to the Canadian town and all voiced their appreciation of the hospitality and courtesy shown them while in that city.

According to instructions from the executive committee the members of the association gathered at Seattle on Monday, the 24th. That evening the faber pushers and their wives, sisters or sweethearts, as the case might be, were the guests of the Seattle Press club at a banquet given at the Mason Barberis where an elegant seven course dinner was served, after which the entire party repaired to the Empire Park theater, whither they went on invitation of the management.

The next morning the entire party left Seattle on the Steamer Clallam for Victoria which is distant 85 miles from the Sound metropolis. Victoria was reached at 3 p. m. but it was some time before the party got ashore as each individual with baggage was obliged to run the gauntlet of the good natured but inquisitive custom officers, who although not from Missouri had to be shown.

Tuesday evening a public reception was held at the city hall at which Mayor McCandless presided and a large body of citizens were present. The mayor, in the name of the city, welcomed the guests and was responded to by President Will Steel of the Press association. The following day was spent in an excursion up Victoria Arm in the forenoon and a visit to the magnificent government building in the afternoon. In a wing of the capitol building is located a very large and complete museum which probably contains the most valuable and rare types of animal life as well as curios that can be found anywhere in the Pacific Northwest. Esquimalt, the great British naval station was also visited that afternoon. A good deal of amusement and some confusion resulted at the entrance to the grounds where the members of the party who were armed with kodaks were relieved of their prized machines on the order of the commander who politely informed them that no pictures would be taken. Although editors as a rule are not much versed in the arts of war the general opinion expressed was that Esquimalt is certainly a great naval base and a strategic point of tremendous importance to the British government.

Thursday morning through the courtesy of the Tourist association of Victoria the entire party was taken out in taily ho coaches and carriages to view the points of interest in and about the city. The beautiful Beacon Hill park was taken in on the way, which elicited much praise from the visitors. The drive, which was over smooth, hard macadamized roads was very pleasant, affording as it did views of the many palatial homes of Victoria surrounded as they are with extensive grounds artistically laid out in lawns and flower gardens.

Thursday afternoon a business session of the association was held at which officers for the ensuing year were elected as were also delegates and alternates to the National Editorial association which convenes next May in the city of St. Louis. At 6 o'clock that evening the party was conveyed by special train on the Esquimalt and Nanaimo road to Shawigan Lake, a distance of 27 miles from Victoria. Here an hour was spent most pleasantly looking over the mammoth summer resort hotel at that place situated as it is on a beautiful lake.

The next morning at 8:30 the major portion of the party embarked on the steamer Majestic for Seattle. All felt that their visit to Victoria had been both pleasant and profitable.

Abscesses.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, August 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment. I got a 50c size and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world.

ABSCESSES, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows or from foreign bodies, introduced into the skin or flesh, such as splinters, thorns, etc. Sold by F. L. Janek's drug store.

Marriage licenses issued since our last report are as follows: E. T. J. Abeling and Miss Mabel Ely Wheeler, Willard G. Barrick and Miss Annie Newton, Matthias J. Mechtel and Miss Ethel M. Powell, Robert L. Hooker and Miss Frona Martell.

H. M. Gilbert and associates, the bonanza farmers of the reservation, are kept very busy these days in preparing for market their big crop of melons grown in their patch of 110 acres. The prices realized are very satisfactory. A consignment of "cants" shipped to Chicago recently, Mr. Gilbert says, brought $4.40 per crate.

Reports from the Horse Heaven country are to the effect that threshing is now well under way and that the yield generally is better than anticipated one or two months ago. The quality is believed to be better than it has been for years and with the present outlook for a good price the wheat growers are fairly well satisfied.

The DEMOCRAT still has a number of copies of the Industrial edition, issued Aug. 15, which will be mailed to any address at the rate of five cents per copy. As our readers are aware the Industrial edition contains a large amount of information regarding North Yakima and Yakima county and is just the thing to send your friends in the east.

