OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA

BRIEFLY summed up the republican national platform is composed of gold, greed and an apology for imperialism and trusts. As gold is the god of the administration, it comprises the first plank. The free coinage of silver is denounced and the platform boldly asserts that "every American dollar is a gold dollar or its equivalent," an apology is offered for imperialism in one short paragraph and the humorist who furnished this plank states that "to the millions of the human race there was given a 'new birth of freedom,'" whatever that means. McKinley is eulogized to the skies, and a "calamity howl" is sent up against the democratic party and the Chicago platform. The tariff comes in for its share of taffy, ignoring of course, the duties placed on Porto Rico. Pensions, civil service and the arid lands are treated briefly, while the war taxes, which the republican congress failed to reduce, and the Philippine problem, are the two longest planks in the platform. The creation of a new cabinet office—secretary of commerce and industry—is recommended. Naturally the trusts are lightly passed over. It would have been ignored altogether, but the bosses realized that it was necessary to say something on this subject. The platform is uniquely and well worded and is said to have been written by the present postmaster general, Smith, at the behest of Boss Hanna and McKinley. It is an excellent bit of campaign literature for the democracy, as there is not in it from beginning to end, a single promise made to the people, in event of the success of the republican party at the polls in November, to remedy any of the evils that are fast drifting the ship of state onto the rock of destruction.

ELSEWHERE in this issue of THE DEMOCRAT will be found an article signed by a committee of citizens who call on the people of the Yakima valley to begin to make preparations to exhibit their products at the coming State Fair, to be held September 24 to 29. North Yakima is deeply interested in the Fair, not only as a state institution; but because of the advertising it gives our wonderful resource, and second because, rather than have no fair held this fall, they have donated to the state enough money to warrant the commission in holding an exhibition this fall. Yakima has given in money and land to the State Fair something like $25,000, $2000 of which has been subscribed to held the coming Fair. It now remains for the producers to step up and assist—whether farmers, stockmen, dairymen, horticulturists or manufacturers—the success of the Fair, in a great measure is in your hands. We cannot reasonably expect outsiders to take a deep interest if we at home are indifferent to the success of the exhibition; therefore let us get to work and show them that we are alive to our own interests and that we are going to carry off as many of the blue ribbons and as much of the prize money as possible; also let us demonstrate to the general exhibitor that we appreciate his presence by using our utmost endeavors to fill the exhibition halls as they never were filled before. The Yakima valley is famous for its many and varied products, even to far away Japan where they are demanding our pretty big red apples. A successful exhibit of Yakima products will do much towards attracting strangers to our valley, and our people should not be slow in putting forth every effort in their power to show the visitors the superior advantages of the Yakima valley. Keep this matter in mind and get ready for the Fair.

MUCH is being said in the republican press of the country about the wealth of Hon. W. J. Bryan, claiming that he is the wealthiest man in Lincoln, Nebraska. The assessment returns, says a late dispatch, which makes him appear comparatively wealthy are misleading. Mr. Bryan has always been very particular not to shrink his taxes, and has listed all his personal property. He now has $4000 in the bank, and this is assessed at par. The assessment law in Nebraska permits any one to make returns about as he pleases, and the rich men of Lincoln are not so scrupulous as Mr. Bryan, few of them giving their cash in bank. Mr. Bryan's friends say he is worth about $25,000. His realty holdings are his home in Lincoln, a thirty-acre farm near there and a small farm in Illinois.

JUDGE William E. Townsend of the United States district court for the southern district of New York decides that the people of Porto Rico are a foreign people as far as the Constitution is concerned. Judge Townsend's opinion will seem to the great mass of the people of the United States simply fantastic. If a country where the United States flag is the only symbol of sovereignty, where the governor and other officers are appointed by the president of the United States by and with the consent of the senate, where the currency of the country is that of the United States, where the laws under which the government exists and is carried on are made by the congress of the United States, if that is a foreign country it would be interesting to know what is an American country. The ground of Judge Woodruff's decision seems to be that certain declarations made by congress in the case of the annexation of Louisiana were not made in the case of Porto Rico. If there is any basis for this argument the omission can be remedied when congress assembles again. But there seems to be no call for technical objections in this case. There is a moral obligation on the part of the United States in its relations to Porto Rico which is of much greater force than anything in the line of legal distinctions. The people of Porto Rico understood when the island was annexed to the United States that they were to enjoy, instead of Spanish rule, the blessings and privileges of American government. That was the idea of the mass of the people in this country, who feel that it is rather late in the day for a separation of the Stars and Stripes and the Constitution of the United States.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

IN a signed article in Leslie's Weekly Gen. Otis, Mr. McKinley's "conquering hero," says: "There will be no more real fighting in the Philippines." Yet Monday's dispatches from Manila reported that last week "more than two hundred Filipinos were killed and one hundred and sixty captured," while the American loss was nine killed, including a captain and a lieutenant, two captains and twenty-one privates wounded, and one captain taken prisoner by the Filipinos. Gen. Otis says in the same statement that "we cannot get along with any fewer troops than we have in the islands at present for a number of years." This army numbers 65,000—three times the number of troops actually employed in whipping Spain, double the size of our standing army before that war, and costing for its maintenance alone nearly $50,000,000 a year. Is not this permanent army in the Philippines a "pretty dish" of imperialism to set before the voters on the eve of an election?—N. Y. World.

GENERAL GOMEZ is expected in Cuba, which seems ready to make him its chief, if the United States will take itself away; which it should do, but will not do until after the November elections, when McKinley being sent to the grass, his advisers will counsel him to let Cuba set up the government which Bryan will surely permit them to do on the 4th of March, 1901. There is no possibility that this administration will take its claws off anything it hold so long as it has the power to hold on.—Sumner Herald.

