

THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT

A Vote For C. E. LUM, for Mayor, is a Vote for Decency and an Honest City Government

VOL. 17.

NORTH YAKIMA, WASHINGTON, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1909

No. 12

C. E. LUM.

C. E. Lum, candidate for mayor, is an old resident of Yakima, having first come to North Yakima at its birth 25 years ago. He is a broad minded business man, heavily interested in city property. He is a man of intelligence, integrity and sincerity; a man who has but one policy, a square deal to all, friend or foe. A man capable of presiding at public meetings and expressing himself fluently and intelligently before public gatherings, and, above all, is a man of good common sense.

Mr. Lum is so financially situated that he does not look toward the office of mayor from the standpoint of monetary gain, and his business affairs are in such a state that he has plenty of time to give to the duties that the office of mayor would entail.

It is for these reasons the business men of the city have selected Mr. Lum as their candidate and prevailed upon him to run on their platform. His platform is one that appeals to every citizen. "An economical administration of civic affairs, with special privileges to none, but a square deal to all."

LOCAL OPTION IN ROCKFORD, ILL.

Charles W. Ferguson, former corporation counsel of Rockford, Ill., is the leading democrat of northern Illinois, and has been conspicuous in state and national politics. The following letter from him relative to conditions in Rockford under local option is one of the most complete statements made in North Yakima of conditions under an anti-saloon regime:

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 24, 1909.
Mr. W. E. Zuppman,
North Yakima, Wash.

My Dear Sir:—
I have your inquiry of recent date, and I take this means of replying because there is not room on the card to say what I think should be said in relation to local option. Taking up the question in serial form, I would say:

First: That the town of Rockford, which embraces the country township as well as the city, voted local option on the 7th of April, 1908, and the law went into effect on the 7th day of May, 1908.

Second: As to the present population of the city I have no doubt but that the present census will show we have a population of at least 45,000. The city has a steady, healthy growth for the past ten years, and I do not see any indication of a change since the adoption of the anti-saloon measure; in fact I know that the growth of the city has remained steady since that time, which would mean an increase of population.

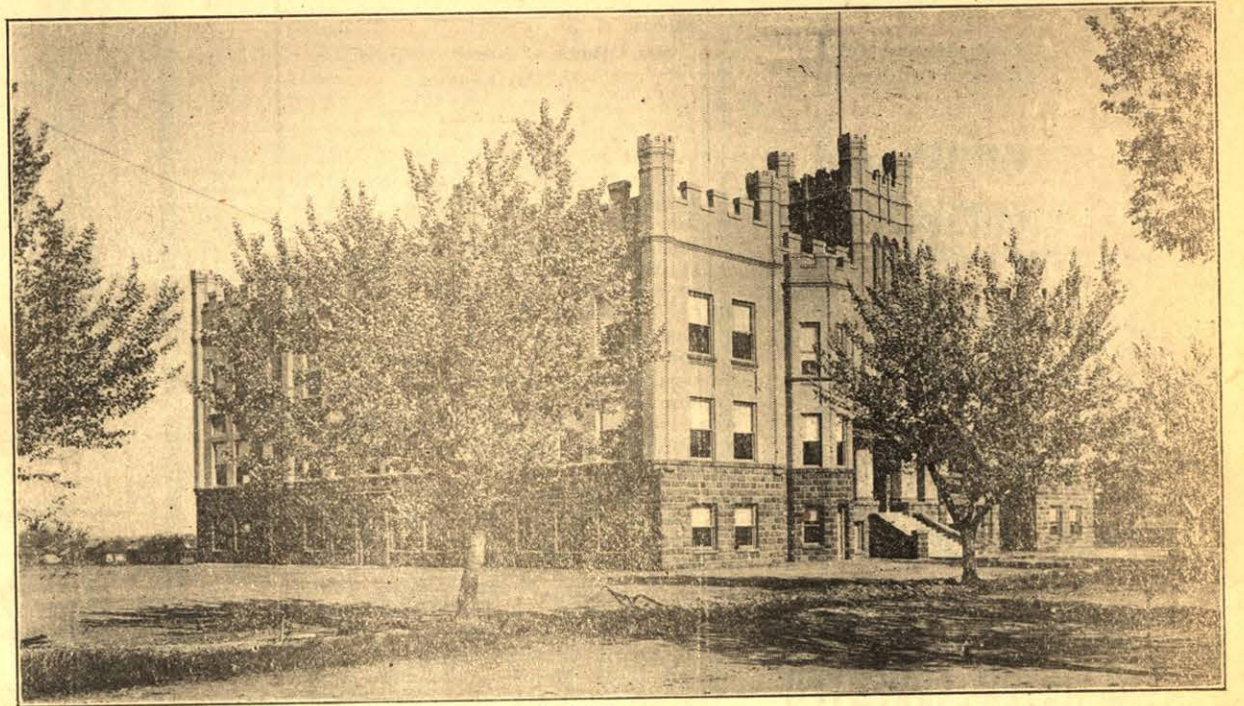

Third: Business conditions have been good; most of the factories are running over time. I believe from what I can learn that the retail business men have met with improved conditions under local option, due to the fact that many families have had more money to spend under present conditions and a large amount of money which was heretofore spent in saloons has been used by the family in better clothing, better living, and in the payment of bills which would not have been paid under old conditions. I am led to this conclusion from the statements of certain retail merchants who tell me that they notice these improved conditions in their trade. Another thing which is an indication that local option has improved the conditions of certain families, is the fact that the annual rummage sale conducted by the Y. W. C. A. has not been the success that it has in former years. You know when you lived here it was customary for these people to hold an annual rummage sale, and I am told by the managers that the past sale did not net any considerable amount of money, for the reason that the people who were usually ready to buy anything in the way of cast-off clothing at this sale refused to buy unless they could get a good article; that they seemed to have money and were in shape financially to buy new goods. These sales of course are patronized by the class of people that is hardest hit by the saloons.

The growth in building has been steady; there have been a large number of private homes and some business blocks built during the present year. Bank deposits have increased, and this is particularly true of the savings banks. The poor master of the town tells me that this fall calls upon him for assistance are very limited, and that his personal observation as overseer of the poor is that the families who usually called upon him for assistance were those of course, the head of which spent a large portion of his earnings for drink; that he knows of a large number of families where the father has quit drinking since local option went into effect almost if not entirely, and these people are not in need of and are not asking assistance from the county. I believe on the whole that the city is more prosperous under the present conditions than when we had the open saloons.

Fourth: The assessed valuation of course has increased from year to year, but I am not prepared to say that this increase is due to the weeding out of the saloons. There has been an increase in the assessment every year for several years, some time running as high as a million dollars.

Fifth: Many business men who were opposed to the adoption of local option are today supporting this policy, and say that if it is submitted again next spring they will advocate the continuance of the present conditions; this is particularly true of manufacturers and retail merchants. Some manufacturers tell me that they see a great difference in their men; that men who were accustomed to be absent from their work a day or two following pay-day are now around the morning after pay-day ready for work; their men are steadier and give better service. Arrests have fallen off in the city for drunkenness over 50 per cent, and arrests for wife-beating have almost ceased. It is a rare thing now to have a man in police court charged with wife-beating. Of course this occasionally happens, but where such matters would come before the police court three or four times a week, there are now three or four weeks at a time when no arrests are made for that cause; much of the time the city jail is empty. The 15th of the present month was the largest pay-day that the city of Rockford ever saw; more money was put out by the factories, and yet I am told by the chief of police that not a single arrest was made for drunkenness. In fact there was not an arrest for any cause. He stated to me further that in the old days, under the conditions, on a large pay-day there would have been ten or a dozen arrests for fighting, and perhaps as many more for drunkenness.

