

BIG CELEBRATION ON THE FOURTH

Other Towns and Cities in the Valley will Join with North Yakima in Observance of Nation's Birthday.

The greatest preparations are being made by the business men of this city in the interests of the gigantic Fourth of July celebration scheduled to be pulled off here.

Mayor H. H. Lombard has sent out a circular letter to all the towns in Central Washington inviting them to send large delegations here to participate in the festivities. Every town between Easton and Pasco will doubtless feel compelled to accept Mayor Lombard's invitation in view of the unprecedented preparations this city will make to give the visitors a hearty welcome.

The Business Men's association is engineering the celebration, and this fact alone assures a successful program in all departments of the entertainment.

The merchants have contributed liberally to the subscription list for the purpose of defraying the necessary expenses and already $2000 have been raised by the business men's committee appointed to solicit funds.

Assurances have been received from Easton, Thorp, Ellensburg, Wapato, Granger, Sunnyside, Mabton, Toppenish, Kiona and Kennewick that large delegations may be expected from those points. The committee of business men appointed to look after the sports of the day have promised to hold up liberal purses in all events so that the competitors will have something to look forward to. It is more than probable that interesting automobile races will be pulled off at the state fair grounds during the afternoon of the Fourth.

The fireworks display in the evening will be an attraction of unusual proportions. The site for the scenic display is yet under consideration by the committee in charge of this particular feature. It will be announced later.

Col. W. W. Robertson is chairman of the committee appointed to secure an orator. If Col. Robertson does not speak himself, he will certainly get some one who can fill the bill almost if not as well as could be.

It has been suggested that William Goodyear of Colfax, and candidate for congress in the Third district, be invited here to speak on the Fourth. Mr. Goodyear is an able orator and would doubtless make a favorable impression with the Yakima people.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM ADOPTED AT SPOKANE

The complete platform adopted by the Democratic state convention at Spokane is as follows:

The present tariff law, enacted by the republican party in 1897, was framed solely in the interests of the classes against the masses; in the interest of trusts and combinations against the common people; in the interest of the rich against the poor. Bad as it was when enacted, it has been constantly becoming more unjust as industrial conditions have changed.

We, therefore, demand an immediate revision of the tariff law on lines of justice to all and special favors to none, and pledge the people that if the democratic party is restored to power it will speedily enact such legislation.

We further demand:

That a non-partisan tariff commission be provided, to make such adjustments and revisions of the tariff law from time to time as will make it fairly meet the changing conditions of industry and production and that in framing such a law by congress and the making of necessary changes and revisions of the tariff from time to time, the following fundamental principles be observed:

First—All necessities of life that can not be practically produced in the United States shall be placed on the free list.

Second—On all luxuries imported into the United States a tariff should be levied as high as can be practically collected.

Third—On other commodities a tariff should be levied equal to the difference between cost of production at home and abroad, no higher.

We further demand that such a law shall provide that whenever the producers of any protected commodity unite in any trust, pool, syndicate or other unlawful combination, artificially to limit production or augment the price to the consumer, such commodity should become entitled to admission without the payment of duty, and the importer should have the right to enforce this provision by any appropriate legal action before any court of competent jurisdiction.

We demand:

Strict regulation of the trusts engaged in interstate business, through the licensing plan outlined in the democratic platform of 1900, and by invoking the criminal clause in the Sherman anti-trust law.

Effective regulation of the railroads by giving the interstate commerce commission power to determine and fix rates which will net a fair and reasonable interest on the actual value of the

KACHES LODGE NOW READY FOR GUESTS

Beautiful Scenery, Hunting, Fishing and a Cool Invigorating Place to Spend Your Summer Vacation.

To those in this city who are beginning to look around for a cool spot to spend their summer vacation attention is called to the beautiful region in the vicinity of Lake Kaches.

There are a great many North Yakimans who have visited Kaches Lodge each summer since the novel little log cabin hotel was erected on the shore of this delightful lake, and no one who has ever tasted of the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gale has ever had aught to say but the words of kindest praise for their landlord and landlady.

Kaches Lodge is situated about three and one-half miles from Easton, on the Northern Pacific railroad, right in the heart of the Cascade mountains. It is surrounded by great primeval forests on the north, south and west, while the waters of Lake Kaches lash against the front veranda. In the heated summer months the place is most inviting to weary tourists. It is easy of access. A person may alight from the train at Easton, take a livery to the foot of the lake, which costs him 50 cents, and you are there met by the proprietor of Kaches Lodge in his famous gasoline launch Dorothy. Launch Dorothy was named after Captain Gale's wife, and although it has been in commission for several years, it is still in apple pie order, and skims over the placid water of the lake as smoothly as a ship on a sea of glass.

The hunting and fishing around Kaches Lodge is excellent. Especially is this true of the fishing. The scenery is the finest to be had anywhere. Boats may be secured at the lodge for picnic excursions and every convenience is shown to guests.

Those who have never made a trip to this delightful summer resort should by all means avail themselves of an opportunity at an early date.

HURRAH FOR JACK!

Hurrah for Jack Splawn!
Hurrah for Jack!
He's the man with the pioneer pack
He came when a lad to the Golden west,
And settled in Washington state for the best.

So here's to Jack Splawn—

Hurrah for Jack Splawn!
Hurrah for Jack!
He's just as plain and matter-of-fact
As old Andrew Jackson in his day and time.
And if he is 63—he's still in his prime.

Hurrah for Jack Splawn!
Hurrah for Jack!
Come, get on the wagon, let's make an attack.
Mr. Voter, don't you know just now what we need?
It ain't Col. Ridpath, McBride or Mead.
So here's to Jack Splawn—

PINAFORE SINGERS ARE IN FINE FETTER

Scenery and Costumes Have Arrived for Comic Opera to be Presented Here on Friday, June 5.

The finishing touches are now being put on the comic opera, "Pinafore," or "The Lass Who Loved a Sailor," Gilbert & Sullivan's greatest English composition. The members of the company are in fine fettle, and the indications are that a crowded house will greet the amateurs on the night of their initial performance.

The magnificent stage setting for the production arrived last Wednesday morning from Seattle. It is by far the most elaborate scenery ever used in the production of a local amateur entertainment, and Manager Fred Schaefer of the Yakima theatre says that it rivals the scenery of any professional troupe in the business at the present time.

The costumes for the opera were obtained from the San Francisco Opera company, which is now playing a summer engagement in Seattle at the Grand.

The voices that will be heard in "Pinafore" on Friday night, June 5, will compare favorably with any of the best singing companies in professional roles.

