PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

THE RECEPTION OF THE PRESIDENT

Citizens' Committee Has Perfected Plans for Next Monday.

All preparations are about complete for the reception of President Roosevelt between 10:30 and 11 o'clock next Monday morning. There are a number of minor details yet to look after, but the committee will have everything working like a clock by the morning of the eventful day.

A meeting of the executive committee was held Wednesday evening and the plans discussed in a thorough manner. Mayor Shaw was present and made a few suggestions about the management of the affair and then decided to issue a proclamation asking the business men to close their stores from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.

The work of assigning people to the speaker's stand was the hardest of all the other parts of the program to arrange. It was finally decided that the following county and city officials are entitled to seats thereon: Commissioners, the council, city attorney, county attorney, members of the legislature, superintendent of the city schools, school board, three members each of the Red Cross and Relief corps besides the present members of the committee, and a number of representative citizens. A list of those assigned to the carriages has not been completed.

The reception committee is composed of the following: Miles Cannon, Walter J. Reed, E. J. Wyman, J. D. Medill, W. L. Wright, George Donald, Dr. Dulin, Mrs. Whitson, Mrs. Kussmaul, and W. W. Robertson with Congressman Jones and Mayor Shaw as ex-officio members. They will be the only persons permitted on the station platform at the time except the members of Company E under the charge of Capt. C. T. Dulin, who will act as a military guard, and those who will ride with the presidential party. The space around the station will be roped off and no one will be permitted to pass through the ropes. The 10:30 west bound passenger train due here at the same time the president's train arrives will be side tracked at the cattle yards till the president and his party have left the station.

After meeting the president the party will enter the carriages and at once proceed to the place of speaking. No member of the reception committee will ride in any of the carriages. At the stand the president will be introduced by Congressman Jones. He will speak about 20 minutes and then be driven immediately to the train.

The decorations will be put up by Sunday night insofar as the committee's work is concerned. All the business men and others on the line of march are requested to have their decorations completed by that time. Nagler's band will furnish music for the occasion. Following is the program as outlined by the committee:

The president and his party will be taken in carriages from the railroad station down Yakima avenue to the stand at the corner of Yakima and Naches avenues.

The president will make a short address upon arriving at the stand.

The people are requested to co-operate with the committee in charge of arrangements in every way possible, and especially to enable the party in carriages to drive from the station to the stand, and back again without unnecessary delay.

The request is made that teams and mounted riders keep off Yakima avenue between 10:30 and 11 a. m. The people are asked to remain on the sidewalks on either side of Yakima avenue.

Especially are the people requested not to crowd about the depot upon the arrival of the president's train. Their attention is called to the fact that those who do so will probably be unable to get near the speaker's stand lower down the avenue when the president makes his address. And if a crowd is about the depot when the train arrives a delay will occur in getting into the carriages which will shorten the address at the stand. If the arrangements made can be carried out without loss of time the president will speak about 20 minutes.

The party in the carriages will be composed of the following gentlemen: Carriage No. 1—The president, Secretary Loeb, secret service man, Congressman Jones, Mayor Shaw.

Carriage No. 2—Three secret service men and M. C. Latta.

Carriage No. 3—Assistant Secretary Barnes, Surgeon General Rixey and two citizens.

Carriage No. 4—H. P. Webster, J. L. McGrew and two citizens.

Carriage No. 5—For extra members of president's party, such as governor, members of congress and U. S. senators.

Carriage No. 6—H. A. Coleman, H. R. Hazzard, Lindsay Denison and one citizen.

Carriage No. 7—R. L. Dunn, N. Lazarnick and two citizens.

Carriage No. 8—George B. Luckey, H. A. Strichmeyer and two citizens.

Carriage No. 9—P. W. Williams, J. P. Gooch and two citizens.

Carriage No. 10—Reserved for occasional guests of president and one citizen.

Mayor Shaw has issued a proclamation asking the citizens to assist the reception committee in every way possible and also that the stores and business houses be closed between 9:30 and 11:30 on next Monday.

The Berg Funeral.

The funeral of Henry Berg, who killed his foster son and then committed suicide, together with that of his young victim, was held at the undertaking rooms of E. L. Session last Saturday at 10 a. m. The services were conducted by the Evangelical Lutheran minister. The remains were taken to the cemetery in two hearses. The one of the aged rancher were carried in the black hearse and behind it followed a white hearse with the remains of the boy. Two graves were dug side by side and the bodies were lowered in at the same time.