Our chief of police, whom you know very well, tells me that he opposed the adoption of this law, and I know that to be a fact. He now says that if the matter is submitted again next spring he will be an advocate for the continuance of present conditions. I do not personally know of a single individual who voted for the adoption of our local option law who will vote to go back to the old conditions, and I do know of a number who were opposed to its adoption who are now advocating for its continuance. Of course there are some vacant stores which were formerly occupied by saloons, but those are places owned by breweries and cannot be rented for any other purpose. Every place formerly occupied by a saloon and owned by an independent landlord or private individual is occupied with other places of business, such as dry goods, clothing, meat shops, etc. I think every vacant place could be filled with a tenant in 60 days providing the owners would consent to renting for anything but saloon purposes and on a lease of any considerable length. You know it has always been said that a saloon would pay a higher rental than any other business. You remember the Tim Tracey place; Tracey went out of business absolutely on the adoption of the local option law. He had a long time lease which has something over ten years yet to run at $85 per month. He immediately rented the place to Tom Mannix for a meat shop at $125 per month, and has notified Mannix if he wished to stay he must pay $150. I think what is true of the Tracey place is true of most others. Of course it is not true of all of them because some of them are not desirable buildings or in desirable locations.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

PUBLIC SCHOOL ELECTION TODAY

There has been more excitement over the school election to be held today in North Yakima than ever before in the history of the city, due to the virulent attacks upon the Superintendent by the editor of the Republic. Much has been said and done that is a disgrace to an intelligent community. The controversy has been undignified; the vicious attacks of the papers unworthy of this city.

The Democrat has taken no part in this controversy. It has believed it to be hurtful to the schools and to be political in its intent. We have made a personal investigation of the situation quietly through the week and we feel it our duty, dispassionately, to place the facts before the public that they may act intelligently and not be governed by newspaper abuse.

The Efficiency of the Schools.
The efficiency of the public schools has been one point of attack. Are our schools efficient or not? Who are the best judges? The editor of this paper believes that the editor of the Republic is not a good judge; he has not been a visitor of the schools so far as we can learn, and we think also that he is unfitted because of his personal bias to do the schools justice. We have made our inquiries, therefore, elsewhere. The buildings and equipment are a credit to the city, and for that the Republic is not responsible as he has consistently "knocked" every move to make them so.

A member of the board, on being asked, said: "The schools are as efficient as any in the state of Washington, not excluding the cities of Spokane, Tacoma and Seattle. They are modern, up-to-date, progressive. They have a high standing everywhere in the state. We are proud of them. They have increased in efficiency a thousand fold since Prof. Reed took charge of them." This opinion was verified by other members of the board, and we assume that they are better judges than any outsider could possibly be.

The opinion of principals and teachers was then sought. One said: "I can say without hesitation that I have found the schools in very good condition, and up to grade, and in fine working order." Mr. Reed is sympathetic with his teachers, kind and helpful, but at all times and in all things has the interest of the schools been uppermost in mind. I sincerely believe he is doing as much if not more than is ordinarily accomplished in any school. He is as progressive and up-to-date as any with whom I have worked."

Another said: "The schools have maintained a standard of high excellence and there is a good spirit among the teachers in spite of adverse criticism and I believe these conditions have been brought about by the untiring efforts and the intelligent zeal of Prof. Reed." Still another, a principal of twenty years' experience, said: "The schools of North Yakima rank with the best in the west, and I consider that their prosperity is very largely due to the guiding hand of Supt. Reed." Other principals and teachers expressed themselves in like manner. There was no exception. Every teacher questioned had the same to say. In the face of such statements, how insincere is the attitude of the Republic!

The Deputy State Superintendent was in the city during the week, and expressed himself as follows: "The schools of North Yakima have a high standard all over the state such as they never had before; Supt. Reed's work is excellent." The Inspector of Schools writes: "The High School is fully accredited and from the character of the work I saw in the freshman classes I conclude that the work below the high school must be good also, and that your entire school system is efficient and in good working order."

These statements it seems would be conclusive to any fair-minded person. The attack on the schools is without cause, and if anything else were needed as proof, the fact that the schools of the city received a gold medal for its exhibit at the A. Y. P. exposition, outranking the cities of Spokane and Bellingham, would furnish additional proof.

Object of the Attack.

What is the meaning then of the attack upon the schools and upon the superintendent at the present time? One prominent citizen said: "Robertson has attacked the schools for the past ten years, especially since Mrs. Stair was dropped as principal of the high school. He attacked Sellick as virulently as he does Reed." This same citizen said: "I was in the school when the editor's wife attempted to dictate how he should manage the schools. If he had permitted her to boss him he would probably have been all right." Another suggested: "He doesn't bring enough grit to the Robertson mill." It was noticed that as the Republic did not get the printing of the High School Annual last spring an attack on the superintendent naturally followed. And as the Democrat secured the bid for printing the "Course of Study" this fall, another attack, the present one, was inevitable.

The Political Deal.
A political deal in the matter has evidently been consummated between Ambrose and Robertson. For five years the Republic fought Ambrose and painted him blacker than "Old Nick." No one will concede that Ambrose is any whiter now than when Robertson could see no good in him, yet they are as loving as two turtle doves, and Ambrose, in return for Robertson's support in the mayoralty campaign, is supporting his old enemy for the position of school director. Does this indicate any good for our schools? We think not.

The Local Option Campaign.
The local option fight enters this question also. The leaders of the saloon men—we have it on good authority—have decided to support Robertson not because they have any special love for him but because they need the support of the Republic in the campaign! Will the citizens of North Yakima stand for this? We hope not. In fine, we conclude that Robertson's only fitness for the office of school director is a political fitness. He wants the office not for the good of the schools, but for personal revenge. He should be turned down. Conservative business men should be elected. Men with open minds, men who have not been "knocked" but "boosted."

The Much Discussed Contract.
A member of the board was asked about this matter of Mr. Reed's reelection. Mr. Reed's statement was true. The meeting was called legally, and Mr. Reed objected to its being at his home. He also objected to a raise in salary, saying that if a raise were possible, it should go to the teachers. Mr. Reed thanked the board and took the matter under advisement. It was the understanding of all that the matter was not final but would be reopened.

What are frills and furbelows? Robertson has always attacked the business department of the high school, manual training, domestic science, the practical subjects that help our boys and girls. Shall we cut out these subjects and do away with the equipment? Surely not!

Election Trick.
Mr. Robertson's anxiety is evident. He and the plaintiff evidently fixed things up together. The papers were filed at the court house at 4:30 p. m. Thursday, before that hour the Republic was issued with its long screed. Explain this. Put really it is not necessary to explain. It explains itself.

at New Store.

The Phillips-Gallant Store Co. has moved their store from Third street to 28 Chestnut street, in the Tieton Hotel building, and now have one of the finest places in the city. They have added a large line of new goods to their stock and will be able to care for their many customers better than ever.

They have an especially fine line of holiday goods, as well as general goods, and those who have never been in their new store should take the first opportunity to visit them and look over their fine stock; or if you are too busy to visit the store, call main 458 and your order will be taken and promptly delivered.

A REAL SERMON.

(By Walt Mason.)

There was a funeral the other day in a town within a few hours' journey of Lincoln. A pine box was hustled out of a squalid shanty, packed out to the graveyard without ceremony and dumped into a grave. The earth was thrown in, the grave digger went away and there was the epitaph of another human life.

The box contained the unadorned remains of a poor, faded woman, over whose dead face there were none to mourn, whose tangled hair there were no fingers to smooth, whose slumbering eyes had closed on a world that was all coldness, all blackness and despair. What's the use in telling the story? It has been told you before.