The leading lady, Miss Doris Arrow-smith, has a wonderful soprano voice. She ranks with Fritzi Scheff. In fact all the principals are prominent singers, possessing well cultivated voices, and their acting is of a high class. Following is the cast:

Josephine ..... Miss Doris Arrow-smith
Little Buttercup ..... Miss Lyle Gamble
Cousin Hebe ..... Miss Coral Doust
Ralph Rackstraw ..... Mr. Warren A. Erwin
Dick Deadeye ..... Mr. C. H. Rasmussen
Sir Joseph Porter ..... Mr. L. L. Linn
Captain Coreoran ..... Mr. W. B. Owen
Boatswain ..... Mr. Frank Sharkey
Boatswain's Mate ..... Mr. G. A. Dunbar

Hurrah for Jack Splawn!
Hurrah for Jack!
They say he's a farmer—well, hurrah for Jack!
There's many a man with a calling like that,
Who look's pretty fine in a Governor's hat.
So here's to Jack Splawn—

Hurrah for Jack Splawn!
Hurrah for Jack!
He's a cowboy, too, and a crackerjack—
He fought the Indians tooth and nail,
And rode the range to keep out 'f jail.
So here's to Jack Splawn—

Now listen, Mr. Voter, to what I say
About this man with the Yakima hay
That he wears on his chin in a manner
so gay:

"He's as honest and square as John R. Rogers—
He's a democrat, too, but not one of the dodgers—
And there's one more thing about Farmer Jack—
He can run like h—l on any kind of a track.

If the going is bad, and the odds against him
He digs into the mud with determined grim!

He's a classy old timer, had his in's and his outs.
And when called upon he answers the shouts
Of the people who want him to show 'em some speed—
That's Jack—and you bet, he's the runner we need.

Get busy, I say, for the time is at hand
When every taxpayer must join the band,
And toot on some kind of instrumentation
For a more economical administration.
Then—
Here's to Jack Splawn!
Here's to Jack!
By W. A. ERWIN.

"CARNEGIE OUGHT TO BUILD SHIPS"

This is What James H. Fraser Says, Who Visited the Battleship Fleet and Was Impressed With It's Greatness.

Among the visitors from this city to see the fleet last week was James H. Fraser and family. They spent several days in Seattle. Mr. Fraser feels that he got his money's worth, and says he would not have missed the event for three times the expense of everything in connection with the trip.

"When those fifteen warships steamed into Elliott Bay," said Mr. Fraser to a Democrat reporter, "I want to say to you that it was the most imposing pageant I ever saw in my life, and I don't know that I ever saw anything which so appealed to my patriotism."

"No, there was no great big noise, which many expected to hear, and there were no cannons booming a welcome. On the other hand, I believe, that every home-loving American was given food for thought. With me it was a solemn moment. As those great battleships approached the shore and anchored, the thought occurred to me that I am now gazing upon practically the entire fighting force of my country's naval power. I felt that such should not be a fact, because I believe our country should have the greatest fighting fleet among all the nations of the world."

"Then you agree with Captain Hobson," interrupted the reporter.

"I certainly agree with him, and possibly go him one better," answered the Yakima man.

"In fact I believe that our fleet at the present time should be twice the size that it is. We are certainly financially able to support the biggest fleet in the world."

"Why, don't you know that Carnegie's income annually is sufficient to build and equip a navy the size of the Atlantic squadron? If old Andrew would put more of his surplus earnings into private battleships and then present them to Uncle Sam for a nominal sum rather than expend so much money in public libraries, I believe he would be more appreciated by the American people, who feel as I do about the necessity of this country maintaining a superior fighting force on the waters."

Mr. Fraser concluded by saying that he believes an opportunity such as was afforded the people of Washington by the visit of the Atlantic squadron, should be presented to the American people oftener. It creates a patriotic feeling that can not be produced by any other process, unless it is a great military review of marching armies.

"There were more than 400,000 people who witnessed the entrance of the fleet into Seattle's harbor, and there should have been twice that number," said Mr. Fraser. "If they ever come again I'll be Johnny on the spot."

CHARLIE STEVENS SHOT.

An Old Enemy Suspected, but Theory is Doubtful.

Sheriff John Edwards is investigating the shooting of Charlie Stevens, which occurred near Wapato last Friday morning. Stevens was walking along the road when a bullet from a rifle at some 300 yards distance pierced his arm. At first it was thought that an attempt had been made to assassinate Stevens, and a man named Frank Peterson, said to be unfriendly to the wounded man, was suspected.

Subsequent investigations by the sheriff's office, however, have led Sheriff Edwards to believe that Stevens was hit by a stray bullet, and that no attempt was made to take his life. The matter will be thoroughly investigated before a definite decision is arrived at.

A BUSY CITY, THIS.

North Yakima Appears to Be a Seething Mass of Humanity.

Everybody in North Yakima seems to be working these days. In fact it is a hard matter to distinguish pedestrians from laborers. All the business streets are lined with men, wagons, teams and automobiles.

Hundreds of laborers are working on the city improvements and Yakima avenue is torn up as it never was before. There is one consolation, however, and that is that next winter the avenue will not present a picture of deplorable mud ponds. The pavement work is under full headway and while a strike of the laborers was declared last Monday, the following day Contractor McKivor acceded to the demands of the workmen, gave them $2 a day for eight hours work, and all is harmony now.

The Fulton Market at the corner of Chestnut and South First street carries a full line of everything in fish, oysters and clams.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

Wool prices are the worst situation facing Yakima valley stockmen at the present time. The Republic has already several times pointed out the fact that very low prices are being offered this year and more recently declared that the local wool growers intended to store their wool and wait for an improvement in the market conditions. Whether they will be able to thus wait is now a question. Telegrams were received here yesterday to the effect that at Pendleton and Pilot Rock, Ore., as a result of the sales of Monday and Tuesday, over 1,000,000 pounds had been disposed of at prices ranging from 6 to 13 3-8 cents and the telegram further said that "very few offers were rejected." In addition to this there was a considerable quantity of wool sold at Arlington, after the bids there Saturday had been rejected, at prices less than 6 cents.

Will Not Store Here.

Umatilla, Morrow and Gilliam county woolgrowers having thus thrown their wool on the market at existing prices it is almost a certainty that the Yakima and Kittitas growers will have to let theirs go instead of holding for better conditions, as they had anticipated. This price of wool places it in the same category with hops so far as the producer is concerned. The price paid is hardly more than a third of what the wool men received last year and is worse, one of the growers declare, than would be the conditions under free trade. It is reported that the prevailing price was 12 cents.

The market price for wethers and lambs is also off. Retail quotations are a cent less than they have been and advices from Portland seem to indicate that the bottom is out from under the market.

Weather Delays Strawberries.

Because of the cold weather which has prevailed the Yakima strawberries are not coming in as fast as had been anticipated. The berries are not ripening or coloring and another day or two of hot sun with less of the cold wind which has been felt are required to ripen them. The Kennewick berries are about at an end for the present. Strawberries are quoted at two boxes for 25 cents.

