WRECK ON THE RAIL.

Several Well Known Yakima People Have Narrow Escape From Death.

Among the Yakima people who were returning from the Sound on the ill-fated passenger train which was wrecked at Auburn Thursday night of last week, were A. J. Splawn, Dr. Gunn, W. A. Cox, T. D. Quinn, Cort Meyer, Joel Shomaker, J. W. Sindall and Miss Blanche Read. All the passengers received a pretty severe shaking up, but fortunately no one was seriously injured.

The train was held at Lester for several hours on account of the freight wreck at Easton, until orders were finally received to pull the train back to Seattle. At Auburn the rear end of the train, which was the baggage car, was telescoped; the engine of the colliding train, which was running about twenty miles an hour, ploughed into the baggage car, knocking it and its contents into flinders.

There was great confusion for a time among the passengers. Ladies in the day coaches became very much excited, and it was all the clerical looking Mr. Shomaker could do to keep several from jumping out of the windows. Jack Splawn says that he felt for a time as though his neck had been in the hangman's noose, and that he never would live to go to the legislature. Dr. Gunn, according to reports, also found himself in a most serious predicament after the shock, as one of his limbs was found twisted around the legs of a car seat, which had the effect of laming him for a time. In spite of his own troubles, however, the doctor was soon on his feet and mindful of his duties as a company physician, was soon going about ministering to the wants of others.

Fortunately, no one was badly hurt, the most serious injury being suffered by a woman who had a gash cut in her throat by a piece of flying glass. All the passengers thought it no less than a miracle that no one was killed.

The Yakima people did not arrive home until Friday night.

The same train which was wrecked at Auburn suffered another wreck east of Missoula Sunday night, with still more disastrous results.

The Hop Situation.

A number of Yakima hop growers are in receipt of a circular letter, under date of Sept. 6, from the well and favorably known English firm of W. H. & H. Le May regarding the state of the English and continental crops. The report, on the whole, is extremely optimistic as regards the outlook for good prices, inasmuch as the conclusion is reached that the English crop, when in the bale, is not likely to equal 50 per cent. of what is regarded there as a full crop. In fact, the letter states, if unfavorable harvesting weather continues the English crop will not average one-third.

The Austrian crop is estimated by this firm at about two-thirds of what it was last year. The present low supply of German brewers' stocks, however, means that but little of the continental crop will be available for English shipment, so that that country must necessarily look to the Pacific coast to supply her shortage.

Nearly all the growers in this valley will finish picking this week. In nearly all the yards the crop shows a decided falling off from that of last year, varying from 10 to 30 per cent. The quality of the crop, however, in the opinion of several experts, was never better here.

There is nothing new in the market situation, as no deals have been reported this week. The buyers talk 22 and 23 cents, but none of the growers seem to be willing to sell at these figures.

Disastrous Fire at Goldendale.

A disastrous fire occurred at Goldendale on the night of Sept. 15th, which destroyed about a dozen wooden buildings within the business district of the town, causing a loss of about $25,000, only a relatively small amount of insurance. The conflagration started from a banked fire in a bakery and soon spread to the surrounding buildings and really burned itself out before it could be extinguished by the local fire department. The loss is a heavy one most of the sufferers. Among the buildings destroyed was the Central hotel, an old landmark of the town. A number of people are said to be almost financially ruined as a result of fire.

STATE FAIR OPENS MONDAY.

Promises to Be the Best Ever Held Here. With Prospect for Largely Increased Attendance.

The gates of the State Fair will be thrown open to the public next Monday. All indications point to a very successful week. If the weather is propitious, there will be a larger number of visitors than came in last year, and, taking everything into consideration, it will be the biggest event ever held here.

Ground space for attractions and booths of different kinds is practically all taken, and in the departments of displays and exhibits there will be double the number of last year.

Among the cattle exhibitors who will be here with herds are A. J. Splawn, with his Polled Angus and Herefords; R. O. Dunbar, Olympia, Red Polled; L. K. Cogswell, Chehalis, Red Polled; John Sparks, Reno, Nev., Herefords; C. B. Wade, Pendleton, Ore., Herefords; Chas. Ladd, North Yambill, Ore., Short-horns and several breeds of sheep; A. B. Jackson, Dayton, Rambouillet sheep and horses; W. S. Ladd, Portland, Jersey cattle and Berkshire hogs; D. K. Looney, Jefferson, Ore., Jerseys; P. A. Frakes, Scappoose, Ore., Holsteins; Honeyman Bros., Portland, Ayrshires; F. A. French, Portland, Brown Swiss.

