REAL FIGHT ON
SPEAKER BEGINS*Representative Longworth Makes Statement Believed to Voice Taft Sentiment.*Speaker Cannon Refuses to Make Comment Until Report
Has Some Authority.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 18.—Reflecting the views of the administration, it is generally believed Representative Longworth today gave out a statement in which he says he will never support Speaker Cannon again, and that he does not believe Cannon ever can be re-elected. This is regarded as the beginning of the actual fight on Cannon.

Significant Facts.
It may be regarded as significant that Longworth has been called into all the recent conferences of a public nature held by President Taft. He was present yesterday when the president and Sherman talked together.

It was reported that a statement adverse to Cannon was being prepared in quarters close to the administration and it was also intimated that Sherman, who, like Longworth, has always been a supporter of Cannon, had become reconciled to the fact that Cannon must go.

There may be further significance in the fact that Longworth is going to Oyster Bay Saturday to spend several days with his father-in-law, Colonel Roosevelt.

The Longworth statement in substance says that Longworth did not intend to allude to the fact that he intended to oppose Cannon's re-election as speaker had the speaker refrained from himself bringing it to the front and making it a part of the speaker's campaign for re-election to the house.

Will Not Dodge Issue.
Now that the issue is made, Longworth says, he does not propose to dodge it. He then proceeds to say that he shall oppose Cannon's re-election to the speakership.

He says he made up his mind before the adjournment of the last session that Cannon could not be re-elected speaker, and his opinion has been strengthened by a thorough correspondence and talks with those of his colleagues who have supported Cannon.

He says he has a genuine affection for Cannon as a man and a fighter and that he has supported him five times, having voted for his election four times and once against his removal, but he cannot do so again.

That a Taft movement for the elimination of Cannon was on foot was indicated a week ago. Since that time, it is believed, the sentiment has rapidly crystallized and the fight is fairly on.

Whether the speaker will accept the situation which has developed since yesterday's conference with the president remains yet to be seen. Whether he accepts or not it is felt here that Cannon is already eliminated.

Won't Fight Windmills.
Danville, Ill., Aug. 18.—Speaker Cannon, when shown a dispatch from Beverly regarding the statement given out by Representative Longworth, said:

"Mr. Cannon declines to answer any statement Mr. Longworth may or may not have made until he sees it. I do not answer any statements which I believe to be false or mischievous parties make."

"It is time enough for me to answer the president of the United States if he has any statement to make on the republicanism of the speaker of the house of representatives when he makes that statement under his own hand. I will not fight windmills fanned by breezes blown from the lungs of political or personal enemies or cowards."

TO WORK IN COMMON*Western Governors Meet to Outline Plans for National Conservation Congress.

Salt Lake, Aug. 18.—The conference of the governors of the western states to discuss matters pertaining to the national conservation congress at St. Paul next month assembled here today. The following were present: Governors of Washington, Idaho and Wyoming; Oregon, represented by C. N. McArthur; California, by Congressman Kahn; Nevada by A. B. Wheeler, and Colorado, by J. E. Galbreath. Montana was not represented, but Gov. Norris sent a letter of regrets.

No Politics in Meeting.

Gov. Hay in his speech said he was instrumental in calling the convention, but he denied that there was any politics in it, and said that his state is vitally interested because 27 per cent of its area is locked up in the reserves.

This, he thought, should be conserved by the state instead of by the nation. Gov. Brooks of Wyoming said that there are two questions before the conference, whether western states should be represented, and what should be their policy. He favored that all be represented and that a common line of action be agreed upon.

Gov. Brady of Idaho agreed with Gov. Brooks.

IMPROVEMENT CONTINUES.

New York, Aug. 18.—Dr. Lederle, New York's health commissioner, announced the following bulletin at 8:30 o'clock this morning: "Mayor Gaynor passed a comfortable night. He is sleeping soundly. Temperature, pulse and respiration are normal."

BIG MORTGAGE IS FILED IN COUNTY*Pacific Power & Light Company Would Realize Sum of Thirty Million Dollars.*It Is Understood This Is to Be Used Making Improvements and Extensions.

A mortgage carrying the sum of $30,000,000 was deposited with the county auditor of Yakima county this morning by the Pacific Power & Light company.

The fee for recording this mortgage is $49.95 and there is also an additional fee of 50 cents for filing it as a chattel mortgage.

The instrument, which makes a fair-sized paper book, bears the title "First and refunding mortgage 20-year gold bond." It is given by the Pacific Power & Light company to the United States Mortgage & Trust company, trustee. It is payable on Aug. 1, 1930, and bears interest at the rate of 5 per cent.

Covers All Property.
The mortgage covers all of the property and holdings of the Pacific Power & Light company in the three states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. This includes, of course, the water plant of this city, the electric light system and power system of the city and valley, and the gas plant.

All of the property of the company, corporate and incorporeal, is included. This embraces in addition to the real property the franchises, leases, rights-of-way and everything of value over which the Pacific Power & Light company exercises ownership or control.

Large Improvements.
It is understood that this immense sum of $30,000,000 is borrowed for the purpose of making extensions and development of the various properties of the company. Locally it is understood that the company intends to increase the size and efficiency of the Naches power plant, to make improvements in the water system, with extensions to the mains, and to largely increase the capacity and efficiency of the gas plant.

Just how soon these improvements are to be made, or to what extent they are to be carried out, could not be learned today.

This instrument is one of the largest ever recorded in Yakima. It will keep a typist busy several days copying it into the books of record.

FIVE CARS OFF TODAY*First Carload Lots of Elbertas
Come from Fruitvale District.

Five full cars of well-ripened Elberta peaches, shipped fully 10 days ahead of the usual season, will constitute North Yakima's first offering to the eastern markets today. Three firms are contributing to the day's output, which is the first of full carloads from this station, the Hays Fruit company putting out two cars, the Horticultural Union one and the Yakima Produce company two. All of the peaches in these five carloads come from Fruitvale and the prevailing price offered by the dealers is 45 cents per box.

The Elbertas in that section, with the return of warm weather, are ripening fast, and it is likely that before the end of the week 25 cars will be on their way to the east. As of today's shipments were bound for Minneapolis and St. Paul. E. C. Van Brundt's ranch in Fruitvale is said to be ripening Elbertas at the rate of a carload per day, and Dr. Wells will harvest 10 carloads from his place in the same section, most of which will be off the trees within a few days.

Elbertas in mixed cars, Bartlett pears and Italian prunes are comprising the shipments of most of the other houses, the Crawford section being nearly over. The price of the Bartletts has kept up remarkably well during a long season and it seems to be the opinion of many of the dealers that Elbertas will do the same. There seems to be no denial of the all-around excellent quality of these popular peaches this year.

As another indication of the extraordinary earliness of the season, if further proof is needed, the Hays Fruit company announced today that it will ship next week a car of Grimes Golden apples. This is, all of the dealers say, at least two weeks ahead of the usual time of marketing for this variety.

PLAZA IS WORSE.

Negro Wounded Tuesday Night Reported
"Not Quite So Well."
Abraham Lincoln Plaza, reported yesterday to be in danger from death from a gunshot wound received in a fight on Tuesday night, was reported this afternoon to be "not quite so well."

CADY DEFEATED.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 18.—The Bee announces this morning that Cady practically concedes his defeat by Aldrich in the race for the republican nomination for governor, and that Aldrich claims a majority of over 10,000.

THE WEATHER

Washington—Fair tonight and Friday; cooler in the interior and northwest, and warmer in northeast portion tonight.

Local Conditions—Temperature, maximum, 85; minimum, 54; sky, clear; wind, light; precipitation, none.

SENATORS ALDRICH AND BRISTOW.

United States Senator Nelson A. Aldrich on the left and his accuser, Senator Joseph L. Bristow of Kansas, who are now very much in the public eye because of the accusations made by Bristow that Aldrich had the tariff schedule on rubber "cooked" at the last session of congress so that a rubber manufacturing concern in which he and his son are interested would reap the benefit. Both senators have been calling each other liars for the past few weeks, without everything being cleared up yet.

WARNING AGAINST
SWINDLERS' WORK*Reclamation Service Advises
Homeseekers to Beware of Exploitation of Reservation.
Unscrupulous Persons Misrepresent Conditions and Offer to Locate Settlers.

The reclamation service has taken official cognizance of the individuals and companies that have been exploiting the reservation. The reclamation service is sending out warning to homeseekers directing attention to what it terms the operation of swindlers. It appears that these swindlers have been advertising in papers all over the country selling booklets of misinformation and making offers to locate settlers and old soldiers for specified sums. The warning just issued by the reclamation service follows:

"Homeseekers Beware!
"What is probably an organized band of swindlers, posing as real estate men, has been operating throughout the country by advertising in the leading papers an opening of more than a million acres of government land in the Yakima Indian reservation, Washington.

"They make the statement that the reclamation service has practically surveyed all the reservation with a view of placing under water at the earliest possible date; that water can be put upon the land for $30 per acre, and that the bringing of water to the land will create 7,000 new homes. They are sending out pictures of grain fields and orchards, stating that these views are of lands in the same section as the reservation, and comparing the lands included in the alleged opening to the famous Nob Hill region near North Yakima, where apples and other fruit culture has attained a high degree of perfection.

The Real Facts.
"The facts are that the government does not contemplate any opening on the Yakima reservation at this, and perhaps not for some time; there are nothing like a million acres to be opened, and none of the land to be opened is likely to be irrigable, or suitable for any purpose whatever except grazing. It is not probable that there is a quarter section of land on the reservation outside of what will be included in the Indian allotments upon which a person could make a living by farming.

"It is rumored that these swindlers are offering to locate soldiers' claims for $2 each."

IN HURRIED CONFERENCE*Roosevelt and Several Lieutenants Hold Meeting at Sagamore Hill.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 18.—There was a hurried conference at Sagamore Hill today between Col. Roosevelt and William Loeb, jr., and Lloyd C. Griscom and Congressman W. W. Cooks. Griscom said he could not discuss his visit. Asked if his statement that the fight in behalf of Roosevelt would be carried into the Saratoga convention still stood, Griscom replied, "It does."

