Particular Dressers.

The enthusiasm of youth causes a young man to bring the same intense interest to the subject of clothes as to anything else. He becomes excessively particular what to wear, how to wear it. Latest color and make-up must meet his ideas.

For such dressers, ordinary ready made clothing is not always up to the mark. That's where we come in with the Crouse & Brandegee Hand Tailored clothing, the best that can be produced.

The Newport illustrated above is essentially a young man's style,

CITIZENS TICKET WINS.

Most Exciting Municipal Election Ever Held in North Yakima—Shaw Defeats Fechter for Mayoralty by 85 Votes.

The most exciting municipal election ever known in North Yakima was held last Tuesday. It resulted in an almost complete victory for the "Citizens" over the "Taxpayers" ticket, the only exception being the defeat by a plurality of three votes of Dr. Frank, the candidate for health officer, by Dr. Burns.

The polls opened at 9 a. m. and voting began early. Although the interest shown in the result was very keen there was no disturbance of any kind, perfect order and the best of feeling prevailed throughout the day. The candidates of both parties had carriages out ready to haul voters to the voting places. The day previous or the morning of election printed postal cards were received by many of the voters urging them to vote against the "wide open" policy as the advocates of that policy, meaning the supporters of the Citizens ticket, would be sure to be out in force to cast their votes.

The election of the Citizens ticket was brought about mainly through the support of the business men and their clerks. That element as a rule did little talking but that an emphatic majority supported the nominees of the Citizens party there can be no doubt. The defeat of Dr. P. Frank, for health officer by only three votes, was the only incident that marred the complete victory of the Citizens ticket. Had the friends of that gentleman had any idea that he was in danger of defeat the result might have been different. The defeat of Dr. Frank is attributed mainly to the fact of his having rigidly enforced the provisions of the quarantine law during the small-pox epidemic prevalent in this city last winter.

Below is given the complete vote of the different candidates in the three wards of the city:

The Woodmen Elections.

The local lodge Woodmen of the World has elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: Council commander, A. J. Smith; advisory lieutenant, W. W. Pettyjohn; escort, J. J. Sandmeyer; sentry, E. E. Whitehead; watchman, J. J. Cleary; banker, C. Gleason; manager, W. V. Holden; clerk, F. D. Clemmer. The officers will be installed at the first meeting in January. The lodge is now making arrangements for a social to be held on the evening of December 17, to which all Woodmen are invited and also their wives or lady friends.

The Modern Woodmen elected the following officers for the ensuing term on Tuesday night last: Venerable Counselor, Orlando Beck; banker, E. E. Knowles; worthy advisor, E. L. McComb; clerk, F. L. Janek; escort, G. W. Bissell; watchman, J. F. Lisle; sentry, J. W. Spahr; managers, E. E. Schwartz and F. H. Plumb; delegate, M. N. Richards; alternate, H. E. Angel; physicians, Drs. Gordon, Wells and Fletcher. Installation will take place on the first meeting night in January.

May Start Breweries Here.

Mr. George Taylor of Spokane, arrived in North Yakima Wednesday morning. Mr. Taylor is here as the representative of certain Spokane men who contemplate establishing a brewery in this city if the conditions are found to be right.

Mr. Taylor informed the DEMOCRAT that he would spend a few days here to investigate the conditions and would then make his report. He said that the matter of securing suitable water was the most essential consideration. The Natchez river water, he intimated, was too soft and lacked certain necessary qualities. Mr. Taylor spent some time in driving about to examine the water in certain springs north and east of town. Mr. Taylor and associates regard Yakima as a most desirable point for the location of a beer making plant, especially so, if the required quality of water can be secured here.

Want An Electric Road.

The people of Yakima City recently held a public meeting with the object in view of securing an electric railway connection with North Yakima. A committee was appointed to investigate the matter and report at a meeting of citizens to be held later.

The sentiment expressed was that such a connection, if it could be secured, would be of inestimable benefit to Yakima City.

TAKES NO STOCK IN IT.

C. A. Congdon Thinks Mayor Fechter's Plan to Drain the City is Not Feasible.

Chester A. Congdon, president of the Ontario Land company and the Yakima Valley Canal company, stopped off for a few hours Tuesday to look after his business interests here while enroute home to Duluth, after a brief visit to Old Mexico, where he has a large interest in mines.