The Boyle Benefit Fund.

The fund that was raised by giving the jubilee minstrel show here on April 17 and 18 last has been turned over to the library association. Miss Boyle, who was to have been the beneficiary, declined to accept the fund. Her reasons, she said, she did not desire to make public. Miss Boyle's friends say that she will be married in June, and consequently cannot carry out the plans originally made for her by those who were instrumental in getting up the benefit. The fund amounts to $407 and will be used in buying books for the library.

Closing Out.

On account of sickness I shall be obliged to close out my entire stock of millinery goods at greatly reduced prices, consisting of lovely flowers, baby bonnets, street hats and trimmed hats. Call in if you want a bargain.

WITH THE LODGES

The Order of Washington gave an entertainment and supper in Odd Fellow hall last Thursday evening. A large number of the friends of the members of the lodge turned out. A musical program was carried out and a banquet was served afterwards. The Misses Flint played a piano duet and responded to an encore. Miss Susie Erwin delighted the audience with a violin solo. A solo was rendered by Mrs. Harry Murchie, who was followed by Miss Daisy Boyle with two piano selections. W. A. Erwin, while waiting for some of the players to appear, sang a solo and responded to an encore. A cornet solo was rendered by Herman Crawford, who was accompanied on the piano by his sister, Miss Gretchen.

There was a good attendance at the Macabee social Monday evening and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. A game called "bean bag" introduced by Mrs. Arthur Pease caused a great deal of amusement.

Albert Beilstein was a delegate from the Yakima lodge to the annual sleep of the Improved Order of Red Men held at Aberdeen last week. There was a large gathering of delegates from all parts of the state and it is reported to have been the best meeting ever held. The next great council will be held in this city on the 13th of May, 1904.

WORK OF THE CITY COUNCIL

Two Hundred Dollars Appropriated for Presidential Entertainment Fund.

At the meeting of the city council Monday night the sum of $200 was appropriated toward the presidential entertainment fund. The matter was brought before the council by some of the members of the executive committee, to wit: Miles Cannon, George Donald, Walter J. Reed, J. D. Medill and W. W. Robertson. Mr. Cannon made the speech for the delegation, saying that the committee would like to have an appropriation of $250. A motion to this effect was made by Councilman Wyman, but it was voted down. Councilman Keck then made a motion that $200 be appropriated. This was carried without a dissenting vote.

Another matter of great importance that came up during the meeting was the presentation of a proposition by Rev. H. M. Bartlett of the library association asking for an annual maintenance fund of $1000, more or less, for a public library. Mr. Bartlett made a short address outlining the status of the library here and the plans that have been made toward securing a free library. He said that sufficient funds had been raised for a site, which site is to be selected by the contributors and approved by the city council. He said it was the purpose to present a memorial to Andrew Carnegie asking for a sum of about $10,000 for the building. The sum of ten per cent. of the cost of the building must be appropriated by the city as an annual maintenance fund to fulfill the requirements imposed by Mr. Carnegie before a gift can be secured. The council took the matter under consideration and laid it over till the next meeting night at which time the matter is to be acted on. The councilmen expressed themselves as favorable to the proposition and there is no question about making arrangements for the necessary funds. The step necessary to be taken is to make a levy for library purposes according to law.

A saloon license was granted to Frank D. Cook for his place of business on south Second street.

A petition for an eight foot sidewalk on the west side of south Naches avenue between blocks 94 and 97 was granted. A similar petition for a walk on south Fourth street from Yakima avenue to the end of the street was also granted.

A resolution was passed permitting Carrie B. Hauser to redeem lot 5, block 232, which was sold in 1907 for street improvement assessment.

When the resolution for a sewer on Seventh street came up for consideration a remonstrance from a large number of property owners on the street was read.

The ladies of the Christian church will serve a hot chicken dinner on Monday, the 25th, in a tent on the lots adjoining Coffins' store on the east. Hours, 11:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

S. Huntington left here Tuesday morning for a trip to Wilson Creek, Douglas county, to join Jack McNeff who has been up there for a few days. Mr. Huntington says that his partner, Mr. Lyett, on Monday bought about 200,000 pounds of wool.

