OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

THE issue in the trial of Woodbury vs. Eddy, held at Boston last, is in itself trifling. Whether or not Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy libelled Mrs. Josephine Curtis Woodbury by comparing her to a certain lady mentioned in the seventeenth chapter of the Book of Revelation has no public interest. But the incidental exposition of Christain Science, its peculiar teachings and practices, which is sure to be given by the witnesses in this trial—most of them leaders in the new church—will be very interesting indeed. The trial is expected to last six weeks. The plaintiff's statements already filed contain 15,000 words—a fair-sized book. She will be supported by over eighty witnesses. "Mother" Eddy, the defendant, will testify with equal copiousness and be supported by another large "cloud of witnesses." A curious feature of the trial is Mrs. Eddy's non-appearance in court, on the ground that her health is too poor. This is rather an odd allegation to be made by the founder of a new church whose cardinal doctrine is that disease is non-existent and sickness a mental illusion. For all that has been written about it, Christian Science is still a mystery to most people. By the religious census of 1890 the Christian Scientists were reported as numbering less than 9,000 in the whole United States, with church property amounting to $41,000. Today they are believed to number over 1,000,000 and their church property is reckoned by millions. The trial at Boston will throw upon a new denomination that has grown with such wonderful rapidity.

THE opposition press is falling over itself in offering suggestions as to whom the next democratic national convention should nominate for the presidency, and proffering advice as to the issues to be set forth in the platform. The Mt. Vernon Argus thus succinctly gives an opinion as to the merits of the gratuitous suggestions offered: "When the issues are joined, the candidate to fit them will be found. He may be Charles A. Towne, or Tom L. Johnson, or possibly the choice might fall upon George Fred Williams or for the third time upon William J. Bryan, or upon a man not yet prominent before the public. But whoever the candidate may be, he will be a man in hearty sympathy with the aggressive, progressive element of the party. For there is a new democracy—not new in principal, but new in zeal and faith. They know that the present domination of pampered special interests must end, and believe that the end is near. They know that the cause of liberty will advance, and have faith that the present democratic organization will advance it. But in the meantime, we can worry along for about three years longer without any candidate."

JUDGE SNELL, of Pierce county, has refused to issue the death warrant for the execution of Eben L. Boyce, the wife murderer, for the reason that under the new law no date can be fixed within thirty days of this time nor could the sheriff execute the writ within that time. Under the provisions of the law passed by the last legislature, and effective June 14, all executions must take place at the Walla Walla penitentiary, and a question has arisen as to the legality of inflicting the capital penalty in cases where sentence has not heretofore been pronounced. The case will be at once carried before the supreme court and the question of the effect upon murders awaiting sentence of omitting the saving clause in the new enactment will be passed upon. As has heretofore been stated, twelve murderers in this state will be affected by the decision.

A MILITARY college that is to graduate real rough riders is the novel institution planned by Buffalo Bill and a number of retired officers of the regular army. It will be located at Cody, Wyo., in the heart of the Big Horn Basin, which will soon be made accessible through an extension of the Burlington railroad. Barracks of unhewn logs are to be built, and instruction in everything from rough riding to hunting big game is to be provided. It is believed that a number of eastern families will send their sons to Buffalo Bill to be transformed into thorough westerners.

BY a vote of 90 to 63 the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church at Detroit last week adopted the judiciary committee's report with regard to the interpretation of article 15 of the creed. The action of the assembly is in effect to exclude the members of secret orders from admission to the church. It is also interpreted by some delegates to mean the expulsion of members of the church who now belong to secret societies. It is also claimed that members of the G. A. R. and labor organizations fall under the ban.

COL. J. J. WEISENBERGER died at his home in Whatcom last Wednesday from spinal meningitis. Col. Weisenberger served as major in the Washington volunteers in the Philippines, and after a campaign of gallant service, for which he was recommended for promotion, was mustered out with his regiment at San Francisco. When the national guard was reorganized in this state, he was appointed colonel, and filled the position up to the time of his death.

WILLIAM ZIEGLAR has fitted out a vessel at Dundee, Scotland, and proposes to go and capture the North Pole.

The vessel is called the America, and the expedition is commanded by Evelyn B. Baldwin, an American. Strong hopes are entertained by the party that the hither to elusive pole may be run down by the party, but it will probably be a cold day for them when it is.

MRS. MCKINLEY'S physical condition continues to be a source of great anxiety. While the latest bulletins indicate a slight improvement, it would be a matter of small surprise to the nation to hear of her death at any moment. She has proved a heroic sufferer, and has the warmest sympathy of the entire country in her patient struggle against disease.

GOV. ROGERS has issued a proclamation declaring the $400 personal property exemption, adopted at the November election, to be a part of the state constitution. Thus we have "harked back" to the point left in 1897, when the supreme court declared the $500 personal property exemption law to be unconstitutional.

IT seems an unfortunate season for racing yachts. The misadventures of Shamrock the II are followed closely by an almost fatal mishap to the Constitution in her trial trip. It may be that the advantages claimed for the American boat over her British rival can be overcome by a simple accident.

IT has been decided in cabinet meeting that no extra session of congress will be called in consequence of the recent supreme court decision regarding the companionship of the constitution and the flag. This is better luck than was expected under the circumstances.

WITH four inches of snow and a blizzard reported in Kittitas and Spokane on Tuesday, the "banana belt" cannot complain of the lowering of several degrees in temperature, especially when fruits and vegetables appeared smilingly next morning.

SENATORS TILLMAN and McLauren of South Carolina have withdrawn their resignations, at the suggestion of the governor, but the dispute between them continues with "words that burn."

MAYOR FECHTER continues to remind the city council that expenses are increasing at a more rapid rate than the city's income, and exhorts them to nurture methods of economy.

VARIOUS sections of the Union are going wild over the discovery of wonderful oil deposits. If this keeps up everyone will soon have oil to burn.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The Modern Woodmen announce a ball to be given at the armory Thursday, June, 20.

The band boys are rustling hard to make the Fourth of July celebration a big success.