Would you believe it that her hollow cheeks were but a few years ago radiant with the bloom of health? Would you believe it that the matted gray hair was like a mist of gold floating in perfumed air? Would you believe it that men cringed for a smile from those dead pallid lips? It is hard to believe it and yet it is all true. And when the bloom was gone, where were they? Perhaps she wondered that while she starved and worked and suffered; perhaps she thought it was hard that even her brothers left her alone to die alone and that her father closed the door against her.

But it's all over now and the winds can shriek and the clouds gather and her deaf ears end slumbering eyes see not nor hear.

And what is this procession coming toward us so gaily? Who are they with hopeful faces and outstretched arms? They are Prodigal Sons, coming home from the wallows where they chewed the husks and groveled with the hogs. They are coming home after years of revelry and wickedness, coming with bearded eyes and trembling limbs, to eat the fatted calf and drink the ruby wine. There will be joy at their homes tonight—joy and thanksgiving that the wanderers have returned and that the lost are found. Anthems will be sung by glad voices; and if the souls of the dead ever revivify this world, perhaps the soul of the dead woman in the pine box will hear these anthems as they float in the night and will shudder.

DAVID RANKIN.

David Rankin, candidate for city attorney on the republican ticket, was born in Dubuque county, Iowa. He is a graduate of Epworth seminary and also took the four years' course in Cornell college, graduating therefrom with the degree of bachelor of arts; later he took the law course in Harvard university.

While in school Mr. Rankin took a leading part in all the various phases of college and university life, being the leader of several debating teams, the editor-in-chief of his school paper and also its business manager. His special training in the law has prepared him to do any kind of legal work connected with city administration.

Mr. Rankin stands for a clean city government, a strict enforcement of all laws, and for the protection of all lawful business interests, and if elected to office will prosecute without fear or favor all violators of the law that it is his duty to prosecute.

MINISTER ARRESTED FOR BEATING WIFE

Franklin Pierce Jolly, on Return
From Lecture Tour Is Sued for Divorce.

JOLIET, Ill., Dec. 1.—For alleged assault and cruel treatment of his wife, Rev. Franklin Jolly, organizer of the First Congregational church of this city, and a lyceum lecturer, is under arrest here today and Mrs. Jolly has begun suit for divorce. Jolly was for years one of the most prominent clergymen in Joliet, but for the past two years has been on a tour of the United States, speaking under the auspices of various church and charitable organizations.

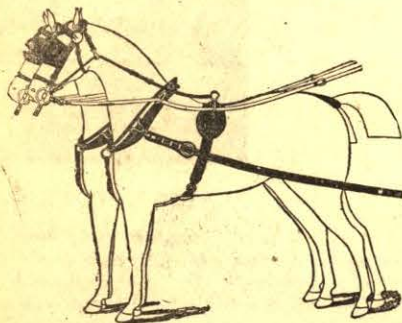

He returned to his home in this city Saturday night from a western lecture tour, and Mrs. Jolly alleges that he beat her cruelly. The police were called and the minister was taken to jail. He is out on bail today.

On the lecture platform Rev. Mr. Jolly was known as "Jolly of Joliet." He spoke in North Yakima a few weeks ago under the auspices of a local society.

PECULIAR TUSKS OF OLD ELEPHANT What is Believed to Have Been His- toric Animal Found in Pa- louse County.

SPOKANE, Dec. 1.—Tusks and bones of what appear to be the skull of a prehistoric animal was unearthed by laborers on Joseph Geiger's ranch on Dutch flat in the Palouse wheat belt in southeastern Washington, two and a half miles southwest of Pomeroy. One of the tusks is 70 inches in length and measures 18 inches at the base and weighs 45 pounds. The other is broken. The tusks were about 20 inches apart on the skull and spread to 36 inches between the tips. Efforts will be made to exhume the rest of the skeleton. It is believed this is the remains of an animal of the mastodon type, but of an age preceding by centuries that to which the bones of mammoths found heretofore in other parts of the Inland Empire belonged. A portion of the broken tusk was found on Geiger's farm about six years ago, but little attention was paid to it until the discovery of the skull and the long ivory a few days ago. If the skeleton can be recovered it will be sent to one of the institutes to be mounted for exhibition purposes.

The Consolidated Fuel company of North Yakima is richer than it supposed it was. In grading work at its mine for running the track in to the tippie a five foot vein of coal was uncovered that the company did not know had an existence. Incidentally it may be said that Yakima will need this fuel before the winter is over.

Promoters at New York Ready to Bid for Fistic Encounter.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fight promoters with bids in their pockets aggregating more than one million dollars will go to Hoboken tomorrow, where bids will be opened for the world's championship heavyweight prize fight between James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Van Mavern, who has been attending school at Tacoma was injured a couple of weeks ago in a football game and will be unable to use his knee for a great many weeks. Word of the accident has just reached this city.

A man named Brooks has been arrested on a warrant charging him with entering the house of Sam Magit for the purpose of committing a misdemeanor.

County officials and workmen were engaged Tuesday with sandbags and other equipment in making an effort to save the grade at the west end of the Moxee bridge. The water in the river had risen until it was within about 10 inches of the height reached on Thursday last and there was much fear of damage to the roadway and possibly to the bridge.

Mrs. John Clemmons was a visitor at the home of her brother Eric Kershaw, the last of the week.

REV. E. A. KING ANNOUNCES THEMES

One Series Will Concern the Home and How to Avoid Divorce.

A new series of sermons is announced by Rev. E. A. King, the minister of the First Congregational church, to begin next Sunday morning. The series of Sunday morning sermons will deal with "The Historical Jesus." The themes and dates are as follows: Next Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock the subject will be "The Recovery of the Historical Jesus." On December 12th Mr. King will speak on "The Historical Jesus." The subject for the 19th will be "A Spiritual Appreciation of Jesus." This will be the Christmas sermon. Following this, on December 26th, Mr. King will close the series with a sermon on, "What is Jesus Christ to Me?"

In connection with this announcement of morning themes Mr. King states he will devote Sunday evenings during December to the discussion of questions that have to do with home making. The themes center about Love, Marriage and Divorce. The subjects are as follows: Dec. 5th, "Love and Marriage;" Dec. 12th, "Happy Marriages: How to Avoid the Divorce Court;" Dec. 19th, "Is Divorce Ever Justifiable?" Dec. 26th, "Lessons Learned from Broken Homes." Young people are especially invited to the evening addresses.

LOCAL SWITCHMEN TO RESUME DUTY

This Being no Terminal Point. There Is no Reason Why Men Here Should be on Strike.

North Yakima switchmen of the Northern Pacific railroad are to return to their duties today, as it has been learned that the strike now in progress does not effect them and there is no reason why they should not be on duty and earn what money is needed for the Christmas season now near. Members of the lodge to which the local switchmen belong have sent instructions to the North Yakima men that this being not a terminal point where trains are made or broken up, therefore there is no occasion for the men here to go out until called upon to do so.

Agent Hill has asked all local people receiving freight or who had cars containing freight in the yards to see to it that they are emptied as soon as possible. The object of this is to have as large a string of empties as possible ready for the moment the strike is called off, for there will then be an immense demand for cars, and the service both here and elsewhere along the Northern Pacific will demand them.

SAY PINCHOT WILL FIGHT

BALLINGER'S TIMBER LAND POLICY

Ballinger's Plan to Get Taxes From Timber Syndicate Has Opposition.

SEATTLE, Dec. 2.—A Washington special to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer which is supporting Secretary Ballinger, regarding the differences between Chief Forester Pinchot and the interior department sets forth one side of the timber lands controversy. The Post-Intelligencer is allied with the Guggenheim interests and is intimating that Pinchot is allied with the Weyerhaeuser interests. It says:

Secretary Ballinger's demand for a survey of the Northern Pacific granted lands lying within the area of national forests, made in his annual report, very probably will meet with opposition from the Pinchot forces in congress. Such a survey means a loss to the forest service of more than 6,000,000 acres, as pointed out in these dispatches previously, but it is a loss that is inevitable, for the forest service can not forever unlawfully withhold land already granted away by congress.

