

YAKIMA DAILY DEMOCRAT

"How to the Line, Let the Chips Fall Where They May."

NO. 1.

NORTH YAKIMA, WASHINGTON, TUESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 27, 1904.

VOL. 1.

REVOLUTION IS ENDED

Uruguay Rebels and Government Come to Terms.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 26.—Confirmation has been received here of the conclusion of the peace between the Uruguayan government and the revolutionists under General Munoz.

There is general rejoicing here and in Uruguay over the outcome. It is expected that claims will be presented by diplomatic representatives of foreign governments for damages and losses to foreign residents to the amount of several million dollars, and the financial outlook is consequently gloomy.

A Lively Town.

North Yakima presented a scene of great activity last night. The streets were crowded with people and there were four snows going on at the same time all of which had their share of the patronage. The Weideman band was playing, the Quaker doctors quacking, four roofers making noises calling your attention to a ten cent show at the Orpheum, and Charles Grant and his efficient corps of associates inviting the public to come in and hear the famous southern quartette at the Edison. All this opposition was going on simultaneously and the town presented a scene not unlike the busy thoroughfare of a large and thriving metropolis.

Pure Food Congress.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—The International Pure Food congress assembled here today. The prohibition of colors, antiseptics, adulteration and false labeling of wines and whiskeys, and the baking powder controversy were among the questions that will come up for discussion. A resolution will be presented demanding that all foods competing for awards at the exhibition be truthfully branded free from adulteration.

Big Hop Deal.

A. E. Poole bought yesterday for the Yakima Commercial Company 200 bales of 1904 prime hops from George Dunn of Parker. The price paid was 26 cents per pound on a cash basis.

Prisoners Go to Spokane.

Deputy United States Marshal A. N. Short left here for Spokane last night with 27 prisoners, herded by 11 guards. The prisoners go to Spokane for trial in the United States court, presided over by Judge Hanford. Nearly all the prisoners are charged with "bootlegging," three of the lot being accused of carrying whiskey over the Yakima Indian reservation.

FORMAL OPENING TODAY

The State Fair Exhibitors Busy Yesterday Arranging Exhibits—Fine Display of All Farm Products—Stock Exhibit a Good One.

The real opening of the state fair will occur this morning. The attendance yesterday was comparatively small and none of the displays in the pavilion were ready for the criticizing gaze of the public. All the various departments were in a state of general disarrangement yesterday morning with the people who had them in charge working like trojans to make ready for today.

Most of the stock which is to be shown this year had arrived yesterday, and in this connection it should be remarked that this department of the fair is very fine. Nearly all the breeds of cattle to be found anywhere are exhibited at the state fair. Some of the most notable instances of this fact is found in the fine herd of Red Polled cattle shown here by R. O. Dunbar & Son of Chehalis, Wash.; P. A. Frakes, of Scappoose, Oregon, with his herd of Holsteins; A. J. Splawn of Yakima, with his Elforders, L. V. McWhorter of Yakima county, with his North Devons; The Carbon Cattle Co.'s fine herd of Holsteins; the Sunny Bank Farm of Scappoose, Oregon, with their prize winning Jerseys; the Sunnyside herd of James Skirving of Seattle with registered Jerseys; D. H. Looney's twenty head of imported Jersey stock; J. M. Jane of Yakima with his Brown Swiss herd; the Birch Hill Stock Farm's shorthorns and Fred Brooker's shorthorns, raised out here in the Selah on alfalfa grass. There are other herds of registered cattle and many different breeds of sheep and hogs and goats.

There will be exhibited about twenty different breeds in the poultry department and some of the finest chickens ever seen in the northwest will be shown here during the week.

The pavilion is not large enough to accommodate all of the exhibitors and in another year it will probably have to be enlarged. It will present a very spectacular interior appearance this year and all of the exhibits will prove attractive.

Yakima county's agricultural exhibit is indeed a representative one, and reflects credit upon the men who have worked so faithfully to perfect its appearance. Varieties of vegetables and farm products to be found in nearly all parts of the world, with the extreme tropical regions excepted, may be found within the space allotted to Yakima county.

Wenatchee's display of their products and fruit is indeed very commendable, as is also that of Columbia county.

Howard Wright and William Lee, Jr., have two individual exhibits of produce raised upon their two fruitvale farms. These displays are very striking. The Sunnyside country is in conspicuous evidence and attracts everybody. Prof. S. B. Nelson of the Pullman Agricultural College, with a display representing the department of agriculture, occupies a space in the northwest corner of the building.