Col. Roosevelt refused to talk politics.

ORGANIZE CLUB
FOR FALL SHOOT*Menan Gun Club Has Leased
320 Acres at "The Willows."
on Reservation.
Membership Is Limited and Strict Rules Will Prevent Slaughter of Birds.

The outgrowth of a recent meeting of local followers of the chase was the formation of the Menan Gun club of North Yakima, and announcement has been made that the club has leased 320 acres of "The Willows," 22 miles from North Yakima on the reservation, between Tappanish and Fort Simcoe, and expects to have some of the best sport at the lake after the calling off of the law on ducks, on October 1.

Strict Rules Adopted.
I. H. Dills, Lee Tittle, Chas. Bilger, J. D. Morrison, E. S. West and W. L. Lemon were present at the meeting, which elected W. A. Bell, Chas. Bilger and W. L. Lemon as a board of trustees and adopted strict rules for the governing of shooting by the members of the club on the club grounds this season. Membership of the club is to be limited to 12, and invitations by the members of the club will be restricted to non-residents of Yakima county.

Each member will be permitted to entertain not more than four guests during the season.

Shooting to be Restricted.
Shooting is to be restricted to four days in the week, namely, Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Thursday, and no shooting will be allowed after sundown. All members and visitors will register their names and the amount of the bag at the club headquarters and a violation of the by-laws means forfeiture of membership card. The bag, according to the present game laws, is to be limited to 25 birds in one day's shooting. The board of trustees, who will elect its own president, secretary and treasurer, will transact all the business of the club.

Ducks are Numerous.
Reports from the reservation indicate that some of the best shooting that has been enjoyed for years will be possible at the lakes this fall, as more birds have been nesting there this season than for some time. All varieties are plentiful.

BIG MEETING SUNDAY*Labor Mass Meeting to Conclude Arrangements for September 5.

The union men of all branches in the city are planning a big mass meeting for Sunday afternoon in the Labor Temple, the object of the meeting being to reach a decision in regard to the celebration to be held here on September 5, Labor day.

The men have planned a rather elaborate celebration, but so far have reached no definite arrangement of a program, and it is for the settlement of details and also for the arranging of them to include the program which the Speed King Racing association has to offer for that day at the state fair grounds, that the meeting will be held. It will be called promptly at 2:30.

"DOCTOR" LARSON
IS ROUNDED UP*Man Charged With Forging
Checks in North Yakima Is Arrested in Seattle.*He Has Been Followed Since Commission of Alleged Crime in November.

After following an alleged forger since last November the Yakima county sheriff's office has finally caused the arrest of "Dr." Edwin Larson, who is charged with having issued worthless checks. Larson was arrested in Seattle this morning by the police of that city, and is being held until Deputy Sheriff Rightmire arrives for the man. The deputy departed for Seattle this afternoon.

"Dr." Edwin Larson and A. E. Chasteen operated together in North Yakima last fall. They had an office on the West side and claimed to be opticians. They made claims of marvelous cures, and charged such fees as they could collect. "Dr." Larson did the "optical" work in the office, and Chasteen rustled the business by making a canvas from house to house through the city.

Checks Turn Up.
The two men left the city suddenly, and immediately afterward worthless checks, alleged to have been issued by them, began to make their appearance. Three checks in all turned up, and it is upon one of these that the warrant for Larson's arrest has been issued.

The men were traced to Spokane and then on into Montana. Sheriff Lancaster followed and succeeded in bringing back with him A. F. Chasteen. The prisoner entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to an indeterminate term at the state reformatory at Monroe. He is now there serving his sentence.

Leads Crooked Chase.
The sheriff's office continued to look for Larson and he was finally located in Walla Walla. The chase from there led to Portland, then to Seattle, and then on to Bellingham. There the officers were hot on his trail, and word was sent out that he had started for Walla Walla.

The officers continued to be vigilant on the West side and found that Larson had gone to Seattle instead of Walla Walla. There he was arrested this morning.

The check upon which the case against Larson is based was drawn on the Union Bank & Trust company of Bellingham in the sum of $875. The name signed was F. C. Wagner. This was indorsed over to A. E. Chasteen, who passed it on to R. S. Best of the Coliseum bowling alley and pool hall.

The officers are convinced that this check was written and signed by "Dr." Larson. They are also of the opinion that the other checks were forged by him also.

CORRUPT WORK DONE*Over One Hundred Veniremen
Excused in Lee O'Neil
Browne Case.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Judge Kersten today discharged six more veniremen, a total of 111 today in the retrial of the Lee O'Neil Browne case, on their state-ments that they had been "approached."

The judge said that he did not know who is tampering with the veniremen, but he said some one is doing corrupt work, and he hopes the guilty persons will be found out and brought to the bar of justice. The court's remarks were addressed to lawyers and veniremen generally.

Attorney Arbstein of counsel for defense stated that the defense's investigator had not gone near the homes of the veniremen. He declared that the power of the state's attorney's office has been used to discredit the defense.

"Tommyrot!" was the only comment that State's Attorney Wayman would make.

NEW DRAINAGE DISTRICT.

Work of No. 7 Costs County Nearly Twenty Thousand Dollars.
The total cost of drainage district No. 7 is $19,415.13. This was certified to the county commissioners by the county auditor today. This drainage district is in the vicinity of Grandview, and it is estimated that the work just completed will drain an area of approximately 6339 acres. There was some delay in the beginning of this work, but the last contractor on the job has hurried through the work. The drainage of this large section it is believed will be of great benefit to the country.

REPORT UNFOUNDED.

Mayor Gaynor Not Suffering Paralysis
From Lodgment of Bullet.
New York, Aug. 18.—Mayor Gaynor passed a good night and was comfortable, the physicians said this morning after they came from the sick room of the wounded executive. A report had it that the lodgment of the bullet in the throat was causing paralysis, but this the attending physicians said was not true.

THE WHEAT MARKET

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Wheat closed: September, $1.01½; December, $1.05½; May, $1.09½@1.10.

Tacoma, Aug. 18.—Wheat: Bluestem, 95¢; club, 91¢.

Portland, Aug. 18.—Wheat unchanged.

WILL WATER LAND
UPON RESERVATION*Klickitat & Simcoe Irrigation Company Files Plat With the County Auditor.*Reserves Site for Big Reservoir to Hold Water for 7000 or 10,000 Acres.

How the Klickitat & Simcoe Irrigation company intends to store the waste waters of the Upper Klickitat river and carry them across the divide to water the Yakima Indian reservation lands is shown by a plat filed with the county auditor today.

Will Water Much Land.
The representatives of the company have little to say about the project, but it is estimated that it will open up from 7000 to 10,000 acres of land on the reservation.

The plat shows that the company is reserving a site for a reservoir on the Diamond Fork of the Klickitat at the mouth of Coyote creek, and that it has provided for a water way 20.9 miles in length to the water course of Tappanish creek, which will carry the water to the reservation.

Capital Quarter of a Million.
The Klickitat & Simcoe Irrigation Co. is one which was organized and incorporated about a year ago with W. W. Robinson as president and Ira P. Englehart as vice president. M. R. Galloway is secretary. The capital stock is $250,000.

Mr. Galloway states that the company is an irrigation company rather than a real estate company, and that it will probably not be doing business until after the lands of the reservation are thrown open.

LUCK FORSAKES
CHICAGO AVIATOR*John Moissant Meets with Mishaps on Reaching England
on Paris-London Flight.*He Is Compelled to Descend
Twice, the Second Time Breaking His Machine.

Chatham, Aug. 18.—John B. Moissant, the Chicago aviator, who is attempting to fly from Paris to London, descended for the second time here today, breaking the propeller and part of the frame of his machine in making the second landing. The resumption of the flight before tomorrow is improbable.

Motor Balks.
Moissant's good fortune seems to have deserted him with his arrival on English soil. The motor, which yesterday worked without a hitch, today compelled two successive landings when about half way between Tilmanstone and London, whence he ascended at 4:55 o'clock this morning.

The first time he made a successful descent, albeit he barely missed the mouth of a deep pit, a fall into which would have killed both aviator and mechanic. Repairs to the machine detained him nearly three hours.

Breaks Connecting Rod.
He resumed the flight but hardly had he gone 10 miles when the rod connecting up the driving gear of the machine was fractured, stopping the engine and forcing the Chicagoan to plane down to the ground.

In order to avoid plunging into a clump of trees, Moissant made an abrupt turn and the machine came down heavily, breaking the chassis and smashing the propeller.

Moissant and his mechanic climbed out uninjured, but it was found that repairs could not be completed on the spot and new parts must be obtained from Paris.

POSTS SIGN, GETS WET*Ed. Lyon Was Telling Them
What He Would Do and Then Stepped in Ditch.

The life of the politician isn't all that it's cracked up to be. Ed Lyon will verify the above statement, and not make any bones about it either, according to his friends who dropped in the office today.

It seems that Ed has gotten out a neat little poster telling that he is out after the republican nomination for sheriff at the primaries. This morning he was down in front of the state fair grounds placing them in conspicuous places when suddenly he spied a prominent sign board across the Union ditch.

He got so busy talking that he forgot to walk around the ditch and, stepping backward, got a ducking.

TO FOLLOW TRAIL
OF DECADES AGO*Secretary Himes of Oregon
Historical Society to Cross
Mountains Once More.*Was With Party Which Made
First Settlement in Puget Sound Basin in 1853.

George H. Himes, field secretary of the Oregon Historical society, who is registered at the Yakima hotel and who will start on Friday morning with Prof. W. H. Gilstrap, of Tacoma, secretary of the Washington Historical society, David Longmire of the Wenatchee and his four sons, for a trip over the mountains on horseback, following the original Oregon trail outlined by the first settlers from the east in the Puget Sound basin, has an interesting story to tell of his adventures and impressions on that early trip.

Was Then a Mere Boy.
Mr. Himes was at that time a lad of 11 years and has described his impressions of the Yakima valley by saying that it was a "country composed of sagebrush, bunchgrass, jackrabbits and Indians." There were at that time, 57 years ago, less than 30,000 people in the entire territory of Oregon, which embraced the states now known as Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, and western Montana and Western Wyoming.