Cherries, home grown, are also another feature of the fruit market and are selling at 15 cents a quart. The surprise is that they have ripened at all. Those in are from the favored districts.

The Horticultural Union is reported to have shipped its last car of apples, making in excess of 100 cars shipped by it of the crop of last season. There are still some apples held but not a large quantity. A carload from this valley reached Seattle today. It was fair stock and the prices offered are something better than have prevailed.

Butter Is Up a Notch.

Butter has advanced and is now quoted at 65 cents for the two pound roll. Butter has been cheaper for some time past than has been the case for a couple of years before but the supply is not commensurate with the demand and the eastern competition has somewhat weakened.

Small beets and turnips, home grown, have made their appearance on the retail market and are finding a considerable sale. Cucumbers are also on sale, bringing 15 cents each.

Hay and potatoes have undergone no changes of conditions. Potatoes are weak at from $8 to $12 a ton, of no great quality and no particular demand. The hay market has shown no revival. Hay, baled and delivered, is being offered locally at about $8 per ton. General quotations are as follows:

MEDALS IN WAITING FOR YAKIMA SOLDIERS

Men Who Fought in the Philippines Entitled to Federal Token of Service.

Yakima county men who saw army service in the Philippines are entitled, among others, to medals which are awaiting claimants at Washington. Knowledge of the existence of these rewards has not been general and it has been only the past day or two that members of the local fighting force and others who are now resident here heard of them. Applications are being prepared to be sent to headquarters. These medals were authorized by an act of June 29, 1906, and inquiries have been made as to the cause of the delay in delivering them. Investigation at the war department discloses the fact that these medals are ready for distribution, but are sent out only upon application of the soldier. They are distributed by the quartermaster general, United States Army, and applications addressed to him at Washington, D. C., will be promptly honored.

The act authorizing the issuance of these medals provided for striking off such medals of bronze, bearing suitable device, "to each of the several officers and enlisted men and families of such as may be dead, who, having volunteered and enlisted for the war with Spain, served beyond the term of their enlistment to help suppress the Philippine insurrection, and who subsequently received an honorable discharge from the United States army, or who died prior to such discharge."

Those regiments from Oregon, Washington and other western states which served in the Philippines after the close of the Spanish war, are all entitled to these medals and application from individual soldiers, with a statement of service coming within the scope of the law, will bring forth medals from the quartermaster general's office.

OFFICIAL SAYS DAIRY FARMS ARE CLEAN

"Yakima valley dairy farms compare favorably with those of other portions of the United States. Dairymen who supply the city with milk, cream and butter have at last come to a realization of the importance of cleanliness and proper means of caring for milk. The barns are kept clean; the milk utensils are in fairly good condition and the cows are free from disease," said Clarence B. Lane, of the United States department of Agriculture, after having paid the valley a visit yesterday.

Mr. Lane is touring the northwest observing dairy farms and making suggestions to dairymen as to the best means of caring for milk. Accompanied by City Health Officer Helton, Mr. Lane spent the entire day visiting dairy farms of Yakima valley. He expressed himself as being pleased with the conditions he found existing here. Continuing he said:

Some Unclean "Calf" Pails.

"It is not often that one meets with such encouraging conditions as I find here. I found not over two places in the valley that needed any attention at all. The owners of these two dairies were not as careful as they might be regarding the cleanliness of milk utensils. I asked one of them about a certain milk pail I happened to pick up and he quickly informed me the pail I had reference to was used in feeding calves. I had no means of contradicting his statements so accepted it for the truth. But I must say that young bossy is treated to a better looking pail in Yakima valley than in any other community in which I have visited.

"I was pleased to note that a good share of the milk dealers of the valley use sterilized bottles. This is the only sanitary manner of handling milk. There is absolutely no merit in the old foul tin cans which some dealers persist in using. More contagious diseases arise from milk receptacles of that nature than the public is aware of.

"The health of a community rests largely on the condition of the meat, milk and butter offered for sale at the local markets. If these are contaminated, so also must be the people who consume the products. I think there is no reason for any alarm here in the Yakima valley. As I have stated, dairymen in the Yakima valley are, on the whole, clean and cautious. It certainly is a gratification to see clean barns and clean methods of handling the milk, after having been shown through the dairy barns of Seattle.

Conditions Improving.

"The west, in its hurry to do things, is apt to forget the necessary precautions that should be taken in regard to the food stuffs. It is becoming less that way, however, and I believe before another half decade has passed dairymen in the west will be on a par with the industry in the middle west and eastern states. I would suggest that your county health officer and the county board of health take trips through the valley, at least once a month, and inspect the doings of the dairymen. Simply let them know that there is a governing hand over them and that it is everybody's desire that cleanliness be next to Godliness."

LADIES' SLIPPERS HALF PRICE

1,000,000 POUNDS WOOL STORED IN YAKIMA

There are over 1,000,000 pounds of wool stored in North Yakima. It is well stored, is under insurance and will probably remain there for some time. A few small lots may be broken out but the bulk of the wool will remain where it is for a time. The reason is that the wool market has gone to pieces. At Arlington, Ore., Saturday, when 700,000 pounds of wool were offered for sale, the bids were 6 1/4 to 8 1/4 cents and all bids were rejected the wool being withdrawn from sale. It is the belief that the Umatilla county wool growers will withhold their wool from sale at Pendleton today and at Pilot Rock tomorrow. The price offered the Gilliam county men is less than half what they received last year and they are at a loss to understand the reason of the slump this year.

Half the Mills Closed.

The situation is a clear one to the North Yakima people. As an actual fact only from 30 to 40 per cent of the mills which consume wool are in operation. There is no demand for the wool. There is no competition and therefore no conditions which will bring about an advance in price. Financial conditions of last fall caused cancellation of many orders for wool goods and the wool was not put into manufacture. The same reason and a more or less mild winter in many parts of the country curtailed the consumption of the goods manufactured and this spring the expected revival of the industry has not come about. In other words, as already stated, less than 40 per cent of the mills are in operation.

The figures offered at Arlington are lower than prices which have already been paid for some 40,000 pounds of this season's clip and are considerably lower than could have been procured a short time ago. The Oregonian of a week ago, in speaking of the Arlington sale, predicted low prices, but thought that about 15 cents would be offered.

The North Yakima feeling is that it will pay to store and insure.

WANTS BETTER SERVICE.

Dudley Will Ask Business Men's Association to Discuss Telephones.

When the next regular meeting of the Yakima Business Men's association is called W. B. Dudley will ask the executive committee to take up the question of better telephone service for North Yakima. Notwithstanding the fact that the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company has made decided improvements in the 'phone system in vogue in this city, Mr. Dudley says the system is still way below the standard.

One of the principal causes for complaint is the custom of the management in installing phones. Mr. Dudley and many other prominent business men have complained to the management for a long time but so far have not succeeded in bettering conditions.

