G. A. R. DAY AT THE FAIR.

Friday, Oct. 2 Named as Old Soldiers Day at the State Fair.

Department Commander Thomas H. Cavanaugh of the G. A. R. of the state of Washington and Alaska has issued a circular calling all old soldiers of the state to the fact that Friday, October 2, has been set by the fair commission as G. A. R. day. The following is the contents of the circular:

Olympia, Wash., Sept. 12, 1903.
The state fair for this year will be held at the city of North Yakima, beginning September 28th and closing October 3d, 1903.

The commissioners of the state fair association have designated Friday, October 2d, 1903, as Grand Army day.

This is the first time in the history of the association that they have recognized the Grand Army of the Republic by giving it a special day.

The comrades of Meade Post No. 2, of North Yakima, having in charge the arrangements for the day, extend a cordial invitation to all comrades, old soldiers and members of the several kindred organizations to attend, and assure me that there will be addresses on that day by the G. A. R. veterans, veterans of the Spanish war and Sons of Veterans, by gentlemen to be selected by the committee.

That there will be a camp fire held at night at which there will be speeches and stories of "field and camp," and such other exercises as are usual at a camp fire. Every possible arrangement will be made for the comfort and entertainment of the comrades.

The railroads will make excursion rates for the fair.

I would earnestly urge the comrades of the Grand Army to attend the state fair on Grand Army day. To make their arrangements and to let nothing interfere with their attendance, and thus show the fair management that we appreciate their action giving the Grand Army a day at the fair, and for their recognition of the old soldier.

Let all go that can possibly and enjoy the hospitality of the good citizens and comrades of North Yakima; to meet our comrades and see the exhibition of the resources and products of the state.

Respectfully in F. C. & L.,
THOS. H. CAVANAUGH,
Official: Department Commander.
J. C. ROBINSON,
A. A. G. & A. Q. M. G.

Sale of Blooded Stock.

All the arrangements have been made for the annual sale of blooded cattle and hogs at the Spokane Interstate Fair on October 8 and 9. A special catalogue, listing all the stock, with a pedigree of each animal, has been prepared and can be secured by addressing H. G. Stimmel secretary and manager of the fair. This is a fine opportunity for farmers and stock men to improve their herds. C. R. Rudspeth of Creston, Washington, will put in 10 cows and 3 bulls. Senator A. J. Splawn of North Yakima, will sell his show herd of 10 head. The stock of both these gentlemen are here. The following persons will put in Short-horn cattle: W. G. Minor of Heppner, Ore., 9 heifer and 6 bulls; the Hazelwood company of Spokane, 1 heifer 1 bull; Metzgar & Klemgard of Pullman, 1 heifer 1 bull; M. Moran of Wenatchee, 3 heifers and 2 bulls; Urquhart Bros. of Krup, 7 bulls. Fifty head of Poland China and Berkshire pigs will be sold. Most of the Poland Chinas are from the Hazelwood company of Spokane.

Two Painful Accidents.

Clarence, the 17 year old son of Landlord Turnell of the Pacific hotel, met with a very painful accident while employed at the Cascade mill last Saturday. The boy had the misfortune in some way to so badly lacerate one of his fingers to require amputation.

Dawson Harris of the Moxee while chopping wood last Monday, by reason of the ax slipping in his grasp, severed the thumb of his left hand. His mother, Mrs. E. M. Harris, bound the severed thumb up and as rapidly as possible drove the young man to this city. Dr. Wells sewed the severed member together and at last accounts the injured member was doing nicely.

Schools Open Monday.

Next Monday Sept. 21 the public schools of this city will open for the fall term. The school board has had a number of men employed in getting the new portable houses ready, the seats in and other preparations.

Work on the new buildings is progressing satisfactorily. Contractor Switzer is now laying the walls of the annex to the Columbia building, while Contractor Felton has finished the foundation of the Summit View building and has begun work on the superstructure. It is hoped that the new buildings will be completed by Dec. 1st.

THE STATE FAIR.

Exhibits Will be Better Than Ever This Year—Prospect Good for Large Attendance.

The members of the State Fair Commission are all very busy these days, each man busy in his own department getting ready for the fair which will open a week from next Monday, Sept. 28.

Among the new judges appointed are Jos. Lannin of Sunnyside, who will have entire charge of the horticultural department. D. S. F. Tolmie of Victoria, B. C., will have charge of the dairy cattle department; Andrew Graham of Pomeroy, beef cattle, while T. S. Oliver will have charge of the racing department.

The Aztec Copper Co. of Seattle has requested space for an extensive exhibit. This company is in possession of the re-discovered secret of tempering copper which for hundreds of years was a lost art. This exhibit will be sure to attract much attention.

The following parties have been appointed by the commission to different positions on the grounds during fair week: J. C. Liggett, marshal with eight assistants, H. H. Allen will be in charge of the box office at the south entrance, H. K. Sinclair at the center and J. C. Brooker at the north gate. Clifford Wright, J. C. Brooker and M. N. Richards will be ticket sellers, B. F. Barge, E. Remy and W. B. Dudley will also be on the secretary's staff. Prof. Richardson will have general charge of the pavilion.