The company with which he traveled, of which his father, Tyrus Himes, was one of the leading spirits, was made up of 140 people from the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Missouri, who came through over the Oregon trail. They met, after coming from their own localities within the boundaries of the present state of Nebraska. The friendships formed on the trail at that time have, in many cases, been lasting ones, and although no formal organization has ever been entered into, there has never been a serious dissension among the members of the original party or among their children, and the ties that bound the members of the expedition at that time have served to keep interest alive in the hearts of the present generation. Mr. Himes' work is really the outgrowth of these early associations.

Only Head of Family Living.
Of the heads of families who came over the plains with the expedition, Mr. Himes says that there is but one living. She is Mrs. James Longmire of the Wenatchee, the mother of David Longmire, and it is because of her intimate association with the early history of the country that her son and grandsons will attempt the trip over the mountains to the Puget Sound country by the original trail. As field secretary of the Historical society, Mr. Himes has made many expeditions into the interior of Oregon and Washington similar to the present one, and his mind is an immense storehouse of facts and interesting anecdotes of the early times. In October, 1908, he and Mr. Longmire went into the mountains 54 miles with teams and wagons, but it was found to be impossible at that time to follow the trail without the greatest difficulties, and the present trip on horseback is the result of the former attempt. Prof. Gilstrap, who makes photography one of the strongest aids in his work in connection with the Washington society, will take his camera on the trip, and as some of the sections into which the party will penetrate have never before been photographed and present some of the most rugged features of the Cascade range, it is probable that the collection he will make will be among the most prized of his treasures.

Lowered Wagons by Ropes.
The route which the party will follow will be up the Wenatchee creek, over the divide and up the Naches river, which the original party crossed 68 times on the journey to the mountains. From the summit to the plains on the other side it is expected that the original trail over which the cattle were driven can be taken, although at the particular point at which the descent was made there is a declivity of nearly 1000 feet, part of which is nearly perpendicular, over which it was of course impossible to drive stock, and over which the wagons and supplies were lowered by means of ropes. A long detour was made with the horses and cattle, and the wagons were picked up at the base of the cliff. The mountains were entered on September 21, 1853, and they were left between October 10 and 15 of the same year. During the month's transit the supplies of the party were almost exhausted, Mr. Himes' family being one of those which were left absolutely without flour, and many of the cattle which had been brought so far died from exposure and lack of nourishment, the only provender for several days being afforded from the leaves of the underbrush, which contained very little nutriment at that time of the year.

Were Grossly Misled.
Mr. Himes said that many of these hardships might have been avoided had not the party taken the advice of persons who were met in the Grand Ronde valley, who said that the best way to the homeseekers to do was to go by way of the Sound basin. This, they said, was virgin territory, all of the available country in the Willamette valley having been taken up. They said that a road was being constructed north of Mount Rainier, which would enable the party to cross the mountains without difficulty; and their advice was taken. The Yakima river was crossed several times, and the trail up the Wenatchee and the Naches was followed, but it was later discovered that the road had been built from the western side of the mountains only a short distance, for the reason that the report was sent broadcast by the Indians in the country that no "Boston men," as they called them, were coming.

BLANKETS AT MANUFACTURER'S PRICES

That ought to be good news to the buyers of this city. It's a fact, too, the sale of Sample Blankets offers you the chance to buy at prices as low as those quoted by the manufacturers in case lots. We bought these blankets from the Marshall Field Co., Chicago, at a liberal discount from their selling price. By adding a small profit we are thus enabled to sell you these blankets at as low or even lower prices than are asked by the manufacturers even on large quantities. Such chances as this come but seldom—the blankets are in most cases absolutely as good as the day they left the factory, as they were used as samples for a short time only, and very few show any signs of handling. The savings are very substantial, ranging

FROM 1-4 TO 1-3 ON BOTH WOOL AND COTTON BLANKETS

The prices range from 48c to $12.50 per pair.

LOCAL NEWS OF THE DAY

Miss Lord, who nursed Harry Carroll through a siege of typhoid fever, returned to her home in North Yakima yesterday.—Ellensburg Record.

Ex-Judge Carroll B. Graves of Seattle has practically given up professional work for the present on account of ill health. He no longer looks after Northern Pacific business at the metropolis, or even visits his office. He recently had a slight hemorrhage of the brain. His medical advisers think that with a couple of years' rest he may become himself again, but his complete recovery is considered far from certain at the present time.

J. T. Andrus of the North Coast stopped over this morning on his way from the Sound to Spokane. Mr. Andrus still casts his eye longingly on North Yakima as a place of residence, and says he hopes it won't be long until he can come back here.

Seldon Hutchins is back in business again at the H. & H. art store after having undergone an unusually successful operation for appendicitis.

Miss Hazel Duvall has returned from the Sound, where she has spent the last two months visiting various points there and attending the summer session of the Ellensburg normal school, which was held on Vashon Island this year.

"J" and "F" in big white, bold letters on some of the street cars in place of the words "Johnson's Corner" and "Fairview" in smaller and less easily distinguishable characters are an improvement in the street car service.

There will be an ice cream social at the United Presbyterian church this evening. The program includes music and recitations.

James Henderson of Sunnyside has filed on the democratic ticket for representative from this county and not on the republican ticket, as has been erroneously stated heretofore in these columns.

It has been reported to the police that a tinner's son, a butcher's son and a young negro have been making life exciting for people on South Fourth street recently by racing their horses up and down the thoroughfare, thereby endangering the lives of children in that neighborhood.

CLEAN HOPS WANTED

Eastern Brewer Willing to Pay for Careful Gathering of Crop.

In a bulletin sent out by the New York Hop Reporting company, Adolphus Busch, the St. Louis brewer, who is spending the summer on his estate in Germany, is reported to have sent positive instructions to his purchasing agents in New York state to buy no hops this season that are not absolutely clean-picked. The report further says:

"In order to stimulate the growers, Mr. Busch has authorized his agents to pay three or even five cents more a pound for choice hops which meet the conditions named. This means a big expenditure for a brewery whose output is reckoned in millions of barrels, but Mr. Busch believes that the outlay will be educational and profitable all around."

"Hired pickers in the United States, he says, are prone to mix leaves, stems and weeds with the hops, and these alien ingredients impart a hurtful flavor to the beer brewed from them. Growers in England, Germany and Austria, on the contrary, are watchful against such practices, and their product commands a better price in consequence. If American growers will take pains, as it is obviously to their own interest to do, Mr. Busch tells them that so many European hops will not be imported by America's big breweries, nor will so many American hops have to grow stale in English warehouses while awaiting purchasers."

"With the use of none but the best barley and hops by our brewers generally, Mr. Busch expects that the consumption of beers in America will double within another decade and will almost banish drunkenness by decreasing the consumption of distilled liquors, as well as of the drugged and poisonous substitutes now so widely used in prohibition territory."

TWO CIRCUS DAY

THIEVES GO FREE

Indian Who Accuses Brother Redskins Doesn't Have Evidence to Get Conviction.

Circus Wrongs Rankle in Minds of City Employees—People Leave Money at Window.

Two Indians held by the police on complaint of a third Indian who complained that they had seized him circus night and robbed him of $10, have been released because the police force and prosecuting attorney cannot make enough out of their story to hang a prosecution on. The robbed Indian had no story of stealthy pickpocketing, either. He claimed he was seized and held and robbed by force. But he didn't have the evidence.

Circus Echoes Reverberate. Circus echoes continue to reverberate elsewhere than in the back yards where ambitious youngsters endeavor to master the mysteries of the flip-flop without breaking their necks.

Police and firemen continue to rub mental sore spots received from circus gatekeepers who would not recognize city uniforms in the manner in which circuses are supposed to recognize them. Uniforms are supposed to mean free admission but this circus—or its employees—didn't live up to the rules.

People Leave Money. Many people, as usual, left change in the hands of the ticket seller at the circus—and it wasn't the ticket seller's fault, either. The place to see how "dumb" the American public is, he said, is at the ticket window of a circus or a railroad station.

"I left 50 cents in change," said one woman, who came back to the big red wagon.

"You're correct," said he. "You had with you a little girl with blue ribbon in her hair." And it was so. She got the 50 cents back, but the man said he had a lot more that nobody called for.

Frank M. Spain, in the office of the county auditor, is said to be suffering from an attack of Senderum Snokitis, an affliction which promises to get all those who are employed or who live in that locality. Expressed in the language of laymen it may be said that the trouble is a superabundance of smoke from the chimney of the Scudder laundry just across the street from the court house. During the warm days when the windows of the court house must be kept open the northeast breeze carries great volumes of the smoke into the building.

Kodak Developing. You call me a Kodak fiend. Now, in a way that's true; but you should be too. It happened this way: 'Twas two years ago; our baby was then the only baby and of course I had to take a picture of him, so I squared off with my brand new 3A and snapped the shutter (just as he raised one chubby hand and said, "Here, Papa!").

Then to develop—this was my first attempt at finishing—appreciate my surprise as our picture printed out showing a fine picture of baby—but, horrors, he had in his hand my wife's brand new watch I had just bought at Keene's, with lids broken and hands gone. When I showed it to him he said: "Take it to KEENE'S. They Understand Watches—I Don't."

ENGINEERS WILL #### HAVE BUSY TIME

Army Board Expected in North Yakima August 30, After Trip on Sunnyside.

Will Spend Four Days in Yakima Valley—Program Not Yet Definitely Decided.

From information received at the local office of the United States reclamation service it appears that the long-expected visit of the board of army engineers, who will inspect the reclamation work here under the new law, will occur the latter part of the month. The board will arrive here on August 29, and will spend four days in the valley. A tentative program for the work they will do here has been arranged as follows:

To Have Busy Four Days. Monday, August 29, will be given up to an inspection of the lower valley from Kennewick to Toppenish. On Tuesday, August 30, the Sunnyside country will be looked over, and the party will arrive in North Yakima on the evening of August 30. Wednesday, August 31, will be spent on the Tieton project and in North Yakima, and Thursday, September 1, will be devoted to an inspection of the Kittitas valley and the lakes at the head of the Yakima.

