TOPPENISH TOOTING LOUD THESE DAYS

Yakima Reservation Metropolis is Building Up Rapidly—Fine Business Blocks a Feature.

Toppenish people are convinced that they will have a city in a few years that will rival North Yakima. Building operations have been active for several months past and new brick and stone buildings are going up on both sides of the railroad line. The new three-story stone hotel built by Mr. Newell is practically completed except for interior work, plumbing, etc., and is undoubtedly a credit to the enterprising spirit of the town. The hotel will be opened, it is expected, in April. The building is absolutely modern in character with hot and cold water laid on in every room.

Several brick and stone buildings erected in the last few months are now occupied with businesses of one description or another. Saloons apparently will be plentiful in the town, the council recently having granted three additional licenses.

Considerable activity is reported in real estate investment, and lots in the city and the new additions are selling freely, many purchasers being North Yakima people. Of course, the future of Toppenish is realized to depend largely upon the opening of the reservation and this is a live topic in the town. Nevertheless it is impossible to get any accurate information from the land department as to when the opening will take place. There is a bare possibility, according to the officials of the general land office that the reservation will be opened in time to permit of the new settlers getting in the crops in the spring of 1909.

The Toppenish council expects to get in some extensive street improvement work this summer. There is no denying the fact that during wet weather Toppenish's streets are very muddy, much worse even than North Yakima streets at their worst. This is due to the fact that the town lies low in the valley and in order to make the streets satisfactory they will have to be graded up considerably.

An interesting rivalry between the east and west sides of the town still is in evidence and it must be difficult for an outsider to form any opinion as to which is the most promising part of the town to invest in. The new hotel adjoins the old Toppenish hotel on the east side of the railroad but most of the larger business establishments are on the west side, where the Toppenish Review is now situated. The bad condition of the roads is rendered less unpleasant than might be expected by the liberal construction of sidewalks and high crossings.

In accordance with the announcement of the county attorney recently Toppenish is closed up on Sundays now, but there appears to be a good deal of whisky in evidence—most of it doubtless purchased the night previously. Since the closing order went into effect the town has been quiet enough on Sundays, country visitors being comparatively few.

The output of produce from Toppenish has steadily increased of late years and the town's exports are now not far below the aggregate sent out from this station. With the broad acres of the reservation to draw upon in the near future Toppenish doubtless is destined to have a lively and prosperous existence.

B. B. Williams, a business man of Seattle, who has been quite ill at a local hospital in this city, was this week able to move back to his hotel.

Dr. Van Snyder of Fargo, N. D., is in the city looking for a location to open a sanitarium for chronic diseases. The doctor likes North Yakima very much, and stated positively that he would establish such an institution in the city in the spring.

SECRETARY ZUPPANN WILL RETIRE FEB. 1

Will Remain in North Yakima—The Young Man Has a Much Better Position in View.

Secretary W. E. Zuppann, of the publicity committee, will retire from that position on February 1, according to a statement made by the "booster" to a President-elect Donald, of the Commercial club, and will not be a candidate for re-election to that office or to any other position of the club. The secretary's contract with the present publicity committee terminates on February 1 and he has accepted an excellent position with local interests outside the club work.

For nine months, Secretary Zuppann has been carrying on an effective advertising campaign for North Yakima, working with a committee that has done more boosting for the city than any previous organization. To state the details of this work would be impossible but Yakima residents easily recall that the committee and its secretary were responsible for the distribution of 100,000 booklets and circulars during the year, for the placing of advertising in about 22,000,000 copies of papers and write-ups of Yakima in many more. The committee, at the suggestion of its secretary, sent a big exhibit to the Minnesota state fair and as a result brought many people to the Yakima valley, placed exhibits at other fairs and conventions, conducted the information bureau during the state fair and was responsible for the wonderful fruit displays on Yakima Fruit Day. These are only a few of the results of the committee's work during the year, and in all the work Secretary Zuppann has been the active manager.

That Yakima will not lose the young "booster" but that he will continue in work which will be of benefit to the community is a certainty, although the secretary is making no announcement as to his plans.

FATA LRUNAWAY

Young Man Will Probably Lose His Life As Result.

As the result of a runaway on Yakima avenue which occurred yesterday about 12:30, C. A. Stevens, a young man 28 years of age, was injured so bad that physicians fear he can not recover.

The unfortunate man was working for the North Yakima Brewing & Malt company. He drove the heavy dray which is drawn by two large and high strung horses. As the team stood in front of Fry's drug store they started at something and when Stevens, who was not on the seat, but standing at the rear of the wagon, ran up to stop them the horses took fright and went at full tilt. The young man grabbed a rein close to one of the animal's heads, but still was unable to stop them. Other men ran to the assistance of the driver but could not lend the necessary aid. Finally Stevens was thrown to the ground and both wheels of the 4000 pound dray passed over him. His back was broken.

NORRIS TRIAL ON

Ellensburg Woman Who Murdered Her Foster Son Faces Jury.

Mrs. J. C. Norris, of Ellensburg, who shot and killed her foster son, Tom Murray, while the latter slept with a boy companion, is now on trial before a jury in Judge Kauffman's court in Ellensburg. The woman is charged with murder in the first degree. The defense will attempt to prove her innocence by reason of insanity. The case began Thursday morning of this week and is now in progress. It will be concluded today.

Feeling in Ellensburg is very bitter against the woman. There are those who believe she is insane, but nevertheless feel that the law should at least deal severely with her for the future protection of society.

The hotels of the city are crowded with visitors from all sections of the United States. Many of the visitors are prospective land buyers. For this season of the year the hotels are particularly busy.

RECEPTION FOR GLEE CLUB

Pullman College Boys Will be Royally Entertained by Local Alumni in the Commercial Club Rooms.

To hear the greatest male quartet that ever toured the northwest is an opportunity that will be afforded the people of North Yakima on Monday night February 10, when the Washington State College Glee Club appears at the Yakima theatre. Pullman has always been noted for the excellence of its glee club organizations, and the 1908 club is certainly no exception to the rule. It is better than ever before, and this year features Miss Seabury, the greatest violinist on the Pacific coast. Miss Seabury returned last year from

So interested are the people of this community in the welfare of the Washington State College and so eager are they to greet the students of that institution with a right royal welcome, upon their advent here, that preparations are now being made to give a reception to the members of the glee club after their performance at the theatre on Monday night, February 10.

Arrangements have not been completed as yet, but it is safe to announce at this time that the reception will either be held in the Commercial club rooms or Berlin across the water after studying seven years under foreign instruction. She created a furore in San Francisco and Los Angeles and will be given a big ovation in Seattle and Tacoma by the musical people of these cities. The Pullman glee club is composed of 20 handsome young men chosen from a student body of 1500 and advance press reports on their show this year are most complimentary. Virgil Dudley, of this city, is a member of the club. He possesses a magnificent bass voice. The people of this community should greet the Pullman boys with a crowded house on the night of their appearance here.