The county exhibit is in charge of Wm. Lee and W. L. Wright. They have been busy all week looking after fruits for this display, and by Monday will have it in excellent shape. County Fruit Inspector Beck will also have an exhibit of county products. The Christian Co-operative colony of Sunnyside will be here with a big exhibit of the products of that district, and will bring with them a large number of visitors.

O. M. Moore, secretary of the Puget Sound Bureau of Information, will have a state advertising department in the pavilion. He has gathered material from all parts of the state, including the Yakima valley. He does not come here to advertise Seattle or other Sound cities, but will pay more attention to other parts of the state.

J. Walden of Zillah has been selected as superintendent of the pavilion, with the exception of the woman's department, where Mrs. Bartlett has full sway and will see that all exhibits are carefully looked after.

Big preparations are under way for the dedication of the Odd Fellows, building at 10:30 on Thursday and in the afternoon they will have a special program at the grounds, winding up in the evening with a big ball at the armory.

The commission has put up a purse of $100 to break the north Pacific coast harness track record. "Democracy," the famous running horse, will be in this race and contest for the money. A free-for-all purse will also be put up.

Following is a list of entries for the races that closed Sept. 16.

Running race, one mile dash—"Miss Remson," J. H. Brannon, Pomeroy; "Doreen," E. M. O'Brien, Portland; "Vohicer," Clancy Bros., Seattle; "Rim Rock," and "Forest Knight," S. J. #### Mishap at Power House Leaves City in Darkness.

An accident at the power house Friday evening of last week about 8 o'clock left the town suddenly in darkness. The accident was caused by the great belt that drives the dynamo slipping from the pulley and getting tangled with the smaller pulleys, resulting in jerking down the main shaft with such terrific force that the concussion was heard for blocks away.

The damage resulting means a loss to the Water & Light company of $2500. The officers, however, lost no time in the effort to repair the damage. President Whitson wiring to Tacoma at once to place an order for a new belt and shafting. The supplies arrived Monday and were promptly placed in position, with the result that the city lights were shining again that night with their accustomed brilliancy.

Saturday evening, especially, the business people felt the absence of the lights and were obliged to dig up lamps wherever they could be found; but everybody seemed to take the matter good naturedly, as it was realized that no one was to blame for the accident.

Motion Day in Court.

Last Monday was special motion day in the Superior court.

On motion of Prosecuting Attorney Guthrie, the long pending case against Dr. Lindsay for alleged libel was ordered stricken from the docket.

In the breach-of-promise case of Hattie Morgan vs. Thomas Lund, Attorney Snively for defendant moved to strike certain testimony from the complaint. Judge Rudkin intimated that the motion must be allowed unless a proper showing was made by plaintiff's attorneys.

The court confirmed the sale of the larger Cadwell building to the Keene Guaranty company.

The platform adopted by the democrats of this county is a masterpiece and goes right to the heart of the issues discussed. It is straightforward and logical and deals with questions that vitally affect the welfare of our own people. The plank relating to the preservation of the water shed of this valley is timely and well stated. If the people of this county do not harken to the warning thus given, the most of them will unquestionably live to rue the fact that they did not.

The DEMOCRAT feels like congratulating the democracy of this county on the splendid and fearless declaration of principles that it made to the people. If this party wins on such a platform, it can rightfully feel that the people endorse its position because it is unmistakably right. If the party is defeated, it will at least have the satisfaction of knowing that it has done its duty by making its traditional stand in the interest of the common people.

In conclusion, the DEMOCRAT, speaking for itself, takes a pardonable degree of pride in the platform which the local democracy has promulgated; for, as every reader of this paper knows, it is directly in line with what the DEMOCRAT has earnestly contended for for many months past.