The women's department, in charge of Mrs. A. E. Linn, presents a most handsome appearance. There are a great many minor displays by individuals and taken as a whole the pavilion contains a great collection of various things beautiful to look upon and in many instances of a miraculous order.

Horse racing begins today. The entries are good and the races will no doubt prove interesting.

Entries for Tuesday's Races.

THE PORTLAND EXCURSION

A Special Train Will Leave the Oregon Metropolis Tonight for This City.

An excursion bound for the state fair will leave Portland tonight in a special train. The excursionists compose some of the most noted business men of Oregon, and the principal object of their visit is to get a glimpse of the Yakima valley and also to interest the people they come in contact with about the 1905 Lewis and Clark exposition, which will be held at Portland. All of Portland's city officials will be represented on this excursion and they will constitute some people of distinction.

The itinerary is herewith given: Leave Portland in special Pullman sleepers Tuesday night, September 27, at 11:45. Arrive at Tacoma, Wednesday morning, September 28 at 5:20; cars to be cut off train at Tacoma, excursionists to get up when they see fit. Leave Tacoma at 11:10 a. m. Wednesday, September 28, arrive at Seattle, Wednesday, September 28 at 12:30 p. m. Leave Seattle, Wednesday, September 28 at 11:17 p. m.; remain in sleepers at North Yakima until Thursday morning, the 29th; stay at North Yakima Thursday, the 29th, Portland day at the state fair. Stay at sleepers at North Yakima Thursday night. Leave North Yakima Friday, September 30, at 6:45 a. m.

Will Not Be Here.

The Royal Artillery Band of British Columbia scheduled to play here during this week, will not be able to come. Word was received yesterday of their inability to be present and the state board immediately engaged Nagler's band to furnish the music for the week.

PARKER WILL WIN COLORADO

Assurances from Reliable Source in Colorado of Certain Democratic Victory.

ESOPUS, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Judge Parker spent a quiet Sunday. He attended church services at Kingston.

Judge Parker received a telegram today from the democratic state convention at Denver, as follows:

"The democracy of Colorado, in convention assembled, sends to you greetings, with the assurance of its loyal support in November and of the five electoral votes of this state in the next electoral college."

PREPARING FOR LONG WAR

Japan Has the Men, Money and Determination.

TOKIO, Sept. 26.—An increasing feeling of sobriety and seriousness marks the popular attitude toward the war. It is doubtful if the masses appreciated in the beginning the seriousness of the task of expelling Russia from Manchuria. They had an easy confidence in the ability of the army and navy to reduce the fortress of Port Arthur, destroy the Russian fleet and crush General Kuropatkin. The prolongation of the siege, the losses before Port Arthur and General Kuropatkin's escape at Liaoyang have brought a general appreciation of the magnitude of the national task and dissipated the growing hopes of an early peace, based on the confidence of sweeping victories. Events at Port Arthur and Liaoyang have impressively warned the Japanese people to prepare for a long and trying war. Confidence in the final outcome, however, remains unshaken and the nation has resolutely and determinedly settled down, prepared to make sacrifices and pay the price that success demands.

The strain of war and the strain upon the country's resources has not yet been felt to any great extent among the people. Some lines of business have suffered, but the aggregate of foreign trade exceeds that of 1903. The crop of rice is the largest ever grown. Deaths from wounds and sickness have overtaken thousands of soldiers, but their vacant places have been quickly filled.

The supply of able bodied men anxious to fight equals all possible demands. Munitions, supplies and money in banks indicate the ability of the country to wage war without embarrassment and vigorously for another year. The completion during the winter of a light railway between Antung and Liaoyang will give the army three lines of supply.

There is general confidence in the ability of Marshal Oyama to drive General Kuropatkin into Harbin and to successfully resist a reinvansion of Manchuria. The early possession of Port Arthur is also confidently expected.

There is no gloom among the people. They are simply sobered in the face of the great unfinished task.

Parker Is Safe.

"We independents feel that Judge Parker as president would give the country a safe, conservative, business administration. As courageous as he is well equipped mentally, he would not hesitate to undo the harm of the Roosevelt administration, and during his term of office the liberty-loving American people would not witness the shameful spectacle of this powerful nation bullying the weak."—Herman Ridder at Editorial convention.