DONALD CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Commercial Club Holds Election and Smoker Tuesday Night.

President—George Donald, Sr.
First Vice President—W. A. Bell.
Second Vice President—W. O. Bradbury.

Treasurer—E. E. Streitz.
New Members of Governing Board—J. J. Rudkin, James Louden, Frank Horsley, John H. Lynch and A. E. Howard.
Hold-Over Members of the Governing Board—Al. Whitson, E. C. Van Brundt, Ed. Allen, L. G. Allis and J. H. Weigel.
Five Trustees Chosen Last Evening—A. B. Cline, W. L. Steinweg, Alex. Miller, Charles Heath and A. B. Weed.

Unusual interest was manifested in the Commercial club election of officers this year. The election occurred last Tuesday night. The largest vote in the history of the organization was cast with the result that George Donald, president of the Yakima National bank, was chosen president. W. L. Lemon opposed him, but never very effectively. The contest for the offices this year were warmly contested, although everything was carried out smoothly, nothing occurring to cause any ill feeling.

There were some politics connected with the election this year, however, but the politics were of a nature to promote more interest in the work of the club, and arouse more enthusiasm among the members. The election means that Tieton hall. The Yakima high school will be invited to the reception.

President Bryan, of the State College, will accompany the club on its trip as far as this city in order to be present at the reception afterwards. The question will probably be settled at this time whether or not the Pullman cadets are to spend their annual encampment here in May. A strong effort is being put forth to induce the students to come to North Yakima for their annual outing, and while many other places in the state have put in strong bids, it is understood that the majority of the Pullman students want to come to this city.

Rev. H. P. James will probably succeed Mr. Zuppann, as secretary of the publicity committee. This is the impression that generally prevails, but nothing definite is known, and will not be known until next Tuesday night.

A committee of the club had also arranged for a smoker during the evening. Nagler's orchestra was in attendance and a quartet composed of Messrs. Meigs, Louden, Dr. Keeler and Erwin rendered several selections that were vigorously enjoyed. Light refreshments were served and a match game of billiards between Dr. E. S. West and H. F. Marble added to the evening's enjoyment.

Secretary James reviewed in a few brief remarks the work of the club during the past year, and offered a few suggestions on plans for the future which if put into effect will doubtless do much towards promoting a more enthusiastic membership.

The probabilities are that the club will give a smoker once a month in the future eliminating one of the social dances, and thereby giving the members of the club a chance to come in closer touch with one another.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wright returned this week from a six weeks trip to California. They left last Tuesday morning for Walla Walla to attend the horticultural convention.

ADVERTISING YAKIMA THROUGHOUT THE EAST

Lecturers in Many Cities Use the Subject "Yakima Valley" to Entertain Their Hearers.

Sixteen eastern lecturers are using "The Yakima Valley" as a topic this winter, and this valley is securing a lot of free advertising from that source, according to information received by the publicity committee of the Commercial club.

Fourteen of these lecturers are the traveling emigration men of the Northern Pacific railroad and are canvassing among the eastern farmers of nine or ten states, lecturing in school houses.

"I'll send a man to talk Yakima to an audience of one farmer or more, anywhere in the central states," is the way C. W. Mott, general emigration agent spoke to a Yakima man recently in talking about these lecturers.

C. J. Blanchard, chief statistician of the U. S. Reclamation service, is lecturing in eastern cities on the wonders of the Yakima valley. He recently gave a lecture in Cincinnati to an audience which crowded one of the largest auditoriums. A lecturer engaged by the New York city directors to lecture in schools has also taken Yakima as a topic.

These lecturers have been furnished considerable of their information and many of their pictures for stereopticon slides by the publicity committee, which considers that there is hardly a better way of advertising than in assisting these men.

GREAT SHOW

"Happyland" Deserves Everything Good That Can Be Said of It.

Say, honest to goodness, that is a great show. That "Happyland" opera. It played here Wednesday night to capacity at the Yakima theatre. There is not a single derogatory criticism to be made. It was simply great, and the crowded house demonstrated its appreciation of the entertainment by the vociferous applause accorded the players.

"From the sublime to the ridiculous." Say that about "Happyland," and you have everything in a nutshell. If you can say this about any comic opera, why, more can not be said in a commendatory way. Little Margaret Clarke represented the sublime, and De Wolf Hopper furnished most of the ridiculous. That ridiculousness calculated to drive away the blues and keep one in a good humor for 10 days afterward.

Attorney Allen S. Davis is able to be around again after a long illness. Mr. Davis underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. J. C. Varker, Jr., and son Ralph, of Seattle, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Varker, 11 Second avenue north.

GEE! THE "SUCKERS" ORGANIZE A CLUB

Illinois in Line With Iowa and Minnesota—Movement to Form Society is Successful.

Organization of an Illinois club of Yakima County is being effected through the efforts of a number of business and professional men who are former residents of that state, and unless plans go awry the "suckers" will have one of the biggest gatherings ever held in the city on Lincoln's birthday, February 12.

Plans are being made for a banquet to be given on the evening of that day, the Illinoisans having a special claim to Lincoln because of his long residence in Illinois, where he lived when elected president. It is probable that Tieton hall will be used as the banquet hall.

Fully 150 persons have already registered at the Illinois headquarters, in the Lesh Land Co., and an endeavor is being made to secure other registrations. It is known that over 500 former Illinois men and women are now residents of this city and section. There are several hundred former Illinoisans in the Sunnyside section and these will also be registered.

J. H. Hughes, formerly of Carbondale, has been chosen temporary chairman of the club, and E. C. Van Brundt is the temporary secretary.

Among the prominent former Illinois residents in this vicinity are H. M. Gilbert, J. H. Hughes, Miles Cannon, E. C. Van Brundt, Dr. A. J. Helton, W. L. Wright, B. F. Barge, Dr. Alfred H. Henry, W. I. Huxtable, D. L. Druse, Robert Hawks, W. E. Zuppann, W. C. Schroeder, Wesley L. Jones, Phil Armbruster and many other of the well known men and women of the city. They will all be active members of the club, which is expected to rival the Minnesota and Iowa clubs in size and interest.

The resignation for the municipal primaries recently showed that Illinois leads in number of residents in the city. It is contended by some of the promoters of the club that this is also true of the rural districts and that the list will be the largest of any of the clubs formed.

Miss Cady Lesh came down from Ellensburg last Saturday and spent Sunday with friends and relatives.

Ed. Hinman, a brother of C. H. Hinman of this city, is here on a visit to the latter from his home town, Cashmere, Wash. He is accompanied by his wife and children.

Mrs. J. E. Roberts of South Eleventh street, left this week for Spokane to visit her daughter for a few weeks.

BOHANNON WINS SUIT AGAINST GOVERNMENT

Judge Whitson Makes Important Ruling Effecting Rights of Lessees of Reservation Land.