Mrs. C. G. Fletcher delightfully entertained a party of ladies last Friday afternoon at her home on north Third street in honor of Mrs. T. W. Brew of Puyallup.

City Attorney Snyder refused to give an opinion on the matter because his partner, Mr. Preble, would appear later for the owners of the stable. Mr. Preble appeared for Mr. Murchie and said that he had examined the stable and found it to be in as good a condition as it is possible to keep a stable and that the proprietors have been exercising due care in keeping it clean. He further said he did not think the city council should act on the matter of declaring it a nuisance for that was a question to be settled in the courts. The petition was laid on the table.

An ordinance was passed vacating Black's villa addition of Kerr's villa tracts.

A communication was read from Edwin M. Murphy of Seattle asking privilege to present an ordinance for a 25 year franchise for a heating and electrical plant for the city. The matter will be taken up when the ordinance is presented.

A communication from the city treasurer showing the number of delinquents on the Second street improvements was read. The amount of said assessments paid into the treasury is $3145.95, leaving a balance unpaid $6860.70. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

The grading of north Fourth street was accepted by the council.

Councilman Liggett of the cemetery committee reported that about four acres of the new addition to the cemetery had been planned and he desired the other members of the council, together with the mayor, to visit the cemetery and fix a price on the lots according to their location. It was decided that the council would go to the cemetery in a body at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

Councilman Wyman of the board of health reported that the Thomas site for a pest house had been examined and found to be suitable for the purpose. County Health Officer Frank was present and said the county would meet the city half way in the matter. The health board was authorized to take steps to procure the site providing the title is good.

The mayor called attention to the new sidewalks on north First and north Second streets. These sidewalks have been completed to the waste ditch of the Yakima Milling company that runs down E street and no protection had been put up to prevent pedestrians from walking into the ditch at night. The street and ditch committee was instructed to attend to the matter at once.

The fire committee was authorized to appoint two or three extra fire men to be on duty at the city hall during next Monday when President Roosevelt comes to the city.

Wanted at Seattle.

Bob Johnston, a negro, is wanted at Seattle for breaking out of jail. He came to North Yakima last week, but by the time the time the officers were notified he had secreted himself and has not been found. It seems that he came here with a white woman and as soon as the police were notified he got wind of it and skipped. The woman was immediately sent out of the city.

Good Amateur Production.

The amateur production, "Twist Love and Duty," presented at Larson's theatre last Friday and Saturday nights, was not very well attended, but the performance was considered excellent. Considerable ability was shown in presenting the drama and some very good acting was done. Luke Linn as the hero of the play, was equal to the occasion. Mr. Linn was the director and manager of the play for the special benefit of Company E. Miss Lois Whittle, as a rebel sweetheart, charmingly personified the character of Bess Bradley. Another character worthy of especial mention was that of Sockery Schneidbocken played by A. A. Tylee, one of the post-office clerks. He made the fun of the evening and was applauded many times for his true interpretation of a Dutch character. The other players did very well.

The amount realized from the show after all expenses were paid was $30, one half of which goes to the manager, Mr. Linn, who says that better results would have been obtained had Company E members given a little more encouragement.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF YAKIMA COUNTY

FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1903.

WILL CONTINUE TO GROW.

While the population of the Yakima country will not increase as rapidly as in the past three or four years, unless more cheap land is put on the market, still it will grow steadily. There is room here now for more people, but only for such people as come here with capital enough to pay good prices for land, and in the main room must be made for them by subdividing the large holdings.

After a certain point has been reached the growth of an irrigated country is always comparatively slow. That point has been reached here, unless, as we have said, more land should be opened up. In time a vast area of the desert will be reclaimed above the canals now in use. The Tietan project, if not approved by the government, will be taken hold of by private capital; and the waters of the Yakima will be stored for a high line canal that will cover more land than is now cultivated in the entire valley. Both these enterprises are in the formative stage, but that they will both materialize in the immediate future is quite certain. Until they have materialized the development of the Yakima country must be a process of bringing our present area up to the highest state of productivity. Such development, though it may be slow, will make room for three times as many people as are here now, and will easily treble the volume of marketable products.