Nagler's band has been engaged by the commission to furnish the music during the week.

Secretary Shannon left for Salem Wednesday, where the Oregon state fair is in progress this week, in order to close deals for a number of attractions mention of which will be made next week.

From every standpoint the outlook for the fair this year is very bright and it seems sure that there will be a large attendance. It is now up to the people of this city to provide ample accommodations and entertainment for the visitors during the week of the fair.

Ex-Senator Wilson in Town.

Ex-Senator John L. Wilson, now a resident of Seattle, was in Yakima Wednesday, stopping off for a few hours on his way home from Spokane.

In conversation with the Democrat scribe Mr. Wilson expressed his delight at the manner in which the town is growing. He thought that Yakima, however, was receiving but scant recognition in the matter of government favor and said, "What is the matter with your people any way. Now there is no reason why that government road across the Rainier reserve should not give your Gold Hill miners the outlet that they so badly need to this city. Then there is the matter of holding sessions of the U. S. court here. It could be done as well as not and it ought to be done. Yakima county furnishes one-half of the business transacted by the court in Eastern Washington and the court ought to meet here. Then there is the matter of securing government aid for irrigation enterprises. It seems to me as though you have propositions here that is will be difficult to interest private capital in. The government, however, could carry them out successfully, but it requires a good deal of work in order to get the government officials interested as so many other sections are demanding consideration."

When asked if he was still in the race for the senate, Mr. Wilson replied, "Well, I dunno, it all depends." This was taken by the reporter to mean a decided yes. Mr. Wilson Wednesday evening was the guest of his old friend, B. F. Barge.

The Hop Situation.

Hop picking has been in full blast this week in most of the yards in this valley. In some yards, however, where an early start was made the picking is finished. The Yakima National bank yard was finished Wednesday. The yield, Mr. Donald says, will be 32 tons, or over a ton to the acre, the best the yard has ever produced.

But few sales were made this week. Pincus & Son purchased the Yakima National's 1902 crop, consisting of 173 bales at 21 1-2c. McNeff Bros. bought 113 bales of both old and new crop, the price varying from 21 to 23 cents. There is now less than 1000 bales of the old crop left in this county. It is thought that there will be a good deal of life in the market next week when most of the new crop will be in the bale.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

AN ordinance is now before the city council of North Yakima which provides for a continuance or extension of the present franchise of the Yakima Water, Light & Power company for a period of 25 years, or rather, to state the case more correctly, it is proposed to repeal the present franchise ordinance under which the company now operates and grant a new franchise to run for a period of 37 years, or thereabouts, the present franchise having been granted in 1890 to run for 25 years from that date, over half of which time is now expired.

The Water, Light & Power company on its part offers the following reasons for seeking an extension of its franchise at this time: First; that the corporation since its first inception has not been a revenue producer in the sense that any stockholder has directly received any returns therefrom, all the earnings, they claim, over and above operating expenses, having been turned back into a fund that has been used to pay for improvements and provide the necessary extensions of the system. Second: the company asserts that it is unwilling to continue investing all of its earnings in order to increase the efficiency of and extent of its plant without the assurance from the city government that its property will not become practically useless at the end of its franchise, which will expire in 1915, which would be the case if the city should refuse to extend the franchise or buy the property, thus leaving the company at the mercy of the municipality.

The company further states that during the past 18 months the sum of $52,000 was expended in improvements, $40,000 of which it was compelled to borrow, and that further extensions of its water mains particularly are required at once in order to keep pace with the rapid growth of the city.

In view of all the circumstances the DEMOCRAT does not feel disposed to oppose the passage of the ordinance granting an extension of the company's franchise, provided the city's interests and the welfare of the people are fully considered therein, as we believe it is the purpose of the council to insist upon. Just what these concessions should be we are not prepared to state, further than to suggest that a substantial reduction should be made in the amount that the municipality is now required to pay for its light and water service. In the matter of light furnished for commercial purposes it would seem as though some reduction should also be secured. Provision should also be made that would serve to guarantee the purity of the water delivered to the consumers, for upon this important point depends in a large measure the health of the community. It would also be wise we believe, to draft into the new ordinance a provision which would insure the city an option to purchase the company's plant at a fair valuation at any time that it may see fit to open negotiations. That time is not now, owing to present financial obligations, but it may come in a few years. Control of its water and light is a function that every city ought to assume rather than to delegate to any private corporation, but here in Yakima we failed to start that way and it will take some years now to bring the thing about.

This paper is not a corporation lover, as our readers all know. But still we believe in treating a corporation with the same degree of fairness that we would treat an individual. It should not be forgotten that the corporation in this case has shown its faith by its works. North Yakima was simply a straggling village when this company began operations. If it was not a time when it tried men's souls, it at least tried their resources and pocket books. It is not easy to build up a city especially when it starts from nothing. It may not appear so to Mr. Kumlaty who on his arrival found all the modern conveniences ready to hand, but the securing of these things has meant for the pioneer a constant struggle.