Judge Whitson, of the United States district court, has handed down a decision in the case of the United States vs. Joseph C. Bohannon and wife, a case involving three valuable leases upon the Yakima Indian reservation. Bohannon leased land from Indians through the Indian agent and improved the same by planting it all in alfalfa, making it the most valuable hay land on the reservation. He had trouble with the government patrol in regard to the irrigating ditch furnishing water to these leases, and for this reason, the secretary of the interior cancelled these leases and ordered this suit to be brought to put him out of possession upon the ground that he had violated a covenant of the lease, which provided that any lessee should forfeit his lease if he intruded upon any other allotment than those he had leased.

Important to Reservation.

These cases are of great interest to all the lessees of land upon the Yakima Indian reservation, as they involve the right of the United States to bring a suit to recover lands in the possession of lessees, and also involve the right and authority of the secretary of the interior to cancel leases without giving the lessee a hearing.

Judge Whitson sustained the contention of the defendant and decided the cases in favor of Bohannon, dismissing the suits. This leaves Bohannon in full possession and in full right to the land. A. G. Avery and Joseph P. Lindsey appeared for the government, and Henry J. Snively for the defendant.

In deciding the case, Judge Whitson used the following language:

Referred to Examiner.

"There are three cases entitled as above, and by stipulation of counsel they have been tried together. The issues present the same question, and the suits were brought for the purpose of cancelling certain leases of Indian allotments on the Yakima Indian reservation. The cases were referred to a special examiner, and the evidence taken by him has been duly certified to this court. The bills proceed upon the theory that the defendants have violated the terms of the leases on account of which a cancellation is prayed for. The leases are identical with the exception of the descriptions of the lands and the owners thereof, and the clause relied upon by complainant reads as follows:

Agreement Relied Upon.

"And the said party of the second part further covenants and agrees that he will comply with all quarantine laws or customs in force where said land and premises are situate, as to excluding diseased or infected cattle or other animals from the premises, and will comply with such regulations as may be adopted by the secretary of the interior in the matter, and will comply with all regulations at any time adopted by said secretary to prevent other allotments or holdings of individual Indians, or any tribal lands from damage or interference by his cattle or other animals, and will not in any manner intrude on other Indian allotments or holdings."

"It is provided, after mentioning certain covenants, that upon failure to keep and perform all other agreements and covenants contained in this indenture, then, or in either of such contingencies, this lease shall thereupon expire at the option and election of the party of the first part."

Tore Out Headgate.

"The facts are quite simple. The lessee in violation of the orders of the engineer in charge of the canal, and of the ditch tender, tore out a headgate which was used for the purpose of diverting water from the main lateral into a smaller lateral constructed by him which carried water from thence onto the leased lands. He was in an attitude of defiance of the officers, and accompanied his resistance to lawfully constituted authority with force and arms. He insisted upon taking water in spite of the protests of the engineer and his subordinate, but as to just what his rights in the premises does not clearly appear, and I do not find it material under the view I take.

"Complainant relies for relief upon the clause of the lease last above quoted. Forfeitures in equity are not favored, and in order to deprive one of property rights by cancellation of an instrument of this character the court must be able to point to a provision of the contract itself, and to find a distinct violation of it. This headgate was not upon the leased land.

"The lateral was dug and the headgate installed, however, by the lessee under the direction of the engineer. Presumably, therefore, he had a right to use and operate the ditch. He had a right to keep it in order, and to that extent he would not have been an intruder upon any other allotment in the sense used in the lease. To hold this provision, which, taken in connection with the context, was evidently framed for the purpose of preventing the use of other allotments in violation of the rights of allottees by intruding thereon, can be construed as authority for forfeiting a lease, particularly in the absence of any showing that there was any rule and regulation governing the use of water beyond the mere direction of the engineer, would certainly be a refinement in technicality wholly inconsistent with the substantial rights of the parties. I find that the lessee was wholly to blame. If his rights were interfered with, which they probably were not, he should have resorted to the courts. And, again, the officers had a remedy by appropriate proceedings to prevent the unlawful interference of the lessee with the headgate, rather than resorting to the remedy of undertaking to defeat the rights of the lessee altogether.

"These disputes often occur regarding the use of water. It is a fruitful source of vexation and disagreement, but in these cases the court cannot proceed to forfeit the leases without express and appropriate language authorizing it; and it requires a great stretch of imagination to suppose that the frame of the lease in this case ever had in view any such emergency as has here arisen. This is not to say that the lessee may tear out headgates with impunity, or that he may defy officers in charge upon the reservation, or violate reasonable rules and regulations prescribed for the use of water. It is only to hold that the clause of the lease relied upon is not broad enough to entitle the complainant to a cancellation for the acts complained of. The bills will accordingly be dismissed."

N. Y. A. A. C. MAY BE ORGANIZED HERE

Would be a Good Thing for the City—Smoker at Yakima Theatre Next Friday Night.

That North Yakima is to have an Amateur Athletic association, backed by some of the most prominent business men of the city with the ultimate object in view of promoting physical development in the many games of wrestling, boxing and fencing, is now practically assured. That this association will eventually be a strong and formidable one, and easily able to compete with the Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane Athletic clubs, is the desire of the promoters; that such attainment is not doubted, when leading men like A. E. Larson, O. A. Fechter, Tom L. Martin and many others of equal prominence have promised to lend their influence and financial aid.

In order to arouse enthusiasm in the interest of the North Yakima Amateur Athletic association, and to prove conclusively that the promoters are working along perfectly legitimate lines, a smoker will be pulled off at the Yakima theatre on the night of Friday, Feb. 7, to which a small admittance fee will be charged to cover the expenses. This smoker is to consist of three boxing contests, two wrestling matches and singing and clog dancing. This affair will undoubtedly act as a boom to the ultimate result desired, that of organizing a local athletic club.

Three prominent young men of the city, Dr. Campbell, Frank Sharkey and Charley Weigel are the chief promoters, although Dr. Campbell is probably the most active, having had considerable experience in the organization of such work.

The indications are that the smoker will be a big success. Some very prominent amateur boxers are scheduled to meet on this night. Probably the best of the evening will consist of a three-round go between George F. Marshall, crack welter-weight of the Seattle Athletic club, and Thomas Sewell, former champion of the Chicago Athletic association. Much interest is being manifested in the mill between these men. Another three-round go has been arranged between the local amateur, Jimmy Wilder and George Brazier. This is also scheduled to be a hummer. An amateur athletic club for this city will prove one of the best sources of advertising that could possibly be inaugurated. For this reason the efforts of the young men are being encouraged by the leading business men of the community, and it is to be hoped that the first entertainment will at least be well attended, and thereby further encouragement given the undertaking.

