Dear Ken:

Enclosed are a few clips of my version of Mr. Willey's very good talk before the Yakima Lions Club, where it was very well received. I trust you will see that he obtains one or two of them.

Johnny Buck (Puck Hyah Toot) was in today to tell me that they are setting to work in a day or two to put up their mat lodge in preparation for the first foods feast. That he says will be held a weekend about six weeks hence, since the season he says is running earlier.

The Wanapum feast is the earliest of any in Eastern Washington.

Puck Hyah Toot said that he would be happy if you or any of the others he has been associated with, care to attend the feast. If any of you are interested, you will be welcome. I am sure however that no indoor pictures will be permitted, and only outdoor pictures at certain times, since they have "guests" from Warm Springs and Pendleton and some of these people may be adverse to photography. But I think it will work out ok.

This feast, to my knowledge, has been held on that site every year since time immemorial, so I will try to impart to him the fact that you must have a photographic record, in case the dam is built.

I'll keep you posted but you might give me an idea if you, Bob R., or any of the others are interested, so I can tell Puck Hyah Toot when he comes in to tell me the actual date.

Keep me posted on any fast developments, and it will be appreciated.

Sincerely