The editor of the Goldendale "Freak," who, by the way, "swipes" most of his editorial matter from other papers, rails at the democrats of this county for resolving against sheep grazing in the Rainier reserve. "A large portion of the Rainier reserve is in Klickitat county," says the Freak, "and what right have the democrats of Yakima to speak or Klickitat?"

The democrats of Yakima do not assume to speak for Klickitat, but they do assume the right to speak for themselves. They know that the Rainier reserve and its environs is the natural watershed of the Yakima valley, where water means life and the lack of it means stagnation and death. The democrats of this county know what they are talking about and what the farmers of this county demand. The editor of the "Freak" ought to go way back and sit down.

The cost of running the county government of Yakima is entirely too great, as most of the taxpayers have reason to know. The cost of running the administrative offices could be reduced very considerably if there was any disposition to do so among the present officials.

The democratic platform pledges the candidates of that party to an economical administration of the county offices, in the event of their election.

The republican county ticket is made up largely of present deputies in the offices, where they have been schooled in extravagance. If these gentlemen are elected there is no reason to suppose that the cost of running the different offices will be reduced. Indeed, it is much more likely to be increased. The taxpayers would do well to devote more careful thought to the selection of their county officials and to county affairs generally than they have in the past. The most, or, at least, a large proportion of the taxes which every man pays goes for the support of the county government, and for that as well as other reasons the taxpayer should keep his eye closely upon it. He should also insist that when the county pays out the people's money for labor or any other commodity that it should get value received, just the same as any individual would demand.

SPEAKER HENDERSON, in declining the republican nomination for congress in the third congressional district of Iowa, evidently saw the handwriting on the wall. With ex Gov. Horace Boies as his opponent in the race on a pronounced tariff reform platform, the speaker saw the possibility of defeat staring him in the face, and rather than take the risk he ignobly threw up his hands and withdrew from the contest. Whatever Henderson's real motive for withdrawal may have been, it will be difficult to convince men, even of his own party, that he has not convicted himself of cowardice; for under such circumstances a brave man would have stood up and fought for his principles and taken the chances of defeat.

The facts of the case seem to be that within the republican party of Iowa, and particularly so in Henderson's district, there has sprung up a powerful sentiment in favor of a general reduction in the present exorbitant tariff duties. The farmers of that great agricultural state have long felt the heavy hands of the trusts laid upon them. They have grown weary of the present condition and demand relief, and they realize that the only way to get it is through a scaling down of the tariff, which they recognize to be the mother of most of the trusts.

In his letter of declination, Mr. Henderson says that he has discovered that this feeling has grown to alarming proportions, and rather than to concede anything to it he preferred to decline the nomination and retire ignominiously from the field.

The case of Henderson reveals and brings forcibly to light the condition of things that exist to a greater or lesser degree in all parts of the country. The people are growing restive under the iron rule of the trusts and demand relief. They are beginning to see that it is useless to expect that the republican party, as now constituted, will give it to them, and naturally they look to the democrats for aid; for the republican party, permeated as it is with trust influence, is helpless and powerless to act. The signs all point unerringly to a democratic victory this fall in the congressional elections, to be followed, naturally enough, by the election of a democratic president in 1904.

WILL H. THOMPSON, who has forsaken the democratic party and joined the republican party, sat as a delegate from King county in the republican state convention, held September 10. He has fallen into the republican way of things quickly, as for instance, he said: "The great majority of the republican legislative nominees throughout the state are opposed to a railroad commission, and they do not consider the state platform as binding upon them." The Spokesman-Review seems surprised at this statement, but if it will turn its mind backward it will find that the framers of republican platforms in late years have never intended that they should be binding, and that the principles advocated in platforms have been the opposite to what has been advocated on the stump and through the papers. The republican platforms are put forth to catch votes and not intended to bind the men elected thereon.—Whatcom Blade.

At the county convention of the Walla Walla republicans, held in June last, Levi Ankeny and his following in the platform adopted bitterly attacked Gov. McBride's proposal to establish a railroad and rather slurred the accidental governor for his assumption of authority and persistency in the matter. At that time it looked as though McBride was going to be whipped in the fight and the Levites accordingly felt that it was perfectly safe to flout him.