Certain citizens have made the request that this paper take a determined stand against the granting of the new franchise. If we were convinced that the interests of the people, the consumers of this city, would be benefitted by unconditional opposition to the passage of this ordinance that is the course that we would pursue. The franchise if properly amended as it should be before being granted would put both the city and consumers in a better position than they are now in. If the ordinance is rejected there is no reason to assume that conditions will be any better for the consumer during the next 12 years than they have during the past 13 years and 12 years is a good big chunk off the average man's lifetime. Let us get together gentlemen and settle this question in a spirit of fairness and justice to both the corporation and its patrons.

HAMILTON of Tacoma, the leader of the railroad forces in the last two legislatures has formerly announced through the columns of the Ledger his candidacy for the office of U. S. senator to succeed Addison G. Foster whose term will expire March 3, 1905.

With the entrance of Hamilton in the senatorial race there is likely to be things a doing. Knowing politicians say that it means a new lineup in state politics that will mean if successful a great shaking up of dry bones in the state of Washington in the year of our Lord 1904. This shaking up will not only include the congressional delegation but all the state officers as well from the governor down.

It is rumored that Hamilton has made an alliance with Congressman Cushman in order that he may control Pierce county as against Foster; Cushman in return for the promise of a renomination having consented to abandon Gov. McBride. The new combine, it is said, has determined upon shelving both Congressman Jones and Congressman Humphrey, substituting ex-Judge Carroll B. Graves of Ellensburg and Frank H. Brownell of Everett, for their respective positions. Spokane is to be given the nomination for governor providing that the man so selected can deliver the goods in the way of a friendly delegation at the state convention, as well as the necessary legislative votes for Hamilton for U. S. senator. The minor places on the state ticket, it is needless to say, will be traded off to such localities as will furnish the most votes.

State Senator Hamilton who is to be of course the head of this new machine has the reputation of being a most astute politician and a good organizer. He was the recognized leader of the republican majority of the last state senate and carried out the orders of George Stevenson, the shady boss, to the letter. Aside from his close affiliations with the railroad lobby and the work that he did in the interest of Levi Ankeny's election Hamilton's senate record is not altogether bad, at least it is no worse than that of his party, which the good Lord knows was sufficiently rotten to smell to heaven.

THE Idaho democrats, under the leadership of Senator Dubois, are said to be training their guns on the Mormon church which they assert is constantly interfering in the affairs of that state. Southern Idaho, which is mainly an agricultural and pastoral section is settled up largely with Mormons from Utah who draw their political as well as religious inspiration from Salt Lake City.

The Mormon saints, say the Idaho democratic politicians, teach that fealty to the church and its interests is a higher duty than any Mormon citizen owes to the state or nation and the Mormon voter carries this idea the polls with him and votes as he is directed to by the church authorities. It is also charged that polygamy is being secretly practiced by the more wealthy class of Mormons in violation of both state and national laws.

In order to nullify as far as possible the Mormon influence, the democrats, it is announced, will make an aggressive campaign for the passage of a law requiring voters to take a test oath, proclaiming fealty to the state before that of any other organized body. In this connection, it is said, Senator Dubois, who is a member of the committee on privileges and elections of the U. S. senate, will favor ousting Smoot, the new republican senator from Utah in case that distinguished politician and saint is unwilling to subscribe to the form of oath referred to.

THE national administration has done its best to destroy the prestige of the three greatest military men our nation has produced—Gen. Miles and Admirals Dewey and Schley—but these heroes are too deeply enshrined in patriotic hearts, to allow the memory of their deeds to be tarnished by the hand of envy or malevolence. Soon as the glamor of power and the subservience of greed have had their day, the impartial historian will see that each of these has his proper niche in the Temple of Fame.—Olympia Standard.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY FOLK of St. Louis has 19 hoodlums on the way to the penitentiary and will doubtless succeed in landing them there if the supreme court of Missouri does not act adversely on the cases. There are hundreds of other prosecuting attorneys throughout the country who could make a record for themselves as Folk has done if they were so disposed. There are plenty of other cities in this country where the conditions are probably as bad as they were at St. Louis when Folk started after the gang.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE of Indiana carries word from President Roosevelt to the bankers' convention of the Hoosier state that there will be but very slight changes made in the present currency laws by the approaching session of congress. From this it is evident that congress is not to have much to say on the subject. This sort of talk reminds one of the reign of Grover Cleveland when that great man talked about having congress on his hands.

THE unspeakable Turk, if good for nothing else, knows how to fight, a fact that his neighbors all readily recognize. This is the real reason why the Turk remains in Europe.

"THERE is a cry from Macedonia come and help us," which is today perhaps more genuine and literally true than was the appeal made to the Apostle Paul. The cry of today comes from outraged women and murdered children, the victims of the lust and brutality of the unspeakable Turk. Why this nation of robbers, rapists and murderers should be permitted to live and occupy a place on the map is something which passes the understanding of the ordinary man.

