Dear Mr. Kelander:

Thank you so much for your letter. The book you mention appears interesting, but not very devoted entirely to names. I will put it on my list of "musts" after buying all I can on place name literature. Inter-library loans have not been too satisfactory for distant places and many won't part with a book, I find.

I have no special category requirements. I am simply assembling like things in the field of names, especially as this often proves the error of some local naming.

Maybe you have material on California that I haven't got, but I do have Guddie, Sanchez, Wells, Hanna. As for Washington, I have very little. For Oregon, I have McArthur, and for Alaska I have Baker. I have all the Federal Writers State books.

Sincerely Yours
T. W. Reynolds
