

January 21, 1957

Mr. J.H. Gipson, president,
The Caxton Printers Ltd.,
Caldwell, Idaho.

Dear Sir:

This letter is written as my expressed agreement that I will hold the Caxton Printers, Ltd. of Caldwell, Idaho, harmless against any action brought by heirs of Johnny Buck, also known as Puck Hyah Toot, for royalties or any claim of royalties accumulating from the book, Drummers and Dreamers.

Drummers and Dreamers was published by Caxton Printers, Ltd., on October 6, 1956. I was the author of the book.

This letter is written with my full consent and for the expressed purpose of holding the Caxton Printers, Ltd. of Caldwell, Idaho, free and clear of any claims made upon ~~by~~ the company by heirs of Johnny Buck, also known as Puck Hyah Toot, in regard to any royalties.

Sincerely

Click Relander

January 21, 1957

January 21, 1957

Mr. J.H. Gipson, president,
The Caxton Printers Ltd.,
Caldwell, Idaho.

Dear Sir:

This letter is written as my expressed agreement that I will hold the Caxton Printers, Ltd., of Caldwell, Idaho, harmless against any action brought by heirs of Puck Hyah Toot, also known as Johnny Buck, deceased, against the Caxton Printers, Ltd. from any claim that might be raised for royalties accumulating from the book, Drummers and Dreamers.

Drummers and Dreamers was published by the Caxton Printers Ltd. on October 6, 1956. I was the author of the book.

I reaffirm that I will hold harmless, the publishing company, The Caxton Printers of Caldwell, Idaho, any claims for royalties made upon by the company by the heirs of Puck Hyah Toot, known as Johnny Buck, deceased.