LOOKS LIKE BUSINESS.

Yakima Development Company Open Headquarters in this City. Four Surveying Parties to Take the Field September 1st.

Charles A. Larkin of St. Paul, Minn., arrived here Thursday at the instance of C. S. Judson, secretary of the newly organized Yakima Development company. Mr. Larkin will act as assistant secretary of the company and will have his office in the front suit of rooms in the Wilson block.

President Whitson of the company, informed the Democrat Thursday that he was in receipt of a telegram from Mr. L. A. Nares at Los Angeles, that he had concluded arrangements to place four parties of surveyors in the field about September 1. The telegram also stated that he had been successful in enlisting the services of Mr. Lippincott of Los Angeles, who is an irrigation engineer of national reputation. Mr. Whitson considers that the new company, the mission of which is to test the feasibility of building the proposed high line canal, is in big luck to secure the services of such an eminent engineer as Mr. Lippincott.

Carnival Queen Contest

That the merchants in town are interested in the success of our coming Mid-Summer Carnival, is evidenced by the amount of decorating that is already to be seen amongst the business houses. The Carnival colors of purple, green and gold, are happily selected and form a very pretty combination. Many business houses have already expressed their intention of making display of their goods in street booths. For the benefit of those contemplating making such exhibits we are asked to publish the fact that Mr. J. E. Merwin will allot space for such booth. The last count in the Queen's Contest was made on Wednesday evening last, and no further count will be made until the contest closes at 10 p. m., Saturday, August 8. A man will be stationed at each polling place, and will take up the box at exactly 10 o'clock. It is rumored that several contestants will be heavily backed on Saturday, and every indication points to a spirited windup to this contest. Each candidate will be invited to send a representative to watch the final count, and the winner's name will be announced immediately after the count is finished. In the black board in the Cluo Cigar Store, corner Yakima avenue and Second street.

Following was the standing of the several candidates, after the count on Wednesday last:

Miss Frances Schorn.....	2757
Miss Edythe Williamson.....	2036
Miss Gretchen Crawford.....	478
Miss Mabel Chase.....	368
Miss Nettie Fry.....	31
Miss Mary Yosting.....	31
Miss Agnes Van der Aarde.....	21

Prospect is Good.

W. R. Brown, an expert engineer and confidential agent of certain New York capitalists, arrived here on Friday afternoon of last week and spent six days in this valley departing Thursday afternoon.

While here Mr. Brown was shown pretty much all over the valley by Messrs. Whitson, Splawn, Rankin and McNaught. Before leaving he assured the Democrat reporter that he had become very much enamored with this section of the country.

He was non-committal, however, on the question of whether or not he would make a favorable report on the McNaught railway project. But he could scarcely repress his enthusiasm over what had been shown him in the Yakima country and judging from this fact, the Democrat as well as the gentlemen who accompanied him over the county naturally feel that the expert's report is destined to be a favorable one and that the road, especially to Sunnyside, is very likely to be constructed.

Mr. McNaught since his trip to Sunnyside this week, is more enthusiastic than ever over his project. He said that he was struck with the fact that the lower valley has made decided progress since he was there a year ago. "It looks good to me," said Mr. McNaught, "better than it ever did before. The demand for a railroad through the Sunnyside section, I think, is more marked now than ever. That country needs a railroad and is bound to have it."

Mr. McNaught is highly pleased with the result of Mr. Brown's visit here. It is plain that he anticipates a favorable report. He said that he expected to secure a definite answer in two weeks.

Mr. Boardman Retires.

E. L. Boardman this week sold his interest in the Yakima Republic to his partner, W. W. Robertson. Mr. Boardman has not yet decided where he will locate and will spend a few weeks looking over the state. He is said to have been offered a lucrative position on a daily paper at Butte, Mont., but will take time to consider the offer. Mr. Boardman is a very capable newspaper man and thoroughly understands the business in all its branches. The fraternity in Yakima regrets that he is to leave. During his short residence here Mr. Boardman and his wife have made many friends whose good wishes will go with them.