This program has not been definitely adopted, and may be changed later to suit the convenience of the engineers.

OPEN NEW COAL MINE

J. R. Marshall Tells of Active Operations on West Slope of Cascades.

J. R. Marshall, wife and son have come over from Cumby and to visit with friends and relatives. Mr. Marshall will return this evening, but Mrs. Marshall and son will remain in North Yakima a week or more.

Mr. Marshall is one of the members of the Rose-Marshall Coal company, which has just opened a new mine on the west slope of the Cascades. It is claimed for this new mine that it has the best coal in the state of Washington. It was opened only a few months ago, but so rapidly have operations been pushed that the company expects to be shipping coal next week. Steel has been laid to the mouth of the new mine and the coal will be drawn out on the company's cars and locomotive. Mr. Marshall was a resident of North Yakima a few years ago, and the Roses have large interests in and around North Yakima.

Burton Lum, who has been on the Sound for several days, returned home this morning.

Burton O. Lum has sold to Julius T. Harrah for $12,000 a tract of 40 acres on the reservation about 10 miles west of Toppenish.

Hunters' licenses issued since Wednesday by the county auditor were taken out by W. B. Carlin of North Yakima, Harvey Oliver of Wapato and George Hall of Moxee.

MORE SPINAL DISEASE

Spinal Paralysis Spreads in Spokane and Doctor Warns Against It.

Several deaths from spinal paralysis have occurred in Spokane. The disease made its appearance in Sunnyside some time ago and one case has been reported in North Yakima. Dr. M. B. Grieve, city health officer of Spokane, says of it:

"This new disease is very contagious and we have established a rigid six weeks' quarantine where each case has developed. Within 24 hours after the disease appears it may prove fatal. The nine-year-old daughter of Paul Priest was sick only about 24 hours. So far we have had two deaths in about six cases reported.

"The disease starts with a high fever, which increases rapidly. The sickness is so severe that if it does not end fatally the victim usually is injured for life.

"In some eastern communities, in addition to quarantine, children have been prohibited from attending school. The circus crowds of Monday were bad because of the chance for contagion. If the disease becomes virulent a prohibition against children attending school, church, Sunday school and theaters may result.

"I would advise the people thoroughly to sprinkle their lawns and the streets in front of their premises to lay the dust."

HAVE SCHOOLS ON PAR WITH STATES

Prof. F. J. Dallinger of Seattle, Tells of Educating the Philippine Children.

Natives Do Bulk of Work and Teach Entirely in English—Industrial Work Fine.

That the grade schools of the Philippine Islands are practically on a par with the American grade schools, is the statement of Prof. Forrest J. Dallinger, principal of one of the Seattle public schools, who stopped in this city for a few weeks on his return from those islands, where he has spent a year studying the industrial phase of the educational system.

Professor Dallinger has spent a year in Japan, China and the Philippine Islands and returned to Seattle Wednesday morning, where he will resume his duties in the schools of that city.

"In an educational line," said Prof. Dallinger, "the Philippine schools are on a par with our grade schools here in the United States. For industrial work they are ahead of us in the lower grades. There they have a system of industrial training which begins with the first grade of the primary and leads through all the schools there."

Second Graders Weave Panamas. "The little boys in the second grade weave 'Sabalan' hats in school, which we call Panamas here, as good as those one can purchase in the retail stores of this country. It takes one of the boys 30 days to finish a hat and they sell for about $3."

"The girls are taught fine lace work and embroidery and their work is excellent. The Philippine women produce better work of this nature than the French or Swiss folk do. Their needle work is much finer and more carefully done. The boys and men do most of the weaving and are taught to do this by hand and loom."

Division of Schools. "The schools of the islands are divided up into provinces which correspond much to the counties in this country. Over each province is an American division superintendent. Then each province is divided again into districts and over each district an American supervising teacher presides."

During the past year Prof. Dallinger acted as a division superintendent in the schools of the islands.

"With the exception of the Americans who are the head of the divisions and provinces, all the teaching in the schools of the Philippine Islands is done by native men and women. The education of the teachers goes from the fifth grade to the Manila normal.

Small Salaries. "The pay of these teachers ranges from $4 to $30 a month. The natives do exceptionally fine work and are very quick to imitate the teaching methods of their American heads. The superintendents hold schools for the native teachers and instruct them in the best methods."

All teaching in the schools of the islands is done in English. The pupils are well disciplined and work well. They are very anxious to learn and, unlike our American children, seldom need to be punished.

Pupils Very Clean. "The pupils come barefoot to school the year round and are scrupulously clean. The garb of the boys consists of a pair of white duck pants held up with a draw string and a 'camisa de chino,' or shirt worn on the outside of the trousers. These latter are made usually of cheap cotton, though sometimes are made of hemp cloth, and are called 'sinamays.' There are over 450,000 children in the schools of the combined islands and all love to sing. Their favorite song is the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic,' which they call the 'Glorious Song.' They are quick to catch an air but it is practically impossible to teach the children to sing accurately, because they want to learn in such a hurry."

EVEN TREES HAVE INDIVIDUALITIES

Trees which have their own individual methods of reproduction are interesting. The way of the elm is one of the most remarkable, because the elm actually makes hedges, or rather it fits in with our English methods of bordering our trees and roads with hedges, and in a very accommodating way helps us with material, says the Spectator.

The habit of the elm is to send out its roots in every direction and then to push up suckers from its spreading roots. When an elm seeds itself or is planted in a hedgerow and becomes established there it sends out its roots, pushes up its suckers on all sides of it, but except on two sides the young suckers get killed; they are trodden down in the path or cut up by the plow or gnawed down by grazing animals.

But they flourish on each side of the elm in the direction in which the hedge runs, and they kill out the other trees in the hedge, till at last possibly the hedge is all elm. Then if the hedge is not cut or only partly cut the strongest suckers grow up and become trees themselves and carry on the process.

Other trees instead of being killed down by animals get helped and planted. Squirrels carrying off hazelnuts and burying them for private consumption later, frequently forget where they have put them, and so plant countless hazels every year.

"SUSIE" IS TOMATO.

Garden Product Has All the Squaw's Facial Characteristics. "Susie" looks out from the face of a big wrinkled tomato through the window of a Yakima avenue drug store now adays. The red face, the slit-like "sick eyes" and the thin lips of the aged mouth are all there in the natural wrinkles of a somewhat deformed tomato. All the imaginative artist had to do to complete the illusion was to punch two holes for nostrils, put a shawl around the "head," and attach a label. Imagination does the rest.

COAST GOLF TOURNAMENTS

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—The annual month of sports at Del Monte will be ushered in tomorrow with the opening of the Del Monte golf tournament, which will continue until August 26. ### EAGLES AT NEW LONDON

New London, Conn., Aug. 18.—The Connecticut State Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held its first annual field day and parade here today. Delegations representing the local branches of the order in the chief cities and towns of the state participated.

Never keep bread crumbs in a tin box. A glass jar with a screwed lid is the best.

A simple way of preventing the burning of food is to keep a bowl of water in the oven. Change the water daily. Saucepans should be thoroughly dried before they are put away after being used. Water left in them causes rust, which gradually eats through the metal. The quickest method to remove flour after making puddings or cakes is to wash them in clear cold water. Warm water hardens the flour and makes it difficult to remove.

HE NEEDED THE MONEY

But When Opportunity Knocked This Young Man Had Lost the Doorkey.

"Ira A. Horn, Yakima Hotel," was the response to a question as to the identity and location of a well-dressed young man who recently applied for a job at the local office of the reclamation service. And he said he did not mind what kind of a job it was. Anything from mule driver to superintendent would suit him.

"I beg your pardon," said the employment man, who is from Maine, "did I get the right address?" "Yakima hotel is right," came back from the applicant, notwithstanding the fact that it is not at all the usual thing for applicants for jobs to register at the Yakima hotel, the man behind the cage recovered from his temporary flurry in sufficient haste to wind the name of the applicant in the proper number of rolls of red tape, and said that he thought the chances for the man to get work were very good. Oh, no, the applicant would not mind waiting a few days. Having been a clerk somewhere back in Ohio, and having acquired the northwest land fever, he had come out to the Yakima country to look around, and was looking for work in the government service merely to give himself some sort of an income while he was sizing up the opportunities the valley had to offer. No, he rather thought he would like the wait. And the saddest part of this little tale of human nature is that less than two days later the seeker needed a room, and Ira A. Horn was nowhere to be found.

RAILROAD COMPLETED.

Springfield, Ore., Celebrates Event of Great Importance.

Springfield, Ore., Aug. 18.—Springfield is in gala attire today for the first of the three days' celebration of the "Coming of the Railroads." Today marks the completion of the interurban line connecting this home of the largest inland lumber company of the west with Eugene, the seat of Oregon's state university, and also celebrates in advance the completion of the Southern Pacific's 200-mile cut-off to Klamath Falls. The first contract on the cut-off is practically completed, and within 15 months it is expected that through trains from Portland and Seattle to San Francisco will be routed through Springfield and Eugene. This route will pass near the summer lodge of the late E. H. Harriman at Pelican bay, Klamath lake, and return to the present main line just north of Mt. Shasta.

JOHNNY EVERS AND HIS REMARKABLE PLAY.

Johnnie Evers, the phenomenal second baseman of the Chicago Cubs, and a diagram of a remarkable play which he made in a recent game with the New York Giants. Myers was on third and Snodgrass on first, with only one out in the third inning. Neither team had scored, and it looked as though the only way to get the "jump" would win the game.

Larry Doyle picked out one of Pfeister's straight ones and slammed it past the pitcher so fast that he had not time to reach for it. With the quickness of thought both Tinker and Evers dashed over after the ball, which traveled like a streak just to the left of second base. As Tinker reached down to block the sphere it took a nasty bound right at his face. His gloved hand shot up suddenly and blocked the ball. Before it could drop to the ground Evers grabbed it with his bare hand and with a motion touched second, forcing Snodgrass, and threw like a rifle bullet to Chance in time to head off Doyle.

