Wm. J. Bryan Excoriates Railroad Magnates Who Threaten to Decrease Wages if Democrats Win—
Nebraskan Makes Great Speech in Ohio.

I say to you that the little ward heeler who goes around and bribes a man for $5 is a moral character beside the man who attempts to use his power to threaten those who work for him and to buy them by a promise of increase or threaten them by a promise to decrease.—William J. Bryan to voters at Newark, Ohio.

Newark, O., Wednesday, Oct. 21.—Thoroughly aroused by what he termed a "new menace," through the publication today of a press dispatch stating that the officials of the New York Central lines had summoned their workmen and informed them that if the democrats won the election there would be a 10 per cent reduction in wages, but that if they lost there would be an increase, William J. Bryan, in a before-breakfast speech to a vast throng, poured a volley of criticism into the republican party for its campaign tactics. He threw into his utterances all the vigor he could muster and his words were greeted with loud cheers.

In his address at Newark Bryan said: "I am glad to come again into Ohio. Democratic prospects are so bright that even the republican national committee is compelled to confess that the republican candidate must come back to fight for his own state. He went out west to fight for the west, but he now finds that he has difficulty enough at home and cannot spare any time for the west. I am glad they are beginning to realize the forces that they have to contend with and the greatest obstacle that they have is the record of the party that they must defend.

"Twelve years of power, with a president eulogized in the platform and a senate that they cannot apologize for and a house presided over by a despot and yet they cannot defend their record. Twelve years of power complete, during which they have had opportunity to pass every law they wanted to pass, to repeal every law they wanted to repeal, and they have had republicans on nearly all the federal benches, and yet what is their condition? They feel that in every state in this Union the tide is running against them and they face deserved defeat for their betrayal of the American people by their officials. They have disappointed the laboring man; they have refused to listen to his plea; they have denied him the remedies that he deserves and now, when embittered by disappointment and indignant at mistreatment, the laboring man attempts to show his citizenship, declare his independence and register his protest at the polls, they proceed with their attempts of coercion.

"This morning's paper gives an illustration of attempted coercion."

Bryan then read from a dispatch in a Columbus paper, which stated 500 workmen of the Big Four railroad at Bellefontaine, part of the New York Central system, had been called together in the shops and notified that if Bryan was elected there would be a 10 per cent reduction in wages, and that if William H. Taft was elected, there would be an increase in pay and work. The dispatch stated these officials were making a tour of the entire system for the purpose of making the same announcement to all the employees.

"There, my friends," said Bryan, "is the statement in a republican paper of the threat made by the officials of a great railroad system. They threaten to punish men for voting the democratic ticket by a 10 per cent cut in their wages, and they promise to increase their pay and their work if they will vote the republican ticket. I say to you that the little ward heeler who goes around and bribes a man for five dollars is a moral character beside the man who attempts to use his power to threaten those who work for him and to buy them by a promise of increase or operation of that law, and now come threaten them by a promise of decrease. I want American people to understand that we have something like a million and a half of railroad employees, and if the managers of these roads can enter politics and coerce that many men, then independent elections are past in this country, and if these men can put into office men hostile to the laboring men, then by these coercions they can force upon the laboring man any antagonistic legislation they desire.

"The republican party has refused to give the laboring man a place in the president's cabinet, when our party promises him that if we succeed there will be a spokesman for the wage-earner in the president's council chamber. When I say to the laboring man that if I am elected I want one of their representatives in my cabinet to advise with me about labor; when I say that these men representing the railroads go out and tell you that unless you are willing to relinquish your claim to representation in the cabinet they will reduce your wages and make your compensation smaller than it is, we tell the laboring men that if elected we will amend the anti-trust law so as to take the labor organization out from under the these heads of railroads to tell their employees that if they dare to ask for relief from the anti-trust law they will be punished by a reduction of wages.

Limit Writ of Injunction.
"We say in our platform that if we win we will limit the writ of injunction so that a labor dispute will not in itself be a sufficient ground for the issuance of that writ; that there must be something done; there must be conditions that would justify that writ even if there were no labor dispute, before it shall be used in such a dispute, and now come the heads of these great corporations and notify these men that if they dare to ask for relief from this writ of injunction under those circumstances they will be punished by a reduction of wages.

"But we say in our platform that we are in favor of trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt, and then comes these heads of corporations and tell these laboring men that this trial by jury which is guaranteed to a convicted criminal, shall not be given to the laboring man, and if he dares to raise his voice in protest he shall be lashed into subjection by a reduction of his wages.

"In this case there is no shadow of an excuse for the threat because our platform specifically declares that no rate reductions shall be made which will compel a reduction of wages. We give a guarantee to the laboring man, a guarantee that he has not before been given by the present administration.

"That is what this all means, my friends. They tell you that if I am elected business will be bad. Let them give bond that business will be good if I am defeated. They have no way of securing you against the failure of their predictions. Let them show that they have been annointed prophets and have a right to tear away the veil and tell you what lies before you. Who is this man whose election is to be a balm of Gilead and remove all financial distress?"

President's Special Appointee.

"He is the member of the president's cabinet whom the president appointed to be his successor. If he could not last fall prevent a panic when he was in the cabinet, how can he prevent one next fall by merely raising him a little higher? If he and the president together could not protect you from the panic last fall, how can he hope to do it all along, if the president deserts him and hides in the jungles of Africa hunting tigers?"

GUTHRIE COMES BACK

After an absence of several years W. P. Guthrie, formerly prosecuting attorney of Yakima county, visited this city early in the week, at the head of a committee of business men from Twin Falls, Ida., who came here to inspect the new courthouse.

The county in which Twin Falls is located recently voted $150,000 worth of bonds to build a new courthouse. This committee came over to get its ideas from the Yakima county temple of justice.

Mr. Guthrie is one of the leading men in Twin Falls. It is understood that he is a candidate for prosecuting attorney on the prohibition ticket and his friends say that he will undoubtedly be elected.

PATTISON'S VISIT TO YAKIMA

Democratic Nominee for Governor Makes Good Impression Here and Expects to Win—Reynolds, of Seattle Makes Masterful Address.

John Pattison, democratic nominee for governor; Edwin F. Masterson, nominee for state insurance commissioner, and Charles B. Reynolds, a leading attorney of Seattle, delivered addresses to a fair sized audience at the courthouse Tuesday evening. The speakers arrived here from Ellensburg, where they spoke the evening preceding. Mr. Reynolds was obliged to leave the party here and return to Seattle. Judge Bostwick, of Everett, was appointed by the state central committee to relieve Mr. Reynolds for the remainder of the campaign and left with Mr. Pattison Wednesday to fill a date at Prosser that evening.

A. J. Splawn acted as chairman of the meeting in this city and in his entertaining way introduced the speakers, raising a hearty laugh and applause in each case.

Mayor John Pattison, of Colfax, the nominee for governor, was the first speaker introduced and created a good impression on his audience from the start. He is a most affable gentleman, and although by no means an orator, he has a most engaging and convincing way of talking and a voice that sounds pleasant to the ear. Mr. Pattison is a native of New York state and is apparently about 50 years of age. He is essentially a self-made man and began the struggle of life as a newsboy. As a young man he came west in the 70s, worked at various occupations, among others that of cowboy, finally settling down on a homestead in Whitman county, this state. Like many another young man the turning point in his life came when he met the woman who was to become his wife. This lady was a daughter of Rev. James Cairns, a Baptist minister, of Colfax, and the association proved a most fortunate one for the future governor of a great commonwealth. The helpful influence of a good and true woman was all that the roistering young man needed to convert him into the ranks of useful citizenship and it developed him gradually into what he is today, one of the leading citizens of the state of Washington and its probable next governor.

Having determined to become a lawyer and endeavor to make his mark in the world Mr. Pattison after his marriage proved up on his prairie homestead, moved to Colfax, secured a situation in that town and in his spare moments read all the law books he could get hold of. He afterward secured a clerical position in a law office, continued his studies until finally enabled to pass the bar examination and begin as an attorney on his own account. By hard work and the bulldog determination for which he is noted, he finally succeeded in working up a lucrative law practice. Today he is the president of the Whitman county bar association and is the mayor of Colfax. He has a happy home in that city, the family circle consisting of the wife, a son and two daughters. The son is also an attorney, having recently been admitted to the bar. Mr. Pattison is a distant relative of Governor Pattison, of Pennsylvania, who a few years ago was elected governor of that state on the democratic ticket against an overwhelming republican majority of 300,000. In view of his great relative's wonderful accomplishment it would seem as though Mayor Pattison's present undertaking in this state ought to meet with success, and surely there is as great need for cleansing the Augean stables of Washington in this year of our Lord as ever was the case in poor old benighted Pennsylvania. In view of the fact that a democratic governor of the same name was also elected in Ohio two years ago it would seem as though Pattison is a name to conjure with in democratic politics.

