PREFACE.

OUR FLORAL HAND-BOOK has been received with unexpected favor. We now present a revised and much improved edition. In its preparation the best authorities have been consulted. The vocabulary of the Language of Flowers has been much enlarged, and all that care can do has been done to render it in every respect correct.

Flowers, from the earliest ages, have been associated with the tender sentiments of the heart, and thus have often been the means of telling the tale which words dare not speak. They too have been a source of poetic inspiration, and poetry of all ages has found images of joy and beauty

"In the bright consummate flower."

Hence we offer no apology for inserting throughout this little book a few gems of song, which we have culled to please and instruct our readers.

"Flowers are the brightest things which earth
On her broad bosom loves to cherish;
Gay they appear as children's mirth,
Like fading dreams of hope they perish.

By them the lover tells his tale;
They can his hopes, his fears express;
The maid, when looks or words would fail,
Can thus a kind return confess.

Then, lady, let the wreath we bring
For thee a wreath of beauty twine,
And as the blossoms deck the spring,
So every tender wish be thine."

Boston, January 1, 1870.

Deeds are fruits; words are but leaves.

Flowers are the brightest things of earth. — London.

Home Treatment of Family Diseases.

In cases of serious sickness a physician should always be called by any family.

Common diseases, that are of frequent occurrence in nearly every family are caused by disorders of the liver, stomach or bowels. They are colds, coughs, indigestion, headache, side and backache, rheumatic pains, diarrhoea, biliousness, chills and fever and many others. If a physician is called the fee is the same as in case of serious sickness, and his prescription is usually calomel and quinine.

Thedford's Black-Draught.

By fifty years successful use Thedford's Black-Draught has demonstrated that it is as efficient, and much less expensive, in the treatment of liver, stomach and bowel diseases than the doctor's prescription. It is always ready in any emergency and every member of the family knows how to administer it. It is adapted to the children as well as grown people, and is good for stock and poultry as well as human beings. It will save any family many dollars in doctors' bills, and by discreet use as a preventative, many cases of sickness every year.

From S. P. Thompson, of Burleson,
Johnson Co., Texas.

For the past five years Black-Draught powders have been in my house, but no doctor. Doctors' bills and Black-Draught don't go together.

The first step to greatness is to be honest.

ECLIPSES FOR THE YEAR 1870.
In 1870 there will be four Eclipses of the Sun, and two of the Moon, — all invisible in our Atlantic States.
The small Solar Eclipses on January 31 and June 28, may be seen in high Southern, and that on July 28 in high Northern, latitudes; but the fourth, on December 22, will be central, and total near Cadiz and Constantinople, in Algiers and Sicily, in which the spectacle will be magnificent.
The Eclipses of the Moon on January 17 and July 12, will be "total." The beginning of the former may be seen in our Pacific States, and the end of the latter in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

A NEW DISCOVERY

Mineral Grass or Iron Plant.

This is a peculiar plant growing to perfection on the Pacific coast, where it is watered by the spray from the ocean breakers. It is an annual and contains an abundance of mineral properties which are changed or vegetableized in the growth of the plant. It is the wonderful vitalizing or life-giving properties of this plant, incorporated in the Washington Chemical Company's medicines, that give them the supremacy they so justly merit. one bottle of Washington Blood Purifier curing severe cases of sciatic rheumatism; also curing cases of kidney trouble, where the feet and limbs were swollen to the knees, with one bottle of Washington kidney cure, and cases of nervous prostration with one bottle of Nerve Tonic. Read testimonials which follow.

From J. W. Hays, of Waxahachie, Ellis Co., Texas.

I have been using Thedford's Black-Draught for about ten years, and consider it the best family medicine in the world.

MY SWEETHEART'S THE MAN IN THE MOON.

Copyright by Frank Harding.
Music for Sale at Music Stores.

Everybody has a sweetheart underneath the rose,
Everybody loves a body, so the old song goes.
I've a sweetheart, you all know him, just as well as me;
Every evening I can see him shortly after tea.

CHORUS.

My sweetheart's the man in the moon,
I'm going to marry him soon,
'Twould fill me with bliss just to give him one kiss,
But I know a dozen I never would miss;
I'll go up in a great big balloon,
And see my sweetheart in the moon,
When behind some dark cloud,
Where no one is allowed,
I'll make love to the man in the moon.

I have often wondered where he spends his time all day,
Perhaps he has another sweetheart many miles away,
May be some sweet, dark-hair'd maiden daily he does woo,
But as long as I don't catch him, I'll believe him true.

CHORUS.

Last night while the stars brightly shone,
He told me through love's telephone,
That when we were wed, he'd go early to bed,
And never stay out with the boys, so he said,
We are going to marry next June,
The wedding takes place in the moon,
A sweet little Venus, we'll fondle between us,
When I wed my old man in the moon.

A BEAUTIFUL WALLET FREE. Send Ten Cents to the Chattanooga Medicine Company for a trial package of Thedford's Black-Draught, a large two-pocket gentleman's wallet, and a song book different from this one.

From T. J. Rains, Esq., of Adams Station, Hinds Co., Miss.

I have been using Thedford's Black-Draught for twelve years, and I think it is the very best liver medicine in the world, with no exception.

Liver Complaint.

The ordinary meaning of the term liver complaint is a chronic disease of that organ resulting from neglect to treat temporary derangements.

The disease manifests itself by enlargement of the organ, by a pain in the right side, back or shoulder blade by light, grayish stools, a heavily coated tongue, brown spots on the hands and body, chilly sensations, difficulty of breathing, a puffed feeling, dizziness, numbness of hands and feet, rheumatic pains in the joints and muscles.

Black-Draught Treatment.

If any of the above symptoms are noticed stop eating, take a large dose of Thedford's Black-Draught at night, and the second night after, another. If there are chilly sensations, take fifteen or twenty grains of quinine the day after taking the Black-Draught, but in small doses every other day. The diet should be coarse articles of food and milk, but no pastry. A tub bath every day will aid recovery. Tobacco and stimulants cause many cases of Liver Complaint.