Henry C. Kohls and Joseph Garrecht went to Ballard Sunday where they participated in the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Catholic Order of Foresters. Mr. Kohls is chief ranger for the local court.

Government Fruit Inspector Hitt was a North Yakima visitor Sunday. He said fruit trees in North Yakima were less infected with woolly aphis than are the trees in Walla Walla and the fruit districts of Idaho.

Charles McAllister, formerly of this city, but now of Montana, is in North Yakima and will remain several days. He came to be present at the funeral of his father-in-law, Captain Robert Dunn.

Hon. Wesley L. Jones has written accepting the invitation to address the graduates of the North Yakima high school at their commencement exercises which will be held in the opera house the evening of June 26. Mr. Jones, it is expected, will be in North Yakima in a week or so.

Joseph Jacobs, formerly engineer in charge of the government irrigation work here has returned from his trip across the Atlantic during which he visited Egypt as well as nearly all of the principal European countries. He is now in Washington D. C.

John Hutchinson, a well known farmer of Yakima county, famous as the tallest man in the state of Washington, attracted more attention from the strangers in Seattle yesterday than the totem pole. Mr. Hutchinson stands 7 feet 1 1/4 inches in his stocking feet.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Herman Leeper, of the North Yakima postoffice, on Saturday at Ellensburg, examined 10 civil service applicants for admission to the federal postal service. Because of delayed trains it was late in the afternoon when Mr. Leeper reached the Kittitas burg but he found the candidates awaiting him.

Rev. Morton L. Rose, pastor of the First Christian church of this city, went to Zillah Thursday morning and in the evening of that day delivered the address before the graduating class of the Zillah schools.

E. G. Tennant and Fred Hess spent a couple of days at Kaches Lodge last week. They say the place is an ideal summer resort, and the most inviting place in the state to go on a recreation trip. The service at the lodge they pronounce superb, and the meals are the finest ever.

Brick has arrived from Seattle for the paving of North Yakima's streets. Two car loads arrived this morning and four more cars loaded with brick are en route to North Yakima. Contractor McKivor says he will have the first block south of the railroad on Yakima avenue in such shape that the concrete foundation may be laid the first of next week at the latest.

It is estimated that fully 1000 people went from this city to see the fleet in Seattle and Tacoma. Most of those who went declare that their expectations were not realized, although they say they felt perfectly secure from an attack by the Japanese fleet while Uncle Sam's war dogs lay at anchor in the waters of Puget Sound.

Miss Emma Larsen, a sister in law of Chris Thompson of the U. S. laundry left here this week for New York, bound to Denmark on a visit to her relatives in that country. Miss Larsen formerly resided in this city, but for the past three years she has been a resident of Tacoma.

Word has been received in this city that D. E. McKinnon, formerly of this place and well known throughout the country, has gone broke in his Amador copper mine, near Amador, Mont. There were 1400 stockholders, some of whom lived here. About $650,000 had been expended on the mine. Experts have now pronounced it worthless.

Pete Larsen, a Swede, while trying to steal a ride on a freight train here last Friday afternoon was shot in the ankle by one of the brakemen. There are said to be a number of eye witnesses to the shooting who will appear in behalf of the Swede, provided he decides to sue the railroad company. Some declare, however, that the brakeman shot to frighten the Swede, and did not intend to hit him.

More money than has ever before been distributed for prizes in the fruit and vegetable department of the state fair is to be awarded by the commission this year as prizes in the various classes. The total will be about $3000 and will be given in such a way as to give every grower of superior stock an opportunity to get a piece of it. The Horticultural Union has contributed $100 towards the prize list. The attention paid to the vegetable department will be greater this year than ever before.

Civil Engineer J. C. Greenway of this city, while driving around the Selah grade last Friday, met with an accident which resulted in the loss of a horse and buggy he had rented from the Fashion Stables. Mr. Greenway's horse became frightened at something and began to back up. He was unable to stop it before the buggy was shoved over the grade, pulling the horse with it. Mr. Greenway jumped in time to save himself. The horse unable to extricate itself from the harness, was drowned.

FULTON MARKET

Fred Schott has purchased of Dr. Stewart, of Walla Walla, a yearling colt, standard bred, natural trotter, bay in color, and which is looked upon as a pretty good prospect in the way of a light harness horse. The animal is a grandson of McKinney, by his son Bonnie McKay, his dam being Caution, of the Electioneer strain.

Clara V. Alexander, of this city, has commenced suit in the superior court for divorce from John S. Alexander. The parties were married in Benton county, Oregon, in 1878, and have six children, all but two of whom are of age. Mrs. Alexander alleges that her husband is cruel to her. She asks to be awarded custody of her daughter Hattie, aged 14.

Seattle market reports are to the effect that, in anticipation of the crowd of visitors there, a great supply of potatoes has been purchased but that there are no fancy potatoes to be found. The stock on hand, however, is in strong hands, and will not be sold at a sacrifice but held for high prices, there being no danger of competition from better stock.

Miss Cornwell, who has been employed at the Northwest Light & Water Co.'s office for some months past, will go to Sedro-Wooley to take a similar position in the office of the company for which Carl Cox is manager. Miss Cornwell will be succeeded in the water company's office by Miss Dortha Varker, who has been cashier at the Republic office.

George Stacy, a student at the Washington State college, asks the Chronicle to announce that he is not the George Stacy who passed a worthless check in Spokane on May 14. He states he formerly worked on the Yakima Republic, a paper published at North Yakima, and has friends in that town as well as in Spokane whom he would like to have know that he is not the Stacy mentioned as the passer of worthless checks.—Spokane Chronicle.

E. F. Benson has accepted, from May 1, the position of chief land examiner for the Northern Pacific railroad and within the next two weeks will have so arranged his interests in Prosser that he will devote his whole time to the railroad work. His headquarters for a few months will be at Miles City, Mont., in connection with the sale of a large quantity of railroad land in that section. The company has paid Mr. Benson a most sincere compliment in insisting upon his taking this work and their action is abundant proof of the appreciation of his former services in the company's employ.—Prosser Republican-Bulletin.

A COUNTRY MERCHANT'S ANSWER.

The following editorial is taken from the Omaha World-Herald:

"A country merchant of Nebraska has written a letter to the 'Prosperity club' boomers of St. Louis, which the World-Herald believes entitled to a wider hearing than those who are at the head of that movement to 'discourage agitation and demagoguery' will be inclined to give it. The letter is from C. A. Lord, of Shubert, a dealer in hardware, implements and furniture, and was written in response to a circular soliciting his support. Mr. Lord thoughtfully sent a carbon copy of his letter to this newspaper, saying: 'On reading your editorial last night I decided to send you a copy for publication, believing that my experience has been that of most hardware men and merchants, and that they feel much as I do about this question.'