A. A. Armsworthy, father of the late Arthur Armsworthy who was killed here June while driving an express wagon, has announced his intention of bringing a suit against the company in the sum of $12,000 for the loss of his son, alleging that the horse given the boy to drive was vicious and dangerous.

Lee Taylor, who drives a sprinkling wagon for E. W. Dooley was held up while on his way home Monday night by two masked men and robbed of $32 which had been paid him by his employer a few minutes before. A man giving his name as Roy Miller was arrested for the crime, but was subsequently discharged for want of evidence.

Among the Yakima young ladies who will enter the Normal school at Ellensburg at the opening of the fall term next Tuesday are the Misses Alice Stephenson, Anna Cornwell, Myrtle Peck, Bessie Auriller, Anna Jungst, Myrtle Phillips, Eva Marshall and two others whose names we were unable to secure. The above list of students are all graduates of the High School.

The attention of the DEMOCRAT has been called to the condition of an old soldier, by the name of Nordick, who lives alone in an old house on N. Eighth street. The old man is said to be a veteran of both the Mexican and the civil war and has the misfortune to be stone blind. His means of subsistence is a small pension that he receives of $12 per month. An application for an increase of his pension was turned down because of a technicality. As the old veteran's condition is most pitiable his neighbors think that something had ought to be done for him.

MARRIED.

Abeling-Wheeler.

On Monday evening, Aug. 31, at the residence of the brides parents in Seattle occurred the marriage of Edward T. J. Abeling, junior member of the hardware firm of Longuet, Kreader & Abeling, of this city to Mabel Ely Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martyn Wheeler of Seattle.

The newly married couple arrived in this city, Tuesday and have started housekeeping at the corner of Yakima avenue and Eighth streets. The DEMOCRAT is pleased to extend its best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Abeling.

Mecht-Powell.

Tuesday morning at 9 a. m. in the parlors of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Rev. Father Feusi officiating, the nuptial knot was tied which binds for life Matthias J. Mechtel and Miss Ethel M. Powell, both of this city. A large and merry party of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony and followed the newly wedded pair to the depot, sprinkling them plentifully with rice.

The groom is a well known and popular young man. His lovely young bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Powell. She was brought up in this city and has a host of friends. The happy couple will spend their honeymoon on the Sound.

A Strange Fatality.

Clayton W. Marble, aged 23 years, died at the Deaconess hospital Wednesday from an attack of typhoid fever. The funeral was held Friday from the M. E. church at 10 a. m.

The young man came here last spring from the east with his widowed mother and two sisters, one of whom died only last week. The deceased until taken ill had been employed on the ranch of his uncle, W. H. Marble at Parker. Death, it seems, has worked terrible havoc in the family of which the young was a member. A few years ago the family circle was made up of father, mother and nine children. All that now remains is the mother and one young daughter.

The Printer.

"He is only a printer." Such was the sneering remark of a leader in a circle of aristocracy—cod fish quality. Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. What was Prince Edward William and Prince Napoleon? Proud to call themselves printers. The Czar of Russia, the Crown Prince of Prussia and the Crown Prince of Saxony were printers, the emperor of China worked in a print shop almost every day. Wm. Caxton, the father of English literature, was a practical printer. What were J. P. Morris, N. P. Willis, James Parker, Horace Greeley, Charles Dickens, James Buchanan, Simon Cameron, Schuyler Colfax? Printers, all, and practical ones. Mark Twain, Amos J. Cummings, Bret Hare, Wm. Dean Howells, Joel Chandler Harris and Opie P. Read were practical printers, as were Artemus Ward, Petroleum V. Nasby, and Sut Lovingood. Senator Plumb of Kansas and James J. Hogg ex-governor of Texas. However it is not everyone that can be a printer—brains are absolutely necessary.—Century.

Chas. Schwab, the erstwhile million dollar president of the steel trust, is now heading a tailoring syndicate which will put in 100 establishments in New York city alone and a branch in every city having over 20,000 population. It isn't exactly easy to explain the connection between steel manufacture and pants making, but we can at least hope that Schwab's pants will be armor clad in the seat.—Prosser Record.
