THE YAKIMA EPIGRAM By J. D. Medill

Entered at the North Yakima Postoffice as Second Class Matter.

FIFTY CENTS PER YEAR—SPOT CASH

Published every Saturday morning, at the Epigram Printing House on First Street, North Yakima.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

THE joint debate which was held at the Omaha Exposition a few days ago between some of the ablest advocates of the gold and the bimetallic standards in this country, was, so the eastern papers say, an event to be remembered by those who had an opportunity to witness it. Some of the greatest expounders of the gold standard in America participated, including Horace White, Ehrich, Crawford, Fowler and McCleary. While the Silver cause was represented by such men as George Fred Williams, Towne, Hartman, Dubois and Bartine. The speech made by Towne especially, was a master piece, —in which he literally tore into tatters the arguments advanced by his opponents, and left them speechless. So completely routed were the advocates of the gold standard that they gave up the debate in disgust, although it was initiated by them. It is a fact worthy of note in this connection, that the report made by the associated Press of this great meeting, contained a synopsis of the gold side only which goes far to prove the rank partisanship of that service. The Seattle Times of the date of Sept. 23rd, contains in full the great speech of Towne which every student of finance ought to carefully read.

THE fair has drawn to this city this week probably the biggest aggregation of toughs, grafters and skin gamblers that ever congregated in Yakima. The police have done some splendid work in spotting this gentry, in many cases making arrests, in others driving them out of town. Their victims have generally been boys and unsophisticated men, who have allowed themselves to be hoodwinked through their inordinate desire to get something for nothing. If the strong arm of the law was not exerted to protect such suckers they would probably be unable to keep a head on their shoulders.

A PROMINENT citizen has suggested to THE EPIGRAM what we regard as a very valuable idea and one which this paper will in the future take the pains to advocate. This scheme contemplates the building in this city of a large hall or pavilion which could be made useful at all times in the way of holding large public meetings or conventions, but which during the period of holding the State Fair, could be used for exhibition and amusement purposes. As the situation is now, the large crowds who attend the fair return to the city in the evening and are compelled to kill time, by listening to some noisy street faker, or in some other way perhaps more harmful. Will not some of our local capitalists and business men consider this idea. We believe it could be made a good investment and the capital required would not be large.

IF THE two republican candidates for congress are correctly reported in the public prints in their speeches before the state convention last week, they have to say the least, placed themselves in a most unenviable light before the people of this state. They cannot hope to overcome that 13,000 majority by applying such abusive epithets as "shameless liar" and spectacular jackass to their opponents. If this precious pair of newly fledged candidates have no better argument than this vulgar rot, to put up against the two distinguished gentlemen who oppose them in this campaign, their cause is in a very bad way indeed; so bad in fact, that the fusionists will be sorely tempted to bury them in November under a greater avalanche than that which overtook the late Mr. Doolittle and his unfortunate partner Mr. Hyde two years ago.

THE speech of Congressman Jones Thursday night was an able and concise statement of existing conditions in this country. His remarks concerning the mutual sympathy between the price of silver and wheat under normal conditions, he demonstrated to be true. The exceptions proves the rule. Owing to drouth and famine in all foreign countries, a year ago, wheat naturally advanced in price. Today a normal condition again exists, and wheat and silver are practically on a parity. Jones' wheat chart is all right, thank you, and will do still better service in this campaign.

THE Republican candidate for sheriff seems to be receiving a good deal of boosting from the g. o. p organ, which so frequently dwells on the honesty of Mr. Tucker. Of course, your man is honest, Mr. Republic; nobody doubts that, in fact everybody concedes it; but there are other qualities required besides honesty in the sheriff's office, which Mr. Tucker does not possess, and which his opponent does in a marked degree—and that is a natural aptitude for the work required. Mr. Tucker is an honest man and a good citizen, but the almighty in creating him, never intended to make a sheriff of him. That is a fact patent to all men.