KILLED IN WRECK

Brakeman on Freight Train Meets Horrible Death Saturday Night—Rear End Collision at Yakima City.

Delos W. Steele, a brakeman on local freight No. 57, was killed in a wreck on the Northern Pacific railroad last Saturday night about 11 o'clock. His death was the result of a rear end collision.

Engineer Clarence Shanno in charge of engine No. 377, was following the local freight at a slow rate of speed. He was on his way to Ellensburg to have the engine, which was disabled, repaired. The freight train, preceding him had slowed down just south of Yakima City to make a stop at the station to put off freight. James Callner was the engineer and T. B. Lurie the conductor. The engineer in charge of the engine following behind No. 57 testified at an inquest held yesterday afternoon that because of the sharp curve in the track and a good deal of brush along the track he did not discover the caboose of the forward train in time to stop his engine. The jury have not yet rendered a decision in the case. They will visit the scene of the accident this morning before deciding. In a moment after the engine struck flames began to shoot out of the doors and windows of the caboose. The caboose was telescoped by the engine and the unfortunate brakeman is supposed to have been standing on the rear platform when the crash came. Engineer Shanno found it impossible to pull away from the wreck. The flames spread rapidly and in a few minutes a box car loaded with wheat caught on fire. It was with great difficulty that the trainmen were able to squelch the flames. Mr. Steele was known to be in the wrecked caboose for some one had heard him cry out for help. Aid could not be given under the circumstances and not until the fire had been put out did they find his body. It is not known whether he was killed before the fire caught him or died as the result of burning to death. His charred trunk was found on the pilot of engine No. 377. The body of Steele is now in the morgue at Shaw & Flint's. He lived in Ellensburg and leaves a wife to mourn his loss.

His brother-in-law, R. R. Upper, of Seattle, came over Sunday to look after the remains.

The deceased was a trusted employee of the company's. He belonged to the brotherhood and had $1,350 insurance in that order. He was also a member of the Eagles. He was 30 years of age. The body was taken to Seattle this morning for interment.

TOOK LIFE TO END AGONY

Milas Shafer, Wounded, Commits Suicide.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 26.—Milas Shafer committed suicide on Vashon island this afternoon to put himself out of his misery, caused by an accidental gunshot wound. He was out hunting with two companions when both barrels of his shotgun were discharged, the charges entering his abdomen. While his companions rushed away after a physician he reloaded his gun and shot himself in the head. When his friends returned they found his dead body.

THE ERUPTION SUBSIDING

Mount Vesuvius Not So Active Yesterday.

NAPLES, Sept. 26.—The eruption of Mount Vesuvius has this morning somewhat decreased. The crust around the crater is breaking away as the result of the explosion. On the Pompeii side the eruption has caused considerable damage.

"A Year of Strikes."

Ex-Senator Thurston of Nebraska, in a speech in Queen's borough, N. Y., opening the campaign there for the Republican party, said, in the course of his remarks:

"My countrymen, this is a year of strikes; organized labor is seeking to enforce its demands in all parts of the Union. These strikes may be right and the ymay be wrong, but there chances of success lie in the fact that under the administration of Theodore Roosevelt business still flourishes, manufacture still thrives and there is enough employment for all the labor seekers in the country."

Commenting on this utterance, the Evening Post of New York was led to say:

"Has the ex-Senator never heard of St. Paul's famous declaration: 'All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient. All things are lawful for me, but all things edify not.' It is certainly not expedient for any Republican to talk about strikes in 1904."

NICHOLAS FULL OF FIGHT

Russian Czar Will Raise a Second Great Army to Hurl Against the Japs.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 26.—The emperor is personally convinced that the political as well as the military prestige of the empire is at stake, and that every other consideration must give way before the exigencies of war. The resources of the empire in men and money must be drained, if necessary, in order to turn the scale and vindicate the power of Russia.

The creation of a new Manchurian army amounts to formal notice to the world, as the emperor frankly explains in his rescript, that he intends to vastly increase the number of troops at the theater of war in order to force the struggle to a successful issue in the shortest possible time. It is intended to silence definitely all talk of foreign intervention by the announcement that Russia means to fight out the issue with Japan on the field of battle.

Probably three hundred thousand additional men will be placed in the field. Five corps—the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Eighth and Sixteenth—are already destined for the front, and the talk is that five more corps will be sent forward.