In this issue will be found a splendid article, reproduced from the Philadelphia Public Ledger entitled "The Public Schools," which we invite all of our readers to carefully peruse. The DEMOCRAT is in thorough agreement with the view taken by the Ledger, to-wit: that public schools of the country, particularly the graded schools of the cities are attempting to accomplish too much.

It should not be assumed in the discussion of this water and light franchise question that the franchise which the city council is asked to grant is in any sense an exclusive one for it is nothing of the kind. The city, as we understand the matter, can grant 40 similar franchises if it sees fit.

BORELLI's comet is headed for the earth and traveling at the rate of 3,000,000 miles a day. As it is something like 'seven billion miles away it is not likely to arrive sooner than a republican administration busts a trust. This fact should relieve all fears of the present generation.—Brynn's Commoner.

HAMILTON over four years ago placed the senatorial toga over the broad shoulders of the "merry ha, ha," statesman. Now he proposes by the grace of the railroad lobby to despoil Foster of his official robe and wear it himself.

THE political editor of the Spokeman-Review seems to think that our own Doc Hare is not much in the running for the governorship. Perhaps the Review man never saw a hare run when pursued by a man with a shot gun.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY GUTHRIE is quoted in Monday's Spokeman-Review as being opposed to the nomination of McBride to the governorship and in favor of the nomination of Congressman Jones. Ah there, brother!

It transpires that Consul Magelssen was not assassinated and Turkey has expressed its regrets.

Despite the difference in farewells the chances are that Miles will be remembered quite as long as Root.

The rumor that the president would soon bust a trust sounds very much like that report about the assassination of Magelssen.

Speaker-to-be Cannon has not said a word about "rubber currency" for over a week. The vulcanization of Mr. Cannon's currency views seems to be almost complete.

Mr. Murphy, chief of Tammany, denies that he has pledged the support of that organization to Cleveland. Somehow the Cleveland boom can't keep its legs from wobbling.

New York republicans who decry fusion in Nebraska are striving with might and main to secure fusion in New York city for the purpose of re-electing Mayor Lowe.

Gen. Miles is quite correct in saying that the automobile would make a good war engine. If it proved as fatal in war as has in peace it would be something fearful.

Governor La Follette is pleading for good government and as a result the g. o. p. bosses of Wisconsin are denouncing him as a "populist" and "demagogue."

The republican organs which had such rare sport with the populist "warehouse pawn shop" are not having the same kind of sport with the asset currency scheme.

The asset currency scheme is to allow a bank to issue currency based on what it owes. It is advocated by men who objected strenuously to the populist idea of loaning government money to the farmers and taking for security the food-stuffs that the farmers own.

Washington Letter.

(From our special correspondent.)

Postmaster General Payne has sown the wind and he or the president must reap the whirlwind. This is the confident prediction not only of democratic but of republican politicians. The discharge of Miss Hulda Todd, postmistress of Greenwood, Delaware, to please Senator Allee, the Addicks senator, has met with the severest condemnation throughout the country and will be made a national issue if not reversed. If reversed, the president may pass unscathed, but Postmaster General Payne, will in the opinion of those in a position to judge, will have to resign. Postmaster General Payne, who was called to the cabinet at the request of Senator Hanna because the latter owed Payne many political debts, has never acquitted himself with credit in his present position. Every one in close touch with the postoffice investigation appreciates that had there not been a Bristow at hand, not only to take the lead, but to skillfully place his chief in positions where he was compelled to take the proper course, the whole investigation would have proved a farce and it is further known that in many instances Payne has by his obsequiousness to the political bosses and his loyalty to political henchmen unworthy of trust, placed almost insurmountable obstacles in Bristow's way. Now, however, he has capped the climax and if Mr. Roosevelt makes the least pretension to consistency he cannot fail to relieve the postal service of a man whose every conception of his duty is at total variance with the presidents professions.

Just as the Todd incident was being telegraphed from one end of the country to the other, another Delaware development occurred and served to recall the most discreditable incident of the Roosevelt administration. United States District Attorney William Michael Byrne has resigned. Byrne resigned his position some time ago to run for congress but was defeated because he was an Addicks republican. After his defeat, the president sent his nomination to the senate but Senator Hoar, chairman of the judiciary committee was so opposed to "Addicksism" that he fought Byrne's confirmation and was successful. When the senate convened in special session the president again sent in Byrne's nomination and again Mr. Hoar defeated its confirmation. Then, after he had twice been repudiated by the senate because of his association with an infamous political corruptionist, he was appointed to the position by Mr. Roosevelt as a "recess appointment." Now he has resigned because he appreciates that the senate will never confirm him and the president can not oppose the wishes of that body when it is in session. Decent people, irrespective of party, are hoping that the president will have the courage to wash his hands of the notorious Addicks for all time, but the telegraphic news is to the effect that Addicks lieutenant, Allee, has already gone to Oyster Bay to secure the selection of an Addicks man as Byrne's successor, and the public will await with interest the news of the reception accorded him by Mr. Roosevelt.