"Mr. Lord's letter is as follows, and we commend it to the careful reading not only of all merchants, but of all the merchants' customers:

"Shubert, Neb., May 11, 1903.—The National Prosperity association, E. G.
Simmons, Chairman, St. Louis, Mo.: Gentlemen—Your circular, explaining the motives of your association, its purposes and intentions, has been noted very carefully by the undersigned. Your purposes may be non-political, as you say, but to a man out here in Nebraska, who remembers the 1896 and 1900 campaigns, your declarations have the same old sulphur smell. Your very first request—"to keep hands off railroad legislation"—smacks wonderfully of a "corporation cormorant" squeal.

"If I order the house of which your chairman is president to ship me a 10-pound sash weight the charges will be 80-cents. If I should then increase my order to 150 pounds the charges on the whole thing would be 27 cents per hundred, or 41 cents.

"In the face of such conditions, do you think it well to let up on railroad legislation, and 'let well enough alone'?"

"Explain these rates to me and justi-fy them, and I will join your association and immediately become a "prosperity" shouter. But if you can not do it, I will expect you to take down your sign and admit that corporation legislation has only begun.

"Why this sickness? Why this typhoid fever you mention as the cause of our recent financial troubles? I have been in business here seven years, and in that time I find that one-half or more of the goods I purchase I am compelled to buy of trusts, without getting the benefit of one bit of competition. A Deering binder, for instance, that I could buy for $85 then, costs me now $116.50 in car lots. We made a profit then of $25 on an investment of $85.
We make a profit now of $17.50 on an investment of 116.50. This is true of all goods made and sold by the International Harvester company of America.

"The retailer's competition is sharper than it ever was, but at the same time the trusts have hemmed him in with oppressive exactions, both in the goods
he buys and freight rates, until he acts in an automatic manner, which makes us feel, if we do not look, like the old Punch and Judy that first amused us in the long ago. This condition may be good enough for people like Mr. E. C.
Simmons, who has made his stake, but it doesn't suit us younger fellows, who have ours to make. We want a Roosevelt or Bryan at the head of our nation's affairs, surrounded by legislators in full sympathy with them, and for this we will contend, prosperity or no prosperity.

And if these recent conditions exist yet for another ten years, and temporary prosperity never shows its timid head,
we will feel that our fight has been made for the benefit of posterity. If our children are not rich enough to claim the flabby hand of a foreign prince, we want them at least to be free to start in business for themselves in free, competitive America, to win a name and fortune in honorable business methods.
We do not want them to have to cinge
and fawn under the iron will of hard-faced trust magnates for a job.

"I believe, gentlemen, you will find these are the sentiments of a majority of the Nebraska hardware merchants.

"Yours for the competitive system
from the bottom up, and for permanent prosperity, such as will benefit not only selfish us, but our children and our children's children.

"C. A. LORD."

"Mr. Lord has pretty thoroughly exposed the jug-handled kind of prosperity for which the Prosperity clubs are getting ready to shout. It is the same old 'let well enough alone' brand, which pinches the retailer and robs the consumer, while it makes a comparatively few corporation magnates enormously rich. It is the same brand which puts dishonesty and bribery at a premium.
It is the same brand which brought on a severe panic, throwing more than a million men out of work at a time when the country had and was producing more wealth than ever before in its history. It is the same brand which now, in a time of depression, is raising trust prices on the necessities of life, and is preparing to follow this up with a general increase in freight rates, in violation of both the anti-trust law and the railroad regulation law passed only a little more than a year ago.
And the real purpose of the prosperity clubs, so far as this newspaper is able to judge, is first to hypnotize public opinion into thinking these increased rates are a good thing, and second to help elect Mr. Taft, to the end that there will be no more 'harmful interference' with trust and railroad privileges."

COMFORT FOR SENATOR BOURNE.

Senator Bourne is a victim of the ingratitude of republics. When the whole country and the White House were clamoring for more Rooseveltism he started his campaign for four years more of Roosevelt. He stood not only for "a man of my type" and "my policies", but for "me" and a second elective term. What more logical way was there to give people plenty of what they professed to like so much?

Senator Bourne should not be discon-solate because Taft carried Oregon. On the contrary he is still a very conspicuous figure in president-making. The threat of "Taft or me" has been swinging delegations everywhere to Taft, and by booming "me" the senator has contributed materially to the nomination of Taft. The republican leaders in the senate suppressed opposition to Mr.
Roosevelt for fear he might again become a candidate. The Taft managers have been busily circulating the same warning in Washington. In his letter indorsing Mr. Taft, Jacob H. Schiff praises the secretary of war for qualities conspicuously lacking in Mr. Roosevelt.

As a sincere admirer of the president,
Senator Bourne may comfort himself for his defeat by the thought that a good part of Mr. Taft's support is due to the fact that he is so different in many ways from Mr. Roosevelt.—New York World.

A TERRIBLE PICTURE

The president paints a terrible picture of the demoralizing influence of ill-gotten wealth. He pictures the multi-millionaire who has grown rich by immoral means as "the least admirable of all our citizens, a man of whom it has been well said, that his face has grown hard and cruel while his body has grown soft; whose son is a fool and whose laughter a foreign princess; whose nominal pleasures are at best those of a tasteless and extravagant luxury, and whose real delight, whose real life work is the accumulation and use of power in its most sordid and least elevating form."

And who is this man whom the president pictures? He is the beneficiary of privilege, the child of favoritism in government. And how does he secure privilege and favoritism? By contributing campaign funds to the party which will sell him the right to exploit the country. Which party has been doing this?
The republican party, whose leaders are now conspiring to prevent any remedial legislation. These same influences are seeking to dominate the democratic party,
but they find the democratic masses
incorruptible and therefore their effort is frustrated.—The Commoner.

MR. SPLAWN'S CHANCES

To a man up a tree it looks very much as though the Hon. Jack Splawn can have the democratic nomination for governor if he will only say the word. At the state convention at Spokane every delegate from Yakima county received such assurances from party leaders as will amply substantiate this statement.

Of course the gubernatorial nomination must be made by the party voters through the direct primary, therefore no man is in a position to guarantee a nomination. However, the feeling toward Mr. Splawn is so friendly and the belief is so general in his fitness and his good running qualities that one is justified in believing that there will be simply nothing to it if the Yakima man will formally announce himself as in the race.

That Mr. Splawn would have a good chance to win at the polls is more than probable. A majority of the voters, we believe are ready and willing to support such a man as Jack Splawn as against any factional republican.

