Gentlemen:

I am enclosing an advance circular of my book, Drummers and Dreamers, which is being scheduled for spring publication.

I do not know if you have a library for such material or not, but if you do and acquire copies, you are entitled to a 25 per cent library discount.

In the event that a review copy is desired instead, would you please advise me to whom such a copy should be sent and the correct address, so I may enter it upon the list I will later submit to my publisher.

May I ask, too, have the Yakima sent you a copy of the 64 pp illustrated booklet published in recognition of the Treaty Centennial, June 9, 1955. The tribe asked me to prepare some of the sections and edit the book, and I would presume from the various Yakima connections they have provided you with a copy. In the event they have not, please advise me.

Sincerely