The theme Mr. Pattison took for his address here was the democratic plank demanding the guaranty of bank deposits and this principle he handled in a very able and convincing manner. He explained the benefits of the proposed system and answered completely all objections that have been raised against it by the banking fraternity.

He said that to begin with a bank by reason of its functions is a quasi-public institution. The principal business of a bank is to borrow money, in the form of deposits, from certain customers and to lend that money or a certain portion of it to other customers, the interest earned being the bank's profit. Under the present system there is no protection whatever for the individual depositor in case of bank failure other than what may be realized from the sale of the failed bank's securities. And it is too often the case that under a receivership, orders of court, etc., that not much is left for the poor depositor when the business of the failed bank has finally been wound up. And oh, the heartaches of the poor widows and orphans! "How many of you," declared the speaker, "can readily recall cases of suicide of poor victims of misplaced confidence in banks."

The principal objection raised to the guaranty plan was that it would encourage "wildcat" banking, said Mr. Pattison. This, he declared to be absurd. "Wouldn't bankers watch each other when it was clearly their interest to do so? Certainly they would, for they would be compelled to as a matter of self-preservation. 'But what is there to hinder 'wild-cat' banking under the present loosely managed system,'" the speaker asked? Nothing at all worthy of the name.

Why does the national government, the state, county and city governments all demand insurance for their deposits in banks? And if the banker finds it all right to insure public deposits why should he not be equally willing to insure private depositors?

Guaranteed deposits would be better for the depositor, better for the entire business of the public, and better, infinitely better, in the long run for the banks themselves. It would mean greater security and much less danger and risks from panics. It would be better for everybody. It is a reform that is sure to come in the banking business.

"If I am elected governor of the state of Washington, concluding Mayor Pattison, I shall promptly recommend to the legislature the passage of a law requiring state banks to contribute to a fund to be created for the protection of their

PARKER'S BRAINSTORM

Noted Kentucky Colonel in the Role of Reformer Seeks to Make Partisan Capital at Expense of Faithful Officials—Boosting for Lancaster.

Col. Ed. Parker, recently of Kentucky, who has come to be regarded as the heavy artillery of the local g. o. p., is contributing some hot stuff to an otherwise listless campaign.

The colonel is very much shocked, apparently, at the wilful, wicked, inexcusable extravagance of the three democrats who hold public office in Yakima county, to-wit: the superior judge, the prosecuting attorney and the sheriff. He asserts that the total expenditures charged to those officers for the fiscal year ending June 30 last, were $39,473, or an average of $13,157 for each of the extravagant trio. The colonel further assures us that the total expenses of the 12 republicans in the court house for the same period amounted to $39,442, or an average of $3287 for each of these most economical officers, which from the colonel's partisan standpoint is a most excellent showing. We assume that the figures are correct, since they are quoted from the auditor's annual report.

As for the superior court costs referred to they are undoubtedly pretty steep, but no reasonable man in this community can justly blame Judge Preble therefor. When the present judge assumed his office in September, 1907, he found the business of the court nearly a year behind and a great docket of old cases to be tried. He set to work to dispose of these old and vexatious cases and we believe he has done so. Much of the time he has been forced to keep juries in attendance and juries we all know are expensive. Then, too, an alarming amount of litigation is constantly originating in Yakima county. Judge Preble's theory is to try cases as promptly as possible and thus eliminate expense. We all know that the court costs have been extremely heavy during the past year and every lawyer at the bar, at least, knows the reasons therefor. We have heard of no criticism of the costs of the court other than what has come from the fertile brain of our distinguished fellow-citizen, who, we understand, is himself an attorney.

The total expense of conducting the prosecuting attorney's office between July 1, 1907, and July 1, 1908, was $3285.17, the separate items of which may be found on page 26 of the auditor's report. Surely this is not an unreasonable annual charge for that office, considering the valuable work that has been done by Prosecutor Wende and his deputy, Mr. Taylor. At any rate men of all parties will concede that the work of that office has been well done.

The total expense account of the sheriff's office for the year ending July 1, 1908, was $13,960.90. The principal items charged to this office, other than the sheriff's salary of $1600, is $6280.39 for deputies' salaries, $2837.65 for feeding prisoners at the rate of 40 cents per day, and $1772.45 for team hire, $739.41 for railroad fare, and $389 for meals and lodgings.

It might have been possible, perhaps, to have effected some slight saving on some of the above items. At any rate Col. Parker says so, although he fails to state just where he would use the pruning knife. Perhaps the colonel would have eliminated the meals furnished prisoners, or an item we notice of $450 for scavenger service, or perhaps had he been sheriff he would have saved the county the bill of $9.50 paid out to a matron for searching female prisoners.

It may be true enough that several of these items in the sheriff's expense account are too high. The Democrat can't say for sure, neither do we think, can Col. Ed. Parker. In justice to the sheriff it should be understood that he cannot often control his expense account, as he would doubtless like to do. "The king's business will not wait." Whether he goes after criminals, witnesses, jurors or merely to serve court papers he must needs go in a hurry and a small item of expense must not be permitted to stop him. The sheriff and his deputies must be quick, prompt and reasonably sure of getting results. Otherwise the administration of the office is unsatisfactory. And we have heard no one claim, not even Col. Parker, that the service rendered the public by the present sheriff is unsatisfactory. On the contrary it is the general opinion that it is the best that the county has had for years.

The expense account of the democratic sheriff has been passed on and allowed by the republican board of county commissioners every month. If the bills rendered were outrageously high, as Col. Parker asserts, was not the board of commissioners remiss in their duty in allowing the said bills and ordering them paid? Why doesn't that virtuous critic publicly score the board of commissioners?

The reason he does not is simply because that the colonel is not looking for reform so much as he is for partisan capital for the purpose of electing his protégé to the office of sheriff. Or perhaps the gallant Kentucky colonel was merely suffering from a momentary brain storm.

Irvin J. Bounds returned this week from Olympia, where he had been to stand his bar examination before the supreme court judges. The young man was successful in his test, and is now an attorney at law. He is also a candidate for the office of county clerk, and from present indications will doubtless be successful in his race.

John Lynch, manager of the Aurora mine, is down from the Cle Elum district this week making necessary arrangements for carrying on development work at the mine this winter. Mr. Lynch says that he is now working in the ore zone in his long tunnel, that he has already cut two valuable leads and that he expects to tap others this winter.

WHY ALL THIS RUSHING INTO PRINT WITH AFFIDAVITS?

IS IT NOT A CASE OF THE "CART BEFORE THE HORSE"?

Does Lancaster's Conscience Worry Him? Who Charged Joe H. Lancaster With Criminality When He Resided in Klickitat County? Nothing Has Been Published Up to Date Derogatory to Republican Candidate's Character, But He Seems to Think it Necessary to Secure Attestations to His Past Exemplary Life—For Why?

Joe H. Lancaster, republican candidate for sheriff, is making a very strenuous campaign of publicity in reply to charges that have been circulated against him, while a resident of Klickitat county. Last Monday's issue of the Republic contained nearly half a page of published affidavits. These affidavits were signed by various people, friends of the candidate, who formerly lived in Klickitat county and who one and all give him a clean bill of health. Why all these affidavits, published in a daily paper, should be regarded as necessary is what puzzled many people in this city, since no attack of any kind had been published derogatory to Mr. Lancaster.

As a matter of fact the charges or stories that have been put in circulation regarding the early life of Mr. Lancaster in Klickitat county seem to be clearly traceable to republican sources. John M. Edwards, democratic candidate for sheriff, has stated most emphatically that he had had no part in the circulation of such stories, and everybody that knows Sheriff Edwards will accept his word for it. Sheriff Edwards has always been against mud-throwing in politics and will not allow such a charge to be laid at his door.

Col. Ed. Parker, the eloquent orator, late from the moonshine district of Ol' Kaintuck' appears to have assumed full charge of the republican county campaign as well as of the personal canvass of Joe Lancaster for sheriff. The fine Italian hand of the Kentucky Colonel is easily discernable in the Lancaster affidavits. His fiery philippics are to be read almost daily in the newspapers.