This simple treatment, if adopted when symptoms of liver troubles first appear, would prevent cases of sickness in nearly every family. It never fails.

From Jacob Foreman, of Truro, Madison Co., Iowa.

I take about a sixth part of a tea-spoonful of Black-Draught dry powders after each meal, and it keeps my bowels regular and makes the food digest. I believe it is the best vegetable medicine in the world, and mean just what I say.

MINERAL GRASS COMPOUND
FOR THE BLOOD.

THE LIVER,

THE GREAT GLAND OF WASTE

When this great gland of waste is performing its proper functions it is filtering the poison-loaded bile out of the system and discharging part of it from the body. When the polygonical masses, or small particles the liver is composed of, become bad, then the poison-loaded bile passes through into the general circulation and begins its poisonous work. Through the circulation of the blood it is carried to every part of the body, undermining the health, clouding the brain, weakening the heart's action and destroying the elasticity of the tissues. Eventually the poison begins to accumulate at the skin, the kidneys and the bronchial tubes or the lungs, until at last it fastens itself upon the nerve centers and poisons the nerve fibers and may present itself in some part of the body far away from the liver; but when the affection is carefully diagnosed by an experienced physician it is found that the whole trouble arose from a stagnation or congestion of the liver. Back of that the original causes may be climatic influence, miasmatic or malarial poisons, exposure, improper food, mental strain, deep sorrowing, intemperance, etc., etc.

TO CURE LIVER DISEASE.

Use Washington Blood Purifier, a medicine that contains the Mineral Grass or Iron Plant, and is based on purely scientific principles. It raises the moisture in the stomach and liver, overcoming any inflammation or congestion of the digestive and nutritive or assimilating organs, promoting the flow of bile into the duodenum, thereby aiding digestion; also lubricating the fecal matter in the intestinal canal, overcoming constipation and building up the leucocytes or life germs of the blood, giving elasticity to the tissues, renewing the nerve forces, bringing back to the skin the healthy glow of youth, brightening up the mental faculties, enabling one to enjoy his full

From Mr. Sylvan Morris, Lometa, Lampasas Co., Texas.

My wife has suffered terribly with neuralgia, caused by irregular menstruation, for several years. During the past year her health has been greatly improved by the use of McElree's Wine of Cardui. She has a good appetite and is gaining strength rapidly.

I WHISTLE AND WAIT FOR KATIE.

After business you will find me
Ev'ry night as sure as fate,
At the corner of the street here,
Waiting for my bonnie Kate.
Her papa has quite forbidden,
Young men to the house to go,
In consequence of which I whistle,
Just to let my true love know.

CHORUS—I am waiting here to greet
Blue-eyed Kate with kisses sweet;
Every night at the end of the street
I whistle and wait for Katie

You may think it awkward, standing
In a busy street like this;
But I'm sure you would not mind it,
Could you meet so sweet a Miss.
Of course I wait till all is silent,
See there's no one passing by
Before I venture on the whistle
Known alone to "Katie and I." —CHO.

How her father means to take it,
When he hears the news, forsooth.
I wonder what he'll say to Katie,
When he learns it is the truth.
I've at least this consolation,
That my heart is just and right,
So therefore I shall fondly whistle
For my Katie ev'ry night.

If you need advice as to the proper way to treat any disease that you are afflicted with, send 25 cents to Rev. R. L. McElree, St. Elmo, Tenn., and get the book on "Home Treatment of Female Diseases." It will give you more information than you will ever get from your doctor.

From T. J. Work, of Brooks, St. Clair Co., Ill.

I got a bottle of your medicine for my wife, and she took it for sick headache, and it cured her. I never believed in such medicine before, but this is no humbug and does what you recommend.

Sick Headache.

A disordered stomach is sometimes accompanied by an excitement of the nerves which produces headache, usually in temples, eyes, top or front part of the head. It is characterized by sick stomach and vomiting, and lasts from one hour to two or three days. In some people it occurs periodically, in others it follows over-eating, indigestion or anything that deranges the stomach.

Black-Draught Treatment.

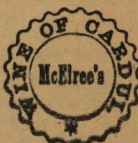

The success of Black-Draught in this disease is phenomenal.

If subject to periodical attacks, take a dose of the powders, dry, on retiring, the night before the expected attack. If indigestion causes it, carry the powders in your pocket, and take a pinch when you feel symptoms of disordered stomach. If attacked, take a full dose of Black-Draught and repeat in three hours if not relieved.

Don't be skeptical about this simple treatment, because other medicines have failed. It has relieved thousands of cases.

From Mrs. Viny Marshall, of Conway, Fla.

I have suffered with sick headache for ten years, and have used but one package of Theodor's Black-Draught and haven't had the headache since the first dose.

WASHINGTON KIDNEY CURE

THE GREAT MINERAL GRASS COMPOUND FOR THE KIDNEYS

Is most remarkable. It is an active tonic and a most potent diuretic of a peculiar character. Its tonic power is manifest when this remedy is administered in cases of irritation of the bladder and kidneys and in mucous irritation of the uterus and vaginal cavity, and in incontinence of urine and cases of debility of the pelvic viscera. It is energetic in dissolving gravel deposits in the bladder and kidneys and where the glands are enlarged they will resume their normal condition.

It is mild in its action as a diuretic and is purely vegetable. The lithia that it contains has GREAT POWER as a solvent of uric acid, eliminating it from the system, neutralizing the acidity of the urine and acting as a diuretic and solvent. It relieves

MAGGIE BY MY SIDE.

The land of my home is flitting,
Flitting from my view;
A gale in the sails is sitting,
Toil the merry crew.
Here let my home be, on the water's tide;
I roam with a proud heart, Maggie's by my side.

CHORUS

My own love! Maggie dear, sitting by my side,
Maggie dear! my own love! sitting by my side.

The wind howling o'er the billow
From the distant lea,
The storm raging round my pillow,
Bring no care to me.
Roll on, ye dark waves, o'er the troubled tide;
I heed not your anger, Maggie's by my side.