Contractor McKiver will start his gang next Monday on the improvement of the north end of Natcheez avenue.

Mason opera house has been leased by the local lodge of Masons and the hall will be fitted up for lodge purposes,

Some of Burlingame's men who have been at work on the Yakima avenue improvement have gone out on a strike for higher wages.

The local lodge of Odd Fellows on Tuesday evening elected Frank D. Clemmer, N. G.; A. J. Chambers, V. G.; A. L. Flint, secretary, and Dr. P. Frank, trustee.

Last Saturday was the regular date set for wool sales, but buyers and growers could not get together. The next sale is announced for June 15. It is estimated that 400,000 pounds of wool is still in the hands of Yakima growers.

The performance of "Sag Harbor" at Larson's on Thursday evening has been highly complimented by theater-goers. Interest in the play was maintained throughout, and nearly every member of the company displayed high-class acting.

A party handling a revolver in a Yakima avenue gun shop last Tuesday, accidentally discharged the weapon and the bullet went through the window of Ross' barber shop, on the opposite side of the street, narrowly missing parties in the room at the time.

In the superior court Monday a number of motions were argued, and the divorce of Kate McKaw vs. Samuel R. McKaw, granted over a year ago, was set aside. The defendant is to pay all costs of this proceeding and the case is practically reopened.

Governor Lowe may apply for letters patent for a new process of evicting objectionable tenants. Like all great inventions the scheme is very simple and not likely to be complicated with law suits. He merely takes the front doors off the hinges and presto change, the tenant gets out forthwith.

Mr. David Lindsay appeared once more on the streets Monday, after four weeks' voluntary absence. The doctor says he is here to stay, after giving a new bond in $500, with A. C. Gervais and Ed. Vandiver and wife as surities, for his appearance in the libel case against him in the superior court.

Permanent organization of the bicycle club was effected at the court house last Tuesday evening. E. G. Peck was elected president, A. J. Willis, treasurer, W. L. Steinweg, F. C. Hall, Del Hiscock, John Rudkin and E. G. Peck trustees. The membership of the club is rapidly increasing, and great interest is being manifested in aiding its endeavors to secure good roads.

An interesting question was up for adjudication before Justice MacCrimmon last Monday in the case of Thos. Lund vs. F. D. Clemmer. An endorsed check lost by Lund was cashed by Clemmer for a party having work done in his shop. Lund sued for the recovery of the check, but Judge MacCrimmon held it to be negotiable papers and found for the defendant.

Private advices from Roslyn say that the excursion to North Yakima spoken of in last week's papers will occur some time in August. Arrangements are being made to secure a very cheap railroad rate, and the intention is to try and bring the excursionists up to a thousand in number. The band and baseball team will accompany the crowd. Yakima will extend a hearty welcome.

R. F. Moore, a farmer living just outside of this city, reports the discovery of Russian thistle down toward the Sunnyside country. The farmers of the east, and particularly of the Dakotas, are not strangers to this pestiferous plant; and it is well known how difficult they are of riddance if once thoroughly in a country. Now is the time to look after this, as well as other vegetation of like character.

A letter from J. D. Medill, dated Haines Mission, Alaska, May 24, says: I arrived here yesterday on the "City of Seattle." Will leave this afternoon for our destination on Bear Creek about 60 miles in the interior. We have hired Chilcat Indians to paddle us up the river. The season is very late here, and the mountains covered yet with snow. I am afraid we have come too early. Don't know just how soon I will be able to get a letter out again, as this point will be our nearest post office.

A verbal complaint was made to Deputy Sheriff Sindall on Tuesday that two men were loitering about the town armed with six-shooters and having on their persons and in their luggage a kit of burglar's tools consisting of a "jimmy", a metal saw, a drill and the like. The men were taken to the court house by the deputy sheriff, city marshal and night watchman, but nothing of a suspicious character was found at their lodging house or on the men to justify their being held and they were permitted to depart.

The Woodmen of the World have made arrangements for a grand Fourth of July ball, having secured the armory for the occasion. Woodmen and their friends from various sections are expected to be present and a good time is assured. The Yakima orchestra has been secured to furnish the music. A. J. Shaw is the floor manager and a floor committee has been selected consisting of E. E. James, Volney Taft, Elmer Hawkins, F. D. Clemmer, F. T. Liggett, J. S. Dougherty, H. J. Rand, E. J. Patton, R. E. Smith and A. E. Howard. Tickets, costing $1.00 may be secured at Taft's drug store or of any W. of W.

The Walla Walla baseball nine was here last Saturday; it was here also Sunday. There seem to be some unfortunate experiences necessary to round out the life history of every individual, and the same rule applies with equal force to communities. These vicissitudes are so unwelcome that it is a great pleasure to be able to forget them—at least to say as little about them as possible. The score on Saturday stood: Walla Walla, 20; Yakima, 8. A new nine was scratched together Sunday from the mass of old-time players in the city. Result: Walla Walla, 11; Yakima 8. A little practice would have enabled this nine to "skin" the "Wallians," but our high school team was out-classed.

Roy D. Ogle died at the hospital Tuesday, aged 21 years. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ogle, of Bucoda, Wash., were here in time to be with their son in his last hours, and had the remains shipped to their home for interment. Consumption was the cause of death.

Jim Baker yesterday removed the frame structure occupied by H. L. Tucker and family as a residence from its location on Front street to its new position, corner of B and First streets. Work will begin at once on the construction of a new stone building on the lot vacated.

The deputy street commissioner, a few days ago, ran across a recipe in a great family journal for restoring vitality to failing hair. As his bald spot has been growing alarmingly, he concluded to try the cure, which was to wash the scalp with strong borax water several times a day. On applying for the article at the drug store, he forgot the name and called for rosin. After applying the remedy a few times he found that all the flies in the neighborhood stuck to his pate and he now has an overwhelming desire to rub every fiddle string he sees to the affected parts.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Matters of Interest to the People Disposed of by the City Dads.

At the regular meeting of the city council last Monday evening the mayor and all members except Shaw were present.