His silvery voice, vibrating with passion, is to be heard nightly on the stump and daily on the curb. His word is law at g. o. p. headquarters. In short he is the Mark Hanna of the local republican party.

In the mountain district of Kentucky, where the eminent colonel hails from, it is said to be little less than a crime for a man to confess himself a democrat, and a democrat in office is an unheard-of monstrosity. The colonel is apparently of the opinion that the same conditions obtain here.

That the colonel now has his political machine at last in good working order is plainly evident. Congressman Jones would do well to look out for his laurels, for the colonel is just as likely to take it into his head to go to congress from Washington as Kentucky.

PROMOTION FOR TUTTLE.

Chief Clerk of Northern Pacific Here Becomes Agent of the Road at Kennewick.

Joseph Tuttle, chief clerk of the Northern Pacific railroad here, has been promoted and is now agent of the railroad at Kennewick. He has left North Yakima and taken up his new duties in the thriving and rapidly growing town on the Columbia. Mr. Tuttle is familiar with all that part of Washington and eight years ago, when he was census taker for Franklin county, knew the name of every man, woman and child east of Prosser. He has scores of friends here who will be delighted with his promotion. Mr. Tuttle has been a popular official here and the public has believed him to be a competent one.

Recently he acted as agent here for three months during the absence of the regular official.

F. E. Manning, who has been night bill clerk of the railroad here, succeeds Mr. Tuttle as chief clerk and C. Butterfield becomes night bill clerk.

Secretary James Gives Out a Statement for Benefit of Yakima Valley People.

For the benefit of Yakima valley residents Secretary H. P. James desires the following letter to be published: "It has been brought to the attention of the Commercial club that certain parties are representing themselves to be working in the interests of the Commercial club in producing an illustrated souvenir of this city and surrounding country and charging people exorbitant prices for the representation of their homes and orchards in this album.

"The club wishes it distinctly understood that it is not interested in any way in the production of souvenirs of the city or vicinity and any representations made by parties procuring views to this effect are misleading and entirely without foundation.

"The secretary of the club assured Mr. Brooks, one of our local photographers, that the souvenir album which he is preparing is a worthy undertaking, but further than this no endorsement has been given to any enterprise of this kind.

WHO IS ED PARKER?

Editor of The Democrat:

Who is Ed Parker? We believe he is a brother of Attorney Fred Parker, and so far as we can ascertain that is the only claim that he can make which might possibly give him the right to criticise the vilest sinner, the most unprincipled citizen or the lowest renegade who draws the breath of life. But for a man like Ed Parker to attempt to criticise a public official of Sheriff John Edwards' calibre, why, it is to laugh. And all the od timers, and all the new voters in the county who know John Edwards will laugh at this egotistic "Kentucky Colonel" on election day by rolling up the biggest democratic victory for Sheriff Edwards that was ever accorded a candidate for office in this county.

"Let him who is without sin cast the first stone." Evidently our "brilliant and magnetic fat-headed orator from the blue grass state" thinks he is the one man on earth to whom this scripture quotation would not apply.

Who is Ed Parker? Answer. He is the funniest thing in the republican party of Yakima county, the biggest joke. How long has he lived in Yakima county? Answer. About two years; plenty long enough for the people to get wise to his methods. Did he ever do anything to commend himself to a single thoughtful taxpaying republican in Yakima county? Answer. Not that any one ever heard about. What is his vocation or avocation—as you like it? Answer. Why, he is considered one of the greatest orators of the age. At the last republican county convention the chairman recognized him by mistake. Colonel Parker got the floor and forthwith proceeded to unburden himself of great overflows of oratory. His audience was moved to tears by his tearful appeal to republicanism; in fact, so overcome were many of the delegates in the convention that they were forced to leave the hall. They just got up and walked out, and the brilliant Kentucky orator spoke on. What did he say in this great speech? Answer. "Friends, Yakimans, countrymen, lend me your ears. I am from Kentucky. I have been in politics for years, and I want to say right here that I am considered down in my country to be a very fine and brilliant orator. I spent most of my life in the public eye running for office. The republican party is the greatest political organization in the world today, except Tammany Hall. Roosevelt is a great man. Some of my friends say that I am like the president in a good many ways. This is a great and prosperous valley. Nothing like it except Kentucky, my native state. We must elect the entire republican ticket in Yakima county, otherwise the country will go to the dogs—meaning the democrats, presumably. Now, as a matter of fact, etc., etc., etc."

These may not be the exact words of the brilliant and learned orator, but as near as we can ascertain he began about as quoted above.

And so we have the pen picture of the man who is going out over the county attempting to criticise Sheriff John Edwards, and writing scurrilous and untruthful stories for the papers in order to keep himself before the public. The same man who aspired to succeed Judge Preble on the bench. We say it is laugh. Give him more rope.

LAY THE LAST BRICK

New Elliot Building Will Be Completed By Middle of December.

By the middle of December or thereabouts, one of the finest business buildings in North Yakima will have been completed and thrown open to the public. The new Elliot building, now under construction at First and Chestnut streets, is fast nearing completion. The last brick on the substantial structure was laid only a few days ago, and tomorrow lathers will begin preparing the interior of the building for the plasterers.

The Elliot building is deeper than the Miller building and is three stories high. The ground dimensions are 50x140. The second and third floors, which will be devoted to hotel purposes, contain 46 rooms, besides bath rooms, closets, etc. In each room there will be hot and cold running water, return call bells, electric and gas fixtures and steam heat.

Adequate Fire Protection.

Fire escapes that have met with the approval of Fire Chief Dawson will be built onto the structure. The heating plant is of the latest model and the entire building is equipped with the vacuum system of steam heating. Large and spacious halls run through the building and nearly every room overlooks the streets.

On the ground floor there will be a large and spacious lobby for guests of the hotel. Besides this there will be four large store rooms, each supplied with plate glass windows. Cement sidewalks have been built on the business sides of the building and iron hitching racks are erected on the First street side. A full cement basement gives ample storage room.

Will Cost $42,000.

When completed the structure will represent a cost of about $42,000. No expense will be spared in fitting up the interior and the appointments will be modern in every respect. Elliot Bros., the owners, are Seattle men who have made their money in the state's metropolis and who believe they can do no better than invest some of it in North Yakima.

E. A. Harbers, a well-known constructing engineer of Seattle, has charge of the building, and is making every effort to complete the job by the middle of December.

CANNERY PACKS SPUDS

Special Lot of Potatoes Is Being Put Up Here for the Government.

Potatoes are being canned at the Bus-sell cannery here, the pack being to fill an order placed by the federal government. The potatoes are being put in specially prepared tins which are afterwards given a special treatment to protect the contents against water or dampness. This is necessary with government goods which may be shipped, under hard conditions, to any part of the world. There is no limit fixed to the order on which the cannery is at this time working. It was told to go ahead with the pack and that word would be sent to it when to cease operations. The goods were contracted for through a Seattle house which placed the order here. If the process proves to be all that is anticipated of it there will be no limit to its value to the packers.

Like Home Boiled Spuds.

The potatoes are treated much in the same manner as the old household boiling method, the only difference being that the boiled potatoes are tinned and sealed after being cooked. Served up for table use there is no apparent difference from the old home method.

The cannery is also working on apples and is putting up a large pack. Just how long the work will continue is indefinite but it may be called to an end at any time. Market conditions and other influences may operate at any time to make a cessation of operations essential.

MORE TROUT COMING FOR YAKIMA VALLEY

Game Warden Mullen has received from Washington, from the federal department of fisheries, a letter telling him that he will be forwarded shortly some 50 gallons of brook trout to be planted in the streams and rivers of this valley. The letter says the fish will arrive within 60 days but the writer is unable to say the exact date. Request is made also that provision in the way of cans be made here for the fish upon their arrival. Mr. Mullen, a few days before the arrival of the fish, will give notice to the local sportsmen that those who desire may make arrangements for procuring a number of the trout for planting in the various streams.

Mr. Mullen has just returned to North Yakima after a trip to southern California where he went on legal business. His trip was successful but he says it was hard traveling.