Now the shoe is on the other foot, and the managers of Ankeny are all at sea. Their county platform and their legislative nominees are in opposition to their state platform. They therefore start the campaign badly handicapped. It would not be surprising if Ankeny's legislative candidates in Walla Walla should fail of election, as they are very likely to do in Yakima county.

JIM HILL's merger is clearly outstripped by the new two billion dollar combine of eastern roads, which includes the Vanderbilt-Gould-Harrington interests. These eminent gentlemen with their great mergers are simply hastening the day when the government must step in and run their railroads. If there is any virtue at all in the merger idea, it simply proves that government, properly administered, is better qualified to carry out the merger idea than is any aggregation of selfish millionaires that can be got together.

THE friends of Senator Turner of Washington are urging his re-election, and if merit is recognized along the Puget Sound he will win with votes to spare. Senator Turner has made an admirable public servant. Strong in mind, resolute in will, pure in purpose and dignified in bearing, he has been a valiant champion of the interests of his people. He is by all odds the best representative that his state has ever had in the senate and a failure to re-elect him would be more of a reflection upon the judgment of his constituents than upon him. Of all the senators who are seeking re-election not one has made a better record or is more entitled to the commendation of his constituents.—Commoner.

It is to be hoped that all our farmers who have anything worthy of being exhibited will bring such products to the State Fair next week and place the same upon exhibition. It doesn't matter whether it be fruit, hops, hay, grain, potatoes, pumpkins or turnips, if it is above the ordinary size and attractiveness bring it along and let the public see it. Visitors come to the State Fair expecting to see the best we've got here, and they ought not to be disappointed. And, another thing, don't forget to come to the Fair yourself. Not only come yourself, but bring your wife and the babies. Give the hired man a day or too off, and invite him to come and bring his best girl.

THE editor of the Republic, seemingly, is worrying a great deal about some of the democratic candidates. He appears to be afraid that some of them "won't stick." He is also very much concerned in regard to the attitude of the legislative candidates on certain matters. The brother ought to cork himself to keep from slopping over in his anxiety to elect three gentlemen from this county who would vote for the Hon. Levi Ankeny. There is, of course, no candidate upon the democratic ticket who is green enough to permit himself to be catechised by Editor Robertson. If there be any such he should be promptly invited by the central committee to get off the ticket.

THE two Ankeny organs of Walla Walla, the Union and Argus, have had to be content with their diet of crow since the adoption of the republican state platform. Previous to the convention, those papers, in obedience to orders from the local boss, slopped over in denunciation of Gov. McBride and his hobby—a railroad commission. Now the republicans of the state, without meaning it, have gone on record for a commission, despite the frantic efforts of the Levites. This unexpected turn of affairs has left the Ankeny organs, like Mahomet's coffin, between the heavens and the earth. Their present position would be pitiable, if they deserved pity; but they don't.

It is somewhat amusing to read the special correspondence of the Tacoma papers boomerang Cushman for the speakership of the house. There is no more possibility of "Cush" being elected speaker than there is of Barron, the whilom congressional candidate, reaching that pinnacle of greatness. We suspect that Col. Perkins, of the News and Ledger, has merely put his news-gathering machinery to work in order to manufacture some political thunder for "Cush's" use in the campaign. "Cush" in the speaker's chair! Wouldn't that cramp you? The suggestion is surely a joke, and a very coarse one at that.

THE average man doesn't realize the value and necessity of modern improvements until he has to do without them for awhile. For three nights recently this city, owing to a mishap at the power house, had to get along without electric lights and go back to the oil lamps and tallow candles of our forefathers. The relapse was not agreeable, and nobody cares to repeat the experience.

A COMPETENT chemist who has analyzed two samples of the water in use by the people of this city, pronounces it almost chemically pure. In his report, this authority says that but few cities can boast of having as pure a supply of water. It is now in order for such parties and newspapers as have made assertions to the contrary to go away back and sit down.

WE are constantly being reminded that this country should raise more hogs. Hogs nearly always bring a good price and find a ready market. Two carloads of hogs were sold at Garfield a few days ago at $6.60 per hundred. Every farmer should have a few hogs to dispose of at that price.—Prosper Record.

WE do raise a good many up this way, but, unfortunately, most of them have gone into politics.