The prevailing high prices of land in the valley have not checked the development of the country, and will not do so. They may have checked immigration to some extent. Land has not yet reached its highest price here, except, perhaps, in isolated cases. Yakima irrigated lands are worth more for agricultural purposes than any other lands in the United States, on account of their unusual productivity and their superior markets. They always will be high priced lands, but they will always have extraordinary value. They will always be in demand at high prices. That the average homeseeker from the east cannot pay the prices now prevailing is true; but the fact that the average homeseeker has not enough capital to do business here doesn't have any bearing on the value of our lands, and if we don't get him when he comes west there is no reason why we should be filled with sadness.

The Yakima country wants the homeseekers who have money enough to do business. That class of people are coming in here right along, and they will continue to come, and to make their homes with us, as long as there is room left for them.

J. G. BOYLE, who has been publishing the Washingtonian in this city for the last few months, sold his interest in the paper this week to a gentleman from California. When Mr. Boyle got hold of the Washingtonian a little while back he took the public into his confidence and explained to it that the Yakima newspapers were about the poorest that ever happened, and that now he would show them the real thing. He may have thought that he was carrying out the promise, but as a matter of fact he succeeded only in making a horrible example out of the Washingtonian. If it has been of any use to the community whatever, it has been so merely as an illustration of what a newspaper ought not to be. The public did not appreciate it, but allowed it to starve to death. For six weeks its edition has consisted of a dozen copies or such a matter, printed any day of the week that the spirit moved the publisher. Mr. Boyle's venture into the newspaper field here was about the rankest failure on record. His paper is, so far as we know, the only business enterprise established in the city in the last five years that has gone to the wall, and this fact is all the more noteworthy because most people think, perhaps not unjustly, that if a man is of no earthly account for anything else he ought to be able to run a newspaper successfully. Mr. Willis, the man who has bought the Washingtonian plant, is from California. He is an experienced journalist, and appears to be a gentleman in who will be a credit to the profession. This paper wishes him success, and has no doubt it will come to him if he is able to live down the reputation which the Washingtonian acquired under Mr. Boyle's management.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The scientists have discovered that the earth is flying northward, toward the star Vega, at the rate of 43,000 miles per hour. The people hereabouts don't seem to have noticed it, but that is the reason, perhaps, that this cold weather bids fair to last all summer.

Another discovery that the scientists have recently made is that rays of light emanate from the human body in such volume that, in a dark room, they will produce a picture on a photographic plate. This may be true, but the man searching for the keyhole at his front door at 2 o'clock in the morning will "have to be shown" those rays before he'll take much stock in the theory.

These scientists are great people, all right, but there are some things that they haven't discovered. One of them is why a politician, who has been treated fully as well as he deserves by his party newspapers, desires a personal organ. The scientists may not be able to solve this problem, but most anyone familiar with politics can. The politician fears that his power is beginning to wane. The honest and independent newspaper, he thinks, may tell the truth about it, hence he must have one of his own to impress upon the people that he is a great man. Which recalls the old saying that part of the people can be fooled part of the time, but all of the people can't be fooled all the time.

As a result of politics, the campaign in Ohio this year will be an important one. Ohio, which swarms with politicians, and which has furnished so many presidents, is always an important factor in a national campaign. At the forthcoming republican state convention, Senator Foraker, it is said, will introduce a resolution declaring for Roosevelt. Senator Hanna, it is thought, who is supposed to be "in" with the money power, that is afraid of the president, may oppose the resolution, or at least not support it with much enthusiasm. But my guess is that the people who are figuring on Senator Hanna taking such a position are figuring wrong. He is too shrewd a politician to do it, even if he is opposed to Roosevelt. That he opposed his nomination as vice president until the last moment is political history, but Roosevelt is a bigger man now than he was then, and has the people behind him besides. Hanna knows this as well as anyone. And if he is working with the money power to defeat Roosevelt's nomination, he will figure that it can only be done by a grand coup and will not show his hand thus early.

Ex-Senator Turner, I notice, has recently declared, most emphatically, that he will not accept the democratic nomination for governor, which leaves the politicians of that party in this state all at sea. His nomination has been so much talked of of late that it was beginning to be regarded as a certainty. He is the strongest man the democrats have, without a doubt, but Mr. Turner knows something about politics himself. With the strong feeling in the state for Roosevelt, the ex-senator realizes that the presidential ticket next year will carry the state ticket with it, and is not going to put himself in a position to be run over. Turner, who would probably like to be governor if he can't get back to the senate, will bide his time.