WILLIAM McKinley for president and Theodore Roosevelt for vice president, both nominated by acclamation, is the announcement that comes from the Philadelphia convention. Roosevelt's nomination for the vice presidency in no sense strengthens the ticket; on the contrary it positively weakens it, for the people have grown weary of Teddy's theatrical posing and will sit upon his vain ambition hard in the ides of November.

THE people who have a taste for war and rumors of war ought to be satisfied nowadays.

At the State Fair Grounds July 4.

Arrangements have been perfected for the basket picnic at the state fair grounds July 4, to which everybody is cordially invited. There will be no gate admission and the affair is not of a political nature.

There will be an oration, music by Nagler's military band. Sports in the afternoon consisting of horse races, bicycle races, foot races etc.

The committee having the matter in charge state that they have the cash to pay the winners in all the races. There will be a one mile novelty race for a purse of $80.

Everybody come and have a good time. Bring your baskets.

The Baltimore Sun is opposed to handicapping Mr. Bryan with a radical platform. He ought to have a good, sound democratic platform to stand upon, and it should not be marred by paternalism or communism. The democratic organization should welcome all elements in politics that are willing to join in opposition to the excesses and heresies of the wreckers who have possession of the republican machinery; but democrats should not be driven from their homes to make space for those who hold to radical anti-democratic tenets. The democratic party is the one that must be depended on for the great bulk of the votes to elect the nominee of the Kansas City convention.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

For the New Democracy.

If sincere and practical men who are in reform work solely for the sake of reform will rally under the banner of Bryan, purified democracy and direct legislation, we can save the republic and make a wonderful stride in advance for the benefit of humanity. Unite and win a glorious victory, or divide at the polls and be crushed under the iron heel of Mark Hanna's money pirates, giant trusts and brazen imperialists. In one path lies the course of the patriot, in the other the way of the impracticable zealot and the blind partisan slave. The reform element in this country can easily control the democratic organization, and through it win a great victory for humanity. Fail to grasp this opportunity and you will be crushed by the power of organized greed now in control of the republican party.—Vancouver Register-Democrat.

THE STATE FAIR.

Citizens Urged to Begin Preparations to Make it a Success.

The people of Yakima county are certainly familiar with the facts regarding the holding of a state fair next September. If not, the undersigned citizens committee desire to draw attention to a few points. The state fair grounds were located here by the legislature and the time set for holding annual fairs. We purchased 120 acres of land, as a county, and gave to the state as permanent grounds. The expenditures on those grounds up to the present date are estimated at $45,000, of which the people of Yakima have practically given one-half. We are therefore much interested in the annual exhibitions of the state fair. When it was learned that the appropriation for two years was not sufficient to justify the commission in holding a fair this fall, the people of Yakima county took up the matter and appointed a committee to solicit funds for guaranteeing the payment of premiums.

The committee has secured the promise of $1815, donated chiefly by the merchants and business men of North Yakima. This money is to be paid to the state fair commission, as a guaranty of the funds necessary to offer liberal premiums in all the departments. With numerous special prize offers, the cash balance on hand from last season, and the assurance of more general attendance this year the commission promises a fine exhibition of the products of the great northwest. The commission naturally desires to favor Yakima valley, because of our generosity, and as an evidence of this feeling has employed our home band to furnish the music. But, the judges cannot award premiums to our people if they do not merit them. The citizens committee therefore desires to ask every person, whether farmer, gardener, dairymen, stockmen, artisan or manufacturer of fancy work, to begin now to make ready for exhibiting something, and try to carry away the prizes.

Yakima valley is known in all the world, and very justly celebrated for its fine fruits, choice hops, rich alfalfa and other excellent productions. The natural facilities of soil, water and climate are simply unsurpassed in the entire northwest. We must do better in the future, in displaying our home products at the state fair, where people expect to see our best efforts.

The co-operation of all the fairs of the northwest this year will bring to our city many fine exhibits and hundreds of critical spectators. It will also bring the prospective purchasers of our soil productions. The fair will be the place to advertise our meritorious articles of market value. In behalf then, of the representative citizens who have made this exhibition possible, we ask every one to calculate on the state fair, September 24 to 29, and be prepared to attend and place on exhibition everything for which a premium is offered, and endeavor if possible, to carry away all the blue ribbons and cash prizes.

ALEX MILLER,
A. B. WEED,
Committee.

What a Woman Needs.

In the preparation of this article we made many examinations and investigations of the different methods of treatment and remedies for all the ills so common to the female sex, and our investigation has brought forth the fact that nothing proves so uniformly successful in restoring health and happiness to worn out women as the "Viavi Treatment," and we also found that this was the opinion of the most careful and scientific medical men of this country. This system of treatment has been remarkably successful in all cases of chronic diseases peculiar to women. No more trouble, misery, and suffering are among the speedy results after its use, as it certainly represents the latest and best treatment for all complaints of women's diseases. It has been proven by years of success and the testimony of thousands of ladies, including the highest and most noted of the women of the United States and England, who have been restored to health and the enjoyment of life by reason of "Viavi Treatment" even after all other methods of treatment had been tried and found wanting. The "Viavi remedies" are composed entirely of vegetable ingredients, and are manufactured under conditions of perfect cleanliness. Upon entering the system it supplies at once a clean, wholesome food to the muscular tissues and nervous fibres. It makes the circulation full and vigorous, and in this way enables the veins to carry to the organs of elimination all the impurities which it is their function to remove from the body. It acts as a prompt specific for all nervous and other troubles common to women, including irregularities, prostration, headache, anemia, palpitation of the heart and the thousand and one ills peculiar to the sex.—Extract from the National Health Journal.