Just how the recommendation will be attacked it is difficult to forecast, but it is certain that attacks will be made and it is equally certain that the big timber interests, though perhaps secretly, will aid Mr. Pinchot's friends in their efforts to nullify congressional enactments and to deprive the land grant states of a revenue justly due them.

The exact area of Northern Pacific granted land, unsurveyed, now the property of the Weyerhaeusers, lying within the boundaries of national forests in the state of Washington and thus exempt from taxation for state or county purposes, is 1,204,340 acres. The sole beneficiary of Mr. Pinchot's policy of retaining these acres in national forests is the Weyerhaeuser corporation. Mr. Ballinger asks that congress make appropriation to survey them, retaining a lien on the land to reimburse the government for the cost of the survey. In other words, the cost of the survey must be borne by the owners, who, by reason of the government's negligence in leaving the land unsurveyed, have profited in exemption from taxation. The survey will operate to put the lands on the tax rolls.

But these railroad lands are not the only ones the retention of which in national forests works an injury to the state. There are held in the national forests in Washington 508,913.49 acres of common school land and 53,853.01 acres of other granted and selected land, all given to the state by the terms of the enabling act of 1889. Hence the total area of lands held in national forests of the state, as against the interests of the people of the state is 1,767,106.41 acres.

Montana is in about the same condition as Washington, while Idaho is somewhat better off.

A search through the statistics regarding these areas reveals in an interesting manner what the United States government has done to the state of Washington in its efforts to handle the public land question. In the first place the government gave the Northern Pacific railway more than 16,000,000 acres in Washington. After that it put 2.7 per cent of the total area of the state in national forests, including a very considerable area (nearly 1,800,000 acres) of the land granted to the state previously for school and other public purposes.

The area originally granted by the government to the Northern Pacific railroad company in the Pacific northwestern states, the area thereof remaining unsurveyed and hence untaxed, the area of these granted lands that fall within the boundaries of national forests and the amount of this last named area that remains unsurveyed and untaxed is: Total grant 33,969,461.42; unsurveyed 7,368,134; in forests 12,798,530.

Seven hundred and forty thousand, five hundred and twenty acres of unsurveyed lands within the Crow and Flathead reservations, in Montana, and excepted from the grant are not included herein.

President Taft in his speech at Spokane on the recent tour, emphatically, though in general terms, voiced a demand for survey and accurate determination of the lands now held by the government. His speech made it plain that the government should determine what it has and what it has not and put an end to disputes and quarrels. Secretary Ballinger, more in detail, in his annual report, does the same.

Licenses to wed were issued by the county auditor Wednesday to the following: Charles E. Keeler of North Yakima and Miss Sybil May Wheeler of Indianapolis, Ind.; Alex. P. Peddoo and Miss Phoebe M. Borgers of Cowiche; Theodore Mobley and Miss Ora T. Clark, both of North Yakima, and Paul W. Thompson and Miss Nellie Gladys Johnson, both of Granger.

Mrs. L. Wharton of 608 South Third street, and aged 65 years, fell from a transfer wagon Wednesday and broke one of her hips.

Slides representing Yakima valley scenes have been sent by the Commercial club to Rev. John W. Carter of Racine, Wis., and to Dallas P. Hughes of Philadelphia. A dozen slides were sent to each.

MILK IS MORE EXPENSIVE.

Dairymen Have Advanced the Price to 12 Quarts for a Dollar.

There has been an advance in the price of milk in North Yakima, and it is difficult indeed to procure cream. Some of the dairies make no profession of supplying it. Milk now sells at 12 quarts for a dollar, as against 16 quarts some time ago and 14 quarts more recently. And at that consumers are finding difficulty in obtaining such supplies as they need. The tinned article, which is growing in popularity each season as information becomes more general about tuberculosis in cattle and the readiness of milk to contamination, is finding an increased sale these days.

North Yakima, Wash., Dec. 4, 1909

We do not know what kind of a mayor Mr. Lum will make, but he cannot be more in collusion with the worst elements of the town than the present mayor; therefore if the people want better morals, and a cleaner city, and know the facts, they will want a change.

There is a class of people who live by selling their virtue. The poor girl who prostitutes herself, and whose average life after she enters upon that career is only five years, belongs to this class. But the man who is meaner than the prostitute is the man who is willing to tax her, to lighten his taxes; who is willing to take monthly bribes, to permit her to continue her business and fatten on her vices. This enables him to gather about him a class of pimps, who vote "with the administration," who consort with fallen victims, who gamble with working men and get their money, who are in turn mulct by the city officials, who fatten on their vices. Why should this continue?

THE TAMMANY CANDIDATE.

The Democrat believes that it is the duty of the voters of North Yakima at the approaching municipal election to defeat the aspirations of Mayor Armbruster for re-election. And we say this notwithstanding the fact that Mayor Armbruster's opponent in the fight, Mr. Lum, is the candidate of the republican party and is responsible, in part at least, for having injected partisan politics into our city campaign, a blunder that most good citizens deeply regret.

But the end justifies the means, and the end sought is to put the Armbruster administration out of business in this city. The city's welfare demands that this be done, and the cause of public decency demands it as well. The Democrat, truth to tell, was, as many of our people know, a former supporter of the present mayor. In fact it discovered him and dragged him forth into the municipal limelight, thinking that perhaps he might prove to be a Moses, taking his word for it that he was a reformer. And we stayed by him through three campaigns until he was finally landed in the mayor's chair.

But the disillusionment came to us, as it did to others, after his election. The new mayor, even before taking office, made the fact plain that his main purpose was to build up a political machine for his own profit and advancement rather than to further any scheme for reform in municipal policy. And every act of his administration proclaims that purpose on the part of the mayor.

His administration has been the most disgraceful, if not the most corrupt, in the history of North Yakima. City ordinances and state laws have been openly violated every day here since this man has been the chief executive of the city. If Mayor Armbruster has not openly connived at this riot of law breaking he has winked at it and permitted it to go on day and night.

Of course, every one of these law-breakers is now shouting for Arm-bruster's election. "Let well enough alone," they say, "he is the best mayor we ever had." Yes, he is, judging only from their standpoint.

In conclusion we wish to address a few words to the saloon keepers of this city, the voting power of whom, we understand, Mr. Armbruster boasts that he carries around in his vest pocket. What we wish to say to the saloon men is this, and we say it in all candor as the present sentiment of this community: If you use your power to keep this unfit man in office against the will of home-owners and tax-payers, you will have only yourselves to blame if you wake up on the morning of December 31 to find yourselves, like others, without an occupation.

A CUMMINS REPUBLICAN.

Speaker Cannon has seen fit to denounce the insurgent republicans with some heat and vituperation. He takes the view, apparently, that no man that does not agree with Aldrich and Cannon can be a true republican. The reply of Senator Cummins is brief, temperate, and directly to the point. He says:

"Let it be understood once for all that we accept the challenge and are ready for the fight. Our struggle will not be to exclude anybody from the republican party, but upon the principle involved we ask no quarter and shall give none. The day has come for an inquiry into the qualification of a republican. I am willing to accept an arbiter, but it will not be Aldrich, it will not be Payne, it will not be Cannon. * * * The republicans in sympathy with course pursued by the insurgents intend to take away from these men some of the power which they now exercise, and intend to reduce their influence to that point at which they will feel it necessary to consult rather than to command."