Eventually the creation of this second army involves the selection of a commander-in-chief. Not only is there no intimation in the rescript that Gen. Kuropatkin will have command of both armies, but he is distinctly placed upon the same footing as General Grippenberg. In the best informed circles there is little idea that Viceroy Alexieff, the present nominal commander-in-chief, will exercise the actual functions of commander of the six hundred thousand or seven hundred thousand men that Russia has resolved to put in the field.

It is the best opinion that Grand Duke Nicholas Michaelovitch, inspector general of cavalry, will attain the high command, occupying in the war with Japan the position held by his father in the war with Turkey. There are various reports regarding Viceroy Alexieff's ultimate destiny. It is declared in some quarters that he will be recalled and Grand Duke Nicholas become viceroy as well as commander-in-chief. It is also said upon apparent equal authority that Alexieff will return as chancellor of the empire, succeeding Count Lamsdorff. None of these reports are definitely confirmed.

BAR ASSOCIATION MEETS

Eminent Lawyers From All Over the Country Meet at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 26.—The largest and most representative gathering in the history of the American Bar association convened here today. Among those present were Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court, Hon. John W. Foster and Sir William Kennedy, chief justice of the high court of England. Among the questions to be discussed is the decision in the "Alaska boundary case."

Merchants' Show Windows.

The merchants of the city are taking a great deal of pride in presenting to the public their ideas in regard to decorating their show windows with Yakima county products. In some of these windows the finest display of fruit and vegetables has been made and crowds are constantly seen congregating around them admiring luscious apples, pears, peaches, grapes and other varieties of fruit and also garden vegetables.

Attention should be called to the display in the windows of Fred Maillaux, George Cary, John Ditter, Green Mercantile Company, A. B. Pearson. The dry goods merchants, clothiers and shoe dealers have also taken extra pains with their window decorations.

G. F. McAuley of North Yakima, democratic candidate for county attorney, was in the city Saturday, giving the boys the glad hand. He was the first of the county candidates to show up in Prosser.—Prosser Bulletin.

Mrs. M. E. Merwin came down from North Yakima Tuesday for a short visit to her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Merwin. She decided that they got into a good place in coming to Prosser.—Prosser Bulletin.

With this, its initial issue, The Daily Democrat makes its bow to the public. We have not the usual story to tell that it has come to fill a long felt want, that it has come to stay, etc. We do promise, however, that it will stay as long as it receives a reasonable support from the public—a support that the paper will endeavor to earn.

The infant is a Democrat, as a matter of course. It will advocate the principles of the democratic party and the election of the democratic ticket, national, state and county. It will do this, not for the purpose of boosting anybody or lambasting anybody but purely as a matter of principle.

Our friends who feel interested in the welfare of the new paper can do much if they choose to help it along. Speak a good word for it and when you know of an item of news give it to one of our reporters; or if you fail to see one make use of the telephone. We want the news—we must have it.

The Daily Democrat starts off with a liberal subscription and advertising patronage. We desire to increase both, however, just as rapidly as possible. With this end in view a large number of free sample copies will be distributed for the first few days in order that the public, particularly the people of this city, may see the new publication and judge whether or not they wish it served to them every morning for breakfast.

The Republic says that The Democrat is attacking Mr. H. B. Rigg, republican nominee for superior judge, and that its editor has a personal grudge against the judicial candidate. This is about as near the truth as our contemporary usually gets, especially in campaign time. In the first place the editor of this journal has no grudge against Mr. Rigg, either personal or political. Our relations with Mr. Rigg have been, and we hope will continue to be, pleasant. The candidate for judge is a genial fellow and we have nothing of a personal nature against him, and the Republic has no right to assume anything of the kind.

In the editorial in last week's Democrat in which we discussed mildly the candidacy of Mr. Rigg we merely suggested that the office of superior judge is a most exalted one, as that officer virtually exercises control over the lives, the liberty and the property of the people, and that it therefore behooves the people to have a care as to whom they would hand over such tremendous authority. As for Mr. Rigg we merely said that he was young and comparatively inexperienced, and that under the circumstances he ought not to be elected as against a man so well qualified for the judicial office as is E. B. Preble.

If the editor of the Republic or any one else wishes to disagree with this statement it is their privilege to do so. We can't help it. We will continue to tell the truth, or at least what we think is the truth.