Mr. Congdon, while spending the evening at the commercial club Tuesday evening, was interviewed by the DEMOCRAT on the subject of Mayor Fechter's proposal to provide a complete system of sub-drainage in order to carry off the large amount of water that constantly seeps towards the surface during the irrigation season. As Mr. Congdon is reported to have given a good deal of study to the question of drainage it was thought that he might have something instructive to say to the people of Yakima on this subject.

Mr. Congdon stated in effect, that he did not believe that a drainage system for North Yakima, such as is advocated by Engineer McCulloch, would prove satisfactory to the people of this city, after being laid. "The reason for my belief," said Mr. Congdon, "is based on a knowledge of the ground upon which this city is built. The site of North Yakima is the ancient river bed of the Natches and is composed, therefore, mainly of washed soil and gravel. In the nature of things such a deposit is a sieve through which the water percolates freely on its way to the lower levels. So long as the Natches river and the ditches on the hill run," said Mr. Congdon, "there will be water in your cellars, and you can't stop it."

"Fresno, California," continued Mr. Congdon, "is similarly situated to North Yakima with regard to proximity to irrigating ditches. There the drainage system has been tried at a tremendous expense, but without very satisfactory results. Cellars have had to be abandoned entirely and the water during the irrigating season continues to come almost to the surface of the ground."

Mr. Congdon, while not professing to be an engineer, gave it as his opinion that anything like a complete drainage system for this city would cost the taxpayers approximately a half million dollars, an amount which, in his judgment, prohibited the carrying out of such a plan at this time.

To Tap Moses Lake.

David Longmire, C. G. Wands, A. E. Treat and S. D. Wheeler have filed with the county auditor articles of incorporation of the Moses Lake Irrigation company, with a capital stock of $5000. The headquarters of the new company will be North Yakima.

The purpose of the company is to reclaim about a township of good sagebrush land in Douglas county by means of a canal to be fed from Moses Lake, which is a fine body of water nearly 20 miles long and from three to five miles wide.

The idea of reclaiming this large tract of land by the means outlined above, originated with Mr. Longmire who is familiar with the lay of that country. In company with C. G. Wands, the surveyor of this city, Mr. Longmire has recently been over the section in which they propose to operate and by running lines found that their scheme of reclamation is entirely feasible.

The company expects to begin its work of ditch construction early next spring.

After A Swindler.

C. W. Bryant, a Selah farmer, who among others was victimized last winter by G. W. Allinger, the notorious one armed commission house swindler, left for Seattle Tuesday to take the initial steps in the U. S. court toward bringing that smooth tongued rascal back from the "Golden State" to stand trial.

Allinger, while here, worked the job office department of the DEMOCRAT for a large quantity of stationery for which, of course, he never paid as it was against his principles to pay anything that could be avoided. The use of this particular stationery, however, is likely to prove the undoing of Allinger. The form of letterhead used by Allinger was calculated to convince his trustful customers that the commission firm of Reidel & Allinger, with its branch establishments at North Yakima and other leading cities of the country, was one of the biggest and best things that "ever came down the pike." At any rate, Allinger succeeded in getting produce from Yakima farmers to the amount of about $4000, and then skipped out. In letters written his victims since returning to his home at Alameda, Cal., Allinger has acknowledged the justice of the claims held here against him, but has tried to excuse himself on the plea that his partner in San Francisco "did him up."

Mr. Bryant went to Seattle armed with an affidavit from the publisher of this paper to the effect that the stationery used by Allinger to gul the public, was printed in this office. Inasmuch as the fellow used the U. S. mails to carry out his swindling operations, the purpose is to prosecute him through the U. S. courts. The federal grand jury, now in session at Seattle, will be asked to bring in an indictment against Allinger on that ground.

The Lodge of Sorrow.

The annual memorial services of the Elks will be held at the lodge room in the Mason block, beginning at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The address will be delivered by Hon. J. H. Schively of Seattle, who is said to be a pleasing and impressive speaker.

The musical program will be under the direction of Geo. S. Vance. The decorations for the occasion, which is under the charge of Dr. Hare, are very beautiful and artistic.

THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT,

JOHN DAVID MEDILL,

Editor and Publisher.

Entered at the North Yakima Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

One Dollar Per Year—In Advance.