—CHO.

Storms can appal me never,
While her brow is clear;
Fair weather lingers ever,
Where her smiles appear.
When sorrow's breakers round my heart shall bide,
Still may I find her sitting by my side. —CHO.

I was wasting, and had been so, until I got so weak I could scarcely walk across the house. My husband got me a bottle of McElree's Wine of Cardui. I took two doses and got up next morning with all ease and got breakfast. I feel grateful for the wonderful medicine.

From John Fernow, of Robbins, Linn Co., Iowa.

I have been using your Black-Draught powders for liver complaint and biliousness, and find them up to the first standard. I am also bothered in making water, and find that a dose of Black-Draught helps me.

Biliousness and Bilious Colic.

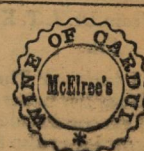

Torpid action of the liver, indigestion, exposure in bad weather, bad hygiene conditions, damp atmosphere, frequent changes in temperature, malarial poison and depressed condition of the bodily functions cause bilious attacks, the symptoms of which are pretty well understood by everybody. Irregular actions from the bowels—sometimes loose, at others constipated—unsatisfactory appetite, nausea, headache, feverish condition of the skin, coated and inflamed tongue, all indicate biliousness in many people.

Black-Draught Treatment.

Persons subject to attacks should regulate the bowels, liver and stomach by frequent small doses of Thedford's Black-Draught whenever symptoms of disorder appear. If attacked, purge the system thoroughly with the Black-Draught. Small doses taken in time will eradicate bilious colic. Everybody should guard against biliousness, and especially in climates where there are violent changes of temperature, by wearing woollen next to the skin, taking frequent cold water baths and exercising care in eating and drinking. Black-Draught will cure it, but permanent exemption requires hygienic precautions.

From J. M. Gapen, Esq., of Stockwell, Tippecanoe Co., Ind.

Last spring, a year ago, I had an attack of biliousness, and it kept hanging on in spite of two doctors that treated me. As soon as I commenced taking Black-Draught my appetite came back and my health has been good ever since.

Washington Kidney Cure for the kidneys is making thousands of sufferers well. It is a positive cure for kidney diseases; it relieves that weakness and pain in the back.

From L. D. Pangburn, Esq., New Virginia, Iowa.

WILLOW, TITWILLOW.

On a tree by a river a little tomtit
Sang "Willow, titwillow, titwillow!"
And I said to him, "Dicky-bird, why do you sit Singing, 'Willow, titwillow, titwillow'?"
"Is it a weakness of intellect, Birdie?" I cried,
"Or a rather tough worm in your little inside?"
With a shake of his poor little head he replied,
"Oh, willow, titwillow, titwillow!"

He slapped at his chest, as he sat on the bough.
Singing "Willow, titwillow, titwillow!"
And a cold perspiration bespangled his brow,
"Oh willow, titwillow, titwillow!"
He sobbed and he sighed, and a gurgle he gave,
Then he threw himself into the billowy wave,
And an echo arose from the suicide's grave—
"Oh willow, titwillow, titwillow!"

Now I feel just as sure as I'm sure that my name
Isn't "willow, titwillow, titwillow."
That 'twas blighted affection that made him exclaim,
"Oh willow, titwillow, titwillow!"
And if you remain callous and obdurate, I Shall perish as he did, and you will know why,
Though I probably shall not exclaim as I die,
"Oh willow, titwillow, titwillow!"

From Dr. J. T. Kee, Hazen, Prairie Co.,

I use your Thedford's Black-Draught altogether in my practice, with the best of success in colds and coughs of all descriptions; also for croup in infants.

From James Waldan, Esq., of Overton, Texas.

I have been subject to chill: every spring for nine years, but since I commenced using Thedford's Black-Draught eighteen months ago, I have not had a chill, and am now in the best of health.

Chills and Fever.

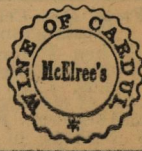

This most common of the intermittent fevers is, on that account, perhaps, the most dangerous. In places where the malarial agent, a physician is seldom called, it being generally known that quinine will stop the chills and that calomel is generally used to stimulate the action of the liver. The danger lies in the fact that the disease once established in the system, if not thoroughly eradicated, is likely to return during the life of the patient, whenever the system becomes debilitated from any cause. The stopping of the chills and fever is not sufficient, but all traces of disease should be eradicated before treatment is abandoned.

Black-Draught Treatment.

Take sufficient of a tea made from Theilford's Black-Draught powders to thoroughly purge the system. Commencing the next morning, twelve hours before an expected chill, take five grains of quinine every two hours until twenty grains are taken. The next day take fifteen grains, the third day ten grains. Should the chills return, take twenty grains of quinine as above every day until the chills are conquered. Keep the bowels open with Black-Draught until the chills are broken, then make some Black-Draught Bitters and add to each quart one-half ounce of quinine. Take one or more doses of this bitters every day for two months, and longer if you feel any symptoms of chills. No bad effects will follow this treatment as does the continued use of calomel.

From William Foster, of Buckner, Columbia Co., Ark.

I have used Thedford's Black-Draught in my family for twenty years, and have never had a case of chills in that time. As a preventative the world can not beat it.

The bud is in the bough

And Earth's beginning now

BURNETT'S COCAINE

Is superior to all animal oils in the following particulars:—

It is a cooling Vegetable Oil. (Animal oils are heating.)
Its rapid absorption leaves little residue on the surface.
(Animal oils do not possess this peculiarity in any great degree.)

It does not quickly become rancid. (Animal oils do.)
It imparts glossiness to the hair by its penetrating power, rather than by mere outward lustre. (The contrary is true with regard to animal oils.)