Got the Pin.

A good many people still believe in the little superstition about seeing a pin and picking it up. It makes some of them decidedly uncomfortable when they pass a pin by, and even if experience has taught them that there is nothing to be gained by scooping up the pointed bit of wire they still dive for one whenever they see it.

An aged man was toddling across Payne avenue at its junction with Wilson some time ago when between the street car rails at the very center of the curve he noticed a pin. It was a bright pin, and it caught his rather enfeebled gaze at once. Being a superstitious old gentleman, he determined to secure that pin. With considerable effort he managed to bend over, when, just as his trembling fingers closed upon it, with a whoop and a roar a cable car came swinging around the curve at the usual terrifying rate. The old man went one way, his cane and glasses and hat went the other. They rushed to him and picked him up. He was badly bruised, and the ambulance was called. As they were lifting him into it somebody noticed something shining between his clinched fingers.

It was the pin.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Names Wanting.

In names taken from trade, such as Archer, Fisher, Brewster, Glover, etc., to be found in the London Directory, neither Banker, nor Soldier, nor Sailor occurs, but it must be remembered that the first of these names is scarcely as old as the days of the Stuarts, before which time the Goldsmiths "kept running cashes" and acted as "banquiers," for the word is one of modern French importation. Soldier (soldat) also is of foreign and comparatively recent origin. The absence of Sailor is supplied, though very sparingly it must be owned, by Boatman and Boatwright, Shipman and Shipwright. But, then, it is only in comparatively modern times that we became a sea loving people, and that "Britannia" began to "rule the waves."—Gentleman's Magazine.

Prosser Items.

Mrs. Olson and family, of North Yakima, are visiting with the family of A. G. McNeil.

Doctor Angus was out in Horse Heaven this week and is of the opinion that 400,000 bushels of wheat will be threshed there this season.

Preparations for a grand celebration July 4th are still in progress. There will be horse racing, baseball, field sports, and dancing all day and night. Come and bring your girl.

The four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ellis had his arm broken Thursday by falling from a building. Both bones were broken just above the wrist. Dr. Angus adjusted the fracture and the little fellow is doing nicely.

The directors of Prosser school district have called a special election to vote on bonding the district to build a substantial high school building. Since nothing is of so much importance as improving our schools we hope the voters will earnestly consider this proposition before election day, July 21st.—Record.

Drummers For Bryan.

The directors of the commercial travelers' anti-trust league, at a meeting held May 30 in New York City, adopted resolutions pledging their support to William J. Bryan and the democratic ticket to be named at Kansas City.

"Whereas, It now appears certain that one of the principal planks in the democratic platform which will be adopted at the Kansas City convention will declare in opposition to trusts, and also that William Jennings Bryan, who is in full sympathy with this league regarding the trust question, will be the democratic candidate for president; therefore, be it 'Resolved, That the commercial travelers' and hotelmen's anti-trust league pledges itself to all its power in the aid of the election of the democratic ticket to be nominated at Kansas City.

"The trusts, which have already forced more than 50,000 commercial travelers out of employment and caused a reduction in the salaries of those remaining, are the creation of the republican party, and can only exist by the will of the present federal administration. Every middleman is interested in the result of this movement; and on principles of self-defense we invite their co-operation to fight the republican party, which fosters and encourages the trusts. If these ruinous combinations are not curbed they will eventually destroy all that it is pledged by the declaration of independence, for their agents have already violated the constitution."

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between J. H. Graves and W. C. Kincaid under the firm name of Graves & Kincaid, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, J. H. Graves retiring. It is mutually agreed that all bills contracted by the above firm will be paid by W. C. Kincaid.

Shirking the Test.

The republicans in congress persist in their purpose to give a perfunctory vote in favor of a constitutional amendment against monopolistic trusts.

Why not declare in favor of the millennium, when no man will wish to rob or oppress his fellows? The constitution has had but three amendments in ninety-six years, and those were enforced to "secure the fruits of war." It is very much easier, as President McKinley has proved, to stretch or break the constitution than to amend it.

If the republicans are sincere in their professions of hostility to monopolies, why do they not apply the simple but effective remedy once proposed by John Sherman for a large proportion of them—the repeal or suspension of the protective tariff duty on every article controlled by a monopoly?

This can be done in a bill of twenty lines. Do the republicans wish to continue bounties to any industry that stifles competition and sells its products cheaper abroad than at home?—New York World.

Signifies Nothing.

The republicans organs are greatly elated because their party carried Oregon, and they declare that it settles beyond question the re-election of McKinley. As the republicans have carried Oregon in every presidential year since the war, it is not easy to see how this year's election can settle anything.

Tilden carried the country by a popular majority of 250,000 without the help of Oregon, and he had 23 majority of the electoral vote without counting Cronin's red nose.

Cleveland was twice elected without Oregon, and there is no reason why Bryan cannot win this year without the aid of the Webfooters.

The great presidential contest of this year will be decided by the states east of the Mississippi. New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin are in the doubtful column, and any three of them with the vote of the states certain to go democratic will elect Bryan.—Walla Walla Argus.

Oregonians are about to undertake the erection of a monument to the memory of Oregon's famous poet, Samuel Simpson, author of "Beautiful Willamette," who died during the past year. As the poet was almost starved to death by the stupid inappreciation of Oregonians while he lived and might enjoy their attentions, this monument enterprise is more like a fickle and disguising bit of freakery copied from the masquerades of other and more cultured places. Simpson was a flower in the desert—and now that he is dead, the desert wants to hide the traces of its impotence with pretty phrases on a lying stone. Shame!—Whatcom Blade.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery which wholly cured me. Hundreds have used it on my advice and all say it never fails to cure Throat, Chest and Lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Quiett & Ayres Drug Co's.