Teacher's Examination.

The regular quarterly teachers' examination will be held at the high school building at North Yakima, August 13, 14 and 15. Pens, ink and paper will be furnished free. Sessions will begin at 9:00 a. m. Applicants will be charged the regular fee of $1.00.

KILLED THURSDAY NIGHT.

Two Indians Meet Their Death at Wapato.

Word reached Coroner Frank by telephone Friday morning from Wapato that the bodies of two young Indians had been found lying near the track a short distance this side of that place.

The coroner accompanied by Herbert Shaw with the necessary coffins promptly left for Wapato. On their arrival there they found the remains of the two Indians scattered rather promiscuously along the track. The head of one was completely severed from the body, while the other corpse was badly dismembered, the limbs being severed from the trunk.

Coroner Frank deemed an inquest unnecessary. He learned that the names of the unfortunates were Johnnie Antelope and Isaac Slatham. The relatives were allowed to take the bodies home for burial.

The two men were in this city Thursday to attend the circus, and are said to have got drunk and started to walk home about 8 p. m., going down the track.

A Circus Accident.

Campbell Bros. show arrived here Thursday morning from Ritzville and gave an afternoon and evening performance. About 4000 people attended in the afternoon and probably 2000 in the evening. The menagerie carried by the company is not extensive, but contains a number of fine specimens as well as some most excellently trained animals. The circus performance given includes a number of new features and as a whole was pronounced good by a majority of those in attendance.

A sad accident occurred about 9 o'clock during the evening performance which will probably result in the death of Alfred Button an aerial performer who fell from a ladder a distance of 15 feet, striking the ground on his head and shoulders.

Dr. Burns attended the unfortunate man. A long gash was cut in his head and it was found that the limbs were paralyzed. The patient was made as comfortable as possible and was sent to Dr. Burns' hospital at Ellensburg on the show train. Button's home is at Lamar, Mo.

Later—Word received from Ellensburg Friday stated that the unfortunate man died soon after his arrival in that city.

Smut Causes Explosion.

The threshing machine of John Sawbridge, which was being operated on the Indian reservation under the management of Tom Butler of Old Town, blew up about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and was soon entirely consumed by fire. The explosion was brought about by spontaneous combustion, caused by the smut in the wheat that was being threshed.

The unfortunate affair happened while Mr. Butler and his crew were threshing for Tom Stice, a short distance from Toppenish, in fact they were nearly through when the explosion occurred and over 200 sacks of wheat were destroyed. The separator was an entire loss. Mr. Sawbridge, it is understood, carried insurance to the amount of $500 on the machine. Mr. Sawbridge, on being apprised of his loss, immediately wired an order to the Gilbert Hunt factory at Walla Walla for a new separator.

William Harbaugh was standing on the separator when the explosion occurred, and, according to the bystanders, was lifted at least 30 feet in the air. Fortunately he managed to alight on a pile of straw and therefore suffered no serious injury by the unique experience.

Working for the Fair.

President A. J. Splawn of the State Fair commission left Thursday morning for Walla Walla, Colfax, Pullman, Spokane and other points in Eastern Washington in the interest of the fair.

Mr. Splawn stated to the Democrat before leaving that the especial object of his visit to the eastern counties at this time is to arouse an interest in the fair and endeavor to work up excursions especially from Walla Walla and Spokane. In former years the attendance has been comparatively limited from the eastern sections of the state, but Mr. Splawn thinks that the reason for such a condition of affairs is due to the fact that no systematic effort was made by the fair commission in former years to draw people from that section of the state. Mr. Splawn stated that he would leave no stone unturned towards securing a large attendance from the east side this fall. At the same time Mr. Splawn will call upon a number of fancy stock breeders and will endeavor to persuade them that it will be to their interest to make exhibits.

Trans-Mississippi Congress.