The issue between Aldrich and Cannon, on the one side, and the insurgents on the other, is whether the party shall continue to serve certain special interests, or shall serve the people according to republican ideas. That the insurgents have the rank and file of the party with them there can be no doubt. Mr. Cannon, therefore, had better beware lest in reading the insurgents out of the party he reads the party out of his camp.

The issue, as Senator Cummins remarks, is "What is a republican?" What are the qualifications for membership in the republican party? Perhaps, when the definition is agreed upon, it may be found that Cannon and Aldrich are themselves outside the fold. It would be hard to frame a definition of a republican that would be acceptable to the body of the republicans and at the same time would fit Cannon and Aldrich.

Whitman college will abolish football. Harvard decided likewise three years ago and the next season the Harvard team defeated Yale for the first time in a decade. The autumn without football seems to be very much like the springtime without songbirds--its in the air.

Witnesses in the inquiry into the Cherry mine disaster testify that the men were allowed to work for over half an hour after fire was discovered and that had a general alarm been turned in earlier, probably every life might have been saved. This is inside history to the third greatest mining disaster in the history of the world.

Secretary Knox says, "Zelaya is a violator of solemn international conventions, a disturber of national and international peace, a tyrant whose administration has been a blot upon the name of good government." Any man who will permit another to tell him that and not fight, is a coward, that's all there is to it.

PENDLETON FACTS.

The local option forces have received the following letter setting forth the "dry" side of the situation in Pendleton:

Dear Sir--The facts about Pendleton are these. About three months before the election which voted the saloons out, the county central committee elected Col. Newport of Hermiston, Hon. Mr. Vinson of Milton, and myself as the executive committee with power to arrange all sub-committees and workers. We had abundant occasion to have the work thoroughly done. This is what we discovered: Pendleton at that time had 96 empty houses and a woolen mill not running, had been silent for years. It was over $200,000 in debt and very backward in city improvements, with tax levy high and police service very bad. There were 26 saloons in the place, mostly on Main street, it was filled with loafers and vagrants, and it was impossible for a woman to walk down the west side of M. in street without being disgraced by the bad element staring her out of countenance. The criminal element overflowed the place. We investigated every thing we could find that had any bearing on the matter. We found one of the most disgraceful situations in any American city. Back of one of the chief hotels, right on Main street and not far from the churches, was a row of houses of ill fame and gambling dens and liquor holes. These were in connection with this hotel, a disgrace to any city however large. The hotel was also a saloon. Farmers could hardly get any help. It came to town on Saturday, was enticed into these dens, made drunk, robbed and then left adrift upon the town. Labor was almost ruined by the conditions.

One year after this a substantial committee visited and investigated, just as the former one did, and this is what they found: Not an empty house. The 26 saloon buildings were occupied with lawful business. The woolen mill is running and ready for the future. Merchants who signed a petition for the saloons to remain declare that their bills are better paid and all things are moving forward in a much better way than before. The criminal element has left. The houses of ill fame have disappeared. The farmers can get hired help now and keep it, and this help is not robbed as formerly, but pays its money into the clothing store, the bank and the hotel. One of the hardest fighters we had enlarged his clothing store to three times its former size. I said to him: "How do you like the dry condition?" His reply was: "Oh, it is all right. Of course I have a lot of friends among the saloon men and therefore I say nothing, but I obey the law." Many well to do farmers sent their children away from Pendleton to get an education elsewhere because of the terrific condition with so many saloons. The Pendleton academy is not complaining since the town went dry. The criminal docket and its cost for the tax payers to pay is not more than one-half what it was. Labor is now worth its face value. City improvements are on hand, and all this in the face of the fact that the farms about the place have been going into the hands of a less number of people all the time, for this is what hurts the place financially; but as Kansas, with its repeated failure of crops, has four times as much per capita in its banks as one of the worst run-ruled states, so Pendleton has done infinitely better without the saloons in every way than it did with them. It is not running into debt as before. It is bracing up in spite of these deterring conditions of big farms. Now we discovered a few things in that fight. One is that the opposite party is the biggest liar in America. They will get telegrams about three days before election, which telegrams are made out of white cloth, and the most outrageous lies possible. They sent one broadcast over Umatilla county four days before election, but we headed it off by telephoning to Mayor Matlock of Eugene and proving, in time, that it was an absolute falsehood. These monumental liars will do anything and say everything to keep the booze. It is death to all business, to all upbuilding and progress. The money going into the saloon and carried out of town by the gamblers and bad women had better go into the grocery, the bank and the hardware store and shoe shop, where it will do good and not harm.

FAMILY MIX-UP TO BE SOLVED

UNUSUAL CASE AT OUTLOOK

Woman Who Deserted Husband and Who Was in Her Turn Deserted Is Now Willing to be Forgiven.

A family mix-up at Outlook has been revealed as a result of investigations which have been carried on for the past two or three days by Rev. A. W. Laningham, secretary of the Washington Children's Home Finding association. Just what will eventuate is hard to tell at this time, but it is probable that peace and harmony will be given another inning. There is a man at Outlook who has in his custody six children, his own, whose mother a year or so ago abandoned them all. The youngest child is 4 years of age and the eldest is 14. Since their mother left them the father has grown discouraged, and in some senses is down and almost out. He has or rather had about arrived at the point when he was willing to give the children up and had so notified Mr. Laningham.

The mother has injected a new phase into the situation by an offer to return and take care of the little ones. The story is that a year or so ago she ran away with some man living in the eastern part of the state, procured a divorce and married him. He afterwards ran away from her. She now offers to return to her first husband and to act as housekeeper until such time as she is able to procure a divorce from the husband who abandoned her and then she will be willing to remarry the husband whom she abandoned. Knowing the woman and having faith that she can do much to hold the family together and assist him in getting on his feet, the husband and father is willing to again receive her, so that it is probable that Rev. Mr. Laningham, who has now some 90 children, will not find any new members to his family from Outlook.

PNEUMONIA IS REDUCED
ONE-HALF.

Professors at Harvard Medical School Combat the Disease by Administering White Corpuscles.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Doctors Cleveland Floyd and Williams P. Lucas of the Harvard Medical school have made a discovery which they think will reduce the mortality from pneumonia 50 per cent. They combat the disease with the white corpuscles of the blood, which make warfare upon all germs which ravage the system.

Before beginning their warfare on pneumonia Doctors Floyd and Lucas made an extract of those fighting white blood corpuscles, or, as they are known to the medical world, leucocytes.

"At the Massachusetts General hospital we took forty-one cases of pneumonia as they occurred, and not selected cases," Dr. Lucas said. "We treated them with the leucocytic extract. Out of these forty-one cases thirty-six recovered and only five died. This gives a mortality of 12.2 per cent for the entire series of cases."

It is asserted that although the white corpuscle extract thus far has been applied only to pneumonia cases, there is no apparent reason why its use should not be extended to practically all forms of disease in which the presence of large numbers of white corpuscles in the blood will serve as a fighting force. There are scores of such diseases, and many of them are exceedingly deadly in their effect.

Messrs. Cline, Weigel and Sheldon, the good roads committee of the good roads association recently organized, are busy with a split-log drag on North First street and are making a bit of roadway as an illustration of what can be done by attention and the proper equipment. At least this is the point of view which is back of the attempt. They expect to put a mile of roadway in that section of the neighborhood of North Yakima in splendid condition and thus, by object lesson methods, to illustrate the value of proper highways.

The Valley Hardware bowling team defeated the Yakima Hardware team at the Y. M. C. A. alleys Wednesday evening by 136 pins, the Valley team taking two out of three games. J. F. Okey won high score with 186 and Mark Pennington took high average with 167.

North Yakima Knights of Pythias elected officers last evening as follows: C. C. C. D. Hessey; V. C. H. D. Hunt; prelate, Murray Mitchell; M. at A., John J. Miller; I. G., G. A. Gano; O. G., K. L. Chappell; K. of R. and S., C. M. Hauser; M. of F., Joseph Liggett; trustees for one year, Frank Horsley, Herbert Shaw and F. A. Hatfield.