JURY CALENDAR FOR FEBRUARY

In the superior court this morning Judge Preble set the jury calendar for February. Judge Kaufman, of Ellensburg, has arranged to come here February 10 and will remain for eight or 10 days to try those causes in which Judge Preble is disqualified. With the exception of one case, that of the state against Louis Petit, all the causes to be tried are civil matters. A criminal calendar will be arranged for March.

Following is the February list: W. Hatfield and wife vs. City of North Yakima; damages, Feb. 3. Thomas B. Nelson vs. North Yakima Railway Co., Feb. 4. Frank Carey and wife vs. City of North Yakima, damages, Feb. 5. Spaulding Manufacturing Co. vs. Harry Morgan, Feb. 6. M. Sells Company vs. Cordelia O'Brien, Feb. 10. Silas A. SALVATION ARMY HOLDS BIG MEETING

Cards are out announcing the coming of Brigadier Jenkins and Adjutant Storey of Seattle and this is to be made an occasion of special import to the army in North Yakima. Brigadier Jenkins is the commanding officer of the Northern Pacific states, having in charge of the operations of the army in the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, and Adjutant Storey has ice on Sunday morning and Mr. Weed has kindly loaned the big Tieton Hall for Sunday afternoon and night. Brigadier Jenkins is regarded in the army as one of their most able speakers and his 27 years' service in the ranks has given him an opportunity to amass a great fund of incidents. Adjutant Storey's songs with guitar accompaniment are an unfailing attraction. The program follows:

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

Brief Record of Local Happenings for the Week in North Yakima and Vicinity.

Presiding Elder Skipworth visited North Yakima this week and held quarterly conference in the Methodist church.

Col. W. W. Robertson returned Wednesday night from a three days' trip to Seattle. Phil Ditter accuses the Colonel of wearing a false beard while away, and says that he can prove it by friends of his who saw the Colonel in Seattle. It is really a good joke, but no one can explain it properly except Mr. Ditter. He will be glad to divulge the secret.

J. M. Hoagland, of Grandview, was in the city the middle of the week on business.

The North Yakima Merchants' association will hold a meeting in the Commercial club rooms Monday night for the purpose of electing officers of the new organization.

J. D. Cornett made a business trip to Seattle on Thursday. He expects to return Sunday night.

Miss Robie Case, accompanied by her mother, left here Friday morning for Seattle, where she expects to enter the state university. Mrs. Case will visit with Mrs. Johnson at the St. Francis hotel for several days before returning home.

FRUITVALE.

M. H. Stevens moved from his place here, which he recently sold to a Mr. Tyler, into his new house near Modern addition.

Ed Perry is in town sick with appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wright returned from their California trip Saturday.

Miss Anna Harmon spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Harmon.

Mr. Tyler, who bought the Stevens place, moved in Monday.

Miss Frances Christance was back to her school duties Monday.

Theodore S. Darby made a trip to his Zillah ranch Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. King, John Gibson, W. L. Wright and others left Tuesday morning, to attend the meetings of the Washington State Horticultural Society at Walla Walla.

Ed Winchester, the painter who is living in W. J. Davis' old house, has taken the job of painting the Housan house in the Lower Naches.

MOXEE.

Mrs. F. Ley from Wapato is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rivard. Two Moxee merchants, F. Alberts and A. Champoux, transacted business in North Yakima Wednesday.

Increase Your Profits

What's the use of going to all the expense of spraying and then have poor fruit? The secret of securing clean, fancy fruit is in spraying thoroughly with high, even pressure. The hired men have seldom done this because the pumps ran so hard, but they do it easily.

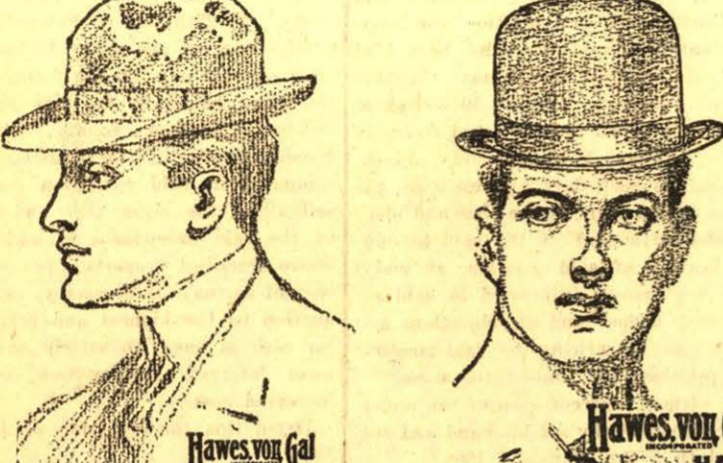

By Using Bean Magic Spray Pumps

because they save just one-third the labor.
In the Spring Rests the Secret

The increase in profit from securing fancy fruit will alone pay for the outfit, and the easy-running, no-trouble features found exclusively in the two sizes of Bean Magic pumps merit your immediate investigation. It seems almost too good to be true that all the new improvements can be had in one pump, but it is true and you will understand why when you see a Magic in operation.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES

Rev. S. J. Kennedy Will Occupy Presbyterian Church Tomorrow.

The pulpit of the First Presbyterian church of this city will be occupied tomorrow morning by Rev. S. J. Kennedy, its new pastor, who arrived the latter part of the week from his home in Stillwater, Minn., to take charge of the work of the local presbytery. Rev. Kennedy was formerly chaplain of the state prison at Stillwater, and was greatly loved by the convicts. Special music has been prepared by the choir for the reception of the new minister and it is expected that the church will be crowded tomorrow morning and evening.

The Mirror, a publication issued by the convicts of the Minnesota state prison, speaks of Rev. Kennedy's departure for the west in the following language: "Rev. S. J. Kennedy preached his last sermon in our prison chapel last Sunday morning. Mr. Kennedy contemplates going to Eastern Washington, where he will reside, as he believes a change of climate will be beneficial to his health, which has declined somewhat of late years.

"Mr. Kennedy has been one of the chaplains of this institution for the past ten years, and during that period he has devoted a great deal of his time toward administering to the spiritual welfare of the inmates of this institution. He not only helped many men while here with kindly advice, but helped them on their discharge to secure suitable situations. He made many warm friends in the city of Stillwater, who will regret to hear of his departure, as much so as the inmates who are confined behind the walls of this institution.

"Chaplain Kennedy is a forcible speaker and was always profoundly listened to by the inmates. We join in wishing him godspeed in his new field of endeavor."

COL. ROBERTSON IS CHALLENGED

North Yakima, Wash., Jan. 30, 1908. To the Editor of the Democrat. Dear Sir: As I am one of the many people in this community that dislikes hypocrites, I thought that I would take it upon myself to expose one of the rank-est ones that has ever lived in this God-fearing community and such a one is Col. Robertson.