Who will be the republican candidate for governor? I give it up. He is said to be slated, already, but a gentleman from the Sound who ought to know, informed me this week that he had heard of no one mentioned. Ex-Senator John L. Wilson has been talked of some, but he is probably still gunning for bigger game. His paper, the P.-I., by the way, gave Senator Foster a horrible roast the other day in connection with the Tacoma-Seattle squabble over the entertainment of the president. It is well known, of course, that Senator Foster is out for reelection, which may have inspired the P.-I. to take a whack at him at this time. But the gentleman from the Sound did give me one piece of information that is brand new. It is that S. A. Perkins, generally called "Sammy," has political bees buzzing in his bonnet. He is said to be making a hundred thousand a year out of the Tacoma News and Ledger, the Everett Herald and Olympia Recorder. If this is true it is natural that he should covet political honors; money is getting to be one of the essentials in politics in this state. And his aspirations might run as high as the senatorship, Perkins being something of a high roller. Personally, and through his newspapers, he has been a staunch supporter of Wilson, but after his disastrous defeat of last winter, John L. might reciprocate next year and support Perkins. He is a pusher, all right, has a knowledge of Washington life by reason of having been secretary of the national committee and secretary to Senator Hanna, and men of less ability than Perkins have occupied senatorial seats. But there is our own Judge Boyle; having sold his newspaper he's a retired publisher now, presumably with "dough" in his pocket. He ought to be able to trot in the hundred-thousand class, and might be induced to assume the burden of affairs of state. If the "jedge" should enter the field he'd be a formidable opponent, either for the senatorship or governor, and would sure make Perkins, Foster, Furth, Wilson and all other aspirants hump themselves.

Tacoma is tickled to death because the official map of the president's trip, as published by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, calls the big mountain that looms up from both that city and Seattle, "Mount Tacoma" instead of Rainier. And Tacoma is also rejoicing at having prevented Seattle from taking the president away from her by main force and awkwardness, as threatened by Congressman Humphrey. Tacoma, indeed, is a great town. Likewise Seattle. But if, by a slip of the tongue, President Roosevelt should be so unfortunate as to express a preference for either of them during his visit, the consequences would be terrible. Nothing short of an eruption of Tacoma-Rainier, or an earthquake that would suck dry both Commencement and Elliott bay, would fit such an occasion. The president, it is hoped, will be warned in time to prevent such a catastrophe.

The ice from the city water supply, he says, is as pure as any that can be obtained in the valley. He will deliver ice to all parts of the city in any quantity desired. my8-jy1

Throwing 12 pound hammer—Shaw, Dudley, O. Huxtable.

One hundred yard dash—Donald, Lum, Waters, Reed, P. Huxtable, Caseres.

One half mile walk—P. Huxtable, Caseres.

Pole Vault—Lum, Waters, Green.

One mile run—Green, Caseres, Hauser.

Two hundred twenty yard hurdles—Edwards, Homer, Humphrey.

Running high jump—Waters, P. Huxtable, Caseres.

Putting 12 pound shot—O. Huxtable, Cornwell, Dudley, Shaw.

Two hundred twenty yard dash—Donald, Caseres, Green, Hauser, Rightmire.

The relay team has not been picked. The above is not the order in which the events will come off nor all the boys that will contest in the various events. The boys are trying for the places and probably most of them and a few more will get on the team.

U. of W. Loses to Yakima.

There was a small attendance at the game last Friday between the Hoppickers and the University of Washington. This was caused mainly by the wind that was stirring things up at the time, and in consequence both sides put up a poor game. Notwithstanding the visitors gave the home players the hustle of their lives and when the game closed the score stood six to seven in favor of Yakima.

The score in detail follows:

Klink Goes to Seattle.

Klinkhammer, the baseball player, left Monday morning to go to work for the manager of the Seattle team in the coast league. "Klink" has the stuff in him for a first class pitcher, and the REPUBLIC takes few chances when it predicts that he will take rank with the stars from the beginning. He has all the curves, perfect control, and plenty of speed, and besides that he is a good batter and fields his position well. "Slats" Taylor, who began the season with the Hoppickers, signed with Spokane this week. Klinkhammer is a better pitcher than "Slats," and in every other way can play rings around him. "Klink's" many friends here will take a lively interest in the record he makes the rest of the season.