The inventors of Cocaine, knowing that animal oils—Bear's Grease, Pomades, &c.—induce heat rather than alleviate it, turned their attention and pharmaceutical science towards Vegetable Oils as the basis of a medication to promote the growth and preserve the beauty of the hair. The Oleum Cocos or presented itself most strongly as possessing many properties peculiarly adapted for the purpose; but its odor and density were objectionable, and seemed for a long time to defy all efforts to render it available for popular use. By a scientific selection of other ingredients, those which will chemically combine with the oil have been discovered, and they together have produced a topical compound which is unqualifiedly pronounced to be the best that has yet appeared.

In the form here presented, this oil is permanently deodorized, and held in a combination which peculiarly adapts it to the Toilet.

THE OLD SONGS.

I cannot sing the old songs
I sang long years ago,
For heart and voice would fail me
And foolish tears would flow ;
For bye-gone hours come o'er my heart
With each familiar strain :
I cannot sing the old songs,
Or dream those dreams again.

I cannot sing the old songs,
 Their charm is sad and deep:
 Their melodies would waken
 Old sorrows from their sleep.
 And tho' all unforgotten still,
 And sadly sweet they be,
 I cannot sing the old songs,
 They are too dear to me.

I cannot sing the old songs,
For visions come again
Of golden dreams departed
And years of weary pain:
Perhaps when earthly fetters shall
Have set my spirit free,
My voice may know the old songs,
For all eternity.

From Miss Celila Gillam, of Palmer,
Washington Co., Mo.

When I commenced the Wine of Cardui Treatment I weighed eighty-four pounds. I had missed ten months, and both of my physicians pronounced my case hopeless. Four bottles of Wine and a package of Black-Draught have brought me all right, and I weigh 134 lbs.

From W. D. Tarten, of Kimble, Russell Co., Ky.

Theford's Black-Draught is a great family medicine. For stomach troubles, hard colds and La Grippe it has no equal. It breaks up hard colds in a single night.

To Cure a Hard Cold.

Exposure in damp, rainy or cold weather, too sudden changes of temperature, sleeping in badly ventilated rooms, uncleanness and other causes, result in closing or contraction of the pores of the skin, through which much of the waste matter of the body escapes.

These outlets being closed, the waste matter is thrown back into the lungs and stomach. The lungs try to relieve themselves by coughing, the liver struggles under its increased burden, and the bowels are overloaded. These complications and others constitute a cold.

Black-Draught Treatment.

Take a dose of Thedford's Black-Draught to unload the bowels, an all-over hot-water bath, or at least a hot foot bath, to relax and open the pores of the skin; then take ten grains of quinine to control fever, and go to bed. When you waken in the morning your cold will be loose and broken. Keep warm and don't expose yourself for day or two. This treatment never fails if instructions are followed, and the attack is not complicated with other ailments. Keep the bowels free for a week with Black-Draught.

From Mrs. C. A. Simmons, of Chilton, Chilton Co., Ala.

My husband had a severe cold for three months, and we could get nothing to do him any good. The first dose he had taken of Thedford's Black-Draught relieved him. We think it the best medicine on earth.

Bone and Nerve Liniment. Instant relief for colic in horses and cattle.

If you want to know more about the Wine of Cardui Treatment than this book tells you, send 25 cents to Rev. R. L. McElree, St. Elmo, Tenn., and get a cloth-bound copy of his great book on "Home Treatment of Female Diseases." It will tell you many things that you ought to know.

ANNIE LAWRIE.

Maxwellton's banks are bonnie, where early falls the dew,
And 'twas there that Annie Lawrie gave me her promise true :

Gave me her promise true, and ne'r forget will I,
But for bonnie Annie Lawrie, I'd lay me down and die.

Her brow is like the snow-drifts, her throat is like the swan :

Her face is the fairest that e'er the sun shone on :
That e'er the sun shone on, and dark blue is her e'e :
And for bonnie Annie Lawrie I'd lay me down and die

Like the dew on the gowan lying, is the fa' o' her fairy feet.

And like winds in summer sighing, her voice is low and sweet:

Her voice is low and sweet, and she is a' the world to me.

And for bonnie Annie Lawrie, I'd lay me down and die.

From Dicy M. Doty, Elsberry, Lincoln
Co., Mo.

I have tried McElree's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught and have found them just what they are recommended. They are what every woman or girl afflicted with female diseases needs and should take without delay.

From J. V. Baugh, Esq., Cleveland, Tenn.

I am 58 years old. Had no appetite, couldn't sleep, and at times couldn't make water. I made some Black-Draught tea and took a dose after meals. After the fourth dose I could hardly wait for meal time.

Old People Need Medicine.

People who are fifty years old and over are in the prime of life, but the life functions are in their decline and should be assisted. Years of healthy old age may be added to most lives by proper treatment of ailments. Backache, stiff joints, rheumatic pains, numbness of the hands and feet, dizziness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, weakness of limbs and other unusual feelings are but symptoms of a changing condition, not necessarily alarming. They should not be allowed to continue unnoticed, but should be carefully treated.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT.

At no period of life is Black-Draught more useful than in later years, when the functions are sluggish, the blood thinner, the heart-beats slower, the liver and kidneys torpid, the bowels inactive and the stomach needs toning up. A pinch of Black-Draught powders after meals will be found a panacea for many ills. A purging dose will not shock the system, and a dose at bed-time will ensure restful sleep. McElree's Wine of Cardui every morning will add much to happiness and long life of men or women.

From Mrs. M. J. Forester, Fletcher,
Panola Co., Miss.

I have been a sufferer from pains at my monthly periods for ten years. I have used only one bottle of McElree's Wine of Cardui, and now have my monthly sickness without pain. Your medicine is the best in the world.

It is filled in elegant bottles of superior finish and beauty, — in themselves an ornament to any lady's toilet-table. It is offered at a small advance upon the prime cost, and at a price within the reach of every one. Without effort on our part, it has, in a brief time, attained a large and constantly increasing sale, confirming the opinion of the best judges, that it is equal, if not superior, to the celebrated Parfums.

One of the best Colognes ever made is Burnett's, of Boston. It is equal to the Parfums and is much cheaper. Full confidence can be given it. We speak from actual experience. — Baltimore American.