Published every Saturday morning at the Democrat Printing House on First Street, North Yakima, Washington.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

NORTH YAKIMA has now reached the stage in its rapid growth when it sadly needs and must have a higher institution of learning. Our High school is good so far as it goes, but as everybody recognizes, it does not go far enough.

Is it right that we should think of nothing but the material advancement of the town and neglect the intellectual side, as we are now doing? While we are pulling for electric roads, sugar factories, saw mills and other things would it not be well to devote some attention to the necessity of securing a college for Yakima?

But it should be remembered by our people that pecuniary gain would follow as the result of locating a college here as well as other advantages. A college brings in a desirable class of people to any community. More than that it is the determining factor, in many cases, that induces strangers to locate in a town. Every sensible man who has a family of children on his hands whom he feels it a duty to educate, is glad to be located in a town that has a college for it makes his burden lighter and enables him to keep his progeny under the parental eye at a period in their lives when he knows that they need watching.

Walla Walla, for instance, is a city of about 12000 inhabitants, where two colleges are located and are very prosperous. These two institutions have contributed very materially in making Walla Walla what it is, a city of homes and a high degree of culture.

North Yakima could do just as well if our people would make the effort. This city and the rich country tributary is already amply able to support a higher institution of learning and would do so if one could be established here.

The result of the municipal election in this city Tuesday, of course, is not satisfactory to all of our citizens but it is evidently is to a majority of them.

The DEMOCRAT's judgment of the result is that a majority of our people want a progressive, wide-awake, capable administration of municipal affairs and that they do not want to much sentiment mixed up in the governing business. On the other hand they won't stand for lawlessness and they want the city authorities to lay a firm hand on all forms of vice and endeavor to control it.

Vice in various forms existed long before civilization began and it will always exist until men and women become angels. The problem of government, therefore, is not in the wasting of effort to extirpate it, for that cannot be done, but to adopt the best means of controlling it, keeping it within due bounds and compelling it to pay its share of the burden of taxation.

Mayor Fechter issued an edict a few months ago in which he ordered all gambling to stop. Although the mayor had no official authority to take such a step it would doubtless have been obeyed but it has not been obeyed. Open gambling ceased, but private gambling increased, passed beyond control and the city in the meantime lost its revenue from the traffic. The mayor doubtless acted from worthy and virtuous motives, but his new policy has not yielded good fruit. On the contrary it merely aroused bitterness and a lot of useless argument.

REPUBLICAN leaders are at a loss to account for the "slump" in Wall street immediately after the recent great republican victory at the polls. If the democrats had won generally in the elections the explanation would be easy, but they didn't win. It is shrewdly suspected, however, that the "slump" was caused by Garvin's election as governor of Rhode Island and Tom L. Johnson's victory over Senator Hanna, in Cleveland and Cuyahoga county, O. Republican prosperity is such a tender shoot that the local victories of these two Henry George democrats may have discouraged it in spite of the general republican triumph.—The Public.

As the days go by the chances of Gov. McBride getting his commission bill passed through a republican legislature grow slimmer. The governor, old and hardened politician that he is, ought to have known his party better. Instead of McBride using the politicians they have used him, and his hobby as well, to get in on.

This is the season of the year when the daily papers are running over with football news. The victories and defeats are chronicled, but little is said about the poor fellows who get their heads caved in or some other portion of their anatomy seriously injured in the brutal sport.

THE Colfax minister, who so recently made such an unmitigated ass of himself, seems to be receiving more sympathy than he deserves. The church of which he is the accredited pastor instead of apologizing for his cussedness ought to give him a broad and timely hint to seek pastures new, lest the overworked parson should attempt to compromise some fair member of his new flock.

The world, however, or as much of it as heard of the Colfax minister, don't blame him so much for falling in love with another man's wife as it will for the offense he committed in pointing out the unhappy object of his affections. Such a character continuing to preach the beauty of morality from the pulpit is certainly not calculated to inspire confidence in the teachings of the church. Instead, it is enough to make the Devil weep with joy and feel that his kingdom on earth is progressing.

THE Oregonian is taking so much interest in the selection of a senator from Washington that it has caused the suspicion that the "Thunderer" and its home city of Portland has an ax to grind.