THE GOVERNORSHIP

John Pattison, democratic candidate for governor, who delivered an address at the court house Tuesday evening, made a good impression here. He is in no sense an orator and makes no claims in that direction, but he is a good, straight-forward talker and knows what he is talking about. Being a frank, plain-spoken man he impresses people with his straight-forward honesty.

John Pattison is the man who ought to be elected governor of Washington. He is a strong, able, virile man who would render the state and the people splendid service at a time when reform is sadly needed in state affairs. Opposed to him is a man said to be slowly dying of an insidious disease, who, of course, is utterly unable to take any part in his own campaign.

While Mr. Cosgrove has the sympathy of all the people in his unfortunate condition it would nevertheless be equally unfortunate for the people of the state to elect him governor under such conditions, for the governorship of this state is no sick man's job; it is in fact a heavy burden for a well man to carry.

If Mr. Cosgrove should be elected and die in office he would be succeeded by a man by the name of Hay, now republican candidate for lieutenant governor. Mr. Hay is a man of but very mediocre ability. His chief claim to public notice lies in the fact that he has played the part of a small wheel in the political machine of ex-Senator John L. Wilson. In short, he is Wilson's man Friday. If Hay, therefore, by any chance should be elected to the governorship, Wilson and his machine would again dominate the state. It is obvious that the people do not want any more of Wilson domination. If they had they would have permitted Albert E. Mead to have been his own successor, for it is a notorious fact that the present governor is but a part of the Wilson political machine.

The right thing for the people to do is to unload this whole bunch of scheming politicians and elect John Pattison governor. With Pattison as governor the people of this state would be rid of this entire gang of pap suckers and honest men would then stand some show at Olympia.

FLOYD A. HATFIELD.

Floyd A. Hatfield, democratic nominee for prosecuting attorney, is a bright and most promising young lawyer who is confidently looked to by his friends to make his mark in the world. With his parents he came to North Yakima at an early age and grew to manhood here. After graduating from the North Yakima High school he entered the state university at Seattle, where he finished the regular four year course in three years and graduated with honor. While at the university he was chosen to edit the college paper there, and was also recognized as the ablest debater and orator of his class. During his college days he won in oratorical contests with his team against the best talent from the universities of Oregon and Idaho. His record as a college man is a brilliant one, but the young man's happiest recollection in connection therewith is in the fact that he earned the money with his own brains and hands to pay his way through the university, his parents being too poor to render him much assistance. After finishing the classical course he spent a year in the law school, returning to North Yakima some three or four years ago to enter the law office of Attorney Snively. That shrewd lawyer soon discovered that there were great possibilities in store for this determined young man of studious and grasping mind, and after a term of tutelage gradually worked him into practice. From a small beginning Mr. Hatfield skillfully worked his way upward until he was gladly accepted by his mentor as the junior member of the firm.

The office of prosecuting attorney is a most important one, but the people may rest assured that if they choose Mr. Hatfield to fill it for the ensuing two years its duties will be discharged with both ability and dispatch. Don't fail to give him a vote on election day!

IRVING J. BOUNDS.

Irving J. Bounds, democratic candidate for county clerk, is a native son of Yakima and Washington, having been born on his father's farm in this county in 1881. As a boy he attended the frontier school of that period, and in the summer rode the range. Possessed of an active and acquisitive mind, and with his father's counsel he gradually, while yet a mere boy, got together a herd of his own cattle, which under the youth's watchful care rapidly increased. However, when he arrived at the age of 18 the turning point in the young man's life came. After mature deliberation he reached the conclusion that what he needed was an education much more than the care of a band of cattle, so with his parent's counsel he sold the cattle, put the proceeds in bank, and left for Stanford university. After six years of hard study he graduated from that famous seat of learning near the head of his class, and in the following year entered Harvard law school, where after two years of study he graduated with high honors last June. As the result of his own fixed determination the one time cowboy is now a finished college man, ready to begin his life work. That he has the right sort of stuff in him to win his friends all confidently believe.

At the recent primary Mr. Bounds unanimously received the democratic nomination for county clerk, his capability for such an office being generally recognized. The clerk's office is one that has to do almost entirely with court affairs and practice, and its business therefore is mainly with practicing attorneys. The duties, while not onerous, require a man in charge possessed of a clear head and a believer in system. While the clerk need not necessarily for any legal reason be a lawyer, yet it is probably true that he is all the better qualified for the place by being a lawyer. At any rate, it is a mighty good place for a lawyer to start from. The present clerk is a lawyer, as was also his predecessor.

The voters of Yakima county will make no mistake in electing young Mr. Bounds to the clerkship, for he is well qualified to fill it. Put in a vote for this deserving young man when you go to the polls.

W. F. F. SELLECK.

The above named gentleman is the democratic nominee for county superintendent of schools and is a thoroughly qualified man for the position. Prof. Selleck is a high grade, experienced educator and has spent the best years of his life in teaching and in superintending schools. He was city superintendent of the North Yakima schools for two years, from which position he retired to engage in out door work on account of his health. It was with considerable difficulty that his friends persuaded him to enter the race for superintendent, but in the interest of the schools he finally consented to make the race.

Prof. Selleck is a man of considerable property interests in Yakima and has a beautiful home on Nob Hill.

There is no more reason why the average voter should draw party lines on the office of school superintendent than on the office of superior judge. The office has nothing to do with politics in any way, unless the incumbent goes out of his way to meddle in politics. As for Prof. Selleck that gentleman is not a politician in any sense of the word. If elected he will have an eye singly to the duties of the office and the welfare of the schools of the county. If you wish the public schools maintained at a high standard of efficiency vote for Prof. Selleck.

JOSEPH STEPHENSON

Joseph Stephenson, the well known pioneer and former county commissioner, is the democratic candidate for commissioner this year for the first district, which embraces most of the city of North Yakima and all the territory north to the Kittitas line.

Mr. Stephenson has previously served three terms as county commissioner and has long been known locally as the "Watch Dog of the Treasury," because of his fixed and determined policy while in office to hold down the county's expenses. It is needless to say that Yakima county has lost money by not having kept him in that position continuously.

While not opposed to necessary expenditures along legitimate lines "Uncle Joe" in office is the enemy of graft in any form. He acts as a necessary brake on the republican chariot of official extravagance. It means much to the taxpayers to have him in office. If you favor economy in county affairs do not fail to vote for "Uncle Joe" Stephenson for county commissioner.

C. O. ADAMS.

C. O. Adams, democratic nominee for county surveyor, has been a resident of Yakima county for the past 10 years and was formerly city engineer and street commissioner of North Yakima, the council having elected him to the latter office on account of his recognized ability as a road builder.

The office of county surveyor is a much more important one than many people realize. Especially will this be true during the next two years when in all probability a general road making campaign will be begun in Yakima county, a great work which under the law must necessarily be under the direction of the county surveyor. Do the taxpayers want a half million dollars of their money expended on roads by a county engineer who knows nothing about building scientific roads? If you are satisfied with the roads built by the present county surveyor it is probably due to the fact that you have not been compelled to travel over any of them. Spoiling the roads is bad enough, but the waste of county money in addition is not less than shameful.

Vote for C. O. Adams for county surveyor and help to put a competent man in the office.

THE WORLD'S FORECAST

The election forecast of the New York World, published last Sunday by the Seattle Times, shows conclusively that the election is in doubt, with the trend of public sentiment unmistakably in Bryan's direction. The World's estimate gives Taft 205 electoral votes sure, Bryan 178 sure, and 100 votes doubtful. The states listed as doubtful include New York with 39 votes, Ohio 23, Indiana 15, Maryland 8, West Virginia 7, Nebraska 8. The winner must receive 242 electoral votes.

The World's forecast, however, is of no particular value except that it shows a drift of sentiment to Bryan in nearly all the states. The World's reports from some of the states at least, are from the party campaign managers, and, of course, are very much biased.

As a matter of fact the politicians are themselves at a loss to know how a vote will be thrown this year and they would give a good deal to have definite knowledge of the situation. This is a peculiar campaign and the voters are making up their own minds as to how they will vote. That many more of them than usual will vote the democratic ticket is already an accepted fact, that enough of them will change over in the close states to give Bryan the victory remains to be seen.

In its review of the national situation the World finds that several forces are at work this year that seriously threaten republican supremacy. These forces may be summarized as follows:

1. The religious question, which is working to the detriment of Taft's chances.
2. The labor vote and the great army of the unemployed, estimated at 1,400,000 men.
3. The negro vote, heretofore classified as reliably Republican, now more or less disgruntled.