YAKIMA" JONES seems to have opened his campaign by making explanations. At least one would think so by reading his interview in the local party organ. It's too bad, of course, that the gentleman ever made such a bad break. He now sees that he has aroused the ire of the local Fusionists, and his hopes of a majority in this county have gone aglimmering. Mr. Jones is not a bad fellow, but he has the serious fault of going off at half-cock, which is always a fatal defect in a politician.

LATE dispatches announce the nomination of Teddy Roosevelt by the Republican state convention of New York for governor, and the same papers announce that the Democratic committee will fight in the courts any attempt to put his name on the official ballot, on the ground of a flaw in his citizenship, which they claim will forever disqualify him from holding the governor's office. The Oregonian has been saying for some time that it was foolhardiness to nominate Roosevelt, and that he would be defeated if he made the race.

THE county campaign of the fusion party will open on Monday next, Mr. Colby the nominee for representative will take the stump and speak on state and county issues. Mr. Colby though perhaps not a great orator, is a forcible and entertaining speaker, and will no doubt leave a good impression wherever he goes.

IF you are so fortunate as to receive a sample copy of THE EPIGRAM this week, take it home with you and read it carefully, and then ask yourself this question. Is not this by all odds the best and newest paper published in Yakima County—and only 50 cents a year—in advance.

THERE seems to be quite a difference between the receptions accorded to the two Joneses in Yakima. The one is the favorite son, the other is the favorite in the betting.

Additional Local.

Mrs. Laura Peters, of Port Angeles, is engaged in organizing Women Suffrage Clubs in this county. THE EPIGRAM acknowledges a call from the gifted lady.

J. L. Smith and wife, of Spokane, are fair visitors this week. Mr. Smith is the proprietor of the famous Hazelwood dairy.

Rev. J. T. Eshelman and family, of Port Townsend, and Dudley Eshelman and family, of Tacoma, are fair visitors this week.

Gov. John R. Rogers arrived Wednesday night from Olympia and is the guest of H. J. Suively during his stay in the city.

G. H. Baker, of Goldendale, the republican candidate for joint senator, has been doing the fair this week, and incidentally sizing up the political situation.

Ex Judge J. C. Rathbun, special correspondent of the Seattle Times, arrived Thursday morning from Walla Walla. THE EPIGRAM acknowledges a pleasant call.

D. W. Simmons and wife arrived Thursday from Seattle on the excursion train. Mr. Simmons is looking well after his experience in the Klondike region.

Corporal J. T. Druse, of Co. E First Washington volunteers arrived in this city on Wednesday night on a ten days furlough. He will leave to join his company Sunday evening. He reports the Yakima boys well and anxiously awaiting orders to proceed to Manila.

The Druggists Meet.

The Washington Pharmaceutical association met in the Commercial Club room at 2 o'clock Monday, about 40 outside members of the society being present.

Attorney Fred Miller, in behalf of the local druggists and the citizens, delivered a felicitous speech of welcome, which received great applause. Retiring President I. Korn, of Seattle, responding for the druggist, Dr. Taft read a paper on the metric system of weights and measures which was well received.

At the meeting on Tuesday new officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:

President, J. H. Day, of Dayton; First Vice President, David Wall, of Vancouver; Second Vice President, Louis Janek, North Yakima; Secretary, Walter St. John, of Tacoma; Treasurer, Wm. Duenkle, Tacoma, a set of resolutions passed the meeting thanking the local druggists citizens and the Commercial Club for courtesies received, after which the convention adjourned sine die.

Another Horrible Accident.