The governing board of the Commercial Club has selected Ira P. Englehart, A. E. Larson, W. L. Wright, Orlando Beck and J. D. Medill as delegates to the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress which is to assemble at Seattle August 18. The delegates were instructed to get up an exhibit or Yakima products for exhibition there at that time. The estimated cost of the exhibit is placed at $150, of which the city government contributed $25, the county government $50, and the Commercial Club $75.

The delegation met Tuesday evening and elected Mr. Englehart as chairman and appointed Messrs. Beck and Wright a sub-committee to gather the exhibit. Mr. Medill was instructed to prepare 5000 copies of a small folder reciting the advantages of the Yakima valley as a place for homes. The folders will be distributed by the delegates during the session of the Congress.

THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT,

JOHN DAVID MEDILL,

Editor and Publisher.

Entered at the North Yakima Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

One Dollar Per Year—In Advance.

Published every Saturday morning at the Democrat Printing House on First Street, North Yakima, Washington.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

A French newspaper recently published a statement of the incomes of the monarchs of Europe, and was promptly confiscated in St. Petersburg. It had rated the Czar's income at nearly $50,000,000 a year, and it was properly regarded as lese majeste to make news of such a fact in the Russian capital.

If this French paper is correctly informed the six European monarchs who receive notably large incomes are the Czar with nearly $50,000,000 a year, the Sultan of Turkey with $10,000,000, the Emperor of Germany with $4,000,000, the King of Italy with $3,500,000, the King of England with $2,500,000, and the King of Spain with $1,500,000, and so on down the list.

But the salaries of the European monarchs, enormous as they are, are for the most part small as compared with the gigantic incomes of certain kings of American trade. The most conservative estimate made of the annual revenue received by John D. Rockefeller, is placed at $50,000,000, and by some it is placed at nearly twice this sum. Andrew Carnegie is said to have an income of $25,000,000, Russell Sage $10,000,000, Geo. Gould $8,000,000, Senator Clark of Montana $8,000,000, while that of J. Pierpont Morgan, the great trust maker, is believed to be equally as large. Scores of other Americans are rated as having incomes of from one to five million dollars.

It will thus be seen that the American monarchs, as a rule, are better paid than the kings and emperors of Europe. Whether they get it honestly or not, of course, is a different question. Our own Nabobs probably console themselves with the thought that they derive their princely revenues as legitimately as do the crowned heads of Europe, but it is a question if they really do.

The city administration is entitled to credit for the vigorous measures taken to rid the town of vicious characters. Even on the assumption that a white-chapel district is a necessary evil, there is all the more reason for compelling the denizens of the bad lands to respect the law so far as possible, and the only way to make them respect the law is to give them a taste of it occasionally.

One of the few good things done by the last legislature was to pass a law making it a penitentiary offense for men, so called, to live off the earnings of fallen women. If a few of these pestiferous and useless creatures could be landed in the states prison and made to perform honest labor, it would not only have a most salutary effect upon their class, as a whole, but it would to a great extent rid the state of a most undesirable class of citizens.

A company was organized last week at Walla Walla for the purpose of cultivating the ginseng plant. Experiments that have been made with this plant demonstrate the fact that it can be grown very successfully in the Yakima valley. Ginseng root while not used extensively in this country is a prime article of commerce in China, and other oriental countries, where the weed is used much as tobacco is among the white races. Yet, strange enough, there are but few places in China where the plant will grow successfully and the great bulk of the supply has to be imported. It is said to be an extremely profitable crop wherever the soil and climatic conditions are favorable.

Almost daily the papers record instances of persons being drowned through carelessness or somebody's cussedness. A few days ago a lubber living at Everett, who knew nothing about a sail boat, invited a pair of young ladies to go sailing with him on the bay with the result that they lost their lives as did also the would be sailor. This fellow who forfeited these lives because of his self assurance, may be put in the same class with the fool who rocks the boat.