There is a close affinity unfortunately between the two cities of Portland and Walla Walla and it is perhaps not surprising that the Oregonian should be hooping it up for the Walla Walla candidate. The talented, but foxy editor of the Oregonian knows as well as anybody else that Mr. Ankeny has no real qualifications for the place, but for that he does not care so long as he has the assurance that Mr. Ankeny, if elected, would consent to vote for any appropriation demanded by Portland to dredge the Columbia river.

"TEDDY" ROOSEVELT evidently does not enjoy the political support of all his relatives. His uncle, Robert B. Roosevelt, a resident of New York City, is a staunch democrat who was minister to the Netherlands under the first Cleveland administration. In a recent interview in the New York World Mr. Roosevelt intimates very plainly that he does not take much stock in "Teddy's" cure for the trust evil. He says that the first step to be taken to counteract the evil effects of the trusts is to strip them of the protection which is a foolish government gives them—a protection that enables the trust barons to rob their American customers to their hearts content.

With over six hundred million dollars in gold in the national treasury, the greatest hoard in the history of the world, it would seem that the American people would be justified in demanding a reduction of the high tariff taxes that are largely responsible for the enormous surplus. Many of these taxes are maintained for the benefit of colossal trusts, which are enabled by the special privileges given them under the protective system to levy five dollars in tribute from the people for every dollar that goes to the government.—Walla Walla Statesman.

The unanimous opinion of good business men everywhere, says the Kennebec Courier, is that a good live newspaper does more for a town than any other agency. Right you are neighbor, and the "Courier" itself, is good evidence of the truth of the statement. Kennebec is a growing town, but without its "Courier" it would be as dull and uninteresting as the play of Hamlet with its leading character, the Prince of Denmark, cut out.

THE Seattle Times says that Mayor Humes of that place and George U. Piper, the erstwhile king of the "Tenderloin, have had a serious quarrel. It is to be hoped that the report is true. In this connection one is reminded of that familiar old saw, "When rogues fall out, honest men sometimes get their dues."

North Yakima in the national census of 1900 was credited with a population of 3154. To-day this town has not less than 5500 people, though some people in a position to estimate accurately say 6000. Ellensburg papers, please copy.

Now that the county election is over and the city election settled let us all get down to work again to build up North Yakima and the surrounding country.

Girls Would'nt Stand For It.

A few of the young men of Centralia lately organized the Independent Order of Stags, the object being to get one evening's amusement each week without the embarrassing presence of the fair sex. The boys were not wise in their generation if they thought they could ride rough shod over the time honored prerogatives of other fellows' sisters, for already they have stirred up a hornet's nest and the end is not yet.

The opposition to the "Independent" Stags has already assumed definite form, in the lately organized society of Puritan Maidens, the main features of its constitution being that members are sworn not to accept the offers of male escorts under any consideration. This is a boomerang that the boys hardly expected, and it begins to look as if they would be without the embarrassing presence of the fair sex seven evenings in the week.—Centralia News.

Taken up.

There came to my place north of town, Nov. 25th, one gray mare, branded with horse shoe on left hip, wearing new halter. Owner can have same by paying expenses. W. C. FYAN.

Election Aftermath.

And the next day it snowed!

Good morning, Mayor Shaw. Here is to the success of your administration.

Jack Shaw may "not be a big enough man for mayor," but he can run like a quarter horse.

T'was a clean sweep for the Citizens ticket with but one exception—the candidate for health officer.

More interest was taken than at any previous city election. The total vote cast was 771.

The taxpayers, as was demonstrated by the election, were not all lined up on one side after all.

Snyder, Doust and "Chollie boy" Donovan demonstrated the fact that they are all in the two minute pacing class.

To many Jonahs took passage in the "taxpayers" boat to enable such a craft to weather the storm Doc Burns, however, wore a life preserver.

Bre'r Robertson's support of Mayor Fechter and the Taxpayers ticket led to disastrous results. But there are some people who are mean enough to say that this was in the play.

Dr. P. Frank, the Citizens candidate for health officer, fell by the wayside. It was not for the reason that the genial doctor has not been a faithful and efficient officer, but because he has been. It is a clear case of punishing a man for having performed his duty.

The people who have been shut up in quarantine during the past few years may be able to forgive but they could not forget.

It is not to be presumed that the result on Tuesday means a "wide open" town. It means rather that a majority of our people do not want the policy of their town dictated by extremists on either side. Between two extremes there is always a golden mean which is invariably the safest path to follow.

Turns Tables on Highwayman.