About 10.45 Sunday morning the life of a poor unfortunate man named James Laney was quickly snuffed out by reason of his being run down by four cars loaded with sheep as they were being kicked off of the Y switch preparatory to making up the train. The deceased was quite deaf, and was walking on the track ahead of the moving cars. Brakeman Crafts who was on the front car hollowed at the man to get off the track, as several witnesses testified at the inquest but the unfortunate man being unable to hear the warning was lost on him. The first car in knocking him down threw him across the rail, where the entire four cars passed over him nearly cutting the body in two. When the brakeman and the bystanders reached the poor wretch he was breathing his last. Deputy Coroner Taggard was promptly notified and had the remains removed to Lombard & Horsley's undertaking rooms where an inquest was subsequently held. W. H. Redman, Geo. Hough, C. C. Stout and James Higgins were sworn in as jurors, and the following witnesses examined, marshal Grant, brakeman Crafts, Ed Shambly, Paul E. Long and Vernie Ritter. The former testified that deceased had informed him that he had been pounded over the head by some hoboes at Pasco last spring which had left him somewhat deaf and flighty since. From the testimony of the other witnesses it was evident that the train crew was in no wise to blame for the accident and the jury so found. At the conclusion of the inquest the body was identified by Frank Cobbins a late arrival from Astoria, Oregon who stated that he had known Laney at Mare Island, where the deceased had been discharged from the government marine service. He also stated that Laney belonged to a respectable family in New Jersey. The body was buried Monday at the expense of the county.

Back From The Klondike.

Four of Yakima's gold seekers in the Klondike have returned within the last few days. Namely Will Cameron, Chas. Lillie, John Miller and D. W. Simmons although the last named gentleman is still in Seattle. The boys are all glad to be home again and tell the same story of the delusive wealth of the far famed Klondike. Cameron, Lillie and Simmons came out by way of St. Michaels, while Miller returned by the Skagway route. Mr Miller informed THE EPIGRAM that he had had enough of the Klondike, that no amount of money would tempt him to again endure what he has went through in the last 14 months. The paying claims are located entirely on Bonanza and Eldorado creeks, and all other streams are worthless. The other Yakima boys however with the exception of Tony Krober will remain for another season in the hope that they may yet strike it rich.

Like a Great Railway

With its branches running in every direction, are the arteries and veins, which convey the blood to every part of the system. When the liver and kidneys refuse to act the blood is prevented from circulation by poisonous acids, and then comes Rheumatism. Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy drives these poisons from the blood, and Dr. Drummond's Lightning Liniment restores the stiff joints, drawn cords and hardened muscles. If your druggist has not got these remedies, send to the Drummond Medicine Company, New York, and the full month's treatment of two large bottles will be sent to your express address.

THE BEAUTY.

Rail! Now she speaks.
The roses ope their ruddy hearts to list.
The breezes cease to coax the lily bells
To sound their voiceless chime.
The nightingale is mute.

And when she smiles
'Tis like the break of day
O'er Persian valleys faint with odors sweet
Or like entrancing melody
Conjured by master hand from strings
Aglow with heavenly fire.

And when she laughs—
Ah, then, the rippling music of her mirth
Awakens sleeping joy, deep toned and full
Of love as bells enriched with gold
On Moscow's towers swung!
—Ernest Jarrold in Yellow Book.

OLD MESA LIFE.

The Pueblo Woman Was Always the Head of the Household.

When the men went down to the fields, the pueblo was really in control of its rightful owners, the women. In these old communities the woman was the important partner in the household. She was the owner of the house and all it contained. She built it and furnished it with its utensils of daily use. The children traced descent through the mother and took her clan name. The man's position, other than mere provider, was that of an honored guest, and if he presumed disagreeably on his position more likely than not he was sent back to his own home. Far from being the general slave and pack animal that is her sister of the plains tribes, the Pueblo woman's duties were purely domestic, and if she ever worked in the field it was for the common good, to save the scanty harvest in time of need.

The grinding of the many colored corn for bread, the weaving and the making of pottery were her principal occupations, and are to this day. The Pueblo Indians are par excellence the potters of the southwest, and it will be confessed that they come fairly by the title, as an examination of some of the old time ware will prove, although in this case, as in some others, the evolution has not been for the better.