The play was about 50 per cent pure luck, as Tinker's motion was more to protect his face than make the play, and the other 50 per cent J. Evers, whose baseball brains and limbs seem to work in wonderful unison. The play probably cost the Giants the game, but the fans were generous enough to give the little second baseman the ovation his marvelous achievement deserved.

great. Locally, deposits in the banks always run down in August and the loans run up. The process this year is working out about as in former years. Already the farmers are beginning to receive their returns on fruit and hay crops, and already they are paying their obligations at the banks. The crops here are fairly good and prices are satisfactory this year, so that the bankers say there is no doubt we shall have a good fall business in this valley.

It was quite time that control of public affairs in California should rest in other hands than those of the Southern Pacific railroad. Heretofore no man has found it worth while to aspire for office in that state unless he wore the corporation collar; now there is a chance that the people will be able to take an inning. The direct primary system has some serious faults, but no matter what they are, they are not so bad as the faults of the system by which California has been ruled for many years.

Col. Roosevelt now knows how Bryan feels when the usual thing happens. When he has been bumped a few more times, or has had the steam roller run over him every once in a while, he will be a little more tractable. At present he is ramping around with the evident intention of doing somebody harm in order to get even. He is liable to discover, if he isn't careful, that there are plenty of people in the country who can carry on the necessary political operations without his aid, and unless we get into serious and unexpected trouble the country itself will run along satisfactorily with other hands than his at the throttle. The discovery may jar him, but it will do him good.

No matter what Dr. Frank and Dr. Nywening, health officers, may say, typhoid fever exists to an unnecessary extent in town, and it is time that something were done to discover the source of the disease, and, if possible, eradicate it. The reports that the fever originates out of town, that nearly all cases are brought in, and that in proportion to population there is no more fever here than elsewhere, which Dr. Frank gave to the papers the other day, make us tired. They make every intelligent man in town tired. It is high time that our health authorities got busy or resigned. They seem to be wholly incompetent, or else unwilling to do anything, and they appear to think that it is a part of the duties for which they are paid to misrepresent the situation.

Conventions as Business Assets

Chicago is taking account, roughly, of its latest convention prize, which is one of the richest in the long line of conventions sought by American cities. While the Knights Templars were in session there it is estimated that 50,000 members of the order visited the city, and including these, a total of 750,000 strangers came to Chicago as a result of the convention. Normal living expenses of the Knights for the period of their stay would reach $2,400,000, while the other visitors would have to expend somewhere near $4,400,000 in the same time. To this total of $6,800,000 is added $1,500,000 miscellaneous expenditures, estimated to have been made by the visitors in stores and otherwise while remaining there, bringing the total up to $10,400,000.—Portland Telegram.

Saving Fifteen Minutes

When we read that the Pennsylvania railway has spent $150,000,000 on its New York terminals to save 15 minutes we detect the exaggeration in the comparison, but feel elated. In reality, the investment was made to cut 15 minutes from the running time of every train that shall leave that station forever and forever, so long as trains shall run out of the metropolis. Multiply 15 minutes by the number of trains that will leave that station in the lives of men now on earth, and even this fabulous sum looks like small change.—Seattle Times.

Something Happened to Ole

A witness on a railroad case, asked to tell in his own way how the accident happened, said:

"Well, Ole and I was walking down the track and the train went by, and I got back on the track, and I didn't see Ole; but I walked along and pretty soon I see Ole's hat, and I walked on, and seen one of Ole's legs, and then one side of Ole's head, and I says, 'Good Heavens, Somethin' must've happened to Ole.'"

He is liable to discover, if he isn't careful, that there are plenty of people in the country who can carry on the necessary political operations without his aid, and unless we get into serious and unexpected trouble the country itself will run along satisfactorily with other hands than his at the throttle. The discovery may jar him, but it will do him good.

No matter what Dr. Frank and Dr. Nywening, health officers, may say, typhoid fever exists to an unnecessary extent in town, and it is time that something were done to discover the source of the disease, and, if possible, eradicate it. The reports that the fever originates out of town, that nearly all cases are brought in, and that in proportion to population there is no more fever here than elsewhere, which Dr. Frank gave to the papers the other day, make us tired. They make every intelligent man in town tired. It is high time that our health authorities got busy or resigned. They seem to be wholly incompetent, or else unwilling to do anything, and they appear to think that it is a part of the duties for which they are paid to misrepresent the situation.

Conventions as Business Assets

Chicago is taking account, roughly, of its latest convention prize, which is one of the richest in the long line of conventions sought by American cities. While the Knights Templars were in session there it is estimated that 50,000 members of the order visited the city, and including these, a total of 750,000 strangers came to Chicago as a result of the convention. Normal living expenses of the Knights for the period of their stay would reach $2,400,000, while the other visitors would have to expend somewhere near $4,400,000 in the same time. To this total of $6,800,000 is added $1,500,000 miscellaneous expenditures, estimated to have been made by the visitors in stores and otherwise while remaining there, bringing the total up to $10,400,000.—Portland Telegram.

Saving Fifteen Minutes

When we read that the Pennsylvania railway has spent $150,000,000 on its New York terminals to save 15 minutes we detect the exaggeration in the comparison, but feel elated. In reality, the investment was made to cut 15 minutes from the running time of every train that shall leave that station forever and forever, so long as trains shall run out of the metropolis. Multiply 15 minutes by the number of trains that will leave that station in the lives of men now on earth, and even this fabulous sum looks like small change.—Seattle Times.

Something Happened to Ole

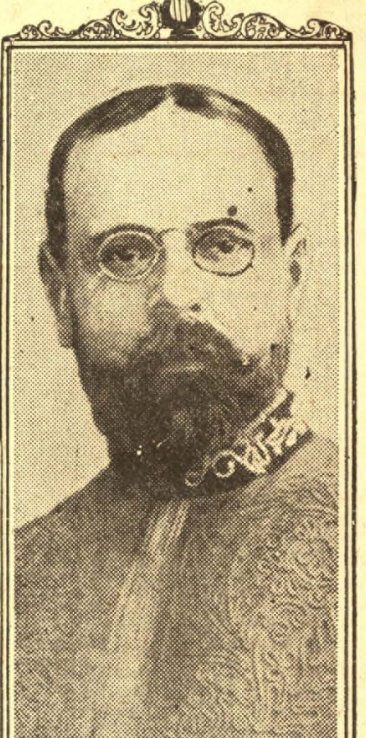

A witness on a railroad case, asked to tell in his own way how the accident happened, said:

"Well, Ole and I was walking down the track and the train went by, and I got back on the track, and I didn't see Ole; but I walked along and pretty soon I see Ole's hat, and I walked on, and seen one of Ole's legs, and then one side of Ole's head, and I says, 'Good Heavens, Somethin' must've happened to Ole.'"

BRUFF AND HIS RECORD

Statement of His Friends and Extract from Supreme Court Decision.

To the Editor—Replying to an article in the Morning Herald entitled: "If Jno. H. Bruff has any friends they will use their influence to get him to keep out of politics in the face of his past record. He may have embarrassments," we, the undersigned, voters and men who stand for fair play invite the author of such to come out in the open, like a man, and attack Mr. Bruff if he can, and not play the part of an assassin who for selfish ends and to please some faction or candidate who is behind the curtain of craft and hypocrisy to thwart the will of the people, to crush Mr. Bruff and thereby rob him of his civic rights.

We also know the record of this gentleman and we desire to say that in our opinion he is a man of fortitude, integrity and ability; we need such men to represent us—men who have convictions and have the courage to speak and uphold them. Mr. Bruff is a man of stamina and back bone and we do not believe he is very easily intimidated, and will remain in the race for and on behalf of the people who will judge him fairly from facts, evidence and not from insinuations and calumnies of his enemies and maligners of his good name. Bruff pays his debts and has lots of credit, and walks like a plumed knight in the estimation of the business element and voters of this county.

If the snakes have anything funny, come out in the open and in due time and meet him like a true soldier; do not gun-shoot around and not give him a chance of defense. That's what thoughtful, deliberate and fair men want. You are a pretty fellow if you want a fellow citizen to sidetrack for you or your pet schemes. We do not propose to see a fellow citizen skulk off like a poor kicked cur from calumniating abuse. All have a right to aspire and true patriots and philanthropists will give them encouragement.

If you doubt Mr. Bruff has no support wait and see.

Supreme Court Opinion.

The following is an extract from the decision of the supreme court of the state of Washington in the action of J. H. Bruff against the Northwestern Mutual Fire association to recover on a policy of $500 for personal wearing apparel and two Turkish covers alleged to have been destroyed in a fire which burned the house in which the plaintiff had been living prior to June 13, 1907. After giving a summary of the evidence that was introduced in the lower court, in which a verdict was returned for the plaintiff, the supreme court, in reversing the judgment and sending the case back for a new trial, says:

"The circumstances shown strongly indicate that the house had been purposely and deliberately prepared for a sudden, destructive and well-timed conflagration. Respondent held separate insurance policies on the house and its contents, and was the only person in a position to recover for losses resulting from the fire. There was sufficient evidence, if accepted and credited by the jury, to sustain them in finding that the fire was of incendiary origin, and that some one who had access to and was familiar with the premises had deliberately arranged the house and its contents for destruction by fire. The respondent was the only person who lived in or had access to the house. He was there early in the evening and left the building securely fastened. There was no evidence of any breaking prior to the arrival of the firemen. They found everything intact and well secured. Although the fire commenced at an early hour in the morning, arrangements might have been made causing it to ignite at that time. We do not assume that such plans were adopted, yet circumstances of a damaging nature, such as the condition of the house, the presence of 'coal' oil in so many places, the character of the fire and other facts shown by the record, tend to implicate the respondent."

Stockholm, Aug. 18.—The International Geological congress, which began a week's session in Stockholm today, has attracted a notable gathering of scientists from the leading countries of the world. Col. Roosevelt is said to be making plans for a trip to the northwest next spring. The colonel does not propose that we shall forget him up in this distant neck of the woods.