BURNETT'S COLOGNE is equal to the best imported. It is put up in a neat and elegant style, and wins for itself a favorite place on the dressing-table. Its intrinsic merits really justify the high reputation in which it is held. — Providence Journal.

BURNETT'S COLOGNE has attained a most enviable reputation. The article is of high proof, and is a refreshing perfume. — Boston Transcript.

DISEASE GERMS AND GERMICIDES

This is the day of classification of diseases by the identity of the germs that destroy the tissues of the human body. Germicides are medicines that have been found capable of destroying the life of the different disease germs. After extensive research the Washington Chemical Company finds that over 50 per cent. of all cutaneous affections or skin diseases are caused by microscopic germs that live in the skin and are solely contagious by superficial contact; also that a depleted condition of the blood is conducive to germ growth but not essential, and that the above diseases are only contagious to people of the same chemical composition; also that they may be transmitted down the ages through two hundred years at one transmis-

PATTEN'S GUM

From Mrs. Maggie Young, of St. Charles, Missouri.

After the birth of my second child, I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I commenced the Wine of Carrdui Treatment, and it helped me wonderfully at once.

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY.

A winning way, a pleasant smile,
Dressed so neat, but quite in style;
Merry chaff your time to while,
Has little Annie Rooney.
Every evening, rain or shine,
I make a call 'twixt eight and nine,
On her who shortly will be mine—
Little Annie Rooney.

CHORUS—She's my sweetheart! I'm her beau!
She's my Annie! I'm her Joe!
Soon we'll marry, never to part!
Little Annie Rooney is my sweetheart!

The parlor's small, but neat and clean,
And set with taste so seldom seen;
And you can bet the household queen
Is little Annie Rooney.
The fire burns cheerfully and bright,
As a family circle around each night
We form, and every one's delight
Is little Annie Rooney. —CHO.

We've been engaged close on a year,
The happy time is drawing near;
I'll wed the one I love so dear—
Little Annie Rooney.
My friends declare I'm in a jest;
But one who knows its value best,
Is little Annie Rooney. —CHO.

FOR TEN CENTS.—On receipt of 10 cents in postage stamps we will send a trial package of Thedford's Black-Draught, an imitation leather-bound wallet, and No. 1, 2, 3 or 4 Lookout Mountain Songs ter. This is to enable persons to try the medicine before buying.

McElree's

BLACK-DRAUGHT TEA.

From L. G. Ramsey, Esq., of St. Joe, Montague Co., Texas.

One year ago my family all had La Grippe. I sent for a quart of whisky, and put a package of the Black-Draught powders in it, and it cured us all. I am 60 years old, and think Black-Draught the best medicine ever brought to the state of Texas.

Black-Draught Bitters.

Buy a quart of the best whisky you can get. Put into it 25 cents worth of Black-Draught powders. Let it stand over night, strain through a cloth and wring the powders dry. Add sugar, spices and water to suit the taste. You can add a quart of water, and still the bitters will be stronger than any you can buy at $1 a pint. In malarial climates add half an ounce of quinine and you have the best chill tonic made.

Malaria and Fevers.

Take a dose of Black-Draught Bitters every morning. It will tone up the digestive organs, invigorate the liver and act gently on the bowels. It braces the system against attacks of malaria, chills and fever, colds, cholera, yellow fever and all contagious diseases, headache and biliousness. Good whisky is a good medicine when properly used. Much of the stuff sold as whisky is poison, and will ruin the stomach. Commercial bitters are made of very cheap whisky. Buy good whisky and make your own bitters.

From J. H. Smith, of South Macon, Georgia.

I have been troubled with chronic disease of the bowels every spring since I came home out of the war. This spring I have used Thedford's Black-Draught and have not missed a day from my shop on account of sickness this year.

sion. The comatose state of the germs is altogether dependent upon temperature, for, at a temperature of 100 degrees or that of the human body the germs become living identities; attacking the skin and reproducing themselves while at the common temperature of the atmosphere—usually about 60 or 70 degrees—they lay dormant for years—yes, ages. But, with a rise in temperature and under the same chemical conditions from whence they came, they reproduce themselves and the same diseases.

To this class of sufferers we advise the use of the Washington Eczema Ointment.

HERE WE WILL STATE THAT WE GUARANTEE A CURE OF ANY
AND ALL CLASSES OF SKIN DIS-EASES.

Where the Washington Blood Purifier, or Mineral Grass Compound, for the blood and the Eczema Ointment are used together, the blood purifier builds up the life germs of the blood and the Eczema Ointment destroys the life of all disease germs in the skin.

OLD ROSIN THE BEAU.

I've traveled the wide world over,
And now to another I'll go;
I know that good quarters are waiting
To welcome old Rosin the Beau;
To welcome old Rosin the Beau;
To welcome old Rosin the Beau;
I know that good quarters are waiting
To welcome old Rosin the Beau.

When I'm dead and laid out on the counter,
A voice you will hear from below,
Singing out "whisky and water"
To drink to old Rosin the Beau.

And when I'm dead, I reckon,
The ladies will want to, I know,
Just lift off the lid of my coffin,
And look at old Rosin the Beau.
And look, &c.

Then get you a couple of tombstones,
Place one at my head and my toe,
And do not fail to scratch on,
The name of old Rosin the Beau.

That cruel implacable foe,
Who spares neither age nor condition,

From A. J. Roads, Esq., of Gause, Milam Co., Texas.

I use Thedford's Black-Draught in my family as a "cure all" and give it to my stock as a "save all." It is good for people, horses, cattle, hogs, dogs and chickens.

From T. J. Shape, of Carrollton, Carroll Co., Ark.

My wife has been troubled with rheumatism for eight years. For some time past she has been using Thedford's Black-Draught, and the swelling has all left her limbs. Her hands are still weak, but she is improving every day.

Rheumatic Pains.

Neglect to treat liver complaint, indigestion and constipated bowels causes impure blood. It becomes thick and sluggish, the urine is high colored and muddy, the stomach, feet and hands puff up or bloat, and there are acute pains in the muscles and joints.