In the small house cell or in the white sunlight the potter sat, and, with scarcely any tools at all, fashioned such specimens of the potter's art as to challenge admiration from us with all our appliances. The use of the potter's wheel was unknown, and the "throwing" of a shape by this means out of the question; but with a hollow bit of basket-ware or a piece of broken pot for a support all the forms from a simple food bowl up to the largest and most elaborate water jars were built up by coil on coil of clay, smoothed or modeled in pattern as the vessel grew, and when one examines some of the ancient pieces, notably those excavated by Dr. Fewkes of the Smithsonian institution, one can but marvel.

Then came the decorating, and in every case, from the simplest to the most elaborate and intricate symbolic design, one must confess that the Indian uses the truest inceptive and fundamental art principles. There never is any waste of energy in "effect." The design always means a concrete thing, which appeals to the understanding of the Indians for whose use the utensils are. Through these same pottery forms and their decoration runs one of the strongest chains binding the old to the new. Near me are two tinajas, or water jars. One is many generations, perhaps centuries, old, the other perhaps five years, and yet in shape and general decoration they are much alike, and if the newer one was properly "toned" they would pass as of the same period.—Fernand Lungren in Century.

Ostriches, which are supposed to flourish only in very warm climates, have been raised successfully in southern Russia, the feathers being of good quality and the birds healthy.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Anthony Fredericks and wife, of the Nile are rejoicing over the arrival of a son and heir a few days ago.

The Baby Show and the wedding in the grand stand were leading events at the fair on Friday—Seattle day.

Doust & Damon Monday received an order from China for 100 boxes of Yakima apples, and 50 boxes of prunes.

Mrs. A. Privett and Mrs. R. Elwood, of Ellensburg, are in town this week visiting their father, Saml. Chappell.

Married—On Monday, Sept. 26th, at the residence of Stanley Coffin, Rev. U. F. Hank officiating, Mr. Malcolm McLennan and Miss Mary Redfield.

Dr. W. H. Hare, on Friday sold several fine horses at auction out of the Stinson band. The sale took place at the fair grounds.

Chris Miller, the front street merchant has his entire stock of curios on exhibition at the fair this week, and the collection excited a good deal of favorable comment.

The Seattle excursion was a hummer, if we may be permitted to use the term. It consisted of ten carloads of visitors—about 500 in all, and all nice people to, by the way.

Charles Carpenter on Tuesday sold his fine trotting mare Altonette to George M. Needles, the consideration being $500. Altonette won a $200 purse at the fair this week, trotting a mile in 2.26 1/2.

The campaign committee of the people party have selected quarters for the fall campaign on the ground floor of the Syndicate building, where the secretary can be found after the present week.

Leonard Schott mourns the loss of forty of his choice Plymouth Rock chickens, and the owner of a certain dog will be very likely to soon mourn the loss of a pup. Mr. Schott has shot his shot gun and is lying in wait for the chicken loving canine.

Peter Belles, of Puyallup, formerly proprietor of the Hotel Yakima, has been in the city this week taking in the sights at the fair. By the way, Pete says he has made another race for sleepy Tom for a purse of $200, and that he has a "snap" and can't lose.

A young man well known in this community was foolish enough to invest $35 in the old fake of six boxes and four watches this week. He drew a watch, gave up the money—and the wealth and stranger disappeared.

The Gorton Minstral which played here last week to a crowded house gave a splendid entertainment. If manager Bosdet can furnish the public this season, with as high a class of entertainment as given by the last two companys, he will deserve the thanks of Yakima's theater goers.

Rev. J. I. Smith, of Portland, died at the residence of his son-in-law, J. A. Adams, on Tuesday at 3 p. m. Mr. Smith had been ill for some time in a Portland hospital, and was brought to this city by Mr. Adams only two days before his death, in the hope that the change might prove beneficial. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon from the M. E. church.

In a row that occured at the bar room at the fair ground on Wednesday evening three men were badly used up. As near as THE EPIGRAM can learn, two men had for the larger part of the day annoyed the bar tenders—one of them officers had repeatedly taken away. After the races he was joined by the second individual and together they proceed to the saloon with the avowed intention of "cleaning it out." They were very roughly handled, and a bystander who interceded for them was severely used.