A communication was read from the National Park Bank claiming that they were entitled to reimbursement in the sum of $2.25 for handling the interest on sewer bonds.

A tax certificate of sale from the sheriff for lot 5 in block 70, foreclosure suit on lieu, was presented by J. P. McCafferty, and on motion of Donald was assigned to petitioner.

Citizens on Natchez avenue petitioned to have the grass and weeds mowed along that thoroughfare. Sinclair and Hall voted aye and Weed and Donald voted no.

A petition for renewal of saloon license was refused Frank Cook on Second St., all councilmen except Allen and Reed voting no. The reason ascribed for the opposition to renewing the license was the fact that the saloon is on the street where the children pass on going to the Central school.

The report of City Justice Taggard, showing fines for various offenses during the month of May amounting to $267.50, and expenses for jury and witnesses in his court, chargeable to the city in sum of $24.20, was referred to finance committee.

The purchasing committee was instructed to procure a book suitable for city justice's docket.

The city marshal's report covered 56 animals impounded, 12 nuisances abated, 88 arrests, besides the collection of fines, licenses, furnishing 128 meals to prisoners and other matters; police committee.

The city sexton's report was referred to the cemetery committee.

The street commissioner reported the collection of $58 in poll taxes. Councilman Hall supplemented the report of the street commissioner and asked that the commissioner be allowed to hire a team and men for necessary work. Mr. Hall also said that he wished to call a halt in street grading for the season, as it was proving burdensome to the city.

The city engineer offered a suggestion that the construction of crosswalks as well as sidewalks should be let by contract to the lowest bidder. This suggestion was adopted. A resolution was passed for the payment to Contractor Ball for construction of various sidewalks.

The number of bills allowed was too great for separate itemizing, but the mayor kept tab on all the claims allowed and announced the amount of bills accrued for the month of May to be over $1000. At the request of the mayor the clerk looked up the amount for the corresponding month of last year and it was found the sum amounted to $743.

The ordinance relating to the establishment of the base line and grades of the city streets was read for the third time and passed.

The third reading of the ordinance relating to dog licenses, assessing the tax upon all dogs at $1 per annum, after an amendment by Reed that the mayor appoint the dog catcher, elicited no debate, and the ordinance was passed unanimously.

The clerk was ordered to notify the treasurer to make a report at next regular meeting and also to make one himself.

Bids for sidewalk on the west side of South Third street were received from G. H. Moulton, D. A. Ball and C. H. Bruenn; the bid of Mr. Bruenn, 35 cents per lineal foot, being the lowest was accepted by resolution, with a bond fixed at $250.

Bids for grading the North end of Natchez avenue were read from Aumiller & Hinds at $1.50 per lineal foot; Wm. McKivor, 80 cents per lineal foot and E. C. Burlingame 84 cents per lineal foot. On resolution passed, Wm. McKivor was awarded the contract for grading the five blocks mentioned, after the approval by the mayor of a $1000 bond.

Mr. Sinclair was granted a two months leave of absence, at his request.

On motion of Hall, Mr. Keck is to be notified to fix his sidewalk on West Yakima ave. in accordance with the remainder of the recently constructed walk.

Mr. Donald offered a motion that the police judge be discharged on account of his failure to enforce the ordinances of the city. The particular charge preferred and answered by Judge Taggard was in regard to the boot-black discharged for violating the ordinance requiring a license for the conduct of this line of business. Mr. Hall offered a motion, and it was carried, that the matter be indefinitely postponed. The marshal was instructed to arrest all violators of the boot-black ordinance, whether on the sidewalk or on vacant lots.

The discussion of the motion of Mr. Donald proved a free-for-all engagement, the bill-posters ordinance and other foreign matter being injected into the discussion by the marshal, Edward Fournier and nearly all the council, the mayor offering a seasonable word occasionally. On motion of Hall, the city attorney was instructed to draft an amendment to the bill-posters' ordinance allowing business men to distribute bills printed at home.

On motion of Weed the city engineer was employed at a salary of $100 per month to supervise the construction of the improvement on Yakima avenue.

A communication was read from C. C. Carpenter, by Whitson & Parker, his attorneys, requesting the return of certain notes made to H. Pressey, former city treasurer, by various parties, and was referred to the city attorney.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for six crosswalks at various localities, the work to be done under specifications furnished by the city engineer.

The street commissioner will hereafter have only three men under him—a ditch-tender and two assistants to clean up the city highways.

R. D. Curry was before the council to protest against the brutal treatment of his brother Tom on Sunday evening by Nightwatchman Starrett. A recess of the council was taken at this time in order to give Mr. Starrett an opportunity to tell his side of the story. Mr. Starrett appeared, and with him came Mr. Bert Fletcher, as a witness in his behalf. Tom Curry, with a badly hammered countenance, was also in evidence. After hearing the testimony offered, the council took no action, further than to warn Mr. Starrett to be more careful in his treatment of parties arrested by him.

Adjourned.

Mrs. H. E. Crosno and children returned Tuesday from a visit with relatives in Oregon.

The Big Silver Dollar.

How dear to my heart is the face of the dollar
When some kind subscriber presents it to view!
It may come today or it may come tomorrow;
It may come from others, it may come from you!
The big silver dollar, the round silver dollar!
Delinquent subscriber, present it to view!

The round silver dollar I hail as a treasure,
For often expenses o'erwhelm me with woe!
I count it the source of an exquisite pleasure,
And yearn for it fondly wherever I go.
How ardent I'd seize it—that lovely round dollar,
'The root of all evil' 'tis commonly named.

Loving money is sinful, some good people tell us,
But the penniless printer can hardly be blamed,
The penniless printer, the hardworking printer,
Keeps sending out papers that interest you:
So hand in your dollar, the big daddy dollar,
Dear reader. Now will you present it to view?
—[Exchange.]

The Decline of Ireland.

In the Parliamentary statement that the population of Ireland is now but 4,456,546, a decrease in ten years of 5.3 per cent, it is admitted that the decline of the Green Island has not been checked; that in time of general prosperity Ireland is still the only country that shrinks as its people in other lands expand in number, power, wealth and influence.