This condition will finally culminate in chronic rheumatism and probably Bright's disease of the kidneys, unless relieved by proper treatment.

Black-Draught Treatment.

The bowels should be thoroughly purged with a large dose of Thedford's Black-Draught.

The relief that follows should not deceive you into the belief that you are cured. Continue the Black-Draught in smaller doses; take a tub bath in hot water every day, followed by a shower of cold water if you can stand it; have yourself rubbed with a coarse towel for fifteen minutes after the bath; knead the bowels and exercise the joints; walk one to five miles a day and keep on with the Black-Draught until the pains and stiff joints are gone.

From A. T. Horton, of Brayton, Ia.

I have had rheumatism off and on 50 years. I was also troubled with kidney disease. I was induced to try Black-Draught, and since using it I am well of the kidney trouble and nearly free of rheumatism. I am 71 years old, and in splendid health.

ure of some of the organs to perform their proper functions in supplying pure, healthy nutriment to the body. You would find that either the stomach, liver, intestinal track or the blood-making glands have become impaired and are not doing their part in supplying the body with pure, life-giving blood.

Nature's law is assisted by using the Washington Blood Purifier. That contains the Mineral Grass or Iron Plant, which is the great discovery of the twentieth century, holding the same relative position among other medicines on the market today that the great general (whose likeness appears on the wrapper) did to the rank and file in the times in which he lived. I have been troubled with weak back, womb complaint and cramps every month. Two bottles of Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught has entirely cured me.

TAKE BACK THE HEART.

Take back the heart that thou gavest,
What is my anguish to thee?
Take back the freedom thou cravest,
Leaving the fetters to me.
Take back the vow thou hast spoken,
Fling them aside and be free,
Smile o'er each pitiful token,
Leaving the sorrow for me.
Drink deep of life and illusion,
Gaze on the storm-cloud, and flee
Swiftly thro' strife and confusion,
Leaving the burden to me.
Then when at last overtaken,
Time flings his fetters o'er thee,
Come, with a trust still unshaken,
Come back a captive to me.
Come back in sadness or sorrow,
Once more my darling to be,
Come as of old, love, to borrow
Glimpses of sunlight from me.
Love shall resume her dominion,
Striving no more to be free,
When on her world-weary pinion,
Flies back my lost love to me.

From W. M. Sparks Esq., of Fish, Polk county, Ga.

My wife suffered from female troubles for over four years, McElree's Wine of Cardui has relieved her after everything else had failed.

From C. P. Graves, telegraph operator at McNeil, Columbia Co., Ark.

I can highly recommend your Black-Draught for indigestion and constipation, and I have particularly found great relief from its use in the treatment of piles.

Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

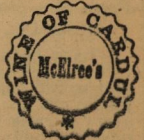

A sense of weight, uneasiness or oppression after meals, sometimes occurring just before the usual time for another meal, heart-burn, water-rash, soreness at the pit of the stomach, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness at night, headache, palpitation of the heart, lack of mental vigor, a confusion of ideas and forgetfulness, constipated or loose bowels, scanty and high-colored urine are symptoms of a functional derangement of the stomach called dyspepsia or indigestion. It afflicts a majority of all people at some time during their lives, and is usually present in women where there is menstrual irregularity, either as the exciting cause or result.

Black-Draught Treatment.

Persons afflicted will get no relief unless they control their appetite and refuse sweet, starchy or fatty articles of food, eat small amounts at a time and thoroughly masticate it. If they suffer with a catarrh of the stomach, raising profusely a stringy, or dark-colored phlegm, very careful diet is imperative, and all chewing, smoking, snuff or stimulants must be forbidden. The Black-Draught will relieve in nearly all cases, but a permanent cure is not likely unless existing causes are removed.
Make a tea of Black-Draught powders and take a small dose immediately after eating; carry some of the powders in the pocket and take a pinch when you notice symptoms of indigestion. This treatment persisted in is always successful.

From J. M. Maxley, of Spruce Pine, Franklin Co., Ala.

I suffered with dyspepsia five years, and was treated by doctors from all over the country, but got no relief. After using one package of Black-Draught I am now well. It is a great blessing to suffering humanity and worth its weight in gold.

I have been a patron of your Thedford's Black-Draught for thirty years, and would not give it for all the patent medicines in the world. It answers every purpose in our family, and we are never without it.

From Mrs. Mary Hansen, of Underwood, Pottawattamie Co., Ia.

I have been a sufferer from Constipation for over twenty years, never getting more than temporary relief. My husband brought me some Black-Draught, and it has done a great deal of good. The pains in my stomach have left, and I am nearly well.

Constipated Bowels.

A prolific cause of menstrual derangements of women is constipated bowels. Their sedentary lives, irregular habits of society, the unwholesome diet of ices, creams, cakes and confections, indolent custom of neglect to go to the stool regularly, and many other causes, result in unhealthy condition of the bowels. The invariable result is derangement of the menstrual function, usually complicated with indigestion, torpid liver and nervousness.

Black-Draught Treatment.

The first requisites for permanent relief are a diet of coarse food, fruit and wholesome vegetables, vigorous exercise in the open air, regular habits of eating and sleeping and daily attendance at the stool at a stated hour, whether an inclination is felt or not. The bowels should be cleaned with an injection of warm water occasionally. Take a small dose of tea made from Thedford's Black-Draught after each meal, regulating the amount so as to insure one action from the bowels daily, but no more. Continue this treatment until the daily habit is firmly established.

From Dr. S. M. Neely, of Roads, Carroll Co., Mo.

Thedford's Black-Draught is a favorite not only in my own family, but in my practice. I prescribe it nearly always in cases of stomach trouble and constipation.

By the persistent use of the Washington Blood Purifier or Mineral Grass Compound good results will follow, as it stimulates and brings into action all glands of waste, opening every closed passage that is clogged with cold, bilious and material poison, compelling them to unload their burden. Its renovating power is unequalled, as it goes searching and cleaning through every cord and fiber of flesh and blood, expelling every foreign substance, renewing the circulation, building up the fluids, renewing the gastric juices, giving strength to the nerves and brain, while the blood is sweetened with new life and vigor and flows to every part of the body with renewed energy.