SUMMIT MINING DISTRICT.

Joel Shomaker Writes the Tacoma News About this Rich Section.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., June 15—The several mining companies holding claims in the Summit Mining district, have sent out forces of men from this city, during the past few days, and development work will begin at once. J. C. Carter, a mining expert of forty years experience, from Butte, Mont., goes today, with High Rock and Dave Mayhew, to open the properties of the Yakima Gold Mining company. He was engaged last summer to expert the several claims owned by this company, and pronounced them first class in every particular. Assays have been made at different times, ranging from $6.00 to $9.55 per ton. The ore is free milling and first grade gold.

The Yakima company will sink a tunnel 100 feet during the summer to tap the ledge. This company is composed entirely of Yakima men. Alex Miller, of the Yakima Milling company, being the president; H. H. Lombard, of Lombard & Horsley Furniture company, the secretary, and J. D. Cornett, cashier of the Yakima National bank, being treasurer. The company owns eight claims of free milling quartz. The properties are all well located on Silver creek, and within 65 of this city. A wagon road is traveled for 35 miles and pack animals are used from that point to the mines.

Reports of the experts on the geological formation are: "The mountain is strongly marked by a decomposition showing volcanic action. It is a porphyritic andisite, spotted here and there with crystallized feldspar, and the dykes show horn-blend of a dark color near and running up from the base. On the easterly side is found talc and andisitic sand and gravel and coarser pieces cemented together in the form of a conglomerate. West and southwest granite predominates being the basic formation of the district. A. H. Aldrich and J. C. Carter, mining engineers and experts, from British Columbia and Montana, say they are surprised that such properties have been dormant so long. "What the camp needs," they say, "is capital, which will soon find its way into the district."

The Star Creek company has a force of men ready to begin within a week. This company will expend $2,000 in development work within the next three months. It is composed of Yakima men, except that the president, Rowland Hughes is a Seattle man. A. S. Dam, of the firm of Briggs and Dam, musical merchants, is the secretary and W. L. Steinweg, cashier First National bank is treasurer. This company owns eleven claims on Star creek, near the Silver creek properties. Assays run from $7.50 to $85.00 per ton. A mill site is owned by this company, and abundant water power is easily obtainable.

The Medina company recently purchased a group of claims for $40,000, and have 16 men at work sinking a tunnel. This a New York company, with plenty of capital, and promises an early development of what appears to be valuable property. The company has the best and most complete equipped plant in the district, with cabins, shops and a one-stamp mill. They are operating in the center of the crescent shaped group of claims, located for several miles along Silver creek. The properties were formerly owned and exploited by Doc Current, and show assays about the same as the other claims in this district.

The Blue Bell group of mines once controlled by Tacoma parties, and litigated through a series of court sessions, are being worked, under the direction of Tom Fife. The company has authorized the sinking of 100 feet of a tunnel or shaft along the vein, and the taking of assay specimens every five feet. John Sawbridge left this morning with an outfit to work these claims. The company has Yakima men in the persons of W. B. Dudley, county treasurer; John Sindal, deputy sheriff; John Sawbridge, hardware man, and other prominent citizens, interested as stockholders. The company controls ten claims, and has a mill site with an old arastra which has been worked.

Among the other individuals and companies having claims on the Silver creek are the Tom Fife Investment company, E. W. Dooly and Jack Campbell. A general effort is being made by all the parties interested to place the district before the people as a valuable gold producing section, by showing what may be brought out from the tunnels they propose cutting. They want better roads, and more general money interest in the country to demonstrate what can be done and what is really hidden within the mountains.

Author of "Coin's Financial School."

This Book is Now Having a Wonderful Circulation.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 15, 1900.

The republican pretense that there is uncertainty about who will fill the second place on the McKinley ticket is amusing. Boss Hanna and Mr. McKinley have long ago selected the man, but the secret has been well kept as they wish the delegates to the convention to be deluded into the belief that the nomination is theirs. The platform that will be adopted by the Philadelphia convention has also been written, although the convention will go through the farce of appointing a platform committee to prepare it. The platform was written by Postmaster General Smith, who was chosen for the task because he was a newspaper man, but its authors are Boss Hanna and Mr. McKinley. They dictated it in the rough to Mr. Smith, who polished it up. In fact, the work of the Philadelphia convention could easily be done well inside of three hours, but Hanna promised in return for that $100,000 contribution that the convention should sit three days, and the program has been arranged on a three-day basis, not only to give the Philadelphians a chance to even up but to try to work up a little enthusiasm among the delegates.

Senator Chandler, who has a way of nagging his party and its leaders, when the spirit moves him, has been throwing cold water on the Hanna-McKinley crowd by pointing out in a published interview the danger of the republican defeat this year. Following are some of Mr. Chandler's reasons: "We will be hurt the most by the charges of extravagance and corruption. The next danger point is the charge that the party is bound in chains by the money power and that its reins are held by millionaires, and the third thing to fear is great losses in the Philippines." He pointed out exactly where defeat might meet the republicans when he said: "Suppose the war news next fall is not good, or that there are labor troubles, or that prosperity is threatened. What then? Illinois, Indiana, and even New York would slip away from us. It is barely possible that we may lose those states even without any succession of untoward events. In that event, we would lose the election." Mr. Chandler is being roundly abused by the party bosses for publicly saying what they have been saying among themselves for weeks.