Marshal Grant has a conundrum that is racking his brain for a solution. On Tuesday of this week he gathered in about as tough a lot of characters as ever struck Yakima. There were twenty-three of them; and on appearance before Justice Dam were fined from $15 to $35 each. Now the Marshal is wondering what he will do with them.

There is as tough a lot of characters as ever followed a racing string around a circuit, in Yakima at the present time. Some of the most notorious "sure-thing" men known are here, but have not succeeded in doing much business up to date, as the officers are on the alert. There are those in every community, however, who are wont to seek something for nothing, and it is for their benefit that this item is written.

A load of baled hay was overturned at the depot on Tuesday by the team attempting to run away and making a short turn. At about the same time a team attached to a wagon loaded with women and children, became frightened at an approaching engine, and, but for the cool-headedness displayed by Andrew Johnson and another gentleman, might have resulted seriously. As it was nothing worse resulted than a severe fright to the occupants of the vehicle.

Mrs. Alice V. Goodwin left Friday night for her future home in New Jersey, where she will join her daughter, Miss Jessie Bailey, who left here four years ago. During Mrs. Goodwin's long residence in Yakima she has been very active in church and charity work, and she will doubtless be missed by many people.

Wanted, 1,000 chickens at the market of the Yakima Meat Company first St.

Go to Redfield's for correct time.

New invoice of teas at Kinsey's at the old price.

Mrs. L. B. Rinehart,

There arrived in Yakima on the overland train Sunday night two coach loads of eastern people seeking homes in this valley. This large party came out in charge of G. M. McKinney, special immigration agent of the N. P. road, and is the result of the gentleman's tireless and unceasing labor as a missionary. One car was made up of staunch well to do Holland farmers from Kent and Ottawa counties, Michigan. These people are under the leadership of Rev. Wm. Freeling, who is said to be one of the most popular ministers of his faith in the Wolverine state. This gentleman is said to be a man of means and comes here with the object of establishing a sanitarium, probably in the Moxee. The other members of this party expect to purchase and establish themselves on farms in the Yakima Valley. All are supplied with means, and being a patient and industrious people are well calculated to make a success of anything they undertake. The other car was composed of farmers from different portions of Illinois, many of whom have sold out their belongings in the Sucker state and have come west with the expressed intention of procuring homes in this fertile valley. Yakima people will doubtless be glad to welcome these people into their midst, and their coming at such an auspicious time—when the fair is being held—will enable them to see what this county is capable of. Mr. McKinney is to be congratulated on his success as a missionary and his faithful devotion to the interests of Yakima.

Ahtanum Equal Suffrage Club.

Mrs. Laura E. Peters, state organizer of Equal Suffrage clubs met with the people of Ahtanum, at the school house, on Wednesday evening Sept. 21st, and organized a club. Miss Olie Crosno was elected President; Miss Vida Wardle, Vice President; Mrs. Ella Banning, Secretary, and Mrs. Mary J. Reed, Treasurer.

Following is the platform of principles of the Club. We hereby declare. That by the divine right of citizenship accorded to us by the Magna Charta of republican freedom, the Declaration of Independence, we are entitled to the ballot by a natural and inherent right, and we claim it from the stand point of justice. We claim it by the divine right of self government, the fundamental principle of Americanism. We claim it on the ground that taxation without representation is tyranny. We claim it on the principle that all political power is inherent in the people, and that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. We claim the right to the ballot for the simple reason that it is right and just and not a question of expediency. The same reasons that make it right for men to vote i. e., self government, self protection, freedom and liberty are just as good for women. Therefore resolved—That we hereby urge the voters to cast their ballots for the proposed amendment to the constitution.

Justice Robinson's encounter with John Philpot Curran has been stated by Lord Brougham to have been the most successful instance of repartee on record. Judge Robinson was known to be the author of some anonymous pamphlets, a circumstance which gave Curran an opportunity of retort when the judge made a brutal attempt to crush him when a young and inexperienced man at the bar.