MILLIONAIRE GATES was barred out of the Claridge hotel, London, on a late visit, simply because he had, on a former visit, used profane language and expected freely. The Claridge is one of the most exclusive hotels in Europe, and its manager declared that "all of Gates' fortune could not secure him a night's lodging at that hotel."—Ex.

OUR friend of the newly-born Prosper Bulletin seems to be "up against it." Does the Bulletin favor county division, or is it "ferminist" the proposition?

YOUNG STRATTON has finally decided to contest the will of his father, the late W. S. Stratton, who is said to have made $15,000,000 out of the Independence mine at Cripple Creek. According to the millionaire's last will, the son was to receive a legacy of $50,000 providing he made no effort to contest the will, the great bulk of the fortune being bequeathed for charitable purposes. Most people probably would have decided to let well enough alone. At any rate the lawyers will have fat picking for awhile.

EVERYBODY in this part of the country ought to figure on taking at least one day off and attending the State Fair next week.

The Fat Man's Race.

The following named parties have been entered for the fat man's race at the State Fair Oct. 2: Frank Lamborn, Chas. Gramer and A. H. Miller, Ellensburg; W. H. Johnston and C. I. Douglas, North Yakima; also entries of unknowns by Gandy Bros., Yakima hotel, Bartholet hotel, Marshal Grant and A. Daverin, North Yakima; W. H. Johnstone, Seattle, and unknown of Seattle entered by Sheriff Cudihoe.

Another Hop House Fire.

From some unknown cause the hop warehouse of F. E. Thompson, of Parker, caught fire Monday afternoon and burned to the ground. In the building at the time was stored about 15,000 pounds of hops, on which Mr. Thompson had insurance to the amount of $1050, which sum equals the contracted price of the hops, 11c. per pound. The building and fixtures were valued at $1000, on which there was insurance to the amount of $200.

Ball Game Sunday.

Thomas Lund and Geo. Kohls have made arrangements with the Ellensburg team for a match game of ball for tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon. The "burgers" are expected to bring down a large crowd of rooters with them. The game will be called at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Lund kept the wires hot for some time this week before he could make satisfactory terms with the manager up the creek, who, it seemed, wanted the whole earth with a fence around it before he would consent to a game.

Inhabited Worlds.

Prof. G. W. Bougle, head of the department of astronomy in Northwestern university, after much study and research is led to the firm belief that Mars and possibly Venus and Mercury are peopled with some form of intelligent life. He bases his belief upon ascertained facts of astronomy which make it logical and probable. It is now admitted by leading astronomers that these planets possess climatic conditions similar to our own, and this being admitted it is more difficult to reject than to accept the belief that the corollary which nature is wanting on other planets obeying, so far as we can discover, the great and universal law—Standard

An Entirely Safe Boast.

In one of his speeches Mr. Roosevelt said: "I say to you here from this platform nothing that I have not already stated, and nothing that I would not say at a private table with any of the biggest corporation managers of the land." Well, so far as we have been permitted to observe, Mr. Roosevelt has not said anything from the platform with relation to the trust question that need seriously disturb the trust magnates. He has lightly referred to trust evils, but he has saved his indignant criticisms for those who condemn the trust system. So far as arraignment of the trusts is concerned, the president's speeches have, to use the president's own phrase, been built of "strawless bricks."—Commoner.

Bad Man With a Knife.

Thursday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock two negroes got into an altercation on Front street in Chinatown, and one, Harvey Bollen, stabbed the other, Charles Hawkins, slashing him twice across the forearm, inflicting a painful, but not necessarily dangerous wound. Marshal Grant and Deputy Sheriff Sindall happened to be about a block away at the time, and rushing in seized Bollen and landed him safely in jail. Hawkins, who came here recently from Whatcom, was then taken to a physician's office, where his wounds were dressed.

The row between the two men is said to have been caused by jealousy, as both are believed to have settled their affection on a dusky damsel in the red-light district.

Leading Questions.

The following letter, which was received this week for publication, is self-explanatory:
Mr. W. W. Robertson, Esq.,
Editor of Yakima Republic:

Dear Sir—In the issue of your paper of September 19 you say that you have sent the following letter to the democratic nominees for the legislature, and that you will print their replies, when received:

"The Republic would be pleased to have from you, at your earliest convenience, for publication, an expression of your views on the subject of the proposed division of Yakima county. If you should be elected would you vote for a bill to divide the county if the opportunity presented itself? Would you vote against the bill?"