For some months past it has been his delight to roast such law-abiding citizens as L. R. Freeman, L. V. Slasor, Jas. Barnes, H. B. Seudder, W. B. Dudley and myself, who take a delight in wearing whiskers on their chin or upper lip. Now, then, as the Colonel has made it a point to visit the Sound every few weeks, and spend several days at a time, I have had a hunch that not everything was right, and have had him shadowed, and find that while away he takes the opportunity of letting his whiskers grow, and have the pleasure of feeling as he did before he assumed the idea of being a beardless youth, and after boarding the train upon his return trip, he deliberates with himself as to whether or not he shall let them continue to grow, or cut them off, but realizing the joking that he would be subject to after his return to North Yakima, he thinks again and hunts up the tonsorial artist in the observation car and has his blades shaved off, which causes him to have a serious expression for a day or two after his return home, until such time when he is occupied with the duties of his business, and forgets all about the pleasures which he has to forsake when at home.

As a friend of his, I would advise him not to continue these tactics, but make up his mind to either be a man and wear whiskers, or else a boy altogether, shave them off and keep them off. Yours respectfully,
PHIL M. DITTER.

CHURCHILL TRYING TO

GET $10,000 BOND

In order to regain his liberty pending the appeal to the supreme court for a new trial, Charles Churchill, convicted of manslaughter for the killing of David Ray Zeigler, will have to put up a bond for $10,000 and it is doubtful whether he will be able to do so. The amount was fixed by Judge Preble in the superior court today.

Churchill was brought into court and sentenced this morning, the penalty imposed being the indeterminate sentence of from one to 20 years in the penitentiary, together with a fine of $1 and the costs of the prosecution.

When the matter came up for consideration Prosecuting Attorney Wende announced that he was opposed to Churchill being released on the bond for $5000 as asked by his counsel. Mr. Wende said that in addition to imprisonment for from one to 20 years a fine amounting to as much as $5000 might be imposed and have to be worked out by Churchill and the amount of bail offered appeared to him to be insufficient.

Mother's Property Involved.

Mr. Snively contended that the $5000 bond offered would be sufficient to hold Churchill for trial which was the only object of the bail. In order to raise this bond, he said, Churchill's mother would be compelled to transfer all of her property to the bonding company. Mr. Snively stated that Mrs. Churchill's property consists of a ranch in the Moxee and of the house and lot on North Second street, and that there already is an incumbrance of $2500 upon the latter property. The ranch is valued at $3500 and the whole of the property would not be acceptable security for more than $5000.

Judge Preble stated that information given him regarding the condition of the defendant's family, the children being down with smallpox, had affected him considerably, but after due consideration he did not feel that $5000 was a reasonably adequate sum after conviction of the crime of manslaughter. It might appear to be a hardship to keep Churchill locked up pending the hearing of the appeal under the circumstances, but he did not feel justified in fixing the bond at less than $10,000.

The defendant's attorney thinks it is possible that the required amount will be raised by having several of Churchill's friends on bonds for small amounts until the required total is raised. Churchill is not looking much the worse for his confinement in the county jail.

GRUESOME FIND OF CHILD'S BODY

In a rough, wooden box partly uncovered by the elements near the top of a small hill near Selah Springs, August Distler, a prospector, has found the body of a white girl child, with a broad blue ribbon tied tightly around her neck. Distler reported the matter to Coroner Frank who will investigate. Distler also gave the doctor a piece of the blue ribbon and the tests made show that the stains upon it undoubtedly are those of human blood.

The place where the roughly constructed coffin was found is seven or eight miles from any habitation and the discovery undoubtedly suggests the idea that the child was killed and her body carried to the hills and buried in the box.

Exposed to the Elements.

When Distler found the box it was half exposed to the elements and broken open, presumably through the moving of the sand on the hillside and the body was thus exposed to atmospheric action. Although badly decomposed, however, the body, according to Distler, is still in a condition which will enable the coroner to determine accurately in regard to the cause of death and this proves that the child cannot have been dead more than a month or two.

Dr. Frank states that unless, after examination, he is satisfied that the child died from natural causes, he will bring the body to this city and make a thorough investigation.

Suspicious Circumstances.

The doctor points out that there are suspicious circumstances in the case and mentions especially the fact of the body being buried on a hillside so far from any residence, and also the presence of blood on the ribbon around the child's neck, and which Distler declares is tightly fastened, suggesting the theory that the child was strangled to death.

Another theory is that the child belonged to some family traveling through the country and that it was buried near the place where it died.

Will Round Up Delinquents.

Prosecuting Attorney Wende, of this county, is to receive from the state a list of dealers in intoxicating liquors delinquent in the matter of paying the $25 state license imposed by the last legislature. Of the approximately 3500 dealers in the state 1000 are delinquent. The penalty upon conviction of violating the law is a fine of not less than $100 or nor more than $500, or imprisonment from 30 days to six months, or both. The tax is imposed on every person, firm or corporation subject to the federal government internal revenue tax. This includes drug stores, steamboats, dining cars, in fact every place where intoxicating liquors are sold.

JONES SHOULD WAKE UP.

Those Yakima republicans who presume to think that Congressman Jones has a walk-away in his race for the senate and who laugh complacently at the Ankeny candidacy are quite likely to have another guess coming. In the Ankeny camp all the numerous paid retainers are busy. The senator's organizers are going about the state making new deals and putting their fences in good repair. The old man's press bureau, a famous hatchery of lies, is running day and night at Washington City. Senator Piles and his organization, are working for Ankeny, as they are bound to do to repay the Walla Walla man for having elected Piles. The railroads, too, are said to be lined up for Ankeny, just as they were at the time of his first election. But the most potent factor always in an Ankeny campaign is the Ankeny sack. The sack is not yet so much in evidence, but it doubtless will be later in the campaign and certain it is that many voters will be influenced thereby as is always the case.

Against this powerful combination of men and conditions which favor the reelection of the Walla Walla banker Mr. Jones and his friends seem to pursue a policy of masterly inactivity. Aside from the thunderous voice of the Post-Intelligencer and the piping tones of the Yakima Republic there appears to be nothing doing in the Jones camp. The congressman himself, relying perhaps on the jolly of neighbors and bouquets from friends, seems to be doing nothing to advance his own candidacy, save furnishing the P-I's Washington correspondent with light ammunition. Mr. Jones would seem to rely almost wholly upon his record in congress, but even that may prove a false hope. Already the labor leaders of the state are attacking that vigorously for the reason that the congressman once voted against the proposition of Uncle Sam working his foreign laborers but eight hours a day on his Panama canal.

No doubt the labor unions have been incited in this onslaught by the words of Ankeny, but even so and though all the state knew it the fact remains that a dangerous opposition has been stirred up which may prove fatal to Mr. Jones' chance of election to the senate and politicians looking for the band wagon are apt to act accordingly.