The people in Ireland are little more than half as many as in mid-century. In 1841 they numbered 8,196,597. By 1845 they had become 8,275,061. Then came the famine, when, allowing for natural increase, 2,000,000 people, one in every four died of starvation or the diseases it brought. In one decade the total fell to 6,574,275, and every census since has shown a further shrinkage.

Yet the people have been prolific and hardy. Early marriage is the rule in Ireland, and the moral standard is high. The drain of emigration has gone on at accelerated pace. In Spain, in France, in Austria, in Chili, some of the proudest names are of Irish origin. Between 1841 and 1890 nearly four millions emigrated. Hundreds of thousands crossed to Canada; other swarms went to Australia and New Zealand. But the greatest portion came to this country, where they have become a prosperous and valuable element in the national life. There are now about two millions here of Irish birth—nearly half as many remain on the old sod—besides four millions of Irish parentage.

Why does Ireland decline? Is there a partial explanation in Lord Salisbury's confession that if home rule were granted to Ireland England would have first to conquer her in case of foreign war? Are freedom and self-government the prime requisites of content and prosperity?

His efforts resulted in even a louder explosion than usual, but strange to say, not a man was killed, though an engine was blown to smithereens, the earth was burst asunder and other startling things occurred.—Everett News

Mixed Metaphors.

Mixed metaphors are always amusing. "You are," said a late lord mayor of Dublin, in opposing a municipal scheme, "standing on the edge of a precipice that will be a weight on your necks all the rest of your days." And this attributed to an English clergyman: "The young men of England are the backbone of the British empire. What we must do is to train that backbone and bring it to the front." A member of parliament was responsible for the following: "Even if you carried these little reforms it would only be like a fleabite in the ocean."—[The Academy.]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, May, 31, 1901.

The constitution has stood some hard knocks in the past from partisan decisions of the U. S. supreme court, and it will stand the extraordinary and contradictory decisions handed down this week in the insular cases. Although for the time these decisions give the administration a free hand in carrying out its imperialistic colonial policy, they will doubtless make enough democratic votes among the serious-minded, who believe congress to be the creature of the constitution, instead of the constitution being the football of congress, as the principal one of these decisions practically holds it to be, to elect the next president. There is not the slightest doubt that a majority—a vast majority—of the people of this country regard the constitution as the best protection of their liberties, and to doubt that they will resent its being juggled with in order to make it meet the exigencies of the McKinley administration is to doubt their intelligence. Democrats, of course, regret that this decision was made, but they find consolation in the belief that it will result in hastening the return to power of the democratic party, which has ever been the defender of the constitution and believer in its strict construction.

Senator Bailey, of Texas, who has an established reputation as an able exponent of the constitution, said of the insular decision of the U. S. supreme court: "The decision is certainly bad enough, but it is not so bad as the administration papers are claiming. The friends of the administration are congratulating themselves too early if they think the decision relieves them from the embarrassment of constitutional restriction in dealing with our new possessions. They will find the question of taxation one of the least among the perplexities of a colonial policy; and they can only carry out their plans for governing these islands by setting aside other and greater constitutional provisions. The court is apt to find that the next case will not furnish it with a subterfuge like the words 'The United States' to which it can limit constitutional guarantees. It will be compelled sooner or later to meet the proposition as to whether congress can enact laws for these insular possessions which are contrary to the express inhibitions of the constitution. The decision, standing by itself, will become the source of endless mischief and confusion. But its harm will not end there. Following so closely upon the decision in the income tax case, it will inevitably convince the people that the supreme court of the U. S. holds the laws of congress constitutional or unconstitutional, according as it deems them wise or unwise. With the wisdom of the law the court properly has no concern, and its only inquiry ought to be whether the law is or is not constitutional. For many years this rule was followed by the court, and then its decisions were respected by all men; but I regret to say that at this time the conviction is almost universal in the public mind that the most important decisions are political rather than judicial."

Presidential booms have been before now constructed of flimsy material, but nothing was ever flimsier than the material out of which a few republicans are trying to build a boom for Senator Foraker—the decision of the supreme court that the Foraker Porto Rico tariff act is constitutional. There is one unsurmountable obstacle to Foraker's getting the republican nomination for President—Hanna. Hanna wants that nomination himself, but even if he didn't he would not allow Foraker to get it. Although the exigencies of Ohio politics have made it necessary that the two men should be openly on friendly terms, it is an open secret that Hanna hates Foraker, and the republican machine will have to undergo radical changes before any man can get the party nomination for president against Hanna's wishes. He may not be able to get it himself—democrats are afraid to hope that they will be favored with so much good luck—but he will be able to defeat any other candidate and probably to name the man. So the Foraker boom may be recorded as having died a-borning.

Much interest is felt in Washington in the Tillman-McLaurin fight in South Carolina, which will demonstrate how much truth there is in the claim that republicanism under the disguise of McLaurinism is making headway in that state. The point has been raised, and many believe it valid, that the paper signed by Senators Tillman and McLaurin and sent to the Gov. of S. C. is nothing more than a notice of their intention to resign Sept. 15, and that either or both of them can if they see fit, for any reason, or for no reason, withdraw therefrom at any time before that date and remain in the senate. In other words, that the resignations, so-called, have strings attached to them which can be pulled without the hindrance of anybody if either or both senators desire to do so.

Although the general impression is that free trade with the Philippines until congress legislates otherwise naturally follows the Porto Rico tariff decision of the supreme court, Secretary Gage has ordered that duties under the Dingley tariff law shall continue to be collected upon imports from the Philippines.

Gen. Fred Grant seems ambitious to become the Admiral Sampson of the army. He reached Washington this week and brought a bit of news with him in the shape of a claim for credit for himself for the capture of Aguinaldo. He said: "It was my troops that captured Aguinaldo; they were under command of Gen. Funston." Surely one Sampson should be an ample sufficiency for both army and navy.

MISSOURIANS IN NEW YORK.