Nelson Smith had a runaway on the avenue last Monday that created some excitement for a time. His team, hitched to an empty hay wagon, dashed around Lombard & Horsley's corner, overturning the wagon, but Mr. Smith, with great presence of mind, held onto the lines and succeeded in running the horses onto the sidewalk in front of MacDonald and Schindler's store, where they were stopped without doing other damage than uncoiling the wagon. Mr. Smith's nerve in holding onto the team while clinging to an overturned wagon is all that prevented a bad smashup.

THE WORK OF AN INCENDIARY

Fire at A. E. Larson's Yard Sunday Noon, But Was Discovered in Time.

An attempt was made to burn the lumber plant of A. E. Larson's at about noon last Sunday. Oil was poured on some boards in the north end of the lumber sheds and ignited. The blaze was discovered before it got a good start and extinguished.

Ed Mulligan is responsible for the discovery in time to prevent what might have been a great conflagration. He was passing along the alley back of the lumber yard on his way from home to the business part of the city, and came that way as a near "cut," as was his custom. When he reached the north end of the dry lumber sheds he saw smoke issuing from the rear end of a pile of lumber. Seeing that a fire had started and was blazing up pretty lively in the wind he picked up a large piece of old wall paper and smothered it out.

A hasty examination convinced him that an attempt had been to set fire to the plant and he notified Mr. Larson, who lives close by. A bottle in which the oil was carried to the place was found near the blaze. It had been emptied on the boards in different places, the greatest quantity apparently being put on the projecting ends of some boards not over ten inches from the ground. It was on these boards that the fire was started. Eight matches were used before one could be made to hold out against the wind. These matches lay on the ground and only one of them had burned more than the head off. The wind was blowing very strong at the time and it was the timely discovery that prevented a more serious fire.

Mr. Larson assigns two reasons for the motive to commit such a crime. One is that some small boys might have been playing pranks and unwittingly took it into their heads to make a fire in his lumber yard. The other theory is that some one came here ostensibly to burn the city. He scouts the idea that some one is his enemy and sought this method of getting "even" with him. He says he does not think tramps would do such a thing in broad day light.

Mr. Larson is of the opinion, like a great many others, that if the blaze had not been discovered in time, there would have been the greatest fire in the history of Yakima. The railway tracks in the yards were full of cars. Many of them were filled with inflammable material and it would have been hard to save them from destruction. There are also to the south of Larson's place a number of frame warehouses all built of inflammable material and had they caught fire nothing could have saved them. As the wind was blowing hard from the north at the time it would have been difficult if not impossible to prevent the flames from spreading to the warehouses and other parts of the city.

Officers Mull and Hunter were notified at the time and they have been keeping close watch on the place looking for suspicious persons lounging around that way.

American Lake Site Chosen.

General Funston of the department of the Columbia has chosen the American lake site near Tacoma for the encampment of the regular army and the national guard this year. R. K. Evans, major of the infantry and adjutant general, who was here a week ago looking over a reservation site concluded that the American lake site was the most available for this year. One of the great objections to the Yakima reservation site is the sage brush and the nature of the soil. To clear the land of sage brush would entail a great amount of work and then the soil would be so soft that the soldiers would smother in the dust that would arise by tramping over it. The majority of Company E members are satisfied with the site selected.

The Deering Ideal rake does the cleanest work and handles the easiest and has less breaks than any rake on the market. Yakima Hardware Co., agents.

Westfield Wanted.

William Westfield is wanted here by the officers for fleeing certain young men of the city out of a little hard cash and some personal property. He is now somewhere in the east dodging those who might be following out the instructions of a telegram from Sheriff Grant. He left here last week to visit Spokane. Before going he borrowed a dressing case of Val Gandy, saying that he would return in a short time, but he has not yet showed up. He also got some money from a number of his friends. This he has failed to pay. He came here in February and told a likely tale. He said he was the son of a famous New York fish merchant who is wealthy, and that he had fallen out with him. He secured work at Patton's meat market and worked there but a short time.