It is these elements, working independently of each other, that will probably determine the coming presidential election, which until the vote shall be counted will be shrouded in doubt. But the indications are certainly hopeful from the standpoint of democracy.

IT IS A BIG REVOLT.

There is a quiet republican revolt on in every part of the country in this campaign. In a number of states like Washington, where the democratic party has not been waging an aggressive fight, this fact is clearly evident by reason of numerous republican voters changing over to Bryan entirely of their own volition and not as the result of outward pressure. In other states where a real fight is being made desertions from the republican party are open and pronounced and the subject of much comment. The disposition of young men to rally around the standard of Bryan is particularly noticeable. For instance, at the University of Minnesota two hundred republican students have recently organized a Bryan republican club and adopted the following set of principles:

1. We, the undersigned students of the University of Minnesota, declare our allegiance to the republican party, and pledge our devotion to progressive republican principles.
2. We believe the Chicago convention adopted a platform which does not embody the views of the people.
3. We hold that it is the right and duty of the people to rebuke party leaders when they allow political organizations to be influenced by considerations of private interest.
4. In the interest of this right and duty, we express our intention to vote for candidates who are pledged to further progressive principles without regard to the party to which those candidates belong, and to exert all our influence to secure the election of William Jennings Bryan as president of the United States.
5. To make our efforts in this direction the more effective we hereby associate ourselves as the "Bryan republican club of Minnesota."

WHERE LETTERS ARE NEEDLESS.

Mr. Roosevelt dismisses Mr. Bryan's letter as "simply an attack upon him personally." Therefore there is "no reason why he should answer it." For this relief much thanks. Let us return to the issues of the campaign, which are not personal, but political:

1. Roosevelt's extravagance, which has brought about two billion dollar congresses in place of billion dollar congresses.
2. Roosevelt's militarism, imperialism, jingoism and rough-riding, under which more than 65 per cent of the government's revenues outside the postal receipts are expended for wars past and to come.
3. Roosevelt personal government, which assails the judiciary when it disagrees with the president and dragoons congress into legislating his wishes.
4. Roosevelt government by denunciation.
5. Republican partnership with protection, privilege and plutocracy.

In discussing these issues and presenting them to the public no democratic candidate need write letters to anybody.—New York World.

THE COST OF LIVING

If there is one thing more interesting than politics to the majority of citizens in this country it is the cost of living. The people are hearing constantly of the wonderful benefits that will come to them through the continuance of republican rule in nation and state, yet concerning the most important matter to them—moderate prices for the necessities of life—nothing is accomplished. The public knows that trusts are chiefly responsible for most of the exorbitant prices, yet after years of attacks on these pernicious combinations, the prices continue to increase year after year. There will be sufficiently large crops of wheat, corn, oats, etc., this year, and there have been phenomenal yields in recent years, but all the prosperity has been of no real benefit to householders. In fact, the more plentiful the crops and the larger the production of articles which people must purchase, the higher are the prices, not only in one section, but in all parts of the country.—St. Louis Republic.

ROOSEVELT'S INTERFERENCE.

The constant interference of Roosevelt in the Taft campaign continues to worry and disturb many republicans who think Taft should be given a chance to run for president on his own merits and not as a Roosevelt puppet. The Chicago Inter Ocean, republican, which, with other republicans, has been manifestly alarmed by Roosevelt's exposure of Taft's inability to paddle his own campaign canoe, declared editorially yesterday:

"It is certainly an unprecedented spectacle for a republican president desiring a republican successor to insinuate and even assert that all republicans who did not accept of hand his chosen heir were 'bought'! That is what Mr. Roosevelt is virtually saying. Is this the way to harmony?"

"Every thinking American, as he contemplates this spectacle, must hope earnestly that Mr. Taft may be permitted henceforth to stand more upon his own merits—that there shall be in the campaign less Roosevelt and more Taft."

INFLUENCE YOUR NEIGHBOR.

Every argument that appeals to man's reason is available for use by democrats in this campaign. The only republican argument is "standpat," "calamity," and "unequivocal promises" to do in future what they have neglected and refused to do in the past.

Let every democrat fortify himself with the arguments at hand and go forth determined to make at least one new vote for Bryan and Kern. If every democrat will do this—will make a determined effort to secure just one vote—victory is assured. The argument is so convincing, the truth so self-evident, that every democrat can make the effort, and start equipped with the conviction that he will succeed.

Let every democrat take up the rallying cry: "Two votes for Bryan and Kern—my own and another man's!"—Commoner.

Joe Lancaster, republican nominee for sheriff, is likely to be known in local political history as the affidavit candidate. A recent issue of a local paper was literally loaded down with publication of "affidavits" signed by numerous ex-residents of "Old Klickitat," all of whom have known Joe since Mt. Adams was but a mere hole in the ground. body those principles, and nominated These numerous certificates of character given Joe by a kindly disposed lot of old neighbors makes good easy reading these cool autumn evenings, but it may be seriously doubted that they are really worth to the candidate a fraction of their cost. It may be the way they run a campaign in the "moonshine" districts of Ol' Kaintuck, but it has never been tried successfully in these parts that we know of.

Editor Robertson takes the liberty of calling down the Seattle Times for estimating that Yakima county will give Taft a majority of 900, and taking a running guess at it himself opines that this county will give Mr. Roosevelt's substitute not less than 2,000 over Bryan. What rot these great men talk! Both estimates, to be sure, are wide of the mark, and exhibit lack of political judgment, but of the two that of the Times is decidedly the nearest to the facts, but at that the Times man was too generous to Taft by one-half.

Prohibitionists and temperance people generally in this county, if they wish to be practical and place their support where it will do the most good, will vote for Dr. Lowther and Leonard Talbott for members of the legislature. These men are pledged, if elected, to vote and work for the submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment to prohibit the liquor traffic. And every man who knows those gentlemen knows that they will keep their pledges. Vote for Lowther and Talbott!

Charley Geizentanner, down at Pasco, is making his campaign for the legislature on an anti-Jones platform. And yet the once militant Jones party hereabouts, the crowd that hollered their heads off before the primary, are sitting supinely down and saying nothing. Perhaps they are figuring that the democrats of Franklin county can be depended on to see to it that Charley stays at home this year in the interest of peace.

At least two of the republican candidates for the legislature from this county have the warm and unqualified support of the liquor interests. Does anybody suppose that either of these gentlemen if elected will favor the passage of a drastic local option bill? Well, hardly! And yet we see republicans of strong temperance proclivities out whooping it up for these candidates simply because they wear the party label.

The local campaign committee of the g. o. p. appears to be ignoring all the old time orators and well known leaders of the party in Yakima. At any rate, all the orators we have seen billed so far are either late arrivals or especially imported for stumping purposes. The spectacle of "Mr. Kumlaty" on the stump advising old timers in Yakima how to vote in local affairs is a spectacle that borders closely on the ridiculous.

The Seattle Republican (negro) is frantically urging a unanimous vote this fall for old man Cosgrove for governor. Now wouldn't that jar you? As a matter of fact there might be more reason in doing the opposite thing, all hands voting for Pattison. Poor old man Cosgrove is sick unto death, we are reliably informed, and doubtless fully realizes by now that his candidacy for governor is really a mistake.

None of the prophets, forecasters, and magazine straw vote men give the public reliable tips on the outcome of the presidential election. None of these alleged forecasters, even if they be honest, dig deep enough. The changes that are going on is among the wage earners and producers, and not among the silk tie brigade. It is the workers who will elect Bryan, not the plutocrats and their hangers on.

PEOPLE GIVE MONEY

New Orleans Editor Receives
$7,000 for the Democratic Fund.

ROBERT EWING TELLS ABOUT IT

Encouraging Reports Come from Many States.

Oregon for Bryan—Wisconsin in Line
—Minnesotans Enthuse—Even
Ohio Will Defeat Taft,
Says Ed. Mahon.

Chicago, Ill., Sept.—Special—If publishers of Democratic papers throughout the country are as successful as Mr. Robt. Ewing of the New Orleans States in raising funds for the Democratic national campaign, Chairman Moses C. Wetmore of the finance committee will not want for money to meet legitimate campaign expenses. Mr. Ewing, who has been here attending the meeting of the Democratic national committee, has collected a popular subscription fund of approximately $7,000. This has been accomplished within the past three or four weeks. Mr. Ewing predicts that the States' fund will grow and that it will finally be as much as $20,000.

