CONDITIONS COVERING ALTERATIONS or EXTRA WORK—This quotation is based upon work performed according to original specification submitted. If through customer's error, or change of mind, any work has to be altered or done over a second time, all additional labor involved is classified as "extra work" and will be charged for in addition to quotation submitted. The term "extra work" may be applied to any operation that we have to do over the second time at a customer's request. It may consist of changes in original copy that requires resetting of type matter, additional or extra negatives, alterations on art work, layouts, photographs, engravings or offset plates. Brownlines made from negatives and press proofs, when requested by customers are also classified as "extra work."
