Dear Sir:

I am sending you a circular concerning Drummers and Dreamers, due for spring publication.

It is my hope that you will see fit to advance order on this item for your Indian section, in which event you will receive the customary 40 per cent dealer discount.

Dr. F.W. Hodge (of the Southwest Museum) wrote the introduction. I am sure you will find the item acceptable for some of your "Indian clients" because while it concerns a remnant and nearly extinct race, it also is the story of the west and all Indians.

In event an order is placed, it should be returned to me so I may submit it to the publisher. In case you have contact with some Caxton salesman, which I doubt, he will be credited. In that manner you will see I do not profit from this, but my interest is to ascertain its reaction through a "spot check."

Most sincerely hoping that I may hear from you at an early date,