They Are Entertained by One of Mark Twain's Little Talks.

New York, May 28.—Old Missouri was well represented at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to-night at the inaugural dinner of the Missouri Society of New York. Sons of that state who are now residents of the metropolis and live within walking distance of each other greeted friends whom they have not met since they left their native soil.

Mr. Augustus Thomas acted as toastmaster of the ceremonies. He explained the purpose of the assemblage and declared that if Ohio, North Carolina and other states had any license to have a society in New York, there was no reason why Missouri should not have one. Missouri, he said, was the birthplace of the ginrickey, and that of itself was sufficient reason why they should have a society. He dwelt upon the virtues of the Missouri mule, without which no war could be successfully carried on, and said that while other states could boast of their canvasback ducks and other things, Missouri could brag of her mules.

Corwin H. Spencer, in the absence of former Governor D. R. Francis, responded to the toast, "St. Louis and the Louisiana Purchase Exposition."

Following Mr. Spencer, Mr. Thomas introduced Samuel M. Clemens (Mark Twain), who was greeted with enthusiastic cheers. Mr. Clemens lost no time in convulsing the house with laughter. He started off by giving Mr. Spencer a rub on the statistics he had just delivered himself of.

"I have been as much impressed as has the toastmaster by Mr. Spencer's speech, and confused also," said Mr. Clemens. "Statistics always have that effect as they rise higher and higher to the sky, and always in the same proportion they become more inexplicable."

"I was glad when I heard it stated that Missouri had turned out 2,500,000,000 mules. (Roars of laughter.) It's from Missouri, and it is expected that it is to be believed. When I was young and in Missouri I believed such things. It was a habit; I had it myself. But, now I have come to this grave part of the country, where the people rely largely upon truth, it is not expected that I would believe any such yarn."

"I don't know what this Louisiana Purchase is about, but if they have borrowed $25,000,000 and they propose to secure a like sum in some similar questionable manner for the purchase of Louisiana, I don't approve of it. You all know you can't buy Louisiana for any such sum as that."

"This glorifying of St. Louis is likely to have a bad effect upon you, because it is likely to raise your pride in your own state. But there is room for it between here and the zenith. You must keep these things in bounds."

"George Washington was a Missourian. He was that, not by accident of birth, but by his primacy in the achievement of liberty and other great things he did for his country. That made him a Missourian. Go back into history as you may. Caesar was a Missourian."

"They are all Missourians by right. Abraham Lincoln, Robert E. Lee, General Grant. They were all Missourians by right of their achievements. John Hay has by that right become a half-Missourian. He lived in the little town of Alexandria for a short time. He imbibed enough Mississippi water as a boy

Grand Old Men.

Some men seem to defy old age. They walk erect. Their eyes are bright. Their laugh is hearty. They are men of to-day—not men of yesterday. They are also men who have kept themselves in good physical condition in the past. As we grow older waste matter accumulates in the system. The body cannot throw it off without assistance. So, little by little, the machinery of the body is clogged, vitality is lowered, and enjoyment of life ceases. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cannot make old men young, but it does make them strong and healthy. By removing the waste accumulations, by increasing the blood supply, by strengthening the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, and thus increasing the assimilative and nutritive powers, the "Golden Medical Discovery" makes grand old men.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic. Do not accept a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good," because there is nothing with an equal record of help and healing.

"I Felt There Was No Hope For Me."

"I suffered six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. G. Popplewell, of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt there was no help for me, could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets.' I am now in good health for one of my age—60 years. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

to dilute any foreign strain that might be in his make-up.

"I, in my capacity as a lay preacher, say, live your lives in virtue that when you come to lay your lives down you shall not go down, down, down, but ascend—to Missouri."

A Strange Experience.

A traveling man who recently put up at an Idaho hotel announced to a group of story-tellers that he had met with a very strange experience:

"A bowl of oyster soup was brought me," he said, "and of course I crumbled some crackers into it, talking the mean while to a companion at my side."

"After a while, thinking that I had a sufficient quantity of crackers in my soup, I quit talking for the purpose of eating; but to my intense surprise there wasn't as much as a bit of cracker in my dish—it had all disappeared."

"I didn't know what to think. At last I took my spoon and made a hurried examination; and gentlemen, you may believe me or not, I discovered that by some accident an oyster had got into the soup and had devoured the crackers as fast as I had dropped them in."

KISSING FEATS IN EUROPE.

Carnival of Osculation In the Ancient Town of Hungerford.

The ancient town of Hungerford is the scene of a curious fete each year on the first Tuesday after Easter. Under a primeval and time-honored arrangement the authorities exact a toll from every male and female inhabitant within certain boundaries—the masculine tax being one penny per head and the feminine levy—a kiss! Two burly beardless carrying massive wands of office proceed from house to house levying these quaint taxes, and it is generally recognized that on the day in question any youth may with impunity embrace any maiden whom he encounters. The result is that a veritable carnival of osculation takes place yearly in Hungerford, and the business attracts various visitors to the quaint little town, many of whom participate, though not entitled to do so, in the delights of the day.

In various Hungarian villages kissing fetes are held from time to time, but a time limit is set for the bestowal of these amatory offerings, it being understood that promiscuous kissing is only to be indulged in between the hours of noon and 6 p. m. Lovers naturally flock in great crowds to these peculiar gatherings, being able, of course, to imprint salutes upon the lips of their finances to their heart's content.

At a large fete held in Russia some years ago an edict went forth that kissing might be indulged in providing every youth who contemplated such practices wore a green feather in his cap. This was to be done to enable any girl who might not welcome strange embraces to take to flight on the approach of the would-be-kissers. The fete attracted nearly 20,000 people, and was a huge success.—Tit Bits.

An American From Boer Army.