"Our people are taking a lively interest in this work of raising a popular fund for the election of Bryan and Kern," said Mr. Ewing today. "They realize fully the importance of getting a sufficiently large fund to run the campaign, and they know that this money must come from the people. The trusts and the special interests will save the Republican party the necessity of going out and raising money by small subscriptions. That is the reason this unprecedented collection of a campaign fund for the election of presidential candidates has been comparatively easy. Every parish in the state is swelling the fund. Already Democrats are regarding the contribution of funds for the election of Bryan and Kern as a patriotic duty. Fully five hundred registrars and judges of election in Louisiana, who earn $3.00 a day for their services one day in each campaign year, have contributed their earnings to the Democratic national campaign fund. That shows the extent of the personal sacrifices being made by Democrats in this presidential contest."

The Democratic national committee is not overlooking opportunities in Pacific coast states and a very vigorous campaign is to be conducted in those western states. The reports Chairman Mack has received from California, Oregon and Washington are convincing that Democrats have a fine chance to carry all of those states. The national committee will work in harmony with the state committees.

Speaking of political conditions in the west, National Committeeman Miller, of Oregon, said today: "Bryan and Kern will carry Oregon this year, though I notice in the morning papers that United States Senator Jonathan Bourne says that Democrats haven't a chance in the west. The best answer I can make to this statement is to cite Senator Bourne as an authority against himself. Prior to the Republican national convention, the senator was proclaiming from one end of the country to the other that the nomination of Judge Taft would result in his defeat in the nation and a loss of Oregon to the Republican party. Mr. Bourne was for the renomination of President Roosevelt, but I think at the time he correctly diagnosed the situation in Oregon, when he declared that Taft could not carry the state against Bryan."

"Conditions are highly favorable to the Democracy in Pacific coast states," continued Mr. Miller. "and I believe Mr. Bryan will get relatively a larger per cent of the Republican vote in those states than in any others of like population in the country. The Denver platform is the best ever put forward by a party, and it appeals with particular force to Pacific coast people."

Representative James W. Murphy, of the Third Wisconsin Congressional district, was a caller at Democratic headquarters today. He thinks Democrats have a fine chance to carry Wisconsin this year. He told Chairman Mack as much and went over with him the political situation in the state. "There is a wonderful change in public opinion towards Mr. Bryan this year," said Congressman Murphy. "This is particularly noticeable in cities where Bryan and Kern clubs are being organized. In Milwaukee one night last week, a Democratic club was started with an enrollment of 280 members. This was in a precinct where the total Democratic vote four years ago was only 30. This shows the drift towards Democracy in Wisconsin, and I hear like reports from all the states of the west."

Chairman Moses C. Wetmore of the finance committee stated today that 1,500 papers had joined in the movement to raise a popular subscription fund with which to run the Democratic campaign. He says, in his opinion, every Democratic paper in the United States will join in this movement.

Senator Thos. F. Brady, of New York, famous as an orator in the Tammany organization, was another caller at Democratic headquarters where he spent some time with Chairman Mack. Senator Grady has been on a two months' trip through the west. He thinks Mr. Bryan will be elected president. He says Mr. Bryan has great strength among the western people who admire and believe in him. In every place that I visited, said Senator Grady, I heard Republicans say they would vote for Bryan in preference to Taft. Of course, New York is going Democratic this year, and conditions favor a Democratic victory."

John A. Hartigan, Insurance Commissioner of Minnesota, who called at Democratic headquarters, is very enthusiastic over Democratic prospects in that state. "Johnson will be elected governor," he said, "and we will make a great fight all along the line for the Democratic ticket. There is no factionalism in our party. There are no Johnson men and there are no Bryan men. All Democrats are Bryan and Johnson Democrats and are working with enthusiasm and vigor for the state and national tickets. We are going to win this year."

"Many people express surprise when the statement is made that Taft will fail to carry his own state this year, but it is my confident opinion that Ohio will give its electoral vote to Bryan and Kern." This statement came from Ed. Mahon, a prominent business man in Columbus, Ohio, who called at Democratic headquarters to arrange for the distribution of literature in the Ohio contest. "We want all the literature we can get," said Mr. Mahon, "for the people are in a very receptive mood this year. It is surprising to Democrats to find so many Republicans in Mr. Taft's own state who are for Bryan and Kern. I never knew the Democratic party to be in as good shape as it is in Ohio today. We are not only going to elect a Democratic governor, but we are going to beat Mr. Taft right in his own bailiwick."

"UNCLE JOE" AND THE FREE AND INDEPENDENT CONGRESS.

CONCERNING "UNCLE JOE."

Last week one of the ablest and best liked Republican members of congress, J. Adam Bede, of the Eighth Minnesota district, was defeated for renomination by members of his own party because he declared himself unflinchingly in favor of the re-election as speaker of Joe Cannon. This seems to be a fair indication of Republican sentiment concerning the czar of the lower house of congress. Collier's Weekly, which so far as it has any policy, is certainly friendly to the Republican party, denounces Cannon unreservedly, and last week printed a communication in which it was said that if Taft and Sherman were elected the long arm of the speaker would reach from the house end of the capitol to the senate and make the puppet Sherman do the bidding of the autocrat in the speaker's chair.

President Roosevelt, in 1891, said of Cannon: "We cannot escape from the fact that it was no credit to the Republican party of the house that Mr. Cannon of Illinois should be one of its leaders." Cannon then was temporarily out of office, the only time he has been out of office in thirty-five years. Among all the prominent Republicans there is none upon whom the country looks with so much hesitancy and doubt. His face is always set against any measure for the good of the people, his power is invariably exerted for those measures that are demanded by the great interests. Whether as a result of this attitude or not, the fact remains that after thirty-five years of officeholding, with only a moderate salary most of the time, "Uncle Joe" has grown rich, his wealth increasing as his power increased. He is emphatically an issue in this campaign—not merely an issue between the Democratic and Republican parties, but between the decent and patriotic element and the corrupt element which he has so long dominated.

FAIR FOR NEXT YEAR.

Reports That No Exhibition Will Be Held Because of A.-Y.-P. Are Incorrect.

There is to be a state fair next year despite rumors to the contrary. There is a growing belief that because of the A.-Y.-P. exposition there will be no other fair in Washington next year. It is not understood that this idea is advanced by the A.-Y.-P. people but it is certainly being circulated by those who are interested in having the state fair removed from North Yakima. Good and persistent knocks conducted until fair time next year, it is believed, will put the state fair here to the bad. As a matter of fact a great many eastern exhibitors of stock who desire to exhibit at the A.-Y.-P. exposition and many other exhibitors in various other departments who also desire to exhibit, and whose exhibits are sought, have declared that the only way they can afford to come west is by having a string of fairs at which to show. A fair here next year will get among its exhibits a considerable quantity of the material which will later go to the A.-Y.-P.

Knock From Special Paper.

Rural Spirit, of Salem, Ore., which has been generously supported by stockmen of this state, both as advertisers and as patrons, in a recent issue tells of the state fair here. It admits that the fair was excellent, declares that Washington has outgrown Oregon and that the old Beaver state is a back number in some respects but it thinks that Yakima is not the place for the state fair, that a good fruit show is about the limit of this section and about the height of its ambition and rather intimates that such will be the case in the future. Now is the time to move the fair, it says, as there are no buildings on the ground and therefore nothing to sacrifice.

MANY PATENTS ISSUED

Records at Local Land Office Show Much Government Land Is Being Taken.

Some idea of the number of people who are settling on government land and securing patents on claims may be obtained in the local land office. On July 1 a new system went into effect in the general land office. Prior to that time the records were kept by volume and page, but on that date it was changed to straight numbers.

The first patent issued on July 1, was No. 1, and so on in consecutive order. The last patent received at the land office at North Yakima is numbered 17,461, indicating that there were that number of patents issued since the first day of July up to the first day of October, or in a period of three months. If the same rate is continued for the year there will be issued a total of 69,844.

This indicates that the people are anxious to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the government to secure the government lands that are still vacant.

