Deception Pass bridge is a sight never to be forgotten. The bridge connects the north end of Whidbey Island with the mainland, making the entire, picturesque island easily accessible.

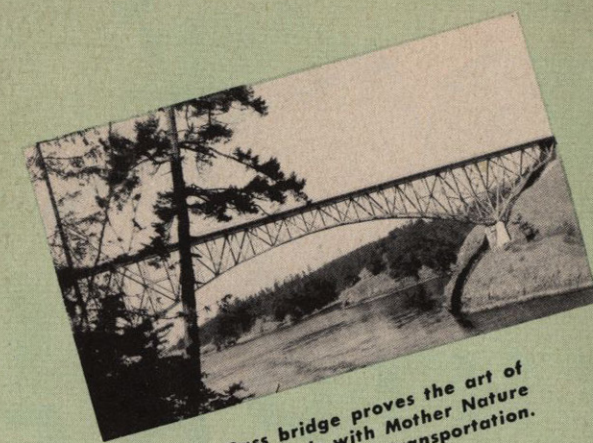

Come! Spend a Day or a Month

WHIDBEY ISLAND is one of the leading beauty spots of the Pacific Northwest. One may get glimpses of the majestic Cascades to the east, and the sunset over the snow-clad Olympics is something you'll never forget. Wild flowers grow in profusion. Sea-going ships ply the lanes to the west.

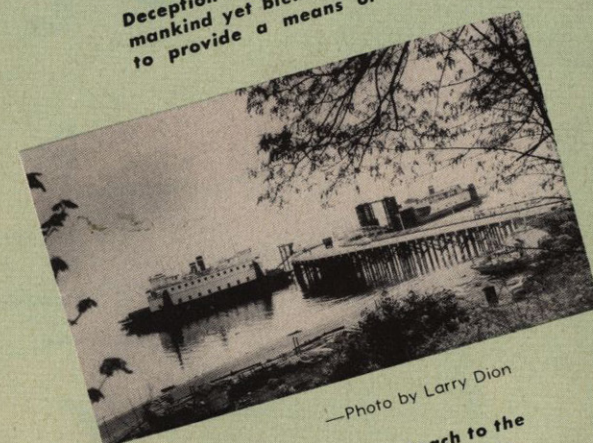

Along the island's irregular shoreline may be found innumerable sandy beaches and coves. Modern resorts have been established at key points to furnish you with your every desire.

Fishing . . . clam digging . . . crabbing . . . swimming . . . boating . . . picnic parties . . . and just plain loafing have been made easily accessible for grownups and children alike.

Make Whidbey Island your next vacation spot and you won't be disappointed.

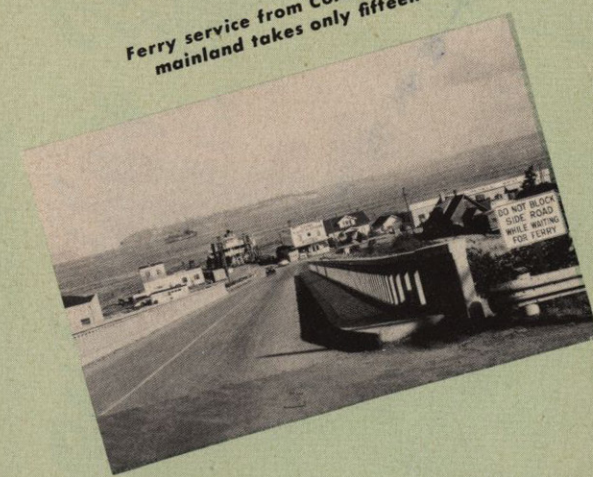

Deception Pass bridge proves the art of mankind yet blends with Mother Nature to provide a means of transportation.

Along Whidbey Island's irregular shoreline may be found innumerable sandy beaches to match your every mood.

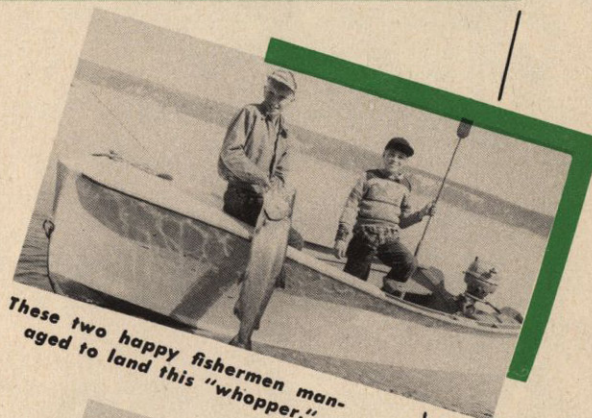

This salmon provided lots of thrills.

LOCATED on beautiful Puget Sound, Whidbey Island is the center of the great vacation playground of the Pacific Northwest. This scenic island, second in size in continental United States, is bordered on the west by the Olympic Peninsula with its towering, snow-clad peaks and on the east by the green valleys of the mainland which lie beneath the beautiful Cascade mountains. The island is easily accessible by either bridge or ferry.