Moses Adams Held Up.

H. F. Brown, who came here a short time ago and kept bar at different places in the city, had a hearing before Justice J. A. Taggard last Monday on the charge of robbing Moses Adams of Yakima City. The testimony of Adams was to the effect that he met Brown at the Horseshoe saloon and that he went with him to the "brick" house in the tenderloin, where Brown relieved him of about $30 in gold and silver. Brown denied the charges and had witnesses there to prove that he did not rob Adams.

Injured in Runaway.

Tom Davidson who, lives on the west side, had a bad runaway last week and as a result is nursing a broken bone in the left wrist. While driving on First street past Mattoon's livery stable his horses became frightened and ran away from him. They went up the street and turned into the Lahr feed yard. One of the wheels struck a post tearing the spokes out. Mrs. Davidson was with her husband and in attempting to get out of the buggy they both fell to the ground. She was badly bruised, but otherwise uninjured.

APPLES FOR THE PRESIDENT

The Horticultural Union Will Give Him Something Fine to Carry Away.

At a meeting of the Yakima County Horticultural union last Saturday the wording of the phrase that is printed on the wrappers of the apples to be presented to President Roosevelt was adopted. It will read thus:

Yakima Valley Apples,
Grown by Irrigation.

Presented by

The Yakima County Horticultural Union. There will be five boxes of these apples all wrapped in paper with the above inscription printed on them. When the president or any member of his party takes an apple he will at once be reminded of Yakima by the reading on the wrapper. The apples will be presented to the president while he is in this city next Monday. They will be put aboard the special train while he is speaking at the stand on Naches avenue.

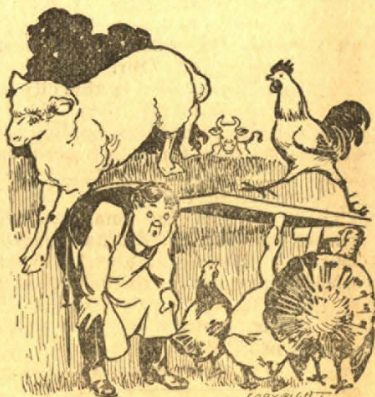

Prepared Outfits for Alaska.

W. B. Reaburn and W. W. Von Cannon, representing the geological survey, this week completed the fitting out of their party for a trip to Tanana district, Alaska. They secured 40 Yakima horses and bought their pack saddles and numerous other supplies in this city. The outfit and horses were shipped to Seattle this week to be put aboard a steamer for the north. This is the second season that the same party prepared its outfit for the north. They go to Tanana to complete a geological survey that has been under way for the last four years by the government. They find that Yakima horses are the best in the country for packing. The horses are hardy and can stand a longer journey than horses from any other district of the northwest.

A New Presbyterian Church.

Rev. James M. Thompson went to Kennewick last Sunday to hold services and to further the work of building a new church at that place. The association already formed at Kennewick has bought lots and paid for them and will erect a building 24x40 feet. The whole cost is to be about $900. The contract for the structure will be let at once and work on the building will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Mrs. Donald, mother of George Donald, left here Tuesday for an extended visit through the east. She will stop for a while with a daughter living in Chicago and will later go to Canada to visit her old home.

To Make Potato Alcohol.

A number of Yakima people are looking into the new method of making alcohol out of potatoes, and if the scheme is feasible may invest in a plant for this place. By the new method alcohol can be manufactured out of potatoes at not over 10 cents per gallon. The Germans discovered the method and are now manufacturing alcohol and using it for illuminating purposes. Yakima can produce the raw material for an establishment of this kind.

The "Gladiator" will soon be here.

AMONG THE BALL PLAYERS

Hopickers to be Reinforced With New Players Who are "Cracker Jacks."

The Yakima ball team, locally known as the Hopickers, will be reinforced this week with four of the best amateur players to be found in the state and by Saturday, it is expected by the management to have as good team as that which made it famous at the opening of the season. These new players have promised to come and will be here either Friday or Saturday. The first game to be played with the new recruits added will be on Sunday and Monday, May 24 and 25 with the Tacoma Athletic club, and on the 30th and 31st the Emanuel Lopez aggregation of Seattle will be here. The latter team is the strongest athletic team in the state and the home boys confidently expect to defeat them.