"I have searched all my lawbooks," said Curran, "and I can find no precedent on the point."

"Your law library," said the judge, "is rather contracted."

"My books," replied Curran, "may be few, but the title pages give me the writers' names. My shelf is not disgraced by any of such rank absurdity that their very authors are ashamed to own them."

"If you say another word, sir," said the judge, "I'll commit you."

"Then, my lord," replied Curran, "it will be the best thing you have committed this term."

The judge endeavored to get Curran disbarred, but failed.—Law Notes.

Patriotic Hancock.

During the siege of Boston General Washington consulted congress upon the propriety of bombarding the town of Boston. Mr. Hancock was then president of congress. After General Washington's letter was read a solemn silence ensued. This was broken by a member making a motion that the house should resolve itself into a committee of the whole in order that Mr. Hancock might give his opinion upon the important subject, as he was deeply interested from having all his estate in Boston. After he left the chair he addressed the chairman of the committee of the whole in the following words, "It is true, sir, nearly all the property I have in the world is in houses and other real estate in the town of Boston, but if the expulsion of the British army from it and the liberties of our country require their being burned to ashes issue the order for that purpose immediately."

Some Tough Old Nuts.

Not all centenarians have been paragons of all the virtues. Thomas Whittington, who lived to be 104, was a habitual drunkard, drinking only London gin, of which he consumed from a pint to 1½ pints daily. Philip Laroque went to bed drunk at least two nights in the week until he was 100. At 92 he cut four new teeth. John de la Somet, 130 years old, was an inveterate smoker.

Several famous old people were extremely addicted to matrimony. Owen Duffy, who lived to be 122, married his third wife at 116, "by whom he had a son and a daughter." Francis Hongo, a Venetian, was five times married and was the father of 49 children. At the age of 100 his white hair fell out and a new crop of the original color came in. At the age of 112 he had two new teeth.

A Berlin Scandal.

A Berlin physician of standing says, in a medical paper, that the nurses in the private hospitals are in league with the undertakers, who distribute among them circulars offering as much as $25 by way of gratuity for a good job. He calls the attention of his professional colleagues to this infamous combination, which has been in force, so he declares, for half a century and exists in other large towns. He suggests the employment whenever it is possible of women working in sisterhoods or actuated by some higher motive than the mere pursuit of gain.—Berlin Correspondence.

Something Smaller.

Professor—If you are at all interested in geological specimens, madam, will you not accept some of these beautiful specimens of quartz?

Mrs. Mushroom—They are almost too large for me to carry. Have you any pints?—Pearson's Weekly.

Are feelings of gratitude absent in women? That clever gentleman who does the Private Diary in The Cornhill Magazine is not quite satisfied upon the subject. This is his way of putting it: "As gratitude depends upon imagination, it may well be that women, having less imagination than men, are less grateful. The doctor told me 'intermittent heart' is a not uncommon female ailment." To sugar the pill, however, the diarist says: "In defense of the maligned sex I should like to record a case of gratitude in a woman that left me a little mournful. I had sent Charlotte a book for her birthday last autumn, and at breakfast today she said, 'Oh, thank you for that delightful book you sent me!' 'Oh,' I said, 'what was it?' 'Dear me,' said Charlotte, 'I have quite forgotten.'"

A Good Fair.

The State Fair of 1898 is now drawing to a close and to many people it will be a fair to be remembered. The stock exhibits are very fine, particularly the cattle, although the display of sheep and hogs is extra good. Senator Lesh has on exhibition a porker weighing 700 pounds.

The poultry department, under the supervision of H. H. Collier, has called forth a great deal of approval from visitors. The exhibit is very complete, as it includes all the breeds produced in the state.

The machinery exhibits are disappointing, there being very little of it.

The exhibits in the big pavilion, while not as complete as they might be in some lines, on the whole are exceptionally good, and the effect as one surveys the whole, is very beautiful. Among the more notable exhibits in the pavilion are the following: The big exhibit of grasses and preserved fruits, prepared by Frank Leckenby, of this city, is very fine and has received a great deal of well deserved praise.