While every community deplors a strike among the workmen, yet, more frequently than otherwise, the striker

has justice on his side. This is certainly the case with reference to the strike which occurred here last Monday, when 65 laborers threw down their picks and shovels, and refused to work longer for less than $2 per day. The wages of the men had been cut by Contractor McKivor to $1.75 for eight hours work. Men can hardly subsist on such wages, and we are glad that they struck and won their point. The contractors who are paving the city streets can afford to pay their men at least $2 per day, and they ought to do it.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican prints this significant editorial: "On which side is the heart of the president in the party struggle in the house of representatives? Does he sympathize with the opposition filibustering to force action on his favorite measures, or with the republican majority fighting to dump them under a trap door until the next session? Which is the president's party, anyhow?"

It is a pleasure to note that the editor of the Yakima Republic has at last been able to discover some points of merit in the proposed local option law.
Time was when the colonel of the Republic was ready to read Lee A. Johnson out of the party as a heretic for preaching local option. Verily the world do move and Col. Robertson moves with it—especially after the party goes on record.

It is due the respectable people of both Seattle and Tacoma to say that they probably did their utmost to prevent visitors from being grafted during the fleet festivities. Yet nearly every returning visitor has the same sort of a story to tell, of being held up by greedy hotel and restaurant proprietors, who simply could not resist the temptation to fleece the helpless people.

Uncle Sam's big "Navee" was an inspiring sight at Seattle and Tacoma, but many people as they gazed at the big warships would have felt better satisfied if they had been assured from Washington that the fleet would remain on this coast, where it is likely to be needed, rather than to go on a junketing
tour around the world and back again to the Atlantic coast.

Senator Levi Ankeny, after hearing from home via the state convention, has come out flat footed in favor of that senatorial pledge, in fact the dear old man says he meant to favor it all the time. Like as not he did but merely got off on the wrong foot as he did when he got the wrong bill passed in the senate the other day.

Hon. Lee A. Johnson ought now to receive general permission in Yakima county to run for congress if he wants to. Time and events certainly have vindicated the Hon. Lee and we say that there is nothing too good for the Sunnyside statesman since his adopted party has finally indorsed his determined stand for local option.

Another southern state has gone overwhelmingly for prohibition. It is North Carolina, and the returns indicate that the prohibitionists carried the state by the startling majority of 50,000. It seems that the prohibition wave has struck the whole country.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., May 26.—Among democratic politicians in Washington the opinion is widespread that Governor John A. Johnson's recent visit to the capital gave a decided impetus to his boom for the presidential nomination, and the prediction is made that he will gain more strong friends in the party when he returns to Washington this week, on his way south to keep speaking engagements in Virginia and Alabama. A most decided advance was made by the Minnesota governor in gaining the support of the two senators from North Carolina, and while neither Senator Simmons nor Senator Overman has announced openly that he is for Johnson, both have declared in favor of sending uninstructed delegations to the Denver convention. Senator Johnson of Alabama, an old-time democrat, has come out strongly for Governor Johnson, and he declares that one of Johnson's strongest points is his ability as a "mixer," and every one who met the governor on his recent visit was impressed with that accomplishment.

The Johnson contingent are not the only ones working to prevent Bryan from capturing the nomination. The George Gray political bureau in Washington is most active, and Judge Gray's friends declare that with Pennsylvania in line, he will in all probability have the votes of Maryland and other southern states as well as a fair share of the delegates from New York and New England.

"Let the democrats cease quarreling and victory is ours," declared Representative Clayton of Alabama, one of the four delegates-at-large from his state, on being informed of the result of the primary was overwhelmingly for Bryan. Representative Heflin, also a delegate-at-large, declares that Bryan is stronger with the masses than he has ever been and that, "We will elect him president of the United States and that we will carry the next house. Democratic victory is in the air."

The extent of the proposed tariff revision, which the republicans have promised to make in 1909, is most problematical, and the separate inquiries into tariff schedules, recently ordered by the senate and the house as a preliminary step, will not be begun in earnest until after the November elections. The services of government experts, in the meantime, will be enlisted by the senate committee on finance and the house committee on ways and means, to prepare the data desired by the committees.

It may be of interest to know that the item for coal alone for the fleet's cruise around the world, as reported in the general deficiency bill in the house, amounts to $5,000,000, and it is not definitely known that this will suffice for the needs of the whole cruise, although it is assumed that it will.

Senator Taylor of Tennessee made his maiden speech in the Senate on Tuesday of this week, in which he discussed the tariff, the financial system, the trusts and the failure of the republican party to keep off-repeated promises of reform. The encroachment of the federal government upon the reserved rights of the states was exhaustively dwelt upon, and the assumption by the president of power not to be delegated to his office by the constitution came in for a due share of attention. A large audience of senators and spectators greatly enjoyed Mr. Taylor's speech, and his quaint humor provoked much laughter, but it was remarked afterwards that the speech, which was read, lacked the spontaneity of his extemporaneous lectures which is one of their greatest charms. Among other good things, Senator Taylor said: "I cannot understand the consistency of clubbing the trusts over the head and then at the same time fighting for tariff, the mother of trusts."

The leaders of the two houses of congress have lost all hope for emergency currency legislation at this session. The house and senate are unable to get together on this subject, the senate standing by the essentials of the Aldrich bill while the house has served notice that it must be the Vreeland bill or nothing. A currency commission will be created.

Ex-Gov. Edwin Warfield of Baltimore, Md., was in Washington this week and in the interview said that while he knew Mr. Bryan and enjoyed a personal acquaintance with him, and entertained a high regard for him, he was of the opinion that Governor Johnson of Minnesota is the proper man for nomination at Denver in June. He declared further, "I have followed his career closely. I know what he has done. I know what he is capable of doing. To my mind he is the logical candidate for the democratic nomination for president."

In spite of all this talk for Johnson as the most likely candidate, however, many conservative and wise politicians here claim that what happened in Alabama will happen throughout the entire south, and that the sentiment of the country in the democratic camp, the rank and file of that party, is heartily for Bryan. It is generally conceded that the Johnson movement received a decided setback by the vote in Alabama.

NORRIS & ROWE.

Popular Circus Outfit Will Perform Here on June 2.

With the Greater Norris & Rowe circus, museum, menagerie, hippodrome and congress of nations, which will exhibit in this city Tuesday, June 2, afternoon and night, is a family of acrobats that go under the name of the Astral St. Leons. This family was engaged, and came direct from Melbourne, Australia, to the Norris & Rowe circus. There are seven members of the troupe, and among them are performers who turn double full twisters and double somersaults from the bare ground, a feat that has been accomplished by but three performers in the world, and then on rare occasions only. In their contract with Norris & Rowe they agree to perform this almost incredible act at every representation of the show. During the run of the circus in San Francisco this spring of 60 performances, 279,873 persons paid admissions to the big show, and the St. Leons made one of the big distinct hits of the program, which includes performers from every country in the world. Their act cannot be described—"It beggars description." The new big street parade will take place at 10 o'clock. By arrangement, the Norris & Rowe circus will be the only big show to visit this section of the country this year.