Mrs. Jane Burke, better known as the original Calamity Jane, died last week at her home near Deadwood, S. D. In accordance with her request, she was buried by the side of Wild Bill (J. B. Hickok), who was murdered at Deadwood in 1876. Calamity Jane was quite a prominent character on the frontier a quarter of a century ago but, of course, was nothing of the dare-devil heroine that she was represented to be by cheap novel writers.

The Italian division of the Catholic church seems to have the edge on the rest of the world in the matter of electing a pope. By maintaining an emphatic majority in the college of cardinals the election of an Italian candidate becomes a matter of course. The millions of American Catholics had but one vote in the conclave, while those of England had none.

E. P. Green, formerly of the Kennewick Courier, has begun the publication of a paper at Pasco to be known as the Express. We trust that the brother will succeed in his new undertaking. It takes good nerve to make a newspaper go in Pasco. However, Bro. Green has the nerve and the necessary ability as well.

The story going the rounds that Uncle Grover had decided to christen his new boy Wm. J., is doubtless a canard. However, it would be a most lovely way of extending the olive branch and would probably have the effect of placing the belligerent Mr. Bryan on his good behavior.

The worst feature of staying at home in dog days is due to the fact that one is compelled to listen to and acquiesce in the villainous fish stories told by the returning fishermen.

The question of securing a public park is one which the people of this city will have to consider again. As the city grows the necessity of having a public park becomes more evident. In fact a cool and shady pleasure resort is more of a necessity in Yakima than in many other localities on account of our long and hot summers.

It is true that this city has already had a disastrous experience in the effort to secure a park which to say the least was certainly most expensive. Still this is no reason why our people should always be denied the pleasure of having a park; some cool and shady nook to go to when the weather is insufferably hot.

It is entirely probable that before long North Yakima will be enjoying the luxury of a railway system and in this modern age when we think of street railways, we are apt to think of parks for the two seem to go together.

National bank stock is a pretty good thing to have, especially in this state since the supreme court has ruled that owners of bank stock may have the privilege of giving in their indebtedness to the assessor as an offset against the assessment on their stock. If there is any law upon the statute books of this state justifying such a decision it is a rotten piece of legislation and ought to be repealed by the next legislature.

SEATTLE will be the scene of a very notable gathering of prominent men in the assembling of the Trans-Mississippi Congress, which will convene in that city August 18-21. The Commercial club has very wisely taken steps to have this city and county represented at the big convention.

This is the time of the year when every citizen should be on the lookout for fires. With everything as dry as tinder a blaze that once gets started is apt to do serious damage. Clean up and keep watch. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

If the season of 1903 is not a banner year for the Yakima farmers it is likely at least to be a good imitation. With big yields of nearly all crops, a lively demand and fair prices realized, the agriculturists of this section, as a rule, have nothing to complain of.

Let any one will compare the enormous rates paid to the railroads for carrying the mail with the beggarly pittance doled out to men who carry the mail on star routes, he will conclude that the railroads must have a pull.—Colfax Commoner.

Washington Letter.

(From our regular correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., July 30.—Apparently little progress has been made in the postoffice investigation during the past few weeks. Before Postmaster General Payne left Washington several weeks ago he announced that there would be several indictments before his return, but he is scheduled to return next Monday and the indictments are not yet forthcoming. Even the arrest of George W. Beavers has not yet been accomplished, although it is expected that he will be again indicted, this time by the District of Columbia grand jury. Tomorrow evening the statute of limitations will have run on every action of former assistant postmaster general Perry Heath, and as there is no indication of his prosecution it may be safely predicted that he will escape the condemnation of the courts. As a sort of side issue Charles Emory Smith, through the columns of his newspaper, and Civil Service Commissioner Proctor have started up a controversy regarding the administration of Smith when he was postmaster general which contributes considerably to the gayety of nations. Mr. Smith writes virulent editorials filled with such expressions as "gangs of liars," etc., and assures his ingenious readers that his enemies are "taking to the tall timber," but the only appreciable effect of all this is to lead the leading newspapers to deplore the fact that Smith, after demonstrating grave incapacity as postmaster general, should now make such a pitiable spectacle of himself.