There have been some important developments in connection with the post-office investigation during the past week but their real significance is thus far guarded with the utmost secrecy. It is known that the District of Columbia grand jury has returned seven indictments against six persons, but who those persons are it is impossible to say as certain. Arrests are expected hourly now and as soon as they are made the facts will doubtless be given to the public. There are known to be some 20 cases before the grand jury and it is intimated that the most sensational indictments have not been returned, although they are expected soon. Postmaster General Payne has stated that when the grand jury disposes of the cases now before it, the criminal prosecutions growing out of it will be under way. He has further stated that frauds involving approximately $275,000 are under consideration by the jury at the present time. A number of dismissals will doubtless follow the conclusion of the legal end of the investigation and there will be considerable reorganization. Once indictments have been secured, the postoffice department surrenders all control of the legal cases to the department of justice.

Like Diogenes of old, Secretary Hitchcock is still hunting for an honest man to conduct the investigation of the Indian Territorial scandals, which investigation he maintains was begun last May. The secretary was greatly elated over the indictment at Lawton of a bridge contractor and three of the commissioners who were implicated in an attempt to defraud the country through the construction of bridges not in accordance with specifications, etc. These men were among those who were constructing public improvements with the funds accruing from the sale of lots in Lawton. Secretary Hitchcock regards their indictment as an evidence of the fact that he has been under the necessity of proceeding with the utmost caution in the acceptance of public improvements constructed with those funds.

The Public Schools

There are a great many people who are of the opinion that there is too much "ginger bread work" in our public schools. This criticism has reference to the course of study, which in the judgment of many critics is entirely too elaborate and extensive for the common schools which were designed only to furnish the rising generation with a full and complete knowledge of the fundamental branches. The following article is taken from an editorial in the Public Ledger of Philadelphia, but the reasoning applies equally well to the schools of North Yakima, now about to open:

"The public schools are maintained by the people, whether they are direct taxpayers or not, for the benefit of the largest number and for the safety and happiness of the state and nation. The first function of the public school system is to provide for as many of the children of the city as possible the most useful and sensible education. It performs still another function not foreseen when the public schools were established; it maintains high schools, and the ambitious, able and industrious are thus given an opportunity at the public expense of satisfying their ambitions. This is the land of equal opportunity, and this additional service rendered by the school system is a wise one.

"But it must be evident that at the present time we cannot with justice go much further. Many children who are to be citizens are actually unable to get into the public schools or at best receive instruction for half time only; and while we are not doing our 'plain duty' by all the children, it is unwise as well as most unjust to talk of colleges, or to lay too much stress upon foreign languages. The main trouble with the public school system is that it aims to do too much; reaches out after the unnecessary and neglects the needful and the obvious; does too many things very badly.

"Why should we bother our heads unduly about foreign languages when the graduates of our schools speak English so lamely that we are actually developing in this city a base kind of 'patios' which is degrading the noble English language. Graduates of Philadelphia public schools often attract attention by the use of phrases like 'He hasn't came,' 'Have saw,' 'I seen,' 'He has went.' They are ignorant of English grammar, ignorant of our history, cannot spell and are nuisances to any business house that employs them.

"In almost every large American city the children of foreign birth or of foreign parentage are in the majority and the immigration commissioner says that for the year ending June 30, last, 1,000,000 more immigrants landed on our shores. The function of the public school is to turn the children of these newcomers into American citizens, and the most efficacious method of making good American citizens of these children and of the children of the natives is to teach them the English language.

"We are so old-fashioned that we even think that the multiplication table is useful, and if the public schools should teach the pupils thoroughly reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, the English language, American history, and something about our form of government, how the republic was founded, how it grew and how painfully English liberty was won after a struggle of over 100 years, then the public school could perhaps profitably extend its activity, provided all of the children of the city had received the fundamental education soundly and thoroughly."

J. J. Miller of the Wenas will sell at public auction Friday, Sept. 25, all of his live stock, farming implements and household goods.

Letter from Weaver.

In view of the urgency of third-party men, as exhibited at Denver recently, to adopt a policy which can at this time serve no other purpose than to embarrass the real democrats of the democratic party and give aid and comfort to the common enemy, we confess our gratification at receiving so emphatic an endorsement of our opposition to this fatuous policy as is expressed in the subjoined letter from General James B. Weaver:

"I observe the recent action of the populist committee at Denver does not meet your approval. I heartily concur with you. While I have great respect for the gentleman present, I think the meeting and action taken premature and calculated to do harm. I so telegraphed, in substance, to the secretary at the time. While democrats who adhere to the Kansas City platform are not populists, yet they are truly democratic in spirit, sincere in purpose, formidable in numbers and organization, and represent all the reforms which the people are likely to accept during this generation. Hence it is our duty to act with them, unless future events and plain duty impel a different course. When brazen imperialists and organized plutocracy, which is imperialism in business, aided by their powerful weapon, the subsidized press, are moving in solid phalanx to capture the democratic organization, which is now out of their hands, patriots should not fall apart, but stand together like heroes upon line of battle. He who leads a column away from us on such an occasion defeats the very object he claims to have in view. The enemy will laugh at our factions but he trembles before a united people. Again, in the great race before us, it is idle to expect our horse to win if we cut his hamstring before starting."