The second election of Mr. Ankeny would be a grave misfortune as well as a disgrace to the state. Personally he is an interesting and kindly old gentleman who wants to retain his seat in the United States senate because of the honor and satisfaction it brings to himself and family. But politically his ways are the ways of Mephisto with a few variations that would make that ancient but much abused gentleman sit up and take notice. Since the Ankeny senatorial ambition first hatched a reign of political corruption has existed in the state of Washington that has been nothing if not shameful. And now we are threatened with an indefinite continuance of such evil conditions. Will the people stand for it?

Mr. Jones, if he would go to the senate, must quit temporizing and wake up to the fact that he has the fight of his life to make this year. If he succeeds his reward will be a seat in the greatest legislative body in the world. If he loses he must necessarily suffer political eclipse, if, indeed, the sun does not set for him.

SPLAWN FOR GOVERNOR

Ex-Senator A. J. Splawn, familiarly known as "Jack" by all the old-timers in this valley, is prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for governor on the democratic ticket. Jack Splawn for governor sounds good to any Yakiman. It even sounds better than Mead to Col. Robertson, and it will be recalled that the colonel at one time tried real hard to defeat Jack for the state senate.

At the present time Mr. Splawn is busily engaged in the successful promotion of the Yakima Valley Transportation project. He is the president of the company which is operating an electric railway line in this city, and has under contemplation the further extending of its lines throughout all the valleys adjacent to North Yakima. Mr. Splawn's wonderful success in all things undertaken by him, his fine record in the state senate, his honesty, integrity and fairness make him at once a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people of the state, who will appeal to the voters regardless of partisan affiliation. An old pioneer who helped to blaze the trail across the Rockies into this, at that time, barren and deserted valley; who endured the hardships of the frontier, fought Indians and later smoked the pipe of peace with them; whose earnest work in the development of the valley and wide acquaintance in all sections of the state and the various needs of the different localities, makes him a formidable candidate for the office of governor.

Mr. Splawn says he will not be a candidate, but if sufficient pressure is brought to bear upon him by the democracy of the state he may relent from the position he has taken. He is a pretty busy man just now, but these are the kind of men that we need for governor.

OKLAHOMA'S EXPERIMENTS

The newest state, unless we are sadly mistaken, is not going to live in ignoble fear of precedent. This monetary trouble has been engaging her attention, and an interesting bank law results. Under this law all state banks must keep in the hands of a state board a sum equal to 1 per cent of their average deposits, as a "depositors' guaranty fund." If a state bank fails, the board shall draw on this fund to whatever amount may be necessary in order to pay depositors in full, and replenish the fund by an assessment, levied ratably according to deposits, on all the banks.

This device, we judge, should provide a complete guaranty to every depositor in every state bank; hence should leave no excuse for runs and hoarding—those black plagues of banking. Any national bank in the state may pay in its 1 per cent assessment and secure the guaranty to its depositors on equal terms with state banks.

In New York and Chicago the big banks meet an acute disturbance by standing together as a unit in their clearing house associations. The Oklahoma law contemplates a like solidarity for all the banks in the state. Whether the reserve provisions of the act will not militate against state banks, as compared with national, remains to be seen. But the guaranty feature is the best answer yet on any statute book to the problem raised by the October trouble.—Saturday Evening Post.

Hundreds of Seattle's unemployed are now working for King county for the handsome remuneration of 25 cents per day and board. There is no record that wages ever dropped so low during the unhappy days of the so-called Cleveland panic. The formidable editor of the P-I might offer its readers an explanation; at least a comparison.

Secretary Taft has publicly notified his friends that he does not wish them to interfere in any way with the Hughes boom. Probably Mr. Taft feels that he now has the republican nomination corralled anyhow and can afford to feel magnanimous. At any rate the Hughes boom is a small affair and is not likely to harm anybody.

The Post-Intelligencer objects most strenuously to Senator Ankeny's attempt to steal Congressman Humphries' thunder. While theft is reprehensible under any circumstances, it would be well to remember that Ankeny needs that thunder and it wouldn't do Humphries any good any way.

Governor Mead is making a specialty of high school addresses, which probably means that the governor has figured that a certain percentage of high school students have votes. The state papers never have a word to the effect that his excellency is fooling away any time visiting grammar schools.

The finance committee of the U. S. senate has recommended an appropriation of $700,000 to help boost the Seattle exposition, whereat the big town on Elliott bay is supremely happy. When Seattle wants a thing she usually gets it.

A great many cities find it necessary to conduct soup houses in order to feed the army of unemployed these days. Free soup houses! Ye Gods! How can such things be possible under republican administration?

COMMONER COMMENTS

Washington reports 20,000 cases of grip not including the one Uncle Joe has on legislation.

It would seem that some Indiana authors have decided that when they can not write they will riot.

Governor Hughes is represented as a Sphinx, but would the "interests" be for him if they did not know his thoughts?

Having played the copper game past the limit Mr. Heinze met up with several "coppers" that he missed during the excitement.

Possibly Governor Hughes would speak but for the fact that Secretary Taft has been so unfortunate in his speeches.

Comptroller Ridgeley says panics are inevitable. This is not the doctrine advanced by the republican organs and orators in 1896.

Admiral Pillsbury succeeds Admiral Brownson. The attention of the medical profession is called to the pharmaceutical sound thereof.

That Paris butcher who interfered in the little scrap between the scions of the de Castellane family deserves to be severely censured.

The Castellane family affair should be an example to excitable Frenchmen of what injuries may follow a departure from the code duello.

The Washington Herald informs us that 300 copies of the president's message accompanied the fleet. Rifled, we presume, to fit the 13-inch guns.

With one faction of the Ohio republicans enjoining the other faction it must be admitted that there are some good points about the injunction writ.

The representatives of high finance will attempt to use the panic to force through legislation increasing Wall street's power. Let the democrats be on their guard. We cannot afford to stop one panic by laying the foundation for another one.

If the weather doesn't tighten up pretty soon we can see what the ice man is going to do to us next summer.

The president shook 5,400 hands on New Year's day, not to mention his shaking of Rev. Dr. Long, E. H. Harriman, Admiral Brownson and a few others.

By the way, when did the supreme court by a vote of five to four, or any other vote, ever declare unconstitutional any law enacted for the benefit of corporate employers?

Every time the house chaplain prays that congress may receive wisdom from on high, Speaker Cannon tilts back in his chair upon his raised dias, and proceeds to give it.

The Milwaukee Sentinel wants the Paragraders' Union to "cut out the stuff that made Milwaukee famous." A lot of them did on January 1, but that's as far as we can guess.

The Pittsburg Dispatch editorially discusses "Two monetary events." We are familiar with them—one is when we get the envelope and the other is when we hand it over to the grocer.

Senator Beveridge proposes a "commission" to revise the tariff. This would carry it past the coming election, and after the election, if won by the republicans, there would be no need of revision because the protective tariff policy had again been vindicated. If won by the democrats the commission might be used to further delay tariff revision.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—It is generally conceded in Washington that the democrats have gained a strong support in the senatorial branch of congress in the election of John Sharp Williams as a member of that body. He is well liked and his ability is disputed by none.

