Dear Mr. Relander:

Thank you very much for your letter. I certainly appreciate your interest in my project.

I would like very much to see the clippings you mentioned. I am particularly interested in the old-time saloon and especially in the attitudes toward it in farm communities.

When you complete your filing, please let me know.

Sincerely yours,

Norman Clark

Dear Mr. Relander:

I have been doing research this summer for my dissertation on the prohibition movement in this state, and I have wondered about your clipping file.

I am very eager to see what you have gleamed from the Yakima Republic. Your stories about saloons may be very valuable to me - I find it very difficult to get material that can help me understand what the saloon as an institution really was.

If what you have is available for me to examine, please let me know.

Sincerely yours,

Norman Clark

Dear Mr. Relander:

Though I haven't seen you in ages, I would like to tell you that my dissertation on the Prohibition Movement in Washington is completed, and that I am now preparing it for publication. Your clippings were quite valuable to me, and I wonder now if you could help me again. This time I need some photographs for the book.

I would like especially to find photos of Edward B. Sutton, an early prohibition leader, and of prohibition rallies or parades from the period 1910-1914. But I would be interested in anything you might turn up.

I will deeply appreciate any looking around you can do in Yakima, and I thank you in advance for your time and your advice.

Best regards,

Norman Clark

Dear Norman Clark:

Came up with the only thing I think I have in the line of a possibility, a copy of an old-time photo here of a famous old-time North Yakima saloon, the Alfalfa.

It 's not along the "parade" line, but perhaps it is of some use in an Weme gency." I'd appreciate it 's return when you are through with it, or pass judgment on it as it might come in handy in my files for some of my writing, some-day.

And by all means keep me posted on any "publication" of your material.

sincerely, best of luck

Dear Click,

Thanks a lot for sending this. I found some beautiful saloon pictures in Everett, however, so I won't need this one.

The book will be out in April.

Thanks again,

Norman Clark