General Weaver's record for devotion to principle in preference to party, together with his most distinguished service as a radical leader in American politics, should bespeak for his opinion the interest, respect and consideration of democratic men of all parties, factions and organizations.—The Public.

Land Contest Case.

A contest case was heard in the U. S. land office Thursday. The case is that of F. Ashley Wood vs Geo. A. Stoltz involving desert entry No. 689, located near White Bluffs. Stoltz made a desert filing on the land Aug. 5, 1902, while Wood filed a contest for the claim Aug. 6, of this year.

C. H. Hinman appeared in the case as agent for Wood, while Stoltz was represented by Attorneys Krutz and Guthrie.

Out of this case has grown a $10,000 suit for criminal libel filed this week by Walter J. Reed vs F. Ashley Wood. The complaint recites that Wood in his affidavit of contest declared that Mr. Reed while acting as register of the land office and the contestee, Stoltz, had entered into a conspiracy to defraud the government of the land in question. Hence the suit filed by Mr. Reed.

For Disorderly Conduct.

A strike was inaugurated Monday morning among the hoppers employed in the Moxee company's yards, but after a few hours the matter was settled and a majority of the pickers returned to work.

J. B. Labree, a local man who with his family was at work in the yards, grew rather demonstrative over the matter and is reported to have used rather violent language. A warrant was sworn out for Labree and he was arrested and brought to town. At his trial before Justice Taggard Tuesday Labree was fined $10.00 and costs.

Manager Lesh paid his pickers $1.50 per box for Sunday work and some of the crowd thought they were entitled to $1.25 per box for the other six days of the week.

U. S. Commissioners Court.

Ah Sam, a celestial, was taken off a train last Sunday by Deputy Marshal Short and Sheriff Grant on telegraphic instructions from Seattle charging the Chinaman with being unlawfully in the country. He was given an examination before Commissioner Howlett Tuesday and was ordered deported back to the flowery kingdom.

Frank C. Smith and J. C. Murphy, two smooth specimens of the genus hobo were arrested Monday night and Tuesday morning by Deputy Short and Sheriff Grant on the charge of bootlegging. The men were given an examination before Commissioner Howlett Thursday afternoon and were bound over.

Fruit Men Busy.

The warehouses along the track are scenes of great activity, in nearly all of which a number of hands are employed in packing fruit and loading fruit, hay and potatoes into cars.

Ryan & Newton shipped a car of Elberta peaches to Winnipeg, Manitoba Tuesday and a car of mixed fruits to Billings Wednesday. A car of grapes was shipped to Seattle Thursday and a car of mixed fruits to Butte Friday.

There has been a strong demand for a No. 1 grade of potatoes this week for shipment to Alaska before the river closes. Prices have run from $15 to $17 per ton.

Alfalfa hay is still advancing in price. Quotations Friday were $10 to $10.50.

A Double Burial.

Josephine Eichert, aged 23 years, died in this city at 10:30 a. m., Tuesday. The following morning about 6 o'clock her brother, Anton, aged 28, died. A double funeral was held yesterday, Friday morning at 8:30 from St. Joseph church, burial being made in the new Catholic cemetery.

The brother and sister came here a few weeks ago with their father, E. Eichert who, it is said, thought his children's health would be benefited by the change of climate.

A Token of Appreciation.

Wednesday afternoon Miles Cannon, president of the Yakima Valley bank, was given a surprise that was quite unexpected, and which was thoroughly appreciated by the rotund and goodnatured president. The surprise consisted of a fine young horse and an elegant new rubber-tired buggy, which was presented to Mr. Cannon by R. N. Harrison, representing the board of directors of the bank. The following note, signed by the board of directors and handed Mr. Cannon, is self-explanatory:

North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 15, 1903.
Hon. Miles Cannon, President Yakima Valley Bank:

In appreciation of your untiring and valuable services which have made this first year's business of the Yakima Valley bank a great success, we tender you our most sincere thanks and present you, in the name of the stockholders, the horse and buggy in which you are now riding. Trusting as this young mare grows in size and increases in speed the Yakima Valley bank will grow and increase in depositors.

Mr Bryan's New Home.

Many pictures have been published of the new home of Mr. Bryan. It is a structure of considerable size and elegance. For the most part the publication has not been in a spirit of fairness. There has attended it the implied conviction that Mr. Bryan has no right to a decent house but that duty calls him to live in a slab shanty. It is as well to be fair. If Mr. Bryan can earn an income sufficient to provide a good house for his family, he would be even more badly mistaken than he is were he to fail to do this. A man has not only the right but the duty of caring for those whom circumstances have made him responsible. If Mr. Bryan made money and declined to spend a reasonable portion of it in comforts, he would be denounced as a miser. The plain fact is that what sort of a house Mr. Bryan, or any other man capable of paying for the house, may choose to erect, is nobody's business but his own.—Tacoma Ledger.

A High Tribute.