Here along its many miles of shoreline the tourist can find picturesque and modern resorts designed for the vacationist who enjoys relaxation and many outdoor sports and activities.

Whidbey Island is a veritable wonderland of scenic beauty. Main highways extend over it, taking the traveler through woodlands with a profusion of wild flowers. Both Mount Baker and Mount Rainier are plainly visible from here and the ranges of the Olympics and the Cascades look down upon the turquoise waters of Puget Sound.

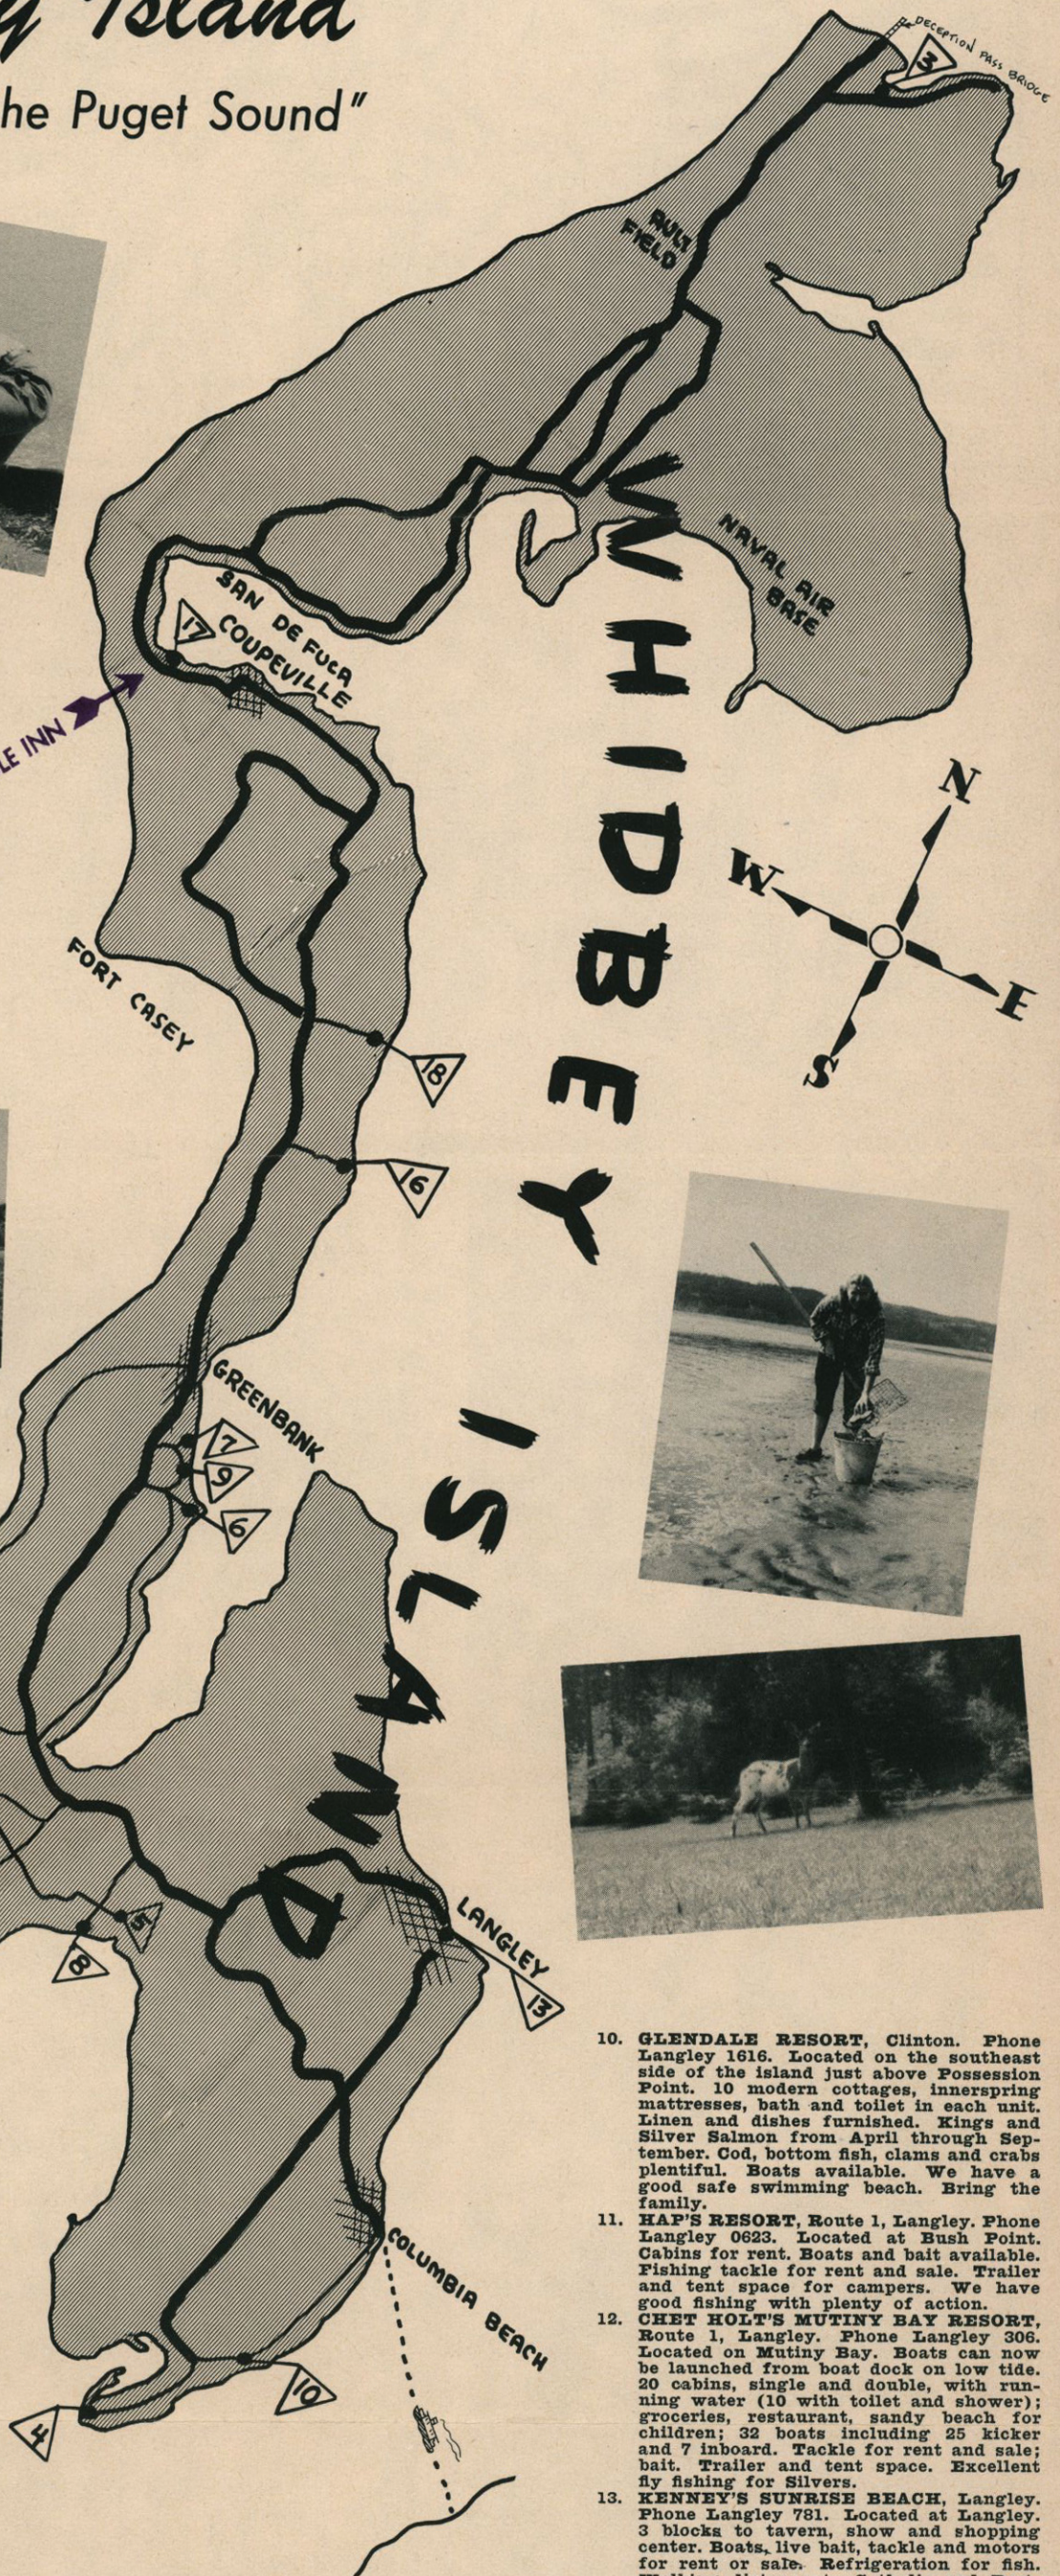

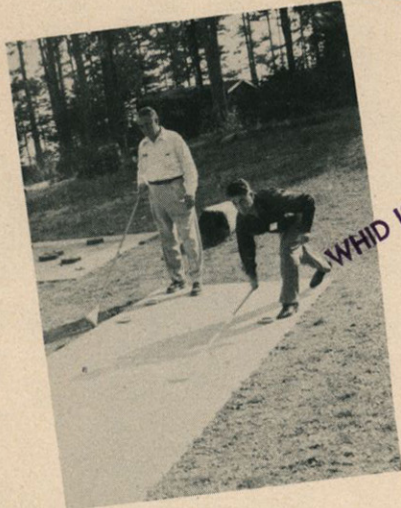

These two happy fishermen managed to land this "whopper."

Clam digging and crabbing are lots of fun for the whole family.