J. S. Smith, a barber employed in Clemmer's barber shop, reported to the police that a highwayman had attempted to hold him up about 9 o'clock Sunday night on South Third street near Walnut.

Smith says that when the man told him to throw up his hands and stock a revolver under his nose to emphasize the demand, that he obeyed his first impulse, which was to reach out and knock the fellow down. He then picked up the fallen revolver and after kicking his man a time or two, started up town, leaving the would-be robber lying in the ditch.

Smith has the revolver, which he says the owner can have by proving his right to the gun.

Murder in First Degree.

Judge Rudkin held court at Pasco this week. The most important cases on the docket were those of State versus Oscar Bradshaw and William Kellett for the murder of Peter Nelson in the railroad yards at Pasco last August.

In the case of Bradshaw, the jury brought in a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree" Wednesday night, but recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court. Kellett's trial is now in progress. H. J. Snively and J. J. Rudkin are prosecuting the cases. The prisoners are young men who had been braken on the road. They attempted to hold Nelson up at the point of a gun and when the latter resisted Bradshaw shot him. Before Nelson died he named Bradshaw and Kellett as his murderers.

"Sandy Bottom"

Theatre-goers will be given an opportunity to see one of the most cleverly written and one of the best staged plays produced in many years when "Sandy Bottom" comes to Larson's Theatre Friday, Dec. 12. This play, which has run the gauntlet of the dramatic critics throughout the United States for the past season, and never received anything but eulogiums like Shore Acres and plays of kindred type, portrays a simple country people in their home surroundings. Being laid in the hills of Arkansas its author has afforded an opportunity for depicting characters whose traits, peculiar to themselves, have furnished American's best authors with many a theme of human interest. It is a play that those who love the best in dramatic art should not fail to see.

Wild Zebras.

The zebra when wild is a ferocious animal, and an unwary hunter is likely to suffer from its teeth and hoofs. The author of "Kloof and Karroo" says that a Boer in Cape Colony had once forced a zebra to the brink of a precipice, when the desperate creature turned upon him, attacked him with its teeth and actually tore one of his feet from the leg.

Another author writes of a soldier who mounted a half domesticated zebra. The creature, after making the most furious attempts to get rid of its rider, plunged over a steep bank into the river and threw the soldier as it emerged.

While the man lay half stunned upon the ground the zebra quietly walked up to him and bit off one of his ears.

The Penalty of Being Idle.

Idleness is at the bottom of the drunkenness, gluttony and sensuality which compass the destruction of one section of the community at the present time. It is at the bottom of that particular form of heartache which is the plague of women—the heartache of a purposeless, miserable existence. Such women often look forward to marriage to cure them, but when they are married and settled the old malady recurs, and in our own day we see them running hither and thither after that elusive something. Others try to find a cure in the suffrage and others again in cigarettes.—Sarah Grand.

"Richard Carvel" Dec. 13.

"Richard Carvel," by Winston Churchill, with that sterling young actor, Andrew Robson, in the title role, is one of those plays that appeal to women. It really might be called "All for his own Dear Love," for Carvel does it all for love of Dorothy—his dear little oriole, Dorothy Manners—and such manners.

It makes us young again, that play of "Carvel." It robs us of our pessimism, breaks the glass through which we have been looking darkly, fills us with optimism, suddenly all men are our brothers and all women our sweethearts! That is building a play to some purpose, and that is acting worth while. Mr. Robson and that superb play will be here Saturday Dec. 13.

Strayed or Stolen.

One brindle Jersey heifer one year old, with short horns, left ear marked with diamond and torn out to the upper side and hanging down. Some white spots on flank. No brand. Also, one black Mooly yearling heifer with some white under belly and tail half white. Brand "60" with bar under on right side. Right ear split. Any information leading to recovery of same will be rewarded.

Butcher-Stephenson Nuptials.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stephenson this week announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Kate, to Mr. Fred Hamilton Butcher, of Ellensburg. The ceremony will take place at the family home on Fourth street, this city, tomorrow, Sunday evening, at 8 p. m., in the presence only of relatives and a few intimate friends. The announcement reads: "At home, Ellensburg, Wash., after Jan. 15. Miss Stephenson, the charming bride, is one of Yakima's fairest and most popular young ladies, who was born and raised here. The fortunate young man who has won her is a deputy in the office of County Treasurer Furdin, at Ellensburg.