General Miles can afford to ignore the slights heaped upon him by President Roosevelt. The following resolution was passed by the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at San Francisco:

"Resolved that we congratulate that splendid soldier, exemplary commander General Nelson A. Miles, upon his attainment of a distinguished and honorable retirement after a matchless record as a soldier of over forty-two years' service, without just criticism of his official conduct, which began as a lieutenant in the Twenty-second Massachusetts infantry, progressing to the brightest grade of heroic patriotism from Manassas to Appomattox during the greatest of all civil wars, from 1861 to 1865 and illuminating this record by his great military achievements as a successful Indian fighter and again as a great and judicial military disciplinarian and organizer."

This tribute from real soldiers far outweighs all the insults of the hero of "San Juan hill."—Colfax Commoner.

COLOR IGNORANCE.

It is a Matter Wholly Apart From Color Blindness.

Color blindness was the topic under discussion. "They tell me I'm color blind," said the lawyer, "but I don't believe it. Often, I admit, I make mistakes in colors. I say that pink is red I say that green is blue. But it is only the names of the colors I am off in. I am not, I insist, color blind." The oculist who was in the party nodded approval.

"Exactly," he said. "These diagnosticians of yours mistake your case. They take color ignorance for color blindness. Here they are as wrong as though they should say music ignorance was music blindness—as though, I mean, because you could not tell that a certain struck note was 'E flat,' you were dead to all musical gradations. Some years ago, when the examination in colors of railroad men was inaugurated, a howl went up over the amazing amount of color blindness in America, and many a good man lost his job unjustly. These men had been off in the names of colors, not in the colors themselves. They could in a day or two have been taught what they lacked. Many of them, it is likely, were not color blind. I say this because recently I heard of an examination of 800 railroad men that was conducted in the proper way on an English line. About seventy of these men were a little off regarding color nomenclature, but not a single one of them was color blind."—Philadelphia Record.

Oriental Squatters.

Most artists depicting the east show men sitting crosslegged, tailor fashion. Easterners don't sit like that. Usually they stick their calves beneath them, sit on their heels and with the soles of the feet pointed upward, a painful posture for an occidental. The Hindoo usually rests on his haunches, with his knees pyramid style and his chin on their level. Try that attitude ten minutes and see how you like it.

Traveling eastward, as soon as you touch Turkey you reach a district where sitting on the floor is the custom. You may then journey on for thousands of miles, also north and south, and the millions in that region are all floor squatters. When you arrive in China, however, then you are among other millions who sit on chairs. Go over to Japan, and then you get among squatters again. The question is, Why should the Chinese, among all the nations of the east, use chairs?

How Romans Took Their Food.

The Romans reclined at their banquets on couches, all supporting themselves on one elbow and eating with their fingers from dishes placed in the center of the table. Each was supplied with a napkin, and knives were used, though it does not appear that every one was supplied with one. Nothing, it would seem, could be more fatiguing than to partake of a repast in such an awkward posture or less conducive to neatness, it being almost impossible to keep the hands clean even with water supplied by the slaves or to prevent the food and wine from falling on the clothing and the draperies of the couch. This manner of eating disappeared during the dark ages so far as the couch was concerned, but the peculiarity of taking the food with fingers from a common dish continued afterward for more than 1,000 years.

SPLENDID PHYSICAL CONTEST.

F. S. Lewis and Chris Larson Wrestle 45 Minutes—Larson Gets Decision. Return Match Billed for Sept. 30th.

The wrestling bout between Prof. Frank S. Lewis of Walla Walla and Chris. Larson, recently of North Dakota, was pulled off as advertised at the armory last Friday night in the presence of a small crowd of perhaps 150 people. It was a most exciting and strenuous affair from beginning to end, without the slightest appearance of a fake about it. The crowd was dubious and suspicious about the affair at the start, but before the first fall every one present seemed satisfied that the contest was on its merits and that the two men were both doing their utmost to win. The bout was undoubtedly the finest physical contest that has ever been seen in this part of the country. It was catch as catch can, best two falls out of three. Larson won the first fall in 22 minutes, Lewis the second in 11 minutes while Larson got the third in 12 minutes. Larson was therefore declared the winner by Referee Wood.

A preliminary bout catch as catch can, was given before the big event by Jim Woods and "Reddy" Frew, two local wrestlers. It was a good bout and pleased the spectators. Frew won both falls and thus the decision.

Lewis and Larson entered the ring at 9:15. The men were soon stripped and after shaking hands went at it, Lewis assuming the aggressive. Larson seemed very cautious at first but after taking his man's measure grew bolder. Larson's herculean form appeared to good advantage, the man seemed to have the strength of an ox. On the other hand Lewis appeared the more skillful and the better general. First the advantage seemed to be with one and then with the other, as the two surged over the mat. During the melee Lewis had Larson's head in chancery several times and nothing saved the latter but his marvelous and catlike quickness. After a tussle lasting 22 minutes Larson through main strength put the Lewis shoulder blades flatly on the mat and was awarded the fall by Referee Woods. A number of spectators in the audience declared that the referee was in error.