Captain Hassell, commander of the American scouts with the Boer army, who is just now visiting this country, is convinced that the cause of freedom will eventually triumph. He does not promise that a handful of Dutch farmers will vanquish the imperial army, but he expects them to wear out British patience. He says, "The war in South Africa has developed a condition that has no precedent in history, inasmuch as the defending army, numbering in all not more than 16,000 men, are subsisting almost entirely on the offensive army. The Boer is not fighting for medals or glory, but for the comfort which will come from freedom; therefore he does not attempt impossible tasks, but he fights when favorable conditions present themselves. The Boers are receiving recruits every day; in fact, faster than we are losing men, and the spirit of independence is, if anything, stronger today than at the outbreak of hostilities."

Is the Coalless Age in Sight.

Thomas A. Edison's new storage battery promises a revolution in motive power the full extent whereof it is too early to predict. The great reduction in its dead weight as compared with the present storage battery is its remarkable feature. Instead of requiring a weight of 186 pounds per horse-power hour, the new battery will only require 53.3 pounds. This seems to open the way for the application of electricity as a motor to all classes of vehicles, including the heaviest trucks. It seems to foreshadow also the substitution of electricity for steam-power on all railroads as well as on steamships.

The coal monopoly is distinctly threatened by the constantly enlarging employment of electric power. Prof. Francis B. Crocker's prophecy, made in 1896, that coal would be banished entirely by electricity within ten years, may yet come true. Not a pound of coal, according to that well-known electrical inventor, need be brought into New York, either to serve as fuel in factories for generating steam-power or in households for heating and cooking purposes. He went into minute calculation which appeared to demonstrate that the cost of an electric plant large enough to furnish all the light, heat and motive power of any great city would be less than present expenditures for coal. In general terms his plan was to generate electric power at a point ten miles or more from the city, transmit it through underground conduits to the city's limits, and thence distribute it through one or more main feeding stations to transformer sub-stations, where the pressure would be reduced to 250 volts for feeding motors of all kinds by the three-wire system.

HOTEL LIFE IN KLONDIKE.

The "Sour Dough" Hostelry Has Some Peculiar Rules.

Lew Harper, chief clerk of the Southern Hotel, is in receipt of a letter from Lawrence A. Davis, former key clerk at the Southern, dated Dawson, Yukon Territory. There is nothing remarkable about the letter, except the letter head of the hotel paper upon which it is written. The letter head reads:

Sour Dough Hotel, No. 1333 Icicle Avenue—Best House North of Mexico—First-Class in Every Particular.

Every known fluid, water excepted, sold at the bar.

Private entrance for ladies by ladder in the rear.

Rates: One ounce ($10) per day. Special rates to ministers and the gambling "perfesh."

On each side of the letter head are the house rules, as follows:

"Guests will be provided with breakfast and dinner, but must hustle their own lunch.

"Spiked boots must be removed at night.

"Dogs not allowed in the bunks.

"Candles and hot water charged extra.

"Towels changed weekly.

"Crap, chuckluck, studhorse poker and Black Jack games run by the management.

"Dogs bought and sold.

"Insect powder for sale at the bar."—St. Louis Republic.

A Matrimonial Repeater.

Herbert E. Earle, of Yonkers, married a certain young woman last January. He married her again on May 17, and announces that he shall shortly marry her for the third time—which never fails. A report, which he will neither confirm nor deny, says that he has in fact married his wife on two other occasions, once in New Rochelle and once in Paterson, N. J.

His remarkable reiteration of the wedding ceremony seems to show that marriage may become a habit, just as hard to break as the bicycle, the golf or the cocaine habit. A man may apparently become addicted to marrying his wife until it becomes a fixed delusion in his mind that once in so long he must take her to another minister and marry her some more. Unless Mr. Earle can overcome this tendency to encore his own wedding Mrs. Earle may a year hence be his twentieth wife—and all the other nineteen besides.

Evidently it has not occurred to him that there are any perils attending these repeated plunges into the married state. He has not thought of the possibility of having to defend twenty suits for divorce all brought by one woman, and of being ordered to pay her twenty alimonies. A woman with twenty marriage certificates in her possession might, for aught he knows, be entitled to twenty dowers from his estate. She would certainly be fraught with novel and knotty problems of law.

Men with a tendency to become matrimonial repeaters, so to speak, may well consider these things and be content with one marriage to one wife "until death do them part."—N. Y. World.

W. C. T. U. DEPARTMENT.

We have this week a letter from our president, Mrs. Platt, of West Washington, and her corresponding secretary, Mrs. Munn's:

"Mrs. Platt and I spent four weeks in Olympia and worked hard for the passage of reform bills, and I am happy to say all of them passed.

The bill to allow theatres that do not sell liquor to open on Sunday was defeated.

The bill to prohibit the sale of cigarettes to minors under 18 and to provide a penalty for all boys who use cigarettes, passed. This bill is not as strong as we wanted, but was the best we could get. If we see that it is enforced, we may be able to get a stronger one next time. We mothers want a bill forbidding their importation and sale, also manufacture in the state.

The bill that created the greatest excitement was the nickle-in-the-slot bill. It passed with very few votes opposed. All such machines are contraband after June 14. There is to be a fight now to have the law declared unconstitutional.

We also secured an appropriation of $50 per month for the White Shield Home in Tacoma. The mercy bill was amended so that trap shooting is not prohibited; for which we are very sorry, but the bill on the whole is better and stronger than the old mercy bill. We met with the most courteous treatment and help in our work at all times."

M. C. MUNN.

We all need to work hard to get strong, true men in the legislature. Men who are true to principle and right, and have the well being of the human race at heart. It does seem that with the abundance of reform measures that have been brought forward, together with the excellent bills that have become laws, and the constant outpouring of the wealth so freely given for good works; that this old world lying in sin and sorrow so long ought to raise its voice in a pean of rejoicing, that we are blessed in basket and in store. The outlook is grand and cheering.

Hon. W. L. Jones will deliver the address at the commencement exercises of the Ellensburg Normal school, June 12.

Marshal Dilley and Alex Starrett on Wednesday morning took four "whiskypeddlers" to Seattle for trial before the U. S. court.

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist church will give a rummage sale in the near future, and any donations will be thankfully received. Lunch will be served through the sale.