Sixteen patents have just been received at the local land office for persons under its jurisdiction, who have proved up on their claims. Those to whom the patents are issued are: Ephraim J. Harnsberger, 145.44 acres; Frank Rinehart, 144.60 acres; John Leahy, 160 acres; William B. Chamberlin, 160 acres; Leon J. Jaeroux, 160 acres; Joel H. Marcum, 144.49 acres; Clara V. Shong, 160 acres; George F. Shong, 160 acres; William H. Aiken, 160 acres; Charles P. Swanson, 160 acres; Henry Williams, 160 acres; George P. Crawford, 160 acres; Orlando C. Darling, 160 acres; Jos. Dunnington, 160 acres; John W. Boles, 140.51 acres; Ira H. Towne, 143.45 acres.

MEETING IS SUCCESS.

Attendance at Christian Endeavor Convention at Sunnyside Is Large.

"The Sunnyside Valley C. E. convention, held under the auspices of the Federated and Christian churches at Sunnyside was a very successful event," said General Secretary N. F. Turner of the local Y. M. C. A., who returned from Sunnyside on Monday afternoon. "There were about 120 delegates present, representing Zillah, Outlook, Mabton, Granger and Grandview, which are included in the Sunnyside district. All the sessions were well attended and much interest was taken in the various papers, addresses and discussions."

Reports Show Advancement.

There was a big banquet on Saturday evening at which toasts were responded to by a number of prominent speakers. The report of the spiritual condition of societies showed decided advancement, while the financial report was satisfactory.

One important action was taken. was decided to affiliate with the eastern Washington district hereafter, but the work in the Sunnyside district has been so helpful that that district will be retained. The annual convention of this district will be held as usual, but delegates will also be sent to the eastern Washington district convention.

Secretary Turner Speaks.

Secretary N. F. Turner gave the address before the convention on Sunday evening, his subject being "Christian Excellers," adapted to the C. E. work. The Federated church was filled to its capacity, there being about 1000 people present. The speaker told of what one is called upon to do in order to be a Christian. He told the story of the unprofitable servant, showing that he had done his duty and no more. The point he brought out was that one must do more than just what he is required to do. He should try at all times to excel. All the churches in Sunnyside closed their meetings on Sunday evening and joined in the union meeting in the Federated church. There was an excellent choir and a good orchestra to furnish music.

WAPATO.

The council of Wapato met in regular session Tuesday evening, Oct. 13, Mayor Douglas in the chair, and the members all present.

Saloon licenses were granted to the following: George Smith, Thomas Quinlan, J. D. Morrison and C. W. Smith.

This means five saloons, as the Wapato hotel has already a bar. A petition had been presented to the council asking that no licenses be granted, but it was laid on the table and not heard. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kaufman announce the wedding of their daughter, Winona Belle, to Nels Peter Linn of North Yakima.

The Women's club of Wapato will tender a reception to the Wapato teachers October 23, 1908. Mrs. Dale Watson Voorhes and son, Sol, spent Sunday with Mrs. A. M. Welch of this city.

SCHOOL SECTION.

A. W. Losey and wife left last Friday for Dakota and Minnesota where they will spend a couple of months visiting friends and relatives.

C. C. Case is building a cottage on his ten-acre tract. Ed Bragg will occupy it during the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Button left for their home at Monticello, Ills., Sunday morning. They have been here visiting relatives.

Andy Lynch returned home last Thursday after spending the summer on the Columbia river.

Willis Baker of Sunnyside has been calling on friends here but will start home this afternoon.

A quiet home wedding was solemnized Wednesday, October 14, 1908, at noon at the Pleasant Hill ranch, owned by the groom, when L. Belle Corson, daughter of C. C. Corson, of Normal, Ill., was united in marriage to Edward O'Brien, Rev. Mr. Perry, of the M. E. church, of Sunnyside, performed the ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives. The bride is an accomplished young lady and won the hearts of both young and old in this community, as she taught the Outlook school two years in succession in 1905 and 1906. The county superintendent referred to her

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

Apples are now going out of North Yakima at the rate of 15 carloads a day, and according to the agent here of the Northern Pacific railroad that rate has been maintained for the past 15 days. There have been shipped since October 6, if the statement is correct, some 225 cars of apples from this station alone. The aggregate from the other shipping points must be as heavy. John R. Ryerson, agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, says he expects the pace to be about maintained for the next six weeks. That is going it a little strong, but the shipments will be very heavy, beyond question the largest ever sent from this valley.

May Not Reach Estimates.

Early estimates were that the aggregate would be between 1500 and 1800 cars. It is probable that the shipments may fall below the lowest figure, for the crop, though excellent, encounters many conditions which reduce the shipping number considerably. There was some slight loss because of hail, but this is declared to be not material. Prices are stiffening, if not improving, and at present are such as to leave an excellent margin of profit to the producer. Some dissatisfaction exists in some quarters with the figures offered by local dealers, the promises held out by eastern agents for consignments having the effect of inducing some people to consign and of leading others to hold back on their sales.

Experience Is Costly.

Reports have been received and well circulated of the experiences of some of the local people who withdrew from dealings with the local houses at the peach season. In the main they did what the dealers did last year, purchased their experience. In the main it is considered that with fruit, as with a great many other crops, the price at harvest time is a good one to accept. In fruit the first loss is always the smallest loss.

In hay and potatoes there are constantly improving conditions. A great many prices are paid for potatoes, conditions of various kinds influencing to that end. A quotation at about $15, however, is normal. Hay is enjoying a rising market.

Egg Prices Advancing.

Eggs are quoted at retail today at 45 cents a dozen. They will go higher. They are much higher now on the Sound and appear to be scarce. The man who knows how to make hens lay at this season of the year makes a good profit. There is, however, not much money in eggs for the producer under such conditions as exist at present. High prices mean that few hens are laying and a few hens cannot support the entire flock. Big prices, therefore, do not look as good to the chicken man as do lower prices when every bird is working. The present prospects are that North Yakima people will pay

Order to Show Cause on Petition to Sell Real Estate.

No. 987.

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington, in and for Yakima County.

In the matter of the estate of Arthur S. Fawver, deceased.

It appearing to the court that George A. Weddle, as administrator of the estate of Arthur S. Fawver, deceased, has filed his petition herein praying for an order of this court for the sale of the real property of said estate hereinafter described, for the purposes therein set forth.

It is hereby ordered that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased appear before this court on the 26th day of October, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day at the court room of said court in North Yakima, Yakima county, Washington, to show cause, if any they have, why an order should not be granted to the said administrator to sell the said property of said deceased, and

It is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published once a week for four consecutive weeks prior to said 19th day of October, 1908, in the Yakima Democrat, a weekly newspaper printed and published and of general circulation in said Yakima county.

The real estate hereinbefore referred to is particularly described as follows, to-wit:

The south 1/2 of the southwest 1/4 and the northwest 1/4 of the southwest 1/4 of section 20, township 14 north, range 17 E. W. M.

E. B. PREBLE,

depositors." And the sentiment was warmly applauded by the audience which had listened to the speech with close attention and many signs of approval.

Edwin F. Masterson, democratic candidate for state insurance commissioner, was next introduced and spoke entertainingly for about 15 minutes. To the amusement of the audience he referred to the rotten record in that office of his republican opponent, J. H. Schively, the man whom the Seattle P-I repeatedly denounced as a "petty grafter." Mr. Masterson also read extracts denouncing Schively from the Spokesman-Review and Tacoma Ledger. He promised that if elected he would discharge the duties of the office of insurance commissioner with fidelity and without the services of useless deputies, and he would protect the public against a lot of fake insurance companies, that are now allowed to prey upon the people of this state.

On concluding Mr. Masterson was given hearty applause.

Charles E. Reynolds was the next speaker and the principal orator of the evening. He is a powerful, logical and fluent speaker and made a splendid impression on the audience. He began his brilliant address by asserting that the voters of this country are now doing their own thinking and that they are going to vote this year according to conscience and their own interests and that they would not even permit the president of the United States to dictate to them how they should vote.

Mr. Reynolds discussed the following national issues in the order named: Publicity of campaign contributions, election of U. S. senators by direct vote of the people, injunctions, physical valuation of railroads, guaranty of bank deposits, the trusts, tariff question and a comparison of presidential candidates.

He showed clearly the tremendous importance of Mr. Bryan's demand for publicity of campaign contributions before the election. Sheldon was now out passing the hat around among the trust magnates of Wall street. The people who contribute are the men who expect favors in return from the republican party. What good would it do to publish the names of these men after the election is over?

Devoting about five minutes to each of the above named issues Mr. Reynolds showed why Bryan is right in his contention as to each of them and how Taft is clearly wrong. He also read the overwhelming vote by which the republican national convention rejected each of these planks when offered by Senator LaFollette.