After a 10 minute rest in their respective corners time was called and the two men faced each other again. The air of confidence had faded from the countenance of the Walla Walla man and he wore a look of determination instead. He went at his man hammer and tongs, but Larson defended himself so successfully that 11 minutes were consumed before Lewis was able to put him to the mat. The third round both men were extremely cautious, each seeking to take the other at a disadvantage. They finally began to mix it, each man appearing to avail himself of all the science and strength at his command. Again in this round Larson saved himself several times when his admirers thought that he was done for. Finally, however, Larson got his man at a disadvantage and summoning all his strength, finally pinned him down, the referee awarding him the contest amid the shouts of the spectators. Lewis took his defeat good naturedly, shook hands with his successful rival, and lost no time in challenging him for another contest. The challenge was accepted by Larson and the following day articles of agreement were signed by the two men to wrestle again under the same conditions, at the armory on the night of Sept. 30.

The bout from beginning to end was a good and clean one and it is thought that the two men will have a much larger audience when they face each other again on the 30th.

SPEECHES THAT LIVE.

Oratoric Triumphs That Stand the Test of Reading.

It is often said that if a speech reads well it is not a good speech. There may be some truth in it. The reader cannot, of course, get the impression which the speaker conveys by look and tone and gesture. He lacks that marvelous influence by which in a great assembly the emotion of every individual soul is multiplied by the emotion of every other. The reader can pause and dwell upon the thought. If there be a fallacy, he is not hurried away to do something else before he can detect it. So, also, his more careful and deliberate criticism will discover offenses of style and taste which pass unheeded in a speech when uttered. But still the great oratoric triumphs of literature and history stand the test of reading in the closet as well as of hearing in the assembly. Would not Mark Antony's speech over the dead body of Caesar, had it been uttered, have moved the Roman populace as it moves the spectator when the play is acted or the solitary reader in his closet? Does not Lord Chatham's "I rejoice that America has resisted" reads well? Do not Sheridan's and Burke's great perorations in the impeachment of Warren Hastings read well? Does not "Liberty and union, now and forever," read well? Does not "Give me liberty or give me death" read well? Do not Everett's finest passages read well?—Senator Hoar in Success.

Laughter Better Than Pills.

The cure for the bilious man is a clown, not pills. For indigestion go to a show where there are one or two first class fools who know how to make "monkeys" of themselves. The fun, however, should be clean, innocent, harmless and hearty, with no suggestion of indecency or vulgarity. In other words, the fun should be "hygienic." Fun that is foul and malodorous is unhealthful.

The best sort of fun for the dyspeptic is the fun that burlesques the follies and foibles of the odd "characters" you have met. If you can't find the show with the burlesque "artists" who can make you laugh, seek out companions who are jolly and who know the art of clowning.

Don't let any half baked idiot load your mind with his business or domestic troubles. When you get an hour or two from the desk or store, abandon yourself willingly and cheerfully to the frivolities of a jocular friend.—What to Eat.

A Stubborn Husband.

A most interesting phenomenon is the stubborn husband. He is not a bad man. He is contrary, and he has to be managed. He is usually married to a clever little woman, who is constantly devising schemes to accomplish the things which make their joint lives a success.

He has no suspicion of this. If he had, he would be so mad he could undoubtedly eat her. So all through life she goes on swinging a turnip ahead of his nose to make him go the same as though he were a balky mule. She is a cheery little body, and she grows plump with every year, and she does her smiling behind the door or she chuckles in her sleeve when he is not by. The stubborn husband is as interesting as a bug.—London Standard.

Marriage by Capture.

Marriage by capture is a very old and very widely spread custom. It prevails among the Hindoos, the Kalmucks and Circassians and the primitive races of Australia, New Zealand and America, but instead of abduction being considered an outrage by these half civilized peoples it is looked upon as a preliminary marriage rite, and, as a general rule, the coy damsel is by no means averse to the mild violence.

Abduction became so common in England in the reigns of the Tudor princes that a statute was passed on the subject, and this was followed by an act of Elizabeth which took away the benefit of clergy from the offender, and it was not till so late as the reign of George IV. that the crime ceased to be a capital offense and punishable with death.

What the White House Is.

To the American people the White House represents the personality of the president of the United States. To the politician the magic words may stand for the goal of an ambition too often associated with the deepest and most poignant disappointment, while to the historian the name may typify decisions that have marked epochs in the affairs of nations. In the mind of the people, however, the official character of the building has always been subordinate to its domestic uses. Popularly speaking, the White House is the place not where the president works, but where he entertains.—Charles Moore in Century.

A Mistake Somewhere.

"Is it true, Miss Gertie," he said, "that there are just two things a woman will jump at—a conclusion and a mouse?"

"No," she answered, "there is a third, Mr. Philip."

After thinking the matter over a few moments he tremblingly made her an offer, but she didn't jump at it. He was not the right man.

Not Appreciated.

Bjens—It certainly seems to me that a man like Bjackson, who has worked hard all his life and brought up a family of sixteen children, deserves a great deal of credit.

Bjones—No doubt. But he can't have it at the stores.—Somerville Journal.