Judge Parker's letter of acceptance is an able paper. On the question of imperialism the democratic candidate strikes straight from the shoulder. On the tariff and trust issue Judge Parker shows himself to be fully abreast with the best sentiment of the party and is in thorough agreement with the St. Louis platform.

Without being in any way offensive Judge Parker calls public attention to the usurpations of the executive on the legislative and judicial departments of the government. He also criticizes the policy of extravagance that marks the Roosevelt administration.

Taken all in all, Judge Parker's letter of acceptance is a valuable paper and should be read carefully by every voter. The Democrat will review the letter more fully in a future issue.

David Bennett Hill showed himself at the Saratoga convention to be not only a pretty thorough democrat, but a good deal of a man when he assisted in nominating as the party candidate for governor a gentleman who had been his bitter personal enemy for a period of nearly twenty years. When Hill was convinced that Herrick was the strongest man in sight and the logical candidate he not only withdrew all opposition but went into the convention and made the nominating speech for Herrick himself.

Hill may be a mighty mean man; as the Republican press are fond of proclaiming, but if he is the fact remains that he gained a most important and manly victory over himself in this case and the republican papers ought to be fair enough to give him credit for it.

Everybody in Yakima should attend the fair. Go and see the fine cattle and other stock; the fancy chickens, the big pumpkins and the magnificent display of fruit in the pavilion and when you have seen all these things you will find plenty to interest you the remainder of your time on the race course.

Remember that the fair has cost somebody a great deal of time and work, to say nothing of worry. And it takes all of these things to make a fair in addition to a good deal of money—more than our commissioners ever have at their disposal.

Let everybody attend the fair. If you can't go every day go at least one day.

If the entire hop crop of the Yakima valley this year could be sold at present prices it would mean that in the neighborhood of $800,000 would pass into the growers' hands. However, a considerable portion of the crop has been sold for a much lesser price than current quotations. Making due allowance for this fact, it is likely that the crop will still bring in a minimum sum of not less than $500,000. This amount in fact is probably altogether too low an estimate, but it is just as well to be conservative. This vast amount of money much of which will enter into local circulation, will help some.

The verdict of "not guilty," rendered by the jury at Spokane last Saturday in the case of Mrs. Jannette Harris of this city, accused of murdering her illegitimate grandchild, is an act of mercy tempered with justice. The jury said that she was insane when she committed the act and unquestionably she was. Surely her troubles were enough under the circumstances to have driven any ordinary woman to madness. Justice has not been robbed in this case for the unfortunate woman has suffered and must continue to suffer. The Spokane jury did the right thing.

The Republic thinks that Sheriff Grant should be turned out of office in this county because the expense account of that official is larger than that of his predecessor. If this is good argument in Grant's case why is it not equally good in the case of President Roosevelt? The three years of Roosevelt's administration have been by long odds the most expensive in the history of the nation. In order to be consistent the Republic should be in favor of turning Teddy out.

Hon. George Turner, democratic nominee for governor, will address the people of North Yakima Tuesday evening, Oct. 11. He should, and doubtless will, receive a rousing reception for aside from the righteousness of the cause that he is now pleading, Judge Turner has always been an exceedingly popular man with the people of the Yakima valley.

Three years of Roosevelt's administration has cost the country the enormous sum of $250,000,000 more than four years of McKinley's administration cost, including the expense of the Spanish war and the purchase of the Philippines. Rooseveltism spells extravagance run riot.—Commoner.

If this number of The Daily Democrat reaches you and does not bear the stamp "Sample Copy," you can make up your mind that if you have not subscribed for the paper that some friend has been kind enough to do so for your benefit.

Owing to a lack of help in our mechanical department, due to a scarcity of printers in town, the initial number of The Daily Democrat is not as complete as we would like to have it and will as soon as we have the daily system better organized.

A large number of sample copies of The Daily Democrat are sent out this morning, especially in this city. If you like the paper give us your subscription and let us send it to you regularly. If you fail to see one of our solicitors leave your orders at the office or call up phone No. 991.

The Wenatchee Advance has recently been purchased by J. L. Corey, an experienced newspaper man who announces that the Advance will again become a democratic paper. The Advance is the leading paper of Chelan county, and here's hoping that it will prosper.

If you want The Daily Democrat to visit you regularly and fail to see one of our solicitors, just phone in your order. Mail it or bring it in. Anyway will do, just so your name ornaments our subscription books.