Sheriff Grant Names Deputies.

Sheriff-elect R. A. Grant informed the DEMOCRAT Thursday that he had finally decided to appoint W. A. Cox and J. M. Edwards as his deputies in the sheriff's office when he assumes the duties of that position next month. Mr. Cox will have charge of the detail work in the office, while Mr. Edwards will be field deputy.

As both are gentlemen well qualified to perform the duties of their respective positions, and are personally popular, the appointments, it is thought, will give general satisfaction.

The Workmen Celebration.

Monday was a red letter day for the local lodge of A. O. U. W. That evening 12 candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order, after which a banquet was given in the hall under the joint auspices of the Workmen and the ladies of the Degree of Honor. Talks were made by Grand Recorder Hemer of Seattle and Rev. J. J. Tickner of this city. Another honored visitor was J. V. McCurdy, also of this city, who was the first grand master of the order in the state of Nevada.

Deaths.

Henrietta, wife of James Dew, a resident of the Moxee, died on Monday last as the result of quick consumption. Deceased was 20 years of age. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, interment being made in Tahoma cemetery.

Mrs. J. Karfus, whose home was in Kittitas county, died at St. Elizabeth's hospital early Monday morning Dec. 1, after a prolonged illness. Deceased was 53 years of age and leaves a husband and several children. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery.

The Financial Situation.

That very conservative paper, the New York Evening Post, quotes and emphasizes the warning uttered by Comptroller Ridgely at the bankers' convention recently held at New Orleans. The comptroller says:

"In spite of all this we cannot disguise the fact that with reserves running down not only in the reserve cities, but in all the banks of the country, the situation is serious and requires close attention and careful handling."

This from a democrat would sound like a gloomy prediction, and he would be called a calamity howler, but coming from a republican prominently connected with the administration it is merely what the republican papers call a "timely warning," and the Post regrets that it was not uttered months ago. If such conditions occurred under a democratic administration the party in power would be blamed for the situation, but as it is the republican editors attribute it to conditions which the party cannot control. The republicans have so fallen into the habit of claiming credit for everything that is good and shirking responsibility for everything unfavorable that this new instance will excite no surprise.—Commoner.

Garvin the Reformer.

It seems that Dr. L. F. C. Garvin, the democratic governor-elect of Rhode Island, has been something of a reformer. He was denominated a crank, and the republican papers made fun of his bills, but according to the Courier-Journal he was largely instrumental in overthrowing the landed property qualification for foreign voters and in changing the constitution so as to provide for the election of state officers by a plurality instead of a majority. He also assisted in the passage of a secret ballot law, a law creating a bureau of industrial statistics, a factory inspection law, a ten-hour law, and some others. The final triumph of Mr. Garvin recalls the pithy statement of Lady Somerset, namely, that when one person sees a thing he is a fanatic; that when a number see it, he is merely an enthusiast; and that when all see it he is a hero.—The Commoner.

A Woman's Naked Soul.

"Such a book as the one written by Mary MacLane," says Triggs, "never could have been written or conceived by a woman in the East. Only a life spent in a barren region in the West could have given a woman the power to write such a work. A reader of this book will see the soul of a woman laid bare. Few people will probably have the strength and courage to read it, or the wit to understand."

Exactly. The reader sees the soul of a woman laid bare. And what woman wants men or angels to see her naked soul?

The innate modesty that leads a woman to shield her body from public gaze ought to move her to draw a veil over her inmost being. Especially ought she to hide what is therein morbid and erotic.—Ex.

About Paying Taxes.

State Senator Warburton of Tacoma has issued a pamphlet upon the subject of "railroad taxation," in which he says that railroads are not paying one-tenth the taxes paid by ordinary taxpayers, and that proper assessments of railroads would reduce the tax rate on other property more than twenty-five per cent. If this be true, there is something connected with the manipulation of railroad valuations in the county assessors' offices that the great body of taxpayers know nothing about.—Seattle Times.

THE CITY LAWMAKERS.

Routine Business Transacted—City Accepts Gift of Soldiers Monument From Red Cross Society.

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday night, Mayor Fechter presided and Councilmen Reed, Keck, Atkins, Wyman, Liggett and Shaw answered to roll call.