The longer the new immigration law enacted at the last session of congress is in operation the more apparent becomes the fact that Senators Elkins and Gallinger, in their endeavors to protect their railway associates, managed to seriously injure the measure and to greatly facilitate the importation of the cheapest and most undesirable class of European labor. It has just been discovered that the wording of the bill relieves the steamship companies and sailing masters from the obligation heretofore imposed on them of having their sailing lists reviewed by American consuls and paying a fee of $1 for every sheet passed. This precaution was a most wise one and frequently resulted in preventing the importation of contract labor, immigration from infected districts, etc., and moreover added considerably to the income of the already underpaid and neglected consuls. If the defects continue to develop as time goes on it will doubtless become necessary for congress to pass a supplementary measure and when that is done there is little doubt but that the attempt to place an educational qualification in the way of illiterate immigrants will be made.

Representative Livingston of Georgia is in Washington and expresses himself as highly indignant at the charge made in some quarters from former Superintendent of Free Delivery Machen, in that he secured the establishment of numerous rural routes in his district and that several members of his family and relations are in the employ of the postoffice department and especially of the rural free delivery division. Mr. Livingston says that every one of these charges is entirely without ground. He declares that no route was established in his district except in strict accordance with the regulations of the department; that he has but one relation in the postal service, and that he secured his appointment through a civil service examination, being a stamp clerk in the Atlanta postoffice. Mr. Livingston is indignant at the manner in which his name has been brought into the postoffice scandal.

Senator Hanna's efforts to secure for his constituents the contract for the stone to be used in the new Cleveland postoffice, which is to cost $3,000,000, has resulted in serious charges being brought against Supervising Architect Taylor and in embarrassment to the Secretary of the Treasury. It appears that the Ohio Senator with his usual determination to have his own way, brushed aside all considerations of fairness and of law and that Supervising Architect Taylor lacked the courage to say nay to the influential senator from Ohio. Secretary Shaw sympathizes with Taylor for he knows that the displeasure of the Ohio boss is little short of equivalent to dismissal for the clerk who incurs it, and yet the charges brought against Taylor are of so serious a nature that it will be difficult to retain him in his present position. It is impossible to learn the full details of the case but it appears that the Senator secured the contract for granite for Bradley & Co., of which Jacob Biedler of Cleveland is president, regardless of the fact that the Charles McCaul company of Philadelphia had put in a bid $2,800 lower.

Shots From the Commoner.

Postmaster General Payne's masterly inactivity is becoming positively strenuous. A man must have to dodge with wonderful rapidity to evade doing a duty as plainly apparent as Mr. Payne's duty is.

President Roosevelt announces that hereafter Senator Burton of Kansas "will be considered a democrat." If the senator wants to enjoy the approval of a good conscience he will become what the president threatens to consider him.

General Simon Bolivar Buckner sat in a republican convention in Kentucky as a delegate the other day. The general has merely changed names, not politics.

In view of their kindly assistance it would seem that the republican party bosses might select a candidate for vice president from among the "gold democrats."

It is reported that Morgan and Rockefeller have settled their differences. If the report is true it means that a number of other financiers will find their hash settled.

"Leave the trusts alone and they will fall of their own weight!" shrieks a high tariff organ. Perhaps, but it is rather rough on the innocent bystanders who get caught in the ruins.

Salt Lake claims to have discovered a new comet, but it may have been the trail of Perry Heath as he skipped out for his health until after the investigation of the postal department.

G. O. P. logic continues to exhibit its crimps. Administration organs denounce Kentucky for not punishing notorious murderers, and in the same column defend Durbin's refusal to extradite Taylor on the ground that Kentucky would railroad him to the pen.

The Chicago Chronicle's logic is as badly crimped as its democracy. The Chronicle says: "The actual value of silver produced in this country in 1901 was $33,128,400. If the mine owners could have taken it to the mints for free coinage into dollars they would have had $71,387,400." Well, if they would have been "50-cent dollars," as the Chronicle claims they would have been, what would it have profited the mine owners?

