Dear Buck Hyah Toot, brother:

As you no doubt have heard by now, they have given a license for the construction of the Priest Rapids Dam.

That doesn't mean that they will be out there next week working on it, or even this winter.

But I am writing to you now to tell you it is very important that you come in Friday and see me. It is also very important that you talk to no one about the dam, nor do anything about it until you understand from me.

I will not be in town Saturday or Sunday, but I will be here Friday.

In writing to you, I do what you have always told me you want, not to tell you what to do but to try and help you do what you want to do. That is why it is necessary to see me.