Clerk Doust read a communication from Mrs. A. M. Bartlett, president of the Red Cross society, tendering to the city a free gift of the Soldiers Monument erected by the society at the intersection of Yakima avenue and Third street. The communication stated that the monument was free from debt, and on motion of Reed the gift was accepted and the clerk instructed to so notify the president of the society, and to express the thanks of the city council.

A petition was read from property owners along the south side of West Yakima avenue from Moxee avenue to the western limits of the city, asking that a sidewalk be built to be charged against the abutting property. The petition was granted.

The monthly reports of Police Judge Nichols, Marshal Grant and Sexton Carvoso were then read. That of the police judge showed that the sum of $196.75 had been realized from fines inflicted during November. The sexton's report showed 8 burials in the city cemetery and $32 collected.

An application from Mr. Whitehouse to build a two-story stone building on lots 25 and 26, block 11, was granted on motion of Liggett.

Some time was then consumed by the council in the effort to arrive at an understanding with Contractors Dingle & Dimmick regarding the improvements being made on the Broad Gauge ditch. Mr. Dimmick stated that work had been stopped by property owners along Tacoma avenue because of the necessity of temporarily blocking that thoroughfare. The matter was finally settled by motion of Liggett to refer to street and ditch committee with power to act.

Liggett brought up the matter of using the earth from sidewalk excavation and insisted that the same be placed in the streets where needed instead of being sold to property owners. A motion to that effect prevailed and it was so ordered.

Bids were then opened for the construction of four blocks of sidewalk on the west side of North First street and two on the east side. Four bids were received for each piece of work. That of G. H. Moulton of 45 1/2 cents per foot on the west and 45 1/4 on the east side, being the lowest, were accepted.

Atkins brought up the long deferred matter of securing a city dumping ground. Mayor Fechter stated that no grounds had as yet been secured, but that he had opened negotiations with the Cascade Lumber company for a small piece of land on the river bank.

The plat of Natchez addition filed by Fechter & Janek was submitted to the council and formally approved by that body.

Health Officer Frank stated that the city's tent and stove at the pest house had been stolen and asked that he be authorized to purchase substitutes, granted.

The usual crop of monthly bills was read and such as had met with the approval of the finance committee were ordered paid.

Making the Best of Life.

"The tendency among the western people is to make the most of life while they can," remarked Robert Taylor, a typical old Kentuckian, who recently made his first visit to the northwest. The spirit is so different from that under which I was brought up that I notice it on every hand. We were taught to lay by for a rainy day. The saying idea prevailed to such an extent that I sometimes did not eat as much as I wanted, because of the prospective rainy day, that never came. My old grandmother was tenacious over her ideas and pressed them on her relatives. When she died her old chest was filled with clothing that had been ruined years before with moths. She had dress patterns never cut and linens of more or less value. They had been put away for rainy day. Out west the people believe more in living today. They hold to the idea that when a man dies he will be a long time dead. The day of enjoyment is now, and every one wasted is simply gone never to be recalled. I believe, with all my teaching to the contrary, that you western people are the happiest mortals on earth. You have no cares, and the troubles of today are smoothed over by the pleasures of life which are enjoyed to their fullest extent. Pleasure without dissipation should be the ambition of every person. It will drive away the blues."—Tacoma News.

Republican Party in Danger

The republicans of Washington, as represented by their delegates in state convention, fought out the railroad problem and by a majority vote pledged the party to an appointive railroad commission. The most of the republican legislative nominees were elected, and the only thing they can do in honor is to fulfill the promises made to the people. A failure to pass a commission bill, as was promised in the state platform, would be a shameful breach of faith, and the republican party will certainly have to answer to the people if it proves derelict.

If the republican party by its action this winter repudiates pledges and refuses to give the people the railroad legislation they have demanded, it will be a clear demonstration that the party is controlled absolutely by the railroads; that it represents the railroad interests; and that the affairs of the people at large can not be safely entrusted to its custody. It will be impossible to reach any other conclusion. If promises and pledges are openly violated, as several of the railroad legislators openly admit they will be, it is obvious that the people must look to some other organization to give them the relief they demand. If the republicans fail at this time to represent popular sentiment, repudiate their platform, and enter into league with the railroads, they may rest assured that they will find an alliance against them two years from now that will surely compass their defeat in the state, even if they should be successful in choosing their presidential electors.—Spokesman-Review.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