The court of claims has taken the Sampson side of the battle of Santiago with a vengeance. It decided that Sampson commanded the fleet during the battle and that the New York was engaged therein. Under that decision Sampson, who had no more to do with destroying the Spanish fleet than the reader of this, will get $8,333 as his share of prize money, while Schley, the man who commanded the fleet which destroyed the Spanish ships, gets only about $3,000.

A sensational statement was made before the industrial commission, now hearing testimony on matters relating to labor, by Mr. M. F. Thompson, secretary of the southern industrial convention of Huntsville, Ala., and a bitter opponent of labor unions, who said: "Labor organizations are today the greatest menace to this government that exists inside or outside the pale of our national domain. Their influence for disruption and disorganization of society is far more dangerous to the perpetuation of our government in its purity and power than would be the hostile array on our borders of the armies of the entire world combined. "That is probably the most extreme opinion of its kind ever publicly uttered in this country. It was listened to by some of the labor leaders, who intend to answer it in their testimony before the commission.

Col. George C. Gorham, a life-long republican and for years secretary of the senate, expresses the opinion that Mr. McKinley would be defeated if every democrat in the United States refrained from voting next November. Speaking of the political outlook, he said: "My correspondence is extensive, representative and frequent with all sections of the country, and I believe I am telling the truth when I say that if the election were held tomorrow, my old friend, Mr. McKinley, would not carry half a dozen states. Let's see. Yes, he would carry Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont. I feel certain he would get those states. Maine, though, would be doubtful. Now, if anybody can tell me what other states Mr. McKinley is sure to carry I will be very much obliged. I have given the complete list of safe republican states at this moment, and I don't know but that some of those I have placed in the McKinley column will turn missing in November. I have been watching national campaigns for a good many years and if the democrats can't sweep the country this year they would better go out of business and turn the job of fighting the republicans over to somebody else."

The republicans are so much alarmed over the outlook for the congressional elections that they will maintain campaign committee headquarters in both Washington and Chicago. Duplicating headquarters will do them no good, as they cannot destroy the record made by the republican administration.

Quite a Difference.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, in the senate last week said that armor manufacturers had received less than 6 per cent on their investments. You should have said holdings, Senator. There is a difference between holdings and investment. It is the custom to multiply the stock indefinitely that the dividends may not become alarming. Many a man is holding a thousand dollars in paying stocks today where only a hundred or less in cash was paid in. This is the usual way of robbing the laboring man and consumer.—Troy (O.) Democrat.

The most significant movement in the textile industry is the rapid building of cotton mills in the south. It pays to manufacture the cotton where it is grown, and Orange Judd Farmer asks: "How long before the west and south west will wake up to the fact that it pays to manufacture woollens where the wool is grown?" At present more than half (56 per cent) of the wool produced in the United States is hauled across the continent to New England mills.

Extravagance.

"Here's a case," she exclaimed indignantly, looking up from her paper, "of a man who actually had the nerve to put his wife on an allowance of 10 cents a day."

"What did she do with it all?" he asked absentmindedly.

It was several hours before she felt that she was calm enough to discuss matters with him dispassionately.—New York World.

According to a Chinese-American by the name of San Yow Ping in the New York Herald the term "Boxers" originated from the Yee Ho Chuan, a secret society organized after the empress dowager came into power for the purpose of discouraging foreigners and the reform movement which sought to aid and encourage them, and which signifies "righteousness, harmony and fists"—hence "Boxers."—Everett News.

After all their bluster about building a government armor plate establishment the republican congress finally left the question of the price to be paid for armor plate to the secretary of the navy. That is just what Carnegie and his associates wanted. They can handle John D. The trusts possess some curious ideas concerning "rights." An Indiana law requiring factories to pay their employees weekly has just been declared constitutional. The tin plate, shovel and plate glass trust resisted this law on the ground that the state had no right to legislate against their "rights." The "rights" they meant were the "rights" to pay when they got ready and such wages as they deemed right.—Aberdeen Herald.

If the New York Democrats are harmonious this fall, the state will surely be carried by them, and with Hill on his way to Kansas City instructed for Bryan it seems that the first steps have been taken to secure that result. At least a marked change is evident the attitude of that gentleman and his following since 1896, when a very slight change in the popular vote would have elected Mr. Bryan.—Olympia Standard.

Things for Voters to Study.

The New York Journal makes these timely suggestions:

Here are a few of the things voters will do well to make an especial study of between now and election day:

The Alger embalmed beef scandal.

The financial collusion between John D. Rockefeller and Secretary Gage.

The tariff oppression of the Porto Ricans.

Thefts, murder and mismanagement in the Philippines.

Postoffice rascality and embezzlement in Cuba.

The Hay-Pauncefote treaty, by which we are to build an isthmian canal while England commands it.

It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50c. Sold by the Quiett & Ayres Drug Co.

Where They Marry to Kill Time.

One strange feature of Australia social life is the perfectly casual way in which men marry for no ostensible purpose except the purpose of vanishing wearily around the corner immediately after the ceremony. In a Sydney case now on hand the husband, it is alleged, married in 1894 and shortly afterward made his tired, indifferent exit around the corner and never came back. In 1896 he married again and immediately faded away up the street. He never lived with his second wife. When he was arrested on a charge of aggravated har-em, he offered no explanation whatever. Apparently he only did it because a fellow must do something.—Sydney Bulletin.

A French Way to Cure Baldness.