A change in management took place the first of the week. Fred Chandler has been replaced by W. H. Patterson, who will assist Captain Joe Wilkins in the work during the rest of the season. Manager Patterson says that if the people will show a disposition to give them liberal patronage they will put up some good games during the rest of the season.

Special Attraction for President's Day.

The manager of Larson's theatre has secured a company of Vaudeville Stars to appear on the evening of May 25, the president's visiting day. Members of this aggregation are some of the strongest performers seen on the Orpheum Vaudeville circuit during the present season, and visitors to this city will no doubt avail themselves of this opportunity to witness their performance before returning home. The prices will be 25, 50 and 75 cents. No higher. Reserved seats will be on sale all day at the theatre beginning at 10 a. m.

H. P. James returned Monday from his trip to Seattle where he attended the Pacific conference of the Congregational church. He says this conference was the most successful ever held on the Pacific coast and was equal to if not better than some held in previous years in eastern cities. SENT LETTER THROUGH MAIL

Contained Obscene Matter and Got Oscar Johnson into Uncle Sam's Tails.

Oscar Johnson, a waiter in one of the Jap restaurants in this city, was arrested Tuesday morning on an information made out by Post Office Inspector O. C. Riches charging him with sending obscene matter through the mails. Deputy United States Marshal A. N. Short made arrest. The prisoner had a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Howlett and was bound over to the federal court for trial in the sum of $500. The letter was produced as evidence against the prisoner and he admitted writing it. The letter had been addressed to a party at Santa Marie, Cal., and was picked up on the street at that place and turned over to the post-office department. Those who read the letter say it is one of the vilest epistles ever discovered passing through the mails.

A FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Conditions Upon Which Carnegie Makes Donations Outlined by Rev. Bartlett.

It is well known that Mr. Carnegie gives money gladly for the erection of public library buildings upon the following conditions: That the citizens furnish a site, and that the town guarantee a maintenance fund of ten per cent. of the donation. There is probably no town which has made application for such a donation, and has not complied with these conditions, which has not received it. This city can receive the gift of a free public library, as easily as any other city, if it is willing to comply with the conditions.

The larger part of the money to secure a site has already been subscribed, and the balance can without doubt be secured. The task of getting this fund subscribed has been made delightful by the cordiality and generosity with which the project has been received. The council of the city has now been asked to request Mr. Carnegie to donate $10,000 for a library building, and to guarantee an annual maintenance fund of $1000. Without presuming to predict what action they will take, it is safe to say that every member of the common council of this city is anxious to do his full duty in the matter, and each one would probably welcome a free expression of public opinion. I wish on behalf of the Library association, to offer a few suggestions for the purpose of influencing public opinion in favor of one of the most important projects ever brought before the people of this town.

A free public library contains the best thoughts of the greatest men of all ages, and places them within the reach of every one. If our little library is given a permanent home, it will rapidly increase its number of books, and quickly become a power and source of pride to every citizen. Books of reference will be found there which will be useful to the editor, lawyer, doctor, minister, mechanic, clubwoman, and to every one who wishes to look up any special topic; every branch of literature, fiction, history, science, art, music, will be represented; there will be books for the young of all ages, and every citizen and child of this town will be able to use the library on equal terms. Its value to all classes of people simply cannot be estimated, and nearly every city in this country now recognizes this, and makes some provision for its library. The free public library has rightly been called the poor man's university, for it enables him to study any subject without any tuition or cost. The cost of the public in the small increase of taxation required to maintain it is nothing to what it saves. For example, if a man of property gives $100 towards the site, and gets a $10,000 building for nothing, which will add several hundred dollars to the value of his property, he has made a good investment. Or, again, if I pay $10 per year in additional taxes to maintain a library building, and read $100 worth of books every year, which but for the library I would have to buy or go without, I have made a good investment too. As a matter of fact no one would have to pay $10, but only a very small sum. Besides the library in time will contain works that very few can afford to buy, and the best will be free to all. Not the slightest of its value will be its influence upon boys and girls, early directing their taste to what is best and wisest, and making it easy to train them to be good men and women and useful to the state.

The citizens of Yakima can have such a library, if they are willing to pay the small cost of getting it. Every one who wants to get it should express his mind to some member of the council and help make it easy to see what is best to do.