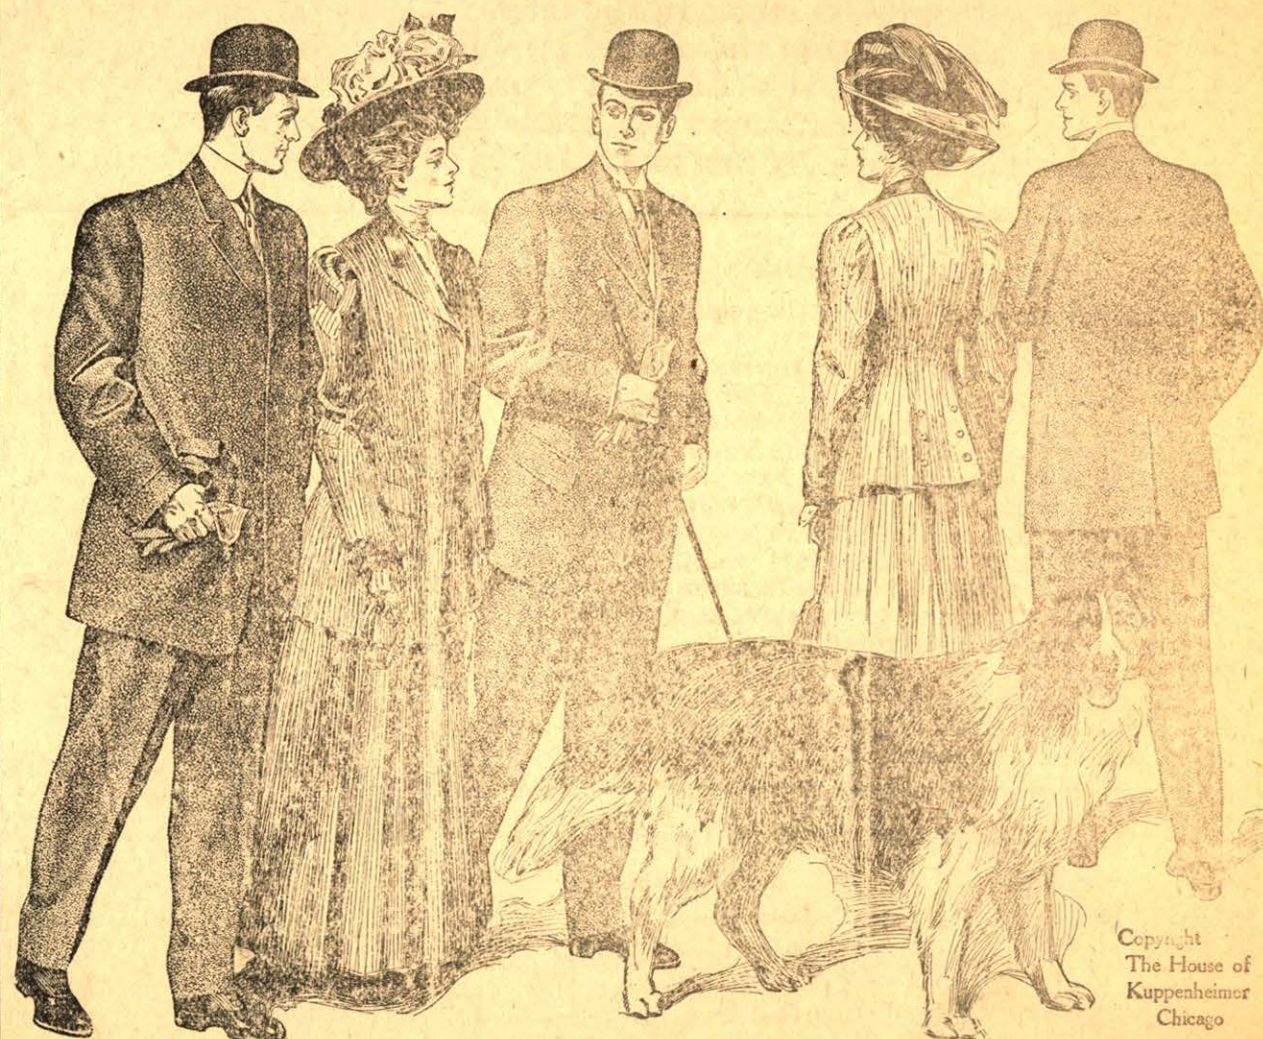

Threatened with diphtheria, but now past the danger stage, Frank, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Fletcher, is reported as convalescent. Mr. Fletcher had wired his mother, Mrs. F. W. Fletcher, of Seattle, to come to North Yakima, and she arrived in the city last night.

Henry K. Kamal, local representative of the Asahi News, the leading Japanese newspaper of Seattle, has gone to the sound for a conference with the Japanese colony there relative to affairs of importance to that oriental race. Mr. Kamal is a typical representative of the better class of the Japanese race and during his stay here has made a host of friends.

Shoo Lee, a Chinese from Pasco, is now on trial on a charge of having in his possession opium, prepared for smoking purposes and not bearing the government stamp and seal. J. E. Lindley, assistant United States attorney, appears for the government and H. E. Noland of Pasco for the Chinese.

MINISTER PURCHASES CHINESE LAUNDRY

Gives up Pulpit to Cleanse Linen Instead of Community Morals.

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 1.—Rev. D. B. McKnight, who came to the northwest from Kansas last spring, evidently believes there is more money in washing soiled linen for other people than there is in plowing them along the straight path. At any rate, he has resigned the pastorate of the First Methodist church at Whitefish, Mont., effective December 1, to go into the laundry business. He has bought Tom Quong's place and will convert it into a steam plant, for which there is need, since most of the work is sent out of town. Quong has cleaned up a tidy sum, which he will invest in a truck garden somewhere in the eastern part of the Inland Empire, firm in the belief that he will be able to return to his native village, near Canton, in 1915 to live in ease. The pastor will not make a statement until after he leaves the ministry.

STATE FAIR BOARD TO NAME SECRETARY

Commission Members Will Meet Today to Select Officer for Important Duties.

Commissioners of the state fair will meet in North Yakima today to make a selection of a secretary. It is understood that it is the desire of the members of the board to procure the services of an experienced man, and it has been said by a member of the board that an outside man who has been connected with one of the most successful fairs in the country has been engaged. There are several applicants for the position and one or two of them are very highly recommended and have a record of success. At a recent meeting of the board President J. S. Kloeber and State Senator Hubbell of Ellensburg were named as a committee to look up a fit and proper person to become the secretary. They had several people in mind and are understood to have made a selection. The members of the board are Dr. J. S. Kloeber, State Senator Hubbell, Charles Heath, C. M. Hauser and Postmaster A. N. Henry of Prosser.

GAGE GIVES HIS VERSION OF MATTER
Former Secretary of the Treasury Gives Out Statement at Denver.

DENVER, Nov. 20.—Lyman J. Gage, former Secretary of the Treasury, who was here on his wedding trip, today gave out an interview in which he said that even though the statement of W. D. Howell, former assistant secretary of the treasury might be construed to prove Gage—a rascal, which he says, it won't, Gage declares he would still bear witness to Howell's truth and honesty. Gage says if Howell declares that Gage sent W. F. Wakeman former appraiser of the customs department to Havemeyer, Gage undoubtedly gave such directions. Wakeman declared he laid the evidence of crookedness before Gage and that Gage directed Wakeman to submit his proofs to H. O. Havemeyer, president of the American Sugar Refining company, "with my compliments."