The republican party may get bumped occasionally by enemies within or without; but we anticipate that it will be doing business at the old stand long after the troubles of the present day are forgotten.

A discussion has arisen as to whether the Seattle Times or the Seattle P-I first printed the news of the death of Hilly Green's dog. The rivalry between these two estimable sheets in the matter of getting out the news is now strong, and there is no telling how the contest will come out.

Our old and valued friend James Henderson of Sunnyside enters a protest against the inadvertent reference to him in these columns as a republican candidate. He wishes that we would state definitely and in unmistakable terms that he is not a republican, but a democrat. We are pleased to do so, if Mr. Henderson insists. We hope he will get over it in time, but unless he does we really prefer not to misrepresent him.

Farming as a business now offers more opportunities than formerly, and consequently the rush of young men for the city is not so great as it was. Not only do the farms yield greater profits than they used to, but farming operations, as the result of many improvements, have become vastly more attractive as an occupation. Nowhere in the country does farming hold out better inducements to young men than in the Yakima valley.

The summers in the Yakima valley are unjustly maligned. It is now the middle of August, and the summer is over. The hot days are no more, and the nights have become almost uncomfortably cool. We had no warm weather this year until after the 1st of July, and in the six weeks that have intervened we have had not more than six or seven days that could fairly be called hot. Such weather as we have had this summer is good enough for anybody.

Bankers and others who have closely observed the financial and industrial condition of the country for the past few months now think that the danger of a stringency is past. "We never have a panic," said a banker the other day, "when the banks have been preparing for one." For months past the bankers everywhere have counseled their customers in favor of curtailing obligations and getting in their funds. The result has been a decided improvement in the feeling among business men, even though the volume of business has not been so

FORMER CITY DAD ASKS REASON WHY

Would Know Why Assault on Girl Was Not Prevented By Restricted District.

Says Argument of Old Days Is Exploded and That Vice Gets More Vice.

Such an assault as that attempted on Monday on 10-year-old Gertrude Allison would have been blamed on the absence of a restricted district had it occurred in the days when the existence of the district was being fought in the city council, says ex-Councilman John J. Miller, who was one of the leaders in the fight.

Would Have Been Great Cry.

"If such an assault had occurred then, there would have been a great cry about it," said Mr. Miller today in recalling the argument so often advanced at the time that the district is a necessity in order to protect the young girls of the city.

"They would have blamed us for it, but now that the restricted district is recognized by the city government they have nothing to say. But why is it that the young girls are not protected?"

Thinks of Old Battle.

Mr. Miller's mind was harking back to the wood old days of strenuous battles among the councilmen, when the council was divided over the very question which Mr. Miller called to mind this morning.

He thinks the old argument is exploded by the event of Monday, although he says the argument is nothing but sophistry, anyway. He says it is well known that the more opportunities there are given for vice the more vice there will be. Else, he says, why are not the 15 and 16-year-old girls protected now, when between 40 and 50 fallen women are paying monthly fines into the city treasury?

Vice Is Not Segregated.

Mr. Miller is very positive that vice is not segregated under the present arrangement and is led by other incidents in addition to the event of Monday to hold this opinion.

Mr. Miller does not like the present arrangement any better than he liked the proposal of such an arrangement when he was a councilman. He does not think vice should receive any official recognition whatever.

Not of Senatorial Calibre.

Judge Pointedexter does not appear well on the platform. Of the several hundred who heard him in Aberdeen the other night, a great many were disappointed in his utterances. He is non-magnetic and non-original. He is elected to congress on an anti-Cannon pledge, and on the day that he took his seat the occasion arose for him to make good on his promises to his constituents. Had he failed to vote the way he did, he never could have returned to his district. Now he is making capital of his vote, and doing about as heavy a job of muck-raking as has been undertaken in the west. Anyone who votes for Pointedexter in the belief that he is in class with La Follette, Cummins and others will be mistaken. Although earnest and sincere, he is not of the senatorial calibre.—Hoquiam Washingtonian.

FRANCIS JOSEPH AT FOUR SCORE

Eightieth Birthday Anniversary of Beloved Ruler Is Celebrated in Austria-Hungary

In Spits of Advanced Age and Tragedies in His Life He Is Still Hale and Hearty.

Vienna, Aug. 18.—In every town and village of the polyglot dual monarchy of Austria-Hungary the eightieth anniversary of the beloved ruler, Francis Joseph I., was observed today by popular demonstrations of loyalty and devotion. All public and many private buildings were profusely decorated with the national colors and portraits of the venerable monarch were displayed in great number. Te Deums were celebrated in all the churches and business everywhere was at a standstill. Patriotic exercises and military parades formed the salient features of the celebration in all larger communities. As usual, in deference to the wishes of the aged ruler, comparatively little money was spent for displays, while large sums were contributed to the fund for charitable and philanthropic institutions, to which the emperor also liberally subscribed.

The official celebration in the capital included the usual receptions of the diplomatic corps, the heads of the parliament and the diets, the members of the two cabinets, the chiefs of the army, the navy and the various fiscal departments and of the mayor and other officials of the city of Vienna. In the morning the emperor attended mass and in the afternoon the customary review of the garrison ended the official part of the celebration.

Nestor Among Rulers.
Francis Joseph I. was born August 18, 1830, and ascended the throne in the early winter of 1848. He is the nestor among the world's rulers and it is a curious fact that, with the exception of the king of Greece and the sultan of Turkey, no independent monarch reigning today was alive when Francis Joseph became emperor-king after the abdication of his weakling uncle Ferdinand during the stormy days of the revolution. Notwithstanding his advanced age and in spite of the chain of sorrows, disappointments, misfortunes and even tragedies which have marked his career and saddened, if not embittered his life, the emperor is still hale and rugged of health and capable of enduring hardships that would tax the strength of even a much younger man. Hunting in the mountains, where the nimble game leaps from crag to crag, is still the favorite recreation of the emperor, who has always been a mighty hunter and an exceptionally fine marksman. It is probably due to his love of outdoor exercise and the simplicity of his fare that he has retained his health and strength to such a remarkable degree.

The emperor's path of life has been neither smooth nor strewn with roses. He ascended the throne at a critical period, with all odds against him, and his reign has been a continuous struggle against unfortunate conditions ever since. That he succeeded, not only to maintain his throne under the most difficult conditions, but also to win the universal love of his subjects, conclusively proves him a man of unusual ability and force of character, one of the greatest rulers of modern times.

Sorely Tried Monarch.
The fates seem to have conspired to make Francis Joseph the most unhappy and most sorely tried of all modern monarchs. Not only did they surround him with difficulties and obstacles of a political nature which frequently threatened the stability of his throne, but they visited him with a long series of domestic misfortunes which disrupted his family, deprived him of those he most tenderly loved and loaded him down with grief and sorrow.

The unhappiness of his marriage to Elizabeth, the younger daughter of Duke Maximilian of Bavaria, was his first great trouble. There have been many theories advanced as to the causes of the alienation of the affection between the emperor and the empress. Whatever may have been the actual cause, it continued until Elizabeth was assassinated in Switzerland by the hand of an anarchist.

The next tragic event in the emperor's family came when his brother, Maximilian, the puppet emperor of Mexico, was executed at Queretaro. Maximilian's wife became insane and is still living, ignorant of her husband's fate. The saddest blow was the mysterious death of his only son, Crown Prince Rudolf, at his hunting lodge near Mayerling. A few years later the emperor's sister-in-law, the Duchess d'Alencon, burned to death at a charity bazaar in Paris. Archduke Johann, a nephew of the emperor, contracted a mesalliance with a dancer and disappeared with her. Louis Victor, the sole surviving brother of the emperor, disgraced himself and was shorn of his rank. Archduke Leopold, another nephew of the emperor, married a vaudeville star; Princess Stephanie married Count Lonyay and was banished and her daughter, Princess Elizabeth, became the wife of a poor cavalry officer. His nephew and prospective heir to the throne, Prince Francis Ferdinand, contracted a morganatic marriage and thus complicated the succession to the throne.

FRANCE ACCEPTS GIFT

Virginia Gives Sister Republic Bronze Statue of George Washington.

Paris, Aug. 18.—Seldom has the famous palace of Versailles, which has been the scene of many history-making events, including the signing of the treaty ending the American Revolutionary war, witnessed a more brilliant and distinguished assemblage than was gathered in the Marble Hall of the palace today, when, with ceremonies befitting the occasion, the bronze statue of George Washington, presented to the French people by the state of Virginia, was unveiled by a lineal descendant of the Marquis de Lafayette.

Grouped about the speaker's stand, which was completely covered in red, white and blue bunting and decorated with French and American flags, sat many high officials of France, members of the diplomatic corps, representatives of patriotic societies and other invited guests. Included among the latter were many prominent members of the American colony in Paris.

weeks as Washington's guest at Mt. Vernon and made a mould of his face. He returned to France and the statue was made in Paris of marble. It was sent to America and his since reposed in the Virginia capitol at Richmond. The gift of the replica to France was made under a law passed by the general assembly of Virginia "as an expression of Virginia's cordial admiration and loving regard."

FRANKLYN HOLDS RECORD

Car Makes Fastest Time in Crossing Continent

The fastest time ever made by an automobile in crossing the American continent was fifteen days, two hours and twelve minutes, and the motor car with which it was made was a six-cylinder air-cooled Franklyn touring car of thirty horse power.

This fact is brought out by the attention which this season is being given to transcontinental runs. The Franklyn has held this record for four years. For two years before that another Franklyn had held the previous record, so the transcontinental record at one figure has been a Franklyn possession for six years. It was in the summer of 1906 that the present record holder made the run from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast in what has stood as the minimum time. The start was at San Francisco and the finish at New York.

The route was one in excess of 4,100 miles, and it was through regions which presented all kinds of touring troubles. Mountain grade and sandy deserts increased the hardships of ordinary road work, and in some of the regions where good roads were ordinarily to be expected there were washouts and other obstacles.

MAN IMPRISONED IN SAWDUST BIN

City Has No Other Place to Keep Him While Jail Is Fumigated for Measles.