I have used Thedford's Black-Draught in my practice and in my own family, and find it one of the best blood purifiers that I can get. I prescribe it daily.

From A. P. Beam, of Memory, Ruth-erford Co., N. C.
I have been troubled with kidney and bladder disease for twenty-five years. Thedford's Black-Draught has done me great good.

Kidney Diseases.

Through the bowels the solid waste matter of the body escapes. The kidneys and bladder in like manner dispose of the fluid waste. If the liver is torpid and fails to properly separate the solid and liquid waste matter that passes through it, the kidneys are overburdened, the urine becomes dark or reddish, muddy and offensive. If the derangement is not properly treated diabetes, Bright's disease and other troubles are likely to be contracted.

Black-Draught Treatment.

The kidneys are poorly supplied with nerves, and if liver derangements are neglected the kidneys are liable to become diseased before the patient is aware of it. If the feet and hands are puffed or swollen, the abdomen enlarged, the urine muddy, dark colored, or deposits a sediment, adopt the Black-Draught treatment for liver troubles at once. In addition take a dose of McElree's Wine of Cardui every morning, and drink plenty of water and milk, eat vegetables, fruit and bread, but not much meat. Stop chewing and smoking tobacco, and don't stop the treatment until you are entirely well.

From Mrs. M. A. Shephard, of Deni-son, Texas.

My husband had a kidney trouble, and passed blood every day for about eleven months. Less than one pack-age of Thedford's Black-Draught cured him entirely.

JONAS WHITCOMB'S REMEDY FOR ASTHMA, ROSE COLD, HAY FEVER, &c.

This remedy has been used in thousands of the worst cases, with astonishing and uniform success; and is offered to the public with full confidence in its merits.

Extract from the "Life of Washington Irving," by his nephew, Pierre M. Irving, Vol. IV., page 272.

"The doctor prescribed, as an experiment, — what had been suggested by Dr. (P. W.) Holmes on his late visit. — Jonas Whitcomb's Remedy for Asthma, a teaspoonful in a wine-glass of water, to be taken every four hours. A good night was the result."

"I have had the spasmodic asthma fifteen years. I commenced taking 'Jonas Whitcomb's Remedy for the Asthma' eighteen months ago, and have not had a severe paroxysm since." SARAH SEELY, Eddytown, Yates Co., N. Y., to Editors Rural New Yorker.

"Have sold 'Whitcomb's Remedy' for nearly twenty years. I know of nothing so uniformly successful." THEODORE METCALF, Druggist, Tremont St., Boston.

"I have derived very great benefit from 'Jonas Whitcomb's Asthma Remedy.'" G. T. OSBORNE, President Neptune Insurance Co., Boston, Mass.

"I cannot express in too strong terms my appreciation of the merits of this 'Remedy,' and I earnestly recommend its use." JACOB D. STONE, formerly P. M. at Haver, N. Y.

"Has done me more good than any medicine I ever had." W. C. ELLAR, of Bantlin & Kellar, Cincinnati, O.

"My mother had suffered eight years from the harvest pain. The recurrence of this three-month's agony every year must soon wear her out. 'Jonas Whitcomb's Asthma Remedy' arrested the terrible disease, and has kept it off for the whole season, to the great joy of the family." Rev. JOS. E. ROY, Chicago Agent of the American Home Missionary Society, to the N. Y. Independent.

Nearly all the chronic diseases are slow in developing. They come on gradually and become firmly established. The process of cure must be gradual. The use of medicine is imperative. To restore the tone of the nervous system is the work of years, and will require patience and perseverance. THE LETTER IN THE CANDLE.

There's a letter in the candle,
It points direct to me;
How the little spark is shining;
From whomsoever can it be?
It gets brighter still, and brighter,
Like a little sunny ray,
And I dare to guess the writer
For it drives suspense away.

CHORUS.—Bright spark of hope,
Shed your beams on me,
And send a loving message
From far across the sea.

Hope and fear alike perplex me;
Oh! superstitious dread;
How many idle fancies
You conjure in my head.
When those we love are absent,
How wantonly you play,
Every shadow seems a substance,
And drives suspense away. —CHO.

How gladly I remember;
'Tis two short months, no more,
Since a letter in the candle,
Shone out as bright before,
Then the darling messenger
Came prompt and safe to me,
If this is only from the same,
How welcome shall it be, —CHO.

SHABBY GENTEEL.

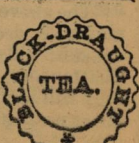

We have heard it asserted a dozen times o'er
That a man may be happy in rags;
That a prince is no more in his carriage and four
Than a pauper that tramps on the flags.
As I chance to be neither, I cannot describe
How a prince and a pauper may feel;
I belong to that highly respectable tribe,
Which is known as the Shabby Genteel.

CHORUS.—Too proud to beg, too honest to steal,
I know what it is to be wanting a meal,
My tatters and rags I try to conceal,
I'm one of the Shabby Genteel.

I'm a party, in fact, who has known better days,
But their glory is faded and gone,
I have started in life in a lot of odd ways,
But have not found the way to get on;
There are only three roads, I'm afraid, that are left,
I shall have to beg, borrow or steal;
Yet I don't quite encourage the notion of theft,
Tho' I'm awfully Shabby Genteel —Cho.

Still I strive to be cheerful in all my distress,
And I bear my bad luck like a man,
If I can't have my way as to feeding and dress,
I must still do the best that I can;
And remember, good people, that fortune some day,
By a turn of her treacherous wheel,
May reduce one of you in the very same way,
To the level of Shabby Genteel. Cho.

Wine of Cardui Treatment.

To get the best effects of the Wine of Cardui the stomach must digest it, the liver must appropriate it, and the kidneys and bowels must perform their duty. A tea made from the Black-Draught powders assimilates with the wine perfectly, and should always be used when any of the digestive organs are deranged.