F. L. Wheeler, of Fruitvale, has a very handsome exhibit, as also has Matt Stanton, of the Ahtanum; Lloyd Purdin, of the Wenas, W. H. Redman, of this city, and the Moxee farm, while there are a great many others lesser in extent.

The most complete and unquestionably the finest single farm exhibit ever shown at the State Fair, is that of H. Benthien, of Puyallup. We lack space to mention all the articles of this exhibit, which includes potatoes, tobacco, celery, squash, field and garden seeds, and perhaps fifty other things. Mr. Benthien is entitled to great credit for the work and expense involved in making his magnificent display.

Among the handsome trade exhibits in the pavilion, are those of Claude Briggs, the well known piano man; T. G. Redfield the Yakima jeweler; the Yakima Hardware Co., and Fisher & Mabry, harness and saddles.

The races are much better than usual this year, and monopolize most of the visitors' attention.

Result of the races. Monday:—Two in 3 trot, for 2-year olds, Egypt won, time 2:28. Second race, for 3-year-olds trot, won by Birdulex, time 2:30½. Third race, three-fourth mile dash, running, won by Jim Roseman, time 1:15.

Tuesday:—Three in 5 trot, won by Altonette, time 2:26½. Baby Ruth second. Ida Mc third. One-and-fourth mile pace, Atlas won. Mac second, Kittie G, third. One-half mile dash Lo Lo won; Miss Miller, second, Besoneal third; time :49. Five-eighths dash, Baby Ruth won; Gold Bug, second; Twister, third; time 1:03.

Wednesday:—Two forty pace, Mack won in three straight heats, time 2:22¼. Two twenty trot, Nettie Ham won; Stocato second; Sunrise, third, time 2:22½. Mile dash, Gold Bug won, Baby Ruth, second, time 1:44.

The First Gun of the Campaign.

According to announcement Gov. John R. Rogers and Congressman W. C. Jones spoke on the issues of the day to a large audience at Masons Opera House on Thursday evening, every seat was occupied and standing room at a premium. The meeting was presided over by attorney E. B. Preble who introduced the speakers with appropriate remarks.

Gov. Rogers was the first speaker and occupied about 20 minutes of time in discussing the late war and its effects, and dwelt at some length on the great future in store for the people of Washington, prophesying that one of the greatest cities of the world would stand on the shore of Puget Sound.

At the conclusion of the Governor's remarks, Congressman Jones was introduced and for the space of an hour held the close attention of his audience except a few who were evidently displeased at the force of his remarks, and, left the meeting. Mr. Jones answered the charge made against the reliability of his famous wheat chart, by one of his congressional opponents by referring him to the very papers in which his speech was printed, which quoted an ounce of silver to within a cent of the price of a bushel of wheat. Mr. Jones also in a scathing manner denounced the general financial policy of the administration which he claimed had sold itself body and soul to the bond sharks of Wall street. He said that the administration policy after the next election would be to fasten the gold standard more securely on the people by enacting legislation to retire the greenbacks in order to make room for a large issue of Bank notes which would be made payable in gold. He quoted at from Thomas Shearman who said that thirty years of the gold standard and currency contraction would result in making 50,000 millionaires and one hundred million paupers.

The speaker sharply criticised the war department for its inhuman treatment of the soldiers, who have failed to receive food and medicine while a favored few have been allowed to rob the government of millions. The brilliant Congressman coming to state matters compared the present state administration with its predecessor, much to the discredit of the latter. Stating that that the state debt increased $1,000 per day under the last administration while the debt was being paid at the rate of $800 per day under the present state officers.

Washington securities were now considered extremely desirable by New York financiers, Mr. Jones ridiculed the claim that the people would restore the republicans to power in this state and prophesied the election of a silver house of representatives this fall. The audience which was a mixed one appreciated his good points throughout his brilliant discourse, and at the end broke out in a storm of applause.