The Daily Democrat starts off with a very fair subscription list, which is being increased rapidly day by day. Local business men if they wish to reach the people should lose no time in being represented in its columns.

Ex-President Grover Cleveland has a long article in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post on the subject of fishing. Grover ought to be good authority on a topic of that kind.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS

C. W. Clausen, Republican Nominee for State Auditor, a Man With a History.

The Spokesman-Review has been delving into ancient history and has dug up the record of C. W. Clausen, republican candidate for state auditor, which was published in last Sunday's issue of that paper. Mr. Clausen, it seems, was once clerk of the district and circuit courts of Worth county, Iowa, and was found to be short in his accounts. The board of supervisors ordered an investigation made of his office with the result that a shortage amounting to $636.36 was found to exist. The following is a certified copy of the official proceedings of the Worth county board of supervisors in disposing of the case:

April 4th, 1883.

"Third day, forenoon.
"The board convened as per adjournment.

"Members all present.

"Report of the investigating committee, George F. Wattson, L. L. Carter and Elling Nelson, appointed at the last session of the board to examine and report the financial condition of the office of the clerk of the courts. Was taken up and was found to show, as appears by the books of said office, a deficit of $633.36.

"On motion, report of said committee was accepted and committee was discharged, whereupon the following preamble and resolution was adopted by the board, to-wit:

"Whereas, The committee appointed to examine books of the late clerk of the district and circuit courts, C. W. Clausen, find the sum of $633.36 is still in the hands of said clerk as appears from the books of his office unaccounted for, and the sum of $93 has been expended to complete unfinished work in said office; be it,

"Resolved, That the bondsmen of said C. W. Clausen be required to pay into the hands of K. Cleophas, treasurer, said sums or any other sums found for which they are holders, to be paid to the respective parties to whom it may be long."

"State of Iowa, Worth county, ss:

"I, Iver Iverson, Jr., auditor in and for Worth county, Iowa, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing instrument is a true and correct record of the proceedings of the board of supervisors at regular April, 1883, session as shown by supervisors' record No. 2, on page 551 and 552.

Seal) "IVER IVERSON, JR.,
County Auditor of Worth County, Iowa."

The Review account adds that subsequently Mr. Clausen settled the amount of the shortage with his bondsmen and then left that part of the country. He has resided for a number of years past at Port Orchard and is now county treasurer of Kitsap county. He was nominated for state auditor at the republican state convention held at Tacoma May 11.

MEETING OF FUNERAL MEN

Undertakers Gather in North Yakima Today and Hold Convention at 10 A. M. in Odd Fellows Hall.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Sept. 26.—The program for the third annual meeting of the Washington State Funeral Directors' association, to be held at North Yakima, September 27, 28 and 29, has been issued by President J. W. Cookerly of this city.

The convention, as in the past, will be held for the educational advantages and good fellowship, to be followed by the examination for embalmers under the direction of the state board of health on Friday, September 30.

Professor W. P. Hohenschuh of Iowa City has been secured to deliver several lectures and make demonstrations. A question box will be one of the interesting features of the meeting, and all questions will be answered and discussed.

Undertakers living in Oregon and Idaho are invited to attend. Reduced rates have been secured over most of the railroads. The lectures and demonstrations are free to all members in good standing of the Pacific Northwest Funeral Directors' association, as a merger between the two bodies will be perfected at this meeting.

The officers are as follows: President, J. W. Cookerly, Walla Walla; vice president, W. M. Mock, Whatcom; treasurer, C. L. Hoska, Tacoma; secretary, H. L. Reid, Centralia; executive committee, A. Turnbull, Spokane; G. M. Butterworth, Seattle, and J. H. Scott, Ellensburg.

Yakima Jones at Wenatchee.

The speech of Congressman Jones in Columbia theater on Thursday night was not by any means an able address. Jones is not a brilliant thinker—he is simply a plain farmer-like advocate, who is in politics because—like Joshua—he can't get into anything else.

His entire speech, while not sarcastic in the sense of bitter denunciations and epithetic phrases, as for instance "Nash and Custer's" bawdy gusto on Saturday night, it was that of an extremist, an opportunist and an apologist by Providence sort of a talk, rather than the language of a thinker.

Jones dodged the state campaign till the audience had grown tired. He made no mention of Farrell's machine made rules which ignored all parliamentary procedure, as of custom, and adopted planks ignoring the mention of a railroad commission which the PEOPLE of Washington want.