A French surgeon announces a novel cure for baldness, which, however, is only within the reach of the wealthy. The first thing is to find some poor, starving wretch with a fine head of hair of the color which the patient desires. The former having consented to part with his hair for a stipulated sum, the doctor scalps the pair delicately and applies the hairy scalp of the subject to the bald client, and vice versa. With luck the graft is said to be a success.—New York Sun.

Theatrical Villain.

Mr. Crimsonbeak—Was there any villain in that play you saw last night?
Mrs. Crimsonbeak—Not on the stage. He sat a few seats from me, though, and insisted upon climbing over my lap to go out between the acts.—Yonkers Statesman.

A crew will soon be put on at Ellensburg working east to North Yakima on the Inland Telephone & Telegraph company's long distance telephone line. The construction of the line between North Yakima and Pasco will follow immediately.

The contract for the erection of the new school building has been awarded to C. H. Bruenn for $13,880. There were four or five other bids presented ranging as high as $15,000. Mr. Bruenn agrees to accept five lots on north First street at $500 in part payment on the contract.

Runaways are becoming too frequent in this city, and on Monday evening the council brought up the matter of the ordinance requiring people to tie up their horses when left without a driver. There is an ordinance in force governing this matter, and interested parties would better look it up.

It was rumored Tuesday that the Nome bound steamer Santa Ana on which were a number of Yakima people had taken fire and that a great deal of the men's personal freight had been destroyed; but it turns out that the fire on board the steamship was not so serious as first reported, and what loss occurred will be made good by the Steamship company.

The census taking in Yakima county is completed, so far as the enumerators are concerned. In North Yakima the work seems to have been done very thoroughly; but from some of the country districts comes complaints that many have been overlooked. The time given in which to complete the census was too short for districts where the population is scattered, and it is evidently no fault of the enumerators if some have been overlooked.

The bank of the Water, Light & Power company's canal about a half mile above the power house was so undermined by gophers that it gave way on Sunday night and considerable damage was done to growing crops and the cutting away of the soil in the mad rush of the waters.

The break is a bad one, and the company is constructing a concrete wall along the lower side of the canal where the banks are builded of earth. A large force of men are at work repairing the break in the bank. The ones most damaged by the water are J. W. Fletcher, D. Happy, Wm. McKivor and Charles Nelson.

Dr. M. R. Ely, of the firm of Luesing & Ely, Osteopaths, arrived in town Friday morning from Kirksville, Mo., "the home of Osteopathy." Dr. Ely will be joined in a few days by Dr. Luesing who graduates this month from the Columbian school of Osteopathy at Kirksville. Dr. Ely has rented rooms for offices in the Parton residence just north of Hotel Yakima and opposite the Christian church. Here he will be glad to receive all those interested in osteopathy.

NORTH YAKIMA, WASH., JUNE 23, 1900

"Republic or Empire."

The congress just closed has not added to its laurels by reason of the measures passed concerning our insular territories. The Porto Rican tariff bill is so revolutionary that it is hardly likely it will stand the test of the courts. It was condemned alike by republicans and democrats in both house and senate, and yet when the time to vote came, the party whip was cracked and the trust influence which caused its origin, saw it develop into a law. This, however, was not all. The passage of that bill established without further question the fact that the present administration is for imperialism; that it seeks to hold Porto Rico, Cuba and Philippines, not that it may act as a guardian over a wise and liberal government therein to be founded by the people of the respective islands, but rather to further the greed and avarice of those who now dominate public affairs. The action of congress on every question coming before it concerning these insular territories, has caused the issue in the coming campaign to be clear cut and emphatically "republic or empire." This can no longer be doubted—no longer seriously questioned by any one who gives the matter a moment's consideration. The passage of the Porto Rican tariff bill was the first show-down of the administration. The sending of a peace commission to Manila to lay the foundation for similar measures there was the next. So bold, indeed, has the administration become that it does not object longer to the term imperialism. Its leaders admit that such is the purpose.—Constitution.

For a Revised Dictionary.

Imperialism has made necessary new definitions of old words—equally applicable in England and in this country. For example:

Liberty—The rule which a strong nation imposes upon a weak one.

Civilization—Our way of doing things.

The Constitution—A rubber blanket when the executive needs to stretch his authority; a woolen blanket when it is necessary so to shrink it that it will not cover island possessions.—National Democrat.

The Original Siamese Twins.

The sleepy village of Biddenden, not far from Tenterden, celebrates yearly the memory of the two maids of that ancient hamlet who were the original precursors of the Siamese twins. In life they were joined together by a mysterious cord of flesh, and they died on the same day, leaving their property to be distributed among the poor of the parish and among all who care to apply for a dole of bread and cheese on Easter day. This benefaction has been in existence for six or seven centuries, and at present its value is about $200 a year.

Formerly the doles consisted of bread and cheese and ale, but the latter produced so much hilarity in the village that it was abolished, and the charity is now limited to the two first mentioned nutritive articles. The bread is made up in the form of cakes, bearing a rude representation of the twin maids of Biddenden, and are generally preserved as curiosities by the recipients. They are baked very hard and are admirably adapted to give work to dentists by breaking the molars of those who attempt to penetrate their mysteries. The poor of the parish are distinguished from necessitous strangers are supplied with ordinary quarter loaves and cheese.—London Telegraph.

The McCredy-Barge Marriage.