NEW YORK SUPERIOR COURT.

AT THE SPECIAL TERM, April, 1890.
PIERREPONT, Justice. The following decision was given:
"It appeared before me, upon the trial of this cause, that the plaintiff, in November, 1886, compounded, from Cocaine and Oil and other ingredients, a mixture to be used upon the human hair; that he devised a name never before used, by which to mark his said compound, to wit: — the name or word 'Cocaine'; that he forthwith published in all his circulars, and in all the principal newspapers of the country, and especially in the city of New York, where the defendants reside, that he had adopted the above-mentioned name or title as a 'Trade-Mark,' to secure the public and the proprietors against imposition, and that all unauthorized use of this trade-mark would be prosecuted."

"About two years after the first introduction of this article by the plaintiffs, the defendants, residents of the city of New York, commenced the sale of a somewhat similar preparation, put up in bottles not unlike those of the plaintiff's."
"The proof is clear that the plaintiff had, for nearly two years, advertised his mixture in nearly every newspaper in this city, and had published in the same papers that he had adopted the word 'Cocaine' as his Trade-Mark. The defendant was himself a witness, and he did not suggest that these notices had not been brought home to his knowledge; the conclusion is irresistible, that he was aware of their publication, and he intentionally adopted 'Cocaine' as a close imitation of 'Cocaine,' and for the purpose of deriving profit from the simulated trade-mark."
"The plaintiff is entitled to judgment, and an injunction must issue."

NEW YORK COURT OF APPEALS.

At the July Term, 1887, DAVIES, Chief Justice, the following FINAL decision was given:—
"Upon the facts found by the Court, the right of the plaintiffs to the relief granted is clear. The plaintiffs have adopted, appropriated, and used a certain trade-mark. This has become their property; and for its protection the plaintiffs are entitled to invoke the aid of courts of justice. We have the ascertained fact that the defendants are using a spurious imitation of the plaintiffs' trade-mark. This they cannot be permitted to do."
"The judgment of the Superior Court of New York was correct, and should be affirmed, with costs."

Undertake nothing without thoroughly considering it.

From John B. Bales, Worth, Henry Co.,
Missouri.

My wife suffered for more than a year,
but would not submit to an examination by a doctor. I coaxed her to try the Wine of Cardui treatment, which has been worth its weight in gold to her.
We highly recommend it to all sufferers from female diseases.

Home Treatment of Female Diseases.

THE modesty that prevents many afflicted women from submitting to a humiliating examination by a physician is commendable, but it costs them many days of suffering and often a life of misery.
Husbands frequently object to such examinations, for they shock modesty, disarm virtue, and are liable to bring discord into the family.

THE WINE OF CARDUI TREATMENT

recommended in this pamphlet requires no examination nor advice by a physician, no sacrifice of modesty or self-respect, can be adopted at home without the knowledge of anyone except the patient herself and those whom she wishes to consult, is entirely harmless, costs but little and is the most effective, simple home treatment known to medical science.

To assist afflicted women in adopting this treatment, a book has been prepared called "Home Treatment of Female Diseases." It contains a description of the genital organs of women, the diseases affecting them, their symptoms and the proper method of treating them. It also contains a large number of typical cases of these diseases, similar to those herein. These cases enable the afflicted to determine the character of the disease with which they are suffering, and then, by consulting another part of the book, they find plain instructions how to treat themselves at home. This valuable book contains 128 pages, bound in cloth. Mailed postage paid on receipt of 25c. in Money, Money Order or Postage Stamps. Address, REV. R. L. McELREE, St. Elmo, Tenn.

From J. H. Doyle, Whitt, Texas.

I have just purchased one bottle of McElree's Wine of Cardui for my wife, on the recommendation of Dr. Doss, who is one of the leading physicians of this country. He said it was better than anything else he could prepare himself for the existing trouble.

CAUGHT BY AN OWL.

In the early 70's while the writer was spending a season with a friend who had a ranch in the lower Yakima valley, Washington, an incident occurred which forcibly impressed him with a thought we desire to convey to every reader of this little booklet.

A large owl had been for some time making his nocturnal visits to the ranch to feast upon such of my friend's poultry as happened to be within reach. One morning his owlship, having indulged to excess on spring chicken, tarried near the scene of his depredation until the old man's son arose. Seeing Mr. Owl perched on a limb near the barn winking at the rising sun, the youth ran back to the house and took down his father's rifle. A moment later the owl fell to the ground. A bullet from the faithful rifle had broken one of the owl's wings; otherwise the bird was unhurt and showed fight from the word "go." The bird was a magnificent specimen—a brown or "cat" owl—measuring seven feet from tip to tip.

The old gentleman soon arrived on the scene and concluded he needed the owl's feathers to comfortably swell the volume of his then scanty pillow. After clubbing his victim into insensibility, he carried him triumphantly into the house and began to divest him of his feathers. After getting his neck picked bare, he called the family's attention to the now uncanny bird. "See," said he, "did you ever see such large eyes and such a small neck?" At last, having pretty thoroughly plucked the chicken thief, the bird rallied and the old man uttered a shriek that brought us all to his rescue. Despite the fact that the head of the family was a great sufferer just at that moment, we all had to laugh heartily at his ludicrous predicament. I shall never forget the look of chagrin and pain the old man gave me. He held the denuded bird by the neck with one hand and gripped one of its legs with all of his might with the other. The dying bird had encircled the bone of the old man's left leg just below the knee with its talons and with the "grip of death" had sunk them deep into the flesh. With its last struggle—the last contraction of its muscles—or death grip, the dying bird had driven its talons home, for the owl was now stone dead. "For God's sake, break its leg," he cried, and the writer did so as quickly as possible and then proceeded to unlock, one at a time, the talons of the dead bird. A dead bird the master of a live man! Facts are stranger than fiction. Sequel: Don't let disease encircle your bones with its "death grip," but send for a few bottles of Washington Blood Purifier, the great Mineral Grass compound for the blood, and you will effectually drive disease from your system.