WELL DRILLING OUTFIT

BEST EVER SEEN HERE

Plant Capable of Working at 4000 Feet to Be taken to the Wenas.

A well drilling outfit just a little superior to anything ever seen here before is in the railroad yards just west of the freight house and is being unloaded for drilling purposes here and in this vicinity. The machine is of the type used in drilling oil wells and the fly-wheel is said to weigh a ton. The plant has a capacity of 4000 feet and an engine of sufficient strength to make work at that depth as easy as such a task can be. The machine is built of the finest steel throughout and there is no wood anywhere about it. It is to be placed in operation in or very near to North Yakima for the drilling of two or three holes and will then be moved to the Wenas where it is understood some extensive work in the way of well drilling in the search for water is to be undertaken. The machine, equipped, according to the weight in the freight charges, contains 27,000 pounds of metal. It is the property of a company at the head of which are W. H. Taylor and J. W. Seely. Some experimental work at well boring has already been done in the Wenas and it has been demonstrated that the water is there and at no very great depth compared with some other districts.

TO BE TRIED AGAIN.

New Trial Ordered in Suit of J. H. Bruff vs. Northwest Fire Association.

In order to recover insurance money upon his policy in the Northwest Mutual Fire association covering furniture and clothing in his cottage, which was destroyed by fire last summer, Attorney John H. Bruff will have to go through another trial in the superior court, a motion for a new trial, made by Wendel Taylor & Delle, attorneys for the insurance company, having been allowed.

At the first trial the jury found in favor of Bruff for a substantial sum. Judge Kauffman, who presided, taking from the jury the consideration of part of the defense which set up that Bruff had set fire to the cottage himself or had caused some other person to do so, on the ground that this allegation was not supported by sufficient testimony. The jurors were given a number of interrogatories to answer and the new trial was asked on the ground that the general verdict was inconsistent with the jurors' replies to these interrogatories.

ANOTHER EFFORT MADE TO DYNAMITE GALLAGHER

Three Houses Belonging to the Informer Against Ruef Are Blown Up.

Oakland, May 27.—The authorities are at work diligently trying to discover the identity of the person or persons who last night wrecked the three new houses owned by James L. Gallagher, former supervisor of San Francisco and principal witness for the graft prosecution, following the partial destruction in a similar manner of his residence here the evening of April 23d, the day he concluded his testimony in the case then on trial in San Francisco. One theory is that some one implicated in the exposures of graft is responsible and another is that a personal enemy of Gallagher may be the dynamite.

San Francisco, May 27.—Detective William J. Burns, for the prosecution in the trolley graft cases, will work on the latest dynamite plot. He believes some one in the pay of the defense committed the outrage for the purpose of intimidating Gallagher and preventing him from further testifying in the case.

Funeral of Captain Robert Dunn.
One of the largest funerals seen in North Yakima in years, and remarkably large in view of the fact that so many of those who would have been present are out of the city, was that of Captain Robert Dunn, of Parker, Sunday afternoon. The line of teams extended along the avenue from Third street to the railroad tracks and the procession remained unbroken to the cemetery. The services were at the First Presbyterian church where the pastor, Rev. S. J. Kennedy, officiated. The funeral was under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic. The members of the Grand Army and of the Women's Relief Corps marched from their hall to the undertaking parlors of A. J. Shaw & Sons, where the body had been taken Saturday and was viewed by scores of people Sunday morning, and escorted it to the church. Members of the G. A. R. carried the floral tributes which had been placed on and near the casket. These included a beautiful floral key-stone from Chapter 21, Royal Arch Masons; square and compass from Yakima Lodge No. 24, F. A. M.; wreath from the Women's Relief Corps; pillow from the G. A. R.; pillow from the Elks, the initials "B. P. O. E." and the lodge number, "318" having been worked in purple flowers. There was also a cluster of roses from Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nichols, a cluster of carnations from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones, and a large anchor from the family. Among those present at the services at the church and cemetery were a large number of people from Parker and other parts of the lower valley.

GRANGER.

Granger, Wash., May 25.—The cornerstone of the new Episcopal church of this place was laid last evening, Bishop Lemuel H. Wells of Spokane, assisted by Archdeacon Wellman, presiding. Appropriate services were rendered and in attendance were nearly all the people of Granger. Dr. C. W. Chamberlain, one of the trustees, laid the stone in place. Bishop Wells delivered the address. The Grace church was organized November 4, 1905, through the appointment of the following trustees, all prominent business men of Granger: George P. Eaton, warden and chairman of the board; C. E. Woods, A. C. Snowden, C. W. Chamberlain, C. W. Mentzner, J. M. Hutton, E. B. Johnson. The church has since been served by the following ministers: Rev. O. B. Taylor, 1905-6; Rev. E. M. Smith, 1907; Archdeacon Wellman, 1908, services having since been held in the brick hall on Main street. Twenty acres of land was donated by the Washington Irrigation company for the benefit of the church building fund and it was sold last fall. Together with subscriptions received by residents of this place and vicinity, work was commenced upon a new brick church last fall, but owing to the scarcity of brick the work was delayed until last week when the work was commenced in earnest. The church will be completed and dedicated within the next month.

The Wapato baseball club met defeat at this place Sunday at the hands of the local boys by a score of 8 to 6. The game was snappy throughout. The visitors landed on Jewett, the local pitcher, freely in the first three innings which coupled with several errors, netted them their six runs. Those innings wound up the run getting by the Wapato boys, Jewett getting his wind and good support. Up until the third inning Granger secured no runs. The Wapato pitcher was landed freely upon during the last six innings, netting the local boys eight runs.

The result of the Central Valley League Sunday are as follows: Wapato lost to Granger, score 8 to 6; Zillah to Sunnyside, score 10 to 0; Outlook to Mabton, score 23 to 7. This leaves Sunnyside in first place; Zillah and Wapato tie for second place, Granger and Mabton tie for third place and Outlook in the sixth place, they having lost all three games. The games next are Granger at Wapato, Sunnyside at Zillah and Mabton at Outlook.

Ryan-Gunn Wedding.

Esther May Ryan and Ben T. Gunn were married in Seattle Wednesday, May 20, by Rev. F. L. Forbes, of the First Presbyterian church.

The bride is one of the popular young ladies of this city and the groom is a genial clerk at the Emporium.

Councilman Fred Shaw and other city officials who have been appealed to, have no suggestions to offer as they do not know what the general sentiment will be when it is discovered that the waterman has quit his job or proposes to quit.