The following clipping from the Webster City, Iowa, Tribune, will be of interest to DEMOCRAT readers:

One of the prettiest private weddings ever celebrated in this city occurred at the pleasant home of Dr. and Mrs. C. I. Eberle last evening, June 14, 1900, at 7:30 o'clock—at which hour Miss Allie Barge, youngest sister of Mrs. Eberle, was united in marriage to Alexander E. McCredy. No cards were issued and only the immediate relatives and three schoolmates of the bride (Misses Lottie Scriven, Emma Crash and Rachael Shipp) witnessed the beautiful ring service performed by Rev. F. A. Harter, of the Baptist church, assisted by Masters Victor Eberle and Bennie Hellen, nephews of the bride. The bride's dress was white satin entrain, with white lace trimmings; her only ornaments were diamonds. The groom wore a neat-fitting suit of conventional black.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Barge, formerly of this city, but now residents of North Yakima, Wash., and her marriage occurred under the same roof where her three sisters—Mrs. C. I. Eberle, Mrs. W. H. Hellen and Mrs. E. B. Leckey—were joined in wedlock. She is an accomplished, sensible and lovable young lady—worthy the name and heart of the noble Christian gentleman she has won.

Mr. McCredy is a prominent and wealthy stockman of Washington and Montana, and a gentleman who immediately commands the attention and respect of all with whom he comes in contact.

The ceremony proper was followed by dainty luncheon. The gifts were beautiful and appropriate—that of the groom to the bride being a handsome brooch of diamonds and pearls. The happy couple departed on the 10:42 train over the northwestern for an extended and interesting tour of the old world. The itinerary embraces a visit to the Paris Exposition and other points in France, Italy, Germany, Holland, Belgium, England and Scotland. They sail on the steamer "Lake Ontario" from Quebec on June 22nd and expect to return to America about January 1, 1901—after which date they will be at home at Great Falls, Montana.

Dream of Imperialists.

The McKinley administration dream of imperialism, as now revealed at Washington, includes fortified posts stretching from the western coast of North America to the Philippines. This is evident by the fact that plans are under consideration in both the navy and war departments for the fortification of Guam, Cavite, Pearl Harbor and Pago Pago. It is the intention, if the election is favorable and the republican house succeeds itself, active work on these fortifications is to begin. Naval officers say that if the present plans are carried out on top of the expense of the work there will be called for ten times the amount for enough warships to protect these coaling stations should war come.

The plan is fascinating in its imperial possibilities Pago Pago, Pearl Harbor, Guam and Cavite need only to be fortified to be of the same importance to the United States as Malta, Bermuda and Gibraltar are to Great Britain. In other words we are following in the footsteps of the British in our mad race after gold and power which the favored few will revel in.—Pendleton E. O.]

Dangerous Odors.

Some smells are dangerous. A single sniff of highly concentrated prussic acid will kill a man as quickly as a shot through the heart. The odor of a bad egg is due to the presence of sulphuretted hydrogen, and the objectionable perfumes of sewers and bone factories are attributable chiefly to the same gas. Chemical laboratories are famous for bad smells. Berzelius, who discovered the element called "selenium," once tried the experiment of permitting a bubble of pure hydrogen selenide gas to enter his nostril. For days afterward he was not able to smell strong ammonia, the olfactory nerves being temporarily paralyzed. Selenium gas has the odor of putrid horse radish. Tellurium is even worse. There is a story of a physician whose patient, a lady, refused to take an absolutely necessary rest because she was so fond of being always on the go in society. He gave her a pill containing a small quantity of tellurium, and her breath was affected by it to such an extent that she was not able to appear in public for a month. She never guessed what the trouble was. The volatilized essential oil of roses is supposed to cause "rose cold." This peculiar complaint is so far nervous in its character that paper roses sometimes excite it.—Boston Transcript.

Fooled the Foreman.

At one of the iron works in the north of England a good story is told at the expense of one of the foremen at the blast furnaces.

The men known as the barrow men have a certain number of rounds or barrows of ore to wheel to the furnace during their eight hours of labor.

One stormy night the foreman, who was suffering from a severe headache, retired to his cabin; but, being of a suspicious nature, he left the door open that he might hear if anything unusual took place.

The men had worked steadily on for some time, passing the cabin with each barrow of ore on their way to the lift. At last one man in passing the door remarked loudly to another, "One more round, Pat, and then"—But the foreman, overhearing the remark and knowing it was a long way of "knocking off" time, rushed to the door, exclaiming:

"And then what, my man?"

"And then another," coolly replied the barrow man, and the foreman retired.—Liverpool Mercury.

The Traveling Frenchman.

The Petit Journal of Paris says that nothing is so curious and instructive as to observe the Englishman when traveling as compared with the Frenchman. The former is calm, punctual, precise and with only the necessary quantity of baggage. He will journey through China with merely a valise. He is not impatient. He loves travel. It is to him an inclination and a felt want. On the other hand, the Frenchman when journeying is restless, nervous, impatient, bored; the entire time he spends looking furtively at his watch or consulting the railway time table. He is always crowded up with parcels in addition to his portmanteau. He is, as a rule, incumbered with many useless articles. In fact, he dislikes travel, which he finds an ennui and a fatigue.

Where Wool is Grown.

The most significant movement in textile industry is the rapid building of cotton mills in the south. It pays to manufacture the cotton where it is grown, and Orange Judd Farmer asks, "How long before the west and southwest will wake up to the fact that it pays to manufacture woollens where the wool is grown?" At present more than half (56 per cent) of the wool produced in the United States is hauled across the continent to New England mills.

A Thorough Cure.

There is no sentiment about Grizler. He is close and is not easily alarmed. It is not surprising, then, that the doctor assumed the utmost gravity when Grizler called to present the case of his wife.

"I'm greatly afraid," said the husband, "that her mental equilibrium is disturbed. She is not like other women and not as she used to be."

"What are the symptoms?"

"You may regard them of a negative character, doctor. To begin with, she never opens her fashion papers of late."

