

My Dear Priestley

I have sent you here with a little sketch of what has occurred the past year. I wish it was better, but I have been much amused what to do.

We have a man from Washington here and I fear that he has undone all that was done. He went over with O. D. Taylor and his interpreter and ordered all the fences put up, where he cut the wires the day before, on the trail -

I get thoroughly discouraged and when Capt Marchant goes to you as he says he is going you will see without my writing what the matter is.

Same note of envelopes

Yours faithfully T. Stang