Wakeman's statement has been corroborated by Howell. Gage says there is nothing significant in such order being given. Gage said he could not believe at that time that the head of such a big corporation would stoop to petty thievery and bribery, and Gage's natural inclination would be to lay the matter before any man that he considered an honorable business man, and give him an opportunity to ferret out the crime. Gage, however, as he recollects it he put two detectives on clues furnished by Wakeman and he doesn't think anything conclusive was ever found.

LOWER NACHES.

Mr. W. R. Smith had a surprise party on his birthday at his home in Lower Naches, November 26. The party was given by Mrs. White, Mrs. Gerry and other friends.

The Pleasant Hill Ladies Aid society will hold its next meeting with Mrs. B. E. Moberly on December 1. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Friend gave a Thanksgiving dinner for the bachelor boys of the valley. Those present were Jay Warder, Arthur Gordon, Frank Chapman and E. Johnson.

November 28 the stork visited the W. R. Sullivan home in the Lower Naches and left a bouncing baby boy. Mother and child are getting along nicely. Dr. Curry and Mrs. J. W. Mullen were in attendance.

Mr. Gammons has been waiting to get his hay baled and it rained so it is quite wet and he is not going to bali it now.

Mrs. A. H. Bair is getting along as nicely as could be expected. She is now able to walk around a little.

Mr. R. D. Lowe put his bailer in the shed for the season Friday, because of so much rain.

Miss Rose Mattoon and Mr. B. R. Sullivan were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Madison Tuesday evening after the entertainment at the Gled school house.

One of Mr. R. D. Lowe's horses was cut so badly in the wire it had to be killed.

Mr. Cramer has bought the Crampton place which contains 40 acres. Mrs. A. N. Curry's mother, father, brother, and cousin from the east are visiting her in the Lower Naches.

Mrs. J. L. Chamberlain has returned to her daughter, Mrs. White, who lives in Lower Naches. Mrs. Chamberlain has been visiting her older daughter who lives in Goldendale.

A bible class was organized last Sunday afternoon at the Grange hall. Rev. O. B. Whitmore officiated. A large number were present and it is hoped there will be more attend at each Sunday comes around.

It is reported that Mr. Lausen and Mr. White of the Wilhargus farm have offered their places for sale.

The sick folk at the Newman ranch are getting along as fine as could be expected.

The First Church of the Evangelical Association of North Yakima, Wash., was incorporated by articles filed with the county auditor Monday. The trustees are G. F. Gedosch, E. H. Hess, Leslie H. Shrimpton, H. A. Meyer, and A. G. Peterson, and the object is to incorporate for the promotion of religious interests.

WANT TO PROTECT BIG HERD OF IBEX

Baker City Man Wants Preserve to Give Animals Big Range.

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 1.—Sportsmen in Spokane and throughout the northwest will give W. R. Parker of Baker City, Ore., every support in his efforts to secure state or federal protection for a herd of ibex on Mount Eagle in Oregon. Parker advocates the creation of a preserve on the mountain so that the only known band of ibex on the continent may be saved from slaughter. He has hunted big game in eastern Oregon for years and possesses wide knowledge of the trails and canyons in the mountains, and believes that since the haunt of the herd is known to others the animals ought to be protected to prevent extinction. When he first announced the presence of the band in the mountains some of the veteran hunters asked for proof, which was forthcoming by Parker bringing out a dead buck, doe and fawn. Parker looks upon the ibex as a big asset in a sporting way for the entire northwest.

WHITMAN PARTY "DRY."

Elections in County Tuesday Show Majority for Local Option.

SPOKANE, Nov. 30.—Whitman county, with the exception of four incorporated towns, voted "dry" at the local option elections today by a majority considerably over 1,000. The four "wet" towns are Colfax, Colton, Palouse and Tekoa.

Business Men and Leading Citizens Perfect Organization to Forward Movement.

At a meeting at the commercial club rooms Tuesday night the "business men's good roads committee" was named to take charge of an immediate and permanent campaign for good roads in Yakima county. There were present at the meeting last night representatives from the Business Men's association, the commercial club, the Fifty Thousand club and the city, including Alexander Miller, H. P. James, Richard Winsor, John Weigel, M. Schorn, Fred Chandler, L. H. Dills and George Dunbar. The permanent committee named consists of I. H. Dills, Charles Barnes, Ben Kohls, George Listmann, from the Business Men's association, H. P. James from the commercial club, Dr. A. J. Helton representing the physicians, M. Schorn for the city and Fred Chandler and George Arrowsmith at large.

The conditions of the county roads were discussed at length last night and it was estimated that there are at least 100 miles of roads in the county in need of immediate repair. The cost of this work was estimated at $500,000 at the least.

The permanent committee will enlist the aid of the city and county governments and will also conduct a campaign of education among the people, in the hope of passing a bond issue at some later time.

Robert H. Barclay of Spokane, who is connected with the railway mail service, is in North Yakima in connection with the contracts for carrying the mails to and from the railroad station here. Bids recently called for for this service were rejected because of the excessive prices asked.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rasch, Miss Kathryn Scott and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Shadbolt will sail from Vancouver, B. C., on Wednesday for Honolulu where they will spend the winter, returning to North Yakima in March or April next. They expect that Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mullins and others from North Yakima and the Yakima valley will join the colony in Honolulu before the winter is out.

"A wife" is seen frequently enough on hotel registers but it is only since the suffragette movement took hold that the "A husband" has been in use. On a North Yakima hotel register Tuesday there were registered "Mrs. Maude W.— & Husband" and why not?

STOCK MEN OFFER PRIZES

FOR BEST CHRISTMAS CATTLE

Union Stock Yards of Portland Out
With Prize Offer for the Best
Santa Claus Beef.

Stock men are after some prize beef in Portland for the holiday trade and the following letter has been sent out to raisers of cattle which will be of interest to Yakima cattlemen:

Portland, Oregon, Nov. 30, 1909.

Dear Sir:

The Portland Liv Stock Exchange offers for the best Christmas cattle shipped to the Portland Union Stock Yards the following premiums:

Car steers, not less than 20 head, first, $150; second, $75.

Car cows, not less than 20 head, first, $150; second, $75.

Best single steer, first, $25; second, $15.

Best single cow, first, $25; second, $15.

Cattle to be judged morning of December 14th and sold at auction that afternoon. Judges, John F. O'Shea, Portland; Frank Brown, Carlton, Ore.; G. W. Gamble, Portland. This sort of encouragement should be an incentive for the breeder and feeder of cattle. It is in line with the educational work undertaken by this company and to which the press of the Pacific northwest is lending valuable aid.

Receipts at the Portland Union Stock Yards for the month ending today have been: Cattle, 6518; calves, 584; sheep, 7549; hogs, 12744; horses, 274. The approximate value of the 457 cars that made up the receipts was $567,500, a tidy sum that went into the pockets of the farmer and stockmen of Washington, Idaho and Oregon.

The cattle market has been consistent throughout the month. Good cattle have brought good prices, especially in the instances of cows. Top price for steers was $4.75; top price for cows $3.75 and spayed heifers sold at $4.00. Light calves have been in strong demand with tops at $5.25.

Sheep have come forward in light quantities and medium to poor quality. Good weathers, what few there were, sold at $4.75 for yearlings and $4.50 or two year olds. Lambs sold at $5.75 for the best that were offered.

Hogs have come forward rather freely, and while during the first week in the month, prices sagged a little, the market promptly recovered and has been strong and high. Tops $8.00. All of the prices herein quoted have been on good qualities for this market. Poor quality stuff has sold low and the divergence between good and poor grades is constantly growing wider.