In view of the fact that I am a republican, as you now profess to be, a fellow-feeling of partisanship will probably prompt you to enlighten me, and doubtless many others of your fellow republicans interested in this matter, by answering the following questions, suggested by your letter to the democratic candidates:

First. Is the question of county division an issue in the impending election?
Second. If such question is not an issue, is not your letter to the democratic candidates irrelevant and immaterial?
Third. If such question is in issue, have you addressed a similar letter to the republican candidates, Englehart, Dunn and Hare?

Fourth. If such question is not in issue, and you have not addressed such letter to the republican candidates, why have you not done so, if you are in good faith trying to get information to enlighten the voters?

Fifth. If such question is not in issue, was your letter to the democratic candidates prompted by the desire of the republican leaders to make it an issue?

Sixth. If such question is in issue, was it made an issue by the republican party of this county, excluding from its legislative ticket any representative whatever from the southern part of the county, and nominating all such ticket from North Yakima and its tributary country.

Seventh. If you have not written a letter to the republican legislative candidates, similar to the one to the democratic nominees, will you now do so, and publish the same and their answers?

Certainly your partisan affiliations will make it easy for you to write such a letter to the republican nominees—easy, I mean, compared to the struggle a republican leader of genteel sensibilities must have experienced in mustering effort to perpetrate the impertinence of your letter to the democrats.

I am yours, etc.,
IRA J. CROFTT.

Ford & Sturgeon, a prominent drug firm at Rocky Hill Station, Ky., write: "We were requested by Dr. G. B. Snigley to send to Herbine for the benefit of our customers. We ordered three dozen in December, and we are glad to say, Herbine has given such great satisfaction that we have duplicated this order three times, and today we gave you a salesman another order. We beg to say Dr. G. B. Snigley takes pleasure in recommending Herbine." 50c bottle at Fred L. Janek's Drug Store.

Elsa Ryan, as "Dolly" in the thrilling drama "Nevada," drew a fair sized audience to Larson's theatre Wednesday evening. While there is a good deal of blood and thunder in the play, it was so well presented by Miss Ryan and her company that the audience was well pleased. The little star, particularly, came in for a good deal of praise. Her support, also, was good throughout.

THE OLD OAK TREE.
The sweetest thing of earth to me
Is the south wind in the old oak tree.
It moves the branches to and fro;
The shadows dance on the grass below.
The leaves move lightly in the air;
Their rustle seems a whispered prayer.
Deep in the tangled grass I lie,
Seeing but glimpses of the sky.
So thick the green leaves are above,
So light, so soft the breezes move.
I wonder not that men have stood
Before some giant of the wood
And made it of their prayers a shrine,
Deeming it held a soul divine.

He Hacked Off His Leg.
Caught in a bear trap on the banks of the Athabasca, near Milford, Me., John McLeod, a lumber scaler, was obliged to take out his jackknife and cut off his leg. The trap was too heavy to move and was sprung in such a way that he could not reach over and release it. He was far from any human being, and the only way out of it seemed to be to cut off the leg.
That was done easily, because the leg upon which he operated was of wood. But when he stumbled back to camp it made him mad to hear the jeers of the French-Canadian cook of the lumber crew.
"Why you no take off you whole wood laig, ah? You get out um trap and no spile you wood laig 'tall, ah?"
Such a way out of his difficulty had not occurred to McLeod before.

Skill in Throwing Off Mail Bags.
The busiest clerk in any crew or car is the one who is detailed to receive and throw off the sacks and pouches. To lift a heavy mail sack and throw it from a car moving at the rate of a mile a minute is a matter of good target shooting. "Looks easy enough," commented one of the veteran clerks at the letter case, "and it does seem as if a man should be able to hit a station platform without much difficulty, but you see that station is passed and gone in about one second. Then, the suction of a train running at this speed is something terrific, and until the knack of throwing a pouch is learned a man is liable to feed the wheels with a few letters."—Saturday Evening Post.