I. Marchildon was sworn in as policeman last Wednesday, to take the place of Policeman Starrett, who is a witness in the cases of parties selling whisky to Indians in the U. S. court at Seattle.

The hail storm here on Tuesday changed the temperature to such an extent that the people would not yet be fully recovered if the report of a four-inch snow at Ellensburg had not followed almost immediately.

A number of people were entertained at a farewell party last Saturday evening at Mrs. Alice M. Williamson's home, which was given by Mrs. Williamson and Miss Mattie Thomas in honor of the departure of Mr. Thomas and Dr. Updyke.

Notes From the Prosser Record.

Miss Laura Carter is visiting her friends Mr. and Mrs. Collins at North Yakima, this week.

J. Pascius, of North Yakima, came down Thursday to help out the boys on Memorial Day. Mr. Pascius plays the clarinet, and his assistance was greatly appreciated by the boys.

E. C. Burlingame was in town last Saturday. He had been looking over the extension of the Sunnyside Canal, with a view to putting in a bid on the work in the near future.

We noticed ten Bickleton teams of our streets last Saturday morning, that brought in wheat for the Prosser mills. The farmers are cleaning out their bins to make room for the bounteous crop of 1901.

Prof. Kingsbury was in town several days this week. While waiting for the school term to open, he is putting in his time working in insurance. The Prof. expects to teach on the Sound the coming school term.

About 75 homesteaders have located permanently in the Rattlesnake country this spring. Nearly all the desirable lands in townships 10-25 and 11-25 have been taken up. In conversation with the register of the Land Office, he said that lands in that neighborhood were in great demand, and that all the high lands where suitable were being filed upon.

Sunday was very warm, Monday continued warm and sultry, and Monday evening we were visited by a genuine Mississippi Valley thunder shower, which lasted nearly all night. Many of the Washington young folks grown nearly to manhood and womanhood had never witnessed anything so startling. While there was no damage done, the thunder and lightning will be remembered by them for many a day.

Took Him at His Word.

"Men on newspapers often have peculiar experiences," said W. A. Fairchild of Chicago, "and such a one befell a friend of mine some time ago. The friend in question was city editor of a great daily, and in the course of his manifold duties it fell to his lot to take to task one of his reporters. The reporter in question was an Englishman, slow of thought and action and miserly of speech. Through the tirade to which he was subjected he said nothing, and when it finally ended he left the presence of his superior without any comment.

"But, as the result proved, he did some tall thinking. City editors when 'riled,' as is well known, are not particularly choice or economical in the language they bestow on their unfortunate reporters, and among other things the Englishman had been told that he was no better than—in fact, was—a crazy man and that his proper habitat was a lunatic asylum and not the hall bedroom of a Chicago boarding house which he occupied.

"The Englishman took this part of the city editor's remarks as his text and acted upon them. He promptly went to an asylum, had himself thoroughly examined by three or four alienists and secured from them an official certificate to the fact that he was sane. With this he appeared at the office of his paper the next day, and, entering the editor's sanctum, he slapped it down before his astonished and dismayed superior. 'Now, you go and get one,' was his only comment and for once that city editor capitulated."—New York Tribune.

Bunkoed.

"His name was Alexander, and his weakness was the horses," said the reporter. "Surprising as it may appear, he won sometimes and enjoyed a brief nodding acquaintance with fortune. When the bookmakers got it back again, he took to drink and in the end went about trying to pick out a good place in which to kill himself.

"He bought a drink in a cheap hotel, and the quality of the liquor led him to believe he had found the place. He wished to do no man injury, but any one who sold that sort deserved to find a dead man on the premises. He hired a room, small, bleak, well calculated to make a man willing to blow out the gas, even if he had an aversion to it, which Alexander had not.

"He plugged the apertures, closed the transom, hung his coat over the keyhole, turned out the gas and lay down. Then he lighted it again and wrote a few foolish letters of farewell, so hard is it for even a tired mortal to quit with no word. Then he put out the light, saw that the gas was flowing freely and lay down.

"He noticed that it was ten minutes to 1 o'clock in the morning. He fell asleep, certain it was all over. (Oblivion.)

"He woke. The sun was streaming in. It was high noon. Yes; he was alive. He could not understand it. There was no gas in the room, yet it was still turned on. He finally discovered that in hotels of that sort they turn the gas off at 1 a. m. 'Bunkoed!' he said and went cheerily on his way."—New York Sun.

A Joke That Failed.

Professor Rogers and Dr. Dale were once lecturing in England, and at every town which they visited Dr. Dale noticed that his colleague, who always spoke first, made the same speech. In fact, so often did the professor give that speech that the worthy doctor knew it off by heart, and this fact led the latter to think of a way of taking the wind out of his friend's sails.

On their arrival at a town in south Lancashire Dr. Dale asked Dr. Rogers

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

The Commercial club will today entertain J. W. Clise, L. P. Westen, A. J. Blethen and A. J. Collins, of Seattle, Thos Cooper, of Tacoma, and F. W. Gilbert of Spokane. At the invitation of the club, the gentlemen come to Yakima to participate in the formal opening of the Moxee-Selah Canal, and incidentally to look over this section. These gentlemen represent various business interests, and their visit here will doubtless be of great benefit to Yakima. A number of other prominent persons invited to participate in the ceremonies may be here also, but the committee having the matter in charge could only vouch for the attendance of those named. This afternoon the party will be driven over the Moxee and different valleys, and tonight will be entertained at a banquet.

A horseback rider ran into the roadcart of Harry Griffin on South First street Thursday and a serious mix up occurred. Mr. Griffin was exercising his race horse, Chester Abbott, when a horse ridden by a man named Maginnis ran into the cart, overturning it and throwing both Mr. Griffin and his horse upon the street. The horse was down several times before he could be controlled, and the cart was wrecked, but Mr. Griffin fortunately escaped injury.

The State Fair commissioners are in jubilant spirits over the unprecedented interest manifested from abroad in the coming fair. The special 2:20 and 2:30 class races, as will be seen in another column, already have nearly twenty entries apiece, and encouraging words come from numerous sections asking for space for exhibits of all kinds, as well as premiums offered by various firms for special displays. Altogether the prospects are of the brightest for a big fair this fall.