Purified Chain Gang Picks Rocks from Road Leading to State Fair Grounds.

Rocks were picked from the fair ground road this morning by a thoroughly fumigated city chain gang, the men all having been given a treatment with formaldehyde on account of the discovery in the jail yesterday of a case of measles. The man with the measles was removed to the pest house.

This morning after the prisoners had filed out and taken their places in the chariot in which they ride to work the whole first floor of the city hall was fumigated, the eye-piercing fumes of formaldehyde filling both fire station and police department. Particular attention was given the city jail.

Sawdust Bin Is New Cell.

During the process a man sleeping off a new drunk was imprisoned in the sawdust bin out in the alley. It was the only place the officers had to put him but they did not think he would get away.

Filled with 34 prisoners last night, the city jail presented an even more than usually inhuman appearance this morning, with the puddles of tobacco juice and other filth on the floor.

A stranger came along and looked at the four bunks and wanted to know where the 34 slept. He said he would give a dollar himself to help build new bunks.

"That is not what is needed," said Chief of Police Kinnaman. "The city needs a jail large enough so that it will accommodate iron cots and so that the prisoners will not have to be heaved so close together as to make it impossible to keep things clean."

Circus Seers Added.

More circus seers were added to the city chain gang this morning—men who claimed to have come to town to see the show and to have had too many drinks. Fines and bails received from 10 men booked for drunkenness amounted to $55.

Tony Peterson, an Indian, was fined $20 for disorderly conduct. Charles Bishop was fined $1 for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk.

WHY PAY CAR FARE?

Why pay car fare when you can buy a lot close in, and buy it for less money than you will generally have to pay for one farther out?

We have made arrangements to handle the Charlton addition to the city of North Yakima, only three and one-half blocks from Yakima avenue, and two blocks from Columbia school, on the most beautiful residence avenues on north west side. Ten dollars will secure option for 60 days on first payment. Payments monthly, quarterly, annually or any way that will suit purchaser and secure the settler.

West side business men will find this a rare opportunity to get property within a short walk of their business. Sale begins Monday, Aug. 8, 1910.

Women's Beauty

Imperfect Digestion Causes Bad Complexion and Dull Eyes.

The color in your cheeks won't fade, the brightness in your eye won't vanish, if you keep your stomach in good condition.

This was the advice of a prominent physician to a woman's club in Boston and it is good advice.

Belching of gas, heaviness, sour taste in mouth, dizziness, biliousness and nausea occur simply because the stomach is not properly digesting the food.

The blood needs nourishment to carry vigor, vim and vitality to every part of the body and when food ferments in the stomach enough nourishment is not supplied.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets give instant relief to upset stomachs, but they do more; they put strength into the stomach and build it up so that it can easily digest a hearty meal without giving its owner hours of misery.

Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere and by A. D. Sloan at 50 cents a large box. It is guaranteed to cure indigestion or any stomach distress or money back.

LOVE VS. LOVE IN DIVORCE ACTION

Cruel and Inhuman Treatment Is Given By Husband With Affectionate Name.

Actions of Step-Daughter Reason for Suit Brought By Former Iowa Man.

An action was begun in the superior court this morning to dissolve a marriage in which there was love in name only. The action was brought by Beulah M. Love against Arthur Love, and the charge is cruel and inhuman treatment and desertion. A feature of the case is that there are five children, the eldest only six years of age and the youngest but two weeks of age.

According to the complaint the couple were united in marriage in Johnson City, Texas, Nov. 9, 1901, but they have lived on a homestead in this county for over a year.

Cruel and Inhuman.

It is alleged that from the beginning of the married life the defendant has been cruel and inhuman to the plaintiff, and that many times he has threatened to kill the plaintiff and the children. It is also alleged that he is lazy, indolent and shiftless and that he has failed to provide for his wife and children.

The plaintiff asks for an absolute divorce, for the custody of the children, for court expenses and attorney's fees and for a reasonable alimony. She also asks that she be permitted to resume her maiden name, Beulah M. Holland.

Blames Step-Daughter.

Another divorce action, in which a peculiar ground for the separation is alleged was filed in the superior court late Wednesday afternoon. In this action John Los seeks divorce from his wife, Johanna Los. The plaintiff alleges that the action of his step-daughter, in keeping company with an undesirable young man, which action was sanctioned by the mother, is the reason he desires separation.

The plaintiff alleged that the marriage which he would now have dissolved took place in Plymouth county, Iowa, September 25, 1888, and that they lived at Sioux Center, Iowa, for a long time prior to February, 1904, he having been postmaster at that place during that time.

The plaintiff further alleges that his step-daughter, Lena Getsel, kept company with a young man of bad reputation, and that their conduct gave rise to scandal. He says his wife sanctioned their conduct. He was compelled to leave and upon his return found his wife participating in their actions.

There are no children, nor is there any community property.

OPPOSE LOCAL OPTION

Prohibitionists to Hold State Convention in North Yakima September 13.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 18.—James McDowell, chairman of the state central committee of the prohibition party, has issued a call for the state convention in North Yakima September 13, the same day as the primary election. On the same day county conventions for the purpose of nominating county officers will be held at county seats.

Mr. McDowell calls attention to the fact that although the delegates to the state convention will very likely be delegates to the county convention as well, the two meetings under the direct primary law must be held the same day. According to his statement this is very unjust and will cause very small attendance at both meetings.

Save Energies.

The prohibitionists this year are not to take a very active part in the elections, saving their energy for the state and national election of 1912, at which time they will conduct an active campaign. At the state convention in North Yakima the delegates will select candidates for the supreme court judgeships and for congressmen from each of the three districts, but will not express any preference for United States senator.

A plank in the platform will doubtless condemn the local option law passed by the last legislature and a hard fight will be made to have it repealed. The prohibitionists think that the old law placing the liquor problem in the hands of the county commissioners and the city council was the best law outside of a pure prohibition law that was ever passed in the United States.

Wm. P. F. Ferguson, editor of the National Prohibitionist of Chicago, will be present at the state convention and will deliver an address, telling of the work done by the party in other parts of the country. He will remain in the state and campaign here for the party, delivering 12 addresses at the different cities in the state.

Not Indorse Candidates.

This year, according to Mr. McDowell, the prohibition party, both in the county and state, will not indorse candidates running on other party tickets, but will select their own. While a full ticket will not be picked, enough men will be placed in the field to let the voters know that the prohibition party is still in the running.

Notice.

To our patrons who are leaving the city for the summer, we will be pleased to mail our paper to you at your new address.

TIMBERMEN FILE PROTESTS.

Valuation in "Worm Belt" Regarded as $195,000 Too High.

Montesano, Wash., Aug. 18.—Representatives of the Weyerhaeuser Timber company today made a request for a reduction amounting to $195,000 in the valuation of timber lands in Chehalis county by the county board of equalization. It was asserted that the timber was in the "worm belt" and was fast decaying.

The rolls showed an increase of from 35 to 300 per cent over 1909 on the timber, which the representatives of the company thought too much. The company submitted a roll showing the valuation at which they thought the property should be assessed. County Assessor Carter said today that if the board lowered the valuations it would do so without his vote, as he considered the valuations fair.

The Rainier Investment company made a proposal to the county to pay $1 a thousand on all stumpage, irrespective of location, provided the county would accept its cruise. This gives the county $12,000 more than if it had used the assessor's valuations.

CHILD REGAINS SPEECH.

Victim of Infantile Paralysis Recovering—Girl Seriously Stricken.

Vancouver, Wash., Aug. 18.—Little Guy Parsons, five years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Parsons, who was stricken in his hands and arms and made speechless by infantile paralysis, two weeks ago, is reported to be recovering slowly. It is thought by the doctors that recovery will be complete in time. The child can talk again.

Another case was that of Charles Daly's four-year-old son, who lives at Brush Prairie, who suffered the paralysis of one leg, but he also is slowly recovering.

A four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Jines of Yakolt is suffering with the disease, and her case seems to be the most serious of the three. She lies helpless and the doctors do not entertain much hope.

A warrant was sworn out today for the arrest of Jane Doe, alias Alice, Indian, on the complaint of David Miller, Indian, charging her with stealing a $10 Indian blanket from Bessie Miller, Indian.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

"Nels" Short has been appointed deputy United States marshal for this district.

Emma Nelson, 10 years old, died on Wednesday in the Selah at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the cause of death being typhoid fever.

Superintendent DeForce of the Northern Pacific railroad, who has been in the city for the past two days, left this morning for Pasco.

Judge and Mrs. R. B. Milroy have returned from a visit with Mrs. Judge Johnson of Merredith farm, just below Zillah. The Milroys and Johnsons were close friends in the old days in Alaska.

Herman S. Hunt, the twin brother of Justice of the Peace Heman D. Hunt, arrived on No. 1 yesterday from Clarksburg, Ia., for a visit in North Yakima. With him came his wife and daughter. The Hunt brothers and families plan to spend a week in vacation at Lake Kachess.

Perry & Co. warehouse on First avenue north fell between two cars this afternoon when the platform over which he was wheeling a truckload of potatoes from one car to another gave way underneath him. Mr. Juhlin fell forward and downward and struck his chin heavily against the floor of the car, inflicting a two-inch cut.

AGED NEGRESS IS ILL

Attracts Attention By Cries in the Night and Goes to Hospital.

Loud cries which "Grandma" Williams, an aged negro woman over 100 years old, made for help at 1:30 o'clock this morning finally brought to her aid some men who were passing within hearing distance of her shack on the North Coast right of way near D street.

The old woman was found hanging out of the window and breathing laboriously in an attack of the asthma. She said she had not seen anyone for four days since some little white children who had been visiting her had discontinued their visits. The police were notified and Mrs. Williams was removed to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where she is said to be in considerable pain.

The old woman went to California with her son a number of years ago, but about three years ago she became homesick for North Yakima and ran away from him to come back.

She was formerly a slave, she says, and was freed by Abraham Lincoln. She is a great-grandmother but has no relatives in town.

DIVORCE STIPULATION

Couple Asking Legal Separation Agree as to Terms.