The announcement by Governor Hughes that "Barkis is willin'" has aroused multitudinous and diverse sensations in the breast of the Republican Pegotty, anticipations that are not altogether pleasurable, however interesting the prospect may be for the country at large. The prediction is made in political circles in Washington that the seat of war in the republican party will now be transferred to the New England states and that the Ohio conflict will look like a skirmish when compared with his Waterloo between the Roosevelt policies led by Taft, and the corporation interests headed by Hughes. The developments of the next few months will be watched with the most absorbing interest by the country at large.

There are some men in the democratic party who occupy responsible positions in the councils of their party in the house of representatives that believe their party's welfare will not be best subserved by the nomination of Mr. Bryan for the presidency, and so when Champ Clark nominated him in the house this week, the demonstration created through the art of oratory, with which the eloquent Missourian is so familiar, did not strike a responsive chord in the breast of every democrat on the floor. These men believe that, twice defeated as the candidate of the democratic party, Mr. Bryan's candidacy would, under existing conditions, be just as fatal to success in 1908 as it was in 1896 and 1900, and they believe that the party should seek out some man who can bring strength and confidence to the national ticket. Democrats who have unhesitatingly urged the withdrawal of Bryan as the only road which would lead to party success, joined with their colleagues in the demonstration, though they deprecated anything which would appear to commit the minority members of the house as a whole to the personal cause of Mr. Bryan. That the republicans joined in the cheers at the mention of Bryan's name was significant. These cheers were called forth by the belief of the republicans in the weakness of Mr. Bryan as a candidate against the man chosen by the Chicago convention next June, whomsoever that man may be.

Major General Bell, Chief of Staff, in his annual report just issued, declared himself of the opinion that the law which abolished the canteen from the army should be repealed for the general good of both the soldiers in the army and the war department officials. He says that under the new law there is more alcoholism and more disease than there was prior to its enactment. Among many other interesting paragraphs in this report is the following which is regarded as most pertinent: "Unless other great nations are wrong and wasting time and money, they are giving us an object lesson which Americans will have to learn some day by costly and humiliating experience. Time and training are both necessary to convert an untrained volunteer into a soldier, whether for infantry, cavalry, artillery, engineers or signal corps. The last great war clearly demonstrated that the side which is ready and acts promptly gains decisive advantages."

President Roosevelt has been obliged after all to alter his riding test order so as to waive the test in the cases of officers engaged in civil duties who would not, in all probability be called upon to engage in field operations. The president's decision was made after a conference with Secretary Taft on the subject, called forth mainly by the case of Lieut. Col. William L. Marshall, corps of engineers in charge of the government work in the improvement of New York harbor. Col. Marshall is a man of generous weight, who has been so busily engaged with his engineering duties as to have no time for "banting," and his retirement would be most detrimental to the accomplishment of the plans for the improvement of New York harbor.

The democratic senators have suddenly decided to put in a financial bill of their own, after seeming to acquiesce in the general provisions of the Aldrich bill, now before the senate finance committee. It is understood that Senator Bailey is the author of the bill, and that it differs from the Aldrich bill in its provision for the issue of United States notes instead of national bank notes in times of emergency, and changes the rate of interest to be paid by the bank with which the notes are deposited. Both are to be issued against deposits of government, state, county and municipal bonds, although the Aldrich bill also includes first mortgage bonds of railroads. There are some other variations in the proposed substitute from the Aldrich bill, but the foregoing is the principal difference between the two measures. There is a bare possibility that the democratic senators will hold a caucus on the question of supporting their substitute, so as to secure the solid vote of the minority.

Notice is hereby given that the business known as the M. & M. Cafe, conducted by H. S. Kay, Chong Tai, Joe Sik, Sam Cong and Sam Chin, will hereafter be under the management of the two latter, the first three retiring. The new firm will not be responsible for any bills contracted after January 31.

Mrs. A. B. Weed entertained at luncheon Thursday in a delightful manner at her home on North Second street. Covers were laid for twelve.

Coterie Club.
The Coterie club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Oviatt on North Seventh street. There was a large attendance and the following interesting program was given:

Roll call—Your Favorite English Queen and Why?
Critics Report.
"Amendments"—Mrs. Berry.
Lesson Review—Leader, Mrs. McWhorter.
Paper—"Poet Laureate of England," Mrs. Hausen.

Woman's Club Has Open Day.
Tuesday afternoon the Commercial club rooms were crowded with the members of the Woman's club and their guests. A clever burlesque on the modern club woman entitled "The Champion of Her Sex" was witnessed by about 90 guests. The character portrayals were decidedly clever and won much applause. The cast included Mrs. W. W. Robertson, Mrs. George Vance, Mrs. Mary Cannon, Mrs. Louis Janeck, Mrs. W. W. Gamble, Mrs. John W. Thomas, Mrs. Henry H.

Lombard and Mrs. Nagler. Miss Sue Lombard was stage manager. Mrs. Edward Burt Moore was in charge of the dining room which was very attractive with its daintily appointed table at which tea and coffee were poured.

A very interesting meeting of the Twentieth Century club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clemmer.

Tika Kuntux Bridge.
The Tika Kuntux Bridge club met Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Henry Pratt at her apartments in the Buena Vista.

It Makes 'Em Feel Good

You bet—they're getting their money's worth. But speaking about feeling good, doesn't it make you feel good to know, to be dead sure—when you buy anything, that you're getting the best your money will buy, and that the quality is right?

Well, that is just the way you feel after buying Lumber or Building Material of any kind here. Why? Because we carry nothing but the best grades of stock obtainable—the kind you simply can't help being satisfied with. If that's the kind of Lumber satisfaction you want you'll find it on tap here at all times.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

North Yakima is interested in knowing where the Sound markets get the hay they have been consuming the past few months. There is a goodly quantity of hay held here and some desire to market it under fairly advantageous conditions if possible. Such conditions do not appear to exist. Growers and local dealers have waited patiently for the Sound buyers to give some indication that the stocks laid in in the fall have been so far exhausted as to make it necessary to come out and look for the goods here. They are slow in coming though it stands as obvious that in such a rapidly developing country the consumption must be growing out of proportion to the producing acreage, especially in view of the tendency to run to orchards. Tonnage shipments from North Yakima for 1907 show that the hay sent out from this station was but half that of 1904 but it is not supposed that the production has been decreased this amount.

Outstations Are Shipping.
Reports from stations north and south of this city, where has been stored closer to the railroad tracks, are to the effect that considerable lots have been moved forward. Two or three cars loaded in North Yakima yesterday and another car or two are being loaded today. There is a hope that a more active period of dealing has been inaugurated. Prices are about as heretofore thought the grower must take what he can get if he is anxious to deal.