William Pointer, the street sprinkling man, threatens to put his sprinklers out of commission and allow the dust to blow as it listeth. He says that street sprinkling and street improvements can not be carried on in this town at the same time and the improvements are in greater demand just now than the water wagons, despite the growth of the prohibition sentiment. The onward march of progress, as exemplified by street paving, has cut him off from his water tower on Front street, where his carts have received their burden of water. East Yakima avenue, from Front to First streets has been cut up so that there is nothing left to sprinkle, the second block is being cut and the third block, between Second and Third street, is slated for an application of the plov at an early date. Business houses, if they want to be free from dust, he says, will be compelled to send the junior clerk out in front with the house fire hose, for he sees no other method of doing the work.

Mrs. Demorest Honored.

In honor of Mrs. Demorest, who is grand secretary of the Eastern Star in the state of Washington, the members of Syringa Chapter gave a most delightful reception Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John E. Banks, on North Sixth street. The color scheme carried out in the various rooms corresponded to the colors of the star, one for each point; the effect was carried out by the use of a quantity of flowers and festoons of crepe paper. The hall was in white, the dining room was in blue, the library green, and the parlors red and yellow. In the receiving line were Mrs. Demorest, Mrs. George French, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Fred L. Janek, Mrs. P. D. Babcock, and Mrs. John E. Banks. Mrs. Shannon and Mrs. Fred L. Janek presided at the urns in the dining room. The centerpiece on the table was of blue bachelor buttons and pansies. ### MEMORIAL DAY WILL BE FITTINGLY OBSERVED

Program By the G. A. R. and Automobile Races in the Afternoon at the State Fair Grounds.

Today there will be lots of fun at the fair grounds. Under the auspices of the State Fair Board some very interesting automobile races, are scheduled to be pulled off, and maybe a few records will be broken.

It is Memorial Day and the old veterans of the G. A. R. have arranged a program, which is not expected to conflict with the program of sports in the afternoon at the fair grounds.

Immediately after the exercises at the Methodist church the crowd will probably go to the race track to witness the races. Col. Ed Parker will deliver the memorial address at the church. Irish Lynch, in his California tourist car, expects to go the mile in one minute flat, following the oration of Col. Parker.

In North Yakima the arrangements made for the observance of the day require Meade Post, G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps, the Spanish War Veterans and the members of Company E, W. N. G. to assemble at the Odd Fellows' hall at 9:15 a. m. From there they will move by way of Yakima avenue, accompanied by a band furnishing martial music, to the east end of the street car line where the post and corps members will take carriages for the cemetery. At the cemetery the ritual service of the G. A. R. will be conducted and the flower squad will decorate the graves of soldiers and also of former relief corps members. The return to the hall will be made in time for a lunch to be served about noon and to which all veteran soldiers, whether members of the local organization or not, are invited to be present.

Post and Corps members will form at the hall following the luncheon and march to the Methodist church where an elaborate program of varied numbers will be carried through including an oration from Edward Parker. In the announcements to the public of the Memorial day exercises made to the press by B. L. Bull a request is made to all patriotic citizens to desist from either labor or pleasure and unite in the exercises appropriate to the day and for which it has been set apart by state and nation.

And we demand that the national government, through its proper officers, bring suit to forfeit said railroad grants for failure to comply with the terms thereof, or compel the railroads to sell their lands to the people on the terms and prices stated in said grants.

And we further demand of our representatives in congress that they insist on proper laws being passed which will compel the railroads to comply with the laws relating to land grants in behalf of the people, as contemplated by the original acts chartering said railroad companies, so that the people may acquire homes for themselves and their families.

Whereas, No provision is made in the interstate commerce act whereby the interstate commerce commission may investigate advances in freight rates on interstate shipments before same become effective; and

Whereas, An unjustified advance in freight rates may seriously cripple important industries before complaint can be heard before the interstate commerce commission; and,

Whereas, The lumber industry, which contributes annually to the wealth of the state of Washington $82,000,000 and employs 100,000 men, has been almost completely paralyzed by an advance of 25 per cent in freight rates, without investigation; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this convention does hereby urge congress to enact an amendment to the interstate commerce act whereby the interstate commerce commission may, at its discretion, upon proper complaint, investigate advances in freight rates as to their reasonableness, before becoming effective; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to President Roosevelt, the president of the United States senate, the speaker of the national house of representatives, members of congress from this state, the chairmen of the house and senate committees, respectively, on interstate commerce, and to the interstate commerce commission.

Resolved, That the Washington delegates to the democratic national convention to be held next July in Denver be, and they are hereby, instructed to vote for William Jennings Bryan for the nomination for president of the United States.

We indorse a law making not to exceed eight hours from time of entering until leaving for all miners employed underground.

We indorse an amendment to the ten-hour law for female labor, making it not to exceed eight hours.

We are heartily in favor of the enactment of an employers' liability law for the protection of employees of mills, factories, railroads and all dangerous occupations.

We affirm that the agricultural and all other interests of our state are entitled, as a matter of right, to the immediate improvement of our rivers, roads and highways, and we favor liberal appropriations therefor, both national and state.

Recognizing the value to this state of the several hundred thousand acres of land set aside by our state and national governments to the schools of Washington; and that there is great danger that some of these lands are to be sold for less than their actual value, thereby sacrificing this great heritage of our boys and girls;

Therefore, be it resolved, That we, as taxpayers and as guardians of the youth of this state, demand that these lands, when appraised and sold, be not appraised or sold for less than their actual value, thereby protecting this great heritage of our school children and assuring a large and permanent endowment fund which is contemplated to greatly reduce school taxes.

Furthermore, we favor a policy of leasing the state school and college lands for the present, instead of selling them at present values, thereby giving to the school fund and the college and university endowments the benefit of future increase in the value of these lands.

We further recommend that the state legislature enact proper legislation to place the irrigable state school and granted lands under state irrigation projects.

Resolved, That the democrats of the state of Washington, in convention assembled, commend to the favorable consideration of the people the constitutional amendment relative to taxation proposed by the last legislature and which is to be submitted for ratification at the next general election.

We favor the submission to the voters of Washington of a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture or sale of spirituous liquors within our borders.

Believing that the source of all political power ultimately resides in the people, we favor the enactment of such laws and such constitutional amendments as will make effective and grant in express terms to the people the right to initiate and adopt all laws they deem for the public welfare, and pledge our party in this state to support adequate initiative and referendum legislation affecting the public good.

Toppenish people are considering the advisability of starting an agitation to save the North Coast Limited stop at Toppenish. The town now claims 1500 residents and the railroad company does an extensive passenger and freight business there. The fact that the North Coast westbound does not stop at the reservation town is a source of almost daily annoyance to strangers and residents as it means that there often is out one train west in 20 hours. The Spokane local, which is supposed to come through about noon, sometimes comes then and about as often comes at midnight.

Dr. J. E. Webb and J. R. Elmer, of North Yakima, have been selected as delegates from this section of the state to the National Prohibition convention at Columbus, O., June 15. The choice of delegates was made at the state prohibition convention in Seattle last week.
