A camp meeting, under the auspices of the M.E. church will be held at the Stevens' grove on the Cowychee beginning Thursday, June 5th and extending through Sunday--Herald, May 22, 1890.

Congregational

Ahtanum

Yakima has secured another educational institution in the college of the Congregational association which will be located in the neighborhood of the Ahtanum church.

Three thousand dollars and forty acres of land have been pledged the association and it is believed that this donation will be still further increased.

Rev. Mr. Ceadle who has been largely instrumental in bringing the college here informs the Herald that trustees will shortly be selected and the association incorporated. The main college building will not be put up until next year, but dormitories will be built this year and a temporary structure used for recitation rooms, so that a beginning can be made this fall. The course will embrace those studies necessary to prepare pupils to become teachers or enter the higher colleges-- Yakima Herald, May 22, 1890.

Congregational:

There was a meeting of the friends of the Ahtanum Congregational college at the office of Mayor R.K. Nichols on Tuesday when articles of incorporation were adopted and the following trustees adopted:

F.B. Woodcock, R.K. Nichols, J.H. Thomas, D.W. Stair, Daniel Nelson, John Cowen, Rev. Frank McConaughy, Rev. S.H. Cheadle and Rev. S. Green of Seattle.

The incorporation papers have been forwarded to the auditor of state and on Wednesday, July 9, the trustees will meet and prepare advertisements for building proposals. The college buildings will be located on 60 acres of land near the Ahtanum church which was donated by F.B. Woodcock--Yakima Herald, June 19, 1890.

Baptists

The Baptists, to the number of a dozen, met in the Central school on Sunday last and organized the First Baptist church association.

They will hold services at the school house until they get numerically and financially strong enough to build a church-Yakima Herald ,July 7, 1890

Methodist

The new Methodist Episcopal church in North Yakima will be dedicated next Sunday, Oct. 19th by the Rev. Dr. Stratton, chancellor of the Willamette University, Salem, Oregon.

Dr. Stratton will preach in the morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30--Yakima Herald, October 16, 1890.

The dedication services of the new Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday last was a marked event in the church annals of this section.

The trustees, consisting of Captain J.H. Thomas, Dr. David Rosser, Thomas Kelley, R.C. Morgan, R.K. Nichols, George W. Jones and W.S. Stevens have labored earnestly and untiringly for the success of their undertaking and on Sunday they turned over the church completed, furnished and free from debt.

Dr. Staratto, chancellor of the Willamette University of Salem had been prevailed upon to come here for the occasion and his learned discourses were listened to with wrapt attention at both morning and evening services by a congregation that filled the large auditorium to its fullest extent.

The church is a large and handsome structure of gothic architecture and calculated to have a seating capacity of three hundred. Its cost complete would be upwards of $4,500 in addition to which the carpets come to $260; the new pipe organ $250 and the pulpit chairs $60.

The handsome and substantial benches were in the contract for the building of the church and furnished by A.F. Switzer.

Although the church is temporarily illuminated by lamps, the electric lights are in and will be used as soon as the power is furnished.

In the raising of the funds to meet all of these demands, the ladies of the M.F. society have been very active and to them much

Presbyterian

Owing to the joint discussion at the opera house, only a small congregation gathered at the Presbyterian church on last Thursday night in attendance upon the installation services of the Rev.

W. H. Cornett.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Kenneth Duncan of Ellensburg, who has been located there but three weeks, being lately from Chicago, Ill. Rev. Dr. Gunn of Walla Walla, synodical missionary, gave the charge to the pastor and that was the most impressive part of the ceremony.

Rev. Prof. Bingham of the Ellensburg academy gave the charge of the church and the formal relationship of the pastor and the people was established.

The church building is undergoing quite extensive repairs and will soon in a week or two be remodeled. It speaks very well for a young man accepting a new charge, that after his stay in a place but three months it becomes necessary to add to the seating capacity of the edifice--Yakima Herald, October 23, 1890.

Work has commenced on the Congegational academy located on the 120 acres of land near the Ahtanum church, which was donated for this purpose by Fenn B. Woodcock.

The trustees have decided to begin the work in a modest way and only carry out such portions of the original plans as are required by circumstances..

The pastor of the Congregational church, Rev. S.H. Cheadle, will leave with his family for the Sound next week to spend two or three weeks, visiting friends.

In his absence the Sunday School will be kept up in the church, but there will be <sup>no</sup> a preaching service.-Yakima Herald, July 16 , 1891.

Baptists

The Baptists of this city have purchased two lots on Fourth street, in the rear of the Christian church, and will at once begin the construction of a church building.

The structure will be architecturally attractive and its estimated cost is $2,000. The Baptist society had but ten members a few months ago but it now numbers 17 and the recent location here of several families of this persuasion will increase the membership to twenty-four.

The engagement of Rev. Davis at Ellensburg will expire at the close of this month and he will then move to Yakima to take charge of the congregation here---Yakima Herald, October 29, 1891.

The Presbyterian Sunday school indulged in a picnic at Olmstead's ferry on Thursday last. Mrs. Phil Stanton furnished the ice cream. Stanton contributed to the pleasure of the occasion by giving the freedom of his new hack to the little ones.

The ladies of St Michael's Episcopal church are making great preparations for an entertainment to be given in the Lewis-Engle building on the 9th and 10th of December.

It is to be known as the Rainbow Fair and many pleasant surprises are in store for those who attend.

There will be stacks and stacks of the latest novelties in fancy goods and the very nicest articles suitable for Christmas presents for the old as well as the young and as for the latter there will be dolls that will make the little one's hearts flutter with joy.

They were bought in the east especially for this occasion and are being dressed in raiment that would make Solomon green with envy--Yakima Herald, November 19, 1891.

Congregational

The Congregationalists have concluded that their church is too far away from the center of population and have fitted up the storeroom in the Cadwell building where services will be held during the winter--Yakima Herald, November 26, 1891.

After three years of effort to sustain congregations in their church building on the west side of the track, the Congregationalists have decided to occupy the large storeroom in the Cadwell block opposite The Herald office for the winter.

Services will be held morning and evening, beginning with Sunday school at 10 a.m.

The subjects announced for Sunday evenings of December are: "The Natural Evidences of the Immortality of the Soul," "Christ's Philosophy of Life," "The Creation," "Being and Personality of the Deity."

The room will be made cozy and attractive and the people made welcome. The move will be made next week--Yakima Herald, November 26, 1891.

On Sunday, Jan. 3, the final ordination services of the Rev. Rufus S. Chase in Washington will be held in the Episcopal church.

The bishop of the diocese, the Right Rev. John A. Paddock, and Rev. Memuel H. Wells of Tacoma, will conduct the services. Morning prayer at half past ten and rites of ordination at 11 o'clock--
Yakima Herald, December 31, 1891.

Now that the chancel of the Episcopal church is completed it is without question one of the prettiest churches in Washington and Rev. Lemuel Wells expressed himself the other day to the effect that it had no equal in--(rest mutilated) January 7, 1892.

There will be a meeting of the girls' guild of the Episcopal church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the office of Crippen, Lawrence & Co. in the Syndicate block. A full attendance of the members is greatly desired--Yakima Herald, January 14, 1892.

The attendance at the Episcopal church Sunday, Jan. 3 was larger than usual, the attraction being the ordination of Rev. Rufus Chase and the administration of communion by Bishop Paddock.

The services were very impressive and the address by Rev. Lemuel Wells of Tacoma on the duties of the pastor was of an advanced nature and especially sound and entertaining--
Yakima Herald, January 14, 1892.