And when Jones says Mead is as able a man as Turner he not only speaks an absolutely, truthfully contradictory statement (and he knows it), but he bids criticism and comparison of the character, ability and temperament of these two men, which in analogy is always favorable to Judge Turner. When Jones says Mead will sign a railroad commission bill if it is handed to him he well knows he won't have it handed to him by any legislature which John D. Farrell, for the railroads, controls.

When Jones says that if Turner is elected, and a republican legislature is also elected, that legislature will not pass a railroad commission bill to give a democrat the privilege of appointing that commission, he shows partizan vinegar not often exhibited in a commonwealth—and how can he make the people believe that his party is sincere, and would give to eastern Washington or any other part of the state, a chance for her representatives to redeem the promises of their party platforms, and those made by their speakers from the rostrum?—Wenatchee Advance.

The Truth About Irrigation.

Secretary Shaw, who is so far in the west that he can not look back to his office in Washington and see a $50,000,000 deficit, is seemingly as careless of his facts as he is of his figures. In one of his western speeches he attempted to show that the republicans in congress were not the democrats, deserve the credit for the support given to irrigation measures. Irrigation is of such vast importance to the west that Secretary Shaw realized the need of laying some claim that his party is entitled to all the credit for the irrigation laws. The facts are just the opposite to what Secretary Shaw claimed. The democrats not only inaugurated the national irrigation movement, but they furnished the votes to enact it into law. More democrats voted for the national irrigation law than republicans. The figures are as follows: Democrats for, 77; republicans for, 69. Democrats against, 13; republicans against, 42. The democrats voted six to one for the law; republicans voted three to five against it. Secretary Shaw either knows these facts and is trying to deceive, or he is too careless in his statements to be deserving of credence.—The Comommer.

The Rubber Stamp Man.

If a business man sees fit to daub his noteholds and envelopes with a rubber stamp and thus lead outsiders to think that here are no printers in town, he ought to be assaulted, thinks an exchange. Such a man as that, when he comes to die, should have his obituary and the usual resolutions of his lodge printed on a board fence with a rubber stamp. When he has a baby at his home or a party, or a son or daughter married, a full account of the important event might be printed on a sheet of wrapping paper and tacked on his front door. Come to think of it, there is no end of uses a rubber stamp can be put to in the hands of an enterprising and economical man.

THE HOP SITUATION

The Yield in the Puyallup Yards
25 Per Cent Less Than Last Year—Estimate of the World's Crop.

Commenting on the hop situation locally and generally, the Puyallup Tribune, which is a very fair authority, says:

Hop picking is practically completed in all except a few of the largest yards, and these will be pretty well finished by tonight. The picking season this year has been shorter than usual. The excellent weather prevailing has permitted uninterrupted work. Moreover, the supply of pickers has been abundant, many more whites having come out this year than in past seasons to assist in gathering the crop.

Now that the yield is fairly well known, both growers and brokers unite in saying that it will not exceed three-fourths of the crop produced last year. In other words, the Puyallup Valley will ship approximately 9,000 bales as compared with 12,000 bales a year ago.

Eastern, European and Pacific Coast reports show a shortage of about 115,000 bales in the world's visible supply of hops, thus explaining the present active market demand. In California, where picking is all completed, it is said that five-sixths of the crop has been sold, while in Oregon fully one-half of the crop is already out of the grower's hands. In Washington very few sales have yet been made aside from hops previously contracted. But one deal is reported from Yakima at 27 cents, and an 800-bale deal has been made in Western Washington hops at 23 1/4 @ 26 1/4 cents.

Under the caption of "Why Hops are Strong," the Tribune furnishes the following estimate of the total 1904 crop:

Oregon crop 1904	75,000
Washington crop	30,000
California crop	60,000
New York crop	65,000

Total American crop	230,000
American consumption	219,000

American surplus	20,000
Estimated old stock	25,000

Total available for export	45,000
Cwt.	700,000

English consumption	700,000
Total English crop	350,000

English shortage (235,000-350,000)	115,000
American surplus	20,000
Continental exportable surplus	75,000
American exportable surplus	45,000

Total exportable surplus	120,000
England's shortage	235,000
Available from outside countries	120,000
Deficiency	115,000

Important Questions for Men

Do you feel weak? Have you headache? Do you shun society? Are you losing flesh? Do you sleep poorly? Are you low spirited? Are your eyes sunken? Do you have hot flashes? Are you easily exhausted? Is your memory poor? Do you have sick headache? Is there nausea after eating? Do you hands and feet wet? Are you unfit for marriage? Has the brightness left your eyes? All of these symptoms are nature's warning of approaching danger and loss of manhood, and those who suffer from many of them should consult a reliable specialist at once.