It was a splendid, soul-stirring address. If it were possible for every voter in the state of Washington to hear it there would in our opinion, be no doubt of the result of the election in this state.

BOOSTING HUXTABLE

Local Prohibitionists Working Hard to Elect Fruit Rancher to State Senate—Making a "Sticker" Campaign.

A determined effort is being made by the prohibitionists of this and Benton counties to elect W. I. Huxtable, the Nob Hill fruit rancher, to the state senate as against S. J. Cameron and H. J. Snively, respectively republican and democratic nominees for that office. Will Everett, the well known prohibition orator, is here from Spokane and is making a red hot speaking campaign for Huxtable, who travels in company with him.

Owing to the fact that the republican attorney general has arbitrarily refused to permit both the prohibitionist and the socialist parties to have any place on the official ballot, owing to the refusal of the minor party candidates to pay the required filing fees, the prohibition people will be forced to conduct a "sticker" campaign on election day. This, of course makes plenty of work and lots of bother, but plenty of workers seem willing to take a hand at it, so that the voters will be given all the assistance possible in voting especially for Mr. Huxtable.

The prohibition workers are bitterly opposed to the idea of S. J. Cameron going to the state senate, as they claim that he is in league with the saloon forces and point to that gentleman's record as president of the state fair commission to prove their charges, they asserting that Mr. Cameron is solely responsible for the pool selling and illegal bar at the fair grounds. The Cameron men, on the other hand, merely laugh at the claims and efforts of the prohibitionists and assert that their man will win easily and that the W. L.

Jones sentiment will carry Cameron safely through no matter what the cold water men may do. This the prohibitionists emphatically deny and say that Huxtable is just as good a Jones man as is Cameron and that he stands pledged to vote for Jones as U. S. senator if elected to the legislature.

HATFIELD GETS BIG RECEPTION AT NACHES

Attorney F. A. Hatfield held one of the biggest rallies of the campaign at Naches City last Monday night. The hall was packed with voters, and the young man received the congratulations of voters many of whom are prominent republicans in that section. Mr. Hatfield delivered a speech which occupied an hour and a half, and during that time he held the attention of his audience in a manner which complimented the young orator for his effort in setting forth in such an able manner the issues of the national and state campaign.

Hon. A. J. Splawn was also present at this meeting and made a half hour talk. Mr. Splawn talked principally in favor of the candidacy of Sheriff John Edwards.

Tuesday night Attorney Hatfield held a meeting at Yakima City, and Wednesday night at Parker Bottom. Thursday he was greeted by a good house at Granger, and on Friday night he spoke in the Moxee to an enthusiastic crowd of prosperous farmers from this section.

Mr. Hatfield will speak at the courthouse in North Yakima on the night of October 28. He has issued a challenge to Mr. Ward, the republican nominee for prosecuting attorney, to discuss the national issues in the campaign or to discuss any question that Mr. Ward would care to take up with the democratic candidate. It is understood that Mr. Ward does not care to meet Mr. Hatfield in public debate. He says that he is too busy at the present time, that the county republican committee has billed him to speak out of the city on that night. Mr. Hatfield is perfectly willing to meet any republican in the county in public debate to discuss any question pertaining to the campaign issues. He would particularly like to cross bats with Col. Ed Parker, the eminent Kentucky orator, or Attorney L. O. Meigs, or any other expounder of republican principles.

Ole Hanson, a prominent real estate dealer of Seattle, has been sent to Yakima county by the republican state campaign committee to speak at the various precincts throughout the county in the interests of the republican national, state and county tickets. Mr. Hanson is a good campaigner from a republican standpoint. He admits frankly that as between man and man, Taft and Bryan, he, personally, thinks Bryan is the greater statesman, but he says the republican party is behind Taft, and therefore Taft is the man. Mr. Hanson is a Swede; but, then, so is Governor Johnson, of Minnesota.

DEMOCRATS MAKING GAINS IN THE COUNTY

Thorough Canvass by Candidates for the Various Offices Has Put Fear in the Hearts of Republicans.

That the democratic candidates for the various county offices are making great gains in the present campaign is apparent on every side. Bryan is also gaining in popular favor as each day's close draws nearer to election. But the greatest interest is being manifested in the local candidates for office.

Attorney F. A. Hatfield is making a campaign characteristic of the ability and energy always displayed by this young man, and in his speaking tour of the county he has not failed to make friends and votes.

Sheriff John Edwards is too busy to get out and make a systematic campaign of the county, but his numerous republican as well as democratic supporters have assured John that he is already elected, and Sheriff Edwards is willing to leave his record in the hands of the taxpayers who placed him in office before.

That Attorney I. J. Bounds will be the next county clerk seems a foregone conclusion. The young man is at present in the lower valley shaking hands with republican farmers, who assure him on all sides that he has practically got the office cinched.

The candidacy of Dr. Granville Lowther for the legislature is meeting with popular approval throughout the county. Dr. Lowther was given a big reception at Sunnyside Wednesday night, where he addressed a large audience of republican voters. Sunnyside is one of the strongest republican precincts in the county.

For county auditor A. C. Vail is putting in some noticeably effective work, and it is a well known fact that Mr. Crocker is one of the most uneasy candidates on the republican ticket.

Prof. W. F. F. Selleck, democratic candidate for superintendent of the county schools, is probably the best qualified applicant for this office of any man who ever sought the office in Yakima county. His experience in educational matters is broad and varied. He holds the highest grade life certificate from New York state and Minnesota. He is a graduate of country, high, and normal schools and university, a city superintendent for 17 years, and for two years was city superintendent of the North Yakima schools. For 14 years he was a conductor of state summer training schools for country teachers. With these qualifications he is deserving of the support of every thoughtful taxpaying republican in the county.

Taken as a whole the democratic ticket is the best ever nominated by local democracy. These facts are well known to the republican local leaders, and the men in charge of the republican campaign are making strong efforts to stem the tide of popular favor which seems to be ebbing in the direction of the minority party.

Nationally there is not a great deal of local enthusiasm. The probabilities are that Taft will carry Yakima county by a small vote, but when it comes to the selection of county officers the voters this year have indicated their intention of getting the cleanest set of men that is possible to choose from the applicants in all parties. Independent voting will be the order of the day on November 3rd.

HATFIELD CHALLENGES J. LENOX WARD

Wants to Meet the Republican Candidate for Prosecuting Attorney in Public Debate.

Hon. J. Lenox Ward, Republican Candidate for Prosecuting Attorney, North Yakima, Wash.—Dear Sir: The democratic campaign committee has arranged for me to speak in the court house of North Yakima on the evening of October 28th. As you and I are candidates, before the people of Yakima county, for the office of prosecuting attorney, and as it is to be presumed that we are each familiar with both the national and local issues of our respective parties, and capable of presenting those issues clearly to the voters, I would be glad to share my time equally with you upon the evening of the 28th, and invite you to discuss with me any phase of either national or local questions that may be selected and agreed upon by the chairmen of our respective committees. Very respectfully yours, F. A. HATFIELD, Democratic nominee for prosecuting attorney.

TO BUILD NEW CAR BARN

Work on the construction of a new car barn for the Yakima Valley Transportation company will be commenced Monday morning next. The barn will be 18x116 feet, of one story, and will be constructed of wood. It is intended, for the present, as a temporary structure, the plans of the street railway people looking forward to the erection on the site, which is Sixth and Maple streets, of a building to cost some $30,000 or more and which will contain the offices and other necessary space of the company.

Captain Louis M. Lang, contractor for the George Donald residence and superintendent of the construction work on the Y. M. C. A., Lincoln school and other buildings in the city, is the contractor. There was considerable keen competition, it is understood, for the work. The price has not been made public.

Will Not Debate This Year.

That the high school would not enter the state debate this year was practically decided at a meeting held the first part of this week. The local school is billed to debate with Sunnyside November 13 or 14, but received the notice so late that it could not prepare a debate by that time. It is doubtful if a debating team could be procured if the school did enter the contest. The members of last year's team will not enter and outside of them no interest whatever is being manifested.

A. S. Caton, of Olympia, prohibition candidate for governor, accompanied by A. L. Crim, a well known prohibition lecturer, will speak in this city on the "Issue of this Campaign" next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

George Donald Jr. left for Tacoma last Sunday to begin work as an apprentice in the railroad shops.