Lena Orchard has brought an action against Jesse E. Orchard asking for divorce. The couple were united in marriage November 11, 1903. There is no children, the eldest 3 years old and the youngest three months. Neglect and refusal to support are the grounds stated for the action. The plaintiff asks $10 a week alimony, $50 attorneys' fees and the custody of the children.

The defendant has filed his answer, admitting all the allegations of the complaint. A stipulation signed by both parties to the action has also been filed. It is agreed between them that there should be a divorce granted; that the defendant will pay $10 a week alimony until the eldest child is 18 years of age. The sum will then be reduced one-fourth, and so on until the youngest child is 18 years of age. If one or more of the children die a proportionate reduction shall be made.

McMURRAY ON STAND.

Says His Indian Contracts Were "Plain Business Dealing."

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 18.—J. F. McMurray, whose contracts with the Indians allowing him 10 per cent fees on the sale of $300,000 worth of land are the subject of investigation by congress, went on the stand today. McMurray described his contracts as "plain business dealing."

Young Woman Dies

His Title Clear.

One of the foremost lawyers in England is Lord Halsbury, who was lord chancellor in the Balfour ministry. M. A. P. tells this story of his career at the bar:

"He was once arguing a case on behalf of a Welshman, and showed great knowledge of the principality and its people. 'Come, come,' said the judge at last, 'you know you can not make yourself out to be a Welshman.' 'Perhaps not,' replied the barrister, 'but I have made a great deal of money out of the Welshmen in my time.' 'Well, then,' replied the judge, 'suppose we call you a Welshman by extraction.'"

"Why did you break your engagement with that school-teacher?" asked the friend.

"If I failed to show up at her house every evening she expected me to bring a written excuse written by my mother."—Woman's Home Companion.

THREE NEW CASES OF BAD DISEASES

Anterior Polio Myelitis Breaks Out in Outlook—One Case of Disease in City.

Total of Seven Now in County—Health Officials to Investigate—Are No Deaths.

Three new cases of anterior polio myelitis—two in Outlook and one in North Yakima—have been reported to the county health office. With the four cases in Sunnyside, this makes a total of seven cases of spinal paralysis known to be in Yakima county at the present time. No deaths have been reported to date.

The Outlook cases are reported to have been discovered August 15 and in each case it has attacked six-year-old children. The one in North Yakima is that of two-year-old Francis Coons.

The reports of these three cases have come in following the circulars on the disease issued last week by the local health office at the order of the state board of health in an attempt to ascertain the exact number of the disease in the state at the present time.

Up to the present time the county health officer has made no investigation of the lower valley cases. Dr. Frank stated that he was to leave Friday or Saturday to look into the exact situation surrounding the disease in Outlook and Tappanish. Inquiries, asking whether there are any cases of the disease in the various parts of the county, have been sent out with the result that Outlook reported the two cases. Tappanish has none and the other towns have not been heard from to date.

Six of the seven spinal paralysis cases in the county are being handled by osteopaths in Sunnyside and Tappanish.

Anterior polio myelitis sweeps the country every year during the summer months and takes its toll in the deaths of the infants in the sections affected by the epidemic. At the present time Seattle is fighting a serious attack of spinal paralysis. Five physicians have been sent east by that city for the purpose of investigating conditions and methods of handling the ravages of the trouble there.

In practically every case the disease is fatal. It is known to strike in two different ways—either at the base of the brain, in which case it is always fatal, or in the anterior portions of the spine, in which case it is accompanied by the complete loss of the lower limbs where not fatal.

No Known Cause. There is no known cause of spinal paralysis. In every city where the disease has broken out careful investigations as to the causes have failed to reveal any positive source. Two new theories have been advanced by eastern physicians in the past few days. A physician in Winona, Minn., came out last week with the statement that he ascribed the cause to the germs present in milk. The fact that spinal paralysis has always made its attack in the summer time led a board of physicians in Des Moines, Iowa, to make the telegraphic statement Wednesday that the disease in that state was almost certainly due to the gnat which appears in certain sections of the country during the hot summer months.

STRAHORN IS FLATTERED.

Comment Made on Report Harriman System Owns His Road.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 18.—"This is very flattering," stated Robert E. Strahorn, president of the North Coast railway, when informed of the report from Portland that his road would be taken over by the Harriman system.

"They have associated the North Coast first with the Canadian Pacific, then with the Milwaukee, later with the Northwestern, and now comes the news that it is a part of the great Harriman system. This is very flattering."

"I can neither deny nor affirm the report. If any railroad believes it owns the North Coast and its officials will say so, it will make very good reading, I am sure."

JUDGE LANDIS FINES UNION.

Umpire in Labor Trouble Says Agreement Was Violated.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Judge Landis, who acted as umpire in the controversy between members of the Structural Bridge and Iron Workers' Union and the contracting firm of John Griffiths & Son, today fined the union $200 for violating its agreement.

Twenty-nine members of the union who were working on an addition to the Boston Store went on a strike three weeks ago. After the arbitration board had failed to agree, the matter was referred to Judge Landis. He ordered the men to return to work, declaring that they had violated their agreement, but did not fine the union until today.

AUTO BREAKS DOWN.

Dr. Frank Has Trouble Visiting Reservation Patient.

According to Dr. Philip Frank, the life of a physician doesn't always flow along the lines of milk and honey. Wednesday while making a call on the reservation the doctor met with a batch of trouble which would have done credit to "Friday the thirteenth."

The trouble started 10 miles west of Wapato when the doctor struck a chuck hole and broke a gear on his machine. Walking eight miles, Dr. Frank secured a team, visited his patient and then had to return to his auto and haul the machine to the city.

Camped in the Wenas

An interesting feature of the story, as Mr. Himes tells it, is the fact that one of the big camps of the party was made on the present Longmire farm. There the women of the party did the washing, and potatoes were baked which were purchased from the man in possession of the place at the time, Ow-hi, who was a half brother to Chief Leschi, one of the leading figures in the Yakima Indian war of 1855-56. Ka-mi-a-kim was the leading figure in this war, which Mr. Himes says has often been confused with the Cayuse war of 1848, the outgrowth of the murder of Dr. Whitman, near Walla Walla. James Byles, James Longmire, B. C. Baker, Tyrus Himes, William Downey, William Kincaid and Abraham Woolery were the seven men who, as men of experience and good judgment, formed a sort of council for the little party in its long journey, and it was upon their decision that all steps were usually taken.

Has Many Activities

Mr. Himes early entered the newspaper field. He began to set type in 1861 for the Washington Standard of Olympia, which was first published in 1860, and which has never missed an issue. Mr. Himes has been engaged in the newspaper and job printing business ever since. He has been secretary of the Pioneer society of Oregon for 25 years, and his principal passion is for getting together the facts in regard to the early history of the northwest. His easy recollection of such facts as that all the flowers and trees of this section were given the names that they now bear by David Douglas in 1825, and that dandelions and many other flowers that are now considered nothing but weeds, were deliberately introduced by seed brought from the east by a botanical doctor in 1848, make his inspiration of untold value to the work which the historical societies are attempting.

Mr. Himes spoke with resentment of the attempt which the New England and other eastern statesmen, who in the early days considered the great Oregon territory as a part of the "Great American Desert," and not worth considering, are making to establish "conservation laws" about which they know so little by national legislation, instead of leaving the individual states to work out their problems for themselves. Mr. Himes says that in every section of the mountains into which he has penetrated, and he has been through every pass in Oregon to the California line, there is decided evidence of the deterioration of standing timber from failure to cut, and he considers such neglect a gross waste of resources. In fact, he says, the money that will be "saved" by appropriate legislation will be counterbalanced by the money that will be lost through deterioration of ripened timber. He believes that although some mistakes may have been made in the matter of conservative cutting, yet the states concerned are much more capable of looking after the matter than the people of the east, who might better be engaged in looking after the conservation of their own resources.

THE SOURCE OF HUCKLEBERRIES

This morning while ambling along Sixth avenue in the early fifties I stopped at a family grocery to make a purchase and observed that new huckleberries were for sale. Knowing that the state fruit of New Jersey was not yet ready for the market I inquired of the intelligent clerk where the huckleberries came from. He said: "From downtown somewhere."

This information was not satisfactory because I know there are no huckleberry groves in lower Manhattan, so I increased my inquiry, but that was all the clerk knew. Then I ambled further and at the next place I asked again where the huckleberries came from. The clerk told me they came from a commission house somewhere, but he couldn't say where, but he thought on Water street.

I was almost certain that huckleberries didn't grow on Water street, and I prosecuted my inquiries, but to no further purpose. Water street to that clerk represented the huckleberry belt, and all he wanted to know was that I want a box or two. But I did not and went on.

In the next place the clerk informed me that he guessed they came from Fulton market. Maybe there is a huckleberry patch in Fulton market. I don't know, I never went there to see. If there is, I don't believe they are ripe there yet.

At the fourth place the clerk assured me that they came fresh off a fruit boat and insisted on my taking some. I asked him if they grew on the boat and had been pulled that morning, and he said he thought maybe they had, because they were so nice and fresh and wouldn't I take a box. Then I ambled homeward, wondering why it was that so many shops didn't know any more about the goods they sold than that when it was their business to sell them.

I have learned, or as any or all of these clerks might very easily, where huckleberries come from at that time of the season, but, by heck, I won't tell. I'm no clerk educator, and if they want to learn, which I imagine they don't, being what they are and likely to remain so because they don't realize what it means to know their business all over, they can do as I did and not learn.

Is it any wonder that so many clerks always remain clerks and wonder why it is that they are not advanced as others are and put into positions of responsibility and good pay? It seems to me that more of them would wake up and learn that knowledge is power.—New York World.

Killing the Goose Again

The old family physician, being away on a much needed vacation, his practice was intrusted to his son, a recent medical graduate. When the old man returned the son told him, among other things, that he cured Miss Ferguson, an aged and wealthy spinster, of her chronic indigestion.

"My boy," said the old doctor, "I'm proud of you, but Miss Ferguson's indigestion is what put you through college."—Everybody's Magazine.