"Bad! Bad! Very bad!"

"I feared as much. The woman who lives next door called last night and wore one of the most elegant hats I ever saw. You know that I am not given to noticing such things. Mrs. Grizler never seemed to see it and said nothing about it after the caller had gone."

"Awful," exclaimed the doctor, "awful. I've known your wife, Grizler, ever since she was born. No one ever had a brighter mind or a happier disposition. I can't understand it. Used to be the life and beauty of every company she was ever in. Does she go out?"

"No, nor entertain. Never mentions the theater, burns all invitations and is without the slightest interest in the social whirl. I would give half I'm worth to see her the girl I married."

"Done," snapped the doctor, and he wrote out the strangest prescription on record. It called for horses, carriages, fine raiment, jewels and a well filled purse. At the bottom was a receipt in full for $250,000. There was no chance for Grizler to weaken, and now his wife is one of the most brilliant women in the swim. When she and the old doctor meet, he winks and she whispers, "You dear old soul."—Detroit Free Press.

Bill Was Fooled.

"Seen anything of a feller round here with red whiskers an a squint?" queried Bill Sykes of Newberg, as he adjusted his red comforter and blew a sonorous blast from his bibulous nose preparatory to taking a little stimulant, "cause if you have I've got business with him. He come to my house yesterday, an after talking around a spell an telling Hanner he thought she was my darter an making a fool of her he said he would have to inspect the well. Sent out by the state, you know."

"Well, I got a pailful of water, an he poured some in a sasser and looked at it through a mikyscope. Then I looked at it, an say, fellers, that water was full of alligators a foot long—microbes he called 'em. The upshot was I bought the mikyscope and some stuff to put in the well to kill the animals, an I paid him $10, but 'twas partly Hanner's fault."

Here Bill looked around defiantly and continued: "That stuff was salt an water an there wan't no bugs. They were painted on the glass to the mikyscope." And with a rather derogatory remark about the honesty of man generally Bill left in quest of the man with the squint.—Dowagiac Republican.

Extravagance.

"Here's a case," she exclaimed indignantly, looking up from her paper, "of a man who actually had the nerve to put his wife on an allowance of 10 cents a day."

"What did she do with it all?" he asked absently.

It was several hours before she felt that she was calm enough to discuss matters with him dispassionately.—New York World.

The Hindoo Dead.

The Hindoos consider their dead as sacred and do not allow them to be handled by alien hands, the nearest male relative—son, father or brother—preparing the body for burial, and if there be none of these relatives a son is adopted by the family for the purpose.

The premium lists and show cards are now with the printers and will be out about the first of July. Attractive prizes will be hung up, as usual, for every species of agricultural competition and as well for appearance and entry of racing stock from all over the coast. Secretary Gunn deplores the fact that the state appropriation is not larger and in keeping with the rapidly developing interests of the state. Yakima is putting her shoulders hard against the wheel to roll up one of the finest fairs this year. By liberal inducements on the part of the railroads for excursions it is expected that the general attendance this year will be greater than ever.

One particular point Secretary Gunn commented upon was that all exhibitors of last year would be on hand again this year. The fair occurs the last week in September—24-29.—Seattle Times.

CHERRY AVENUE MUDDLE.

A Number of "Shut-in" Residents After Councilman Reed.

A bear quorum transacted the business at the meeting of the city council Monday evening. Mayor Redman presided, while Councilmen Hough, Reed, Sinclair and Keck constituted the board.

The request of H. B. Scudder to close the alley in block 331, north of lot 16, which was laid over at the last meeting of the council, was permanently tabled; the council thinking it a bad precedent to establish, allowing any one of the alleys in the city to be closed.

Turner & Fletcher, by their attorney, I. P. Englehart, appeared and asked to have the taxes on lot 4, block 11 for the years 1889 to 1893 inclusive settled, tendering the sum of $100 in payment. The face value of the taxes due for the years mentioned is $142.04 less penalty and interest. This amount the board stated they would accept and the matter was so settled.

G. H. Moulton was awarded the contract for building the sidewalk on North Second street, petitioned for.

The council chamber was well filled with ladies and gentlemen residing on the shut-in Cherry street. R. A. Grant made a statement that S. J. Lowe had opened a street through his land north to connect with F street above the flour mill, and it was now according to Mr. Reed's agreement time to open Cherry street through to the railroad. Mr. Reed thought not, as Mr. Lowe had not given the city a deed for the Selah street extension and might at any time close it up as he, Reed, had done Cherry street. After much discussion on motion of Reed, a committee of two—Sinclair and Hough, were appointed to await on Mr. Lowe and endeavor to secure from him a deed to the new street. There is much feeling as well as injustice in this matter and it should be immediately adjusted so as to give the shut-in people a street into the city without having to go all "around Robin Hood's barn" to get there. The courts will probably be called on to settle the matter.

Sinclair brought up the matter of compelling draymen to use "claim checks" for baggage and also spoke of draymen leaving teams unhitched on the streets, but no action was taken.

That old west side hydrant chestnut was again rung up, and Keck of the fire committee stated that he would immediately see that it was purchased.

The shooting gallery license of $10 per month was thought to be too high by parties who wish to operate a gallery permanently; but the council concluded to let it stand at the present rate. The clerk was requested to correspond with A. H. Wilgus, who is now on the Sound, as to his intentions regarding residence.

Mr. Squires, of South Yakima, evidently mistaking the council meeting for a court of justice, had a grievance against a neighbor, named High. The gentlemen was instructed to plead his case in the ears of Justice Taggard, who has a panacea for all the ills of mankind. Council adjourned.