Potatoes are reported to be in some demand at Portland but at Seattle and Tacoma dealers declare that they are stocked up. They have been praying for unusual weather conditions which would delay shipments and permit them to clean up their present holdings to some advantage. The top figure in dealing here has been quoted at $14 but this has weakened. Both potatoes and hay are being offered daily in large quantities by growers to dealers, who turn down the greater portion of the offers.

Meat Prices Stiffen.
Home feeding is having a tendency to stiffen prices with regard to meats of all kinds and good quality is weekly growing more difficult to procure. The competition on the part of those holding inferior stock is sufficiently keen to keep prices down but as the buying progresses and the better animals are taken the figures paid for good meats steadily advances. Eastern Washington papers talk of $4.50 a hundred for steers as a near possibility and Oregon papers follow the lead but the market locally is a considerably distance from that point as yet.

The open winter, which has been of money value to the stockmen, has caused considerable uneasiness throughout the whole country in the hearts and minds of those interested in eggs. Bankers, it is declared, have fixed $3 a case as their advance on eggs and that only to the most reliable of their speculative customers. Eggs are called a very ticklish article to speculate on and present prognostications are that the coming season will see generally lower prices for the product of the hen than has been the case for years. Locally the reliable article is selling at 35 cents with the whole situation depending upon the weather.

Sweet Potatoes Are Done.
Sweet potatoes are about at the end of their popularity for the last crop. It is estimated that 90 per cent of the crop has been marketed. At any rate the quality of the stock now sent here is so inferior that the loss is heavy and prices on what remains makes the food a positive luxury. Oranges are a better quality each shipment. A carload of Sunshines recently arrived is selling well. The better, sweeter oranges are finding a ready sale and the consumption generally is growing. Inferior stock about holds its own. General quotations follow:

RETURNS TO YAKIMA.
Joseph S. Allen, formerly receiver for the Sunnyside canal, is in North Yakima today from his home in Spokane renewing acquaintances with many old friends here. Mr. Allen proposes to become a resident of North Yakima and is now making preparations to that end. He is the owner of 35 acres under the Lombard & Horsley ditch at Parker Heights and is having 25 acres planted to orchard, 14 of which will be to apples and the balance in peaches and pears, with probably a few grapes. Until the ranch becomes a yielder he will make his home in this city. When Mr. Allen, years ago, was selling land down the valley for $30 an acre he had no full realization of what opportunities were being passed up. He says, however, that his case is like that of the man who could have owned Chicago by giving a pair of boots for the site. He didn't have the boots.
Will Irrigate in East Selah.
The largest contract for the construction of a dam in connection with a private irrigation scheme ever let in this section of the state, or perhaps in the entire state, has just been secured by Case & Eschback, the well known contractors, from the Pleasant Valley Irrigation Co., composed of Seattle, North Yakima and eastern capitalists, among whom is H. H. Allen, of this city, who is president of the corporation. O. B. Young is vice-president and treasurer; J. J. Crawford, secretary and chief engineer, and H. F. Boyer, assistant secretary and general sales manager, all of Seattle. Eastern capitalists figure prominently in financing the enterprise.
This company owns 4500 acres of the richest lands in Pleasant valley, one of the most charming vales that comprise what is known as East Selah valley. It is located eight miles from Selah station on the Northern Pacific railroad and about 15 miles by the county road from this city, although by direct line it could be reached from North Yakima within 12 miles.
The dam for which the contract calls will be 60 feet high from the bed of the creek and will contain nearly 60,000 cubic yards of earth. It will extend 800 feet across the canyon into which the water from an immense watershed, covering 78 square miles, flows and which is thus carried down to Pleasant valley, five miles below. This canyon is really the east neck of the valley, a picturesque strip of rich land extending to the divide between Pleasant valley and the sage brush plain toward Priest Rapids on the Columbia river.
The contract calls for the completion of this dam and all of the ditches connected with it by May 1. Thirty teams and about 50 men are now on the ground for the commencement of the work. The dam will have a concrete core wall from the bedrock to the top with a concrete spillway.

Tonnage shipped from North Yakima for the years 1907, 1906 and 1904 has been compiled, by way of comparison, by John R. Ryerson, agent here of the Northern Pacific railroad. The statement names the different commodities sent forward from this station and the figures are of particular interest as showing the development of the community. Two commodities which figure in the years 1907 and 1906 do not appear in that of 1904, showing that these industries are new to the city. They are beer and canned goods. Still another new industry here, that of the Rex Spray plant, which will be a heavy shipper, and which has already sent several cars out, will not come in until the 1908 figures are compiled.

Lumber a Leading Product
Lumber is the leading product this year in point of tonnage, having come up rapidly in the past two or three years, while hay, which had a heavy lead, has fallen back to second position. With regard to the hay there are three points of view which may be assumed. One is that as the land goes more to orchards less hay is produced, the second is that as the community grows a greater proportion is consumed at home and as a last resort that the deficiency in the shipments indicates that a considerable proportion is held. This last view is that of Mr. Ryerson but one heavy dealer says that the cause of the falling off can be assigned to the three reasons given above and divided equally among them.

Fruit shipments are growing steadily, last year being the heaviest recorded, though it is generally admitted that in many departments the season's yield was a short one. However, a total of 433 tons in excess of 1906 is recorded. Live stock naturally falls off from this station though it is declared to have increased from stations north and south of North Yakima. Hops had an excellent year.

Explanation As to Ice.
The figures with regard to the ice shipments call for some explanation.

They do not represent the situation faithfully. The railroad ran short of ice last season and turned many cars over to the artificial ice plant here to be iced. In this way 150 cars were supplied with five tons of ice for each car and this total of 750 tons does not figure in the tonnage given for 1907.

North Yakima is not much of a vegetable shipping center. The figures for 1906 are greatly in excess of those of the preceding year given and the succeeding year, because of heavy shipments of carrots and other vegetables to supply deficiencies on the Sound caused by heavy freezing there and consequent destruction of all crops which had been left in the ground.

The totals for the various years, it will be seen, give a gradual increase of the commodities raised for shipment, above the increased home consumption and make an excellent showing for 1907 despite the fact that the last three months of the year were "lead" ones consequent upon the financial panic, which began its operations early in October and seriously curtailed shipments in every department for the balance of the year.

Big Tonnage Per Acre.
Everett Cleveland, who raised 30 acres of potatoes last year in the Lower Naches valley, harvested such an excellent yield from the tract that he concluded to measure the tonnage per acre on three acres of the field, so he could answer the many questions asked him about how much he made per acre. The three acres measured yielded 73 1/2 tons of spuds. That product brought him, gross, $1155 in cash. That is $385 an acre for the yield.

The total cost of producing these potatoes from the time of planting until they were in the sack, was, at $5 a ton, $387.50, leaving a total for the three acres of $787.50, or $262.50 per acre net.

Some farmers may beat that on a small patch near the barn, but when it comes to covering a whole farm with such a yield of potatoes, the neighbors who do it are a long way apart.