City Council Meeting.

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening, Mayor Shaw, was present and Councilmen Keck, Harrison, Switzer and Moran answered to roll call.

Clerk Doust stated that the application of Bert Fletcher for a saloon license on west Yakima avenue had been withdrawn and that a numerous signed remonstrance was on file against the grant of such a license.

Police Judge Taggard reported the sum of $120 collected for July. Marshal Mull reported the same amount in fines, 120 meals furnished prisoners at a cost of $27, 10 prisoners worked on streets during a part of the month. The marshal also reported the cleanup in the red light district.

Sexton Carvose reported 15 burials, 2 removals and $84.50 collected for the month.

Bids for the grading of south First and south Second streets were opened. The contract for grading First street was granted to Pettijohn & Daniels at $1 per lineal foot, Wm. McKivior received the contract to grade Second street at 80c per foot.

The clerk was authorized to advertise for bids to construct a sewer in the alley between south Third and south Fourth streets, also to lay board sidewalks on both sides of south Third street.

The street and ditch committee was authorized to build a bridge on south Eighth street near Spruce on the understanding that ex-Mayor Fechter should pay one-half the cost of same.

The usual grist of monthly bills was then read and such as had been O. K'd by the finance committee were ordered paid.

Prof. Richardson of Wapato complained to the council that a heifer belonging to him had been impounded and sold by the city, as he thought without due process of law.

Prof. Huntley, a florist, complained that the long promised railway crossing on north Eighth street had not materialized. The council agreed to take the matter up again with the railway company.

Chief Hauser asked for authority to purchase a dozen new alarm boxes for the use of the fire department, stating that the six now in use were entirely inadequate for the service. The matter was laid over until the next meeting.

In this connection Mayor Shaw took occasion to lecture the council on the necessity of invoking more liberal provision for the fire department. The Mayor insisted that the chief should be placed on a salary and therefore be required to devote his entire time to the city's service. Councilman Switzer took issue with the Mayor, stating that the city now had the best volunteer department in the state and that we would gradually work up the standard desired by the Mayor. Adjourned.

The Hop Outlook.

There is but little new to record with regard to the hop situation. No deals were made during the week in old hops that the Democrat could learn of. Buyers still insist that from 16 to 18 cents is all the goods are worth and the growers consistently refusing to sell at such figures. It is understood that one or two small contracts for 1903 hops were made recently, the consideration being 16 cents.

The following excerpts, regarding the condition of the growing crop in the coast states is taken from the Orange Judd Farmer, a paper that is regarded as being excellent authority. The date of the paper is August 8:

OREGON.

Fenton Co.—Corvallis: Hops in this county are one-fourth short of last year. In some yards they are good, what there is, but there are lots of missing hills.

Lane Co.—Hops are not looking as well as usual. "A few yards are all right, but a majority are very light, and the yield will be considerably short of last year unless conditions change for the better very soon. The weather is very favorable for vermin and unfavorable for hops."

Marion Co.—Gervais: Hop conditions are very precarious and difficult to give accurate prospects. There is no uniformity in growth or vigor. Some yards are above normal condition, but the adjoining yard may be almost a total failure. Hops are growing well. The failure of yards far exceeds the advance made by new yards. The present outlook indicates a much lower yield than last year, perhaps 10,000 bales for the state. Yards planted this year are growing well and receiving close attention.

WASHINGTON.

Skagit Co.—The hop is good for a crop fully up to that of last season. The vine is thrifty and well armed out. The yards in this county are clean and have the appearance of more than an average crop. Vermin is as yet not bad.

CALIFORNIA.

Sonoma Co.—Sebastopol: Hop vines started well and grew finely through April and May, but now they are showing the effect of the protracted drought. No rain has fallen here since April 1, and many yards are poorly cultivated on that account. The crop will be at least 25 per cent short of last year. The condition is still worse in Mendocino county. The increase in acreage is about 5 per cent.