WEAKNESS.

A great many patients seeking relief from so-called "weakness" are healthy and robust men. On examination we find a prostate gland which has been damaged either by gonorrhea, syphilis, or early dissipation, or self abuse. Premature ejaculations, loss of vitality, lost manhood, etc., are the symptoms of prostatitis, and by restoring the prostate gland we cure this disorder to stay cured in from ten to twenty days.

It should be understood that tonics, electric belts, etc., only stimulate the sexual organs for a short time, and causing the inflammation to increase, and the patient is left in a more and more weakened condition than ever before. Our system of local treatment will cure the worst cases of so-called "weakness" in the shortest possible time. We do not employ any stimulants or tonics in any form.

Men who have been unsuccessfully treated for "weakness" should understand the cause of failure and consult us at once. We especially invite those who have taken treatment and have not been cured, to consult us.

STRICTURE.

Is one of the most dreaded ailments of men; it is caused by the improper treatment in Gonorrhea.

Our method of treatment consists of mild and absolutely painless treatments.
We do not employ the use of sounds and the knife, which only tend to make you worse. We can cure any case of stricture, no matter how long standing or how severe the case may be.

SYPHILIS.

Syphilis or "Blod Poison" has baffled the efforts of physicians for centuries, and has been regarded as "incurable."

We have the only known cure for Syphilis. We do not employ poisonous drugs and chemicals, which are in themselves worse than the disease, but use a mild vegetable remedy, which cleans the system of the slightest taint of the disease. We positively guarantee a cure in every case, no matter how long standing.

GONORRHOEA

Gonorrhea is often regarded by young men as a trifling disease, not needing specially good treatment. But remember, young man, the disease does not stop at this point, but Stricture, Lost Manhood, General Debility and kindred diseases are sure to follow if not properly treated.

Our treatment consists of a thoroughly irrigation which cleanses the neck of the bladder and the bladder itself.

We cure Gonorrhea in from five to fifteen days to stay cured.

GLEET.

Gleet is a Chronic Gonorrhea, resulting from poor and improper treatment in the primary stage of the disease.

It requires the most scientific and skillful treatment to cure Gleet.

We permanently cure Gleet and especially invite those whom others have failed to cure to come to us. We will not charge you a cent if we fail to cure you.

VARIOCELE

We cure Varicocele without an operation. Our method of treatment is original with us and is not employed by and other physicians. We guarantee a cure in every case, or no pay.

Chronic Diseases

tism, gout, heart disease, kidney disease, disease of the liver, disease of the throat trouble, ovary trouble, backache, pains in the chest, or any chronic and seemingly incurable trouble; if you are suffering from any of them call and be examined absolutely free of charge.

REMEMBER, when we say free of charge we mean FREE; we do not make any misleading statements.

Wilson's Inconsistency.

"John L. Wilson, my old colleague, through his Post-Intelligencer, is vigorously proclaiming that I am a chronic office seeker and should not succeed in this election. This sounds very funny, coming from Mr. Wilson, who has been an open and avowed candidate for congress of the United States at every election since Washington was admitted as a state.

"It is charged that I am in the employment of a railway company at an enormous salary. While this is not true in any sense of the word, I will say this, that if I were in the employ of any or all the railways in this state, at the most princely salary, these railway companies would command only my legal services. They could not control my duty as a citizen or official to the people and they could not command my conscience."—Speech of Judge Turner at Republic.

Long Dominancy and Corruption.

"In spite of some excesses of feeling and mistakes of judgment the Democratic heart beats true to the essential principles of the republic as it was created by the sublime declaration and ordained by our incomparable constitution. In spite of their intelligence and energy the Republican leaders are losing sight of their fidelity to both. Even the errors of the Democrats lead to virtue's side, while the very virtues of the Republicans are beginning to be sickled over with the pale east of corruption and absolutism. This is not because the Democrats are Democrats or the Republicans are Republicans. The label has little to do with it. It is because the nature of long dominancy tends first to corruption, and then, threatened with exposure, to tyranny."—Henry Watterson to Democratic editors.