The election of officers of the K. P. lodge on Wednesday evening resulted as follows: E. Hamilton, C. C.; John Curry, V. C.; B. F. Kumber, prelate; F. Jordan, M. W.; F. A. Curry, M. A.; A. L. Aikens, I. G.; C. T. Dulin, O. G.

to allow him to speak first, an arrangement to which the latter readily agreed, so Dr. Dale rose and proceeded to deliver the speech of Dr. Rogers, looking every now and then out of the corner of his eye to see how that worthy gentleman was taking this practical joke. Dr. Rogers sat calm and composed, and when at length his turn came to speak he just as calmly rose and delivered, to Dr. Dale's utter astonishment, quite a new speech.

At the conclusion of the meeting Dr. Dale said to his colleague:

"I thought I had taken the wind out of your sails tonight."

Dr. Rogers replied: "Oh, no. I delivered that speech when I was here a month ago."

The Cannon and Science.

The president of the French Academy of Sciences remarked in a recent address that the cannon is one of the most instructive laboratories that science possesses. It was the modern cannon, he said, which suggested the application of explosive gases to the driving of engines. The experience of the immense pressures obtained in cannon also led to the use of pressures in steam machines which a few years ago would have been regarded as impracticable. Thus experiments intended primarily for the purposes of war had resulted in the advance of the triumphs of peace.

PARADE 10 A. M.

ON Saturday, June 21, Campbell Bros. steam Caliope plays ahead of the big parade that takes place at 10 a. m. followed by THREE big brass bands, a drum corps and a half mile line of elegantly designed wagons and cages of wild animals rarely exhibited. Champion bareback riders, Japanese family, acrobats, contortionists, trapeze performers, high leapers, bicycle riders, and 1: funny clowns of every nationality take part in the parade, making it particularly interesting for everybody.

A Free Exhibition.

Great High Drive at Show Grounds Immediately After the Parade.

The Big Show Program is particularly interesting throughout the entire performance. Such people as Mr. Rooney and Lowande, World champion bareback riders appear in their many difficult feats. The Rydon & Nelson family, horizontal bars, casting and return act; gymnastic and acrobats by the Crandon troupe; and Mr. Frank Smith, first among all head dancers. These are but few of the many performers with the big show of National reputation.

Menagerie, museum and an exhibition of trained animals. Positively and emphatically the only all-feature show for the season. Modest in its promises, honest in its announcements, lavish in its performances, presenting at all times twice as much as advertised, producing performances that cannot be duplicated by any other show, no matter how great.

Trained elephants, ponies, dogs, monkeys, and positively the highest jumping pony on earth.

Base Ball Organization

At a meeting held last Tuesday evening to formulate a base ball organization, Tom Lund was elected president, Fred Chandler secretary and treasurer, and Fred Alder, manager.

Arrangements were perfected to enclose the grounds on Capitol hill with an eight-foot board fence and to increase the grand stand by at least double the present capacity. The grounds at present laid out have an area of 300x400 feet, which is considered ample for the purpose.

The team as at present made up consists of Kohls, Berens, Morrison, Hinkling, Stacy, Armstrong, Watt and Gratton, with a pitcher to be supplied.

A number of business men have combined in a guarantee that the necessary bills to start the proposition shall be paid, and it is proposed to have a team that will compete with Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, Spokane and other cities.

Work on the grounds and enclosure is now being prosecuted, a lease of two years having been agreed upon by the owners of the ground and the base ball association.

Holst By His Own Petard.

Stanislaus is a Yakima brave. He is also in jail on his way via Seattle to McNeill's island. Stanislaus was anxious to see the sights of the Queen City, so he made a case against one Lamont, who claims relationship to the great railroad magnate, and the other charge was against a young fellow with the dime novel cognomen of Darrell Diamond and another white man.

It appeared on the trial before Commissioner Howlett that these white men had sold liquor to the Indian, but it also came out that Stanislaus had contrary to law, given part of the whiskey to another ward of Uncle Sam, commonly called "One-Eyed John." Thereupon the city marshal preferred a counter charge against Stanislaus, who, with the white men and Ed Martin, colored, were taken by Deputy Marshal Dilley and Officer Starrett to the federal court at Seattle last Wednesday morning. Quite a scene occurred at the depot on the departure of the prisoners. A man claiming to have been connected with the Seattle police force roundly abused the officers for taking the prisoners, and the city marshal was called upon to take the man to jail, just as the train pulled out for the west.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

On Tuesday a marriage license was issued to Frank Eastland and Miss Lena Stanvold, both of Prosser.

Frank Jackson has purchased Wash Jewell's interest in the Jewell & Jackson cigar store. Mr. Jewell will go to farming near the state fair grounds.

Robt. Links and family have returned to their Selah farm, and work will be started again in a few days to finish the artesian well boring begun last summer.

Edward Timbrook, having disposed of his ranch on the Columbia to Thos. Smith, has purchased property in Parker Bottom, where he will make his future home.

The ball given at the armory last Friday night by the military company was not as great a success financially as had been hoped for, but from a social standpoint it was a most enjoyable affair.

Last Monday Judge Taggard tied the nuptial knot uniting Archie Miller and Miss Thora Jenson. After receiving the congratulations of many friends, the young couple departed for their future home near Toppenish.

Married, in North Yakima, Wednesday, June 5, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. Crockett, Fred S. Shaw and Miss Maude Palmer. The DEMOCRAT will "dream" upon a quantity of the wedding cake, and extends warmest congratulations to the happy young couple.

The horse against bicycle was a pretty race at the fair grounds last Sunday morning. Chester Barrett undertook over a wager of $50 to beat Fred Brooker's horse Senator for half a mile. Quite a crowd was present, and some little money changed hands on the result. The horse beat the bicyclist by thirty feet.

You can usually get a bargain in a horse, second-hand buggy or wagon at E. J. Wyman's. 38-tf.