Yours very truly,

D. O. LIVELEY,
General Agent.

B. A. Moore and P. H. Parker, two youthful offenders, were brought to the county jail Thursday by Hall Webber, who recently resigned from the sheriff's office here to accept a position with the town council at Sunnyside. Mr. Webber stated that the boys burglarized a shack from which they took an axe and a gun. He followed them to White Bluffs where the arrest was made.

Local retail merchants are expecting to hear of advanced prices on perishable goods within the next day or so. Eggs, butter, etc., will probably go up for it is figured that if the railroads do begin the transportation of these commodities on the passenger trains the express, will be flooded with business to such an extent that traffic will be retarded, even as it is today.

There is to be a stag party in the basement of the Marquette College building on the evening of Friday, December 10 for club members and prospective members.

BIG MONEY FOR BETTER ROADS

NEXT YEAR IN YAKIMA COUNTY

Approximately $200,000 Is to be Expended on the Highways of This Bailiwick.

Deputy County Auditor W. B. Newcomb, who is a student of good roads literature, is much interested in the good roads movement and is anxious that Yakima county get in right on the proposition. He thinks there should be a state law requiring that all road improvement work done by counties be carried on under specifications made up by the state highway commissioner or his office. This would insure good work in all sections and it would also have the advantage of uniformity.

One of the reasons, Mr. Newcomb points out, that state have not undertaken road construction is that they have been unable to find the men qualified to do it. Notwithstanding that good engineers frequently confess themselves unable to construct such highway as are needed the layman does not hesitate to consider himself an expert and some counties run up against engineers who are willing to undertake it at a moment's notice. Where engineers change frequently there are numerous experiments and the county pays the bill. Uniformity of specifications will obviate a whole lot of the trouble now encountered in various sections.

Regarding the split-log drag which is recommended in some sections Mr. Newcomb points out that it has great value in heavy, clay soils where the road cuts into ruts, but cannot be expected to do effective work on soil not adapted to its peculiar advantages.

Yakima county is to have some $200,000 approximately next year for road and bridge work. According to the estimated there are to be raised $116,275 for the six road districts and $78,000 for the general road and bridge fund. This makes $194,275. It is the opinion of many of those interested in good roads that careful study preliminary to the inception of any work in this section is necessary in order to get the best results.

Wheat Market.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 2.—March wheat 7 1/2d.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—December wheat opened $1.05 1/2 @ $1.05 1/2; closed, $1.06 1/2; May, $1.05 1/2; closed, $1.05 1/2 @ $1.05 1/2.

Reclamation Bowlers Challenge.

The Reclamation Service Bowling team, consisting of Messrs. Clint Brick, Schepplemann, Robinson and Cunningham has challenged the Valley Hardware team for a game to be played at the Y. M. C. A. alleys in the near future. The Valley Hardware team won the game Monday from the Yakima team. Okey, Fry, Sprague, Henrich and Cooper make up the Valley team and a good game is expected when this match is pulled off.

In the action of the United States against H. K. Luce, arising out of the Sunnyside canal spillway work, the demurrer was sustained and 30 days were given in which to answer. In the action of Dean vs. Summer Bros, the demurrer was sustained so far as it applied to the motion for leave to amend. In the matter of the cancellation of the certificate of naturalization of Caroline Meyer motion of the government for judgment was overruled.

N. A. Berg and Ethel and Joseph LeGambie have incorporated the Yakima Independent Nursery with a capital stock of $10,000. The head office will be at Wapato.

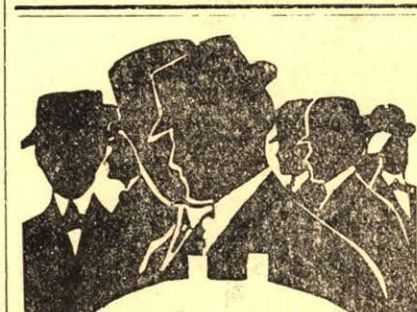

STATE FAIR BOARD NAMES SECRETARY

Man Who Had Experience With Montana Fair Is Selected for the Position.

North Yakima gained a new citizen Thursday when the commissioners of the state fair elected John W. Pace secretary of the board at a salary understood to be a considerable advance on the $1,200 allowed by the law of the state. As the commissioners, however, are personally responsible for the debts of the fair there is nothing to prevent the payment of any salary that may seem proper.

Mr. Pace is, latterly, a resident of Spokane and formerly of Montana and is said to be an experienced fair secretary and acquainted with stock and agricultural interests.

Pending settlement of present problems and to await longer days the commission has brought an end to the improvement work which has been in progress at the fair grounds. This work will be resumed at once upon the commission giving the word, which will be when the new secretary has got a grasp of the local conditions.

MANY CHILDREN ARE AFFLICTED

Interesting Figures Contained in Report of Dr. Nywening to School Board.

In its report made to the school board Thursday, the city health department reveals some interesting figures with regard to the health of the children enrolled in the schools of North Yakima.

Of 227 pupils examined, 153 showed the effect of some disease, the principal trouble being with the eye-sight, enlarged tonsils, eruptive diseases of the skin and adenoids, a growth found in the nose.

Little Fellows Suffer.

When all of the students have been examined, some 2000 in number, which will be before the close of the school year, larger figures will naturally follow, but it is thought that the percentage will be about the same, although in the smaller grades children who are thought to be stupid will be cured of some disease affection and the normal brightness will then return.

The examinations are made under the personal direction of City Health Officer Nywening, and Drs. Johnson and Chase, who are specialists in the diseases most often found among children engaged to assist in the work.

KNOX SHOCKS PRES. ZELAYA

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Dec. 2.—The action of Secretary Knox in dismissing Charge d'Affaires Rodriguez at Washington has greatly surprised President Zelaya, who reiterates his belief that Nicaragua was justified in executing Groce and Cannon.

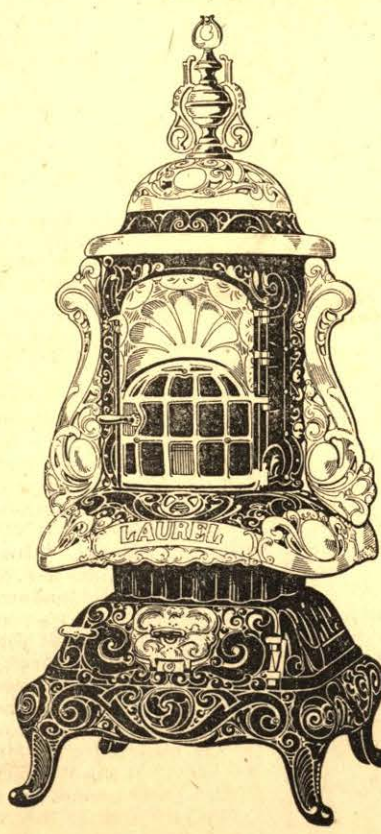

Zelaya will take no action until he receives further information on the subject and learns definitely the intentions of the United States. American Vice Consul Calder, a Nicaraguan by birth, but a naturalized American, is still at the Consulate. In an opinion of Zelaya, Calder sympathizes with the opposition party and close watch has been kept on him, although there has been no attempt at restraint. Zelaya expresses the belief that in all probability Calder's reports have been partial to the government's enemies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 2.—Naval forces of the United States are being moved forward tonight to both coasts of Central America to protect American life and property in Nicaragua by force of arms if necessary.

Are Boosting Herd.

For the purpose of acquainting the public with their choice for member of school board directors, the laboring interests of the city are casting broadcast unofficial ballots, headed by the name of Ed. Herd of South Seventh street. Mr. Herd is a contractor and bridge builder and is thrown in constant touch with these men who feel that he is in a better position to know their wants and carry out the ideas of a good administration than any other man.

The city hall bunch have been busy the past few days installing new drains and repairing the concrete work about the engine house and jail. This, when completed, will render the place much more sanitary.
